

Gender and Religious Moderation at the Margins?

Since the introduction of the moderasi beragama (religious moderation) policy by the Indonesian Government in 2019, it has impacted various facets of the lives of Muslim women in the country. This lecture will critically engage the policy both as a social control mechanism and a contested terrain.

Speaker:

Dr. Eva F. Nisa

*Anthropology, The Australian National University (ANU)
JSPS Fellow; ARC-DECRA Fellow*

January 28, 2025 (Tue) 15.30-17.00

Room 710, Building 19 (in-person only)

Waseda University, Waseda Campus

Language: English
Contact: Ken Miichi (miichi@waseda.jp)

