

Waseda Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies Colloquium Series

Role of Thailand and Royal Thai Navy over the Andaman Sea as a Maritime Alliance in the Indian Ocean

Speaker Asst. Prof. Dr. Nutchu Sukhawattanakun

Dr. Sukhawattanakun is a Full time Law Professor at Faculty of Law, Prince of Songkla University (Thailand). She specializes in the Law of the Sea, Maritime Law and Legal History. Recently she has focused on “the Emerging Maritime Security” also the “Marine Environmental” issues. Currently, she also hold the position of “Research Fellow” of Indo-Pacific Department at Korea Institute for Maritime strategy (KIMS). She had graduated Doctor of Law in International Legal Studies (S.J.D.), School of Law, Golden Gate University, San Francisco. Also Dr. Sukhawattanakun has been invited as the visiting professor to teach the Maritime Law Course for Faculty of Law, Chulalongkorn University.

Modern Maritime Threats and Crimes have loomed large amidst the digital era. Indian Ocean as one of the critical chokepoint is attracted the interest of the private sector who try to insecure the ocean. Thailand including the Royal Thai Navy as leading player involved in the mission to safeguard the ocean plays the important role through many active projects and cooperation. The technology disruption such as Maritime Cyber Security is the new challenge and prospect toward our nations. Please pre-register yourself through <https://forms.office.com/r/jf4wvd3Dqy> or the QR code.

Nov 7, 2025 (Friday) 13:30-15:00

Room 713, Building 19,
Waseda University, Waseda Campus

