

Following the first part of the international symposium on Japanese transnational cinema at Birkbeck College, University of London, in May 2019, the second part will be held at Waseda University and look into further aspects of the transnationality of Japanese film with new 18 speakers. This is a joint event of Birkbeck College and School of Oriental and African Studies of University of London and Graduate School of International Communication and Culture Studies of Waseda University. This symposium is open to students, teaching and administration staff, researchers and the general public.

【Dates】 July 20 and 21

【Venue】 Room 703, Building 11, Waseda University

【Language】 English

【Programme】 Downloadable from <https://www.waseda.jp/inst/sgu/en/> or

<https://www.waseda.jp/fire/gsiccs/en/>

【Enquiry】 Norimasa Morita, norm@waseda.jp

Programme PDF

