Important Notes

- ① Please read the Program List for all the additional conditions.
- ② When you submit your application for the SILS Bilateral Study Abroad Programs, we would also strongly encourage you to review the Study Abroad Programs offered at the Center for International Education (CIE). If you are nominated to a SILS Bilateral Study Abroad Program, please do not apply to the CIE programs. If you are planning to apply to a CIE program, please do not submit a SILS bilateral program application.
- ③ Please rank the SILS Bilateral Partner Programs that you wish to apply and state the reasons clearly in the Research & Study Plan. You are not required to submit an individual application form and research & study plan for each partner program.
- ④ As a result of the ongoing worldwide situation, the host institutions are not able to fully advise us on how classes will be conducted in the fall of 2022. It could be in-person, online or a blend of both. Please weigh the risks, rank your priorities and consider your future plans very carefully before you submit your application to the SILS Office.
- ⑤ As uncertainty remains, the SILS Office may not have all the answers to your questions. We would greatly appreciate your patience and understanding.
