AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM20100|01|210CM20100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Urban Studies 01
Instructor	DIMMER, Christian
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Public, Private in Urban Space: Theories and Practices

Course Outline: ※Face-to-Face delivery
There is hardly anything more fundamental to human life than the perpetual negotiation of the balance between states of public and private in relation to others and our environments. The categories of public and private are a key principle for organising social life and play a central role not only in urban studies but in our every day use of cities, neighbourhoods and other places that encourage public interaction. This course offers therefore to explore the dynamic, culturally and historically contingent ways in which architecture and urban space are structured along the distinction between what belongs to the protected realm of the private and what is to 'take place' in the interpersonal sphere of the public. As the physical and experiential form of the city, it's buildings and the character of its urban life are deeply influenced by the private/public distinction, it is important to understand these implications not only in theory, but also it implications for urban politics, the practices of urban design and place-making as well as for everyday appropriation.
This course will go beyond the theoretical discussion of public space by exploring it across various spatial scales in direct connection with its 'other': private space. Beyond conceptual and theoretical discussions, the course seeks to explore the concrete and very real ramifications of the private/public distinction for urban planners, architects, public administrators, urban activists, businesses operating urban spaces, or simply for you as an active citizens as daily users of urban space and your spatial practices. Discourse offers to discuss crucial urban theories (post-structuralism, social constructionism, neoliberalism, critical theory, gender studies, etc.) along with very concrete examples from your everyday experiences and provides a solid basis for anybody with an interest in cities and urban studies.

Objectives: In this course, students will ...

(1) ... study theories and concepts of delineating private and public realms in different historical and cultural contexts, as well as on various spatial scales,
(2) ... develop the sensitivity and analytical skills for understanding the complex implications of the private-public distinction for it's manifestation on human behaviour and the built urban form,
(3) ... learn how urban designers and architects seek to translate the private/public distinction in 'real' planning and project situations, and how these spaces in turn dialectically impact on social life.
(4) ... undertake a small piece of original research, observation, or experiment of a topic of public interest.
(5) ... learn to think through more complex theoretical ideas in classroom discussions.

before/after course of study: preparatory reading for every class in order to be able to actively participate in class discussion.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Unit 01: Introduction I
Private and Public Spaces of the City and why they matter
Unit 02: Introduction II
A brief intro to research methods,; discussing the film: 'The Social Life of Small Urban Spaces' (1988)
Unit 03: Introduction III
Private and Public in Thought and Practice
Unit 04: Public Space in the City I: The Private Sphere I
Personal Space of the Body
Unit 05: Public Space in the City II: The Private Sphere II
Exclusive Space of (private) Property
Unit 06: Public Space in the City III: The Private Sphere III
Intimate Space of the Home

Unit 07: Public Space in the City IV: The Interpersonal Public Realm I Interpersonal Space of Sociability

Unit 08: Public Space in the City V: The Interpersonal Public Realm II
Communal Space of the Neighbourhood

Unit 09: Public Space in the City VI: The Interpersonal Public Realm III
Material & Institutional Spaces of the Common World

Unit 10: Public Space in the City VII – The Interpersonal Public Realm IV
Impersonal Space of the City

Unit 11: The Cultural Dimension I
Collective Culture and Urban Public Space

Unit 12: The Cultural Dimension II
Public and Private in Premodern Japan

Unit 13: The Cultural Dimension III
Public Space of Contestation: Anpo; student revolts; SEALDS

Unit 14: The Cultural Dimension IV
Public Space of Cooperation: New Urban Common Worlds in Post-Growth Tokyo

Language: English

Textbooks: Madanipour, Ali 2000. Public Space in the City. In: Knox, P. & Ozolins, P. (eds.) Design Professionals and the Built Environment. New York: John Wiley & Sons.

Additional texts will be provided on Moodle in order to expand on Madanipour's ideas, or explore aspects beyond them.

References:
Weintraub, Jeff 1997. The Theory and Politics of the Public/Private Distinction. In: Weintraub, J. & Kumar, K. (eds.) Public and Private in Thought and Practice – Perspectives on a Grand Dichotomy. Chicago: The University of Chicago Press.
Hall, Edward T. 2007. Proxemics. In: Low, Setha M., and Denise Lawrence-Zunigais. 2003. Anthropology of Space and Place: Locating Culture. Wiley-Blackwell.
Kilian, Ted. 1998 "Public and Private, Power and Space." In: The Production of Public Space, edited by Andrew Light and Jonathan M. Smith. 115–34. Lanham, Boulder, New York, Oxford: Rowman & Littlefield
Ariès, Philippe. 1962. Centuries of Childhood: A Social History of Family Life. New York: Vintage Books. P. 405–419
Sennett, Richard. 2008. 'Reflections on the Public Realm'. In A Companion to the City, edited by Gary Bridge and Sophie Watson, 380–87. Blackwell Publishing Ltd.
Hein, Carola. 2008. 'Machi: Neighborhood and Small Town-The Foundation for Urban Transformation in Japan'. Journal of Urban History 35 (1): 75–107.
Brain, David. 2005. 'From Good Neighborhoods to Sustainable Cities: Social Science and the Social Agenda of the New Urbanism'. International Regional Science Review 28 (2): 217–38.
Simmel, Georg. 1903. 'The Metropolis and Mental Life'. The Urban Sociology Reader: 23–31.
——. 1950. 'The Stranger'. The Sociology of Georg Simmel: 402–8.
Low, Setha M. 1996. Spatializing Culture: The Social Production and Social Construction of Public Space in Costa Rica. American Ethnologist, 23, 861–879.
Amin, Ash. 2008. 'Collective culture and urban public space', City, 12: 1, 5–24
Harvey, David 2006. The Political Economy of Public Space. In: Low, S. & Smith, N. (eds.) The Politics of Public Space. London, New York: Routledge.
Hayden, Dolores 2006. Building the American Way: Public Subsidy, Private Space. In: Low, S. & Smith, N. (eds.) The Politics of Public Space. London, New York: Routledge. and others

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	85	(25%) Short Project Proposal, brief sketch of public space experiment/ observation/ study, its significance, posing first research questions, describe the research set-up, location. (60%) Final, full Research Paper
Class contribution:	15	Active participation in class

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM20300|01|210CM20300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Introduction to Anthropological Methods 01
Instructor	SHAN, Qi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Anthropological research process involves a series of activities to delve into the essence of culture and gain a comprehensive understanding of others. This course introduces diverse anthropological methods with Chinese ethnographic cases, and aims to lead students to be more prepared for stepping into therealm of reality and complete their fieldwork——the soul of modern anthropological methodology. The intricate nature of China and the diversity of anthropological methods complement each other in this course. With its ancient civilization and complex tapestry of diverse ethnic groups and cultures,various research methods can unveil multiple facets of China, while numerous ethnographic cases surrounding China demonstrate the efficacy of different anthropological approaches. Through exploration, students are expected toacquire fundamental skills in fieldwork and develop a nuanced understanding of Chinese culture from an anthropological perspective.After learning various methods, each student who selectsd the course can independently complete a small anthropological research.

Objectives: To introduce and lead students to master a variety of anthropological fieldwork methods;
To present a multi-dimensional China by discussing various ethnographic cases;
To motivate students'curiosities and encourage them to come up with new research projects, meanwhile putting these methods into practice.

before/after course of study: Spend 1-2 hours to read/watch relevant materials before the class;
Finish the assignments after the class.

【Tips】

1.This course is the most fundamental and practical one among all the courses I teach. After systematically learning a range of skills in anthropological methods, it will be possible to turn your curiosity into a real research;

2.This course will be taught in English only, so it welcomes all students to choose it and looks forward to your research topics that are relevant to your cultures.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule 1:Vol. 1 Get Ready to Do FieldworkWhat do anthropologists do?——Introduce various anthropological researches
Carry out fieldwork:Take China as an example
Before the journey: Outline of the semester content2:Vol. 2 Participant ObservationMalinowski and the methodology of modern anthropology
Introduction to participant observation
Chinese ethnographic case3:Vol. 3 Situational AnalysisIntroduction to the methodology of the Manchester School
Introduction to the situational analysis method
Chinese ethnographic cases4:Vol. 4 Biography and KinshipIntroduction to the biography method
Introduction to how to draw the kinship chart in fieldwork
Chinese ethnographic cases5:Vol. 5 Topography MethodIntroduction to ways of observing the specific space in fieldwork
Chinese ethnographic cases6:Vol. 6 Time GeographyHow to observe and note temporal factors in fieldwork
Chinese ethnography case7:Vol. 7 The Mid-term Lesson-1Every student should give a short oral proposal(5-10mins) on the cases they want to investigate and methods they plan to use. Teacher will give relevant comments and instructions.8:Vol. 8 The Mid-term Lesson-2Every student should give a short oral proposal(5-10mins) on the cases they want to investigate and methods they plan to use. Teacher will give relevant comments and instructions.9:Vol. 9 Ethno-Accounting MethodIntroduction to the ethno-accounting method
Chinese ethnographic cases10:Vol.10 Language Ⅰ:Oral history MethodIntroduction to ways of doing an oral history
Chinese ethnographic cases11:Vol.11 Language Ⅱ: Interview MethodIntroduction to ways of conducting different interviews
Chinese ethnographic cases12:Vol. 12 Preparation Ⅰ:Fieldwork Notes WritingIntroduction to how to write fieldwork notes
Chinese ethnographic cases13:Vol. 13 Preparation Ⅱ: Technique,Ability and Relationship in FieldworkTechniques and devices that researchers should possess
Introduction to how to handle relationships and follow important informants in fieldwork
Chinese ethnographic cases14:Vol.14 Go For Your First Fieldwork Trip!Summaryand Feedback to students' proposals and questions

Language:	English
References:	Bronislaw Malinowski, Argonauts of the Western Pacific Michael Burawoy, The Public Sociology Max Gluckman, Analysis of a Social Situation in Modern Zululand Bruno Latour, Reassembling the Social: An Introduction to Actor-Network-Theory E.E.Evans-Pritchard, The Nuer Tim Ingold,The Perception of the Environment Eric Mueggler, The Paper Road
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Papers:	70	Use the various anthropological methods taught in this course and independently finish your filedwork and write a report on a specific topic. It consists of two parts: the mid-term topic presentation and the final writing submission.
Class contribution:	30	According to the different topics for discussion assigned every week, everyone needs to complete them twice and speak in class to get the score.
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM20300|51|210CM20300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Introduction to Anthropological Methods 51
Instructor	SHAN, Qi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

Anthropological research process involves a series of activities to delve into the essence of culture and gain a comprehensive understanding of others. This course introduces diverse anthropological methods with Chinese ethnographic cases, and aims to lead students to be more prepared for stepping into therealm of reality and complete their fieldwork——the soul of modern anthropological methodology. The intricate nature of China and the diversity of anthropological methods complement each other in this course. With its ancient civilization and complex tapestry of diverse ethnic groups and cultures,various research methods can unveil multiple facets of China, while numerous ethnographic cases surrounding China demonstrate the efficacy of different anthropological approaches. Through exploration, students are expected toacquire fundamental skills in fieldwork and develop a nuanced understanding of Chinese culture from an anthropological perspective.After learning various methods, each student who selectsd the course can independently complete a small anthropological research.

Objectives:

To introduce and lead students to master a variety of anthropological fieldwork methods;

To present a multi-dimensional China by discussing various ethnographic cases;

To motivate students'curiosities and encourage them to come up with new research projects, meanwhile putting these methods into practice.

before/after course of study:

Spend 1-2 hours to read/watch relevant materials before the class;
Finish the assignments after the class.

【Tips】

1.This course is the most fundamental and practical one among all the courses I teach. After systematically learning a range of skills in anthropological methods, it will be possible to turn your curiosity into a real research;

2.This course will be taught in English only, so it welcomes all students to choose it and looks forward to your research topics that are relevant to your cultures.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule

1:Vol. 1 Get Ready to Do FieldworkWhat do anthropologists do?——Introduce various anthropological researches
Carry out fieldwork:Take China as an example
Before the journey: Outline of the semester content2:Vol. 2 Participant ObservationMalinowski and the methodology of modern anthropology
Introduction to participant observation
Chinese ethnographic case3:Vol. 3 Situational AnalysisIntroduction to the methodology of the Manchester School
Introduction to the situational analysis method
Chinese ethnographic cases4:Vol. 4 Biography and KinshipIntroduction to the biography method
Introduction to how to draw the kinship chart in fieldwork
Chinese ethnographic cases5:Vol. 5 Topography MethodIntroduction to ways of observing the specific space in fieldwork
Chinese ethnographic cases6:Vol. 6 Time GeographyHow to observe and note temporal factors in fieldwork
Chinese ethnography case7:Vol. 7 The Mid-term Lesson-1Every student should give a short oral proposal(5-10mins) on the cases they want to investigate and methods they plan to use. Teacher will give relevant comments and instructions.8:Vol. 8 The Mid-term Lesson-2Every student should give a short oral proposal(5-10mins) on the cases they want to investigate and methods they plan to use. Teacher will give relevant comments and instructions.9:Vol. 9 Ethno-Accounting MethodIntroduction to the ethno-accounting method
Chinese ethnographic cases10:Vol.10 Language Ⅰ:Oral history MethodIntroduction to ways of doing an oral history
Chinese ethnographic cases11:Vol.11 Language Ⅱ: Interview MethodIntroduction to ways of conducting different interviews
Chinese ethnographic cases12:Vol. 12 Preparation Ⅰ:Fieldwork Notes WritingIntroduction to how to write

fieldwork notes
Chinese ethnographic cases13:Vol. 13 Preparation Ⅱ: Technique,Ability and Relationship in FieldworkTechniques and devices that researchers should possess
Introduction to how to handle relationships and follow important informants in fieldwork
Chinese ethnographic cases14:Vol.14 Go For Your First Fieldwork Trip!Summaryand Feedback to students' proposals and questions

Language: English

Textbooks: materials will be distributed in class when necessary

References: Bronislaw Malinowski, Argonauts of the Western Pacific
Michael Burawoy, The Public Sociology
Max Gluckman, Analysis of a Social Situation in Modern Zululand
Bruno Latour, Reassembling the Social: An Introduction to Actor-Network-Theory
E.E.Evans-Pritchard, The Nuer
Tim Ingold,The Perception of the Environment
Eric Mueggler, The Paper Road

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	70	Use the various anthropological methods taught in this course and independently finish your filedwork and write a report on a specific topic. It consists of two parts: the mid-term topic presentation and the final writing submission.
Class contribution:	30	According to the different topics for discussion assigned every week, everyone needs to complete them twice and speak in class to get the score.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM30400|51|210CM30400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Social Design & Design Thinking for Urban Change 51
Instructor	DIMMER, Christian
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Transition Design: Co-creating Liveable Futures

Course Outline: ※Face-to-Face delivery
Global environmental problems such as climate change, rapid loss of biodiversity and resource depletion are accelerating and have gained prominence on political agendas worldwide, while man-made infrastructure systems and cities have grown more complex and ever more vulnerable. Not least the COVID19 pandemic, the war in Ukraine and recent disasters have revealed the vulnerability of a highly interdependent, globalised economy. Today's pervasive, interrelated wicked problems differ significantly in scale and complexity from those of the past that could be addressed, for example, with incremental clean technologies and local policy responses. Today's new socio-environmental problems require more substantive 'transitions' in the coming decades such as major changes in energy, transport, community, housing or agri-food systems to name a few.

These system changes are 'socio-technical' in nature because they not only entail the mere development and implementation of new technologies, but also changes in markets, mindsets, user practices, policy and cultural meanings. The emergent domain of Transition Design acknowledges the fact that we live in 'transitional times' with permanent change now increasingly seen as 'the new normal'. Accordingly, transition design takes as its central premise the need for perpetual, socio-environmental and socio-technical transitions to more sustainable future system states and argues that design thinking has a key role to play in these transitions. Transition Design applies an understanding of the interconnectedness of social, economic, political & natural systems to address problems at all levels of spatio-temporal scale in ways that directly improve the quality of life and safeguard human-centred development. It advocates the re-conception of entire lifestyles, with the aim of making them more place-based, convivial & participatory and harmonising them with natural environment.

In this course we will first learn to see and appreciate the complexity of so-called wicked problems —problems that are difficult or impossible to solve because of their complex and interconnected nature. We will then think about a system of metrics that helps us assessing the appropriateness of transition design and social design interventions. In the second part of the course, we will explore the transition design framework as it was proposed by scholars of at The School of Design at Carnegie Mellon University. It is one of many useful frameworks that helps us understanding how positive socio-ecological change can be constructed. Lastly, the course will conclude with a discussion of concepts like cosmopolitan localism and inter-localisation that promise a positive way forward towards forming more empowered, resilient communities in an age of intensifying planetary crises.

This course is recommended for students who can imagine themselves as change makers in the future and provides them with a critical language, some initial tools and conceptual ideas to move in that direction.

Objectives: In this course, students will ...

(1) ... explore how the profound and compounding social, environmental and economic crises are impacting on cities and rural regions, and how governments, the corporate sector as well as community activists and citizens are responding,
(2) ... learn to map and analyse the complex, interconnected nature of a 'wicked problem' and its related 'leverage points',
(3) ... learn about different, alternative normative concepts for assessing appropriate transition/ social design interventions
(4) ... discover how change makers, creative communities, social innovators and local decision makers are experimenting with alternative social, economical, environmental, architectural, as well as place-making practices and lifestyles,
(5) ... undertake a piece of original research and analysis on a topic of public interest.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to complete the assigned readings ahead of every class. They point of the reading is to enable active class debates.
Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 90-120 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Unit 01:

Why Transitions? Introduction, Definitions, Framing Issues

Unit 02:

Wicked Problems in an Increasingly Dynamic and Complex World

Unit 03:

Tackling Wicked Problems, Leverage Change in Complex Socio-Technical Systems

Unit 04:

Measuring Impact of Transition Design I: Fundamental Human Needs, Social Capital

Unit 05:

Measuring Impact of Transition Design II: Sustainability, Resilience

Unit 06:

Crisis and Innovation I: Post-Disaster Recovery in Tohoku and Social Innovations

Unit 07:

Crisis and Innovation II: Community Energies in post-Fukushima Japan

Unit 08:

The Transition Design Framework: An Overview: Discussion of the documentary 'Sustainable' (2016)

Unit 09:

The Transitions Framework 1: Why Visions are crucial for Transitioning

Unit 10:

The Transitions Framework 2: Theories of Change

Unit 11:

The Transitions Framework 3: Posture and Mindset

Unit 12:

Transitions Framework 4: New Ways of Designing

Unit 13:

Cosmopolitan Localism: Connecting Planet, Communities & Place I

Unit 14:

Cosmopolitan Localism: Connecting Planet, Communities & Place II

Language: English

Textbooks: There is no single core textbook. All related reading materials will be made available through Waseda Moodle.

References:

The Institute 2013. Getting to One Planet Living. In State of the World 2013: Is Sustainability Still Possible? Chapter 4 Getting to One-Planet Living,
Rittel, H.W.J., Webber, M.M., 1973 Dilemmas in a general theory of planning. Policy Science, 4, 155-169
Irwin, T., 2011. Wicked Problems and the Relationship Triad. In Stephan Harding (ed.), Grow Small, Think Beautiful: Ideas for a Sustainable World from Schumacher College. Edinburgh: Floris Books. pp 225-32
Meadows, D., 2010. Leverage Points: Places to Intervene in a System. Solutions Journal. 1 (1): p: 41-9
Manzini, E., 2013, SLOC – Small, Local, Open and Connected: Resilient Systems and Sustainable Qualities. Design Observer
Max-Neef, M., Elizalde, A., Hopenhayn, M., 1992. Development and human needs. Real-life economics: Understanding wealth creation 197-213
Dimmer, C., Kremers, D., 'Towns in Transition – Regional and Ideological Diversity among Local Climate Protection Projects and Regional Revitalization Efforts in Rural Japan' in: Local Action on Climate Change : Opportunities and Constraints, edited by Susie Moloney, Hartmut Funfgeld and Mikael Granberg and published by Routledge, pp. 72-91, 2018
Dimmer, C., 2016, 'Place-making Before and After 3.11: Emergence of Social Design in Post-Disaster, Post-Growth Japan', Review of Japanese Culture and Society (Josai University), Special Issue 'Design and Society in Japan
DeWit, A., 2016. Hioki's Smart Community and Japan's Structural Reform, The Asia Pacific Journal, 14 (15): 1-20
Irwin, T., 2015. Transition Design: A Proposal for a New Area of Design, Practice, Study and Research. Design and Culture 7 (2): 229-246
Inayatullah, S., 2008, 'Six Pillars: Futures Thinking for Transforming', Foresight, 10 (1), 4-21
Geels, F.W., 2002. Technological transitions as evolutionary reconfiguration processes: a multi-level perspective and a case-study. Research Policy 31, 1257-1274.
Geels, F.W., 2010. Ontologies, socio-technical transitions (to sustainability), and the multi-level perspective. Research policy 39, 495-510
Aldrich, D. P. and Meyer M. A. 2015. Social Capital and Community Resilience. In: American Behavioural Scientist. Vol. 59 (2): 254-269.
Gunderson, L.H., 2000. Ecological Resilience—In Theory and Application. Annual Review of Ecology and Systematics 31, 425-439
Dees, J.G. 2018. The Meaning of Social Entrepreneurship 1 , 2, Case Studies in Social Entrepreneurship and Sustainability. Routledge.
Escobar, A., 2015. Transiciones: a space for research and design for transitions to the pluriverse. Design Philosophy Papers 13, 13-23

Schismenos, A., Niaros, V., Lemos, L., 2020. Cosmolocalism: Understanding the Transitional Dynamics Towards Post-Capitalism. tripleC: Communication, Capitalism & Critique. Open Access Journal for a Global Sustainable Information Society 670-684

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Papers:	85	(25%) Mapping and analysis of one selected 'wicked problem', locating 2 transition design projects therein (60%) Final report: Students are expected to provide a detailed analysis of one or two real-world transition design projects, applying key concepts explored in class, such as leverage points, resilience, social capital, or fundamental human needs. The analysis should critically assess how these concepts manifest in the chosen projects and contribute to their overall impact and effectiveness.
Class contribution:	15	Attendance and active participation
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM30500|01|210CM30500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Anthropology and Chinese Studies in the 20th Century 01
Instructor	SHAN, Qi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Given the complexity of modernity, how should we understand China in the 21st century? Whether you are a native Chinese speaker or not, "Understanding China" has now become an independent study field and an topic of daily life. Through anthropological studies, the course will explore key themes such as village community and economic life/family and kinship/gender, emotion, and private life/religion and folk belief. Ethnographic works employing a range of anthropological methods will be used to illustrate how different social worlds within China are produced and experienced. It also attends to embodied and emotional dimensions of social life by examining everyday practices related to food, Chinese medicine, and rituals surrounding life and death. By grounding broader social questions in concrete practices, the course connects large-scale transformations with ordinary experiences.

Bringing together classic and contemporary anthropological studies, this course invites cross-cultural discussion and comparison, encouraging students to develop a nuanced and critical understanding of China as a complex, internally diverse, and continuously transforming society.

Objectives: To enhance students ' fundamental understanding of 20th-century China from a kaleidoscope of perspectives and to plant the seeds of curiosity and nurture potential research interests and goals about the complicated realm of China;

To lead students to understand the different paradigms, theories, and methods of anthropological research;

To lead students to possess essential skills of critical thinking, reading, and presenting social science works, as well as the ability to work in groups.

before/after course of study: 1.This course will provide a large range of literature on Chinese study, so we hope that each student will choose their own area of interest to read in depth. It will take 2-3 hours at least to scan and read relevant materials (including books and papers) before and after the class and each student should note areas of confusion so that these topics can be raised in the lesson;

2.As a CLIL course in my APM course, this course is not only suitable for students who want to go to China for research or investigation in the future, but also welcome all students who are interested in China, a huge country with such an ancient civilization. Rather than involve much Chinese language teaching, the course will focus on the Chinese context. This course will be conducted bilingually and will engage in cross-cultural discussions of concepts that are unique to Chinese and difficult to translate. It is primarily designed for students with an intermediate or higher level of Chinese proficiency. Students with more limited Chinese proficiency who are interested in the course are welcome to attend a trial session before making a final decision about enrollment.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule Vol. 1 Introduction to Anthropology and Chinese Study in the 20th centuryFrom the 20th century to the 21th century: A brief overview of the changing China
When anthropology meets Chinese society
Before the journey: Outline of the semester contents
Unit-1 From the Soil : Family, Clan and Rural LifeVol. 2 Family, Clan and Rural Life (1)Unit-1 From the Soil : Family, Clan and Rural LifeVol. 3 Family, Clan and Rural Life (2)Unit-1 From the Soil : Family, Clan and Rural LifeVol. 4 Family, Clan and Rural Life (3)

Key questions include: How should we understand the concept of "family" in the Chinese context? In what ways have family and kinship structures influenced Chinese social values and everyday practices? How are traditional family and lineage systems connected to rural society, and how have they been transformed through processes of urbanization and modernization?

In this unit, we will read classic works on Chinese society by scholars such as Fei Xiaotong, Lin Yaohua, and Francis L. K. Hsu, and engage in cross-cultural discussions that reflect on how different cultural traditions conceptualize family, society, and modernity.

Unit 2- Chinese Sensibility: Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in TransformationVol. 5 Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in Transformation(1)Unit 2- Chinese Sensibility: Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in TransformationVol. 6 Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in Transformation(2)Unit 2- Chinese Sensibility: Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in TransformationVol. 7 Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in Transformation (3)

Chinese society has long been characterized by a strong family-oriented cultural logic. Within such a relational framework, what does it mean to be an individual? How is the "self" defined, expressed, and constrained in everyday life? This unit shifts the analytical focus from the family to the individual, while recognizing that individuality in the Chinese context is often constituted through relationships rather than in opposition to them.We will explore how gender norms, emotional expression, and private life are culturally configured, and how these configurations shape the life possibilities of individuals.

As China has undergone profound social transformations since the second half of the twentieth century—especially following the Reform and Opening Up—this unit examines how experiences of selfhood, intimacy, and private life have been reconfigured in changing social, economic, and moral contexts. Through readings from a range of anthropologists, we will discuss how individuals negotiate continuity and change in their everyday lives.

Vol. 8 Mid-Term Arrangement Unit 3-Traces of Civilization: Ethnic Minorities, Religion and Folk BeliefsVol. 9 Ethnic Minorities, Religion and Folk Beliefs (1)Unit 3-Traces of Civilization: Ethnic Minorities, Religion and Folk BeliefsVol.10 Ethnic Minorities, Religion and Folk Beliefs (2)

While the Han constitute the majority population in China, the country has long been shaped by the presence of fifty-five officially recognized ethnic minority groups, each with distinct languages, religious practices, and cultural traditions. Rather than treating ethnic diversity as a static mosaic, this unit examines how China's multiethnic composition has been historically produced, governed, and reimagined, and how it continues to shape social and cultural life today.

This unit also explores religious life and folk beliefs as integral dimensions of Chinese civilization. From institutionalized religions to local ritual practices and everyday forms of belief, we will ask how spiritual life is embedded in social relations, landscapes, and historical memory. Through ethnographic readings and case studies, this unit invites students to reconsider China not as a culturally homogeneous civilization, but as a historically layered and internally diverse social world, where multiple traditions coexist, interact, and leave enduring traces.
Unit 4-Physical Practice: Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death RitualsVol.11 Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death Rituals (1)Unit 4-Physical Practice: Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death RitualsVol.12 Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death Rituals (2)Unit 4-Physical Practice: Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death RitualsVol.13 Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death Rituals (3)

Focusing on dietary practices, Chinese medicine, and funeral rituals, we will explore how the body is cared for, disciplined, and symbolically understood across different stages of life. These practices offer insight into Chinese ways of thinking about balance, vitality, suffering, and the continuity between life and death.We ask concrete questions such as: What do Chinese people eat, and why? How do they understand health, illness, and care? How is death handled in daily life, and what do funeral practices tell us about family, emotion, and social obligation?

By reading ethnographic accounts and comparing them with students' own cultural experiences, this unit encourages practical, experience-based cross-cultural discussions, helping students understand how cultural values are enacted through the body in everyday situations.

Vol.14 Summary and FeedbackThe Summary of the reading journey and feedback to students' questions

Language: 中・英併用

Textbooks: materials will be provided when necessary

References:
Marcel Granet, Festivals and Songs of Ancient China (葛兰言,《古代中国的节庆与歌谣》)
Fei Xiaotong,Peasant Life in China(费孝通,《江村经济》)
Fei Xiaotong,From the Soil: The Foundations of Chinese Society(费孝通,《乡土中国》)
Fei Xiaotong,The System of Reproduction(费孝通,《生育制度》)
Lin Yaohua, The Golden Wing: A Sociological Study of Chinese Familism(林耀华,《金翼》)
Francis L.K. Hsu, Under the Ancestors' Shadow(许烺光,《祖荫下》)
Francis L.K. Hsu, Iemoto: The Heart of Japan(许烺光,《家元》)
Yan Yunxiang, Private Life under Socialism(阎云翔,《私人生活的变革》)
Li Weizu, The Cult of Four Animal Spirits (李慰祖,《四大门》)
Tian Rukang, Religious Pai of the Residents along the Burma-Yunnan Border(田汝康,《芒市边民的摆》)
Ling Chunsheng, The Hezhe People of the Lower Songhua River(凌纯声,《松花江下游的赫哲族》)
Li Anzhai, History of Tibetan Religion: A Field Study(李安宅,《藏族宗教史和实地研究》)
Eric Mueggler, Songs for Dead Parents: Corpse, Text, and World in Southwest China
Zhu Xiaoyang, The Story of A Small Village: Topography and Homeland(朱晓阳,《小村故事:地志与家园》)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Papers:	20	Write a book report on a book selected from the reference materials
Class contribution:	80	Participation in class discussions This course attaches great importance to exploratory in-depth reading around the theme and hopes to thereby activate face-to-face thinking, communication and discussion in the classroom. Therefore, this course requires full attendance, high participation and extensive reading. All scores will be given based on classroom performance (in four units), and the specific rules will be announced in the first class.
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM30500|51|210CM30500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Anthropology and Chinese Studies in the 20th Century 51
Instructor	SHAN, Qi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

Given the complexity of modernity, how should we understand China in the 21st century? Whether you are a native Chinese speaker or not, "Understanding China" has now become an independent study field and an topic of daily life. Through anthropological studies, the course will explore key themes such as village community and economic life/family and kinship/gender, emotion, and private life/religion and folk belief. Ethnographic works employing a range of anthropological methods will be used to illustrate how different social worlds within China are produced and experienced. It also attends to embodied and emotional dimensions of social life by examining everyday practices related to food, Chinese medicine, and rituals surrounding life and death. By grounding broader social questions in concrete practices, the course connects large-scale transformations with ordinary experiences.

Bringing together classic and contemporary anthropological studies, this course invites cross-cultural discussion and comparison, encouraging students to develop a nuanced and critical understanding of China as a complex, internally diverse, and continuously transforming society.

Objectives: To enhance students ' fundamental understanding of 20th-century China from a kaleidoscope of perspectives and to plant the seeds of curiosity and nurture potential research interests and goals about the complicated realm of China;

To lead students to understand the different paradigms, theories, and methods of anthropological research;

To lead students to possess essential skills of critical thinking, reading, and presenting social science works, as well as the ability to work in groups.

before/after course of study: 1.This course will provide a large range of literature on Chinese study, so we hope that each student will choose their own area of interest to read in depth. It will take 2-3 hours at least to scan and read relevant materials (including books and papers) before and after the class and each student should note areas of confusion so that these topics can be raised in the lesson;

2.As a CLIL course in my APM course, this course is not only suitable for students who want to go to China for research or investigation in the future, but also welcome all students who are interested in China, a huge country with such an ancient civilization. Rather than involve much Chinese language teaching, the course will focus on the Chinese context. This course will be conducted bilingually and will engage in cross-cultural discussions of concepts that are unique to Chinese and difficult to translate. It is primarily designed for students with an intermediate or higher level of Chinese proficiency. Students with more limited Chinese proficiency who are interested in the course are welcome to attend a trial session before making a final decision about enrollment.

Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule Vol. 1 Introduction to Anthropology and Chinese Study in the 20th centuryFrom the 20th century to the 21th century: A brief overview of the changing China
When anthropology meets Chinese society
Before the journey: Outline of the semester contents
Unit-1 From the Soil : Family, Clan and Rural LifeVol. 2 Family, Clan and Rural Life (1)Unit-1 From the Soil : Family, Clan and Rural LifeVol. 3 Family, Clan and Rural Life (2)Unit-1 From the Soil : Family, Clan and Rural LifeVol. 4 Family, Clan and Rural Life (3)

Key questions include: How should we understand the concept of "family" in the Chinese context? In what ways have family and kinship structures influenced Chinese social values and everyday practices? How are traditional family and lineage systems connected to rural society, and how have they been transformed through processes of urbanization and modernization?

In this unit, we will read classic works on Chinese society by scholars such as Fei Xiaotong, Lin Yaohua, and

Francis L. K. Hsu, and engage in cross-cultural discussions that reflect on how different cultural traditions conceptualize family, society, and modernity.
Unit 2- Chinese Sensibility: Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in TransformationVol. 5 Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in Transformation(1)Unit 2- Chinese Sensibility: Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in TransformationVol. 6 Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in Transformation(2)Unit 2- Chinese Sensibility: Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in TransformationVol. 7 Gender, Emotion, and Private Life in Transformation (3)

Chinese society has long been characterized by a strong family-oriented cultural logic. Within such a relational framework, what does it mean to be an individual? How is the "self" defined, expressed, and constrained in everyday life? This unit shifts the analytical focus from the family to the individual, while recognizing that individuality in the Chinese context is often constituted through relationships rather than in opposition to them.We will explore how gender norms, emotional expression, and private life are culturally configured, and how these configurations shape the life possibilities of individuals.

As China has undergone profound social transformations since the second half of the twentieth century—especially following the Reform and Opening Up—this unit examines how experiences of selfhood, intimacy, and private life have been reconfigured in changing social, economic, and moral contexts. Through readings from a range of anthropologists, we will discuss how individuals negotiate continuity and change in their everyday lives.

Vol. 8 Mid-Term Arrangement Unit 3-Traces of Civilization: Ethnic Minorities, Religion and Folk BeliefsVol. 9 Ethnic Minorities, Religion and Folk Beliefs (1)Unit 3-Traces of Civilization: Ethnic Minorities, Religion and Folk BeliefsVol.10 Ethnic Minorities, Religion and Folk Beliefs (2)

While the Han constitute the majority population in China, the country has long been shaped by the presence of fifty-five officially recognized ethnic minority groups, each with distinct languages, religious practices, and cultural traditions. Rather than treating ethnic diversity as a static mosaic, this unit examines how China's multiethnic composition has been historically produced, governed, and reimagined, and how it continues to shape social and cultural life today.

This unit also explores religious life and folk beliefs as integral dimensions of Chinese civilization. From institutionalized religions to local ritual practices and everyday forms of belief, we will ask how spiritual life is embedded in social relations, landscapes, and historical memory. Through ethnographic readings and case studies, this unit invites students to reconsider China not as a culturally homogeneous civilization, but as a historically layered and internally diverse social world, where multiple traditions coexist, interact, and leave enduring traces.
Unit 4-Physical Practice: Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death RitualsVol.11 Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death Rituals (1)Unit 4-Physical Practice: Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death RitualsVol.12 Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death Rituals (2)Unit 4-Physical Practice: Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death RitualsVol.13 Diet, Chinese Medicine, and Death Rituals (3)

Focusing on dietary practices, Chinese medicine, and funeral rituals, we will explore how the body is cared for, disciplined, and symbolically understood across different stages of life. These practices offer insight into Chinese ways of thinking about balance, vitality, suffering, and the continuity between life and death.We ask concrete questions such as: What do Chinese people eat, and why? How do they understand health, illness, and care? How is death handled in daily life, and what do funeral practices tell us about family, emotion, and social obligation?

By reading ethnographic accounts and comparing them with students' own cultural experiences, this unit encourages practical, experience-based cross-cultural discussions, helping students understand how cultural values are enacted through the body in everyday situations.

Vol.14 Summary and FeedbackThe Summary of the reading journey and feedback to students' questions

Language: 中・英併用

Textbooks: materials will be provided when necessary

References:
Marcel Granet, Festivals and Songs of Ancient China (葛兰言,《古代中国的节庆与歌谣》)
Fei Xiaotong,Peasant Life in China(费孝通,《江村经济》)
Fei Xiaotong,From the Soil: The Foundations of Chinese Society(费孝通,《乡土中国》)
Fei Xiaotong,The System of Reproduction(费孝通,《生育制度》)
Lin Yaohua, The Golden Wing: A Sociological Study of Chinese Familism(林耀华,《金翼》)
Francis L.K. Hsu, Under the Ancestors' Shadow(许烺光,《祖荫下》)
Francis L.K. Hsu, Iemoto: The Heart of Japan(许烺光,《家元》)
Yan Yunxiang, Private Life under Socialism(阎云翔,《私人生活的变革》)
Li Weizu, The Cult of Four Animal Spirits (李慰祖,《四大门》)
Tian Rukang, Religious Pai of the Residents along the Burma-Yunnan Border(田汝康,《芒市边民的摆》)
Ling Chunsheng, The Hezhe People of the Lower Songhua River(凌纯声,《松花江下游的赫哲族》)
Li Anzhai, History of Tibetan Religion: A Field Study(李安宅,《藏族宗教史和实地研究》)

Eric Mueggler, Songs for Dead Parents: Corpse, Text, and World in Southwest China
Zhu Xiaoyang, The Story of A Small Village: Topography and Homeland(朱晓阳,《小村故事:地志与家园》)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	20	Write a book report on a book selected from the reference materials
Class contribution:	80	Participation in class discussions This course attaches great importance to exploratory in-depth reading around the theme and hopes to thereby activate face-to-face thinking, communication and discussion in the classroom. Therefore, this course requires full attendance, high participation and extensive reading. All scores will be given based on classroom performance (in four units), and the specific rules will be announced in the first class.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM40200|51|210CM40200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Urban and Regional Planning 01
Instructor	DIMMER, Christian
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Fri.2@02:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Theories of Place Making and Urban Practice

Course Outline: ※Face-to-Face delivery
Cities are rarely built from scratch. When we aim at creating more liveable, sustainable and resilient cities as response to climate change, resource depletion, more frequent natural disasters, terror, or increasing inequality and social tensions, this usually has to happen by reconfiguring existing cities. It is therefore essential to know more about the people, institutions, practices and ideas that sought to form cities so far.

This course begins from the recent developments in city making that have emerged with the aim of creating more convivial places through pluralistic, democratic practices. These are seen to have positive impacts on streets, neighbourhoods, communities, and cities. Such new participatory place making ideas are rapidly dispersing world-wide. In this course, we ask the question, what are the reasons that city making, urban planning, urban design, urban governance or place making have become more participatory? From here, we will look back in order to understand which other ideas and ideologies of place-making and planning have been influential before and why have they been replaced and altered by newer ideas? The course examines the historical, cultural, economic, political, environmental, and other influences that determine how places form and how planners sought to control their development. Sustainability is one of the most important objectives of place-making and urban planning today. Questions of sustainability are ultimately questions about scarce resources, how we use them, and how they are distributed. Sustainability also involves social and cultural considerations and equity questions. This means that there are often winners and losers, risks and rewards.

Throughout this course we will explore the dynamic and contingent nature of place making practices and theories from four perspectives:

a) the specific activities associated with planning, place-making, and urban governance,
b) the different, often competing perspectives of people who plan, control, manage, and make our cities;
c) the relationship between state agencies, place-makers & civil society, and
d) plans, policies and projects as historical artefacts.

The class examines how and why urban plans and places are created, shaped, and reshaped by market, state and civil society influences as well as technologies at a variety of spatial scales – ranging from the neighbourhood and community level to the whole city and the region. At the same time we discuss the different approaches and strategies that place-making and governance professionals have been using to accomplish specific goals and objectives and how this in turn is informed by specific institutional, historical and spatial contexts.

The course is thus designed to provide students with a broad survey of the history of place-making and urban governance practices, a large number of practical, everyday examples that illustrate central topics to students, as well as a review of the important issues in planning and place-making theory. It focuses on the historical development of place-making ideas, the various roles planners and place-makers play in practice and theory, and the complex ethical dilemmas they face. Emphasis is thus placed on making sense out of theory and practice of how cities are conceptualised, planned, managed, governed, lived-in, appropriated, or contested.

Every lecture begins with an outline of larger social, political, or philosophical theories (e.g. system theory, marxism, neoliberalism, pragmatism, post-structuralism, post-modernism, post-colonialism etc.) and then details their implications for the making of cities and its relevance for the everyday lifeworlds of urban residents.

We will not only explore how larger social and political theories informed the making of cities but we will also discuss how these concepts ultimately impacted the everyday lives and urban practices of the residents of cities.

Objectives: In this course, students will ...

(1) ... undertake a piece of original research and analysis on a place-making and planning related case study,
(2) ... showcase for each participant the range of skills and interests that they have developed at SILS, The final paper each participant completes will be an important part of the portfolio that they present to an employer or graduate school,
(3) ... develop a self-critical view on those professionals who are planning, making, controlling and governing cities vis-a-vis actors of the market and civil society and provide an understanding of the political, organisational and personality variables that contribute to effective place-making;

(4) ... be prepared to think about the political and ethical ramifications of possible decisions as professional planners, makers of spatial policies, or simply as active citizens, or social activists;
(5) ... learn about the policy/ planning tools with which planners, local governments, civil society actors, social activists, or policy makers seek to control growth & management of cities and develop analytical skills to evaluate outcomes.

before/after course of study: Students are required to complete the assigned reading ahead of every class. For the preparation of every class around 2 hours reading time are to be allocated.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Unit 01: Introduction I: Definitions, Framing Issues
Introduction I: Definitions, Framing Issues
Unit 01: Introduction II: The Rise of Bottom-up Place-making
Introduction II: The Rise of Bottom-up Place-making
Unit 02: Utopian Urbanism and Planning in History I
Utopian Urbanism and Planning in History I
Unit 02: Utopian Urbanism and Planning in History II
Utopian Urbanism and Planning in History II
Unit 03: Exploring Concrete Planning Problems I: Discussing documentary 'New York, the City and the Worl
Exploring Concrete Planning Problems I: Discussing documentary 'New York, the City and the World'
Unit 03: Exploring Concrete Planning Problems II: The Yokohama Formula, Japan in the 1960s
Exploring Concrete Planning Problems II: The Yokohama Formula
Unit 04: Exploring Concrete Planning Problems III: Screening of the documentary 'Urbanizied'
Exploring Concrete Planning Problems III: Screening of the documentary 'Urbanizied'
Unit 04: Exploring Concrete Planning Problems IV: The Nike-fication of Miyashita Park, Shibuya, Tokyo
Exploring Concrete Planning Problems IV: The Nike-fication of Miyashita Park, Shibuya, Tokyo
Unit 05: Exploring Concrete Planning Problems V: New informal Place-making Practices before and after 3.
Exploring Concrete Planning Problems V: New informal Place-making Practices before and after 3.11
Unit 05: Exploring Concrete Planning Problems VI: New informal Place-making Practices before and after 3
Exploring Concrete Planning Problems VI: New informal Place-making Practices before and after 3.11
Unit 06: Systems and Rational Theories of Planning I
Systems and Rational Theories of Planning
Unit 06: Systems and Rational Theories of Planning II
Systems and Rational Theories of Planning
Unit 07: Critical Theory and Marxist Planning I
Critical Theory and Marxist Planning
Unit 07: Critical Theory and Marxist Planning II
Critical Theory and Marxist Planning
Unit 08: Neoliberal Planning I
Neoliberal Planning
Unit 08: Neoliberal Planning II
Neoliberal Planning
Unit 09: Pragmatism and Planning I
Pragmatism and Planning
Unit 09: Pragmatism and Planning II
Pragmatism and Planning
Unit 10: Planning as Advocacy I
Planning as Advocacy
Unit 10: Planning as Advocacy II
Planning as Advocacy
Unit 11: After Modernity: Post-Modern Planning I
After Modernity: Post-Modern Planning
Unit 11: After Modernity: Post-Modern Planning II
After Modernity: Post-Modern Planning

Unit 12: Planning, Depolitisation and the Post-Political I
Planning, Depolitisation and the Post-Political

Unit 12: Planning, Depolitisation and the Post-Political II
Planning, Depolitisation and the Post-Political

Unit 13: Post-Structuralism and New Planning Spaces I
Post-Structuralism and New Planning Spaces

Unit 13: Post-Structuralism and New Planning Spaces II
Post-Structuralism and New Planning Spaces

Unit 14: Collaborative Planning and Place-Making
Collaborative Planning and Place-Making

Unit 14: Planning, Post-Colonialism, Insurgency, Informality
Planning, Post-Colonialism, Insurgency, Informality

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Allmendinger, Philip. 2017. Planning Theory. Red Globe Press; 3rd ed. 2017 edition (June 21, 2017)
References:	Additional texts for every teaching unit will be made available via Waseda Moodle
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Class contribution:	15	Active participation and regular attendance
Others:	85	15%Research proposal 20%annotated bibliography 50% Final Paper

Note/URL:
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM40500|01|210CM40500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Urban Studies
Instructor	DIMMER, Christian
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Global Urbanism – Issues facing Cities in Age of Planetary Urbanisation

Course Outline: ※Face-to-Face delivery
For the first time in human history, more than half of the world's population is living in towns and cities and this figure will grow to 80 percent by the end of this century. This unprecedented, unbroken push towards urbanisation that has ushered in a so-called 'New Urban Century' has brought the emergence of gigantic cities, or megacities, which present major new challenges to a planet with limited resources and growing environmental, economic, political, cultural, social as well as health challenges. Global and local urban development are not only shaped through conscious planning, design and governance strategies, but driven by broader processes of political and economic restructuring associated with the logics of capitalism, state power as well as diverse forms of socio-political mobilisation. This course provides students with a broad introduction to key topics in contemporary urban studies.

The course critically examines the relationship between sustainability, resilience, vulnerability, land development, urban governance, urban form, and social conflicts. Taking a trans- and interdisciplinary approach, it considers the intertwined effects of human behaviour, technology, and political economy on the search for sustainable urban form and liveable, just cities.

It surveys a wide variety of methodological approaches through which scholars are attempting to understand urban change and to decipher the forces that are fostering planetary urbanisation, shaping contemporary cities and city-regions under conditions of heightened economic and political volatility, deterritorialisation, widespread adoption of entrepreneurial politics and resulting resistance from popular movements.

The objective of this course is to provide a wide overview of urbanisation issues around the world and stress the interconnected, relational nature of these phenomena.

Objectives: In this course, students will ...

(1) ... undertake a piece of original research and analysis on a topic of public interest.
(2) ... showcase the range of skills and interests that they have developed at SILS with the final paper being an important part of the portfolio that can be presented to an employer or a graduate school,
(3) ... gain an understanding of the breadth of disciplines/ careers/ constituencies/ stakeholders which play a role in understanding public policy issues within urban studies,
(4) ... develop a stronger understanding of the interconnections between a variety of urban policy issues and how these are informing the transformation of cities in the 'global age' and under conditions of 'planetary urbanisation',
(5) ... appreciate the geographical, historical, and cultural contingency of urban change in a globalising, urbanising world.

before/after course of study: Preparatory reading for each class will be shared through Waseda Moodle.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Unit 01

Course Introduction: Framing Issues: Urban Age, Anthropocene, and Environmental Crisis

Unit 02

From Utopia to Environmental Crisis: Search for the Good Life & Urbanisation

Unit 03

Case Study: Planning the Global City Tokyo

Unit 04

Urban Systems, Interdependencies, Globalisation

Unit 05

Social Polarisation, Slums, Fragmentation, Socio-Spatial Divisions

Unit 06

'Place Wars', Inter-urban competition, 'Entrepreneurial City'

Unit 07

Urban Restructuring, Resistance and Social Movements

Unit 08

'Ethnoscapes', Transnational Migration, 'Globalisation from Below'

Unit 09

Representation, Identity and Culture in Global Cities

Unit 10

Cities, Infrastructure, Vulnerability and Uneven Development

Unit 11

Cities, Terrorism and Asymmetrical War

Unit 12

If Mayors Ruled the Wold: Cities as political Actors

Unit 13

Shifting Attention to the Regions: From Old to New Regionalism

Unit 14

Quo Vadis? Between Corporate Smart Cities and Social Urbanism

Language : English

Textbooks : No text book used

References :

DIMMER, C. et al – {2015} – Responding to the Environmental Crisis, pp. 21–24
Badcock, B. (2002). Making Sense of Cities, pp. 14–33
Machimura, T. (1998). "Symbolic Use of Globalisation in Urban Politics in Tokyo." International Journal of Urban and Regional Research 22(2): 183–194.
Sorensen, A. (2003). "Building world city Tokyo: Globalisation and conflict over urban space." The Annals of Regional Science(37): 519–531.
Saitô, A. (2003). "Global City Formation in a Capitalist Development State: Tokyo and the Waterfront Sub-centre Project." Urban Studies 40(2): 283–308.
Rimmer, Peter J. 1986. 'Japan's World Cities: Tokyo, Osaka, Nagoya or Tokaido Megalopolis?' Development and Change 17 (1): 121–157.
Sassen, Saskia. 2002. 'Locating Cities on Global Circuits'. Environment and Urbanization 14 (1) (January 4): 13–30.
Marcuse, P. and Van Kempen R. (2000) "Chapter One: Introduction", in: Globalizing Cities: A New Spatial Order. Ed. by Marcuse, P. and Van Kempen R. pp. 1–21
Davis, M. (1992). "Fortress L.A.: The Militarization of Urban Space", in: Variations on a Theme Park. The New American City and the End of Public Space. Ed. by Sorkin, M. pp.155–180
Harvey, D. (1989). "From managerialism to entrepreneurialism: The transformation in urban governance in late capitalism." Geografiska Annaler, 71–1, pp. 3–17
Waley, P. (2007). "Tokyo-as-World-City: Reassessing the Role of Capital and the State in Urban Restructuring." Urban Studies 44(8): 1465–1490.
Harvey, David. 2003. 'The Right to the City'. International Journal of Urban and Regional Research 27 (4) (December 17): 939–941.
Mayer, Margit. 2003. 'The Onward Sweep of Social Capital: Causes and Consequences for Understanding Cities, Communities and Urban Movements'. International Journal of Urban and Regional Research 27 (1) (May 13): 110–132.
Mayer, Margit. 2009. 'The "Right to the City" in the Context of Shifting Mottos of Urban Social Movements'. City 13 (2–3): 362–374.
Ward, K., and A. E.G Jonas. 2004. 'Competitive City-regionalism as a Politics of Space: a Critical Reinterpretation of the New Regionalism'. Environment and Planning A 36 (12): 2119–2139.
Mallaby, Sebastian. 2010. 'The Politically Incorrect Guide to Ending Poverty'. The Atlantic, August.
Mathews, Gordon. 2007. Chungking Mansions: A Centre of 'Low-end Globalisation'. Ethnology 46(2). 169–183
Samers, Michael. 2002. 'Immigration and the Global City Hypothesis: Towards an Alternative Research Agenda'. International Journal of Urban and Regional Research, 26 (2): 389–402
Krätke, S. 2003. 'Global Media Cities in a World-wide Urban Network'. European Planning Studies 11 (6): 605–628.
Hannerz, U. "The Cultural Role of World Cities," in Brenner, N. and R. Keil, Eds. (2006). The Global Cities Reader. Urban Reader Series. London and New York, Routledge, 313–318.
Haynes, K. (2006). Infrastructure – The Glue of Megacities. The ninth Megacities Lecture, The Hague, 12–32.
Cervero, B Y R. 2005. 'Progressive Transport and the Poor: Bogotá's Bold Steps Forward'. Access 27 (5850): 24–30.
Leigh-Star, S. 1999. The Ethnography of Infrastructure. American Behavioral Scientist 43. 377–91

Smith, P. D. 2012. City – A Guidebook for the Urban Age – Chapter 8: The Wired City. Bloomsbury. 293–301.
Coaffee, J. 2004. 'Rings of Steel, Rings of Concrete and Rings of Confidence: Designing Out Terrorism in Central London Pre and Post September 11th'. International Journal of Urban and Regional Research 28 (1): 201–211.
Graham, S. 2008. 'Introduction: Cities, Warfare, and States of Emergency'. In Cities, War, and Terrorism: Towards an Urban Geopolitics, ed. Stephen Graham, 1–25. Blackwell Publishing Reuveny, Rafael. 2008. 'Ecomigration and Violent Conflict: Case Studies and Public Policy Implications'. Human Ecology 36 (1): 1–13.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	85	Research proposal (25%) Final paper (60%)
Class contribution:	15	Active participation in class

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM40700|01|210CM40700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Anthropological Appreciation of Chinese Cinema 01
Instructor	SHAN, Qi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

Film is a kind of complex text with multiple layers. We can enter the interior of a film in many ways: story motif, narrative structure, photographic composition, lens aesthetics, social implications, cultural criticism, etc. Different from other film study courses, this course has several outstanding features:

1.This course aims to lead students to an appreciation of the unique aesthetics of each film from a holistic perspective. The way of appreciating comes from the above-mentioned blending of multiple ways of understanding films, and the chosen films often achieve a highly unity in their form and content;
2. In this course, visual works for appreciation include both fictional and non-fictional pieces. We will explore works from author-directors,documentaries, and anthropological films (also known as visual ethnography).They will be categorized into different themes and we will see different expressions of the same theme in different films with a comparative discussion with films from other cultures;This comparison will show anthropological implicationsin a sense.
3. The selected films are all Chinese language films. This means that we will enter the context of Chinese culture through the film text. It is not only the lines told in Chinese and the scenes taken on the ground in China. It also means "the Chinese emotional presentation" and "the Chinese way of viewing". We will discuss a range of possibilities arising from the collision of film as an art form with the Chinese context.

Objectives:

Strengthen the aesthetic ability of visual works;

Cultivate an appreciation of films from the perspective of anthropology;

Comprehend Chinese language and context better by appreciating Chinese visual works;

Be potential for creating own work.

before/after course of study:

Students should spend time to watch the assigned film before the class. In each semester, we will complete the appreciation of the films under four themes. The first half of the semester's films will come from auteur directors. The second half of the semester's films will consist of documentaries and ethnographic films. The detailed themes and film list will be announced in the first class.

Before and after each class, the teacher will provide other relevant literature for students to read and explore freely.

【Tips】

1. Students who want to choose this course need to have basic understandings of cinema art. The course is more suitable for film lovers and students who are interested in anthropological perspectives. Before the course begins, please read the basic bibliography of cinema and film studies.

2. This course will be taught in Chinese. Students who choose this course need to have a Chinese listening proficiency level of intermediate or above. The film list will change from semester to semester.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

1:Vol. 1 Introduction to Chinese FilmsAbout the cinema art
How to step into Chinese context by anthpologically appreciating films
Outline of the semester content : Announce this semester's film list2:Vol. 2 Appreciation of the film (1) under Theme 1Introduction to Theme 1 The Poem of Life
Appreciation and discussion of the film (1)3:Vol. 3 Appreciation of the film (2) under Theme 1Appreciation and discussion of the film (2)4:Vol. 4 Appreciation of the film (3) under Theme 1Appreciation and discussion of the film (3)
Summary of Theme1 The Poem of Life 5:Vol. 5 Appreciation of the film (4) under Theme 2Introduction to Theme 2 Vive L' Amour
Appreciation and discussion of the film (4)6:Vol. 6 Appreciation of the film (5) under Theme 2Appreciation and discussion of the film (5)7:Vol. 7 Appreciation of the film (6) under Theme 2Appreciation and discussion of the film (6)
Summary of Theme2 Vive L' Amour8:Vol. 8 Mid-term Special ScreeningWatch and write a short film review in the class on the film (7)9:Vol. 9 Appreciation of the film (8) under Theme 3Introduction to Theme 3 Localized

Sensibilities
Appreciation and discussion of the film (8)10:Vol.10 Appreciation of the film (9) under Theme 3Appreciation and discussion of the film (9)11:Vol.11 Appreciation of the film (10) under Theme 3Appreciation and discussion of the film (10)
Summary of Theme 3 Localized Sensibilities12:Vol.12 Appreciation of the film (11) under Theme 4Introduction to Theme 4 Way of Viewing
Appreciation and discussion of the film (11)13:Vol.13 Appreciation of the film (12) under Theme 4Appreciation and discussion of the film (12)
Summary of Theme 4 Way of Viewing14:Vol.14 Summary and FeedbackSummary of the course and feedback to students' questions

Language: Chinese

Textbooks: Movies and Meaning/Stephen Prince

What is Cinema?/ André Bazin

雕刻时光/ [苏]安德烈·塔可夫斯基 necessary in the class

References: The first half of the semester's films will come from auteur directors such as Edward Yang, Hou Hsiao-hsien, Tsai Ming-liang, and Wong Kar-wai.
The second half of the semester's films will consist of documentaries and ethnographic films.
The detailed themes and film list will be announced in the first class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Class contribution:	80	Watch a large number of films before and after class and active participation in the classroom is highly required for this course. Participation in the classroom Including but not limited to: Literature reading and presentation Participate in workshop discussions and comments on various topics Improvisation through the language of images All of the above were conducted in class. (The details will be published in the first lesson)
Others:	20	Film-related practical activities carried out spontaneously after class. Such as going to film festivals to watch movies, participating in offline film workshops, creating one's own shots, etc It will be adjusted according to the actual situation.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CM40700|51|210CM40700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Anthropological Appreciation of Chinese Cinema 51
Instructor	SHAN, Qi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

Filmis a kind of complex text with multiple layers. We can enter the interior of a film in many ways: story motif, narrative structure, photographic composition, lens aesthetics, social implications, cultural criticism,etc. Different from other film study courses, this course has several outstanding features:

1.This course aims to lead students to an appreciation of the unique aesthetics of each film from a holistic perspective. The way of appreciating comes from the above-mentioned blending of multiple ways of understanding films, and the chosen films often achieve a highly unity in their form and content;
2. In this course, visual works for appreciation include both fictional and non-fictional pieces. We will explore works from author-directors,documentaries, and anthropological films (also known as visual ethnography).They will be categorized into different themes and we will see different expressions of the same theme in different films with a comparative discussion with films from other cultures;This comparison will show anthropological implicationsin a sense.
3. The selected films are all Chinese language films. This means that we will enter the context of Chinese culture through the film text. It is not only the lines told in Chinese and the scenes taken on the ground in China. It also means “the Chinese emotional presentation” and ″the Chinese way of viewing”. We will discuss a range of possibilities arising from the collision of film as an art form with the Chinese context.

Objectives: Strengthen the aesthetic ability of visual works; before/after course of study: Students should spend hours to watch the assigned film before the class.In the autumn semester, we will complete the appreciation of the films under four themes.The first half of the semester's films will come from auteur directors.The second half of the semester's films will consist of documentaries and ethnographic films. The detailed themes and film list will be announced in the first class.

Cultivate an appreciation of films from the perspective of anthropology;

Comprehend Chinese language and context better by appreciating Chinese visual works;

Be potential for creating own work.

Before and after each class, the teacher will provide other relevant literature for students to read and explore freely.

【Tips】

1. Students who want to choose this course need to have basic understandings of cinema art. The course is more suitable for film lovers and students who are interested in anthropological perspectives. Before the course begins, please read the basic bibliography of cinema and film studies.

2. This course will be taught in Chinese.Students who choose this course need to have a Chinese listening proficiency level of intermediate or above.The film list will change from semester to semester.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction to Chinese Films

About the cinema art
How to step into Chinese context by anthpologically appreciating films
Outline of the semester content : Announce this semester's film list

Vol. 2 Appreciation of the film (1) under Theme 1

Introduction to Theme 1 The Poem of Life
Appreciation and discussion of the film (1)

Vol. 3 Appreciation of the film (2) under Theme 1
Appreciation and discussion of the film (2)
Vol. 4 Appreciation of the film (3) under Theme 1
Appreciation and discussion of the film (3)
Summary of Theme1 The Poem of Life
Vol. 5 Appreciation of the film (4) under Theme 2
Introduction to Theme 2 Vive L' Amour
Appreciation and discussion of the film (4)
Vol. 6 Appreciation of the film (5) under Theme 2
Appreciation and discussion of the film (5)
Vol. 7 Appreciation of the film (6) under Theme 2
Appreciation and discussion of the film (6)
Summary of Theme2 Vive L' Amour
Vol. 8 Mid-term Special Screening
Watch and write a short film review in the class on the film (7)
Vol. 9 Appreciation of the film (8) under Theme 3
Introduction to Theme 3 Localized Sensibilities
Appreciation and discussion of the film (8)
Vol.10 Appreciation of the film (9) under Theme 3
Appreciation and discussion of the film (9)
Vol.11 Appreciation of the film (10) under Theme 3
Appreciation and discussion of the film (10)
Summary of Theme 3 Localized Sensibilities
Vol.12 Appreciation of the film (11) under Theme 4
Introduction to Theme 4 Way of Viewing
Appreciation and discussion of the film (11)
Vol.13 Appreciation of the film (12) under Theme 4
Appreciation and discussion of the film (12)
Summary of Theme 4 Way of Viewing
Vol.14 Summary and Feedback
Summary of the course and feedback to students' questions

Language: Chinese

Textbooks: Movies and Meaning/Stephen Prince

What is Cinema?/ André Bazin

雕刻时光/ [苏]安德烈·塔可夫斯基

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Class contribution:	80	Watch a large number of films before and after class and active participation in the classroom is highly required for this course. Participation in the classroom Including but not limited to: Literature reading and presentation Participate in workshop discussions and comments on various topics Improvisation through the language of images All of the above were conducted in class. (The details will be published in the first lesson)
Others:	20	Film-related practical activities carried out spontaneously after class. Such as going to film festivals to watch movies, participating in offline film workshops, creating one's own shots, etc It will be adjusted according to the actual situation.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C011300|01|210C011300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Support 01
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L.
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Elective Subjects	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: English support to understand introductory lectures at SILS

Course Outline: This course focuses on acquiring good discussion and presentation skills, which are essential for studying at SILS. It also provides general support for understanding various topics covered in introductory lectures at SILS, as well as an introduction to the various facilities available to students at Waseda (libraries, writing center, etc.) Please see the topics to be studied in this course, which are listed on the schedule.

Objectives: The aim of this course is to help students to familiarize themselves with the topics covered in introductory lectures at SILS, and learn about the various facilities and services available to students at Waseda University. This course will also help students improve their TOEFL scores (especially for listening and speaking) as we work on understanding academic lectures and work with English vocabulary and structure. It is also expected that students will acquire good research skills and presentation skills needed to study in the university setting and to prepare for study abroad.

before/after course of study: Students will be expected to create their own personalized vocabulary notebook based on the words they have learned in class, as well as in other classes. They will have listening, grammar, or writing assignments each week. The vocabulary and listening assignments will mainly be for preview. After class, students need to review the materials covered and develop their note-taking skills. At some point in the semester, students will be expected to make a presentation to introduce one of the Waseda facilities or services to their classmates. Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 90-120 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Note: This schedule may be adjusted slightly after the start of the semester.

1. Orientation to the Course: basic computer and library skills
2. Communication Studies -slang and language change-
3. Child Psychology -the genius within-
4. Sociology -online communities-
5. Business -core business skills-
6. Cognitive Psychology -memory-
7. Linguistics -global English-
8. Preparing for Study Abroad
9. Education -How we learn best-
10. Political Science -big brother and the surveillance society-
11.Linguistics -animal communication-
12. Economics -the evolution of money-
13. Sociology -marriage-
14. Final review of the class

Language: English

Textbooks: Contemporary Topics 3, 4th Ed. | Student Book (Beglar & Murray, 2017). Pearson Education.
ISBN: 9780134400792
This book will be available at the Waseda Co-op.

References: Scripts and listening exercises will be available online or will be provided by the teacher in class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Class Participation: 45% Students are expected to come to class prepared to discuss the assigned topics. Some short listening and note-taking assignments will be included in the class preparation.

Writing Assignments: 35% There will be several short written assignments

Presentation：20%

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C011300|02|210C011300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Support 02
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L.
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Elective Subjects	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: English support to understand introductory lectures at SILS

Course Outline: This course focuses on acquiring good discussion and presentation skills, which are essential for studying at SILS. It also provides general support for understanding various topics covered in introductory lectures at SILS, as well as an introduction to the various facilities available to students at Waseda (libraries, writing center, etc.) Please see the topics to be studied in this course, which are listed on the schedule.

Objectives: The aim of this course is to help students to familiarize themselves with the topics covered in introductory lectures at SILS, and learn about the various facilities and services available to students at Waseda University. This course will also help students improve their TOEFL scores (especially for listening and speaking) as we work on understanding academic lectures and work with English vocabulary and structure. It is also expected that students will acquire good research skills and presentation skills needed to study in the university setting and to prepare for study abroad.

before/after course of study: Students will be expected to create their own personalized vocabulary notebook based on the words they have learned in class, as well as in other classes. They will have listening, grammar, or writing assignments each week. The vocabulary and listening assignments will mainly be for preview. After class, students need to review the materials covered and develop their note-taking skills. At some point in the semester, students will be expected to make a presentation to introduce one of the Waseda facilities or services to their classmates. Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 90-120 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Note: This schedule may be adjusted slightly after the start of the semester.

1. Orientation to the Course: basic computer and library skills
2. Communication Studies -slang and language change-
3. Child Psychology -the genius within-
4. Sociology -online communities-
5. Business -core business skills-
6. Cognitive Psychology -memory-
7. Linguistics -global English-
8. Preparing for Study Abroad
9. Education -How we learn best-
10. Political Science -big brother and the surveillance society-
11.Linguistics -animal communication-
12. Economics -the evolution of money-
13. Sociology -marriage-
14. Final review of the class

Language: English

Textbooks: Contemporary Topics 3, 4th Ed. | Student Book (Beglar & Murray, 2017). Pearson Education.
ISBN: 9780134400792
This book will be available at the Waseda Co-op.

References: Scripts and listening exercises will be available online or will be provided by the teacher in class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Class Participation: 45% Students are expected to come to class prepared to discuss the assigned topics. Some short listening and note-taking assignments will be included in the class preparation.

Writing Assignments: 35% There will be several short written assignments

Presentation：20%

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012500|01|210C012500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 1 W101SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.5@02:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

This course introduces students to the basics of English academic writing. Students will begin by learning how to write a coherent paragraph and then apply the skill to writing a five-paragraph essay. They will learn how to create an effective thesis statement, topic sentences, introduction and conclusion, as well as how to organize supporting sentences logically. The course will also focus on other essential skills for academic writing, such as paraphrasing, summarizing and citation. Practice for the TOEFL writing component is also incorporated in the course.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will learn skills to identify basic components of paragraphs and essays, and will become able to use them to write essays.
・Students will learn basic rules of citation (in-text citation and works cited), and will be able to use them in their essays.
・Students will expand their grammar and vocabulary to express their opinions more accurately in English.

before/after course of study:

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed tasks (Including the time used in class):

●ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph: 2.5-3.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lesson 3)
First draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Final draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 8)

●ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay: 3.5-4.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lessons 8)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 10)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 13)

●ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 18

●ASSIGNMENT 4 (Research-based Position essay): 6.5-8 hours in total
Outline - 1 hour (submit before Lesson 16)
Body paragraphs - 1.5-2 hours (bring to Lesson 19)
Intro and Conclusion - 1 hour (bring to Lesson 21)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 22)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 25)

●ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 26

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
● Receive an explanation of the course.
● Learn the structure of a paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 1-4).

● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 3–6 (pp. 5–12).

● Read Assignments 1 & 2 Article 1–2 then answer the questions on the Article 1 worksheet.

Vol. 2 Getting Ready to Write

Lesson content:
● Practice brainstorming.
● Practice writing topic sentences.
● Learn how to create an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENTS 1 & 2 Articles 3–4 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1.
● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 outline. Bring it to the next lesson.
● Read Unit 1, Part 2 (pp. 13–20) and do Exercise 1 (p. 14).

Vol. 3 Writing a paragraph

Lesson content:
● Add details to the ASSIGNMENT 1 outline.
● Learn how to write supporting sentences and aconcluding sentence.
● Learn how to choose a title.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENTS1 & 2 Article 5 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1.
● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft.

● Read Unit 1, Part 3 (pp. 21–31).

Vol. 4 Paragraph Coherence

Lesson content:
● Learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft(for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Connecting Ideas I

Lesson content:
● Continue to learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 1 (pp. 38–51). Do Exercises 1 and6 (pp. 41, 48).

Vol. 6 From Paragraph to Essay

Lesson content:
● Learn about the structure of an essay.
● Practice writing thesis statements and topic sentences.
● Practice making an outline.
● Transpose ASSIGNMENT 1 academic paragraph to ASSIGNMENT 2 outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 1, Part 4 (pp. 32–36) and do Exercise 1 (p. 33).

Vol. 7 Editing Skills I: Editing a Paragraph

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 1 first draft (peer edit and instructor–student session).

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 2 (pp. 52–65) and do Exercise 1 (p. 53).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 1: Academic Paragraph (for grading) before the next lesson.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 2 outline (adding Assignment 1 details). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol. 8 Writing an Expository Essay

Lesson content:
● Peer–check ASSIGNMENT 2 outlines.
● Continue to learn about the structure of an essay (introductory, body, and concluding paragraphs).
● Begin drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:

● Continue drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay.

Vol. 9 Connecting Ideas II

Lesson content:
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 3 (pp. 66–70).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (for feedback). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.10　Editing Skills II

Lesson content:
● Give peer-feedback on ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Start researching ASSIGNMENT 4 topic.
● Review Unit 2, Part 2, Section 3 (pp. 60-65)

Vol.11　Review: The Expository Essay

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (instructor-student sessions).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Article 1. Answer the questions on the worksheet.
● Read textbook Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 1-3 (pp.92-98) and do Exercise 1 (p. 94).

Vol.12　Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals I

Lesson content:
● Discuss articles for ASSIGNMENT 4 topic.
● Learn the structure of a research-based positionessay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 4-6 (pp. 98-105) and do Exercise 5 (p. 102).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 2: Expository Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.13　Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals II

Lesson content:
● Learn how to write a thesis statement and topicsentences for a research-based position essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Articles 2-3.

● Read “Research Skills Practice” in Student Guide.

Vol.14　Research Skills Practice

Lesson content:
● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4topic.
● Learn how to carry out research.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Find an article for ASSIGNMENT 4. Bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.15　Topic Discussion

Lesson content:
● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4topic.
● Begin writing a tentative outline.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 72-76).
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4 outline (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 16　Paraphrasing

Lesson content:
● Practice paraphrasing.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue practicing writing paraphrases.
● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 3 (pp. 76-80).

Vol. 17　Summarizing

Lesson content:
● Practice summarizing.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review paraphrasing and summarizing (Unit 3, Part 1, pp. 72-80; Worksheets 9 & 10).

Vol. 18　Paraphrasing & Summarizing Consolidation

Lesson content:
● Have additional practice of paraphrasing and summarizing.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 3 (In-class): Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task. Submit to instructor for grading.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson.
● Read Handout on APA-style referencing and citing.

Vol. 19　Referencing & Citing Fundamentals

Lesson content:
● Practice creating APA-style references and in-text citations.
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs (peer editing).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 2 (pp. 106-111)

Vol. 20 Supporting Arguments

Lesson content:
● Practice presenting evidence to validate supporting points (claims).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● The instructor will assign homework as necessary.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson.

Vol. 21 Organizing Supporting Sentences

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Practice skills to write better body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 1 (pp. 112–114).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 22 Accurate Generalizations

Lesson content:
● Learn how to make accurate generalizations.
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● The instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol. 23 Essay Review

Lesson content:
● Review APA-style reference list entries and in-text citation.
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 2 (pp. 115–118).

Vol. 24 Editing a Researched Position Essay

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (peer editing /instructor-student sessions).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Instructor will assign homework as necessary.
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4: Research-based Position Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.25 TOEFL: Integrated Writing

Lesson content:
● Practice writing the Integrated Writing task for the TOEFL test.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol.26 TOEFL: Writing for an Academic Discussion

Lesson content:
● Practice writing the Academic Discussion task for the TOEFL test.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 5 (In-class): TOEFL Writing Task. SUBMIT to the instructor for grading.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.27 Other Types of Academic Essays

Lesson content:
● Learn different types of academic writing (expository, argumentative, compare and contrast, cause-effect, problem-solution).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.28 Course Review

Lesson content:
● Complete Course Review tasks.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 1 by Chin, Koizumi, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107636224

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 65%
ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph (15%)
ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay (20%)
ASSIGNMENT 4 Research-based position essay (30%)

Class Participation 15%
Participation and Preparation

Others 20%
ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task (10%)
ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task (10%)

●Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 20 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet either of these requirements will result in automatic failure of the course.
●Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, doing the assigned readings, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments, and revising writing assignments.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012500|02|210C012500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 1 W102SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.5@02:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

This course introduces students to the basics of English academic writing. Students will begin by learning how to write a coherent paragraph and then apply the skill to writing a five-paragraph essay. They will learn how to create an effective thesis statement, topic sentences, introduction and conclusion, as well as how to organize supporting sentences logically. The course will also focus on other essential skills for academic writing, such as paraphrasing, summarizing and citation. Practice for the TOEFL writing component is also incorporated in the course.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will learn skills to identify basic components of paragraphs and essays, and will become able to use them to write essays.
・Students will learn basic rules of citation (in-text citation and works cited), and will be able to use them in their essays.
・Students will expand their grammar and vocabulary to express their opinions more accurately in English.

before/after course of study:

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed tasks (Including the time used in class):

●ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph: 2.5-3.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lesson 3)
First draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Final draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 8)

●ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay: 3.5-4.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lessons 8)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 10)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 13)

●ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 18

●ASSIGNMENT 4 (Research-based Position essay): 6.5-8 hours in total
Outline - 1 hour (submit before Lesson 16)
Body paragraphs - 1.5-2 hours (bring to Lesson 19)
Intro and Conclusion - 1 hour (bring to Lesson 21)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 22)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 25)

●ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 26

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
● Receive an explanation of the course.
● Learn the structure of a paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 1-4).

● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 3–6 (pp. 5–12).

● Read Assignments 1 & 2 Article 1–2 then answer the questions on the Article 1 worksheet.

Vol. 2 Getting Ready to Write

Lesson content:
● Practice brainstorming.
● Practice writing topic sentences.
● Learn how to create an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENTS 1 & 2 Articles 3–4 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1.
● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 outline. Bring it to the next lesson.
● Read Unit 1, Part 2 (pp. 13–20) and do Exercise 1 (p. 14).

Vol. 3 Writing a paragraph

Lesson content:
● Add details to the ASSIGNMENT 1 outline.
● Learn how to write supporting sentences and aconcluding sentence.
● Learn how to choose a title.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENTS1 & 2 Article 5 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1.
● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft.

● Read Unit 1, Part 3 (pp. 21–31).

Vol. 4 Paragraph Coherence

Lesson content:
● Learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft(for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Connecting Ideas I

Lesson content:
● Continue to learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 1 (pp. 38–51). Do Exercises 1 and6 (pp. 41, 48).

Vol. 6 From Paragraph to Essay

Lesson content:
● Learn about the structure of an essay.
● Practice writing thesis statements and topic sentences.
● Practice making an outline.
● Transpose ASSIGNMENT 1 academic paragraph to ASSIGNMENT 2 outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 1, Part 4 (pp. 32–36) and do Exercise 1 (p. 33).

Vol. 7 Editing Skills I: Editing a Paragraph

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 1 first draft (peer edit and instructor–student session).

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 2 (pp. 52–65) and do Exercise 1 (p. 53).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 1: Academic Paragraph (for grading) before the next lesson.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 2 outline (adding Assignment 1 details). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol. 8 Writing an Expository Essay

Lesson content:
● Peer–check ASSIGNMENT 2 outlines.
● Continue to learn about the structure of an essay (introductory, body, and concluding paragraphs).
● Begin drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:

● Continue drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay.

Vol. 9 Connecting Ideas II

Lesson content:
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 3 (pp. 66–70).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (for feedback). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.10 Editing Skills II

Lesson content:
● Give peer-feedback on ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Start researching ASSIGNMENT 4 topic.
● Review Unit 2, Part 2, Section 3 (pp. 60-65)

Vol.11 Review: The Expository Essay

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (instructor-student sessions).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Article 1. Answer the questions on the worksheet.
● Read textbook Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 1-3 (pp.92-98) and do Exercise 1 (p. 94).

Vol.12 Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals I

Lesson content:
● Discuss articles for ASSIGNMENT 4 topic.
● Learn the structure of a research-based positionessay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 4-6 (pp. 98-105) and do Exercise 5 (p. 102).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 2: Expository Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.13 Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals II

Lesson content:
● Learn how to write a thesis statement and topicsentences for a research-based position essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Articles 2-3.

● Read "Research Skills Practice" in Student Guide.

Vol.14 Research Skills Practice

Lesson content:
● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4topic.
● Learn how to carry out research.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Find an article for ASSIGNMENT 4. Bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.15 Topic Discussion

Lesson content:
● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4topic.
● Begin writing a tentative outline.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 72-76).
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4 outline (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 16 Paraphrasing

Lesson content:
● Practice paraphrasing.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue practicing writing paraphrases.
● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 3 (pp. 76-80).

Vol. 17 Summarizing

Lesson content:
● Practice summarizing.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review paraphrasing and summarizing (Unit 3, Part 1, pp. 72-80; Worksheets 9 & 10).

Vol. 18 Paraphrasing & Summarizing Consolidation

Lesson content:
● Have additional practice of paraphrasing and summarizing.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 3 (In-class): Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task. Submit to instructor for grading.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson.
● Read Handout on APA-style referencing and citing.

Vol. 19 Referencing & Citing Fundamentals

Lesson content:
● Practice creating APA-style references and in-text citations.
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs (peer editing).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 2 (pp. 106-111)

Vol. 20 Supporting Arguments

Lesson content:
● Practice presenting evidence to validate supporting points (claims).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● The instructor will assign homework as necessary.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson.

Vol. 21 Organizing Supporting Sentences

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Practice skills to write better body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 1 (pp. 112–114).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 22 Accurate Generalizations

Lesson content:
● Learn how to make accurate generalizations.
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● The instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol. 23 Essay Review

Lesson content:
● Review APA-style reference list entries and in-text citation.
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 2 (pp. 115–118).

Vol. 24 Editing a Researched Position Essay

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (peer editing /instructor-student sessions).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Instructor will assign homework as necessary.
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4: Research-based Position Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.25 TOEFL: Integrated Writing

Lesson content:
● Practice writing the Integrated Writing task for the TOEFL test.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol.26 TOEFL: Writing for an Academic Discussion

Lesson content:
● Practice writing the Academic Discussion task for the TOEFL test.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 5 (In-class): TOEFL Writing Task. SUBMIT to the instructor for grading.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.27 Other Types of Academic Essays

Lesson content:
● Learn different types of academic writing (expository, argumentative, compare and contrast, cause-effect, problem-solution).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.28 Course Review

Lesson content:
● Complete Course Review tasks.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 1 by Chin, Koizumi, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107636224

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 65%
ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph (15%)
ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay (20%)
ASSIGNMENT 4 Research-based position essay (30%)

Class Participation 15%
Participation and Preparation

Others 20%
ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task (10%)
ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task (10%)

●Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 20 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet either of these requirements will result in automatic failure of the course.
●Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, doing the assigned readings, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments, and revising writing assignments.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012500|03|210C012500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 1 W103SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.5@02:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

This course introduces students to the basics of English academic writing. Students will begin by learning how to write a coherent paragraph and then apply the skill to writing a five-paragraph essay. They will learn how to create an effective thesis statement, topic sentences, introduction and conclusion, as well as how to organize supporting sentences logically. The course will also focus on other essential skills for academic writing, such as paraphrasing, summarizing and citation. Practice for the TOEFL writing component is also incorporated in the course.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will learn skills to identify basic components of paragraphs and essays, and will become able to use them to write essays.
・Students will learn basic rules of citation (in-text citation and works cited), and will be able to use them in their essays.
・Students will expand their grammar and vocabulary to express their opinions more accurately in English.

before/after course of study:

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed tasks (Including the time used in class):

●ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph: 2.5-3.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lesson 3)
First draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Final draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 8)

●ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay: 3.5-4.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lessons 8)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 10)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 13)

●ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 18

●ASSIGNMENT 4 (Research-based Position essay): 6.5-8 hours in total
Outline - 1 hour (submit before Lesson 16)
Body paragraphs - 1.5-2 hours (bring to Lesson 19)
Intro and Conclusion - 1 hour (bring to Lesson 21)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 22)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 25)

●ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 26

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
● Receive an explanation of the course.
● Learn the structure of a paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 1-4).

● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 3–6 (pp. 5–12).

● Read Assignments 1 & 2 Article 1–2 then answer the questions on the Article 1 worksheet.

Vol. 2 Getting Ready to Write

Lesson content:
● Practice brainstorming.
● Practice writing topic sentences.
● Learn how to create an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENTS 1 & 2 Articles 3–4 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1.
● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 outline. Bring it to the next lesson.
● Read Unit 1, Part 2 (pp. 13–20) and do Exercise 1 (p. 14).

Vol. 3 Writing a paragraph

Lesson content:
● Add details to the ASSIGNMENT 1 outline.
● Learn how to write supporting sentences and aconcluding sentence.
● Learn how to choose a title.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENTS1 & 2 Article 5 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1.
● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft.

● Read Unit 1, Part 3 (pp. 21–31).

Vol. 4 Paragraph Coherence

Lesson content:
● Learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft(for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Connecting Ideas I

Lesson content:
● Continue to learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 1 (pp. 38–51). Do Exercises 1 and6 (pp. 41, 48).

Vol. 6 From Paragraph to Essay

Lesson content:
● Learn about the structure of an essay.
● Practice writing thesis statements and topic sentences.
● Practice making an outline.
● Transpose ASSIGNMENT 1 academic paragraph to ASSIGNMENT 2 outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 1, Part 4 (pp. 32–36) and do Exercise 1 (p. 33).

Vol. 7 Editing Skills I: Editing a Paragraph

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 1 first draft (peer edit and instructor–student session).

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 2 (pp. 52–65) and do Exercise 1 (p. 53).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 1: Academic Paragraph (for grading) before the next lesson.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 2 outline (adding Assignment 1 details). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol. 8 Writing an Expository Essay

Lesson content:
● Peer–check ASSIGNMENT 2 outlines.
● Continue to learn about the structure of an essay (introductory, body, and concluding paragraphs).
● Begin drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:

● Continue drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay.

Vol. 9 Connecting Ideas II

Lesson content:
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 3 (pp. 66–70).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (for feedback). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.10 Editing Skills II

Lesson content:
● Give peer-feedback on ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Start researching ASSIGNMENT 4 topic.
● Review Unit 2, Part 2, Section 3 (pp. 60-65)

Vol.11 Review: The Expository Essay

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (instructor-student sessions).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Article 1. Answer the questions on the worksheet.
● Read textbook Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 1-3 (pp.92-98) and do Exercise 1 (p. 94).

Vol.12 Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals I

Lesson content:
● Discuss articles for ASSIGNMENT 4 topic.
● Learn the structure of a research-based positionessay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 4-6 (pp. 98-105) and do Exercise 5 (p. 102).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 2: Expository Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.13 Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals II

Lesson content:
● Learn how to write a thesis statement and topicsentences for a research-based position essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Articles 2-3.

● Read "Research Skills Practice" in Student Guide.

Vol.14 Research Skills Practice

Lesson content:
● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4topic.
● Learn how to carry out research.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Find an article for ASSIGNMENT 4. Bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.15 Topic Discussion

Lesson content:
● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4topic.
● Begin writing a tentative outline.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 72-76).
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4 outline (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 16 Paraphrasing

Lesson content:
● Practice paraphrasing.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue practicing writing paraphrases.
● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 3 (pp. 76-80).

Vol. 17 Summarizing

Lesson content:
● Practice summarizing.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review paraphrasing and summarizing (Unit 3, Part 1, pp. 72-80; Worksheets 9 & 10).

Vol. 18 Paraphrasing & Summarizing Consolidation

Lesson content:
● Have additional practice of paraphrasing and summarizing.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 3 (In-class): Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task. Submit to instructor for grading.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson.
● Read Handout on APA-style referencing and citing.

Vol. 19 Referencing & Citing Fundamentals

Lesson content:
● Practice creating APA-style references and in-text citations.
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs (peer editing).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 2 (pp. 106-111)

Vol. 20 Supporting Arguments

Lesson content:
● Practice presenting evidence to validate supporting points (claims).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● The instructor will assign homework as necessary.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson.

Vol. 21 Organizing Supporting Sentences

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Practice skills to write better body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 1 (pp. 112–114).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 22 Accurate Generalizations

Lesson content:
● Learn how to make accurate generalizations.
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● The instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol. 23 Essay Review

Lesson content:
● Review APA-style reference list entries and in-text citation.
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 2 (pp. 115–118).

Vol. 24 Editing a Researched Position Essay

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (peer editing /instructor-student sessions).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Instructor will assign homework as necessary.
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4: Research-based Position Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.25 TOEFL: Integrated Writing

Lesson content:
● Practice writing the Integrated Writing task for the TOEFL test.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol.26 TOEFL: Writing for an Academic Discussion

Lesson content:
● Practice writing the Academic Discussion task for the TOEFL test.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 5 (In-class): TOEFL Writing Task. SUBMIT to the instructor for grading.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.27 Other Types of Academic Essays

Lesson content:
● Learn different types of academic writing (expository, argumentative, compare and contrast, cause-effect, problem-solution).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.28 Course Review

Lesson content:
● Complete Course Review tasks.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 1 by Chin, Koizumi, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107636224

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 65%
ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph (15%)
ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay (20%)
ASSIGNMENT 4 Research-based position essay (30%)

Class Participation 15%
Participation and Preparation

Others 20%
ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task (10%)
ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task (10%)

●Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 20 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet either of these requirements will result in automatic failure of the course.
●Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, doing the assigned readings, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments, and revising writing assignments.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012500|04|210C012500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 1 W104SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2@02:Fri.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

This course introduces students to the basics of English academic writing. Students will begin by learning how to write a coherent paragraph and then apply the skill to writing a five-paragraph essay. They will learn how to create an effective thesis statement, topic sentences, introduction and conclusion, as well as how to organize supporting sentences logically. The course will also focus on other essential skills for academic writing, such as paraphrasing, summarizing and citation. Practice for the TOEFL writing component is also incorporated in the course.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will learn skills to identify basic components of paragraphs and essays, and will become able to use them to write essays.
・Students will learn basic rules of citation (in-text citation and works cited), and will be able to use them in their essays.
・Students will expand their grammar and vocabulary to express their opinions more accurately in English.

before/after course of study:

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed tasks (Including the time used in class):

●ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph: 2.5-3.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lesson 3)
First draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Final draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 8)

●ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay: 3.5-4.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lessons 8)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 10)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 13)

●ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 18

●ASSIGNMENT 4 (Research-based Position essay): 6.5-8 hours in total
Outline - 1 hour (submit before Lesson 16)
Body paragraphs - 1.5-2 hours (bring to Lesson 19)
Intro and Conclusion - 1 hour (bring to Lesson 21)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 22)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 25)

●ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 26

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
● Receive an explanation of the course.
● Learn the structure of a paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 1-4).

● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 3–6 (pp. 5–12).

● Read Assignments 1 & 2 Article 1–2 then answer the questions on the Article 1 worksheet.

Vol. 2 Getting Ready to Write

Lesson content:
● Practice brainstorming.
● Practice writing topic sentences.
● Learn how to create an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENTS 1 & 2 Articles 3–4 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1.
● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 outline. Bring it to the next lesson.
● Read Unit 1, Part 2 (pp. 13–20) and do Exercise 1 (p. 14).

Vol. 3 Writing a paragraph

Lesson content:
● Add details to the ASSIGNMENT 1 outline.
● Learn how to write supporting sentences and aconcluding sentence.
● Learn how to choose a title.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENTS1 & 2 Article 5 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1.
● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft.

● Read Unit 1, Part 3 (pp. 21–31).

Vol. 4 Paragraph Coherence

Lesson content:
● Learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft(for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Connecting Ideas I

Lesson content:
● Continue to learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 1 (pp. 38–51). Do Exercises 1 and6 (pp. 41, 48).

Vol. 6 From Paragraph to Essay

Lesson content:
● Learn about the structure of an essay.
● Practice writing thesis statements and topic sentences.
● Practice making an outline.
● Transpose ASSIGNMENT 1 academic paragraph to ASSIGNMENT 2 outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 1, Part 4 (pp. 32–36) and do Exercise 1 (p. 33).

Vol. 7 Editing Skills I: Editing a Paragraph

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 1 first draft (peer edit and instructor–student session).

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 2 (pp. 52–65) and do Exercise 1 (p. 53).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 1: Academic Paragraph (for grading) before the next lesson.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 2 outline (adding Assignment 1 details). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol. 8 Writing an Expository Essay

Lesson content:
● Peer–check ASSIGNMENT 2 outlines.
● Continue to learn about the structure of an essay (introductory, body, and concluding paragraphs).
● Begin drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:

● Continue drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay.

Vol. 9 Connecting Ideas II

Lesson content:
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 2, Part 3 (pp. 66–70).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (for feedback). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.10 Editing Skills II

Lesson content:
● Give peer-feedback on ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Start researching ASSIGNMENT 4 topic.
● Review Unit 2, Part 2, Section 3 (pp. 60-65)

Vol.11 Review: The Expository Essay

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (instructor-student sessions).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Article 1. Answer the questions on the worksheet.
● Read textbook Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 1-3 (pp.92-98) and do Exercise 1 (p. 94).

Vol.12 Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals I

Lesson content:
● Discuss articles for ASSIGNMENT 4 topic.
● Learn the structure of a research-based positionessay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 4-6 (pp. 98-105) and do Exercise 5 (p. 102).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 2: Expository Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.13 Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals II

Lesson content:
● Learn how to write a thesis statement and topicsentences for a research-based position essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Articles 2-3.

● Read "Research Skills Practice" in Student Guide.

Vol.14 Research Skills Practice

Lesson content:
● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4topic.
● Learn how to carry out research.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Find an article for ASSIGNMENT 4. Bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.15 Topic Discussion

Lesson content:
● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4topic.
● Begin writing a tentative outline.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 72-76).
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4 outline (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 16 Paraphrasing

Lesson content:
● Practice paraphrasing.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue practicing writing paraphrases.
● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 3 (pp. 76-80).

Vol. 17 Summarizing

Lesson content:
● Practice summarizing.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review paraphrasing and summarizing (Unit 3, Part 1, pp. 72-80; Worksheets 9 & 10).

Vol. 18 Paraphrasing & Summarizing Consolidation

Lesson content:
● Have additional practice of paraphrasing and summarizing.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 3 (In-class): Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task. Submit to instructor for grading.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson.
● Read Handout on APA-style referencing and citing.

Vol. 19 Referencing & Citing Fundamentals

Lesson content:
● Practice creating APA-style references and in-text citations.
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs (peer editing).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 2 (pp. 106-111)

Vol. 20 Supporting Arguments

Lesson content:
● Practice presenting evidence to validate supporting points (claims).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● The instructor will assign homework as necessary.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson.

Vol. 21 Organizing Supporting Sentences

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Practice skills to write better body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 1 (pp. 112–114).
● SUBMITASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 22 Accurate Generalizations

Lesson content:
● Learn how to make accurate generalizations.
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● The instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol. 23 Essay Review

Lesson content:
● Review APA-style reference list entries and in-text citation.
● Practice grammar to improve writing skills.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 2 (pp. 115–118).

Vol. 24 Editing a Researched Position Essay

Lesson content:
● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (peer editing /instructor-student sessions).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Instructor will assign homework as necessary.
● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4: Research-based Position Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.25 TOEFL: Integrated Writing

Lesson content:
● Practice writing the Integrated Writing task for the TOEFL test.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol.26 TOEFL: Writing for an Academic Discussion

Lesson content:
● Practice writing the Academic Discussion task for the TOEFL test.
● Complete ASSIGNMENT 5 (In-class): TOEFL Writing Task. SUBMIT to the instructor for grading.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.27 Other Types of Academic Essays

Lesson content:
● Learn different types of academic writing (expository, argumentative, compare and contrast, cause-effect, problem-solution).
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.28 Course Review

Lesson content:
● Complete Course Review tasks.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 1 by Chin, Koizumi, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107636224

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 65%
ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph (15%)
ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay (20%)
ASSIGNMENT 4 Research-based position essay (30%)

Class Participation 15%
Participation and Preparation

Others 20%
ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task (10%)
ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task (10%)

●Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 20 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet either of these requirements will result in automatic failure of the course.
●Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, doing the assigned readings, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments, and revising writing assignments.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012500|51|210C012500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 1 W101FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.5@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course introduces students to the basics of English academic writing. Students will begin by learning how to write a coherent paragraph and then apply the skill to writing a five-paragraph essay. They will learn how to create an effective thesis statement, topic sentences, introduction and conclusion, as well as how to organize supporting sentences logically. The course will also focus on other essential skills for academic writing, such as paraphrasing, summarizing and citation. Practice for the TOEFL writing component is also incorporated in the course.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives: ・Students will learn skills to identify basic components of paragraphs and essays, and will become able to use them to write essays.
・Students will learn basic rules of citation (in-text citation and works cited), and will be able to use them in their essays.
・Students will expand their grammar and vocabulary to express their opinions more accurately in English.

before/after course of study: Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
・30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed tasks (Including the time used in class):

・ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph: 2.5-3.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lesson 3)
First draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Final draft - 1-1.5 hours (submit before Lesson 8)

・ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay: 3.5-4.5 hours in total
Outline - 30 minutes (bring to Lessons 8)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 10)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 13)

・ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 18

・ASSIGNMENT 4 (Research-based Position essay): 6.5-8 hours in total
Outline - 1 hour (submit before Lesson 16)
Body paragraphs - 1.5-2 hours (bring to Lesson 19)
Intro and Conclusion - 1 hour (bring to Lesson 21)
First draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 22)
Final draft - 1.5-2 hours (submit before Lesson 25)

・ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task: (In-class)
Submit in Lesson 26

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content: ● Receive an explanation of the course. ● Learn the structure of a paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 1-4). ● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Sections 3-6 (pp. 5-12). ● Read Assignments 1 & 2 Article 1-2 then answer the questions on the Article 1 worksheet.

Vol. 2 Getting Ready to Write

Lesson content: ● Practice brainstorming. ● Practice writing topic sentences. ● Learn how to create an outline. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read ASSIGNMENTS 1 & 2 Articles 3-4 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1. ● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 outline. Bring it to the next lesson. ● Read Unit 1, Part 2 (pp. 13-20) and do Exercise 1 (p. 14).

Vol. 3 Writing a paragraph

Lesson content: ● Add details to the ASSIGNMENT 1 outline. ● Learn how to write supporting sentences and a concluding sentence. ● Learn how to choose a title. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read ASSIGNMENTS 1 & 2 Article 5 to gather ideas for ASSIGNMENT 1. ● Begin ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft. ● Read Unit 1, Part 3 (pp. 21-31).

Vol. 4 Paragraph Coherence

Lesson content: ● Learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph first draft (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Connecting Ideas I

Lesson content: ● Continue to learn grammar and vocabulary used to write a coherent paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 2, Part 1 (pp. 38-51). Do Exercises 1 and 6 (pp. 41, 48).

Vol. 6 From Paragraph to Essay

Lesson content: ● Learn about the structure of an essay. ● Practice writing thesis statements and topic sentences. ● Practice making an outline. ● Transpose ASSIGNMENT 1 academic paragraph to ASSIGNMENT 2 outline. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 1, Part 4 (pp. 32-36) and do Exercise 1 (p. 33).

Vol. 7 Editing Skills I: Editing a Paragraph

Lesson content: ● Revise ASSIGNMENT 1 first draft (peer edit and instructor-student session). Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 2, Part 2 (pp. 52-65) and do Exercise 1 (p. 53). ● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 1: Academic Paragraph (for grading) before the next lesson. ● Complete ASSIGNMENT 2 outline (adding Assignment 1 details). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol. 8 Writing an Expository Essay

Lesson content: ● Peer-check ASSIGNMENT 2 outlines. ● Continue to learn about the structure of an essay (introductory, body, and concluding paragraphs). ● Begin drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Continue drafting ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository Essay.

Vol. 9 Connecting Ideas II

Lesson content: ● Practice grammar to improve writing skills. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 2, Part 3 (pp. 66-70). ● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (for feedback). Also, bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.10 Editing Skills II

Lesson content: ● Give peer-feedback on ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Start researching ASSIGNMENT 4 topic. ● Review Unit 2, Part 2, Section 3 (pp. 60-65)

Vol.11 Review: The Expository Essay

Lesson content: ● Revise ASSIGNMENT 2 first draft (instructor-student sessions). Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Article 1. Answer the questions on the worksheet. ● Read textbook Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 1-3 (pp. 92-98) and do Exercise 1 (p. 94).

Vol.12 Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals I

Lesson content: ● Discuss articles for ASSIGNMENT 4 topic. ● Learn the structure of a research-based position essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 4, Part 1, Sections 4-6 (pp. 98-105) and do Exercise 5 (p. 102). ● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 2: Expository Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.13 Research-based Position Essay Fundamentals II

Lesson content: ● Learn how to write a thesis statement and topic sentences for a research-based position essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read ASSIGNMENT 4 Articles 2-3. ● Read "Research Skills Practice" in Student Guide.

Vol.14 Research Skills Practice

Lesson content: ● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4 topic. ● Learn how to carry out research. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Find an article for ASSIGNMENT 4. Bring it to the next lesson.

Vol.15 Topic Discussion

Lesson content: ● Continue discussing articles regarding ASSIGNMENT 4 topic. ● Begin writing a tentative outline. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Sections 1-2 (pp. 72-76). ● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4 outline (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 16 Paraphrasing

Lesson content: ● Practice paraphrasing. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Continue practicing writing paraphrases. ● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 3 (pp. 76-80).

Vol. 17 Summarizing

Lesson content: ● Practice summarizing. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review paraphrasing and summarizing (Unit 3, Part 1, pp. 72–80; Worksheets 9 & 10).

Vol. 18 Paraphrasing & Summarizing Consolidation

Lesson content: ● Have additional practice of paraphrasing and summarizing. ● Complete ASSIGNMENT 3 (In-class): Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task. Submit to instructor for grading. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson. ● Read Handout on APA-style referencing and citing.

Vol. 19 Referencing & Citing Fundamentals

Lesson content: ● Practice creating APA-style references and in-text citations. ● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 Body Paragraphs (peer editing). Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 4, Part 2 (pp. 106–111)

Vol. 20 Supporting Arguments

Lesson content: ● Practice presenting evidence to validate supporting points (claims). Preparation for the next lesson: ● The instructor will assign homework as necessary. ● Complete ASSIGNMENT 4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs. Bring them to the next lesson.

Vol. 21 Organizing Supporting Sentences

Lesson content: ● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs. ● Practice skills to write better body paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 1 (pp. 112–114). ● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (for feedback) before the next lesson.

Vol. 22 Accurate Generalizations

Lesson content: ● Learn how to make accurate generalizations. ● Practice grammar to improve writing skills. Preparation for the next lesson: ● The instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol. 23 Essay Review

Lesson content: ● Review APA-style reference list entries and in-text citation. ● Practice grammar to improve writing skills. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 4, Part 3, Section 2 (pp. 115–118).

Vol. 24 Editing a Researched Position Essay

Lesson content: ● Revise ASSIGNMENT 4 first draft (peer editing / instructor-student sessions). Preparation for the next lesson: ● Instructor will assign homework as necessary. ● SUBMIT ASSIGNMENT 4: Research-based Position Essay (for grading) before the next lesson.

Vol.25 TOEFL: Integrated Writing

Lesson content: ● Practice writing the Integrated Writing task for the TOEFL test. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Instructor will assign homework as necessary.

Vol.26 TOEFL: Writing for an Academic Discussion

Lesson content: ● Practice writing the Academic Discussion task for the TOEFL test. ● Complete ASSIGNMENT 5 (In-class): TOEFL Writing Task. SUBMIT to the instructor for grading. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.27 Other Types of Academic Essays

Lesson content: ● Learn different types of academic writing (expository, argumentative, compare and contrast, cause-effect, problem-solution). Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review essay organization (textbook pp. 38–65).

Vol.28 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Complete Course Review tasks.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 1 by Chin, Koizumi, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107636224

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 65%
ASSIGNMENT 1 Academic Paragraph (15%)
ASSIGNMENT 2 Expository essay (20%)
ASSIGNMENT 4 Research-based position essay (30%)

Class Participation 15%
Participation and Preparation

Others 20%
ASSIGNMENT 3 Paraphrasing and Summarizing Task (10%)

ASSIGNMENT 5 TOEFL Writing Task (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 20 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet either of these requirements will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, doing the assigned readings, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments, and revising writing assignments.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|01|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W201SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|02|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W202SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|03|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W203SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|04|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W204SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|05|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W205SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|06|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W206SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|07|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W207SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|08|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W208SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|09|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W209SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|10|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W210SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|11|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W211SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|12|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W212SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|13|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W213SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|14|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W214SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction

Lesson content:
- Course explanation.
- Run through the Student's Guide.
- Academic writing: common types.
- Introduction of the essay topic.
- Topic familiarization.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6).
- Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the

model argumentative essay.
- Read Articles1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 2 Fundamentals

Lesson content:
- Organization: the argumentative essay.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources.
- Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources.
- Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Vol. 3 Research and Reading

Lesson content:
- Identifying reliable sources.
- Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective.
- Avoiding plagiarism.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 7—8Writing a thesis statement.
- Read pp. 13—14Writing a topic sentence.
- Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay.
- Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 4 Positions and Plans

Lesson content:
- Understanding a prompt.
- Choosing research-based arguments.
- Developing a thesis statement.
- Developing an outline.
- In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline.

Preparation for the next lesson
- Read pp. 33—40Using outside sources in academic essays.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 5 Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content:
- The saliency of evidence.
- Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals.
- Integrating quotes.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read handout on APA-style.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content:
- APA-style fundamentals.
- Creating a reference list.
- Deriving citations from reference list entries.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 14—17Organizing supporting sentences.
- Read pp. 74—81Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content:
- Review sentence elements.
- WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Vol. 8 Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content:
- Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1.
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.)

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments.
- Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content:
● Attacking an alternative argument.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession +refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph.
● Establish your counterargument controlling idea.
● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 7— 11The Introductory Paragraph.
● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph).
● Read pp.18—21. The concluding paragraph.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.11 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration.
● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph.
● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

Vol.12 The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.
● Submit Assignment 5 in-class.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp: 23—30Improving your work.
● Read pp. 86—88Revising an argumentative essay.
● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol.13 Editing

Lesson content:
● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.)
● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills.● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task: Moodle Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.

・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments, and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

● Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
● The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|51|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W201FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
● 30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

● 30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction

Lesson content: ● Course explanation. ● Run through the Student's Guide. ● Academic writing: common types. ● Introduction of the essay topic. ● Topic familiarization. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6). ● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the model argumentative essay. ● Read Articles 1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Fundamentals

Lesson content: ● Organization: the argumentative essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources. ● Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources. ● Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Research and Reading

Lesson content: ● Identifying reliable sources. ● Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective. ● Avoiding plagiarism. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—8 Writing a thesis statement. ● Read pp. 13—14 Writing a topic sentence. ● Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay. ● Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Positions and Plans

Lesson content: ● Understanding a prompt. ● Choosing research-based arguments. ● Developing a thesis statement. ● Developing an outline. ● In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline. Preparation for the next lesson ● Read pp. 33—40 Using outside sources in academic essays. ● Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content: ● The saliency of evidence. ● Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals. ● Integrating quotes. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read handout on APA-style. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content: ● APA-style fundamentals. ● Creating a reference list. ● Deriving citations from reference list entries. ● In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 14—17 Organizing supporting sentences. ● Read pp. 74—81 Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content: ● Review sentence elements. ● WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph Preparation for the next lesson: ● Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content: ● Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.) Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments. ● Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz. ● Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content: ● Attacking an alternative argument. ● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal. ● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph. ● Establish your counterargument controlling idea. ● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—11 The Introductory Paragraph. ● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph). ● Read pp. 18—21. The concluding paragraph. ● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content: ● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration. ● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph. ● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs. ● Submit Assignment 5 in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp: 23—30 Improving your work. ● Read pp. 86—88 Revising an argumentative essay. ● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Editing

Lesson content: ● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.) ● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Course Review
Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL: Lessonsare taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|52|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W202FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
● 30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

● 30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction

Lesson content: ● Course explanation. ● Run through the Student's Guide. ● Academic writing: common types. ● Introduction of the essay topic. ● Topic familiarization. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6). ● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the model argumentative essay. ● Read Articles 1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Fundamentals

Lesson content: ● Organization: the argumentative essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources. ● Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources. ● Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Research and Reading

Lesson content: ● Identifying reliable sources. ● Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective. ● Avoiding plagiarism. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—8 Writing a thesis statement. ● Read pp. 13—14 Writing a topic sentence. ● Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay. ● Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Positions and Plans

Lesson content: ● Understanding a prompt. ● Choosing research-based arguments. ● Developing a thesis statement. ● Developing an outline. ● In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline. Preparation for the next lesson ● Read pp. 33—40 Using outside sources in academic essays. ● Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content: ● The saliency of evidence. ● Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals. ● Integrating quotes. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read handout on APA-style. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content: ● APA-style fundamentals. ● Creating a reference list. ● Deriving citations from reference list entries. ● In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 14—17 Organizing supporting sentences. ● Read pp. 74—81 Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content: ● Review sentence elements. ● WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph Preparation for the next lesson: ● Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content: ● Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.) Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments. ● Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz. ● Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content: ● Attacking an alternative argument. ● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal. ● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph. ● Establish your counterargument controlling idea. ● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—11 The Introductory Paragraph. ● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph). ● Read pp. 18—21. The concluding paragraph. ● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content: ● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration. ● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph. ● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs. ● Submit Assignment 5 in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp: 23—30 Improving your work. ● Read pp. 86—88 Revising an argumentative essay. ● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Editing

Lesson content: ● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.) ● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Course Review
Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL: Lessonsare taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|53|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W203FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
● 30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

● 30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction

Lesson content: ● Course explanation. ● Run through the Student's Guide. ● Academic writing: common types. ● Introduction of the essay topic. ● Topic familiarization. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6). ● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the model argumentative essay. ● Read Articles 1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Fundamentals

Lesson content: ● Organization: the argumentative essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources. ● Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources. ● Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Research and Reading

Lesson content: ● Identifying reliable sources. ● Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective. ● Avoiding plagiarism. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—8 Writing a thesis statement. ● Read pp. 13—14 Writing a topic sentence. ● Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay. ● Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Positions and Plans

Lesson content: ● Understanding a prompt. ● Choosing research-based arguments. ● Developing a thesis statement. ● Developing an outline. ● In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline. Preparation for the next lesson ● Read pp. 33—40 Using outside sources in academic essays. ● Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content: ● The saliency of evidence. ● Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals. ● Integrating quotes. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read handout on APA-style. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content: ● APA-style fundamentals. ● Creating a reference list. ● Deriving citations from reference list entries. ● In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 14—17 Organizing supporting sentences. ● Read pp. 74—81 Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content: ● Review sentence elements. ● WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph Preparation for the next lesson: ● Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content: ● Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.) Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments. ● Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz. ● Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content: ● Attacking an alternative argument. ● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal. ● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph. ● Establish your counterargument controlling idea. ● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—11 The Introductory Paragraph. ● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph). ● Read pp. 18—21. The concluding paragraph. ● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content: ● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration. ● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph. ● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs. ● Submit Assignment 5 in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp: 23—30 Improving your work. ● Read pp. 86—88 Revising an argumentative essay. ● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Editing

Lesson content: ● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.) ● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Course Review
Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL: Lessonsare taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|54|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W204FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
● 30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

● 30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction

Lesson content: ● Course explanation. ● Run through the Student's Guide. ● Academic writing: common types. ● Introduction of the essay topic. ● Topic familiarization. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6). ● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the model argumentative essay. ● Read Articles 1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Fundamentals

Lesson content: ● Organization: the argumentative essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources. ● Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources. ● Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Research and Reading

Lesson content: ● Identifying reliable sources. ● Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective. ● Avoiding plagiarism. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—8 Writing a thesis statement. ● Read pp. 13—14 Writing a topic sentence. ● Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay. ● Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Positions and Plans

Lesson content: ● Understanding a prompt. ● Choosing research-based arguments. ● Developing a thesis statement. ● Developing an outline. ● In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline. Preparation for the next lesson ● Read pp. 33—40 Using outside sources in academic essays. ● Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content: ● The saliency of evidence. ● Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals. ● Integrating quotes. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read handout on APA-style. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content: ● APA-style fundamentals. ● Creating a reference list. ● Deriving citations from reference list entries. ● In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 14—17 Organizing supporting sentences. ● Read pp. 74—81 Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content: ● Review sentence elements. ● WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph Preparation for the next lesson: ● Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content: ● Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.) Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments. ● Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz. ● Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content: ● Attacking an alternative argument. ● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal. ● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph. ● Establish your counterargument controlling idea. ● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—11 The Introductory Paragraph. ● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph). ● Read pp. 18—21. The concluding paragraph. ● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content: ● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration. ● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph. ● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs. ● Submit Assignment 5 in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp: 23—30 Improving your work. ● Read pp. 86—88 Revising an argumentative essay. ● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Editing

Lesson content: ● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.) ● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Course Review
Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL: Lessonsare taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|55|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W205FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
● 30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

● 30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction

Lesson content: ● Course explanation. ● Run through the Student's Guide. ● Academic writing: common types. ● Introduction of the essay topic. ● Topic familiarization. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6). ● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the model argumentative essay. ● Read Articles 1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Fundamentals

Lesson content: ● Organization: the argumentative essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources. ● Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources. ● Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Research and Reading

Lesson content: ● Identifying reliable sources. ● Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective. ● Avoiding plagiarism. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—8 Writing a thesis statement. ● Read pp. 13—14 Writing a topic sentence. ● Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay. ● Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Positions and Plans

Lesson content: ● Understanding a prompt. ● Choosing research-based arguments. ● Developing a thesis statement. ● Developing an outline. ● In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline. Preparation for the next lesson ● Read pp. 33—40 Using outside sources in academic essays. ● Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content: ● The saliency of evidence. ● Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals. ● Integrating quotes. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read handout on APA-style. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content: ● APA-style fundamentals. ● Creating a reference list. ● Deriving citations from reference list entries. ● In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 14—17 Organizing supporting sentences. ● Read pp. 74—81 Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content: ● Review sentence elements. ● WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph Preparation for the next lesson: ● Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content: ● Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.) Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments. ● Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz. ● Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content: ● Attacking an alternative argument. ● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal. ● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph. ● Establish your counterargument controlling idea. ● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—11 The Introductory Paragraph. ● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph). ● Read pp. 18—21. The concluding paragraph. ● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content: ● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration. ● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph. ● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs. ● Submit Assignment 5 in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp: 23—30 Improving your work. ● Read pp. 86—88 Revising an argumentative essay. ● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Editing

Lesson content: ● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.) ● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Course Review
Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL: Lessonsare taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|56|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W206FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
● 30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

● 30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction

Lesson content: ● Course explanation. ● Run through the Student's Guide. ● Academic writing: common types. ● Introduction of the essay topic. ● Topic familiarization. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6). ● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the model argumentative essay. ● Read Articles 1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Fundamentals

Lesson content: ● Organization: the argumentative essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources. ● Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources. ● Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Research and Reading

Lesson content: ● Identifying reliable sources. ● Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective. ● Avoiding plagiarism. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—8 Writing a thesis statement. ● Read pp. 13—14 Writing a topic sentence. ● Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay. ● Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Positions and Plans

Lesson content: ● Understanding a prompt. ● Choosing research-based arguments. ● Developing a thesis statement. ● Developing an outline. ● In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline. Preparation for the next lesson ● Read pp. 33—40 Using outside sources in academic essays. ● Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content: ● The saliency of evidence. ● Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals. ● Integrating quotes. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read handout on APA-style. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content: ● APA-style fundamentals. ● Creating a reference list. ● Deriving citations from reference list entries. ● In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 14—17 Organizing supporting sentences. ● Read pp. 74—81 Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content: ● Review sentence elements. ● WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph Preparation for the next lesson: ● Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content: ● Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.) Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments. ● Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz. ● Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content: ● Attacking an alternative argument. ● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal. ● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph. ● Establish your counterargument controlling idea. ● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—11 The Introductory Paragraph. ● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph). ● Read pp. 18—21. The concluding paragraph. ● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content: ● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration. ● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph. ● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs. ● Submit Assignment 5 in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp: 23—30 Improving your work. ● Read pp. 86—88 Revising an argumentative essay. ● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Editing

Lesson content: ● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.) ● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Course Review
Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL: Lessonsare taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012600|57|210C012600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 2 W207FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on gaining an in-depth understanding of the form and function of different academic essay genres; in particular, the argumentative essay. Emphasis is placed on writing effective thesis statements, introductions and conclusions, and on developing paragraphs. Students will also learn effective citation, paraphrasing and summarizing skills. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing style, vocabulary and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will gain a deeper understanding of academic essays, and will learn to write an effective argumentative essay that adheres to expected conventions.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will practice skills to use information from outside sources (in-text citations and reference list entries) so that they can support their opinions more effectively in writing.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from their instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
● 30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book before each class

● 30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 45 minutes (submit in Lesson 6)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks (20 hours in total):
Assignment 1 (Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline): 2-3 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style): 3-5 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style): 2-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs): 2-3 hours (submit in Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Editing your Academic Essay): 3—5 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction

Lesson content: ● Course explanation. ● Run through the Student's Guide. ● Academic writing: common types. ● Introduction of the essay topic. ● Topic familiarization. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read Unit 1, Part 1, Section 1 "Essay structure" (pp. 1-6). ● Read Unit 3, Part 1, Section 1 "An argumentative essay" (pp. 55-59) with special attention to the model argumentative essay. ● Read Articles 1 and 2 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Fundamentals

Lesson content: ● Organization: the argumentative essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 32—33 Finding sources, Plagiarism, Using outside sources. ● Read pg. 80 Support from outside sources. ● Read Articles 3 and 4 to get ideas for the Essay Assignment.

Research and Reading

Lesson content: ● Identifying reliable sources. ● Reading and note-taking from sources: being efficient and effective. ● Avoiding plagiarism. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—8 Writing a thesis statement. ● Read pp. 13—14 Writing a topic sentence. ● Read pg. 21, pg. 67 Outlining an essay. ● Read remaining articles to get ideas for the Essay Assignment. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Positions and Plans

Lesson content: ● Understanding a prompt. ● Choosing research-based arguments. ● Developing a thesis statement. ● Developing an outline. ● In-class writing: Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline. Preparation for the next lesson ● Read pp. 33—40 Using outside sources in academic essays. ● Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration I: Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting

Lesson content: ● The saliency of evidence. ● Paraphrasing and summarizing fundamentals. ● Integrating quotes. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read handout on APA-style. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Integration II: References and In-text Citations

Lesson content: ● APA-style fundamentals. ● Creating a reference list. ● Deriving citations from reference list entries. ● In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 14—17 Organizing supporting sentences. ● Read pp. 74—81 Body paragraphs of an argumentative essay. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style I

Lesson content: ● Review sentence elements. ● WALTZ elements (claims → evidence → explanations) for an argumentative-style body paragraph. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-Type Body Paragraph Preparation for the next lesson: ● Continue writing Assignment 3 Part 1 Argument-type body paragraphs.

Body Paragraphs: Argument-style II

Lesson content: ● Peer feedback on Assignment 3 Part 1. ● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Part 2 Argument-Type Body Paragraph (cont.) Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 60—61 Dealing with counterarguments. ● Read pp. 62—63 Presenting a strong rebuttal. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz. ● Submit Assignment 3 Part 1 & Part 2 before the next lesson.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style I

Lesson content: ● Attacking an alternative argument. ● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal. ● WALTZ organization for counterargument-style body paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Review the elements of a counterargument-style body paragraph. ● Establish your counterargument controlling idea. ● Look through researched articles for supporting information options for both the counterargument element and the rebuttal element.

Body Paragraphs: Counterargument-Style II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument-Type Body Paragraph. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp. 7—11 The Introductory Paragraph. ● Read pg. 72 Introducing a counterargument (in an introductory paragraph). ● Read pp. 18—21. The concluding paragraph. ● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs I

Lesson content: ● Introductory paragraph elements: Building sentences; Thesis statement integration. ● Concluding paragraph elements: Restating topic, position, and arguments; Closing with a final thought. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Paragraphs. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Consider possible building sentence ideas for your introductory paragraph. ● Continue writing Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs.

The Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs II

Lesson content: ● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs. ● Submit Assignment 5 in-class. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Read pp: 23—30 Improving your work. ● Read pp. 86—88 Revising an argumentative essay. ● Review instructor feedback on Assignments 3, 4, and 5. ● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Editing

Lesson content: ● Cohesion: signposting phrases; linking clauses (conjunctions, adverbs, etc.); linking elements (determiners, pronouns, etc.) ● Mechanics: punctuation and capitalization fundamentals; page layout. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay. Preparation for the next lesson: ● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Course Review
Lesson content: ● Review of writing skills. ● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 2 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2012)
ISBN: 9781107621091

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Thesis Statement and Tentative Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Body Paragraphs 1 and 2: Argument Style (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Body Paragraph 3: Counterargument Style (15%)
Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding Paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Editing your Academic Essay (final draft) (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Task (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL: Lessonsare taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|01|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W301SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Mon.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|02|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W302SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|03|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W303SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|04|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W304SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|05|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W305SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

● Read provided articles.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
● Understanding prompts for different essay types.
● Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
● Writing a thesis statement.
● Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
● Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
● Read provided articles.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
● Review outline elements.
● Paraphrasing process.
● Synthesizing and merging sources.
● Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read provided articles.
● Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
● Creating APA-style reference list entries.
● Reference list entry variations.
● Deriving citations from entries.
● Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review Integration I material.
● Review Integration II material.
● Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
● Review Integration I and II.
● In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
● The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
● Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
● Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
● The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
● Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
● Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
● Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
● Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
● Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|06|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W306SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|07|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W307SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|08|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W308SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|09|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W309SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|10|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W310SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|11|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W311SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|12|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W312SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|13|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W313SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|14|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W314SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|15|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W315SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|16|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W316SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|17|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W317SP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|18|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W30XSP
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	spring semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

●Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
●Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
●Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
●Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
●30-60 minutes preparation
➢Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
➢Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

●30-60 minutes review

Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (including the time used in class):
●Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 5)
●Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

●Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 5-6Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp. 7-9Taking a Position.
- Read pp. 17-20Writing a Thesis Statement.

- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing a research-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 77—88Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next lesson.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp.102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next lesson.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
● Defending an argument or position.
● Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
● WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10　Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
● Open submissions for Assignment 4.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
● Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 4 before the next lesson.

Vol.11　The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
● Introductory paragraph elements.
● Concluding paragraph elements.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
● Open submission for Assignment 5.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
● Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
● Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
● Submit Assignment 5 before the next lesson.

Vol.12　Editing

Lesson content:
● Editing for academic tone and style.
● Editing for language accuracy.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13　Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
● In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.
Preparation for the next lesson:
● Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
● Submit Assignment 6 before the next lesson.

Vol.14　Course Review

Lesson content:
● Review selected parts of the course.
● In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Task.
● Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|51|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W301FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Mon.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|52|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W302FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|53|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W303FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|54|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W304FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|55|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W305FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|56|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W306FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|57|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W307FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2 Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3 Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4 Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5 Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6 Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7 Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8 I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9 Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|58|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W308FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|59|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W309FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|60|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W310FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|61|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W311FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|62|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W312FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|63|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W313FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|64|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W314FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|65|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W315FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|66|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W316FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|67|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W317FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|68|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W318FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|69|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W319FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C012700|70|210C012700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Academic Writing, Level 3 W320FA
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	English III	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course students will focus on developing advanced essay-writing skills from understanding essay prompts to making better decisions about sentence construction. Emphasis is placed on taking a position in an argumentative essay, researching, evaluating sources, developing cohesive body paragraphs, logically developing ideas throughout the essay, and writing effective introductions and conclusions. Students will also learn essential skills in citation, paraphrasing and summarizing, and how to integrate sources into their writing. The ability to write with increasingly greater grammatical complexity and with subtle changes in emphasis and nuance, and closely edit for form and content is also a focus of this course. Students will read academic articles to be further exposed to writing styles, vocabulary, and background knowledge.

*Students will be assigned to a class based on their answers to a questionnaire on writing experience together with the results of the English placement test which is taken before the start of their first semester at SILS.

Objectives:

・Students will understand advanced academic essay requirements, and will learn to take an appropriate position, and argue and support it in an argumentative essay.
・Students will practice skills for using information from outside sources (source evaluation, in-text citation and reference lists) so that they can support their arguments more clearly and logically in writing.
・Students will acquire grammar and expressions which are more sophisticated and appropriate for academic essays.
・Students will improve skills to edit their own writing through feedback from the instructor and peers.

before/after course of study:

As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read sections from the Student's Book & supplementary handouts, and watch on-demand lectures (ODLs) then complete ODL quizzes.

Estimated time for student preparation and review:
・30-60 minutes preparation
Approximately 30 minutes for each ODL (with 7 ODLs in the semester)
Approximately 30 minutes reading of the Student's Book

・30-60 minutes review
Estimated time for completion of assessed assignments (Including the time used in class):
・Assignment 2 (Source Integration Task): 1 hours (submit in Lesson 5)
・Assignment 7 (Consolidation Task): 1 hour (submit in Lesson 14)

・Essay Assignment Tasks: 16 hours in total:
Assignment 1 (Essay Thesis and Outline Task): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 5)
Assignment 3 (Essay Argument-style Body Paragraphs 1 and 2 Tasks): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 9)
Assignment 4 (Essay Counterargument Body Paragraph Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 11)
Assignment 5 (Essay Introductory and Concluding Paragraph Tasks): 1-2 hours (submit before Lesson 12)
Assignment 6 (Essay Final Draft Task): 3-4 hours (submit before Lesson 14)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction

Lesson content:
- Explanation of the course
- Features of academic writing
- Types of academic essays
- Understanding the essay topic

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.5-6 Understanding the Essay Prompt.
- Read pp.7-9 Taking a Position.
- Read pp.17-20 Writing a Thesis Statement.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 1. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 2　Prompts, Positions, and Outlines

Lesson content:
- Understanding prompts for different essay types.
- Choosing are search-based position and integrating it into a thesis statement.
- Writing a thesis statement.
- Making an outline.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp.77—88 Paraphrasing, Summarizing, and Quoting.
- Read pp.94—100 Reporting Verbs.
- Read provided articles.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 2. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 3　Integration I: Paraphrasing and Synthesizing

Lesson content:
- Review outline elements.
- Paraphrasing process.
- Synthesizing and merging sources.
- Using reporting verbs.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read provided articles.
- Read Referencing and Citing Variations in the Student's Guide.

Vol. 4　Integration II: Referencing and Citing

Lesson content:
- Creating APA-style reference list entries.
- Reference list entry variations.
- Deriving citations from entries.
- Narrative v. parenthetical citation: format and purpose.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Integration I material.
- Review Integration II material.
- Submit Assignment 1 before the next class.

Vol. 5　Source Integration Practice

Lesson content:
- Review Integration I and II.
- In-class writing: Assignment 2 Source Integration Task. Submit in class.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 41—59 Body Paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 3. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 6　Body Paragraph Organization I: Argument Type.

Lesson content:
- The topic sentence for an argument-style body paragraph.
- Coherence: WALTZ claim → evidence → explanation.
- Signposting phrases for the argument-style body paragraph elements.
- The concluding sentence.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review Lesson 6 Body Paragraph Organization I.
- Organize evidence to use for Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Vol. 7　Body Paragraphs Argument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class writing: Assignment 3 Writing Body Paragraphs 1 and 2.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 60—68 Logical Fallacies.
- Read pp. 102—107 Hedging and Intensifying.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 4. Complete the Moodle quiz.

Vol. 8　I. Logical Fallacies II. Hedging and Intensifying

Lesson content:
- Identifying logical fallacies and repairing them.
- Appropriate use of hedging and intensifying language.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Watch On-demand Lecture 5. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 3 before the next class.

Vol. 9　Body Paragraph Organization II: Counterargument Type

Lesson content:
- Defending an argument or position.
- Elements: counterclaim → concession + refutation → rebuttal.
- WALTZ organization for a counterargument body paragraph.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read Counterargument Organization in the Student's Guide.

Vol.10 Body Paragraphs Counterargument Type: In-class Writing

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 4 Counterargument Body Paragraph.
- Open submissions for Assignment 4.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 32—40 Introductory Paragraphs.
- Read pp. 69—72 Concluding paragraphs.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 6. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 4 before the next class.

Vol.11 The Introductory & Concluding Paragraphs

Lesson content:
- Introductory paragraph elements.
- Concluding paragraph elements.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 5 Introductory and Concluding paragraphs.
- Open submission for Assignment 5.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Read pp. 108—121 Academic sentence styles.
- Read pp. 122—129 Editing.
- Watch On-demand Lecture 7. Complete the Moodle quiz.
- Submit Assignment 5 before the next class.

Vol.12 Editing

Lesson content:
- Editing for academic tone and style.
- Editing for language accuracy.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Review instructor assigned homework.

Vol.13 Editing your Academic Essay

Lesson content:
- In-class Writing: Assignment 6 Final Draft.

Preparation for the next lesson:
- Continue revising and compiling your essay and references list.
- Submit Assignment 6 before the next class.

Vol.14 Course Review

Lesson content:
- Review selected parts of the course.
- In-class Writing: Assignment 7 Moodle Consolidation Quiz.
- Submit Assignment 7 in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Academic Writing Skills Student's Book 3 by Chin, Reid, Wray, Yamazaki (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013)ISBN: 9781107611931

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Exam 0%

Papers 60%
Assignment 1 Essay Thesis and Outline (10%)
Assignment 3 Essay Argument-type Body Paragraphs (15%)
Assignment 4 Essay Counterargument-type Body paragraph (15%)
Assignment 5 Essay Introductory and Concluding paragraphs (10%)
Assignment 6 Essay Final Draft (10%)

Class Participation 20%
Preparation: ODL Quizzes (10%)
Participation (10%)

Others 20%
Assignment 2 Source Integration Task (10%)
Assignment 7 Consolidation Quiz (10%)

・Participation and Preparation: Students must attend a minimum of 10 lessons in order to pass the course. Failure to meet this requirement will result in automatic failure of the course.
・Regular attendance and active course participation are important. This includes class preparation, class discussions, writing, self- and peer-editing, and revising writing assignments.
・The preparation score of 10% comprises the highest six of seven scores in the ODL quizzes.
・The essay is written and assessed incrementally. Therefore, students are expected to submit all the assignments and it is not possible to receive a full score if a student submits just the final essay.

Note/URL:

・Lessons are taught by assigned instructors under the guidance of the academic coordinators.
・The operation of this course is entrusted to Waseda University Academic Solutions Corporation by School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013100|01|210C013100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French I 01
Instructor	GIUNTA, Lena@BERTHET, Didier
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Mon.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is a one-semester twice-a-week course for beginners. The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 1, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire) and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches. Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of "know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class.
Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible.
The teachers may teach in French, English or Japanese, depending on the needs of the students.The textbook content covered in class is the same as the one in Intensive French classes, but with less time to learn and practice in class. Students interested in studying-abroad in a French-speaking country are encouraged to enroll in Intensive French classes or to enroll in other classes offered in the SILS French program in the same semester.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should have learned enough vocabulary to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple French expressions (Target: Level A1 in the CFRL)

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4: L6-L7
W5:L8-L9-L10
W6: L11-L12-L13
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L14-L15-L16
W9:L17-L18-L19
W10:L20-L21-L22
W11:L23-L24-L25
W12:L26-L27-L28
W13:L29-L30-L31
W14: FinalExamination
*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/English/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 1. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève).

Details:
EAN : 9782015135755
Inspire 1 : Livre de l'élève + audio/vidéo + Parcours digital (A1)
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1

References: None.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL : https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013100|02|210C013100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French I 02
Instructor	HATTORI, Catherine
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Mon.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is a one-semester twice-a-week course for beginners. The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 1, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire) and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches. Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of "know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class.
Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible.
The teachers may teach in French, English or Japanese, depending on the needs of the students.The textbook content covered in class is the same as the one in Intensive French classes, but with less time to learn and practice in class. Students interested in studying-abroad in a French-speaking country are encouraged to enroll in Intensive French classes or to enroll in other classes offered in the SILS French program in the same semester.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should have learned enough vocabulary to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple French expressions (Target: Level A1 in the CFRL)

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4: L6-L7
W5:L8-L9-L10
W6: L11-L12-L13
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L14-L15-L16
W9:L17-L18-L19
W10:L20-L21-L22
W11:L23-L24-L25
W12:L26-L27-L28
W13:L29-L30-L31
W14: FinalExamination
*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/Englis h/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 1. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève).

Details:
EAN : 9782015135755
Inspire 1 : Livre de l'élève + audio/vidéo + Parcours digital (A1)
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1

References: None.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL : https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013100|51|210C013100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French I 51
Instructor	BERTHET, Didier@GIUNTA, Lena
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.5@02:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is a one-semester twice-a-week course for beginners. The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 1, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire) and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches. Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of "know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class.
Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible.
The teachers may teach in French, English or Japanese, depending on the needs of the students.The textbook content covered in class is the same as the one in Intensive French classes, but with less time to learn and practice in class. Students interested in studying-abroad in a French-speaking country are encouraged to enroll in Intensive French classes or to enroll in other classes offered in the SILS French program in the same semester.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should have learned enough vocabulary to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple French expressions (Target: Level A1 in the CFRL)

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4: L6-L7
W5:L8-L9-L10
W6: L11-L12-L13
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L14-L15-L16
W9:L17-L18-L19
W10:L20-L21-L22
W11:L23-L24-L25
W12:L26-L27-L28
W13:L29-L30-L31
W14: FinalExamination
*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/Englis h/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 1. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève).

Details:
EAN : 9782015135755
Inspire 1 : Livre de l'élève + audio/vidéo + Parcours digital (A1)
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1

References: None.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL : https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013200|01|210C013200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	German I 01
Instructor	RUDE, Markus@MUELENZ-GOLI, Katharina
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Tues.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Mark Twain once wrote: "Never knew before what eternity was made for. It is to give some of us a chance to learn German." Yet, this course provides the basics of German grammar needed to understand basic sentence structures and to practice elementary communicative skills in only 60 hours. Our textbook will be "Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband. Das Deutschbuch" [from lesson 1 to 6], a textbook compiled in Germany for the acquisition of communicative skills in all basic language areas.
The course combines the benefits of face-to-face classes with a digital learning environment with elements of gamification which enables students to learn and practice at anytime at anyplace. Instead of a single final exam, student's progress is continuously evaluated in a fair and stress-free manner. Teachers in the German program are continuously monitoring students' performance, provide regular feedback and actively support students with regard to competences development.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Course Delivery Method: F2F

Objectives: By the end of the semester, all students will have learned the essential aspects of the grammar and several hundred vocabulary items.

before/after course of study: Requirements:
Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.
Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Start auf Deutsch
[Week 2] Unit 1
[Week 3] Unit 1
Vocabulary Test Unit 1
[Week 4] Unit 2
[Week 5] Unit 2
Vocabulary Test Unit 2
[Week 6] Unit 3
[Week 7] Unit 3
Vocabulary Test Unit3
[Week 8] Station 1
[Week 9] Unit 4
[Week10] Unit 4
Vocabulary Test Unit 4
[Week11] Unit 5
[Week12] Unit 5
Vocabulary Test Unit 5
[Week13] Unit 6
[Week14] Unit 6, Station 2
Vocabulary Test Unit 6

Language: English/German

Textbooks:	Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband, Das Deutschbuch.
References:	Additional material will be provided through Waseda Moodle and a learning platform.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams (written or oral). If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 15% Vocabulary tests – 15% Final exam – 20% Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 25% Vocabulary tests – 25%
Note/URL:	https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/ 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013200|02|210C013200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	German I 02
Instructor	NICKEL, Frank@WEICHERT, Robin Frank
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Mark Twain once wrote: "Never knew before what eternity was made for. It is to give some of us a chance to learn German." Yet, this course provides the basics of German grammar needed to understand basic sentence structures and to practice elementary communicative skills in only 60 hours.

The course combines the benefits of face-to-face classes with a digital learning environment with elements of gamification which enables students to learn and practice at anytime at anyplace. Instead of a single final exam, student's progress is continuously evaluated in a fair and stress-free manner. Teachers in the German program are continuously monitoring students' performance, provide regular feedback and actively support students with regard to competences development.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Objectives: By the end of the semester, all students will have learned the essential aspects of the grammar and several hundred vocabulary items.

before/after course of study: Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.
Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Start auf Deutsch
[Week 2] Unit 1
[Week 3] Unit 1
Vocabulary Test 1
[Week 4] Unit 2
[Week 5] Unit 2
Vocabulary Test 2
[Week 6] Unit 3
[Week 7] Unit 3
Vocabulary Test 3
[Week 8] Station 1
[Week 9] Unit 4
[Week 10] Unit 4
Vocabulary Test 4
[Week 11] Unit 5
[Week 12] Unit 5
Vocabulary Test 5
[Week 13] Unit 6
[Week 14] Unit 6, Station 2
Vocabulary Test 6

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband, Das Deutschbuch.
Additional material will be provided through Waseda Moodle and a learning platform.

References: 中島・平尾・朝倉著:「改訂版　必携　ドイツ文法総まとめ」(白水社)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams (written or oral). If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 15% Vocabulary tests – 15% Final exam – 20% Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 25% Vocabulary tests – 25%
Note/URL:	More information on the German program at: https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/ 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013200|51|210C013200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	German I 51
Instructor	RUDE, Markus@MUELENZ-GOLI, Katharina
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Tues.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Mark Twain once wrote: "Never knew before what eternity was made for. It is to give some of us a chance to learn German."
Yet, this course provides the basics of German grammar needed to understand basic sentence structures and to practice elementary communicative skills in only 60 hours!

The course combines the benefits of face-to-face classes with a digital learning environment with elements of gamification which enables students to learn and practice at anytime at anyplace. Instead of a single final exam, student's progress is continuously evaluated in a fair and stress-free manner. Teachers in the German program are continuously monitoring students' performance, provide regular feedback and actively support students with regard to competences development.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Objectives: By the end of the semester, all students will have learned the essential aspects of the grammar, several hundred vocabulary items, as well as basic dialogue patterns.

before/after course of study: Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.

Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Start auf Deutsch
[Week 2] Unit 1
[Week 3] Unit 1, Vocabulary Test Unit 1
[Week 4] Unit 2
[Week 5] Unit 2, Vocabulary Test Unit 2
[Week 6] Unit 3
[Week 7] Unit 3, Vocabulary Test Unit 3
[Week 8] Station 1
[Week 9] Unit 4
[Week10] Unit 4, Vocabulary Test Unit 4
[Week11] Unit 5
[Week12] Unit 5, Vocabulary Test Unit 5
[Week13] Unit 6
[Week14] Unit 6, Station 2, Vocabulary Test Unit 6

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband, Das Kursbuch
Additional materials will be provided through Waseda Moodle and a learning platform.

References: 中島・平尾・朝倉著:「改訂版　必携　ドイツ文法総まとめ」(白水社)
Sabine Dinsel, Lukas Mayrhofer (2017): Deutsch Übungsbuch Grammatik A1-A2. Hueber Verlag.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams

(written or oral).

If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows:
Active participation and homework – 50%
Additional assignments – 15%
Vocabulary tests – 10%
Grammar Workbook – 10%
Final exam – 15%

Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows:
Active participation and homework – 50%
Additional assignments – 25%
Vocabulary tests – 12.5%
Grammar Workbook – 12.5%

Note/URL: Information on the German program: https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013200|52|210C013200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	German I 52
Instructor	NICKEL, Frank@WEICHERT, Robin Frank
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Mark Twain once wrote: "Never knew before what eternity was made for. It is to give some of us a chance to learn German."
Yet, this course provides the basics of German grammar needed to understand basic sentence structures and to practice elementary communicative skills in only 60 hours!

The course combines the benefits of face-to-face classes with a digital learning environment with elements of gamification which enables students to learn and practice at anytime at anyplace. Instead of a single final exam, student's progress is continuously evaluated in a fair and stress-free manner. Teachers in the German program are continuously monitoring students' performance, provide regular feedback and actively support students with regard to competences development.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Objectives: By the end of the semester, all students will have learned the essential aspects of the grammar, several hundred vocabulary items and basic communication skills.

before/after course of study: Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.

Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.

Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Start auf Deutsch
[Week 2] Unit 1
[Week 3] Unit 1, Vocabulary Test Unit 1
[Week 4] Unit 2
[Week 5] Unit 2, Vocabulary Test Unit 2
[Week 6] Unit 3
[Week 7] Unit 3, Vocabulary Test Unit 3
[Week 8] Station 1
[Week 9] Unit 4
[Week10] Unit 4, Vocabulary Test Unit 4
[Week11] Unit 5
[Week12] Unit 5, Vocabulary Test Unit 5
[Week13] Unit 6
[Week14] Unit 6, Station 2, Vocabulary Test Unit 6

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband, Das Kursbuch
Additional copied materials will be provided when required.

References: 中島・平尾・朝倉著:「改訂版　必携　ドイツ文法総まとめ」(白水社)
Sabine Dinsel, Lukas Mayrhofer (2017): Deutsch Übungsbuch Grammatik A1-A2. Hueber Verlag.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams (written or oral). If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 15% Vocabulary tests – 10% Grammar Workbook – 10% Final exam – 15% Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 25% Vocabulary tests – 12.5% Grammar Workbook – 12.5%
Note/URL:	Information on the German program: https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/ 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|01|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish I 01
Instructor	MONTERO PEREDA, Francisco Javier
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in English and Spanish (NOT in Japanese).
This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose this course or Spanish I , section 2, 4, or 6.

Objectives: Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish I is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés,de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en laUniversidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, Envacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments andfeedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language: English/Spanish

Textbooks: iMuy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References: Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子
Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80	One mid-term examination 30% One final examination 50%
Others:	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|02|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish I 02
Instructor	MOYANO LOPEZ, Juan Carlos@FOWLER, Arthur
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in English and Spanish (NOT in Japanese).

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose this course or Spanish I , section 1, 4 or 6.

Objectives:

Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish I is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:

It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés,de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en laUniversidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, Envacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments andfeedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:

English/Spanish

Textbooks:

iMuy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:

Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子

Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 80 One mid-term examination 30%
One final examination 50%

Others: 20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|03|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Ⅰ 03
Instructor	NAKAMICHI, Shinji@SHINTANI, Roxana
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face (F2F)

This course will be taught in Japanese (on Mondays), English (on Fridays), and Spanish.

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired the Japanese language at a university level should choose Spanish Ⅰ, section 1, 2, 4 or 6.

Objectives:

Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:

It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés,de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en laUniversidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, Envacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments andfeedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:

Japanese/Spanish

Textbooks:

iMuy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:

Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子

Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 80 One mid-term examination 30%
One final examination 50%

Others: 20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|04|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Ⅰ 04
Instructor	FOWLER, Arthur
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Thur.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in English and Spanish.

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired the Japanese language at a university level should choose this section or 1, 2 or 6.

Objectives: Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés,de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en laUniversidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, Envacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments andfeedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language: English/Spanish

Textbooks: ¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References: Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子
Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80	One mid-term examination 30% One final examination 50%
Others:	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|05|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Ⅰ 05
Instructor	KAWASAKI, Kayo@SOTO MEJIA, Maria Irina
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Japanese (Mondays), English (Fridays), and Spanish (both Mondays and Fridays).

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired the Japanese language at a university level should choose Spanish Ⅰ, section 1, 2, 4 or 6.

Objectives:

Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:

It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés,de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en laUniversidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, Envacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments andfeedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:

Japanese/Spanish

Textbooks:

iMuy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:

Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子

Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 80 One mid-term examination 30%
One final examination 50%

Others: 20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|06|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Ⅰ 06
Instructor	FOWLER, Arthur@SOTO MEJIA, Maria Irina
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Spanish and English (Not in Japanese).

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar,vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose this course or Spanish Ⅰ , section 1, 2, or 4.

Objectives:

Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:

It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés,de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en laUniversidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, Envacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments andfeedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:

English/Spanish

Textbooks:

¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:

Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子
Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80	One mid-term examination 30% One final examination 50%
Others:	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|52|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Ⅰ 52
Instructor	MOYANO LOPEZ, Juan Carlos@FOWLER, Arthur
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in English and Spanish (NOT in Japanese).

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose this course or Spanish 1 section 54 or 56

Objectives: Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés, de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en la Universidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, En vacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language: English/Spanish

Textbooks: iMuy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References: Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)

西村君代、菊田和佳子
Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams: 80 Mid-term examination 30%
Final examination 50%

Others: 20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|53|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Ⅰ 53
Instructor	NAKAMICHI, Shinji@SHINTANI, Roxana
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:
【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in Spanish, Japanese (Mondays), English (Fridays), and Spanish (Mondays and Fridays).

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose Spanish Ⅰ , section 52, 54 or 56.

Objectives:
Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:
It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:
1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés, de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en la Universidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, En vacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:
Japanese/Spanish

Textbooks:
¡¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:
Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)

	西村君代、菊田和佳子 Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80 Mid-term examination 30% Final examination 50%
Others:	20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.
Note/URL:	Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary. In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|54|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Ⅰ 54
Instructor	FOWLER, Arthur@SOTO MEJIA, Maria Irina
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Spanish and English (Not in Japanese).

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose this section or Spanish Ⅰ, section 52 or 56.

Objectives: Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés, de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en la Universidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, En vacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language: English/Spanish

Textbooks: iMuy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References: Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)

西村君代、菊田和佳子
Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams: 80 Mid-term examination 30%
Final examination 50%

Others: 20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|55|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Ⅰ 55
Instructor	KAWASAKI, Kayo@SOTO MEJIA, Maria Irina
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Japanese (Mondays), English (Fridays), and Spanish (Mondays and Fridays).

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose Spanish Ⅰ , section 52, 54, or 56.

Objectives:

Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:

It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés, de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en la Universidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, En vacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:

Japanese/Spanish

Textbooks:

iMuy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:

Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)

	西村君代、菊田和佳子 Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80 Mid-term examination 30% Final examination 50%
Others:	20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.
Note/URL:	Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary. In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013300|56|210C013300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Ⅰ 56
Instructor	MONTERO PEREDA, Francisco Javier
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:
【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in Spanish and English (Not in Japanese).

This is the first stage in Spanish language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose this course or Spanish Ⅰ, section 52 or 54.

Objectives:
Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:
It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:
1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule
This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés, de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 4 Estudio en la Universidad de Salamanca
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 4
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6, En vacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class 27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:
English/Spanish

Textbooks:
¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:
Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子

Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 80 Mid-term examination 30%
Final examination 50%

Others: 20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013400|01|210C013400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese I 01
Instructor	NAGAI, Tetsuro@IGUCHI, Hirofumi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Chinese I is for beginners. This is the first stage in Chinese language learning. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Chinese.This course is designed to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Chinese, while increasing their awarenessof the Chinese speaking world.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should be able to master pronunciation, basic grammar and acquire enough vocabularies to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple Chinese expressions.
Equal emphasis is placed on the four(listening, speaking, writing and reading) skills. Close attention will be paid to pronunciation throughout the semester.

before/after course of study: Before class: revise the material and topics covered in the preceding class (30 min).
After class: do the assigned homework when it is necessary and study again the material and topics covered in the class (30 min to 1hour).

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction and lesson 1
[Week 2] lesson 2-3
[Week 3] lesson 4-5
[Week 4] review 1
lesson 6
[Week 5] lesson 7-8
Vocabulary Test
[Week 6] lesson 9-10
[Week 7] review 2
lesson11
[Week 8] mid-term
lesson 12
[Week 9] lesson 13-14
[Week 10] lesson 15
review 3
[Week 11] lesson 16-17
Vocabulary Test
[Week 12] lesson 18-19
[Week 13] lesson 20 review4
[Week 14] Final Exam
*This scheduleis subject to change

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 上冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in class contains Japanese-language instructions. To support students from different linguistic backgrounds, an English-instruction version of the textbook is available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.

Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013400|02|210C013400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese I 02
Instructor	CHEN, Tien Shi@WANG, Yijen
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Chinese I is for beginners. This is the first stage in Chinese language earning. Studentswill acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasksfocused on developing the ability to communicate in Chinese. This course isdesigned to enable students to develop skills in understanding, speaking,reading and writing basic Chinese, while increasing their awareness of the Chinese speaking world.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should be able to master pronunciation, basic grammar and acquire enough vocabularies to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple Chinese expressions.
Equal emphasis is placed on the four (listening, speaking, writing and reading) skills. Close attention will be paid to pronunciation throughout the semester before/after course of study: Before class: revise the material and topics covered in the preceding class (30 min).

After class: do the assigned homework when it is necessary and study again the material and topics covered in the class (30 min to 1hour).

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

[Week 1] Introduction and Lesson 1

[Week 2] Lessons 2-3

[Week 3] Lessons 4-5

[Week 4] Review 1; Lesson 6

[Week 5] Lessons 7-8; Vocabulary Test

[Week 6] Lessons 9-10

[Week 7] Review 2; Lesson 11

[Week 8] Mid-term Examination; Lesson 12

[Week 9] Lessons 13-14

[Week 10] Lesson 15; Review 3

[Week 11] Lessons 16-17; Vocabulary Test

[Week 12] Lessons 18-19

[Week 13] Lesson 20; Review 4

[Week 14] Final Examination

* This schedule is subject to change.

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 上冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in class contains Japanese-language instructions. To support students from different linguistic backgrounds, an English-instruction version of the textbook is available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013400|03|210C013400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese I 03 (Direct Method)
Instructor	WU, Yingru@WANG, Yijen
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Direct Method

Course Outline: Chinese I is an introductory course for beginners and represents the first stage of Chinese language learning. The course adopts a Direct Method approach, with instruction conducted primarily in Chinese. Limited use of English and Japanese may be employed when necessary to support comprehension.

Through classroom activities, students will acquire fundamental knowledge of Chinese grammar, vocabulary, and everyday expressions, with an emphasis on developing basic communicative ability. The course aims to build foundational skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing, while also fostering an initial awareness of the Chinese-speaking world and its cultural contexts.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should be able to master pronunciation, basic grammar and acquire enough vocabularies to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple Chinese expressions.
Equal emphasis is placed on the four (listening, speaking, writing and reading) skills. Close attention will be paid to pronunciation throughout the semester before/after course of study: Before class: revise the material and topics covered in the preceding class (30 min).

After class: do the assigned homework when it is necessary and study again the material and topics covered in the class (30 min to 1hour).

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

[Week 1] Introduction and Lesson 1

[Week 2] Lessons 2-3

[Week 3] Lessons 4-5

[Week 4] Review 1; Lesson 6

[Week 5] Lessons 7-8; Vocabulary Test

[Week 6] Lessons 9-10

[Week 7] Review 2; Lesson 11

[Week 8] Mid-term Examination; Lesson 12

[Week 9] Lessons 13-14

[Week 10] Lesson 15; Review 3

[Week 11] Lessons 16-17; Vocabulary Test

[Week 12] Lessons 18-19

[Week 13] Lesson 20; Review 4

[Week 14] Final Examination

* This schedule is subject to change depending on class progress.

Language: Chinese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 上冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in class contains Japanese-language instructions. To support students from different linguistic backgrounds, an English-instruction version of the textbook is available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher) 25%: Mid-term evaluation 25%: Final evaluation
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013400|52|210C013400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese I 52
Instructor	CHEN, Tien Shi@WANG, Yijen
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2@02:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Chinese I is an introductory Chinese language course for beginners. As the first stage of Chinese language study, the course provides students with a foundation in basic grammar, vocabulary, and common expressions through task-based communicative activities. Students will develop the four language skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing, enabling them to communicate in simple everyday situations. The course also aims to enhance students' understanding of Chinese-speaking societies and cultures.

Objectives: By the end of the semester, students will be able to master basic pronunciation and grammar and acquire sufficient vocabulary to communicate in everyday situations using simple Chinese expressions. Equal emphasis is placed on the four language skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Particular attention will be given to accurate pronunciation throughout the semester.

before/after course of study: Before class: Students are expected to review the materials and topics covered in the previous class (approximately 30 minutes).

After class: Students should complete assigned homework, when applicable, and review the materials and topics covered in class (approximately 30 minutes to 1 hour).

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Week 1: Introduction and Lesson 1
Week 2: Lessons 2-3
Week 3: Lessons 4-5
Week 4: Review 1 and Lesson 6
Week 5: Lessons 7-8; Vocabulary Test
Week 6: Lessons 9-10
Week 7: Review 2 and Lesson 11
Week 8: Midterm Examination and Lesson 12
Week 9: Lessons 13-14
Week 10: Lesson 15 and Review 3
Week 11: Lessons 16-17; Vocabulary Test
Week 12: Lessons 18-19
Week 13: Lesson 20 and Review 4
Week 14: Final Examination
*This schedule is subject to change.

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 上冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in this course contains instructions in Japanese. To support students from diverse linguistic backgrounds, an English-language version of the textbook instructions is also available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-
50%: Active class participation (including the completion of required classroom activities and other requirements specified by the instructor)
25%: Midterm examination
25%: Final examination

Note/URL: Eligibility for Enrollment
1. Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a particular course is appropriate for their level of Chinese proficiency may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment.

2. Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency.

Notes for Enrollment
1. Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines at the following link:
https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMI1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=drive_link

2. If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi CHEN, at lara@waseda.jp

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013400|53|210C013400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese I 53
Instructor	WU, Yingru@OH, Zuirai
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Thur.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Chinese I is an introductory Chinese language course for beginners. As the first stage of Chinese language study, the course provides students with a foundation in basic grammar, vocabulary, and common expressions through task-based communicative activities. Students will develop the four language skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing, enabling them to communicate in simple everyday situations. The course also aims to enhance students' understanding of Chinese-speaking societies and cultures.

Objectives: By the end of the semester, students will be able to master basic pronunciation and grammar and acquire sufficient vocabulary to communicate in everyday situations using simple Chinese expressions. Equal emphasis is placed on the four language skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Particular attention will be given to accurate pronunciation throughout the semester.

before/after course of study: Before class: Students are expected to review the materials and topics covered in the previous class (approximately 30 minutes).

After class: Students should complete assigned homework, when applicable, and review the materials and topics covered in class (approximately 30 minutes to 1 hour).

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Week 1: Introduction and Lesson 1
Week 2: Lessons 2-3
Week 3: Lessons 4-5
Week 4: Review 1 and Lesson 6
Week 5: Lessons 7-8; Vocabulary Test
Week 6: Lessons 9-10
Week 7: Review 2 and Lesson 11
Week 8: Midterm Examination and Lesson 12
Week 9: Lessons 13-14
Week 10: Lesson 15 and Review 3
Week 11: Lessons 16-17; Vocabulary Test
Week 12: Lessons 18-19
Week 13: Lesson 20 and Review 4
Week 14: Final Examination
*This schedule is subject to change.

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 上冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in this course contains instructions in Japanese. To support students from diverse linguistic backgrounds, an English-language version of the textbook instructions is also available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-
50%: Active class participation (including the completion of required classroom activities and other requirements specified by the instructor)
25%: Midterm examination
25%: Final examination

Note/URL: Eligibility for Enrollment
1. Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a particular course is appropriate for their level of Chinese proficiency may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment.

2. Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency.

Notes for Enrollment
1. Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines at the following link:
https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMI1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=drive_link

2. If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi CHEN, at lara@waseda.jp

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013400|54|210C013400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese I 54 (Direct Method)
Instructor	ARISAWA, Uenyu@WANG, Yijen
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Direct Method

Course Outline: Chinese I is an introductory course for beginners and represents the first stage of Chinese language learning. The course adopts a Direct Method approach, with instruction conducted primarily in Chinese. Limited use of English and Japanese may be employed when necessary to support comprehension.

Through classroom activities, students will acquire fundamental knowledge of Chinese grammar, vocabulary, and everyday expressions, with an emphasis on developing basic communicative ability. The course aims to build foundational skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing, while also fostering an initial awareness of the Chinese-speaking societies and cultures.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should be able to master pronunciation, basic grammar and acquire enough vocabularies to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple Chinese expressions.
Equal emphasis is placed on the four (listening, speaking, writing and reading) skills. Close attention will be paid to pronunciation throughout the semester before/after course of study: Before class: revise the material and topics covered in the preceding class (30 min).

After class: do the assigned homework when it is necessary and study again the material and topics covered in the class (30 min to 1hour).

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

[Week 1] Introduction and Lesson 1

[Week 2] Lessons 2-3

[Week 3] Lessons 4-5

[Week 4] Review 1; Lesson 6

[Week 5] Lessons 7-8; Vocabulary Test

[Week 6] Lessons 9-10

[Week 7] Review 2; Lesson 11

[Week 8] Mid-term Examination; Lesson 12

[Week 9] Lessons 13-14

[Week 10] Lesson 15; Review 3

[Week 11] Lessons 16-17; Vocabulary Test

[Week 12] Lessons 18-19

[Week 13] Lesson 20; Review 4

[Week 14] Final Examination

* This schedule is subject to change depending on class progress.

Language: Chinese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 上冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in class contains Japanese-language instructions. To support students from different linguistic backgrounds, an English-instruction version of the textbook is available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher) 25%: Mid-term evaluation 25%: Final evaluation
Note/URL:	Eligibility for Enrollment 1. Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a particular course is appropriate for their level of Chinese proficiency may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment. 2. Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency. Notes for Enrollment 1. Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines at the following link: https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMl1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=drive_link 2. If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi CHEN, at lara@waseda.jp. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013500|01|210C013500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Russian Ⅰ 01
Instructor	SHADRINA, Elena
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.1@02:Thur.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Русский язык

Course Outline: This course instils thefundamental knowledge of Russian as a foreign language. The purpose of thiscourse is to help students acquire the basics of Russian grammar necessary for thecomprehension of sentence structures and develop conversational skills in arange of predictable everyday situations.

Objectives:

Course Objectives
By the end of the semester, students will:
・Acquire essential elements of Russian grammar at beginner level.
・Build a working vocabulary of approximately 900–1,000 lexical items.
・Master around 30 units of speech etiquette for everyday social interaction.
・Develop the ability to establish and maintain social contacts in standard everyday situations, such as making acquaintances and exchanging biographical information, stating profession and occupation, discussing hobbies and leisure activities, exchanging holiday greetings (public, national, family, or personal), expressing wishes and desires, giving, receiving, and responding to presents, extending, accepting, or declining invitations, arranging meetings (location, time, etc.), sharing contact details (address, telephone number, etc.), reading transport schedules and public signs, commenting on events (concerts, lectures, etc.), and reading menus and ordering meals.

Expected Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:
・Listening and Speaking Skills: understand basic instructions and engage in simple factual conversations on predictable topics.
・Reading Skills: comprehend a range of basic notices and instructions in everyday contexts.
・Writing Skills: Produce short notes and messages on familiar or predictable matters with basic accuracy.

before/after course of study: This course is designed for absolute beginners in Russian. It combines in-class learning activities with independent study to provide a structured introduction to the language. Classroom instruction will include scheduled themes supported by audio and video materials, and students' progress will be evaluated through regular quizzes on vocabulary and grammar. Independent work will consist of compulsory home assignments and self-study using the recommended textbook, supplementary materials, and online resources. The principal language of instruction is English, with occasional explanations in Japanese where appropriate. Russian will be gradually introduced as the medium of classroom communication, enabling students to build confidence in using the language from the outset.
Preview and Review may take around 90–120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule The class convenes twice perweek. The following schedule is tentative and may be adjusted in accordancewith the pace of study. References in brackets indicate the correspondingsections of the recommended textbook.

Week 1
Introduction to phonetics. Introduction to listening and speaking.(Вводный курс)

Week 2
Introduction to grammar.(Вводный курс)

Week 3
Professions and Occupations. Gender of nouns. Personaland possessive pronouns. Conjunctions. Constructions with "to know"(Ступень1).

Week 4
Gender of adjectives. Compound superlative degree.Exclamations. Nominative case. Countries and nationalities. Expressions of comparison. Constructions "… think that …"(Ступень 2).

Week 5

Constructions “Who has what” and “There is and thereare” in the present tense. The question “whose” and the genitive case of nouns.Construction “Who does not have what” and genitive case in negation. Complex sentence with “because”. Short forms of adjectives. (Ступень 3).

Week 6
Plural form of nouns, possessive pronouns and adjectives. Demonstrative pronouns: singular and plural. The construction “Not at all”. The verb “to speak”. Compound sentences: constructions “… and, …”, “…while, …” (Ступень 4).

Week 7
Midterm examination.

Week 8
Prepositional case. Prepositions “in”, “on”, “at”. O-adverbs. Past tense. The verb “to be”. Adverbs of time. Indefinite pronouns. (Ступень 5).

Week 9
Present and past tense of verbs. Negative adverbs andpronouns. Double negation. Days of the week. Short form of adjectives (Ступень6).

Week 10
Accusative of nouns and adjectives, singular. Accusative of possessive and personal pronouns. Expressions about a health condition. (Ступень 7).

Week 11
Prepositional case of adjectives and possessive pronouns. Future tense. Expressions of time: week, month, year. Expressions of time with prepositions “after”, “before”, “during”. Cardinal and ordinal numerals. Comparison “… better/ worse than …” (Ступень 8).

Week 12
Instrumental case of nouns, adjectives, personal andpossessive pronouns, singular. Expressions of time: seasons and question “What time is it? / What time?”. Compound sentence: conditional clause. (Ступень 9).

Week 13
Aspects of verbs. Verbs “to begin” and “to finish.” Cardinal numerals 11 – 1 000 000. Verbs “to teach – to learn”, “to teach sb sth – to learn sth”. Complex sentence: expression of purpose (Ступень 10).

Week 14Final examination

Language: English

Textbooks: Аникина М.Н. Лестница. Учебник по русскому языку для начинающих. М., “Русский язык. Курсы”, 2015. 464 с. pap.
ISBN 9785883373670 R139261
(for English-speaking students, +MP3 CD, 5 hours 30 minutes, levels 0-A2)
アニーキナ ステップ 初心者のためのロシア語教科書(ゼロから基礎レベルまで)(CD付)

This textbook by Anikina can be found at a Russian language literature shop called ″Nauka″ near Jimboucho Station or ordered online http://www.naukajapan.jp/detail.php?id=139261

The SILS library has a reserve copy of the textbook.

Please do NOT purchase the textbook before the first class.

References: An extensive range of supplementary sources and materials for learning and practising Russian will be introduced during the course. These resources will be shared regularly with students via Moodle to support independent study and reinforce classroom learning.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	50	20 midterm examination 30 final examination
Papers:	24	regular home assignments, 12*2
Class contribution:	24	enthusiastic engagement in in-class activities, 12*2

Others: 2 constructive collaboration on improving the course

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013500|51|210C013500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Russian I 51
Instructor	NAKAZAWA, Tomoko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is a very elementary Russian class for students who have never studied it before. We will begin by learning the Russian alphabet, moving on to Russian grammar and building conversation skills. The textbook is published in Russia and was written for foreigners. The lessons are taught in Russian, English and Japanese.

Objectives: The textbook consists of 21 chapters, and the autumn semester will cover chapters 1 through 10. By the end of the semester, students will be expected to know approximately 900 Russian words and be able to use them to express what they want to say in Russian.

before/after course of study: The first task will be to learn the Russian alphabet, and particularly at the beginning of the course it will be necessary to repeat what was covered in the previous class. Students will find it helpful to thoroughly memorize how the endings of the words change according to their context. In addition, students should carefully review the useful grammatical tables located at the end of the textbook.
Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 90-120 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule The numbers below indicate the schedule for the course. The schedule will depend on students' progress and understanding, so the current plan is tentative.

1-5: Introduction
Phonetics. Introductory course. Listening and speaking. Intensive introductory course. (≪Вводно-фонетический курс≫,≪Вводный курс аудирования и говорения. Интеисив.≫)

6-8: "Step 1"
Nouns: animate, inanimate. The Gender. The Personal pronouns. The Possessive pronouns. The Gender. Professions and occupants. Conjunctions "and". The verb "to know". Complex sentence. (≪Вводно-грамматический курс≫,≪Ступень 1≫)

9, 10: "Step 2"
Adjectives. The Gender. The Construction "most + an adjective". Countries, Nationalities; adjectives formed from the names of the countries. Word order. Conjunctions "but", "or", "as". The verb "to think". Complex sentence. (≪Ступень 2≫)

11, 12: "Step 3"
The construction "who has + a noun" in the Present Tense. The construction "there is/ re + a noun" in the Present tens. The Genitive Singular of the nous. The Genitive case denoting possession. The construction "who has no + a noun" in the Present Tense. The Genitive case in the negative sentences. Complex sentence expressing reason: "why?→because". (≪Ступень 3≫)

13, 14: "Step 4"
The Plural of nouns, possessive pronouns, adjectives. The demonstrative pronouns: Singular and Plural. The construction "not at all + adj./ adv./verb". The Genitive case with the prepositions "from", "for". The question "where from?". The verb "to say, to speak". Complex sentence. Complex sentence expressing comparison "… and…", "if…, then…". (≪Ступень 4≫) Review.

15: Mid-term exam

16, 17: "Step 5"
The Prepositional Singular of nouns. The Prepositional case denoting place. The prepositions "in", "on", "at". Question "where?" Adverbs ending -o. The Past tense. The verb "to be" in the Past Tense. The constructions "who has + a noun" in the Past Tense. Ways of expressing time: today, yesterday, in the morning, in the evening … Indefinite pronouns. (≪Ступень 5≫)

18, 19: "Step 6"
Verbs in the Present and the Past Tenses. Negative adverbs and pronouns. Days of the week. The short adjectives. Simple sentence. Impersonal sentence with an adverb. (≪Ступень 6≫)

20, 21: “Step 7”
The Accusative Singular of nouns and adjectives. The Accusative Singular of the personal and possessive pronouns. The word “must”. The construction “must + an infinitive”. The construction “who has pain”(when something hurts). Complex sentence expressing comparison “the (more)… the (better); comparison degree: more – less; better – worse. Part 1. (≪Ступень 7≫)

22, 23: “Step 8”
The Prepositional Singular of adjectives, possessive pronouns. The Future Tense 1. Ways of expressing time: week, month, year. Numbers 1–10. Cardinal (one…), ordinal (first…). Ways of expressing time: “before”, “during”, “after”. Simple sentence expressing comparison “better/worse than…”. Part 2. (≪Ступень 8≫)

24, 25: “Step 9”
The Instrumental Singular of nouns, adjectives, personal and possessive pronouns. The Instrumental case denoting a joint action. The preposition “with”. Ways of expressing time of the year: seasons. Ways of expressing time: “What time is it?”, “At what time?” Complex sentence expressing the real condition “if…” (≪Ступень 9≫)

26, 27: “Step 10”
The Verb aspects: The Imperfective aspect, The Perfective aspect. Verbs: to begin, to continue, to finish. Numbers: 11–1000000. Cardinal. Verbs: “to teach – to learn”; “to teach smb smth – to learn smth”. Complex sentence expressing purpose: “what for? →in order to (for)”. (≪Ступень 10≫) Review.

Language: English

Textbooks: Аникина М. Н. Лестница: учебник по русскому языку для начинающих (For English-speaking students). 2-е изд. и доп. М., 2018
ISBN 9785883373670 R139261
アニーキナM.N. ステップ：初心者のためのロシア語教科書（ゼロから基礎レベルまで）（CD付）

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free-: The final grade for the course will be based on mid-term and final exams (75%) and active participation in class (25%).

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013600|01|210C013600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean I 01
Instructor	NAKAZATO, Hisaya@KAMIYA, Niji
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean I covers learning the Korean alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week, introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additional topics on the daily life. This course is taught mainly in Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practice reading. Classes are team-taught. For the detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Students will learn themes related to self-introduce, the days of the week, colors, names of family members, and other daily life topics. Upon the completion of the course, students will be able to achieve an intermediary level in spoken and written Korean..

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Introduction: On the Korean language, Simple Vowels
The logic of writtenKorean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels, consonants.
Students will learn allvowels and consonants.

Week 2
1. Consonants and Butchim
Review all vowels andconsonants, and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.
2. Pronunciation Rules
Pronunciation rulescovering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters,palatalization, tensification, and weakening are covered.

Week 3
1. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
Topics on basic greetingsand self-introduction are covered.
2. Lesson 1 Review Core Conversation, PracticeQuestions. Reading
The later part of Lesson 1is covered.

Week 4
1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar
Students will learn thebasic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Review copula and subjectparticles.

Week 5
1. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location ,Vocabulary
Understanding action anddescriptive verbs.
2. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice verb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs,Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions and reading.
2. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related toFamily, Vocabulary
Practice vocabularyrelated to members of the family and copular endings.

Week 7
1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization
Review grammar patternsand practice based on utilization questions.

2. Lesson 5 More on Location, Grammar, Vocabulary
Week 8
1. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar, Utilization
Spoken and writtenpractice based on statement/interrogative endings.
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 1-5

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 6 On DailyGreetings, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
The topic of dailygreetings and the use of honorifics are covered.

Week 10
1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, CoreConversation
Students will practicecausation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary,Grammar
Dialogues containingfuture tense endings and "if" clause sentence formation

Week 11
1. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading
2. Lesson 7 Practice spoken and written questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary,Grammar
Distinguishing conversationalverb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions.
2. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions based on different informal affirmative endings.

Week 13
1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
Learn vocabulary words related to the field of study.
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice "itta"which expresses the status of existence.

Week 14 Final Examination

Language: Japanese

Textbooks:

[KOREAN] by Maji Rhee at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 at the corner of Waseda Cafe 120 close to the Front Gate.

References: Open-Access Korean-English, Korean-Japanese Dictionaries

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	70	Mid-term and Final Examination including Spoken and Written Sections
Class contribution:	30	Attendance

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013600|02|210C013600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean I 02
Instructor	KISHI, Kanako@KAIMORI, Tokiko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean I coverslearning the Korean alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week,introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additionaltopics on the daily life. This course is taught in Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning GrammarPatterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization whichfocuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practicereading. Classes are team-taught. Forthe detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Upon the completion of the course, students will be ready for the novice and intermediate-level Korean proficiency tests.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Introduction: On the Korean language, Simple Vowels
The logic of writtenKorean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels, consonants.
Students will learn allvowels and consonants.

Week 2
1. Consonants and Butchim
Review all vowels andconsonants, and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.
2. Pronunciation Rules
Pronunciation rulescovering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters,palatalization, tensification, and weakening are covered.

Week 3
1. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
Topics on basic greetingsand self-introduction are covered.
2. Lesson 1 Review Core Conversation, PracticeQuestions. Reading
The later part of Lesson 1is covered.

Week 4
1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar
Students will learn thebasic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Review copula and subjectparticles.

Week 5
1. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location ,Vocabulary
Understanding action anddescriptive verbs.
2. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice verb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs,Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions and reading.
2. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related toFamily, Vocabulary
Practice vocabularyrelated to members of the family and copular endings.

Week 7
1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization
Review grammar patternsand practice based on utilization questions.
2. Lesson 5 More on Location, Grammar, Vocabulary

Week 8
1. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar, Utilization
Spoken and writtenpractice based on statement/interrogative endings.
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 1-5

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 6 On DailyGreetings, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
The topic of dailygreetings and the use of honorifics are covered.

Week 10
1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, CoreConversation
Students will practicecausation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary,Grammar
Dialogues containingfuture tense endings and "if" clause sentence formation

Week 11
1. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading
2. Lesson 7 Practice spoken and written questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary,Grammar
Distinguishing conversationalverb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions.
2. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions based on different informal affirmative endings.

Week 13
1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
Learn vocabulary wordsrelated to the field of study.
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice "itta"which expresses the status of existence.

Week 14 Final Examination

Language: Japanese

Textbooks: Textbook available at 成文堂 at the corner of Cafe 125 [KOREAN] by M Rhee

References: Open-Acess Dictionaries Korean-Japanese and Korean-English

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	70	Mid-term and Final Examinations including Spoken and Written Examination
Class contribution:	30	Quizzes, assignments, and class participation

Note/URL: For students who need explanation in English, please inquire Rhee during Tuesday Lunch hours at Building 11-1335.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013600|03|210C013600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean I 03
Instructor	TATSUNO, Sayo
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean I covers learning the Korean alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week, introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additional topics on the daily life. This course is taught mainly in Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practice reading. Classes are team-taught. For the detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Students will learn themes related to self-introduce, the days of the week, colors, names of family members, and other daily life topics. Upon the completion of the course, students will be able to achieve an intermediary level in spoken and written Korean..

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Introduction: On the Korean language, Simple Vowels
The logic of written Korean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels, consonants.
Students will learn allvowels and consonants.

Week 2
1. Consonants and Butchim
Review all vowels and consonants, and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.
2. Pronunciation Rules
Pronunciation rulescovering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters, palatalization, tensification, and weakening are covered.

Week 3
1. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
Topics on basic greetingsand self-introduction are covered.
2. Lesson 1 Review Core Conversation, Practice Questions. Reading
The later part of Lesson 1is covered.

Week 4
1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar
Students will learn thebasic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Review copula and subjectparticles.

Week 5
1. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location ,Vocabulary
Understanding action anddescriptive verbs.
2. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice verb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs,Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions and reading.
2. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related toFamily, Vocabulary
Practice vocabulary related to members of the family and copular endings.

Week 7
1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization
Review grammar patternsand practice based on utilization questions.
2. Lesson 5 More on Location, Grammar, Vocabulary

Week 8
1. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar, Utilization
Spoken and writtenpractice based on statement/interrogative endings.
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 1-5

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 6 On Daily Greetings, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
The topic of dailygreetings and the use of honorifics are covered.

Week 10
1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, CoreConversation
Students will practice causation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary,Grammar
Dialogues containingfuture tense endings and ″if″ clause sentence formation

Week 11
1. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading
2. Lesson 7 Practice spoken and written questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary,Grammar
Distinguishing conversational verb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions.
2. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions based on different informal affirmative endings.

Week 13
1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
Learn vocabulary words related to the field of study.
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice ″itta″which expresses the status of existence.

Week 14 Final Examination

Language: Japanese

Textbooks: 「

「Korean」 by M Rhee (Hakueisha, 2023) is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 near the front gate or at the corner of Cafe 125.

References: Online open access Korean English Japanese dictionary applications.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free-: Grading is based on the comprehensive evaluation which includes attendance, frequency of tardy, completion of the assignments, general attitude in the class, mid-term, and final examination. When and if absence becomes conspicuous, names will be deleted from the roster. Absence caused by illness or job hunting would be exempted the attendance policy.

The course is team taught by two faculty members. Students are obliged to attend classes taught by both faculty members. When and if students only attend one class session taught by a faculty member and neglect to attend the other class, students would not receive any credit. Even if a student receives a passing grade from the final examination, neglecting to attend both classes taught by both faculty members would be nullified.

Students at SILS tend to be late and do not seem to carefully prepare for the class. Each student shall be responsible for his/her general study habit such as reviewing and following the curriculum and organize study materials. Moreover, each student should not forget to bring required textbooks.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013600|04|210C013600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean I 04
Instructor	RHEE, Maji Christine@JUN, Dongwon
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean I coverslearning the Koeran alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week,introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additionaltopics on the daily life. This course istaught in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning GrammarPatterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization whichfocuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practicereading. Classes are team-taught. Forthe detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Upon the completion of the course, students will be ready for the novice and intermediate-level Korean proficiency tests.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Korean I coverslearning the Koeran alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week,introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additionaltopics on the daily life. This course istaught in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning GrammarPatterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization whichfocuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practicereading. Classes are team-taught. Forthe detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Week 1
1. Introduction: On the Korean language, Simple Vowels
The logic of written Korean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels, consonants.
Students will learn allvowels and consonants.

Week 2
1. Consonants and Butchim
Review all vowels andconsonants, and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.
2. Pronunciation Rules
Pronunciation rulescovering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters,palatalization, tensification, and weakening are covered.

Week 3
1. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
Topics on basic greetingsand self-introduction are covered.
2. Lesson 1 Review Core Conversation, Practice Questions. Reading
The later part of Lesson 1is covered.

Week 4
1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar
Students will learn thebasic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Review copula and subjectparticles.

Week 5
1. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location ,Vocabulary
Understanding action anddescriptive verbs.
2. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice verb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs,Utilization

Practice utilization questions and reading.
2. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related toFamily, Vocabulary
Practice vocabulary related to members of the family and copular endings.

Week 7
1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization
Review grammar patternsand practice based on utilization questions.
2. Lesson 5 More on Location, Grammar, Vocabulary
Week 8
1. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar, Utilization
Spoken and written practice based on statement/interrogative endings.
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 1-5

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 6 On DailyGreetings, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
The topic of daily greetings and the use of honorifics are covered.

Week 10
1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, CoreConversation
Students will practice causation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary,Grammar
Dialogues containing future tense endings and ″if″ clause sentence formation

Week 11
1. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading
2. Lesson 7 Practice spoken and written questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary,Grammar
Distinguishing conversational verb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions.
2. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice utilization questions based on different informal affirmative endings.

Week 13
1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
Learn vocabulary words related to the field of study.
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice ″itta″which expresses the status of existence.

Week 14
Final Examination

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 「Korean」 by M Rhee (Hakueisha, 2023) is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 near the front gate or at the corner of Cafe 125.

References: Online open-access Korean-English and Korean-Japanese dictionaries.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	70	Mid-term and Final Examination including Spoken and Written Sections
Class contribution:	30	Attendance

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013600|51|210C013600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean I 51
Instructor	NAKAZATO, Hisaya@KAMIYA, Niji
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean I covers learning the Korean alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week, introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additional topics on the daily life. This course is taught mainly in Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practice reading. Classes are team-taught. For the detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Students will learn themes related to self-introduce, the days of the week, colors, names of family members, and other daily life topics. Upon the completion of the course, students will be able to achieve an intermediary level in the spoken and written Korean.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Introduction: On the Korean language, Simple Vowels
The logic of writtenKorean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels, consonants.
Students will learn allvowels and consonants.

Week 2
1. Consonants and Butchim
Review all vowels andconsonants, and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.
2. Pronunciation Rules
Pronunciation rulescovering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters,palatalization, tensification, and weakening are covered.

Week 3
1. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
Topics on basic greetingsand self-introduction are covered.
2. Lesson 1 Review Core Conversation, PracticeQuestions. Reading
The later part of Lesson 1is covered.

Week 4
1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar
Students will learn thebasic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Review copula and subjectparticles.

Week 5
1. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location ,Vocabulary
Understanding action anddescriptive verbs.
2. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice verb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs,Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions and reading.
2. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related toFamily, Vocabulary
Practice vocabularyrelated to members of the family and copular endings.

Week 7
1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization
Review grammar patternsand practice based on utilization questions.
2. Lesson 5 More on Location, Grammar, Vocabulary
Week 8

1. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar, Utilization
Spoken and writtenpractice based on statement/interrogative endings.
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 1-5

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 6 On DailyGreetings, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
The topic of dailygreetings and the use of honorifics are covered.

Week 10
1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, CoreConversation
Students will practicecausation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary,Grammar
Dialogues containingfuture tense endings and "if" clause sentence formation

Week 11
1. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading
2. Lesson 7 Practice spoken and written questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary,Grammar
Distinguishing conversationalverb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions.
2. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions based on different informal affirmative endings.

Week 13
1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
Learn vocabulary wordsrelated to the field of study.
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice "itta"which expresses the status of existence.

Week 14
1. Lesson 10 Conversation on Transportation,Vocabulary
Learntransportation-related dialogue and adjectival.
2. Lesson 10 Vocabulary, Grammar, Pratice, Reading
Practice utilizationquestions and the reading section.

Week 15 Final Examination

Language: Japanese

Textbooks: [Korean] by Maji Rhee. The textbooks are available at Seibudo,成文堂 the bookstore across the Cafe 125 or near the Front Gate.

References: Open-Access Korean-English, Korean-Japanese Dictionaries

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams: 70 Mid-term and Final exams including Spoken and Written sections

Class contribution: 30 Attendance

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013600|52|210C013600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean I 52
Instructor	NAKAZATO, Hisaya@LIM, Juhee
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean I covers learning the Korean alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week, introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additional topics on the daily life. This course is taught in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practice reading. Classes are team-taught. For the detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Upon the completion of the course, students will be ready for the novice and intermediate-level Korean proficiency tests or ハングル検定。

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Introduction: On the Korean language, Simple Vowels
The logic of writtenKorean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels, consonants.
Students will learn allvowels and consonants.

Week 2
1. Consonants and Butchim
Review all vowels andconsonants, and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.
2. Pronunciation Rules
Pronunciation rulescovering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters,palatalization, tensification, and weakening are covered.

Week 3
1. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
Topics on basic greetingsand self-introduction are covered.
2. Lesson 1 Review Core Conversation, PracticeQuestions. Reading
The later part of Lesson 1is covered.

Week 4
1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar
Students will learn thebasic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Review copula and subjectparticles.

Week 5
1. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location ,Vocabulary
Understanding action anddescriptive verbs.
2. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice verb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs,Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions and reading.
2. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related toFamily, Vocabulary
Practice vocabularyrelated to members of the family and copular endings.

Week 7
1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization
Review grammar patternsand practice based on utilization questions.

2. Lesson 5 More on Location, Grammar, Vocabulary
Week 8
1. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar, Utilization
Spoken and writtenpractice based on statement/interrogative endings.
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 1-5

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 6 On DailyGreetings, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
The topic of dailygreetings and the use of honorifics are covered.

Week 10
1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, CoreConversation
Students will practicecausation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary,Grammar
Dialogues containingfuture tense endings and "if" clause sentence formation

Week 11
1. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading
2. Lesson 7 Practice spoken and written questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary,Grammar
Distinguishing conversationalverb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions.
2. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions based on different informal affirmative endings.

Week 13
1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
Learn vocabulary wordsrelated to the field of study.
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice "itta"which expresses the status of existence.

Week 14
1. Lesson 10 Conversation on Transportation
Learn transportation-related dialogue and adjectival.
2. Lesson 10 Vocabulary, Grammar, Practice, Reading
Practice utilization questions and the reading section.
Final Examination

Language: Japanese

Textbooks: KOREAN by M. Rhee (Hakuisha 2023) is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 located near the front gate or just across Cafe 125.

References: Open-Access Korean-English, Korean-Japanese Dictionaries

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 70 Mid-term and Final Exams including Spoken and Written parts.

Class contribution: 30 Attendance

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013600|53|210C013600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean I 53
Instructor	JUN, Dongwon@NAKAZATO, Hisaya
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean I covers learning the Korean alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week, introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additional topics on the daily life. This course is taught in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practice reading. Classes are team-taught. For the detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Students will master the basics of the Korean language at the novice level and be prepared for the intermediary proficiency tests.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Introduction: On the Korean language, Simple Vowels
The logic of written Korean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels, consonants.
Students will learn allvowels and consonants.

Week 2
1. Consonants and Butchim
Review all vowels and consonants, and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.
2. Pronunciation Rules
Pronunciation rulescovering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters, palatalization, tensification, and weakening are covered.

Week 3
1. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
Topics on basic greetingsand self-introduction are covered.
2. Lesson 1 Review Core Conversation, Practice Questions. Reading
The later part of Lesson 1is covered.

Week 4
1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar
Students will learn thebasic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Review copula and subjectparticles.

Week 5
1. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location ,Vocabulary
Understanding action anddescriptive verbs.
2. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice verb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs,Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions and reading.
2. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related toFamily, Vocabulary
Practice vocabulary related to members of the family and copular endings.

Week 7
1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization
Review grammar patternsand practice based on utilization questions.

2. Lesson 5 More on Location, Grammar, Vocabulary
Week 8
1. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar, Utilization
Spoken and writtenpractice based on statement/interrogative endings.
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 1-5

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 6 On Daily Greetings, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
The topic of dailygreetings and the use of honorifics are covered.

Week 10
1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, CoreConversation
Students will practice causation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary,Grammar
Dialogues containingfuture tense endings and ″if″ clause sentence formation

Week 11
1. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading
2. Lesson 7 Practice spoken and written questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary,Grammar
Distinguishing conversational verb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions.
2. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions based on different informal affirmative endings.

Week 13
1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
Learn vocabulary words related to the field of study.
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice ″itta″which expresses the status of existence.

Week 14 Final Examination

Language: Japanese/Korea n

Textbooks:

KOREAN by M.Rhee (Hakueisha, 2023) is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 near the front gate or at the corner of Cafe 125.

References: Open-Access Korean-English, Korean-Japanese Dictionaries

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 70 Mid-term and Final Examination including Spoken and Written Sections

Class contribution: 30 Attendance

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C013600|54|210C013600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean I 54
Instructor	RHEE, Maji Christine@NAKAZATO, Hisaya
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean I coverslearning the Korean alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week,introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additionaltopics on the daily life. This course istaught in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) LearningGrammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilizationwhich focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practicereading. Classes are team-taught. Forthe detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Upon the completion of the course, students will be ready for the novice and intermediate-level Korean proficiency tests including Hangeul Kentei.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Introduction: On the Korean language, Simple Vowels
The logic of written Korean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels, consonants.
Students will learn allvowels and consonants.

Week 2
1. Consonants and Butchim
Review all vowels and consonants, and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.
2. Pronunciation Rules
Pronunciation rules covering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters, palatalization, tensification, and weakening are covered.

Week 3
1. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
Topics on basic greeting sand self-introduction are covered.
2. Lesson 1 Review Core Conversation, PracticeQuestions. Reading
The later part of Lesson 1is covered.

Week 4
1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar
Students will learn thebasic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Review copula and subjectparticles.

Week 5
1. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location ,Vocabulary
Understanding action and descriptive verbs.
2. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice verb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs,Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions and reading.
2. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related toFamily, Vocabulary
Practice vocabulary related to members of the family and copular endings.

Week 7
1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization
Review grammar patterns and practice based on utilization questions.
2. Lesson 5 More on Location, Grammar, Vocabulary
Week 8

1. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar, Utilization
Spoken and written practice based on statement/interrogative endings.
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 1-5

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 6 On DailyGreetings, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
The topic of dailygreetings and the use of honorifics are covered.

Week 10
1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, CoreConversation
Students will practice causation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary,Grammar
Dialogues containing future tense endings and "if" clause sentence formation

Week 11
1. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading
2. Lesson 7 Practice spoken and written questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary,Grammar
Distinguishing conversational verb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions.
2. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice utilization questions based on different informal affirmative endings.

Week 13
1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
Learn vocabulary wordsrelated to the field of study.
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice "itta"which expresses the status of existence.

Lesson 10 Conversation on Transportation,Vocabulary
Learn transportation-related dialogue and adjectival.

Week 14 Final Examination

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks:
「Korean」 by M Rhee (Hakueisha, 2023) is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 near the front gate or at the corner of Cafe 125.

References: Online open access KOR-Japanese-English dictionary

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 70 Mid-term and Final exam

Class contribution: 30 Attendance
Weekly exams

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014100|01|210C014100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French II 01
Instructor	BERTHET, Didier
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.1@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed the first-level course or for those who have an equivalent language level. The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 2, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire)and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches.Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of"know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class. Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible.
The teacher may teach in French, English or Japanese, depending on the needs of the students.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should have reached the Level A2 in the Common European Framework of Reference for Language learning (CEFRL).

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4:L6-L7-L8
W5:L9-L10-L11
W6:L12-L13-L14
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L15-L16-L17
W9:L18-L19-L20
W10:L21-L22-L23
W11:L24-L25-L26
W12:L27-L28-L29
W13:L30-L31-L32
W14: FinalExamination*This schedule is subject to change

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 2. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève A2).
EAN : 9782015135793
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-2/inspire-2-livre-de-leleve-a2

References: None.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-2/inspire-2-livre-de-leleve-a2

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014100|02|210C014100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French II 02
Instructor	HATTORI, Catherine
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed the first-level course or for those who have an equivalent language level. The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 2, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire)and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches.Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of"know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class. Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible.
The teacher may teach in French, English or Japanese, depending on the needs of the students.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should have reached the Level A2 in the Common European Framework of Reference for Language learning (CEFRL).

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4:L6-L7-L8
W5:L9-L10-L11
W6:L12-L13-L14
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L15-L16-L17
W9:L18-L19-L20
W10:L21-L22-L23
W11:L24-L25-L26
W12:L27-L28-L29
W13:L30-L31-L32
W14: FinalExamination*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/English/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 2. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève A2).
EAN : 9782015135793
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-2/inspire-2-livre-de-leleve-a2

References: None.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-2/inspire-2-livre-de-leleve-a2

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。

The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014100|51|210C014100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French II 51
Instructor	BERTHET, Didier
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.1@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completedthe first-level course or for those who have an equivalent language level. Thetextbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 2, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire)and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches.Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well asgrammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of"know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk aboutyourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also containsonline resources for students to use in class and outside of class. Studentsare expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible.
The teacher mayteach in French or Japanese, depending on the needs of the students.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should have reached the Level A2 in the Common European Framework of Reference for Language learning (CEFRL).

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4:L6-L7-L8
W5:L9-L10-L11
W6:L12-L13-L14
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L15-L16-L17
W9:L18-L19-L20
W10:L21-L22-L23
W11:L24-L25-L26
W12:L27-L28-L29
W13:L30-L31-L32
W14: FinalExamination*This schedule is subject to change

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 2. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève A2).
EAN : 9782015135793
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-2/inspire-2-livre-de-leleve-a2

References: None.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-2/inspire-2-livre-de-leleve-a2

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014100|52|210C014100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French II 52
Instructor	HATTORI, Catherine
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed the first-level course or for those who have an equivalent language level. The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 2, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire)and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches.Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of"know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class. Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible.
The teacher may teach in French, English or Japanese, depending on the needs of the students.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should have reached the Level A2 in the Common European Framework of Reference for Language learning (CEFRL).

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4:L6-L7-L8
W5:L9-L10-L11
W6:L12-L13-L14
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L15-L16-L17
W9:L18-L19-L20
W10:L21-L22-L23
W11:L24-L25-L26
W12:L27-L28-L29
W13:L30-L31-L32
W14: FinalExamination*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/English/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 2. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève A2).
EAN : 9782015135793
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-2/inspire-2-livre-de-leleve-a2

References: None.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-2/inspire-2-livre-de-leleve-a2

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.

Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014200|01|210C014200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	German II 01
Instructor	NUNOKAWA, Yasuko@NICKEL, Frank
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course deepens the Level 1 elementary knowledge of German grammar to assist in the understanding of sentence structures and to practice more communicative skills. The textbook used for Level 2 will be the same as the one used for Level 1 [from lesson 7 to 12].
The course combines the benefits of face-to-face classes with a digital learning environment with elements of gamification which enables students to learn and practice at anytime at anyplace. Instead of a single final exam, student's progress is continuously evaluated in a fair and stress-free manner. Teachers in the German program are continuously monitoring students' performance, provide regular feedback and actively support students with regard to competences development.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Objectives: By the end of the semester students will have acquired nearly 1,000 vocabulary items and an active competence for daily communication.

before/after course of study: Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.
Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] lesson 7
[Week 2] lesson 7
[Week 3] lesson 8
[Week 4] lesson 8
[Week 5] lesson 9
[Week 6] lesson 9
[Week 7] Station 3
[Week 8] lesson 10
[Week 9] lesson 10
[Week10] lesson 11
[Week11] lesson 11
[Week12] lesson 12
[Week13] lesson 12
[Week14] lesson Station 4

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband, Das Deutschbuch.
Additional copied materials will be provided when required.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams (written or oral).

If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows:
Active participation and homework – 50%
Additional assignments – 15%

Vocabulary tests – 15%
Final exam – 20%

Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows:
Active participation and homework – 50%
Additional assignments – 25%
Vocabulary tests – 25%

Note/URL: More information on the German program at: https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014200|51|210C014200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	German II 51
Instructor	RUDE, Markus@MUELENZ-GOLI, Katharina
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course deepens the Level 1 elementary knowledge of German grammar to assist in the understanding of sentence structures and to practice more communicative skills. The textbook used for Level 2 will be the same as that already used for Level 1: Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband, Das Deutschbuch. [lessons 7 to 12].

The course combines the benefits of face-to-face classes with a digital learning environment which enables students to learn and practice at anytime at anyplace. Instead of a single final exam, student's progress is continuously evaluated in a fair and stress-free manner. Teachers in the German program are continuously monitoring students' performance, provide regular feedback and actively support students with regard to competences development.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Objectives: By the end of the semester students will have acquired nearly 1,000 vocabulary items and an active competence for daily communication.

before/after course of study: Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.

Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.

Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Unit 7
[Week 2] Unit 7, Vocabulary Test Unit 7
[Week 3] Unit 8
[Week 4] Unit 8, Vocabulary Test Unit 8
[Week 5] Unit 9
[Week 6] Unit 9, Vocabulary Test Unit 9
[Week 7] Station 3
[Week 8] Unit 10
[Week 9] Unit 10, Vocabulary Test Unit 10
[Week10] Unit 11
[Week11] Unit 11, Vocabulary Test Unit 11
[Week12] Unit 12
[Week13] Unit 12, Vocabulary Test Unit 12
[Week14] Station 4, Repetition

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband, Das Deutschbuch.
Additional material will be provided through Waseda Moodle and a learning platform.

References:	中島・平尾・朝倉著:『改訂版　必携　ドイツ文法総まとめ』(白水社) Sabine Dinsel, Lukas Mayrhofer (2017): Deutsch Übungsbuch Grammatik A1–A2. Hueber Verlag.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)
Evaluation Free-	Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams (written or oral). If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 15% Vocabulary tests – 10% Grammar Workbook – 10% Final exam – 15% Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 25% Vocabulary tests – 12.5% Grammar Workbook – 12.5%
Note/URL:	Information on the German program: https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/ 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014300|02|210C014300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish II 02
Instructor	MONTERO PEREDA, Francisco Javier
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in English and Spanish (Not in Japanese).

This is the second stage in Spanish language learning. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop and improve skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose this section. .

Objectives: Through this second-semester course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅱ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad7 Me gusta mucho lamúsica pop. ¿Y a ti?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 7
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 De compras
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 8
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 ¡A comer!
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 9
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 9, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination Give comments andfeedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 10 Los mexicanos selevantan pronto.
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 10
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 11 Estoy muy contenta.
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 Deviaje
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 12
[Class 27] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order tomaximize educational effects.

Language: English/Spanish

Textbooks: ¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References: Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子
Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80	One mid-term examination 30% One final examination 50%
Others:	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014300|03|210C014300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish II 03
Instructor	NAKAMICHI, Shinji@SHINTANI, Roxana
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Japanese (on Mondays), English (on Fridays), and Spanish (Mondays and Fridays).

This is the second stage in Spanish language learning. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop and improve skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose Spanish II, section 2.

Objectives:

Through this second-semester course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅱ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:

It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad7 Me gusta mucho lamúsica pop. ¿Y a ti?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 7
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 De compras
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 8
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 ¡A comer!
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 9
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 9, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination Give comments andfeedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 10 Los mexicanos selevantan pronto.
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 10
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 11 Estoy muy contenta.
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 Deviaje
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 12
[Class 27] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order tomaximize educational effects.

Language:

Japanese/Spanish

Textbooks:

¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:

Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子

Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 80 One mid-term examination 30%
One final examination 50%

Others: 20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014300|04|210C014300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish II 04
Instructor	KAWASAKI, Kayo@SOTO MEJIA, Maria Irina
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Japanese (Mondays), English (Fridays), and Spanish (Mondays and Fridays).

This is the second stage in Spanish language learning. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop and improve skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose SpanishⅡ, section 2.

Objectives: Through this second-semester course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of SpanishⅡ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad7 Me gusta mucho lamúsica pop. ¿Y a ti?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 7
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 De compras
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 8
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 ¡A comer!
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 9
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 9, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination Give comments andfeedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 10 Los mexicanos selevantan pronto.
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 10
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 11 Estoy muy contenta.
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 Deviaje
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 12
[Class 27] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order tomaximize educational effects.

Language: Japanese/Spanish

Textbooks: ¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References: Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子

Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 80 One mid-term examination 30%
One final examination 50%

Others: 20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014300|51|210C014300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish II 51
Instructor	MONTERO PEREDA, Francisco Javier
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:
【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in English and Spanish (NOT in Japanese).

This is the second stage in Spanish language learning. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop and improve skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose this section (51) or Spanish II section 54.

Objectives:
Through this second-semester course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅱ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:
It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:
1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad7 Me gusta mucho la música pop. ¿Y a ti?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 7
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 De compras
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 8
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 ¡A comer!
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 9
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 9, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 10 Los mexicanos se levantan pronto.
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 10
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 11 Estoy muy contenta.
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 12
[Class 27] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:
English/Spanish

Textbooks:
¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:
Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子

Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 80 Mid-term examination 30%
Final examination 50%

Others: 20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014300|52|210C014300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish II 52
Instructor	KAWASAKI, Kayo@SOTO MEJIA, Maria Irina
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:
【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in Japanese (Mondays), English (Fridays), and Spanish (Mondays and Fridays).

This is the second stage in Spanish language learning. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop and improve skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose SpanishⅡ, section 51 or 54.

Objectives:
Through this second-semester course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of SpanishⅡis to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:
It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:
1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule
This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad7 Me gusta mucho la música pop. ¿Y a ti?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 7
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 De compras
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 8
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 ¡A comer!
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 9
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 9, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 10 Los mexicanos se levantan pronto.
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 10
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 11 Estoy muy contenta.
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 12
[Class 27] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:
Japanese/Spanish

Textbooks:
¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:
Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子

Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80	Mid-term examination 30% Final examination 50%
Others:	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.
Note/URL:	Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary. In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014300|53|210C014300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish II 53
Instructor	NAKAMICHI, Shinji@SHINTANI, Roxana
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:
【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in Spanish, Japanese (Mondays), English (Fridays), and Spanish (Mondays and Fridays).

This is the second stage in Spanish language learning. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop and improve skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose SpanishⅡ, section 51 or 54.

Objectives:
Through this second-semester course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of SpanishⅡis to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:
It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:
1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad7 Me gusta mucho la música pop. ¿Y a ti?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 7
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 De compras
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 8
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 ¡A comer!
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 9
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 9, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 10 Los mexicanos se levantan pronto.
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 10
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 11 Estoy muy contenta.
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 12
[Class 27] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:
Japanese/Spanish

Textbooks:
¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:
Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)

	西村君代、菊田和佳子 Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80 Mid-term examination 30% Final examination 50%
Others:	20 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.
Note/URL:	Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary. In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014300|54|210C014300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish II 54
Instructor	FOWLER, Arthur@SOTO MEJIA, Maria Irina
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:
【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in Spanish and English.

This is the second stage in Spanish language learning. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students to develop and improve skills in understanding, speaking, reading and writing basic Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish speaking world.

Those who haven't acquired Japanese at a university level should choose this section (section 54) or Spanish Ⅱ, section 51.

Objectives:
Through this second-semester course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅱ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:
It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:
1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule
This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad7 Me gusta mucho la música pop. ¿Y a ti?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 7
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 De compras
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 8
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 ¡A comer!
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 9
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 9, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 10 Los mexicanos se levantan pronto.
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 10
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 11 Estoy muy contenta.
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 12
[Class 27] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 28] Final Examination Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:
English/Spanish

Textbooks:
¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición
Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu.
Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.

References:
Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles)
西村君代、菊田和佳子

Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	80	Mid-term examination 30% Final examination 50%
Others:	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.
Note/URL:	Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary. In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014400|01|210C014400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese II 01
Instructor	WU, Yingru@OH, Zuirai
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Thur.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed the first-level course or for those who have an equivalent language level.
Each lesson includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of "know-how" (eg. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. Students are expected to be active in class and to use Chinese as much as possible.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should be able to cope with daily life using Chinese expressions in a greater variety of situations.
The aim of this course is to help students master essential grammar and attain an intermediate level of language abilities.
Stress will be placed particularly on teaching correct pronunciation.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session.
Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class.
Before class: revise the material and topics covered in the preceding class (30 min).
After class: do the assigned homework when it is necessary and study again the material and topics covered in the class (30 min to 1hour)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction and lesson 21
[Week 2] lesson 22-23
[Week 3] lesson 24-25
[Week 4] review 5
lesson 26
[Week 5] lesson 27-28
Vocabulary Test
[Week 6] lesson 29-30
[Week 7] review 6
Lesson 31
[Week 8] mid-term
lesson 32
[Week 9] lesson 33-34
[Week 10] lesson 35
review 7
[Week 11] lesson 36-37
Vocabulary Test
[Week 12] lesson 38-39
[Week 13] lesson 40
review 8
[Week 14] Final Exam

*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 下冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in class contains Japanese-language instructions. To support students from different linguistic backgrounds, an English-instruction version of the textbook is available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)

25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014400|02|210C014400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese II 02
Instructor	NAGAI, Tetsuro@ARISAWA, Uenyu
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed the first-level course or for those who have an equivalent language level. Each lesson includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of "know-how" (eg. ask questions, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical,grammatical and phonetic content. Students are expected to be active in class and to use Chinese as much as possible.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should be able to cope with daily life using Chinese expressions in a greater variety of situations.
The aim of this course is to help students master essential grammar and attain an intermediate level of language abilities.
Stress will be placed particularly on teaching correct pronunciation.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class.
Before class: revise the material and topics covered in the preceding class (30 min).
After class: do the assigned homework when it is necessary and study again the material and topics covered in the class (30 min to 1hour)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction and lesson 21
[Week 2] lesson 22-23
[Week 3] lesson 24-25
[Week 4] review 5
lesson 26
[Week 5] lesson 27-28
Vocabulary Test
[Week 6] lesson 29-30
[Week 7] review 6
Lesson 31
[Week 8] mid-term
lesson 32
[Week 9] lesson 33-34
[Week 10] lesson 35
review 7
[Week 11] lesson 36-37
Vocabulary Test
[Week 12] lesson 38-39
[Week 13] lesson 40
review 8
[Week 14] Final Exam

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 下冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in class contains Japanese-language instructions. To support students from different linguistic backgrounds, an English-instruction version of the textbook is available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL:　国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014400|03|210C014400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese II 03 (Direct Method)
Instructor	IZUMI, Anna@CHEN, Tien Shi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Direct Method

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed the first-level course or for those who have an equivalent language level. Each lesson includes dialogues and activities, role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks covering a wide range of know-how (e.g. ask questions, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. Students are expected to be active in class and to use Chinese as much as possible.

Objectives: At the end of the semester, students should be able to cope with daily life using Chinese expressions in a greater variety of situations.
The aim of this course is to help students master essential grammar and attain an intermediate level of language abilities.
Stress will be placed particularly on teaching correct pronunciation.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class.
Before class: revise the material and topics covered in the preceding class (30 min).
After class: do the assigned homework when it is necessary and study again the material and topics covered in the class (30 min to 1hour)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction and lesson 21
[Week 2] lesson 22-23
[Week 3] lesson 24-25
[Week 4] review 5
lesson 26
[Week 5] lesson 27-28
Vocabulary Test
[Week 6] lesson 29-30
[Week 7] review 6
Lesson 31
[Week 8] mid-term
lesson 32
[Week 9] lesson 33-34
[Week 10] lesson 35
review 7
[Week 11] lesson 36-37
Vocabulary Test
[Week 12] lesson 38-39
[Week 13] lesson 40
Review8
[Week 14] Final Exam

*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Chinese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 下冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in class contains Japanese-language instructions. To support students from different linguistic backgrounds, an English-instruction version of the textbook is available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation

25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014400|51|210C014400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese II 51
Instructor	IGUCHI, Hirofumi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed the Chinese I course or who possess an equivalent level of proficiency. Each lesson includes dialogues and communicative activities, such as role-plays, grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks, covering a wide range of practical language functions (e.g., asking questions, accepting or refusing requests, and talking about oneself). The course also develops students' lexical, grammatical, and phonetic knowledge. Students are expected to participate actively in class and to use Chinese as much as possible throughout the course.

Objectives: By the end of the semester, students will be able to communicate in a wider range of everyday situations using Chinese. The course aims to help students master essential grammar and develop intermediate-level language proficiency. Particular emphasis will be placed on the development of accurate pronunciation throughout the course.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for each class session. Active participation is an essential component of this course. Students are responsible for completing any assignments and preparation tasks assigned by the instructor(s) prior to class.

Before class: Students should spend approximately 30 minutes reviewing the materials and topics covered in the previous class.

After class: Students should complete assigned homework, when applicable, and spend approximately 30 minutes to 1 hour reviewing the materials and topics covered in class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction and lesson 21
[Week 2] Lessons 22-23
[Week 3] Lessons 24-25
[Week 4] Review 5; Lesson 26
[Week 5] Lessons 27-28; Vocabulary Test
[Week 6] Lessons 29-30
[Week 7] Review 6; Lesson 31
[Week 8] Mid-term; Lesson 32
[Week 9] Lessons 33-34
[Week 10] Lesson 35; Review 7
[Week 11] Lessons 36-37; Vocabulary Test
[Week 12] Lessons 38-39
[Week 13] Lesson 40; Review 8
[Week 14] Final Exam

*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 下冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in this course contains instructions in Japanese. To ensure accessibility for students from diverse linguistic backgrounds, an English-language version of the instructional materials is available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL:

Eligibility for Enrollment
1. Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a particular course is appropriate for their level of Chinese proficiency may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment.
2. Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency.
Notes for Enrollment
1. Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines at the following link:
https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMl1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=drive_link
2. If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi Chen, at lara@waseda.jp

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014400|52|210C014400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese II 52 (Direct Method)
Instructor	NAGAI, Tetsuro@CHEN, Tien Shi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Direct Method

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed the Chinese I course or who possess an equivalent level of proficiency. Each lesson includes dialogues and communicative activities, such as role-plays, grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks, covering a wide range of practical language functions (e.g., asking questions, accepting or refusing requests, and talking about oneself). The course also develops students' lexical, grammatical, and phonetic knowledge. Students are expected to participate actively in class and to use Chinese as much as possible throughout the course.

Objectives: By the end of the semester, students will be able to communicate in a wider range of everyday situations using Chinese. The course aims to help students master essential grammar and develop intermediate-level language proficiency. Particular emphasis will be placed on the development of accurate pronunciation throughout the course.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for each class session. Active participation is an essential component of this course. Students are responsible for completing any assignments and preparation tasks assigned by the instructor(s) prior to class.

Before class: Students should spend approximately 30 minutes reviewing the materials and topics covered in the previous class.

After class: Students should complete assigned homework, when applicable, and spend approximately 30 minutes to 1 hour reviewing the materials and topics covered in class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction and lesson 21
[Week 2] Lessons 22-23
[Week 3] Lessons 24-25
[Week 4] Review 5; Lesson 26
[Week 5] Lessons 27-28; Vocabulary Test
[Week 6] Lessons 29-30
[Week 7] Review 6; Lesson 31
[Week 8] Mid-term; Lesson 32
[Week 9] Lessons 33-34
[Week 10] Lesson 35; Review 7
[Week 11] Lessons 36-37; Vocabulary Test
[Week 12] Lessons 38-39
[Week 13] Lesson 40; Review 8
[Week 14] Final Exam

*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 『漢語会話301句 第4版 下冊』日文注釈本(北京大学出版社 2015年)

Note: The primary textbook used in this course contains instructions in Japanese. To ensure accessibility for students from diverse linguistic backgrounds, an English-language version of the instructional materials is available.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL:

Eligibility for Enrollment
1. Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a particular course is appropriate for their level of Chinese proficiency may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment.
2. Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency.
Notes for Enrollment
1. Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines at the following link:
https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMl1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=drive_link
2. If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi Chen, at lara@waseda.jp

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014500|01|210C014500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Russian II 01
Instructor	NAKAZAWA, Tomoko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is the intermediate level of "Russian as a foreign language" for students who have learnt the primary level of the language in the previous semester. The students in this semester will continue to build on their proficiency in Russian grammar and conversation skills by using the same textbook that was used in autumn semester.
The lessons are taught in Russian, English and Japanese. The teaching level in the class will mostly be based on the students' current grammar level and it will advance as they make progress.

Objectives: The textbook consists of 21 chapters and the chapters that were not covered in the previous semester will be taught in this semester. By the end of the semester, the students will be expected to learn approximately 900 Russian words and all key concepts of Russian grammar, enabling them to express themselves clearly and fluently in Russian.

before/after course of study: For fluency in Russian, the students should memorize the conjugations of verbs and learn how the forms of nouns and noun equivalents change according to the context. The students will find it useful to refer to the grammar tables given at the end of the textbook.
Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 90-120 min. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule The numbers below indicate the course schedule. However, this lesson plan is suggestive as the schedule will depend mainly on the students' understanding and progress.
Complete adherence to this lesson plan may not be possible as spring semester is more likely to start with the chapters that were not taught in the previous semester.

1, 2: "Step 11" (С т у п е н ь 11)
The Future Tense 2. The perfective verbs. Ways of expressing time: "a week (mouth, year) ago"; "in a week (month, year)". Verbs "to call/name ? to be called/named". Verbs with suffixes – о в а –/ – е в а –. Verbs borrowed from other languages.

3-5: "Step 12" (С т у п е н ь 12)
The prepositional case denoting the object of speech or thought. The preposition "about". The prepositional case of personal and possessive pronouns. The prepositional Plural of nouns, adjectives, possessive pronouns. Verbs with particle "– с я " Part 1. Meaning: the reciprocal action. Complex sentence expressing consequence: "therefore". Consequence and reason.

6, 7: "Step 13" (С т у п е н ь 13)
The Dative Singular of nouns, adjectives, personal and possessive pronouns. The Dative case. Government. The Imperative. Ways of expressing motivation to do smth together. Verbs with suffix – в а –. Expressing intensification: "so + adjective/ noun/ adverb/ verb". Ways to convey your own opinion.

8-10: "Step 14" (С т у п е н ь 14)
Verbs of motion. Part 1. Types and kinds of movement. Motion in one direction. The description of movement in the Present, the Past and the Future Tenses. The Accusative case denoting direction. Question "where to?". Ways of expressing time: months. The Instrumental Plural of nouns, adjectives, possessive and demonstrative pronouns. Reasoning: "on the one hand…, on the other hand…".

11-13: "Step 15" (С т у п е н ь 15)
Verbs of motion. Pert 2. Movement in different directions. Regular movement. Ways of express the purpose of movement. The Instrumental case without preposition. Ways of expressing time: the time period without preposition, with prepositions "by", "for". Enumeration: "firstly, secondly…". Review.

14: Mid-term exam.

15, 16: "Step 16" (С т у п е н ь 16)
Verbs of motion. Movement "with context". Aspect of verbs of motion. The Genitive case denoting possession, absence after 2, 3, 4. The Genitive Singular of adjectives, possessive and demonstrative pronouns. The construction “neither… nor…”. Ways of expressing in location: far (not far), nearby, on the right (left), near, opposite, close. Cases governed by them. Complex sentence expressing wish.

17, 18: “Step 17” (Ступень 17)
Verbs of motion with the prefixes. Part 1. Verbs “to come”, “to leave”. Cases and prepositions governed by the verbs of motion. Difference in meaning. Complex sentence expressing intensification: ”so…that…”.

19, 20: “Step 18” (Ступень 18)
The Genitive Plural of nouns, adjectives, possessive and demonstrative pronouns. The Accusative Plural of nouns, adjectives, possessive and demonstrative pronouns. The Dative Plural of nouns, adjectives, possessive and demonstrative pronouns. Ways of expressing time: approximation (hours). Direct and Indirect speech. Ways of transformation. Complex sentence expressing uncertainly: “weather”, “if”.

21, 22: “Step 19” (Ступень 19)
Comparison. Part 3. Comparison degree: adjectives, adverbs. Ways of expressing time: date. Ways of expressing reason: “because of,” “thanks to”. Complex sentence. Reason. Complex sentence expressing concession: “although”, “in spite of”.

23–25: “Step 20” (Ступень 20)
Verbs with article “–ся”. Part 2. Verbs with and without the particle –ся. The Prepositions of place: “above”, “under”, “in front of”, “behind”. Ways of expressing time. Construction “one+ (hour, day, week…) before smth”. Complex sentence expressing the unreal condition.

26, 27: “Step 21” (Ступень 21)
Complex sentence expressing description: “which”. Verbs of motion with prefixes. Part 2. Ways of expressing time: ”date + month + year”. Using the Genitive case of the personal pronouns with the numerals. Review.

28: Final exam.

Language: English

Textbooks: Аникина М. Н. Лестница: учебник по русскому языку для начинающих (For English-speaking students). 2-е изд. и доп. М., 2018
ISBN 9785883373670 R139261
アニーキナM.N. ステップ：初心者のためのロシア語教科書（ゼロから基礎レベルまで）（CD付）

References: An extensive selection of additional sources and materials for learning and practising Russian will be introduced during the course. These resources will be shared regularly with students via Moodle to support independent study and reinforce classroom learning.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free- The final grade for the course will be based on the students’ performance in the mid-term and final exams (75%) and active participation in the class (25%).

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014500|51|210C014500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Russian II 51
Instructor	SHADRINA, Elena
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.1@02:Thur.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Р у с с к и й я з ы к

Course Outline: This course is a continuation of Russian I and is designed to further develop students' foundational knowledge of Russian as a foreign language. It focuses on strengthening grammatical competence, expanding active vocabulary, and enhancing communicative skills across a wider range of everyday situations. Particular emphasis is placed on improving speaking and listening abilities, while also consolidating reading and writing skills, in order to enable students to participate more confidently in routine social and academic interactions.

Objectives: Course Objectives
By the end of the semester, students will:
・Consolidate and extend their knowledge of Russian grammar at the elementary level.
・Expand their active vocabulary to approximately 1,300 lexical units.
・Master a wider range of speech etiquette for everyday social interaction.
・Strengthen listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills in Russian for practical communication.
・Develop confidence in initiating and sustaining dialogues in common social and academic contexts.
・Gain familiarity with cultural aspects of Russian society relevant to everyday interaction.

Expected Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:
・Reading: Read short, simple texts drawn from a variety of everyday and adapted sources.
・Listening: Comprehend key information in audio and video materials on familiar topics, including references to place, time, and cause.
・Speaking: Initiate and maintain dialogues in predictable situations (friends, family, studies, work, hometown, health, weather, leisure activities).
・Writing: Produce short texts such as personal letters, memos, and greeting cards with basic accuracy.
・Interpretation: Summarise and present the main content of short texts in oral or written form.
・Cross-cultural competence: Understand and respond appropriately to basic socio-cultural conventions in everyday communication.

before/after course of study: This course is designed for beginners and integrates classroom learning activities with independent study. Classroom sessions make use of audio and video materials organised around scheduled themes and are supplemented by regular evaluations, including quizzes on vocabulary and grammar. Students are required to complete compulsory homework assignments and to engage in self-study using the recommended textbook, distributed materials, and online resources. The primary language of instruction is English, with occasional explanations provided in Japanese. Russian will be progressively introduced as a medium of communication during class in order to enhance language immersion.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule The class meets twice per week. The following is a tentative schedule, subject to adjustment depending on the pace of study. References to the corresponding study materials from the recommended textbook are provided in brackets. Week 1 Future tense. The perfective aspect of verbs. Expressions of time: week, month, year. Past and Future. The verbs "to call/ to name and to be called/ to be named". The nouns "name – title". Verbs borrowed from other languages. Verbs with suffixes –о в а–; (–е в а –) (С т у п е н ь 11).

Week 2 Prepositional case in the meaning of the object of thoughts or speech. Personal and demonstrative pronouns. Prepositional case; plural; nouns, adjectives, possessive pronouns. Verbs with the participle "–с я", meaning reciprocal action. Complex sentence: consequence. Conjuncture "therefore" (С т у п е н ь 12).

Week 3 Dative case: nouns, adjectives, personal and possessive pronouns. The usage of some verbs. Imperative. Expressions to motivate someone to do something together. Expressions of intensification. The phrases with "so", "such". Expressions to convey someone's opinion (С т у п е н ь 13).

Week 4 Verbs of motion. Part 1. Accusative case. The question "What way?". Expressions of time: months. Instrumental case; plural; nouns, adjectives, possessive pronouns. Argumentation: phrase "on the one hand", "on the other hand" (С т у п е н ь 14).

Week 5 Verbs of motion. Part 2. Regular movement. Instrumental case without prepositions. Expressions of time. The period of time without prepositions and with prepositions "by", "for". Reasoning: in the first place, in the second place… (Ступень 15).

Week 6 Verbs of motion. Part 3. Past and future. Genitive case: meaning of absence; expressions in present, past and future tense. The phrase "neither …, nor…" Expressions of positions: nearby, near, on the right, on the left. The expressions of desire. The conjunction "that" (Ступень 16).

Week 7 Midterm examination.

Week 8 Verbs of motion with prefixes. Part 1. The verbs "to come", "to leave". Cases and prepositions with verbs of motions. Complex sentence: expressions of intention (Ступень 17).

Week 9 Genitive case: plural; nouns, adjectives, possessive pronouns. Accusative case: plural; nouns, adjectives, possessive pronouns. Dative case: plural; nouns, adjectives, possessive pronouns. Indirect speech. The particle "whether". Complex sentences. Expressions of uncertainty; particles "whether", "if" (Ступень 18).

Week 10 Comparative degree: adjectives and adverbs. Expressions of time: date. Complex sentences: concession. The conjunction "although", "in spite of" (Ступень 19).

Week 11 Verbs with and without participle "-ся". Pronouns "oneself" and "one's". Prepositions of place: above, below, in front of, behind. Complex sentence; unreal condition (Ступень 20).

Week 12 Complex sentences with the word "which". Verbs of motion. Part 2. Expressions of time: date, month, year (Ступень 21).

Week 13 Final examination.

Week 14 Review of final examination results, feedback, Q&A.

Language: English

Textbooks: Аникина М. Н. Лестница: учебник по русскому языку для начинающих (For English-speaking students). 2-е изд. и доп. М., 2018
ISBN 9785883373670 R139261
アニーキナM.N. ステップ：初心者のためのロシア語教科書（ゼロから基礎レベルまで）（CD付）

The SILS library has a reserve copy of the textbook.

Please do NOT purchase the textbook before the first class.

References: An extensive range of supplementary sources and resources for learning and practising the Russian language will be introduced during class sessions and shared regularly via Moodle.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0：評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	50	20 midterm examination 30 final examination
Papers:	20	regular written home assignments; some results to be shared in the class
Class contribution:	25	active engagement in in-class activities
Others:	5	constructive collaboration on improving the course content

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014600|01|210C014600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean II 01
Instructor	ANN, Eunhee@NAKAZATO, Hisaya
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean II is for students who have completed Korean I. In this course, students will learn advanced verb endings, classifiers, and different verbal modifiers. The course is team-taught, and is conducted in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues.

Objectives: Upon the completion of Korean II, students will have intermediate-level proficiency in speaking, reading, and writing. Students will be prepared for ハングル検定。

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Lesson 11 Dialogue with friends
Connective ending, futuretenses
2. Practice grammar patterns

Week 2
1. Lesson 12 Dialogue on being late
Negationand future tenses
2. Lesson 12 Practice grammar patterns, Review the spoken core conversation

Week 3
1. Lesson 13 Dialogueabout Hangeul
Quantifiers, classifiers,cardinal numbers
2. Lesson 13 Reviewthe main dialogue, causal conjunctive verb endings

Week 4
1. Lesson 13 Practice and utilization
2. Lesson 14 Dialogueon weekly schedules

Week 5
1. Lesson 14 Reviewvocabulary, ㄷirregular ending, politeinterrogative endings
2. Lesson 14 Practiceverb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 14 Review grammar patterns, Practice
2. Lesson 14 Practiceutilization questions

Week 7
1. Lesson 15 Dialogueon daily schedules, Grammar
2. Lesson 15 Honorifics,time particles, adverbials

Week 8
1. Lesson 15 Practiceutilization questions
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 11-15

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 16 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Lesson 16, Practice past tense formation, vowelharmonization, utilization questions

Week 10
1. Lesson 17 Dialogue, past-tense formation,modifiers
2. Lesson 17 Continue on past-tense endings

Week 11

1. Lesson 17 Practicepast tense verb endings
2. Lesson 17 Practiceutilization questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 18 Dialogue on the past completed actions,Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 18 Grammar,Practice, Utilization

Week 13
1. Lesson 19 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
2. Lesson 19 Grammar, Practice honorifics, nominalizers

Week 14
Final Examination

Language: Japanese

Textbooks:

[KOREAN] by M. Rhee, Hakueisha, 2023 available at Seibundo 成文堂 located near the front gate or just across the Cafe125.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	70	Mid-term and Final Examinations including Spoken and Written sections.
Class contribution:	30	Attendance

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014600|02|210C014600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean II 02
Instructor	JUN, Dongwon@NAKAZATO, Hisaya
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: KoreanII is for students who have completed Korean I. In this course, students will learn advanced verb endings, classifiers,and different verbal modifiers. The course is team-taught, and is conducted inboth English and Japanese. Each lessonis divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3)Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4)Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues.

Objectives: Students will achieve intermediate-level proficiency and will be prepared to take the Hanguel Kentei Test.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Lesson 11 Dialoguewith friends
Connective ending, futuretenses
2. Practice grammar patterns

Week 2
1. Lesson 12 Dialogue on being late
Negation and future tenses
2. Lesson 12 Practice grammar patterns, Review the spokencore conversation

Week 3
1. Lesson 13 Dialogueabout Hangeul
Quantifiers, classifiers, cardinal numbers
2. Lesson 13 Reviewthe main dialogue, causal conjunctive verb endings

Week 4
1. Lesson 13 Practice and utilization
2. Lesson 14 Dialogueon weekly schedules

Week 5
1. Lesson 14 Review vocabulary, ㄷirregular ending, polite interrogative endings
2. Lesson 14 Practiceverb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 14 Review grammar patterns, Practice
2. Lesson 14 Practiceutilization questions

Week 7
1. Lesson 15 Dialogueon daily schedules, Grammar
2. Lesson 15 Honorifics, time particles, adverbials

Week 8
1. Lesson 15 Practice utilization questions
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 11-15

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 16 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Lesson 16, Practice past tense formation, vowel harmonization, utilization questions

Week 10
1. Lesson 17 Dialogue, past-tense formation,modifiers
2. Lesson 17 Continue on past-tense endings

Week 11

1. Lesson 17 Practicepast tense verb endings
2. Lesson 17 Practice utilization questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 18 Dialogue on the past completed actions, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 18 Grammar, Practice, Utilization

Week 13
1. Lesson 19 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
2. Lesson 19 Grammar, Practice honorifics, nominalizers

Week 14
Final Examination

Language:	Japanese
Textbooks:	「Korean」 by M Rhee (Hakueisha, 2023) is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 near the front gate or at the corner of Cafe 125.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	70	Mid-term and final exam including spoken and written tests
Class contribution:	30	Attendance

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014600|51|210C014600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean II 51
Instructor	KISHI, Kanako@KAIMORI, Tokiko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: KoreanII is for students who have completed Korean I. In this course, students will learn advanced verb endings, classifiers,and different verbal modifiers. The course is team-taught, and is conducted Japanese. Each lessonis divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3)Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4)Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues.

Objectives: Upon the completion of Korean II, students will have intermediate-level proficiency in speaking, reading, and writing. For a detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to Moodle.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Lesson 11 Dialogue with friends
Connective ending, futuretenses
2. Practice grammar patterns

Week 2
1. Lesson 12 Dialogue on being late
Negationand future tenses
2. Lesson 12 Practice grammar patterns, Review the spoken core conversation

Week 3
1. Lesson 13 Dialogue about Hangeul
Quantifiers, classifiers, cardinalnumbers
2. Lesson 13 Review the main dialogue, causal conjunctive verb endings

Week 4
1. Lesson 13 Practice and utilization
2. Lesson 14 Dialogueon weekly schedules

Week 5
1. Lesson 14 Reviewvocabulary, ㄷirregular ending, politeinterrogative endings
2. Lesson 14 Practiceverb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 14 Review grammar patterns, Practice
2. Lesson 14 Practice utilization questions

Week 7
1. Lesson 15 Dialogueon daily schedules, Grammar
2. Lesson 15 Honorifics, time particles, adverbials

Week 8
1. Lesson 15 Practice utilization questions
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 11-15

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 16 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Lesson 16, Practice past tense formation, vowelharmonization, utilization questions

Week 10
1. Lesson 17 Dialogue, past-tense formation,modifiers
2. Lesson 17 Continue on past-tense endings

Week 11

1. Lesson 17 Practice past tense verb endings
2. Lesson 17 Practiceutilization questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 18 Dialogue on the past completed actions,Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 18 Grammar,Practice, Utilization

Week 13
1. Lesson 19 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
2. Lesson 19 Grammar, Practice honorifics, nominalizers

Week 14
1. Lesson 20 Dialogue using connective endings andadjectival markers
2. Lesson 20 Vocabulary,Grammar, Practice utilization question

Final Examination

Language: Japanese/Korean

Textbooks:

[KOREAN] by M. Rhee, Hakueisha, 2023 available at Seibundo 成文堂 located near the front gate or just across the Cafe125.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	70	Mid-term and Final Examinations including Spoken and Written sections
Class contribution:	30	Quizzes, assignments, and class participation

Note/URL: Inquires related to the class content in English, please feel free to visit Building 11-1335 during Tuesday lunch hours.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014600|52|210C014600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean II 52
Instructor	TATSUNO, Sayo
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean II is for students who have completed Korean I. In this course, students will learn advanced verb endings, classifiers, and different verbal modifiers. The course is team-taught and is conducted in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Lesson 11 Dialoguewith friends
Connective ending, futuretenses
2. Practice grammar patterns

Week 2
1. Lesson 12 Dialogue on being late
Negation and future tenses
2. Lesson 12 Practice grammar patterns, Review the spokencore conversation

Week 3
1. Lesson 13 Dialogueabout Hangeul
Quantifiers, classifiers, cardinal numbers
2. Lesson 13 Reviewthe main dialogue, causal conjunctive verb endings

Week 4
1. Lesson 13 Practice and utilization
2. Lesson 14 Dialogueon weekly schedules

Week 5
1. Lesson 14 Review vocabulary, ㄷirregular ending, polite interrogative endings
2. Lesson 14 Practiceverb endings.

Week 6
1. Lesson 14 Review grammar patterns, Practice
2. Lesson 14 Practiceutilization questions

Week 7
1. Lesson 15 Dialogueon daily schedules, Grammar
2. Lesson 15 Honorifics, time particles, adverbials

Week 8
1. Lesson 15 Practice utilization questions
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 11-15

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 16 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Lesson 16, Practice past tense formation, vowel harmonization, utilization questions

Week 10
1. Lesson 17 Dialogue, past-tense formation,modifiers
2. Lesson 17 Continue on past-tense endings

Week 11
1. Lesson 17 Practicepast tense verb endings

2. Lesson 17 Practice utilization questions

Week 12
1. Lesson 18 Dialogue on the past completed actions, Vocabulary, Grammar
2. Lesson 18 Grammar, Practice, Utilization

Week 13
1. Lesson 19 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
2. Lesson 19 Grammar, Practice honorifics, nominalizers

Week 14
Final Examination

Language: Japanese

Textbooks:

「Korean」 by M Rhee (Hakueisha, 2023) is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 near the front gate or at the corner of Cafe 125.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Grading

Grading is based on the comprehensive evaluation which includes attendance, frequency of tardy, completion of the assignments, general attitude in the class, mid-term, and final examination. When and if absence becomes conspicuous, names will be deleted from the roster. Absence caused by illness or job hunting would be exempted the attendance policy.

The course is team taught by two faculty members. Students are obliged to attend classes taught by both faculty members. When and if students only attend one class session taught by a faculty member and neglect to attend the other class, students would not receive any credit. Even if a student receives a passing grade from the final examination, neglecting to attend both classes taught by both faculty members would be nullified.

Students at SILS tend to be late and do not seem to carefully prepare for the class. Each student shall be responsible for his/her general study habit such as reviewing and following the curriculum and organize study materials. Moreover, each student should not forget to bring required textbooks.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C014600|53|210C014600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean II 53
Instructor	KIM, Shinyoung
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean II is for students who have completed Korean I. In this course, students will learn advanced verb endings, classifiers, and different verbal modifiers. The course is conducted in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues.

Objectives: Upon the completion of Korean II, students will have the intermediate level proficiency in speaking, reading, and writing. For the detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Week 1

1. Lesson 11 Dialogue with friends Connective ending, future tenses
2. Practice grammar patterns

Week 2

1. Lesson 12 Dialogue on being late Negation and future tenses
2. Lesson 12 Practice grammar patterns, Review the spoken core conversations

Week 3

1. Lesson 13 Dialogue about Hangeul Quantifiers, classifiers, cardinal numbers
2. Lesson 13 Review the main dialogue, causal conjunctive verb

Week 4

1. Lesson 13 Practice and Utilization2. Lesson 14 Dialogue on weekly schedules

Week 5

1. Lesson 14 Review vocabulary, ㄷ irregular ending, polite interrogative endings 2. Lesson 14 Practice verb endings

Week 6

1. Lesson 14 Review grammar patterns, Practice 2. Lesson 14 Practice utilization questions

Week 7

1. Lesson 15 Dialogue on daily schedules, Grammar 2. Lesson 15 Honorifics, time particle, and adverbials

Week 8

1. Lesson 15 Practice utilization questions 2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written from Lesson 11-15

Week 9

1. Review Mid-term, Lesson 16 Dialogue, Vocabulary 2. Lesson 16, Practice past tense formation, vowel harmonization

Week 10

1. Lesson 17 Dialogue, past tense formation, modifiers2. Lesson 17 Continue on past tense endings

Week 11

1. Lesson 17 Practice past tense verb endings2. Lesson 17 Practice utilization questions

Week 12

1. Lesson 18 Diaglouge on the past completed actions, Vocabulary, Grammar2. Lesson 18 Grammar, Practice, Utilization

Week 13

1. Lesson 19 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary, Grammar2. Lesson 19 Grammar, Practice honorifics, nominalizers

Week 14

1. Lesson 20 Dialogue using connective endings and adjectival markers 2. Lesson 20 Vocabulary, Grammar, Practice utilization questions
Final Examination

第15回

第16回

第17回

第18回

第19回

第20回

第21回

第22回

第23回

第24回

第25回

第26回

第27回

第28回

Language:	Japanese
Textbooks:	Korean by M. Rhee, Hakusuisha (2003) available at Seibundo 成文堂 located near the front gate across Cafe 125.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	70	Mid-term and Final Examinations including Spoken and Written sections
Class contribution:	30	Attendance and Participation

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015100|01|210C015100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French III 01
Instructor	HAYASHI, Yuki
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed the equivalent of French II level and who want to acquire a solid competence in French during their undergraduate studies, possibly in order to study abroad in a French-speaking country(France, Switzerland, Belgium, Canada, Africa...) either at undergraduate(Sciences Po, Geneva University, Brussels University, Montreal University...)or graduate level (Sciences Po Paris, Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies of Geneva...). Ideally, students should minimally graduate as trilingual (Japanese/English/French) citizens in order to work or study further at an international level.
The textbook used for this course is published in France (Inspire 3) and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches. Each lesson includes dialogues and activities(role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of "know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something,talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. Students are expected to be active in class, revise and study at home, and use French as much as possible.

Objectives: At the end of the semester students should be able to pass the examination Delf B1.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes.
Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1-L2-L3
W2: L4-L5-L6
W3: L7-L8-L9
W4: L10-L11-L12
W5: L13-L14-L15
W6: L16-L17-L18
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8: L19-L20-L21
W9: L22-L23-L24
W10: L25-L26-L27
W11: L28-L29-L30
W12: L31-L32-L33
W13: L34-L35-L36
W14: FinalExamination

*Thisschedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/French

Textbooks: Inspire 3 (Paris: Hachette).

References: N/A.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015100|51|210C015100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French III 51
Instructor	HAYASHI, Yuki
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course isdesigned for students who have completed the equivalent of French II level andwho want to acquire a solid competence in French during their undergraduatestudies, possibly in order to study abroad in a French-speaking country(France, Switzerland, Belgium, Canada, Africa...) either at undergraduate(Sciences Po, Geneva University, Brussels University, Montreal University...)or graduate level (Sciences Po Paris, Graduate Institute of International andDevelopment Studies of Geneva...). Ideally, students should minimally graduateas trilingual (Japanese/English/French) citizens in order to work or studyfurther at an international level.
The textbook used for this course is published inFrance (Inspire 3) and is essentially based on the principles of thecommunicative approaches. Each lesson includes dialogues and activities(role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) coveringa wide range of "know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something,talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. Students are expected to be active in class, revise andstudy at home, and use French as much as possible.

Objectives: At the end of the semester students should be able to pass the examination Delf B1.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes.
Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1-L2-L3
W2: L4-L5-L6
W3: L7-L8-L9
W4: L10-L11-L12
W5: L13-L14-L15
W6: L16-L17-L18
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8: L19-L20-L21
W9: L22-L23-L24
W10: L25-L26-L27
W11: L28-L29-L30
W12: L31-L32-L33
W13: L34-L35-L36
W14: FinalExamination

*Thisschedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/French

Textbooks: Inspire 3 (Paris: Hachette).

References: N/A.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015200|51|210C015200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	German III 51
Instructor	NUNOKAWA, Yasuko@NICKEL, Frank
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course further deepens the knowledge of German grammar and communicative skills acquired in German II. It introduces a variety of features of modern German at the A2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

The course combines the benefits of face-to-face classes with a digital learning environment with elements of gamification which enables students to learn and practice at anytime at anyplace. Instead of a single final exam, student's progress is continuously evaluated in a fair and stress-free manner. Teachers in the German program are continuously monitoring students' performance, provide regular feedback and actively support students with regard to competences development.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Objectives: By the end of the semester, students will achieve, besides active competence for daily communication, the tools to understand easy texts in newspapers, magazines etc.

before/after course of study: Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.

Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.

Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Willkommen in A2
[Week 2] Unit 1
[Week 3] Unit 1, Vocabulary Test Unit 1
[Week 4] Unit 2
[Week 5] Unit 2, Vocabulary Test Unit 2
[Week 6] Unit 3
[Week 7] Unit 3, Vocabulary Test Unit 3
[Week 8] Station 1
[Week 9] Unit 4
[Week10] Unit 4, Vocabulary Test Unit 4
[Week11] Unit 5
[Week12] Unit 5, Vocabulary Test Unit 5
[Week13] Unit 6
[Week14] Unit 6, Station 2, Vocabulary Test Unit 6

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A2: Gesamtband.
Additional material will be provided through Waseda Moodle and a learning platform.

References: 中島・平尾・朝倉著:「改訂版 必携 ドイツ文法総まとめ」(白水社)
Sabine Dinsel, Lukas Mayrhofer (2017): Deutsch Übungsbuch Grammatik A1-A2. Hueber Verlag.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams (written or oral). If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 15% Vocabulary tests – 15% Final exam – 20% Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 25% Vocabulary tests – 25%
Note/URL:	Information on the German program: https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/ 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015300|01|210C015300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish III 01
Instructor	FOWLER, Arthur@SOTO MEJIA, Maria Irina
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Spanish (English may be used when it is effective).

Spanish III is a third-semester Spanish language course designed for those who have taken Spanish Intensive I or Spanish II. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students who have already taken two semesters of Spanish (Spanish I and II) to improve listening, speaking, reading and writing skills in Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course not only continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet, but also serves as a step to an intermediate level of the language.

Objectives: Through this third-semester course, students will not only continue to develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of SpanishⅢ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general. In addition, this course prepares students to be ready to take an intermediate level (SpanishⅣ).

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Schedule: This schedule is provisional andsubject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class1] Introducción, Presentaciones, Unidad 1 Unnuevo curso
[Class2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Mi familiay mis amigos
[Class6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi barrio
[Class10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term examination, Give comments andfeedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class15 & 16] Unidad 4 Mi tiempo libre
[Class17 & 18] Unidad 4,
[Class19 & 20] Unidad5 Mi último viaje
[Class21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6 Alimentación
[Class23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final examination, Give comments andfeedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.

Language: Spanish

Textbooks: ¡Muy bien! Curso de español 2, Segunda edición
Juan Carlos Moyano López, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo, and Yoshimi Hiroyasu
(Editorial Asahi, 2024) ISBN 978-4-255-55156-2

References: Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	80	One mid-term examination 30% One final examination 50%
Others:	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL: Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015300|51|210C015300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish III 51
Instructor	FOWLER, Arthur
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Thur.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:
【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in Spanish.

Spanish III is a third-semester Spanish language course designed for those who have taken Spanish Intensive I or Spanish II. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. This course is designed to enable students who have already taken two semesters of Spanish (Spanish I and II) to improve listening, speaking, reading and writing skills in Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course not only continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet, but also serves as a step to an intermediate level of the language.

Objectives:
Through this third-semester course, students will not only continue to develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅲ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general. In addition, this course prepares students to be ready to take an intermediate level (Spanish Ⅳ).

before/after course of study:
It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:
1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Schedule: This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class1] Introducción, Unidad 1 Un nuevo curso
[Class2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Mi familia y mis amigos
[Class6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi barrio
[Class10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class12 & 13] Unidad 3, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term examination, Give comments and feedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class15 & 16] Unidad 4 Mi tiempo libre
[Class17 & 18] Unidad 4,
[Class19 & 20] Unidad 5 Mi último viaje
[Class21 & 22] Unidad 5, Unidad 6 Alimentación
[Class23 & 24] Unidad 6
[Class25 & 26] Unidad 6
[Class27] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 28] Final examination, Give comments and feedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:
Spanish

Textbooks:
¡Muy bien! Curso de español 2, Segunda edición
Juan Carlos Moyano López, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo, and Yoshimi Hiroyasu
(Editorial Asahi, 2024) ISBN 978-4-255-55156-2.

References:
Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:
0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams :	80	Mid-term examination 40% Final examination 40%
Others :	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL : Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015400|01|210C015400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese III 01
Instructor	IGUCHI, Hirofumi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is an opportunity for non-native Chinese speakers to apply the basic language skills you have acquired over the past 1 to 2 years. Even if you are unsure about your basic academic ability, you can improve while taking the course. You have a lot of work to do during class, so you are going to use your own computer all the time.

Objectives: (1) Reading contemporary articles in Chinese precisely.
(2) To express yourself in Chinese.
(3) Using computers and the Internet as your assistant.

before/after course of study: Prepare and review at least 2 hours for a week outside of class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Each 100-minute period mainly consists of three parts.
Part 1 “Reading”: 35 minutes or more. Students select articles that are available for free and read them all at once, checking for grammar.
Part 2 “Essay”: 35 minutes or more. Create a question and answer of approximately 120 characters regarding the article in Part 1.
Part 3 “Preparation for various certification exams”: 30 minutes or less. The expected level is 3rd to 2nd grade for the Chinese Language Proficiency Test (Chuken) and 4th to 5th grade for the Chinese Language Level Examination (HSK). Other than that, students' wishes will be respected to the extent possible, just as you can also use materials you have chosen.

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: Printed material

References: Wikipedia and other websites

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Class contribution: 100 Class participation and assignments.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015400|51|210C015400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese III 51
Instructor	IGUCHI, Hirofumi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is an opportunity for non-native Chinese speakers to apply the basic language skills you have acquired over the past 1 to 2 years.
Even if you are unsure about your basic academic ability, you can improve while taking the course.
You have a lot of work to do during class, so you are going to use your own computer all the time.

Objectives: (1) Reading contemporary articles in Chinese precisely.
(2) To express yourself in Chinese.
(3) Using computers and the Internet as your assistant.

before/after course of study: Prepare and review at least 100 minutes for a week outside of class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Each 100-minuteclass time slot consists of the following 3 main parts.
Part 1“Reading”: 20 minutes or more. Students select articles that are available forfree and read them, checking for grammar.
Part 2 “Essay”:60 minutes or more. Ask 3 polemical questions and write answers ofapproximately 120 characters regarding the article in Part 1. Students willanswer about 30 to 40 questions throughout the semester.
Part 3“Preparation for various certification exams”: 20 minutes or less. The expectedlevel is 3rd to 2nd grade for the Chinese Language Proficiency Test (Chuken)and 4th to 5th grade for the Chinese Language Level Examination (HSK). Otherthan that, students' wishes will be respected to the extent possible, just asyou can also use materials you have chosen.

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: Printed material

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: 50% for works, 50% for exams. The examinations consist of recitations and writing down self-created questions and answers, and can be taken on your preferred date with the instructor's consent, approximately three times.

Note/URL: Eligibility for Enrollment
Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a course is appropriate for their language proficiency level may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment.
*Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency.Notes for Enrollment:

(1) Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines here:
https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMl1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=sharing

(2) If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi CHEN, at lara@waseda.jp

Students are expected to attend classes regularly and punctually.
The instructor's explanations are mostly in Japanese.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。

履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015400|52|210C015400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese III 52
Instructor	NAGAI, Tetsuro@HAN, Yue
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for students who have completed Chinese I and Chinese II. The course is taught by two instructors and consists of a “Reading and Writing class” and a “Listening and Speaking class”.
In the Reading class, students will develop their reading comprehension skills using materials at approximately the HSK Level 4 standard. In the Speaking class, listening materials are provided particularly for students who need additional support in listening comprehension. Regular oral presentations are incorporated to enhance speaking proficiency. In preparation for future study abroad opportunities, practice exercises for the HSK examination will also be included.

Objectives: The course aims to develop students’ beginner to intermediate Chinese proficiency by improving the four language skills of reading, writing, speaking, and listening. Students are expected to work toward passing Level 3 of the Chinese Proficiency Test (中国語検定) and HSK Levels 4. Alongside language learning, students will deepen their understanding of Chinese culture and society.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to spend approximately 100 minutes on preparatory and review activities for each class, including reading comprehension exercises, listening practice, and assignment preparation.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

[Week1]《成功之路》: Lesson 1/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 1-2/Oral presentation

[Week2]《成功之路》: Lesson 2/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 3-4/Oral presentation

[Week3]《成功之路》: Lesson 3/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 5-6/Oral presentation

[Week4]《成功之路》: Lesson 4/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 7-8/Oral presentation

[Week5]《成功之路》: Lesson 5/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 9-10/Oral presentation

[Week6]《成功之路》: Lesson 6/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 11-12/Oral presentation

[Week7]《成功之路》: Review of Lessons 1-6 and Midterm Examination
『中国語リスニング道場』: Review and Summary/Oral presentation

[Week8]《成功之路》: Lesson 7/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 13-14/Oral presentation

[Week9]《成功之路》: Lesson 8/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 15-16/Oral presentation

[Week10]《成功之路》: Lesson 9/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 17-18/Oral presentation

[Week11]《成功之路》: Lesson 10/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 19-20/Oral presentation

[Week12]《成功之路》: Lesson 11/『中国語リスニング道場』: Lessons 21-22/Oral presentation

[Week13]《成功之路》: Lesson 12/『中国語リスニング道場』: Review and Summary/
Oral presentation

[Week14]《成功之路》: Final Examination/『中国語リスニング道場』: Final Review and Summary/Oral presentation

Language: Japanese/Englis
h

Textbooks: 1『成功之路』北京語言大学出版
2『中国語リスニング道場』朝日出版社

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 50 Paper test

Others: 50 Class participation and assignments

Note/URL: Eligibility for Enrollment
Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a course is appropriate for their language proficiency level may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment.
*Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency.
Notes for Enrollment:
(1)Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines here:
https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMl1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=drive_link
(2)If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi CHEN, at lara@waseda.jp.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

Https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015600|01|210C015600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean III 01
Instructor	NAKAZATO, Hisaya@ANN, Eunhee
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean III is for students who have completed Korean II. In this course, students will learn advanced verb endings, classifiers,and different verbal modifiers. The course is team-taught, and is conducted inboth English and Japanese. Each lessonis divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3)Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4)Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues.

Objectives: Upon the completion of Korean III, students will have advanced or near-native-level proficiency in speaking, reading, and writing. For a detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to Moodle.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Lesson 21 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Practice grammar patterns and utilizationquestions

Week 2
1. Lesson 22 Dialogue, Vocabulary
2. Lesson 22 Practice grammar patterns, Review the spokencore conversation

Week 3
1. Lesson 23 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Lesson 23 Reviewthe main dialogue, 르/ㅂirregularverb endings

Week 4
1. Lesson 23 Practice and utilization
2. Lesson 24 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Conjunctiveadverbials

Week 5
1. Lesson 24 Reviewvocabulary, irregular endings
2. Lesson 24 Practice utilization questions

Week 6
1. Lesson 25 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Grammar, Adverbial prefix
2. Lesson 25 Practiceverb endings

Week 7
1. Lesson 25 Utilization questions
2. Lesson 26 Dialogue,Vocabulary, Grammar

Week 8
1. Lesson 26 Practice utilization questions
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 21-25

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Continue Lesson 26 ㅅirregular endings
2. Lesson 27 Dialogue,Vocabulary

Week 10
1. Lesson 27 Practice terminative endings, 르 rregular endings
2. Lesson 27 Practice utilization questions

Week 11
1. Lesson 28 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Lesson 28 Practice causation endings, indirect quotes

Week 12
1. Lesson 28 More practice on indirect quotes
2. Lesson 29 Dialogue,Vocabulary, Grammar

Week 13
1. Lesson 29 Practiceutilization questions
2. Lesson 30 Dialogue, Vocabulary, ㅎirregular,object particles, sequences

Week 14
Final Examination

Language:	Japanese
Textbooks:	「Korean」 by M Rhee (Hakueisha, 2023) is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 near the front gate or at the corner of Cafe 125.
References:	Online open KOR-Japanese-English dictionary
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	70	Mid-term and final exams including spoken and written sections.
Class contribution:	30	Class attendance

Note/URL:
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015600|51|210C015600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean III 51
Instructor	TATSUNO, Sayo@ANN, Eunhee
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean III is for students who have completed Korean II. Advanced grammar patterns, a wide range of vocabulary, and themes related to Korean culture will be covered in the class. This course is team taught in Japanese. Each lesson consist of the main dialogue, inew vocabulary words, and complex verb endings. Through practice questions and sample answers, students will be able to apply grammar patterns to additional contexts. Detailed weekly lesson plans are available in Moodle.

Objectives: Upon completion of the course, students will master advanced Korean grammar, intermediate high / advanced low level of speaking, advanced reading, and writing skill.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Lesson 21 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Practice grammar patterns and utilizationquestions

Week 2
1. Lesson 22 Dialogue, Vocabulary
2. Lesson 22 Practice grammar patterns, Review the spokencore conversation

Week 3
1. Lesson 23 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Lesson 23 Review the main dialogue, 르/ㅂirregularverb endings

Week 4
1. Lesson 23 Practice and utilization
2. Lesson 24 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Conjunctiveadverbials

Week 5
1. Lesson 24 Review vocabulary, irregular endings
2. Lesson 24 Practice utilization questions

Week 6
1. Lesson 25 Dialogue, Vocabulary,Grammar, Adverbial prefix
2. Lesson 25 Practiceverb endings

Week 7
1. Lesson 25 Utilizationquestions
2. Lesson 26 Dialogue,Vocabulary, Grammar

Week 8
1. Lesson 26 Practice utilization questions
2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 21-25

Week 9
1. Review Mid-term, Continue Lesson 26 ㅅirregular endings
2. Lesson 27 Dialogue, Vocabulary

Week 10
1. Lesson 27 Practice terminative endings, 르irregularendings
2. Lesson 27 Practice utilization questions

Week 11
1. Lesson 28 Dialogue,Vocabulary
2. Lesson 28 Practice causation endings, indirect quotes

Week 12
1. Lesson 28 Morepractice on indirect quotes
2. Lesson 29 Dialogue,Vocabulary, Grammar

Week 13
1. Lesson 29 Practiceutilization questions
2. Lesson 30 Dialogue, Vocabulary, ㅎirregular,object particles, sequences

Week 14
Final Examination

Language: Japanese

Textbooks:
「Korean」 by M Rhee (Hakueisha, 2023) is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 near the front gate or at the corner of Cafe 125.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	70	Mid-term and final exam
		Weekly tests
Class contribution:	30	Class attendance

Note/URL:
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C015600|52|210C015600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean III 52
Instructor	KIM, Shinyoung
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Korean III is for students who have completed Korean II. In this course, students will learn advanced verb endings, classifiers, and different verbal modifiers. The course is conducted in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues.

Objectives: Upon the completion of Korean III, students will have the advanced or near-native level proficiency in speaking, reading, and writing. For the detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Week 1

1. Lesson 21 DIalogue, Vocabulary2. Practice grammar patterns and utilization questions

Week 2

1. Lesson 22 Dialogue, Vocabulary 2. Lesson 22 Practice grammar patterns, Review the spoken core conversation

Week 3

1. Lesson 23 Dialogue, Vocabulary2. Lesson 23 Review the main dialogue, ㄹ/ㅂ irregular verb endings

Week 4

1. Lesson 23 Practice and Utilization2. Lesson 24 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Conjunctive adverbials

Week 5

1. Lesson 24 Review vocabulary, Irregular endings 2. Lesson 24 Practice utilization questions

Week 6

1. Lesson 25 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Grammar, Adverbial prefix2. Lesson 25 Practice verb endings

Week 7

1. Lesson 25 Utilization questions 2. Lesson 26 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Grammar

Week 8

1. Lesson 26 Practice utilization qeustions2. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written from Lesson 21-25

Week 9

1. Review Mid-term, Continue Lesson 26 ㅅ irregular endings2. Lesson 27 Dialogue, Vocabulary

Week 10

1. Lesson 27 Practice terminative endings, ㄹ irregular endings 2. Lesson 27 Practice utilization questions

Week 11

1. Lesson 28 Dialogue, Vocabulary2. Practice causation endings, indirect quotes

Week 12

1. Lesson 28 More practice on indirect quotes2. Lesson 29 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Grammar

Week 13

1. Lesson 29 Practice utilization questions2. Lesson 30 Dialogue, Vocabulary, ㅎ irregular, object particles, sequences

Week 14
1. Lesson 30 Dialogue using connective endings and adjectival markers 2. Lesson 30 Practice utilization questions
Final Examination
第15回

第16回

第17回

第18回

第19回

第20回

第21回

第22回

第23回

第24回

第25回

第26回

第27回

第28回

Language: Japanese

Textbooks: Korean by M. Rhee (Hakusuisha, 2023) is available at Keibundo Bookstore 成文堂 near the front gate at the corner of Cafe 125

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	70	Mid-term and final exams including spoken and written sections
Class contribution:	30	Attendance and participation

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016100|01|210C016100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive French I 01
Instructor	BERTHET, Didier@MEHL, Frank Arnaud
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Tues.2@03:Fri.1@04:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for complete beginners in French who want to acquire a solid competence in French during their undergraduate studies, and possibly study-abroad in a French-speaking country (France, Switzerland, Belgium, Canada,Africa...) either at undergraduate (Sciences Po, Geneva University, Brussels University, Montreal University...) or graduate level (Sciences Po Paris,Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies of Geneva...). Ideally, students should minimally graduate as trilingual (Japanese/English/French) citizens in order to work or study further on the international scene. To do so, students enrolling in the Intensive French course are strongly advised to enroll at the same time in other relevant courses offered in the SILS French-related program – refer to the syllabus for more detailed information. The Intensive French Ⅰ course includes 4 classes per week: all 4 classes are compulsory (you cannot skip some of the classes). The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 1, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire) and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches. Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of"know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class. Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible. The teachers may teach in French, English or Japanese, depending on the needs of the students. The textbook content covered in class is the same as the one in French classes, but with more time to learn, practice in class and strengthen knowledge and skills. At the end of the semester, students should have learned enough vocabulary to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple French expressions (Target: Level A1 in the CFRL)

Objectives: At the end of the course, students should be able to pass the French examination Delf A1.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4: L6-L7
W5:L8-L9-L10
W6: L11-L12-L13
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L14-L15-L16
W9:L17-L18-L19
W10:L20-L21-L22
W11:L23-L24-L25
W12:L26-L27-L28
W13:L29-L30-L31
W14: FinalExamination
*This schedule is subject to change

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 1. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève).
Details:
EAN : 9782015135755
Inspire 1 : Livre de l'élève + audio/vidéo + Parcours digital (A1)
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1

References: References will be provided in class when necessary.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-	80%: Tests 20%: Active participation in class
Note/URL:	https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016100|02|210C016100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive French I 02
Instructor	TOMITA, Kyoko
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Tues.2@03:Wed.2@04:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for complete beginners in French who want to acquire a solid competence in French during their undergraduate studies, and possibly study-abroad in a French-speaking country (France, Switzerland, Belgium, Canada,Africa...) either at undergraduate (Sciences Po, Geneva University, Brussels University, Montreal University...) or graduate level (Sciences Po Paris,Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies of Geneva...). Ideally, students should minimally graduate as trilingual (Japanese/English/French) citizens in order to work or study further on the international scene. To do so, students enrolling in the Intensive French course are strongly advised to enroll at the same time in other relevant courses offered in the SILS French-related program – refer to the syllabus for more detailed information. The Intensive French Ⅰ course includes 4 classes per week: all 4 classes are compulsory (you cannot skip some of the classes). The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 1, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire) and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches. Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of"know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class. Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible. The textbook content covered in class is the same as the one in French classes, but with more time to learn, practice in class and strengthen knowledge and skills. At the end of the semester, students should have learned enough vocabulary to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple French expressions (Target: Level A1 in the CFRL)

The teacher will teach in French and in Japanese.

Objectives: At the end of the course, students should be able to pass the French examination Delf A1.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes.
Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4: L6-L7
W5:L8-L9-L10
W6: L11-L12-L13
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L14-L15-L16
W9:L17-L18-L19
W10:L20-L21-L22
W11:L23-L24-L25
W12:L26-L27-L28
W13:L29-L30-L31
W14: FinalExamination
*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 1. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève).
Details:
EAN : 9782015135755
Inspire 1 : Livre de l'élève + audio/vidéo + Parcours digital (A1)
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1

References: References will be provided in class when necessary.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher) 25%: Mid-term evaluation 25%: Final evaluation
Note/URL:	https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016100|51|210C016100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive French I 51
Instructor	BERTHET, Didier@MEHL, Frank Arnaud
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Tues.1@02:Tues.2@03:Fri.1@04:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for complete beginners in French who want to acquire a solid competence in French during their undergraduate studies, and possibly study-abroad in a French-speaking country (France, Switzerland, Belgium, Canada,Africa...) either at undergraduate (Sciences Po, Geneva University, Brussels University, Montreal University...) or graduate level (Sciences Po Paris,Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies of Geneva...). Ideally, students should minimally graduate as trilingual (Japanese/English/French) citizens in order to work or study further on the international scene. To do so, students enrolling in the Intensive French course are strongly advised to enroll at the same time in other relevant courses offered in the SILS French-related program – refer to the syllabus for more detailed information. The Intensive French Ⅰ course includes 4 classes per week: all 4 classes are compulsory (you cannot skip some of the classes). The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 1, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire) and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches. Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of"know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class. Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible. The teachers may teach in French, English or Japanese, depending on the needs of the students. The textbook content covered in class is the same as the one in French classes, but with more time to learn, practice in class and strengthen knowledge and skills. At the end of the semester, students should have learned enough vocabulary to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple French expressions (Target: Level A1 in the CFRL)

Objectives: At the end of the course, students should be able to pass the French examination Delf A1.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4: L6-L7
W5:L8-L9-L10
W6: L11-L12-L13
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L14-L15-L16
W9:L17-L18-L19
W10:L20-L21-L22
W11:L23-L24-L25
W12:L26-L27-L28
W13:L29-L30-L31
W14: FinalExamination
*This schedule is subject to change

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 1. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève).
Details:
EAN : 9782015135755
Inspire 1 : Livre de l'élève + audio/vidéo + Parcours digital (A1)
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1

References: References will be provided in class when necessary.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-　80%: Tests
20%: Active participation in class

Note/URL:　https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016100|52|210C016100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive French I 52
Instructor	TOMITA, Kyoko
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Tues.2@03:Wed.2@04:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed for complete beginners in French who want to acquire a solid competence in French during their undergraduate studies, and possibly study-abroad in a French-speaking country (France, Switzerland, Belgium, Canada,Africa...) either at undergraduate (Sciences Po, Geneva University, Brussels University, Montreal University...) or graduate level (Sciences Po Paris,Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies of Geneva...). Ideally, students should minimally graduate as trilingual (Japanese/English/French) citizens in order to work or study further on the international scene. To do so, students enrolling in the Intensive French course are strongly advised to enroll at the same time in other relevant courses offered in the SILS French-related program – refer to the syllabus for more detailed information. The Intensive French Ⅰ course includes 4 classes per week: all 4 classes are compulsory (you cannot skip some of the classes). The textbook used for this class is published in France (Inspire 1, see: https://www.hachettefle.com/collections/inspire) and is essentially based on the principles of the communicative approaches. Each of its lessons includes dialogues and activities (role-plays as well as grammar exercises, reading and listening tasks) covering a wide range of"know-how" (e.g. ask a question, accept or refuse something, talk about yourself, etc.), lexical, grammatical and phonetic content. It also contains online resources for students to use in class and outside of class. Students are expected to be active in class and to use French as much as possible. The textbook content covered in class is the same as the one in French classes, but with more time to learn, practice in class and strengthen knowledge and skills. At the end of the semester, students should have learned enough vocabulary to manage to communicate in daily life, using simple French expressions (Target: Level A1 in the CFRL)

The teacher will teach in French and in Japanese.

Objectives: At the end of the course, students should be able to pass the French examination Delf A1.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes.
Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
W1: L1
W2: L2-L3
W3: L4-L5
W4: L6-L7
W5:L8-L9-L10
W6: L11-L12-L13
W7:Mid-Term Examination
W8:L14-L15-L16
W9:L17-L18-L19
W10:L20-L21-L22
W11:L23-L24-L25
W12:L26-L27-L28
W13:L29-L30-L31
W14: FinalExamination
*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/French

Textbooks: Jean-Thierry Le Bougnec & Marie-José Lopes (2020). Inspire 1. Paris: Hachette (Livre de l'élève).
Details:
EAN : 9782015135755
Inspire 1 : Livre de l'élève + audio/vidéo + Parcours digital (A1)
https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1

References: References will be provided in class when necessary.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	50%: active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher) 25%: Mid-term evaluation 25%: Final evaluation
Note/URL:	https://www.hachettefle.com/grands-ados-et-adultes/inspire-1/inspire-1-livre-de-leleve-audiovideo-parcours-digital-a1 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016300|01|210C016300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive German I 01
Instructor	NUNOKAWA, Yasuko@SCHARLOTH, Joachim@WEICHERT, Robin Frank
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Tues.1@03:Wed.2@04:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: "In early times some sufferer had to sit up with a toothache, and he put in the time inventing the German language" a famous American author once claimed. This course is designed to determine to what extend this is true. It covers in one semester what is normally possible to achieve in one year. Our textbook will be "Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband. Das Deutschbuch".
The course combines the benefits of face-to-face classes with a digital learning environment with elements of gamification which enables students to learn and practice at anytime at anyplace. Instead of a single final exam, student's progress is continuously evaluated in a fair and stress-free manner. Teachers in the German program are continuously monitoring students' performance, provide regular feedback and actively support students with regard to competences development.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Objectives: This course leads from the knowledge of the basics of German grammar needed to understand basic sentence structures and the ability to practice elementary communication skills to an active competence of those skills and with a vocabulary of nearly 1,000 items to the possibility to read easy paragraphs in newspapers and magazines.

before/after course of study: Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.
Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Start auf Deutsch
[Week 2] Unit 1
Vocabulary Test 1
[Week 3] Unit 2
Vocabulary Test 2
[Week 4] Unit 3
Vocabulary Test 3
[Week 5] Station 1
[Week 6] Unit 4
Vocabulary Test 4
[Week 7] Unit 5
Vocabulary Test 5
[Week 8] Unit 6
Vocabulary Test 6
[Week 9] Station 2
[Week10] Station 2
[Week 11] Unit 7
Vocabulary Test 7
[Week 12] Unit 8
Vocabulary Test 8
[Week 13] Unit 9
Vocabulary Test 9
[Week 14] Station 3

Language:	English/German
Textbooks:	Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband, Das Deutschbuch. Additional material will be provided through Waseda Moodle and a learning platform.
References:	中島・平尾・朝倉著:『改訂版　必携　ドイツ文法総まとめ』(白水社)
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)
Evaluation Free-	Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams (written or oral). If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 15% Vocabulary tests – 15% Final exam – 20% Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows: Active participation and homework – 50% Additional assignments – 25% Vocabulary tests – 25%
Note/URL:	More information on the German program at: https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/ 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016400|51|210C016400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive German II 51
Instructor	NUNOKAWA, Yasuko@SCHARLOTH, Joachim@WEICHERT, Robin Frank
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Tues.2@03:Wed.2@04:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is the continuation of Intensive German I, and covers in one semester what is normally to be achieved in two semesters. Our textbook will be "Studio [21] Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband: Das Deutschbuch." (chapters 10–12) and "Studio [21] Grundstufe · A2: Gesamtband: Das Deutschbuch." (chapters 1–6).

Students who have successfully completed "Intensive German 1", but also ambitious students from "German 1" who have studied lessons 7–9 of the A1 book independently during the semester break, are invited to attend this course.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Objectives: This course leads from the knowledge of the German grammar needed to understand more complex sentence structures and the ability to practice daily communication skills to an active competence of those skills.

The course combines the benefits of face-to-face classes with a digital learning environment which enables students to learn and practice at anytime at anyplace. Instead of a single final exam, student's progress is continuously evaluated in a fair and stress-free manner. Teachers in the German program are continuously monitoring students' performance, provide regular feedback and actively support students with regard to competences development.

before/after course of study: Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom (digital or physical) should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.

Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.

Preview and Review may take around 90–120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Studio[21] – A1: Unit 10, Vocabulary Test Unit 10
[Week 2] Studio[21] – A1: Unit 11
[Week 3] Studio[21] – A1: Unit 11 + 12, Vocabulary Test Unit 11
[Week 4] Studio[21] – A1: Unit 12, Vocabulary Test Unit 12
[Week 5] Studio[21] – A2: Willkommen in A2
[Week 6] Studio[21] – A2: Unit 1, Vocabulary Test Unit 1
[Week 7] Studio[21] – A2: Unit 2
[Week 8] Studio[21] – A2: Unit 2+3, Vocabulary Test Unit 2
[Week 9] Studio[21] – A2: Unit 3, Vocabulary Test Unit 3
[Week 10] Studio[21] – A2: Station 1
[Week 11] Studio[21] – A2: Unit 4, Vocabulary Test Unit 4
[Week 12] Studio[21] – A2: Unit 5, Vocabulary Test Unit 5
[Week 13] Studio[21] – A2: Station 2
[Week 14] Studio[21] – A2: Unit 6, Vocabulary Test Unit 6

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Studio [21] Grundstufe · A1: Gesamtband: Das Deutschbuch
Studio [21] Grundstufe · A2: Gesamtband: Das Deutschbuch

Additional material will be provided through Waseda Moodle and a learning platform.

References: 中島・平尾・朝倉著:『改訂版　必携　ドイツ文法総まとめ』(白水社)
Sabine Dinsel, Lukas Mayrhofer (2017): Deutsch Übungsbuch Grammatik A1–A2. Hueber Verlag.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams (written or oral).

If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows:
Active participation and homework – 50%
Additional assignments – 15%
Vocabulary tests – 15%
Final exam – 20%

Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows:
Active participation and homework – 50%
Additional assignments – 25%
Vocabulary tests – 25%

Note/URL: Information on the German program: https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016500|01|210C016500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Spanish I 01
Instructor	HIROYASU, Yoshimi@KREJCOVA, Jolana
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Tues.1@03:Thur.1@04:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in English and Spanish.

This course is the initial stage in Spanish language learning for students who plan to study abroad in a Spanish speaking country. It is an intensive course that meets 4 times per week. Students wanting to enroll in this course are reminded that the language proficiency and level expected at the end of this course will be an advanced novice level. Strong efforts and commitment are required. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions, through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish. In addition, students will be exposed to a variety of cultural aspects of the Spanish speaking world. This course is demanding.

Objectives: Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Intensive Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés,de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Unidad 4 Estudio enla Universidad de Salamanca.
[Class 14 & 15] Unidad 4
[Class 16 & 17] Unidad 4, Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 18 & 19] Unidad 5
[Class 20 & 21] Unidad 5, Unidad 6 Envacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 22 & 23] Unidad 6
[Class 24 & 25] Unidad 6
[Class 26] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 27 & 28] Mid-term Examinations. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximizeeducational effects.
[Class 29 & 30] Unidad 7 Me gusta mucho lamúsica pop. ¿Y a ti?
[Class 31 & 32] Unidad7
[Class 33 & 34] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 De compras
[Class 35 & 36] Unidad 8
[Class 37 & 38] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 iA comer!
[Class 39 & 40] Unidad 9
[Class 41 & 42] Unidad9, Unidad 10 Los mexicanos se levantan pronto.
[Class 43 & 44] Unidad 10
[Class 45 & 46] Unidad10, Unidad 11 Estoy contenta.
[Class 47 & 48] Unidad 11
[Class 49 & 50] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 51 & 52] Unidad 12
[Class 53 & 54] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 55 & 56] Final Examinations. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximizeeducational effects.

Language:	English/Spanish
Textbooks:	¡Muy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu. Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.
References:	Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles) 西村君代、菊田和佳子 Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	90	Two mid-term examinations (22.5%x2) Two final examinations (22.5%x2)
Others:	10	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.
Note/URL:	Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary. In order to take the final examinations, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examinations. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016500|51|210C016500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Spanish I 51
Instructor	HIROYASU, Yoshimi@KREJCOVA, Jolana
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Tues.1@03:Thur.1@04:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in English and Spanish.

This course is the initial stage in Spanish language learning for students who plan to study abroad in a Spanish – speaking country. It is an intensive course that meets 4 times per week. Students wanting to enroll in this course are reminded that the language proficiency and level expected at the end of this course will be an advanced novice level. Strong efforts and commitment are required. Students will acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions, through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in the target language. In addition, students will be exposed to a variety of cultural aspects of the Spanish-speaking world. This course is demanding.

Objectives: Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Intensive Ⅰ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Hola, ¿cómo te llamas?
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 1
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Soy japonés, de Tokio
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 2
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi universidad
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 3
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 3, Unidad 4 Estudio en la Universidad de Salamanca.
[Class 14 & 15] Unidad 4
[Class 16 & 17] Unidad 4, Unidad 5 La familia
[Class 18 & 19] Unidad 5
[Class 20 & 21] Unidad 5, Unidad 6 En vacaciones voy a ir a Barcelona
[Class 22 & 23] Unidad 6
[Class 24 & 25] Unidad 6
[Class 26] Unidad 6, Review
[Class 27 & 28] Mid-term Examinations. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 29 & 30] Unidad 7 Me gusta mucho la música pop. ¿Y a ti?
[Class 31 & 32] Unidad7
[Class 33 & 34] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 De compras
[Class 35 & 36] Unidad 8
[Class 37 & 38] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 ¡A comer!
[Class 39 & 40] Unidad 9
[Class 41 & 42] Unidad 9, Unidad 10 Los mexicanos se levantan pronto.
[Class 43 & 44] Unidad 10
[Class 45 & 46] Unidad 10, Unidad 11 Estoy contenta.
[Class 47 & 48] Unidad 11
[Class 49 & 50] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 De viaje
[Class 51 & 52] Unidad 12
[Class 53 & 54] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 55 & 56] Final Examinations. Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:	English/Spanish
Textbooks:	iMuy bien! Curso de español 1, Segunda edición Moyano López, Juan Carlos, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo and Yoshimi Hiroyasu. Editorial Asahi, 2024. ISBN978-4-255-55155-5.
References:	Spanish/English, English/Spanish dictionary
	レベル別スペイン語文法ドリル 文法をきちんとおさえたい人のために (Ejercicios de gramática española por niveles) 西村君代、菊田和佳子 Editorial Asahi, 2009. ISBN9784255550282
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	90	Two mid-term examinations (22.5%x2) Two final examinations (22.5%x2) 90%
Others:	10	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc. 10%
Note/URL:	Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary. In order to take the final examinations, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examinations. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016600|01|210C016600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Spanish II 01
Instructor	HIROYASU, Yoshimi@MATO, Shigeko
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Tues.2@03:Thur.2@04:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in English and Spanish.

Spanish Intensive II is a second-semester intensive Spanish language course (Level 3 and 4) designed to enable students to develop and improve skills in understanding, speaking, reading, and writing Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish-speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish-speaking world. Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between the two (or more) languages and cultures. Students will be exposed to a variety of cultural aspects of the Spanish-speaking world through reading materials. This is a demanding course. The ultimate goal of Spanish Intensive II is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish-speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural and linguistic diversity in the world. This course is highly recommended to those who are to study abroad in a Spanish-speaking country and who have finished Intensive Spanish I or Spanish Level 2. It is an intensive course that meets 4 times per week. The language proficiency and level expected at the end of semester will be intermediate. Strong efforts and commitment are required.

Objectives:

Objective 1: Knowledge of the Spanish Language
In this course, you will improve your language skills acquired in the previous course(s). In order to best accomplish this, you and your professor will undertake activities carried out from the very first completely in the target language, that is, in Spanish.

Objective 2: Knowledge about the Cultures of Spain and Latin America
In addition to this paramount goal of learning the common (although varied!) language of the Spanish-speaking countries, you will also be exposed to different aspects of the cultures of Spain and Latin America through readings, songs, videos, and other materials.

Objective 3: Cultural Comparison and Critical Thinking
Because learning about another culture necessarily takes place through the prism of one's own, this course encourages reflection about our daily lives and potential similarities and differences between our own and Latin American and Spanish cultures. In so doing, it promotes an awareness of the importance of point of view or personal experience in the interpretation and/or understanding of the world. Cultural comparison and communicating across cultures are fundamental skills that will open doors for your future.

Objective 4: Effective and Intelligent Communication
Learning another language involves creativity and a willingness to make mistakes in getting your message across. In this course, you will become adept at finding ways to say things that you need to say with the tools you have at hand. You will gain confidence and become a more effective communicator over-all as you bring into play the many -both verbal and non-verbal—elements of language use that perhaps (because you know it soooo well) you don't make use of in English. Pausing to think about how to say something in another language can make us more careful, effective, and attentive communicators in our own. Please note that diligent study and active class participation are absolutely essential for making progress toward these first four objectives. The more you attempt to speak only Spanish, the more you will learn and the easier it will become.

Objective 5: Connecting with Other Disciplines
By working on basic communication skills, Spanish Intensive II will help you achieve success in your other courses. You will also find that many of the topics that will be discussed might come up in other classes. For example, a discussion of family or of poverty and migration in a sociology or anthropology class or a discussion of important political figures in a history or political science course. Continued study in Spanish will enable you to read and research sources written in Spanish and can provide you with important perspectives not available in English.

Objective 6: Preparing for Study Abroad
Significant engagement with and learning in the areas discussed in Objectives 1 – 5 will provide you with the building blocks that you will need for a successful semester or year of study in another country, whether it is Spanish-speaking or not. If you are serious about learning Spanish, there is no substitute for an extended stay in Spain or Latin America.

before/after course of study:	It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:	1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)
Course Schedule	Schedule: This schedule is provisional andsubject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class. [Class1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Un nuevo cursopresentaciones [Class2 & 3] Unidad 1 [Class4 & 5] Unidad 1,Unidad 2 Mi familia y mis amigos: mi familia [Class6 & 7] Unidad 2 [Class8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi barrio [Class10 & 11] Unidad 3 [Class12 & 13] Unidad3, Unidad 4 Mi tiempo libre [Class14 & 15] Unidad 4 [Class16 & 17] Unidad4, Unidad 5 Mi último viaje [Class18 & 19] Unidad 5 [Class20 & 21] Unidad5, Unidad 6 Alimentación [Class22 & 23] Unidad 6 [Class24 & 25] Unidad 6 [Class26] Unidad 6, Review [Class 27 & 28] Mid-term examinations. Givecomments and feedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects. [Class29 & 30] Unidad7 Cuando termine la universidad, empezaré a trabajar. [Class31& 32] Unidad 7 [Class33 & 34] Unidad 7,Unidad 8 ¿Quieresvenir a mi casa? [Class35 & 36] Unidad8 [Class37 & 38] Unidad8, Unidad 9 Estudiar en el extranjero [Class39 & 40] Unidad9 [Class41 & 42] Unidad 9, Unidad 10 Cambiossociales en España e Hispanoamérica [Class43 & 44] Unidad10 [Class45 & 46] Unidad 10, Unidad 11 Deportes [Class47 & 48] Unidad 11 [Class49 & 50] Unidad11, Unidad 12 Terminamos el curso. [Class51 & 52] Unidad 12 [Class53 & 54] Unidad 12, Review [Class55 & 56] Final Examinations. Givecomments and feedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.
Language:	English/Spanish
Textbooks:	¡Muy bien! Curso de español 2, Segunda edición Juan Carlos Moyano López, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo, and Yoshimi Hiroyasu (Editorial Asahi, 2024) ISBN 978-4-255-55156-2.
References:	Spanish/English, English/Spanish dictionary
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	90 Two mid-term examinations (22.5% x 2) Two final examinations (22.5% x 2)
Others:	10 Active participation, quizzes, compositions, and other assignments
Note/URL:	Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary. In order to take the final examinations, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examinations. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016600|51|210C016600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Spanish II 51
Instructor	HIROYASU, Yoshimi@MATO, Shigeko
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Tues.2@03:Thur.2@04:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in English and Spanish.

Spanish Intensive II is a second-semester intensive Spanish language course (Level 3 and 4) designed to enable students to develop and improve skills in understanding, speaking, reading, and writing Spanish, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish-speaking world. This course serves as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. Students will cross the bridge and be familiar with the Spanish-speaking world. Through this course, students will not only develop their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between the two (or more) languages and cultures. Students will be exposed to a variety of cultural aspects of the Spanish-speaking world through reading materials. This is a demanding course. The ultimate goal of Spanish Intensive II is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish-speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural and linguistic diversity in the world. This course is highly recommended to those who are to study abroad in a Spanish-speaking country and who have finished Intensive Spanish I or Spanish Level 2. It is an intensive course that meets 4 times per week. The language proficiency and level expected at the end of semester will be intermediate. Strong efforts and commitment are required.

Objectives: Objective 1: Knowledge of the Spanish Language
In this course, you will improve your language skills acquired in the previous course(s). In order to best accomplish this, you and your professor will undertake activities carried out from the very first completely in the target language, that is, in Spanish.

Objective 2: Knowledge about the Cultures of Spain and Latin America
In addition to this paramount goal of learning the common (although varied!) language of the Spanish-speaking countries, you will also be exposed to different aspects of the cultures of Spain and Latin America through readings, songs, videos, and other materials.

Objective 3: Cultural Comparison and Critical Thinking
Because learning about another culture necessarily takes place through the prism of one's own, this course encourages reflection about our daily lives and potential similarities and differences between our own and Latin American and Spanish cultures. In so doing, it promotes an awareness of the importance of point of view or personal experience in the interpretation and/or understanding of the world. Cultural comparison and communicating across cultures are fundamental skills that will open doors for your future.

Objective 4: Effective and Intelligent Communication
Learning another language involves creativity and a willingness to make mistakes in getting your message across. In this course, you will become adept at finding ways to say things that you need to say with the tools you have at hand. You will gain confidence and become a more effective communicator over-all as you bring into play the many -both verbal and non-verbal—elements of language use that perhaps (because you know it soooo well) you don't make use of in English. Pausing to think about how to say something in another language can make us more careful, effective, and attentive communicators in our own. Please note that diligent study and active class participation are absolutely essential for making progress toward these first four objectives. The more you attempt to speak only Spanish, the more you will learn and the easier it will become.

Objective 5: Connecting with Other Disciplines
By working on basic communication skills, Spanish Intensive II will help you achieve success in your other courses. You will also find that many of the topics that will be discussed might come up in other classes. For example, a discussion of family or of poverty and migration in a sociology or anthropology class or a discussion of important political figures in a history or political science course. Continued study in Spanish will enable you to read and research sources written in Spanish and can provide you with important perspectives not available in English.

Objective 6: Preparing for Study Abroad
Significant engagement with and learning in the areas discussed in Objectives 1 – 5 will provide you with the building blocks that you will need for a successful semester or year of study in another country, whether it is Spanish-speaking or not. If you are serious about learning Spanish, there is no substitute for an extended stay in Spain or Latin America.

before/after course of study:	It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities. Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.
Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:	1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)
Course Schedule	Schedule: This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class. [Class1] Introduction, Unidad 1 Un nuevo curso presentaciones [Class2 & 3] Unidad 1 [Class4 & 5] Unidad 1, Unidad 2 Mi familia y mis amigos: mi familia [Class6 & 7] Unidad 2 [Class8 & 9] Unidad 2, Unidad 3 Mi barrio [Class10 & 11] Unidad 3 [Class12 & 13] Unidad 3, Unidad 4 Mi tiempo libre [Class14 & 15] Unidad 4 [Class16 & 17] Unidad 4, Unidad 5 Mi último viaje [Class18 & 19] Unidad 5 [Class20 & 21] Unidad 5, Unidad 6 Alimentación [Class22 & 23] Unidad 6 [Class24 & 25] Unidad 6 [Class26] Unidad 6, Review [Class 27 & 28] Mid-term examinations. Give comments and feedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects. [Class29 & 30] Unidad 7 Cuando termine la universidad, empezaré a trabajar. [Class31& 32] Unidad 7 [Class33 & 34] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 ¿Quieres venir a mi casa? [Class35 & 36] Unidad 8 [Class37 & 38] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 Estudiar en el extranjero [Class39 & 40] Unidad 9 [Class41 & 42] Unidad 9, Unidad 10 Cambios sociales en España e Hispanoamérica [Class43 & 44] Unidad 10 [Class45 & 46] Unidad 10, Unidad 11 Deportes [Class47 & 48] Unidad 11 [Class49 & 50] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 Terminamos el curso. [Class51 & 52] Unidad 12 [Class53 & 54] Unidad 12, Review [Class55 & 56] Final Examinations. Give comments and feedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.
Language:	English/Spanish
Textbooks:	iMuy bien! Curso de español 2, Segunda edición Juan Carlos Moyano López, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo, and Yoshimi Hiroyasu (Editorial Asahi, 2024) ISBN 978-4-255-55156-2.
References:	Spanish/English, English/Spanish dictionary
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	90 Two mid-term examinations (22.5%x2) Two final examinations (22.5%x2)
Others:	10 In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.
Note/URL:	Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary. In order to take the final examinations, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examinations. See the "Attendance policy" attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016700|01|210C016700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Chinese I 01
Instructor	IZUMI, Anna@IGUCHI, Hirofumi@WANG, Yijen@HAN, Yue
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Thur.1@02:Tues.2@03:Wed.1@04:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course represents the initial stage of Chinese language learning for students who plan to study abroad in a Chinese-speaking country. It is an intensive course that meets four times per week and requires a high level of commitment and sustained effort from students. By the end of the course, students are expected to reach an advanced novice level of Chinese proficiency. To achieve this goal, students will systematically develop foundational knowledge of Chinese grammar, vocabulary, and commonly used expressions through repeated practice and guided instruction conducted primarily in Chinese. Emphasis is placed on building accuracy and fluency in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

In addition to language development, the course introduces students to key cultural aspects of the Chinese-speaking world to support their academic preparation and daily communication in a Chinese-speaking environment.

Objectives: By the end of this course, students will have developed a solid foundation in basic to lower-intermediate Chinese grammar patterns, core vocabulary, and commonly used expressions, enabling them to communicate effectively in everyday situations.

The broader objective of Chinese Intensive I is to foster effective and appropriate communication in Chinese, while developing students' awareness of the Chinese-speaking world, cultural diversity, and intercultural understanding. Through sustained language practice, students will also begin to develop critical awareness of how language and culture interact in communication.

before/after course of study: As this is an intensive course, students are expected to spend a minimum of one hour on out-of-class study for each in-class session.
Active participation is an indispensable component of this course. Students are responsible for completing all assigned work and preparing adequately before each class.
Before class: Review the materials and topics covered in the previous class (approximately 30 minutes).
After class: Complete assigned homework as required and further review the materials and topics introduced in class (approximately 30 minutes to 1 hour).
Regular and consistent preparation is essential for keeping pace with the course and achieving the expected proficiency level.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

[Week 1] Introduction and Lesson 1

[Week 2] Lessons 2-5

[Week 3] Lessons 6-8; Reviews 1

[Week 4] Lessons 9-10; Reviews 2; 1st Exam

[Week 5] Lessons 11-14

[Week 6] Lessons 15-17; Reviews 3

[Week 7] Lessons 18-20

[Week 8] Lessons 21; Reviews 4; 2nd Exam

[Week 9] Lessons 22-25

[Week 10] Lessons 26-28; Reviews 5

[Week 11] Lessons 29-30; Reviews 6; 3rd Exam

[Week 12] Lessons 31-34

[Week 13] Lessons 35-38; Review 7

[Week 14] Lessons 39-40; Review 8; 4th Exam

* This schedule is subject to change depending on class progress.

Language:	Japanese/English
Textbooks:	『漢語会話301句　第4版　上冊、下冊』日文注釈本（北京大学出版社　2015年） Note: The primary textbooks used in class contain Japanese-language instructions. To support students from different linguistic backgrounds, English-instruction versions of the textbooks are also available.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	40%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher) 60%: Exams
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016700|51|210C016700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Chinese I 51
Instructor	IZUMI, Anna@WU, Yingru@WANG, Yijen@HAN, Yue
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Thur.1@02:Mon.2@03:Wed.2@04:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course represents the initial stage of Chinese language learning for students who plan to study abroad in a Chinese-speaking country. It is an intensive course that meets four times per week and requires a high level of commitment and sustained effort from students. By the end of the course, students are expected to reach an advanced novice level of Chinese proficiency. To achieve this goal, students will systematically develop foundational knowledge of Chinese grammar, vocabulary, and commonly used expressions through repeated practice and guided instruction conducted primarily in Chinese. Emphasis is placed on building accuracy and fluency in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

In addition to language development, the course introduces students to key cultural aspects of the Chinese-speaking world to support their academic preparation and daily communication in a Chinese-speaking environment.

Objectives: By the end of this course, students will have developed a solid foundation in basic to lower-intermediate Chinese grammar patterns, core vocabulary, and commonly used expressions, enabling them to communicate effectively in everyday situations.

The broader objective of Chinese Intensive I is to foster effective and appropriate communication in Chinese, while developing students' awareness of the Chinese-speaking world, cultural diversity, and intercultural understanding. Through sustained language practice, students will also begin to develop critical awareness of how language and culture interact in communication.

before/after course of study: As this is an intensive course, students are expected to spend a minimum of 1 hour on out-of-class study for each in-class session.
Active participation is an indispensable component of this course. Students are responsible for completing all assigned work and preparing adequately before each class.
Before class: Review the materials and topics covered in the previous class (approximately 30 minutes).
After class: Complete assigned homework as required and further review the materials and topics introduced in class (approximately 30 minutes to 1 hour).
Regular and consistent preparation is essential for keeping pace with the course and achieving the expected proficiency level.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

[Week 1] Introduction and Lesson 1

[Week 2] Lessons 2-5

[Week 3] Lessons 6-8; Reviews 1

[Week 4] Lessons 9-10; Reviews 2; 1st Exam

[Week 5] Lessons 11-14

[Week 6] Lessons 15-17; Reviews 3

[Week 7] Lessons 18-20

[Week 8] Lessons 21; Reviews 4; 2nd Exam

[Week 9] Lessons 22-25

[Week 10] Lessons 26-28; Reviews 5

[Week 11] Lessons 29-30; Reviews 6; 3rd Exam

[Week 12] Lessons 31-34

[Week 13] Lessons 35-38; Review 7

[Week 14] Lessons 39-40; Review 8; 4th Exam

* This schedule is subject to change depending on class progress.

Language:	Japanese/Englis h
Textbooks:	『漢語会話301句　第4版　上冊、下冊』日文注釈本（北京大学出版社　2015年）
	Note: The primary textbooks used in class contain Japanese-language instructions. To support students from different linguistic backgrounds, English-instruction versions of the textbooks are also available.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	40%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher) 60%: Exams
Note/URL:	Eligibility for Enrollment Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a course is appropriate for their language proficiency level may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment. *Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency.Notes for Enrollment: (1) Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines here: https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMl1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=sharing (2) If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi CHEN, at lara@waseda.jp 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016800|01|210C016800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Chinese II 01
Instructor	HAN, Yue@IZUMI, Anna@CHEN, Tien Shi
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Fri.2@02:Fri.3@03:Thur.2@04:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is an intermediate course for students who have completed either Intensive Chinese Ⅰ, or Chinese Ⅱ, or equivalent. This course is suitable for students planning to study abroad in a Chinese speaking country. There will be 4 classes per week, for reading/translating, speaking, listening and writing respectively. There are 3 textbooks will be used in this classes, and additional materials will be distributed for listening classes. Students have to write Chinese essays almost every week. This course is demanding. Strong efforts and commitment are required.

Objectives: The aim of this course is to help students acquire intermediate-level Chinese abilities, ready to read articles and journals in Chinese and discuss about wide range of topics in Chinese.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class.
Before class: revise the material and topics covered in the preceding class (30 min).
After class: do the assigned homework when it is necessary and study again the material and topics covered in the class (30 min to 1hour)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction and lesson 1
[Week 2] lesson 2, essay
[Week 3] lesson 3, essay
[Week 4] lesson 4, essay
[Week 5] lesson 5, essay
[Week 6] lesson 6, essay
[Week 7] lesson 7, essay, mid-term
[Week 8] lesson 8, essay
[Week 9] lesson 9, essay
[Week 10] lesson 10, essay
[Week 11] lesson 11, essay
[Week 12] lesson 12, essay
[Week 13] lesson 13, essay,
[Week 14] lesson 14, essay, Final Exam

*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: ことばと文化 “一挙両得” 中級中国語 | 教科書／中国語 | 朝日出版社
https://text.asahipress.com/chinese/detail.php?id=1448

『中国語 中級作文 改訂版』(白帝社)

『そうだったんだ！中国 慧眼看中国(金星堂)』

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-
Attendance and participation 60% mid-term 20%
final 20%

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.

Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C016800|51|210C016800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Chinese II 51
Instructor	IZUMI, Anna@HAN, Yue@CHEN, Tien Shi
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Fri.3@03:Thur.2@04:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is an intermediate course for students who have completed either Intensive Chinese Ⅰ, or Chinese Ⅱ, or equivalent. This course is suitable for student planning to study abroad in a Chinese speaking country. There will be 4 classes per week, for reading, translating, speaking, listening and writing respectively.
3 textbooks will be used for reading, writing, and speaking classes and additional materials will be distributed for listening classes.
Students have to write Chinese essays almost every week.
This course is demanding.
Strong efforts and commitment are required.

Objectives: The aim of this course is to help students acquire intermediate-level Chinese abilities, ready to read articles and journals in Chinese and discuss about wide range of topics in Chinese.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of 1 hour studying outside of class for every in-class session.
Participation is an indispensable element in this class.
The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professors before coming to class.
Before class: revise the material and topics covered in the preceding class (30 min).
After class: do the assigned homework when it is necessary and study again the material and topics covered in the class (30 min to 1 hour)

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction and lesson 1
[Week 2] lesson 2, essay
[Week 3] lesson 3, essay
[Week 4] lesson 4, essay
[Week 5] lesson 5, essay
[Week 6] lesson 6, essay
[Week 7] lesson 7, essay, mid-term
[Week 8] lesson 8, essay
[Week 9] lesson 9, essay
[Week 10] lesson 10, essay
[Week 11] lesson 11, essay
[Week 12] lesson 12, essay
[Week 13] lesson 13, essay,
[Week 14] lesson 14, essay, Final Exam

*This schedule is subject to change.

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: ことばと文化 “一挙両得” 中級中国語 | 教科書／中国語 | 朝日出版社
https://text.asahipress.com/chinese/detail.php?id=1448

『そうだったんだ！中国 慧眼看中国(金星堂)』

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Attendance and participation 60%
mid-term 20%
final 20%

Note/URL: Eligibility for Enrollment
Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a course is appropriate for their language proficiency level may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment.

*Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency.Notes for Enrollment:

(1) Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines here:
https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMl1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=sharing

(2) If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi CHEN, at lara@waseda.jp

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C017000|01|210C017000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Chinese III 01
Instructor	ARISAWA, Uenyu@OH, Zuirai@WANG, Yijen
Term	spring semester	Credits	3
Day/Period	01:Wed.2@02:Thur.2@03:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is an intensive course designed for students preparing to transfer to a university in a Chinese-speaking country. It is intended for students who have completed Intensive Chinese I and II, as well as senior-level students who have attained an equivalent level of proficiency. Students who have previously studied in China and wish to further refine their Mandarin skills are also welcome to enroll.

The course aims to develop students' overall academic Chinese competence through activities such as speed reading, intensive reading, discussion, and report writing based on a range of authentic Chinese-language materials. Depending on the instructor's design, Chinese newspapers and other current materials may be introduced to support these learning objectives.

Through extensive reading and discussion of authentic texts, students will strengthen their ability to comprehend university-level lectures in Chinese and enhance their capacity to explain social and cultural topics related to Japan in Mandarin.

Objectives: Foster the abilities of speed-reading and discussion of current issues and making reports on them in Chinese.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction, lesson 1, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 2] lesson 2, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 3] lesson 3, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 4] lesson 4, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 5] lesson 5, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 6] lesson 6, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 7] Mid-term exam / report
[Week 8] lesson 7, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 9] lesson 8, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 10] lesson 9, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 11] lesson 10, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 12] lesson 11, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 13] lesson 12, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 14] Final Exam

*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: 『巨大中国の今』朝日出版社
Information on required and recommended textbooks will be provided in class by the respective course instructor.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-
50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: Because this is an intensive course, students will have to do a lot of preparation and revision. Reports will have to be produced during classes so they should always have a Japanese-Chinese dictionary on hand.
We encourage students to independently interrelate various issues.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C017000|51|210C017000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Chinese III 51
Instructor	ARISAWA, Uenyu@OH, Zuirai@WANG, Yijen
Term	fall semester	Credits	3
Day/Period	01:Wed.2@02:Thur.2@03:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is an intensive course designed for students preparing to transfer to a university in a Chinese-speaking country. It is intended for students who have completed Intensive Chinese I and II, as well as senior-level students who have attained an equivalent level of proficiency. Students who have previously studied in China and wish to further refine their Mandarin skills are also welcome to enroll.

The course aims to develop students' overall academic Chinese competence through activities such as speed reading, intensive reading, discussion, and report writing based on a range of authentic Chinese-language materials. Depending on the instructor's design, Chinese newspapers and other current materials may be introduced to support these learning objectives.

Through extensive reading and discussion of authentic texts, students will strengthen their ability to comprehend university-level lectures in Chinese and enhance their capacity to explain social and cultural topics related to Japan in Mandarin.

Objectives: Foster the abilities of speed-reading and discussion of current issues and making reports on them in Chinese.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of 1 hour studying outside of class for every in-class session.
Participation is an indispensable element in this class.
The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction, lesson 1, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 2] lesson 2, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 3] lesson 3, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 4] lesson 4, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 5] lesson 5, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 6] lesson 6, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 7] Mid-term exam /report
[Week 8] lesson 7, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 9] lesson 8, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 10] lesson 9, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 11] lesson 10, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 12] lesson 11, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 13] lesson 12, reading, discussion and writing
[Week 14] Final Exam

*This schedule is subject to change

Language: Japanese/Englis
h

Textbooks: 『巨大中国の今』朝日出版社
Information on required and recommended textbooks will be provided in class by the respective course instructor.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- 50%: Active in-class participation (including necessary requirements set by the teacher)
25%: Mid-term evaluation
25%: Final evaluation

Note/URL: Eligibility for Enrollment

Students whose first language is Chinese or who have a Chinese heritage language background are generally not eligible to enroll in Chinese language courses offered by this program. Students who believe that a course is appropriate for their language proficiency level may request permission from the course instructor prior to enrollment.
*Students who enroll without obtaining prior approval may be required to withdraw from the course and may not be eligible to receive course credit. The instructor reserves the right to determine a student's eligibility for enrollment based on the student's linguistic background and Chinese language proficiency.Notes for Enrollment:

(1) Please refer to the Chinese proficiency check information and enrollment guidelines here:
https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1Jhu5FEKMl1eeVuuWfjO-z0Huf6Ca7X6B?usp=sharing

(2) If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, please contact the Chinese Course Coordinator, Professor Tien Shi CHEN, at lara@waseda.jpBecause this is an intensive course, students will have to do a lot of preparation and revision. Reports will have to be produced during classes so they should always have a Japanese-Chinese dictionary on hand.
We encourage students to independently interrelate various issues.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C017700|01|210C017700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Korean 01
Instructor	KIM, Shinyoung
Term	spring semester	Credits	3
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Thur.2@03:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Intensive Korean classes are held three times a week. The intensive Korean covers learning the Korean alphabet, Hangeul, and these related to days of the week, introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additional topics on the daily life. This course is taught in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practice reading. For the detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Upon the completion of the course, students will be ready for the novice and intermediate level Korean proficiency tests.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回

1. Introduction on the Korean language and simple vowels The logic of written Korean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels, and consonants
   Students will learn all vowels and consonants.
3. Consonants and Butchim
   Review all vowels and consonants and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.

第2回

1. Pronunciation Rules Covering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters, palatalization, tensification, and weakening 2. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
   Topics on basic greetings and self-introduction
3. Lesson 1 Review Core Conversation, Practice Questions, Reading

第3回

1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar Students will learn the basic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
   Review copula and subject particles
3. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location, Vocabulary
   Understanding action and descriptive verbs

第4回

1. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization Practice verb endings
2. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs, Utilization
   Practice utilization questions and reading
3. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related to Family, Vocabulary
   Practice vocabulary related to members of the family and copular endings

第5回

1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization Review grammar patterns and practice based on utilization questions
2. Lesson 5 More on Location, Grammar, Vocabulary
3. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar, Utilization
   Spoken and written practice based on statement/interrogative endings

第6回

1. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written from Lesson 1-52. Review Mid-term, Lesson 6 On Daily Greetings, Vocabulary, Grammar
3. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
   The topic of daily greetings and the use of honorifics

第7回

1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, Core Conversation　Students will practice causation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary, Grammar
　Dialogues containing future tense endings and ″if″ clause sentence formation
3. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading

第8回

1. Lesson 7 Practice Spoken and Written Questions 2. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary, Grammar
　Distinguishing conversational verb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions
3. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
　Practice utilization questions based on different informal affirmative endings

第9回

1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary, Grammar　Learn vocabulary words related to the field of study
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
　Practice ″itta″ which expresses the status of existence
3. Lesson 10 Conversation on Transportation, Vocabulary
　Learn transportation-related dialogue and adjectival

第10回

1. Lesson 10 Vocabulary, Grammar, Practice, Reading 2. Lesson 10 Practice Utilization Questions and Reading
3. Lesson 11 Dialogue, Vocabulary

第11回

1. Lesson 11 Practice Utilization Questions, Reading 2. Lesson 12 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Grammar on Negation
3. Lesson 12 Practice Utilization Questions, Reading

第12回

1. Lesson 13 Dialogue, Cardinal Numbers2. Lesson 13　Verb endings, Causation, Practice
3. Lesson 13 Utilization Practice Questions

第13回

1. Lesson 14 Dialogue, Classifiers, Irregular verb endings 2. Lesson 14 Practice Grammar Patterns, Reading
3. Lesson 15 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Practice

第14回

1. Lesson 15 Practice Utilization Questions, Reading 2. Review all lessons
3. Final Examination: Spoken and Written Sections

Language：　Japanese

Textbooks：　KOREAN by M. Rhee (Hakueisha, 2023) is available at Seibundo (成文堂) near the front gate at the corner across Cafe 125.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag：　0：評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams：	50	Mid-term and Final Examination
Class contribution：	25	Attendance and Weekly Assignments
Others：	25	Participation in Weekly Discussions

Note/URL：　国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C017700|51|210C017700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Intensive Korean 51
Instructor	ANN, Eunhee@NAKAZATO, Hisaya@JUN, Dongwon
Term	fall semester	Credits	3
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2@03:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

Intensive Korean classes are held three times a week. The Intensive Korean covers learning the Korean alphabet, Hangeul, and themes related to days of the week, introducing oneself, location, transportation, weather, and various additional topics on the daily life. This course is taught in both English and Japanese. Each lesson is divided into four sections: (1) Basic Dialogue (2) Explaining Vocabulary (3) Learning Grammar Patterns and Spoken/Written Practice Questions, and (4) Utilization which focuses on application of grammar patterns and the dialogues. Additionally, there is a section for practice reading. Classes are team-taught. For the detailed breakdown of the weekly lesson plans, please refer to the Moodle.

Objectives: Upon the completion of the course, students will be ready for the novice and intermediate level Korean proficiency tests.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Introduction: On the Korean language, SimpleVowels
The logic of writtenKorean is introduced.
2. Review simple vowels, learn double vowels,consonants.
Students will learn allvowels and consonants.
3. Consonants and Butchim
Review all vowels andconsonants, and pronunciation rules related to Butchim.

Week 2

1. Pronunciation Rules
Pronunciation rulescovering liaison/assimilation, consonant aspiration, consonant clusters,palatalization, tensification, and weakening are covered.
2. Lesson 1 Greetings, Grammar
Topics on basic greetingsand self-introduction are covered.
3. Lesson 1 ReviewCore Conversation, Practice Questions. Reading

Week 3

1. Lesson 2 Core Conversation, Vocabulary, Grammar
Students will learn thebasic sentence structure.
2. Lesson 2 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Review copula and subjectparticles.
3. Lesson 3 Core Conversation Related to Location ,Vocabulary
Understanding action anddescriptive verbs.

Week 4
1. Continue Lesson 3 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice verb endings.
2. Lesson 3 Review Action Verbs, Descriptive Verbs,Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions and reading.
3. Lesson 4 Core Conversation on themes related toFamily, Vocabulary
Practice vocabularyrelated to members of the family and copular endings

Week 5
1. Lesson 4 Grammar, Utilization
Review grammar patternsand practice based on utilization questions.
2. Lesson 5 More on Location,Grammar, Vocabulary
3. Lesson 5 Vocabulary, Grammar,Utilization

Spoken and writtenpractice based on statement/interrogative endings.

Week 6
1. Mid-term Examination: Spoken and Written fromLesson 1-5
2. Review Mid-term, Begin Lesson 6 On Daily Greetings,Vocabulary, Grammar
3. Lesson 6 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
The topic of dailygreetings and the use of honorifics are covered.

Week 7
1. Lesson 6 Review Grammar Patterns, CoreConversation
Students will practicecausation endings and location particles.
2. Lesson 7 Conversation on Future Plans, Vocabulary,Grammar
Dialogues containingfuture tense endings and "if" clause sentence formation
3. Lesson 7 Grammar, Practice Utilization, Reading

Week 8
1. Lesson 7 Practice spoken and written questions
2. Lesson 8 Conversation on Weather, Vocabulary,Grammar
Distinguishing conversationalverb endings related to affirming the speakers' questions.
3. Lesson 8 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice utilizationquestions based on different informal affirmative endings.

Week 9
1. Lesson 9 Conversation on Majors, Vocabulary,Grammar
Learn vocabulary wordsrelated to the field of study.
2. Lesson 9 Grammar, Practice, Utilization
Practice "itta"which expresses the status of existence.
3. Lesson 10 Conversation on Transportation,Vocabulary
Learntransportation-related dialogue and adjectival.

Week 10
1. Lesson 10 Vocabulary, Grammar, Practice, Reading
2. Lesson 10 Practice utilization questions and thereading section.
3. Lesson 11 Dialogue, Vocabulary

Week 11

1. Lesson 11 Practice utilization questions, reading
2. Lesson 12 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Grammar on negation
3. Lesson 12 Practice utilization questions, reading

Week 12

1. Lesson 13 Dialogue, Cardinal Numbers
2. Lesson 13 Verb endings, Causation, Practice
3. Lesson 13 Utilication practice questions

Week 13

1. Lesson 14 Dialogue, Classifiers, Irregular verb endings
2. Lesson 14 Practice grammar patterns, reading
3. Lesson 15 Dialogue, Vocabulary, Practice

Week 14

1. Lesson 15 Practice utilization questions, reading
2. Review all lessons
3. Final Examination: Spoken and Written Sections

Language: Japanese

Textbooks:

KOREAN by M. Rhee (Hakueisah, 2023) is available at Seibundo 成文堂 Bookstore near the front gate or at the corner across Cafe 125.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 50 Mie-term and final examination

Class contribution:	25	Attendance, Weekly assignments
Others:	25	Participation in weekly discussions

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C019100|01|210C019100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	German IV 01
Instructor	RUDE, Markus@MUELENZ-GOLI, Katharina
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is specifically designed for those students who are going to spend a study-abroad-year in Germany. Also suitable for those who have attended German Ⅲ or Intensive German Ⅱ at SILS and want to learn German more extensively.
In this course, the native-speaker instructors will teach only in German (direct method), so that the students may have good opportunities to improve their active competence of communication skills, in particular, listening comprehension skill. But knowledge of grammar and sentence structures will be also provided.

The German program is a recipient of the Waseda e-Teaching award.

Objectives: At the end of the course, you will have reached the level A2 of Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).

before/after course of study: Class participation is an important component of study. The classroom should be an opportunity for students to learn from the instructor as well as from each other. Students are therefore expected to attend on a regular basis, be prepared to participate fully in the activities and discussions in each class, and make use of online teaching materials and interactive exercises provided on the learning platform and on Waseda Moodle.

Students can expect homework tasks in each class, which will be evaluated during the following class. Students will also complete additional graded assignments (like creating word maps, writing short texts in German, or reflecting on their learning process) in each unit. These assignments will be submitted through Waseda Moodle and students will receive feedback from the instructors on the same platform. Entries are due on the assigned date posted on the portal. Students will have more than enough notice and time to complete the entries. No entries will be "re-opened". Moreover, after each unit, a standardized graded vocabulary test will be conducted on the learning platform.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Unit 7
[Week 2] Unit 7
Vocabulary Test 7
[Week 3] Unit 8
[Week 4] Unit 8
Vocabulary Test 8
[Week 5] Unit 9
[Week 6] Unit 9
Vocabulary Test 9
[Week 7] Station 3
[Week 8] Unit 10
[Week 9] Unit 10
Vocabulary Test 10
[Week 10] Unit 11
[Week 11] Unit 11
Vocabulary Test 11
[Week 12] Unit 12
[Week 13] Unit 12
Vocabulary Test 12
[Week 14] Station 4

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Studio [21]: Grundstufe · A2: Gesamtband, Das Deutschbuch.
Additional material will be provided through Waseda Moodle and a learning platform.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Depending on the assessment of the learning environment the instructors may or may not conduct final exams (written or oral).

If a final exam is conducted, the overall grade will be calculated as follows:
Active participation and homework – 50%
Additional assignments – 15%
Vocabulary tests – 15%
Final exam – 20%

Without a final exam, the overall grade will be calculated as follows:
Active participation and homework – 50%
Additional assignments – 25%
Vocabulary tests – 25%

Note/URL:

More information on the German program at: https://scharloth.w.waseda.jp/
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C019200|01|210C019200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish IV 01
Instructor	MOYANO LOPEZ, Juan Carlos@FOWLER, Arthur
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Spanish..

This is a fourth-semester Spanish language course. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish at an intermediate level. This course is designed to enable students who have taken SpanishⅢ to improve listening, speaking, reading and writing skills, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. In addition, students will discuss issues related to the Spanish speaking world in the target language.

Objectives: Through this fourth-semester intermediate Spanish course, students will not only develop and improve their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of SpanishⅣ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study: It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: This schedule is provisional and subject tochanges depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introducción, Unidad 7 Cuando termine launiversidad, empezaré a trabajar
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 7
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 ¿Quieres venir a mi casa?
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 8
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 Estudiaren el extranjero
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 9
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 9, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term examination Give commentsand feedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad10 Cambios sociales en España e Hispanoamérica
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad10
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 11 Deportes
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad11, Unidad 12 Terminamos el curso
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad12
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 12
[Class 27] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 28] FinalExaminations Give comments and feedback on the exams in order to maximizeeducational effects.

Language: Spanish

Textbooks: ¡Muy bien! Curso de español 2, Segunda edición
Juan Carlos Moyano López, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo, and Yoshimi Hiroyasu
(Editorial Asahi, 2024) ISBN 978-4-255-55156-2.

References: Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0：評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams :	80	One mid-term examination 30% One final examination 50%
Others :	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL : Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examination. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C019200|51|210C019200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish IV 51
Instructor	MOYANO LOPEZ, Juan Carlos@FOWLER, Arthur
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:
【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in Spanish.

This is a fourth-semester Spanish language course. Students will continue to acquire knowledge of grammar, vocabulary, and expressions through tasks focused on developing the ability to communicate in Spanish at an intermediate level. This course is designed to enable students who have taken Spanish Ⅲ to improve listening, speaking, reading and writing skills, while increasing their awareness of the Spanish speaking world. This course continues to serve as a bridge where students' native language(s) and culture(s) and the target (Spanish) language and culture meet. In addition, students will discuss issues related to the Spanish speaking world in the target language.

Objectives:
Through this fourth-semester intermediate Spanish course, students will not only develop and improve their Spanish language skills, but also acquire critical thinking skills by examining differences and similarities between two languages and cultures. The ultimate goal of Spanish Ⅳ is to acquire effective and intelligent communication, critical thinking, and the appreciation and understanding of the Spanish speaking world as well as an awareness of cultural diversity in general.

before/after course of study:
It is suggested that you spend a minimum of one hour studying outside of class for every in-class session. Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the assignments indicated by the professor(s) before coming to class. The student should be prepared to actively participate in class activities.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:
1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
[Class 1] Introducción, Unidad 7 Cuando termine la universidad, empezaré a trabajar
[Class 2 & 3] Unidad 7
[Class 4 & 5] Unidad 7, Unidad 8 ¿Quieres venir a mi casa?
[Class 6 & 7] Unidad 8
[Class 8 & 9] Unidad 8, Unidad 9 Estudiar en el extranjero
[Class 10 & 11] Unidad 9
[Class 12 & 13] Unidad 9, Review
[Class 14] Mid-term examination Give comments and feedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.
[Class 15 & 16] Unidad 10 Cambios sociales en España e Hispanoamérica
[Class 17 & 18] Unidad 10
[Class 19 & 20] Unidad 11 Deportes
[Class 21 & 22] Unidad 11, Unidad 12 Terminamos el curso
[Class 23 & 24] Unidad 12
[Class 25 & 26] Unidad 12
[Class 27] Unidad 12, Review
[Class 28] Final Examinations Give comments and feedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.

Language:
Spanish

Textbooks:
¡Muy bien! Curso de español 2, Segunda edición
Juan Carlos Moyano López, Carlos García Ruiz-Castillo, and Yoshimi Hiroyasu
(Editorial Asahi, 2024) ISBN 978-4-255-55156-2.

References:
Spanish-Japanese/Japanese-Spanish dictionary
Spanish-English/English-Spanish dictionary

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:
0：評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams :	80	Mid-term examination 30% Final examination 50%
Others :	20	In-class activities, homework, compositions, etc.

Note/URL : Regular attendance is required, and students must regularly review grammar (such as verb conjugations) and vocabulary.
In order to take the final examination, students must have an absolute minimum of 2/3 of the classes during this semester. If students have absences exceeding 1/3 of the classes without a legitimate excuse, they are not allowed to take the final examinations. See the “Attendance policy” attached below. It will also be distributed during the first week.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C019300|01|210C019300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish V 01
Instructor	KREJCOVA, Jolana
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Spanish.

This is a fifth-semester Spanish language course. It is intended for students who have completed Spanish IV and for anyone with at least a pre-intermediate level of Spanish. In this course, through active participation, students will strengthen their command of Spanish grammar, vocabulary, and expressions at an intermediate level, with a balanced focus on the four core skills: listening, speaking, reading, and writing. The course will also introduce cultural aspects of the Spanish-speaking world and encourage discussion of contemporary issues of interest in Spain and Latin America.

Objectives: The aim of this course is to develop intermediate-level competence in Spanish and to help students gain confidence in expressing their ideas in the Spanish language, while also learning about the cultures of the Spanish-speaking world. The course further aims to promote the use of Spanish as a means of intercultural communication and to encourage students to explore and reflect on similarities between their own culture and those of the Spanish-speaking world.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to dedicate at least one hour per session to independent study outside class. This time should be used to complete assignments as instructed by the teacher and to review the content covered in the previous session. Before starting a new unit, students are expected to familiarize themselves with the relevant vocabulary in advance so that they can engage more effectively with the material from the beginning. Before examinations, students are expected to dedicate additional time to revising the exam content, as instructed by the teacher.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: This schedule and content are provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.
Class 1 & 2Course introduction, Unit 1: Prohibido prohibir (Exploring customs and social norms in the Spanish-speaking world)Class 3 & 4 Unit 2: Volver a empezar (Describing facts and habits in our daily lives)Class 5 & 6Unit 3: Mañana (Discussing science, technology, and the world of tomorrow)Class 7 & 8Unit 4: Va y le dice… (Storytelling and exploring literary and film genres)Class 9 & 10Unit 5: Busque y compare (Giving recommendations and instructions)Class 11 & 12Unit 6: ¡Basta ya! (Writing petitions and expressing wishes)Class 13 & 14Unit 7: Mensajes (Exploring different types of messages in everyday communication)Class 15 & 16Revision of units 1-7 and Mid-term exam
Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.Class 17 & 18Unit 8: El turista accidental (Sharing anecdotes about our experiences)Class 19 & 20Unit 9: Tenemos que hablar (Expressing opinions and emotions)Class 21 & 22Unit 10: De diseño (Describing the characteristics and uses of different objects)Class 23 & 24Unit 11: Un mundo mejor (Discussing current issues in today's world and proposing solutions)Class 25 & 26Unit 12: Misterios y enigmas (Creating hypotheses and expressing degrees of certainty)Class 27 & 28Revision of units 8-12 and Final exam
Give comments and feedback on the exam in order to maximize educational effects.

Language: Spanish

Textbooks: "Aula Internacional Plus 3. Libro del Alumno" by J. Corpas, A. Garmendia, y C. Soriano, Difusión, 2021, ISBN: 9788418032226.
Additional materials will be distributed by the professor.

References: Reference materials will be indicated by the teacher during class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 70 Mid-term examination (30%)
Final examination (40%)

Papers:	10	In-class assignments
Class contribution:	20	Active participation in class (group activities, presentations, and other in-class activities)

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C019400|01|210C019400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean IV 01
Instructor	KIM, Shinyoung@KIM, Moran
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

KOREAN IV is designed forstudents who completed KOREAN III or an equivalent level. Using two textbooksfrom Sejong Korean series, this course introduces intermediate-level grammarand expressions. Students will engage in conversations in both familiar everydaysituations and more extended discussions on social and abstract topics. Eachclass focuses on a specific unit and includes vocabulary and expressions,grammar, pronunciation, and communicative activities. The class schedule issubject to change depending on class size and students' proficiency level.

Objectives:

The goal of this course is to further develop students' communicative competence in Korean across speaking, listening, reading, and writing, and to enable them to participate in extended conversations and express opinions with greater accuracy and fluency.

before/after course of study:

For review, students may be required to submit assignments, watch the on-demand content, or read supplementary materials. Review is expected to take approximately 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
1. Introductionand 2B Unit 1
2. 2B Unit 1Making suggestions/invitations

Week 2
1. Unit 2 Distance, time,directions
2. Unit 3 Describing nouns(experience/objects)

Week 3
1. Unit 4 Interrupted actions
2. Unit 5 Prohibition and public rules

Week 4
1. Unit 6 Permissionand allowed actions
2. Unit 7 Reportingwhat someone said

Week 5
1. Unit 8 Past vs present comparison
2. Unit 9 Expressing wishes and about people

Week 6
1. Unit 10 Evaluating risk andgiving opinions
2. Unit 11 Expressingdifficulties and reasons

Week 7
1. Unit 12 Future plans and aspirations
2. Review Book 2B

Week 8
1. 3A Unit 1 Talking about recent experiences
2. Unit 2 Indirect speech

Week 9
1. Unit 3 Expressing tentative plans and intentions
2. Unit 4 Dividing tasks and giving suggestions withreasons

Week 10
1. Unit 5Conditions and requirements
2. Unit 6 Changeof plan/Contrast

Week 11
1. Unit 7 Duration since starting
2. Unit 8 Purpose and reported information

Week 12
1. Unit 9 Unexpected results/Contrast
2. Unit 10 Indirect commands and instructions

Week 13
1. Unit 11 Sharingpersonal realization and experience
2. Unit 12Recommendations and reported suggestions

Week 14
1. Review 3A (1)
2. Review 3A (2)

Language: Japanese/Englis h

Textbooks: Sejong Korean 2B (English edition) & Sejong Korean 3A (Korean edition)
Handouts will be distributed both in class and via Waseda Moodle.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	50	Mini quizzes and assignments, 50%
Papers:	50	Assessment: 50% , Participation in the discussion. Participation in class discussions

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C019400|51|210C019400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean IV 51
Instructor	RHEE, Maji Christine@KIM, Moran
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2@02:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: KOREAN Ⅳ is designed for students who completed KOREANⅢ or the equivalent level. While reviewing KOREANⅢ, students will learn new grammar and expressions. Also, students will actively engage in conversation. In order to speak fluent Korean, students will study Korean culture and history.

Objectives: The main objective of this course is to practice advanced-level of reading, writing, and discussion lesssons.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

제1과 글로벌 한국에 대하여1
읽기| 작문 토론하기
글로벌 한국에 대하여2
읽기| 작문 토론하기
제2과 한국인의 웃음1
읽기| 작문 토론하기
한국인의 웃음2
읽기| 작문 토론하기
제3과 밀레니엄 세대의 교육1
읽기| 작문 토론하기
밀레니엄 세대의 교육2
읽기| 작문 토론하기
제4과 한국과 일본1
읽기| 작문 토론하기
한국과 일본2
읽기| 작문 토론하기
중간 발표1
각자의 주제에 대하여 발표
중간발표2
각자의 주제에 대하여 발표
제5과 기후변화와 한국사회1
읽기| 작문 토론하기
기후 변화와 한국사회2
읽기| 작문 토론하기
제6과 케이팝1
읽기| 작문 토론하기
케이팝2
읽기| 작문 토론하기
제7과 속담과 문화1
읽기| 작문 토론하기

속담과 문화2
읽기 작문 토론하기
제8과 한국어와 일본어1
읽기 작문 토론하기
한국어와 일본어2
읽기 작문 토론하기
제9과 취직과 생활1
읽기 작문 토론하기
취직과 생활2
읽기 작문 토론하기
제10과 수필1
읽기 작문 토론하기
수필2
읽기 작문 토론하기
제11과 한국의 고전1
읽기 작문 토론하기
한국의 고전2
읽기 작문 토론하기
제12과 세시풍습1
읽기 작문 토론하기
세시 풍습2
읽기 작문 토론하기
발표
학기말 레포트 발표
레포트 제출
학기말 레포트 제출

Language:	Japanese/English
Textbooks:	한국어와 한국문화via Online
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	50	Weekly writing assignments and presentations.
Papers:	0	-
Class contribution:	50	Final essay writing assingment.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C01F600|01|210C01F600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Learn French with French Cinema 01
Instructor	PAGES, Christophe
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Improve your listening and speaking skills in French while discovering the French language and culture through contemporary cinema.

Course Outline: This course explores cinema as a means of language acquisition and cultural learning. Through the analysis of films in their original version, students will:
- Strengthen their command of French vocabulary in real-life contexts.
- Improve their listening comprehension by engaging with native speakers' natural speech patterns.
- Develop their ability to express ideas in French through film-based activities.
- Deepen their understanding of French culture by exploring societal and cultural themes through cinema.

Each session revolves around the study of a film or an excerpt, allowing students to progressively develop their language skills, refine their comprehension, and expand their vocabulary. The exploration of various cinematic genres will provide them with an enriched perspective on the cultural and social realities of France, while reinforcing their linguistic proficiency.

*The class will be conducted mostly in French, but some documents and movie subtitles will be in English.

This class is for students who have a B1 level in French, i.e. students who have studied /are studying Level 3 in French and are preparing for study-abroad in a French-speaking area, but it can also be useful for students coming back from study-abroad or who have a higher level in French.

Objectives:
- Improve their comprehension of spoken French through film dialogues.
- Acquire vocabulary and common expressions in context.
- Express their impressions about a film in a simple and natural way.
- Discover cultural and social aspects of French cinema.

before/after course of study:
Before class:
- Watch a film or an assigned excerpt following the professor's instructions.
- Take notes on the dialogues, context, and key themes.
- Research the director, film genre, or cultural aspects of the film.

After class:
- Answer a few questions about the plot and characters.
- Share their opinion in a few sentences.
- Complete a listening comprehension exercise and memorize key expressions.

Preparation and review will take at least 90-120 minutes each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回
Course introduction, objectives, andassessment criteria. Discussion on students' cinematic preferences.

第2回
Film 1: Introduction to the film.

第3回
Viewing of key excerpts. Listening comprehension activity.

第4回
Vocabulary and dialogue practice.

第5回
Writing a short film summary and a personal review.

第6回
Film 2: Introduction to the film.

第7回
Viewing of key excerpts. Listening comprehension activity.
第8回
Vocabulary and dialogue practice.
第9回
Writing a short film summary and a personal review.
第10回
Film 3: Introduction to the film.
第11回
Viewing of key excerpts. Listening comprehension activity.
第12回
Vocabulary and dialogue practice.
第13回
Writing a short film summary and a personal review.
第14回
Synthesis of the three films. Presentation on the favorite film of the semester.

Language: French

Textbooks: No textbook required. Course materials will be provided as photocopied handouts.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	30	Listening comprehension tests and vocabulary quizzes.
Papers:	40	Film summaries and personal reviews.
Class contribution:	30	Participation in discussions and vocabulary activities.

Note/URL: *The course content may be adjusted according to the students' level and progress.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C01F700|01|210C01F700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French and Diplomacy I (in French and English) 01
Instructor	BREFUEL, Romuald
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: A CLIL class about French Language and International Diplomacy

Course Outline: For historical reasons, French was considered the main language of diplomacy and is still today the official and/or working language of several international organisations such as WTO, UN, OECD, NATO, ICJ, FIFA, IOC, etc. French is therefore a requisite for the ones who intend to work in such places. This course is a CLIL class (Content and Language Integrated Learning), which means French and English will be used in class to help you not only improve your French skills but also develop your knowledge about diplomacy and international institutions where French is used as a communication tool, through different classroom activities such as discussion, presentation, conversation, aural (video and audio material) & reading comprehension tasks. The course is intended for students with a B1 level in French in the CEFR levels.The professor in charge of this class is a professional expert in preparing diplomats to go and work in the francophone world (he is the Special Chief Instructor for French at the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs – MOFA): a remarkable opportunity for students to know more about this field and career with first-hand information and training.

Objectives: Besides discovering international organisations where French is used and giving you insights into diplomacy in the 21st century, the main objective of this course is to help you develop specific and useful French skills for your future career as a diplomat or as an active member of the international community.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

第1回
Vol. 1
General introduction and quizz about the subject under study

第2回
Vol. 2
Diplomacy: a French definition

第3回
Vol. 3
Diplomacy and French: history, past and present (1)

第4回
Vol. 4
Diplomacy and French: history, past and present (2)

第5回
Vol. 5
Career,work and life as a diplomat in French (1)

第6回
Vol. 6
Career,work and life as a diplomat in French (2)

第7回
Vol. 7
Ministry of foreign affairs and the francophone world (1)

第8回
Vol. 8
Ministry of foreign affairs and the francophone world (2)

第9回
Vol. 9
Embassies and consulates : roles and functions in French (1)

第10回
Vol.10
Embassies and consulates : roles and functions in French (1)

第11回
Vol.11
Discovering International organisations in French (1)

第12回
Vol.12
Embassies and consulates : roles and functions in French (2)

第13回
Vol.13
Embassies and consulates : roles and functions in French (3)

第14回
Vol.14
Written exam

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Printed material and handouts.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 60 Written exam and oral presentation

Class contribution: 40 active participation

Students are expected to be active, motivated, eager to learn and attend all classes.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C01F900|01|210C01F900[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French and International Relations I (in French and English) 01
Instructor	BREFUEL, Romuald
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Understanding the world in French

Course Outline: Supported by an extensive international network of embassies and consulates, France ranks third in the world in terms of its representation and activity abroad. In this course, we will cover international issues and affairs connected to France on all continents (Semester 1 will focus on Europe, Africa and the Americas while semester 2 will concentrate on Asia, Oceania, the polar regions, space, etc.) and learn about its diplomatic relations and actions.Conducted both in French and English, this class will aim to improve general and professional French skills needed in a multicultural and international working environment and become more familiar with France's foreign policy across the world. Discussion, presentation, conversation, aural (video and audio material) & reading comprehension tasks will be some of the different classroom activities.
The course is intended for students with a A2 level in French in the CEFR levels.
The professor in charge of this class is a professional expert in preparing diplomats to go and work in the francophone world (he is the Special Chief Instructor for French at the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs – MOFA): a remarkable opportunity for students to know more about this field and career with first-hand information and training.

Objectives: Besides aiming to improve your French language skills, this course has a twofold objective:
1. Discovering the French diplomatic network through the cooperation actions it implements in the different regions of the world and the close relations France has forged with the international community;
2. Understanding and defining the place and role of France in the concert of nations.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回
General introduction and quizz about the subject under study
第2回
France's Foreign policy (1): Historical background
第3回
France's Foreign policy (2): Action for peace, security and human rights
第4回
France's Foreign policy (3): Promotion of French businesses and France's attractiveness abroad
第5回
France's Foreign policy (4): Work in favour of a balanced and sustainable development in the world
第6回
France's Foreign policy (5): Presence of France's ideas, language and culture while advocating diversity
第7回
France and Europe (1)
第8回
France and Europe (2)
第9回
France and Europe (3)

第10回
France and Africa (1)
第11回
France and Africa (2)
第12回
France and the Americas (1)
第13回
France and the Americas (2)
第14回
Summary

Language:	English/French
Textbooks:	Printed/online material and handouts.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	60	Written exam and oral presentation
Class contribution:	40	active participation

Note/URL: Students are expected to be active, motivated, eager to learn and attend all classes.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C01S100|51|210C01S100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Plus I 51
Instructor	KREJCOVA, Jolana
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Images of Japan in the Spanish-speaking World: From the Meiji Era to Francoist Spain

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Spanish. There is no prerequisite for this course. However, students are expected to have at least intermediate level of Spanish, as readings, discussions, and assignments will be conducted in Spanish.
This course offers an overview of some of the most important Spanish-language texts that illustrate how Japan was portrayed in Spain and Latin America from the late nineteenth century through the first half of the twentieth century. Classes will focus on the analysis and critical interpretation of these texts within their broader cultural, political, and social contexts. We will explore how portrayals of Japan in the Spanish-speaking world took shape and evolved over time, and identify the key figures involved in shaping these representations. We will study both well-known works by Spanish and Latin American authors, such as Vicente Blasco Ibáñez and José Juan Tablada, and lesser-known texts, particularly those by women travelers.

Objectives: The primary aim of this course is to provide the students with the analytical tools necessary to interpret key texts written in Spanish that convey diverse representations of Japan from the late nineteenth century to the 1950s,and to understand the cultural, political, and social factors that influenced their production. In addition, the course also aims to foster intercultural communication in Spanish through reading, discussion, and critical analysis, so that students can express their ideas clearly and confidently.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to prepare for each class by reading and reflecting on the texts posted on Moodle prior to the session. Any questions or comments, both linguistic and content-related, resulting from the reading and reflection will be discussed in the following class. In addition, before the presentation session, students are expected to prepare their presentations in accordance with the teacher's instructions. Before the final examination, students should take sufficient time to revise the exam content specified by the teacher. Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Class 1 Course Introduction Introduction to Relations between Japan and the Spanish-speaking WorldClass 2 Pre-modern RelationsPre-modern Relations between Japan and the Spanish-speaking WorldClass 3 Cultural Encounters 1First Cultural Encounters between the Japanese and Spaniards in the Early Meiji PeriodClass 4 Cultural Encounters 2First Cultural Encounters between the Japanese and Latin Americans in the Early Meiji PeriodClass 5 Spanish Travelers to JapanExplorations of Spanish Travelers to Japan through cultural and literary textsClass 6 Latin American Travelers to JapanExplorations of Latin American Travelers to Japan through cultural and literary textsClass 7 Diplomatic Relations between Japan and SpainThe Establishment of Diplomatic Relations between Japan and SpainClass 8 Diplomatic Relations between Japan and Latin AmericaThe Establishment of Diplomatic Relations between Japan and Latin AmericaClass 9 Spanish Women Travelers to Japan IExplorations of Spanish Women Travelers to Japan I through cultural and literary textsClass 10 Spanish Women Travelers to Japan IIExplorations of Spanish Women Travelers to Japan II through cultural and literary textsClass 11 Bushido and FalangeBushidō and the Spanish FalangeClass 12 Japan in Francoist SpainExplorations of the imaginations of Japan in Francoist SpainClass 13 PresentationsStudent PresentationsClass 14 Final ExamFinal exam
Give comments andfeedback on the exams in order to maximize educational effects.

Language: Spanish

Textbooks: All materials will be uploaded to Waseda Moodle in advance.

References: Reference materials will be indicated by the teacher during class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	50	Final examination
Papers:	30	Report presentation

Class contribution:	20	Active participation in the course (preparations, reactions to cases, group activities, and other class activities and homework assignments).

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C01S200|51|210C01S200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Spanish Plus II 51
Instructor	KREJCOVA, Jolana
Term	fall semester	Credits	1
Day/Period	01:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Literary Movements in the Spanish-speaking World: From Modernism to the Latin American Boom

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】 Face-to-Face

This course is intended for students with at least an intermediate level of Spanish, as readings, discussions, and assignments will be conducted in Spanish.

The course offers an introduction to some of the most influential literary movements in the Spanish-speaking world from the late nineteenth century to the 1970s. Through the analysis of literary excerpts in Spanish, alongside other forms of artistic expression such as painting and music, we will explore major literary trends in relation to broader artistic traditions in Spain and Latin America. We will also examine how cultural production in the Spanish-speaking world responded to wider social, political, and historical factors. We will address the work of both well-known writers and artists, such as Federico García Lorca and Salvador Dalí, as well as lesser-known creators whose contributions have often been overlooked.

Objectives: The goal of this course is to help students identify and reflect on some of the major literary movements in the Spanish-speaking world from the late nineteenth century to the 1970s, and to interpret selected texts within their broader artistic, historical, and cultural contexts. The course also aims to develop strategies for successful intercultural communication in Spanish through reading, discussion, and critical analysis, so that students can express themselves clearly and confidently.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to prepare for each class by reading and reflecting on the texts posted on Moodle prior to the session. Any questions or comments, both linguistic and content-related, resulting from the reading and reflection will be discussed in the following class. In addition, before presentation sessions, students are required to prepare their presentations in accordance with the teacher's instructions. Before any quiz, students should allocate sufficient time to review the material specified by the teacher.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction
Introduction to literary movements in the Spanish-speaking World

Modernism in the Spanish-speaking World
Discussion on Modernism in the Spanish-speaking WorldHow the movement emerged in Spain and in Spanish America

Generation of ' 98 I
Discussion on Generation of '98
Historical background

Generation of ' 98 II
Discussion on Generation of '98 (cont'd)Works by the intellectuals of the Generation of '98

Quiz I; Generation of ' 27 I
Quiz IDiscussion on Generation of '27
Historical background

Generation of '27 II
Discussion on Generation of '27
Works by the intellectuals of the Generation of '27

Presentation I
Student presentations

Avant-Garde in the Spanish-speaking World I
Discussion on Avant-Garde IHistorical background

Avant-Garde in the Spanish-speaking World II
Discussion on Avant-Garde (cont'd)Works by the intellectuals of Avant-Garde

Quiz II; Spanish Post-war Realism I
Quiz IIDiscussion on Spanish Post-war Realism
Historical background

Spanish Post-war Realism II
Discussion on Spanish Post-war Realism (cont'd)Works by realist writers

The Latin American Boom I
Discussion on the Latin American Boom IHistorical background

The Latin American Boom II
Discussion on the Latin American Boom IIWorks by Boom writers

Quiz III; Presentation II
Quiz IIIStudent Presentations II

Language:	Spanish
Textbooks:	All materials will be uploaded to Waseda Moodle in advance.
References:	Reference materials will be indicated by the teacher during class.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	30	Quizzes
Papers:	30	Assignments
Class contribution:	20	Active participation in class
Others:	20	Presentations

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CO20100|51|210CO20100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to English Linguistics 51
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L. others
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Communication	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: The science of language

Course Outline: Linguistics is a scientific study of human language. People depend on language so heavily in their everyday lives that most of them would find life without it unimaginable. And yet, they don't really know how language works or, for that matter, how they acquired their mother tongue in the first place. Indeed, first language acquisition poses an intriguing puzzle. Every normal child easily accomplishes it within a few years without any special training (so the task must be very simple), but even linguists with many years of training can't duplicate this "simple" feat. There are many mysteries like this about human language, which is why the field of linguistics is fascinating and linguistic research has been very active.

Against this backdrop, this course will explain the workings of human language by introducing important theoretical concepts from modern linguistics. More specifically, it will introduce core subfields of linguistics, i.e., phonetics/phonology, morphology/syntax, and semantics/pragmatics. It will thus provide a solid foundation for intermediate-level linguistics courses (and beyond), which will equip students with necessary tools for investigating language and language-related matters. The course will also serve as a good preparation for any discipline that applies knowledge of linguistics.

CO202 (Introduction to Applications of Linguistics) a companion course that deals with applied linguistics, sociolinguistics and historical linguistics, is offered in the spring semester. Students who are interested in linguistics are strongly encouraged to take this course as well.

Note: If you have already received credit for CO201 under the name "Introduction to Language Studies", you may NOT register for this class.

Objectives: Basic understanding of core subfields of English linguistics, plus ability to discern purely linguistic matters from ones that are not.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to do homework exercises, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule [Week 1] Introduction: What is linguistics?

This lecture introduces the field of linguistics, focusing on the differences between studying linguistics and studying foreign languages. It introduces common misconceptions about studying languages and linguistics and discusses these issues.

Reading: Gasser, Michael (2020), "How Language works", Chapter 1.
Copies of the reading material for weeks 1-4 will be provided.

[Week 2] Sound (1): Speech sounds: Articulation and English consonants
What are speech sounds? How are they produced? Using English examples, we will study the production of sounds that occur in English and learn how to categorise speech sounds phonetically.

Reading: Language Files Chapters 2.0 "What is Phonetics?", 2.1 "Representing Speech Sounds" and 2.2 "Articulation: English Consonants".

Homework exercise

[Week 3] Sound (2): Speech sounds: English vowels; Identifying sounds of English
Based on the information from the lecture in week 2, we will learn how to produce English vowels and the fundamental concept of phonology: identifying speech sounds (i.e. phonemes and allophones).

Reading: Language Files, Chapters 2.3 “Articulation: English Vowels”, 3.0 “What is Phonology?” and 3.2 “Phonemes and Allophones”.
Homework exercise

[Week 4] Sound (3): Natural classes and phonological rules
We will examine the sound rules of the English language. Why do some sounds behave similarly? Why don't certain sound sequences occur in English?

Reading: Language files Chapter 3.3 “Phonological rules”
Homework exercise

[Week 5] Review and Exam 1 (topics from sound: weeks 1–4)
An overall review of the Sounds of English section

The written exam covers content from weeks 1–4: Sounds of English.

[Week 6] Structure (1)The origins of language, structure and use, knowledge of language
If you need to contact the instructor, email him directly at his email address, which will be provided in week 6.

[Week 7] Structure (2) Animals and human language, traditional grammar, prescriptive grammar, descriptive grammar

[Week 8] Structure (3) I-language, computational systems, equivalent classes, intensional/extensional description, functionalism

[Week 9] Structure (4) Hypothesis testing, Universal Grammar, critical period for 1st language acquisition, acquisition vs. learning

[Week 10] Meaning (1) Sense and reference
This lecture will focus on how we connect words with concepts to create meanings.

Reading: Introduction to English Linguistics, Chapter 5.1 and 5.2
On-line quiz after class

[Week 11] Meaning (2) Compositional and non-compositional meaning; examples of historical change in word meaning
In this class we'll talk about how to combine meanings or words to create the meanings of compounds and phrases, and cases where meaning is not predictable.

Reading: Introduction to English Linguistics, Chapter 5.3
On-line quiz after class

[Week 12] Meaning (3) The mental lexicon and network of word meanings; some mechanisms of historical change
We'll learn about the organization of word meanings in the mental lexicon, and ways in which words may acquire new meanings.

Reading: Introduction to English Linguistics, Chapter 5.4 and Chapter 7.4
On-line quiz after class

[Week 13] Meaning (4) Language in use: speech acts and utterance meaning
In this class, we'll distinguish sentences from utterances (language in a particular context), and consider some of the ways people use language to do things in the world.

Reading: Introduction to English Linguistics, Chapter 6.1 and 6.3
On-line quiz after class

[Week 14[Meaning (5) Pragmatic principles and Meaning Unit Exam
In this class, we'll look at a few of the principles we use to interpret people's intended meaning based on what they say together with the context.

Reading: Introduction to English Linguistics, Chapter 6.3 and 6.4
The meaning exam will be held from 14:00 to 14:50.

Language : English

Textbooks : Some reading materials will be provided; others will be accessible for download through the Waseda library.

References : Anderson, Catherine (2018), “Essentials of Linguistics” Web textbook, , BCcampus

Demers, Richard A., Farmer, Ann K., & Harnish, Robert M., (2010), Linguistics (6th Eds.): An Introduction to Language and Communication, The MIT Press.

Gasser, Michael (2020), Chapter 1 of How Language works, LibreTexts (Out of Print, pdf file is provided)

Katamba, Francis, O’Grady, William, Archibald, John (2011), Contemporary Linguistics: An Introduction (Learning About Language) , Longman.

Language Files: Materials for an Introduction to Language and Linguistics. By Department of Linguistics, Ohio State University, published Ohio State University Press. Any of the following editions is fine: 10th (2007), 11th (2011), 12th (2016), or 13th (2022)

Plag, Ingo, et al. (2015) Introduction to English Linguistics. De Gruyer, Inc.

Radford, Andrew, Martin Atkinson, Martin, Britain, David, Clahsen, Harald, Spencer, Andrew, (2009), Linguistics: An Introduction (2nd Ed.), Cambridge University Press.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag : 1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free- The student will receive a grade for each of the three sections (Sound, Structure, and Meaning) based on exams and/or quizzes. Each section will contribute equally to the final grade, and the student must receive a passing grade of C or higher in at least two of the three sections in order to pass the class.

Note/URL : Quizzes may be given from Week 3, so it is not advisable to join this course after the second week.

Please note that if you have already received credit for CO201 under the name "Introduction to Language Studies", you may NOT register for this class.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C020400|51|210C020400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Psycholinguistics 51
Instructor	LOVCEVIC, Irena
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Communication	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course provides an introduction to the field of psycholinguistics, exploring the intricate relationship between language and the human mind. Students will examine topics such as language acquisition, language processing, bilingualism, and the neural basis of language. Through a combination of theoretical discussions, empirical studies, and practical applications, students will gain insights into how psychology and linguistics intersect in the study of language.

Objectives: – Students will become familiar with models of language processing, cognitive processes involved in comprehension and production, and experimental methodologies used to study language processing.

– Students will acquire the knowledge and skills to examine and compare various theories of language acquisition, understanding how individuals acquire language skills from early childhood through different developmental stages.

– Students will become familiar with the cognitive advantages and challenges associated with bilingualism and multilingualism, including the effects on language control, cognitive flexibility, and brain function.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to complete an average of 60 minutes of homework per class to achieve a passing grade in this class. The homework will include written assignments, undertaking Internet-based research, and article reading.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回
Orientation
第2回
Introduction to Psycholinguistics (Topic 1)
第3回
Article reading and presentation session on Topic 1
第4回
First language acquisition and cognitive development (Topic 2)
第5回
Article reading and presentation session on Topic 2
第6回
Bilingualism and second language acquisition (Topic 3)
第7回
Article reading and presentation session on Topic 3
第8回
Midterm exam
第9回
Language comprehension (Topic 4)
第10回
Article reading and presentation session on Topic 4
第11回
Language production (Topic 5)

第12回
Article reading and presentation session on Topic 5
第13回
Review and Q&A
第14回
Final exam

Language: English

Textbooks: Materials to be provided by instructor

References: The Psychology of Language: From Data to Theory, 4th Edition by Trevor A. Harley
Psycholinguistics: Introduction and Applications by Lise Menn
Fundamentals of Psycholinguistics by Eva Fernandez & Helen Cairns

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	50	Midterm Examination (35%) and Final Examination (45%)
Papers:	30	Submission of article summaries on 5 topics
Class contribution:	20	Active class participation (e.g., asking questions, participating in class discussions). If you are absent from more than 2/3 of the classes, you will receive an ‘F’ for your final grade. Please come to class on time. If you are more than 15 minutes late, you will be marked absent.

Note/URL: The pace of the course may change based on thelevel of the students in the class. The schedule above is suggested for anaverage level class.

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C02F100|51|210C02F100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French and International Relations II (in French and English) 51
Instructor	BREFUEL, Romuald
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Understanding the world in French

Course Outline: Supported by an extensive international network of embassies and consulates, France ranks third in the world in terms of its representation and activity abroad. In this course, we will cover international issues and affairs connected to France on all continents (While semester 1 focuses on Europe, Africa and the Americas, Semester 2 will concentrate on Asia, Oceania, the polar regions, space, etc.) and learn about diplomatic relations and actions.Conducted both in French and English, this class will aim to improve general and professional French skills needed in a multicultural and international working environment and becoming familiar with the France's foreign policy across the world. Discussion, presentation, conversation, aural (video and audio material) & reading comprehension tasks will be some of different classroom activities used in the class.
The course is intended for students with a A2 level in French in the CEFR levels.
The professor in charge of this class is a professional expert in preparing diplomats to go and work in the francophone world (he is the Special Chief Instructor for French at the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs – MOFA): a remarkable opportunity for students to know more about this field and career with first-hand information and training.

Objectives: Besides aiming to improve your French language skills, this course has a twofold objective:
1. Discovering the French diplomatic network through the cooperation actions it implements in the different regions of the world and the close relations France has forged with the international community;
2. Understanding and defining the place and role of France in the concert of nations.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回
General introduction and presentation
第2回
Place and role of France in XXI century
第3回
France and Asia (1)
第4回
France and Asia (2)
第5回
France and Oceania (1)
第6回
France and Oceania (2)
第7回
France and the polar regions
第8回
France in space
第9回
France and the virtual world

第10回
France and International organisations (1)
第11回
France and International organisations (2)
第12回
French citizens abroad
第13回
Foreign citizens in France
第14回
Summary

Language:	English/French
Textbooks:	Printed/online material and handouts.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	60	Written exam and oral presentation
Class contribution:	40	active participation

Note/URL: Students are expected to be active, motivated, eager to learn and attend all classes.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C02F200|01|210C02F200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French and translation (level I) in Diplomacy 01
Instructor	BREFUEL, Romuald
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: An introduction to French/English translation

Course Outline: Whenever cross-cultural communication occurs, the exchange of messages can soon become the cause of miscommunication and misunderstanding, creating funny and embarrassing moments at times. But when it comes to a message expressing the stance of one or more countries on an international issue, like in a joint communiqué for instance, its accurate translation is then of paramount importance. And although each language has its own particularities and uniqueness, it is the job of translators and interpreters to convey the exact, or at least, the most appropriate and meaningful message to each side so that communication can be facilitated and positions understood. In this course, we will work on different texts, speeches, communiqués and writings from the diplomatic domain. This class will be taught in French and in English, and we will try to apply a methodology to switch from one language to the other. This CLIL class (Content and Language Integrated Learning) will help you to get a glimpse of translation techniques and strategies while studying linguistic structures easily reusable in many professional situations.
The course is intended for students with a B1-B2 level in French in the CEFR levels.
The professor in charge of this class is a professional expert in preparing diplomats to go and work in the francophone world (he is the Special Chief Instructor for French at the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs - MOFA): a remarkable opportunity for students to know more about this field and career with first-hand information and training.

Objectives: This course is an introduction to the problematic of translation and aims to give you linguistic tools and strategies to be able to render a message from one language into another in the most accurate way. We will start by acquiring a translation methodology to help us dealing first with short and varied articles (daily press briefings from embassies, news and short statements from government and international organisations, etc.) and then delve into longer and more complex texts or speeches.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回
General introduction and quizz about the subject under study
第2回
Methodology and approach: conveying meaning
第3回
Translation tools: linguistic and cultural knowledge
第4回
Press briefing (1)
第5回
Press briefing (2)
第6回
Press briefing (3)
第7回
Official declaration: French foreign policy (1)
第8回
Official declaration: French foreign policy (2)
第9回
Official declaration: French foreign policy (3)

第10回
Joint communiqué: an introduction (1)
第11回
Joint communiqué: an introduction (2)
第12回
Speech (1)
第13回
Speech (2)
第14回
Speech (3)

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Printed material and handouts.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	60	Written exam and oral presentation
Class contribution:	40	active participation
		Students are expected to be active, motivated, eager to learn and attend all classes.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C02F300|51|210C02F300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French, translation (level II) and interpretation in Diplomacy 51
Instructor	BREFUEL, Romuald
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Trilingual communication between French, English and Japanese

Course Outline: Whenever cross-cultural communication occurs, the exchange of messages can soon become the cause of miscommunication and misunderstanding, creating funny and embarrassing moments at times. But when it comes to the message from a high-ranking official about the foreign policy of his or her country, the accuracy and clarity of the translation/interpretation is crucial. Translators and interpreters need to acquire and develop techniques to help facilitate communication. Although this course can be considered to build on the level 1 course, it is open to any student with the required language level and the will to know more about intercultural and linguistic communication. We will work on different documents from the diplomatic domain and even though this class will be mainly taught in French and English, we will also use the Japanese language, be it in an oral or written form. Translation and interpretation classes will alternate every other week. This CLIL class (Content and Language Integrated Learning) will help you to acquire better translation and interpretation techniques and strategies while studying linguistic structures and pattern easily reusable in a real life.
The course is intended for students with a B2-C1 level in French in the CEFR levels.
The professor in charge of this class is a professional expert in preparing diplomats to go and work in the francophone world (he is the Special Chief Instructor for French at the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs - MOFA): a remarkable opportunity for students to know more about this field and career with first-hand information and training.

Objectives: This course aims to improve your translation and consecutive interpretation skills in a trilingual environment and to give you linguistic tools and strategies to be able to render a message from one language into another in the most accurate way. We will translate longer and more complex texts while tackling consecutive interpretation through common situations you may experience in your daily and professional life.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回
General introduction about the subject under study: Translation (T) and interpretation (I)
第2回
(T/I) Methodology and approach: conveying meaning in a multicultural environment
第3回
(T) Official declaration (1)
第4回
(I) introduction: what is interpretation?
第5回
(T) Official declaration (2)
第6回
(I) casual vs formal language: greeting and chatting / introducing yourself
第7回
(T) Email (1)
第8回
(I) Accepting and refusing an invitation / thanking and apologising
第9回
(T) Email (2)

第10回
(I) Arranging/modifying a meeting
第11回
(T) Note verbale (1)
第12回
(I) Connecting everything (everyone) together: linguistic tips
第13回
(T) Note verbale (2)
第14回
(I) introduction to conference and seminar speeches

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Printed material and handouts.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	60	Written exam and oral presentation
Class contribution:	40	active participation
		Students are expected to be active, motivated, eager to learn and attend all classes.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C02F400|01|210C02F400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Academic studies in France & French for Academic Purposes (in French & English) 01
Instructor	KAWAGUCHI, Yuji
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Academic studies in France & French for Academic Purposes
Etudes académiques en France et Français sur Objectifs Universitaires

Course Outline: The main objective of this course is to prepare students to a successful year of study in France or in a French-speaking country.It is divided into two parts: Academic Studies and French for Academic Purposes. Academic Studies will cover topics necessary for students to integrate fully and beneficially in the country they choose for studying abroad. It will cover stimulating and profitable areas of interest both from an intellectual and a practical level. French for Academic Purposes will focus on specific demands and requirements of the French educational system and will teach skills and techniques necessary to succeed in higher education studies.

In this class, students will also improve their French skills thanks to DELF and Futsuken (仏検) practical exercises

Objectives: This course is for students planning to study a French-speaking university in the near future. It is recommended to take this course along other French courses. This course will also be beneficial to students who already have a good level (A2+ or B1) and are willing to study the language, and students who have an interest in French society and culture. Finally, it is open to students from of all faculties.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回 Orientation

Orietntation : Explanation of course objectives

第2回 French society : contemporary issues and how they relate to students life

French society : contemporary issues and how they relate to students lifeExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第3回 French manner s and customs : integrating into French society and university

French manner s and customs : integrating into French society and university Exercises of oral and reading comprehension

第4回 Education and culture

Education and cultureExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第5回 Education and History : interactions and influences

Education and History : interactions and influencesExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第6回 A comparative approach to Educational Systems (Japan, France, Swiss, Belgium, Canada and other

French around the world (France, Swiss, Belgium, Canada and other countries)
Exercises of oral and reading comprehension

第7回 Mid-term test

Mid-term test

第8回 General introduction to French academic skills

General introduction to French academic skillsExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第9回 Understanding a lecture and taking notes

Understanding a lecture and taking notesExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第10回 Making a presentation

Making a presentationExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第11回 Preparing a review
Preparing a reviewExercises of oral and reading comprehension
第12回 Writing an review
Writing an essayExercises of oral and reading comprehension
第13回 Taking part in a debate and interacting with others
Taking part in a debate and interacting with othersExercises of oral and reading comprehension
第14回 Review
End of the term test

Language:	Japanese/English/French
Textbooks:	Printed material and handouts will be distributed through MOODLE.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	60	Mid-term and final exams.
Class contribution:	20	active participation
Others:	20	comment sheet

Note/URL: Students are expected to be active, motivated, eager to learn and attend all classes.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C02F400|51|210C02F400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Academic studies in France & French for Academic Purposes (in French & English) 51
Instructor	KAWAGUCHI, Yuji
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Academic studies in France & French for Academic Purposes
Etudes académiques en France et Français sur Objectifs Universitaires

Course Outline: The main objective of this course is to prepare students to a successful year of study in France or in a French-speaking country.It is divided into two parts: Academic Studies and French for Academic Purposes. Academic Studies will cover topics necessary for students to integrate fully and beneficially in the country they choose for studying abroad. It will cover stimulating and profitable areas of interest both from an intellectual and a practical level. French for Academic Purposes will focus on specific demands and requirements of the French educational system and will teach skills and techniques necessary to succeed in higher education studies.

In this class, students will also improve their French skills thanks to DELF and Futsuken (仏検) practical exercises

Objectives: This course is for students planning to study a French-speaking university in the near future. It is recommended to take this course along other French courses. This course will also be beneficial to students who already have a good level (A2+ or B1) and are willing to study the language, and students who have an interest in French society and culture. Finally, it is open to students from of all faculties.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回 Orientation

Orietntation : Explanation of course objectives

第2回 French society : contemporary issues and how they relate to students life

French society : contemporary issues and how they relate to students lifeExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第3回 French manner s and customs : integrating into French society and university

French manner s and customs : integrating into French society and university Exercises of oral and reading comprehension

第4回 Education and culture

Education and cultureExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第5回 Education and History : interactions and influences

Education and History : interactions and influencesExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第6回 A comparative approach to Educational Systems (Japan, France, Swiss, Belgium, Canada and other

French around the world (France, Swiss, Belgium, Canada and other countries)
Exercises of oral and reading comprehension

第7回 Mid-term test

Mid-term test

第8回 General introduction to French academic skills

General introduction to French academic skillsExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第9回 Understanding a lecture and taking notes

Understanding a lecture and taking notesExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第10回 Making a presentation

Making a presentationExercises of oral and reading comprehension

第11回 Preparing a review
Preparing a reviewExercises of oral and reading comprehension
第12回 Writing an review
Writing an essayExercises of oral and reading comprehension
第13回 Taking part in a debate and interacting with others
Taking part in a debate and interacting with othersExercises of oral and reading comprehension
第14回 Review
End of the term test

Language:	Japanese/English/French
Textbooks:	Printed material and handouts will be distributed through MOODLE.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	60	Mid-term and final exams.
Class contribution:	20	active participation
Others:	20	comment sheet

Note/URL: Students are expected to be active, motivated, eager to learn and attend all classes.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C02F600|51|210C02F600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French and Diplomacy II (in French and English) 51
Instructor	BREFUEL, Romuald
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: A CLIL class about French Language and International Diplomacy

Course Outline: For historical reasons, French was considered the main language of diplomacy and is still today the official and/or working language of several international organisations such as WTO, UN, OECD, NATO, ICJ, FIFA, IOC, etc. French is therefore a requisite for the ones who intend to work in such places. This course is a CLIL class (Content and Language Integrated Learning), which means French and English will be used in class to help you not only improve your French skills but also develop your knowledge about diplomacy and international institutions where French is used as a communication tool, through different classroom activities such as discussion, presentation, conversation, aural (video and audio material) & reading comprehension tasks. The course is intended for students with a B1 level in French in the CEFR levels.The professor in charge of this class is a professional expert in preparing diplomats to go and work in the francophone world (he is the Special Chief Instructor for French at the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs – MOFA): a remarkable opportunity for students to know more about this field and career with first-hand information and training.

Objectives: Besides discovering international organisations where French is used and giving you insights into diplomacy in the 21st century, the main objective of this course is to help you develop specific and useful French skills for your future career as a diplomat or as an active member of the international community.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the relevant material and do the exercises assigned by the teacher. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

第1回
Vol. 1
General introduction and quizz about the subject under study

第2回
Vol. 2
Diplomacy: a French definition

第3回
Vol. 3
Diplomacy and French: history, past and present (1)

第4回
Vol. 4
Diplomacy and French: history, past and present (2)

第5回
Vol. 5
Career,work and life as a diplomat in French (1)

第6回
Vol. 6
Career,work and life as a diplomat in French (2)

第7回
Vol. 7
Ministry of foreign affairs and the francophone world (1)

第8回
Vol. 8
Ministry of foreign affairs and the francophone world (2)

第9回
Vol. 9
Embassies and consulates : roles and functions in French (1)

第10回
Vol.10
Embassies and consulates : roles and functions in French (1)

第11回
Vol.11
Discovering International organisations in French (1)

第12回
Vol.12
Embassies and consulates : roles and functions in French (2)

第13回
Vol.13
Embassies and consulates : roles and functions in French (3)

第14回
Vol.14
Written exam

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Printed material and handouts.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 60 Written exam and oral presentation

Class contribution: 40 active participation

Students are expected to be active, motivated, eager to learn and attend all classes.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C02F700|01|210C02F700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	French Plus 01
Instructor	DETEY, Sylvain Matthieu Julien
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4@02:Wed.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Other Foreign Languages	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Society, Phonetics and Pragmatics

Course Outline: This course is an integrated language-culture content course (CLIL) in English and in French to help students (on a linguistic and sociocultural level) improve both their understanding of French society and their oral skills in pronunciation and conversation. It is primarily aimed at students who already have an A1 level in French (Level 1 in SILS already completed), but it can be of interest to students with various levels of proficiency (from A1 to B1). The course will be partly taught in English and partly in French: half of the course will be devoted to French language learning practice (pronunciation, dialogue comprehension and memorization) with the multimedia TUFS Language Modules (https://www.coelang.tufs.ac.jp/mt/fr/index_en.html), and half will be devoted to linguistic and cultural analyses and discussions.

Objectives: The objective of the course is to provide an introduction to the French sound system, sociocultural insight into French society, and opportunities to practice French conversation around specific speech acts to students who are interested in French studies.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the content of the PPTs before each session (it will be posted on Waseda Moodle every week). Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned under the form of reviews for each class and may include documents reading as well as extra research, especially to prepare for the final report. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
1) General introduction to the class and to French language learning
2) How French are you?
3) If you know English you know French and vice-versa: a look at linguistic history
4) Pronouncing French: introduction
5) Pronouncing French: letters and sounds
6) Pronouncing French: practice
7) Pronouncing French: from sound to music
8) Pronouncing French: from music to songs
9) Reading French: France, a mono/multicultural country?
10) Reading French: France, a mono/multilingual country?
11) Reading French: The French Republic and its values
12) Reading French: cultural icons
13) Reading French: geography and history of France
14) Students' presentations

Language: English/French

Textbooks: None.

References: Reading material will be handed out during class when necessary.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Final report and presentation: 50%
In-class active participation: 50%

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C030800|01|210C030800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Sociolinguistics
Instructor	IINO, Masakazu
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Tues.4@02:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Language and Society

Course Outline: Mode of Delivery: Face-to-Face

Sociolinguistics is a field of linguistics which examines the relationship between language and society, as they mutually influence each other. This course introduces basic concepts of sociolinguistics and explores both micro and macro sociolinguistic studies, reviewing various cases from the micro interpersonal interaction levels to the macro institutional and societal levels. Topics covered include language and power, thought and representation, ethnography of speaking, language and gender, language change, regional and social variation, multilingualism, language attitudes as well as language policy and language planning issues in various social contexts from around the world. Although concepts of both micro and macro sociolinguistics are introduced, an emphasis will be placed on language policy and language planning issues.

Objectives: To understand basic concepts of both micro and macro sociolinguistics.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to read the assigned chapters and articles in advance to prepare for each session. It will take 90-180 minutes. The group members in charge will make a presentation on the chapter contents. A mid-term exam will check students' knowledge and understanding of the course. For the final project, each students will conduct a mini-project, write a 5-page paper and make an oral presentation on the paper.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Session 1, 2 Introduction to sociolinguistics: Language?

Session 3, 4 Language thought and representation

Session 5, 6 Language and politics

Session 7, 8 Language and the media

Session 9, 10 Linguistic landscapes

Session 11, 12 Language and gender

Session 13, 14 Language and ethnicity

Session 15, 16 Language and age

Session 17, 18 Language, class and symbolic capital

Session 19, 20 Global Englishes

Session 21, 22 Mid-term exam / Research proposal presentations

Session 23, 24 Research presentations 1

Session 25, 26 Research presentations 2

Session 27, 28 Summary

The schedule is subject to change.

Language: English

Textbooks: Mooney, Annabelle and Evans, Betsy (2023) Language, Society and Power: An Introduction. Sixth Edition. Routledge.

References: Blommaert, Jan. (2010). The Sociolinguistics of Globalization. Cambridge University Press.

Canagarajah, Suresh. (2017). The Routledge Handbook of Migration and Language. Routledge.
Coulmas, Florian (2005). Sociolinguistics. Cambridge University Press.
Gottlieb, Nanette. (2012). Language Policy in Japan – The Challenge of Change. Cambridge University Press.
Murata, Kumiko. (ed.).(2019). English-Medium Instruction from an English as a Lingua Franca Perspective: Exploring the higher education context. Routledge.
Romaine, Suzanne. (2000). Language in Society – An Introduction to Sociolinguistics. 2nd edition. Oxford: Oxford University Press.
Spolsky, Bernard (1998) Sociolinguistics. Oxford University Press.
Spolsky, Bernard (2009). Language Management. Cambridge University Press.
Tollefson, James and Perez-Milans, Miguel (eds.). (2018). The Oxford Handbook of Language Policy and Planning. New York: Oxford University Press.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	20	A mid-term exam.
Papers:	60	A final paper based on relevant literature reviews and an original research project. An oral presentation on the final paper.
Class contribution:	20	Participation, Group presentations.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C030900|01|210C030900[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Pragmatics and Semantics
Instructor	MASUKO, Mayumi
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Tues.3@02:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Linguistic expressions typically convey more than one kind of 'meaning'. This course focuses on how different kinds of meanings are conveyed and how they interact and/or are controlled by other factors, drawing examples mainly from English and Japanese.
Basic concepts to be covered include:
--word, phrase, sentence [review]--natural language and logical language meanings
--logical symbols and formula
--valence and thematic roles
--lexical (or sense) reations
--contextual information
--implicature, presupposition, speech act theories and illocutionary acts
--politeness
--discourse

Objectives: -- understanding basic concepts in theoretical linguistics
-- being capable of explaining how utterances can convey meanings
-- being capable of distinguishing and explaining different types of 'meaning'
-- being capable of noticing subtle differences in meanings as a result
-- being capable of analyzing new linguistic data using the concepts learnt

before/after course of study: Read the handouts carefully, and if necessary, consult books and articles on the relevant topic.

Reread the handouts and see if you could explain the key concepts.

Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 90-120 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Week 1 introduction
Week 2 structure 1 [basic morphology]
Week 3 structure 2 [basic syntax]
Week 4 lexical semantics and the meaning of 'meaning' quiz 1: structure & lexical semantics
Week 5 meanings of nominals and related expressions
Week 6 meanings of verbs and related expressions
Week 7 basics of formal semantics quiz 2: eventuality & logical representations of "meaning"
Week 8 non-propositional meanings 1: implicature
Week 9 non-propositional meanings 2: presupposition
quiz 3: implicatures and presuppositions
Week 10 non-propositional meanings 3: speech act theories
Week 11 politeness theories 1: Leech
Week 12 politeness theories 2: Brown & Levinson
Week 13 honorifics and related expressions
Week 14 discourse and related issues [tentative] quiz 4: politeness and related phenomena

* This is tentative and subject to change depending on students' knowledge and interests

Language: English

Textbooks: none

References: Chierchia, G. and S. McConnell-Ginet (1990) Meaning and Grammar: An Introduction to Semantics. Cambridge, MA: The MIT Press.

Huang, Y. (2015) Pragmatics. 2nd Edition. Oxford; Oxford University Press.
Levinson, S. C. (1983) Pragmatics. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.
Lyons, J. (1981) Language, Meaning and Context. London: Fontana.
Lyons, J. (1995) Linguistics Semantics. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80	no mid-term or final exams four in-class quizzes instead [provisional]
Class contribution:	20	attendance alone is not sufficient in order to get this portion of scores; students need to participate in the sense of answering when they are asked questions and asking questions when they are not sure about the issues discussed in class

Note/URL: As this course is concerned with analyzing different types of 'meaning', students are expected to have no difficulty understanding English AND writing comprehensible sentences in English.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C031000|01|210C031000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Syntax 01
Instructor	NAMAI, Kenichi
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Wed.4@02:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: An essential tool for doing linguistics

Course Outline: Face to face
We all know that animals (and even insects) can communicate with each other, but our way of communication is fundamentally different in that it is greatly facilitated by language, whose structure seems species-specific. This course concentrates on this part of human language with special reference to its syntax, a set of rules that govern the way the words in a sentence come together.

The underlying assumption behind the paragraph above is that all human languages in the world are rule-governed and structurally the same at an abstract level, and, in this respect, they contrast sharply with other modes of communication employed by bees, bats, dolphins, etc, which all seem to lack systematic structure that allows users to create an infinite number of novel language expressions. This course thus aims to discover principles that govern this essential aspect of human language and tries to tackle issues such as how child language acquisition takes place and how surface differences among languages may be explained by the notion of parameter.

In more practical terms, this course critically reviews and revises school English grammar (i.e., prescriptive grammar), and in so doing, it will equip students with skills necessary to tackle real linguistic issues, including those related to English language education (which has been a big problem in countries like Japan).

Objectives: Understanding of fundamental ideas of generative syntax.

before/after course of study: Weekly reading: 60 minutes
Weekly assignment: 30 – 60 minutes

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule Tentative schedule
[Class 1] Linguistics: the science of language
[Class 2] Knowledge of language
[Class 3] The new comparative syntax
[Class 4] The units of syntactic analysis
[Class 5] Words and phrases
[Class 6] Predicates and arguments
[Class 7] The projection principle
[Class 8] The assignment of thematic roles
[Class 9] The extended projection principle
[Class 10] Review
[Class 11] Syntactic structure
[Class 12] The structure of phrases
[Class 13] The structure of sentences
[Class 14] Review
[Class 15] Learnability and binary branching
[Class 16] Features and category labels
[Class 17] Morphological and abstract case
[Class 18] Structural case: NOMINATIVE and ACCUSATIVE
[Class 19] Adjectives and nouns
[Class 20] Passivization
[Class 21] Visibility
[Class 22] The binding theory
[Class 23] NP types and features
[Class 24] Non-overt categories: PRO and control 1
[Class 25] Non-overt categories: PRO and control 2
[Class 26] NP-movement
[Class 27] Wh-movement
[Class 28] Review

Language: English

Textbooks:	Provided by the instructor.
References:	Isac, Daniela, and Charles Reiss. 2013. I-Language. 2nd Edition. Oxford University Press. 978-0199660179 Radford Andrew. 1988. Transformational Grammar. Cambridge University Press. 978-0521345064
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Others:	100 In-class weekly assignments (Open-book, but no Internet)
Note/URL:	Recommended for students who want to experience a truly college-level course. If you need to contact the instructor, make sure to email him directly at his email address, which will be provided in the first class. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C031200|51|210C031200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	History of English
Instructor	MORIYAMA, Hiizu
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: A historical study of the English language for linguists, for medievalists, and for future English teachers.

Course Outline: This is an intermediate English Historical Linguistics course which should be taken after studying the basics of linguistics offered in Introduction to English Linguistics and/or Introduction to Application of Linguistics at this school or anything equivalent to these anywhere. On the basis of the knowledge you have obtained from these introductory courses, this course will investigate mainly the following two things: the internal linguistic development of the English language from a synthetic to an analytic language, i.e. loss of inflections, depending on a more fixed word order, and emerging periphrases and function words such as auxiliaries and prepositions in constructing sentences; and the external influences on the English language throughout its history, namely, lexical borrowings from Greek, Latin (Classical and Medieval), Old Norse, and (Norman-)French words. Accordingly, we shall first study selected features of pronunciation, spelling, and grammar of English from its earliest stage of development. We shall also consider the cultural, social, and political aspects of the external history of English, especially in terms of vocabulary. By the end of the course we will have understood why the English language has become the lingua franca of the world but, for many speakers of it, whether native or non-native, "English is among the easiest languages to speak badly, but the most difficult to use well" (C. L. Wrenn, The English Language, 1977, p.9).

Objectives: The student will acquire the basic knowledge of how language changes over time, from the point of view of both internal (i.e. linguistic) and external (i.e. cultural) factors and of language contact.

before/after course of study: Students need to read the textbook and the study material on Moodle every week for preparation and revision of the course.
30-60 minutes preparation
60-90 minutes review

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Subject to change; more detailed instructions will be given at the beginning of the class.
[Week 1] Introduction to English Historical Linguistics
[Week 2] Historical backgrounds: Indo-European and Germanic languages (1)
[Week 3] The roots of English: Old English and cognate Germanic languages
[Week 4] Old English 1 (sound changes, noun and adjective declension paradigms)
[Week 5] Old English 2 (verbs and syntax; the works of Alfred, Bede, and Aelfric)
[Week 6] Exam 1 and feedback
[Week 7] Language contact 1 (Norse and the Danelaw)
[Week 8] Language contact 2 (Norman-French)
[Week 9] Middle English dialects (1)
[Week10] Middle English dialects (2)
[Week11] Early and Late Modern English
[Week12] Major Sound Change: the Great Vowel Shift
[Week13] Global English and its future
[Week14] Exam 2 and feedback

Language: English

Textbooks: Dan McIntyre, History of English: A Resource Book for Students, second edition, London: Routledge, 2020. ISBN 978-1-138-50072-3 (paper) Available at Seikyo Bookshop (早稲田大学生協ブックセンター).

References: This is a preliminary reading list; more books will be recommended as the lecture progresses.

Baugh, Albert C. and Thomas Cable, A History of the English Language, fifth edition, London: Routledge, 2002.
Bede, Historia ecclesiastica gentis anglorum, ed. and transl. by Judith McClure and Roger Collins, The Ecclesiastical History of the English People (Oxford World's Classics), Oxford: OUP, 1994.
Campbell, James (ed.), The Anglo-Saxons, Oxford Phaidon, 1982.
Durkin, Philip, The Oxford Guide to Etymology, Oxford: OUP, 2009.
Durkin, Philip, Borrowed Words: A History of Loanwords in English, Oxford: OUP, 2014.
Gray, Douglas (ed.), From the Norman Conquest to the Black Death: An Anthology of Writings from England, Oxford: OUP, 2011.

Mugglestone, Lynda (ed.), The Oxford History of English, Oxford: OUP, 2006.
Strang, Barbara M. H., A History of English, London: Routledge, 1970.
Swanton, MIchael, ed. and transl., The Anglo-Saxon Chronicle, London: Routledge, 1996.
Townend, Matthew, Language and History in Viking Age England: Linguistic Relationships between Speakers of Old Norse and Old English, Turnhout: Brepols, 2002.
Treharne, Elaine (ed.), Old and Middle English c. 890–c. 1450, third edition, Oxford: Blackwell, 2010.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	100	This course is examined by two examinations in class. Full details will be announced later.
Papers:	0	n/a
Class contribution:	0	n/a
Others:	0	n/a

Note/URL:
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C031500|51|210C031500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Word Structure and Vocabulary : English and Japanese in Contrast 51
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L.
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: English and Japanese in Contrast

Course Outline: This course focuses on words in Japanese and English -- how these words are made, where new words come from, how the meanings and sounds of words change over time, and how individual words fit into the overall system of a language. That is, this course will introduce the basics of morphology-- the way words are built from parts such as roots and affixes. It will also consider some of the other interesting aspects of words, including etymology (the history of words), patterns of semantic change, phonological aspects of words (such as stress in English and pitch accent and rendaku in Japanese), and recent trends in word creation, including as the rise of blends, acronyms and use of characters in electronic communication.

This class meets twice per week in first period on Mondays and Fridays. Most classes will start with a short lecture which introduces concepts and online tools or which reviews work done in class during the previous session. Then a large portion of class time will involve students working together in groups to discuss ideas and to analyze data. Sometimes groups will be assigned by the teacher, and other times they will be self-selected.

This class should be of interest to students who are studying English or Japanese as a foreign language and who would like a deeper understanding of the structure of it, as well as students who are interested in teaching either Japanese or English.

Objectives: In this class, students will
- learn to apply theory through exercises done in class and as homework.
- become familiar with resources for studying vocabulary, including online dictionaries and corpora.
- work in groups to find and analyze linguistic examples in the language used around them.
- learn linguistic conventions for writing about words.

before/after course of study: Students should expect to spend at least two hours per week on preparation and review for this twice-a-week class.

Before each class, students will be asked to read an assignment, watch a short video, or to find and prepare examples of relevant words for discussion in class. In some weeks, students will be asked to complete a short online quiz to check their comprehension.

After each class, students will be asked to review the lecture contents and examples, and sometimes to find linguistic examples or analyze some data to prepare for the next class.

There will be at least one group assignment students will have to spend some time outside of class working together with classmates, either online or in person.

Students will also have to spend time outside of class working on a final project, which they can do individually or with a partner.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Course Delivery Method: Full face-to-face

All of the topics listed below will be covered in this class, but the pace and the order may be changed somewhat.

Note that the class meets twice per week, for a total of 28 class sessions.

Week 1: Introduction to the class definition of "word"; Basic terms for linguistics: lexeme, morpheme, functional vs. lexical, etc.; Practice identifying various types of words and morphemes in English and Japanese

Weeks 2 and 3: Important points in the history of English and Japanese languages

Weeks 4 and 5 Necessary concepts in phonetics and phonology for understand English and Japanese words

Week 6: Semantic change in Japanese and English and practice identifying parts of speech

Weeks 7 and 8: Applications of concepts in Weeks 2 to 6 in analyzing loanwords – Group loanword project

Week 9: Word Construction: derivational morphemes in English

Week 10: Word Construction: derivational morphemes in Japanese

Week 11: Other word making processes: Clipping and compounding in English and Japanese

Week 12: Analysis of the new words of the year in English and Japanese; preparation for the final project

Week 13: Morphology in languages other than Japanese and English

Week 14: Miscellaneous topics and review; students share results of their final project

Language : English

Textbooks : There is no good single textbook for the topic of this class, so selected chapters from the following books will be assigned as readings for this class. Most of the materials are already available online, while others are available at the SILS library.

Anderson, Catherine, et al. 2022. Essentials of Linguistics, 2nd edition. McMaster University. [Available on the web with a Creative Commons license, at https://ecampusontario.pressbooks.pub/essentialsoflinguistics2/]

Denning, Keith, Brett Kessler and William R. Leben. 2023. English Vocabulary Elements: A Course in the Structure of English Words, Third edition. Oxford University Press. [Available online through the Waseda library]

Gnanadesikan, Amalia E. 2009. The writing revolution : cuneiform to the Internet Chichester, U.K.:Wiley-Blackwell. [Available online through the Waseda library at https] Chapter 7 is useful for our class: "Japanese: Three Scripts are Better than One".

Iwasaki, Shoichi. 2013. Japanese : Revised edition, John Benjamins Publishing Company. [Available online through the Waseda library]

Kageyama, Tarō and Hideki Kishimoto (eds.) 2016. Handbook of Japanese Lexicon and Word Formation . Boston, De Gruyter Mouton. [Available online through the Waseda library]

Plag, Ingo, et al. 2015. Introduction to English Linguistics. De Gruyer, Inc. [Available online through the Waseda library].

References : In addition to the textbooks listed above, the following books are useful for students in this class. Most are available through the Waseda library.

Frellesvig, Bjarke. 2010. A History of the Japanese Language. Cambridge University Press.

Harley, Heidi. 2006. English Words: A Linguistic Introduction. Oxford: Blackwell Publishers. [Available online through the Waseda library]

Mihalĭcek, Vedrana and Christin Wilson (eds.). 2011. Language files : materials for an introduction to language and linguistics, 11th ed., Columbus, Ohio State University Press. [Available at the SILS Library.]

Plag, Ingo. 2018. Word-Formation in English, 2nd edition. Cambridge University Press. [Available at the Waseda Central Library.]

Shibatani, Masayoshi. 1990. The Languages of Japan. Cambridge University Press. [Available at the Waseda Central Library}

Spencer, Andrew, and Arnold M. Zwicky. 1998. The Handbook of Morphology. Malden, Mass.: Blackwell. [A version is available online through the Waseda library.]

Stockwell, Robert P. and Donka Minkova, 2001. English words : history and structure. Cambridge University Press. [Available online through the Waseda library]

Tsujimura, Natsuko. 2015. An Introduction to Japanese Linguistics, 3rd edition. Oxford: Blackwell Publishers. [Available online through the Waseda library]

Vance, Timothy, 2008. The Sounds of Japanese. Cambridge University Press. [Available at the Waseda Central Library.]

Yamaguchi, Toshiko. 2007. Japanese Linguistics: An Introduction. London; New York: Continuum.

日英語比較講座;第2巻. 東京:大修館書店、1980.5. (Chapter 5 in particular) [Available at the Waseda Central Library.]

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	10	There will be a few quizzes to check your understanding of the reading assignments, These will be done on moodle outside of class time.
Papers:	25	A project paper will be due at the end of the semester.
Class contribution:	50	This includes preparation for class (such as collection of relevant word examples), participation in class discussions, and participation in group work in class. Of course, in order to participate fully, it is necessary to attend regularly.
Others:	15	A group work assignment.

Note/URL: It will be helpful for students to have some background in linguistics. Students who have never taken a linguistics class before should take a careful look at a general linguistics introduction (several are available in the SILS Reading Room) to make sure that they are interested in the subject of this class. Students who have never studied phonetics or phonology may want to read the chapters on these topics in one of the general texts before the class starts.
This class meets in first period twice a week. Much of the class time will be spent in group discussion and group work, so this class is probably not suited to anyone who wants a lecture-only style class. Also, since half of the final grade is related to class participation, this class is recommended only for students who expect to be able to attend an early morning class regularly.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C031800|01|210C031800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Applied Linguistics (English) 01
Instructor	MORIYAMA, Hiizu
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Intermediate English Linguistics for English Language Teaching

Course Outline: This course is for intermediate students of English Linguistics. It will provide them with the basic knowledge of English Language Teaching in secondary education in Japan from a practical point of view. Those students who wish to register for this course are expected to have attended at least one or two of the introductory courses of linguistics offered at SILS, such as Introduction to Applications of Linguistics and Introduction to English Linguistics. On the basis of the knowledge they have acquired from these introductory courses, this course is to offer them both the theoretical and practical knowledge of English Language Teaching. We will investigate how our knowledge of English (not only structural but also communicative) can be used to improve learners' abilities to use English.

The course covers a fourteen-week period and is organized into two sections: English Language Teaching and Pragmatics.

Objectives: The student will acquire a basic understanding of some of the most important themes and issues with English Language Teaching in Japan.

before/after course of study: The student should read an assigned chapter/section of the textbook for class discussions. Lecture Power Point slides should be revised thoroughly after each class. Reading materials distributed in class should be carefully studies after each class.
60-90 minutes preparation
30-60 minutes review

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule [Week 1] Introduction to Applied Linguistics. A detailed schedule and bibliographical information will be distributed.
[Week 2] English Language Teaching (1) L1 acquisition and L2 learning (what are L1 and L2?); L1 mental lexicon or the grammar in the brain
[Week 3] English Language Teaching (2) Standard English and World English; two kinds of grammar (prescriptive and descriptive) and school grammar
[Week 4] English Language Teaching (3) Language distance; L2 learning and transfer; input and output in L2 learning; receptive and productive skills
[Week 5] English Language Teaching (4) The concept of interlanguage; linguistic and cultural interference in the process of English Language Learning
[Week 6] English Language Teaching (5) ELT methodology and practice (Grammar-Translation, Audio-Lingual, Direct, and CLT methods)
[Week 7] Exam 1 and feedback
[Week 8] Pragmatics (1) Linguistic competence and communicative competence; structure (form) and use (force); indirect expressions in English
[Week 9] Pragmatics (2) Cooperative principle and speech acts theory 1
[Week10] Pragmatics (3) Cooperative principle and speech acts theory 2
[Week11] Pragmatics (4) Grice's maxims
[Week12] Pragmatics (5) Politeness strategies; the concepts of 'face' and FTAs ('face threatening acts'); the 'cost-benefit' scale
[Week13] Pragmatics (6) Politeness in ELT; Leech and Svartvik's grammar for communication
[Week14] Exam 2 and feedback

Language: English

Textbooks: Patsy M. Lightbown and Nina Spada, How Languages Are Learned, 5th edition, Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2021.
ISBN 978-0-19-440629-1

References: Aarts, B., A. McMahon, and L. Hinrichs (eds.), The Handbook of English Linguistics, Chichester, Wessex: Wiley Blackwell, 2021.

Aarts, B., J. Bowie, and g. Popova (eds.), The Oxford Handbook of English Grammar, Oxford: OUP, 2020.
Aarts, B, I. Cushing, and R. Hudson, How to Teach Grammar, Oxford: OUP, 2019.
Crystal, D., The Cambridge Encyclopedia of the English Language, third edition, Cambridge: CUP, 2019.
Cook, Vivian, Second Language Learning and Language Teaching, fifth edition, London: Routledge, 2016.
Cutting, J. and K. Fordyce, Pragmatics: A Source Book for Students, fourth edition, London: Routledge, 2021.
Davies, A. and C. Elder (eds.), The Handbook of Applied Linguistics, Oxford: Blackwell, 2004.
Goffman, Erving, Interaction Ritual, London: Routledge, 1967.
Kecskes, Istvan, Intercultural Pragmatics, Oxford: OUP, 2014
Leech, G., The Pragmatics of Politeness, Oxford: OUP, 2014.
Leech, G. and J. Svartvik, A Communicative Grammar of English, third edition, London: Pearson Education, 2002.
Swan, M., Practical English Usage, Oxford: OUP, third edition, 2005, fourth edition, 2016.
VanPatten, B and A. G. Benati, Key Terms in Second Language Acquisition, London: Bloomsbury, 2013.
VanPatten, B. and J. Williams (eds.), Theories in Second Language Acquisition: An Introduction, second edition, Oxford: Routledge, 2015.
Yule, G., The Study of Language, seventh edition, Cambridge: CUP, 2020.
(PPTs and study materials will be provided on the course Moodle page.)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	100	This course is examined by two examinations in class. Full details will be announced later.
Papers:	0	n/a
Class contribution:	0	n/a
Others:	0	n/a

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C031800|02|210C031800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Applied Linguistics (English) 02
Instructor	SUZUKI, Yuichi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Introduction to Second Language Acquisition Research

Course Outline: Welcome to Introduction to Second Language Acquisition (SLA), a key interdisciplinary discipline within Applied Linguistics. This course provides a comprehensive foundation in SLA while encouraging critical examination of language teaching and learning experiences through current theories and research.

Through evidence-based approaches, we will examine key questions in language learning:

-How does age affect second language acquisition?
-What is the role of input, interaction and output in second language development?
-To what extent are individual differences (e.g., aptitude, motivation) important in second language development?
-What does it mean to become a bilingual/multilingual user?
-How does study abroad impact second language proficiency?
-What is the optimal teaching methods for Japanese English learners?

Students will explore these questions through various activities focusing on real-world language teaching and learning contexts. The course examines current SLA research findings and their applications to language pedagogy and learning practices.

Objectives: By the end of this course, you will be expected to:

(1) Understand key concepts and theories underpinning SLA research.
(2) Assess the applicability and limitations of SLA research findings in practical language teaching and learning contexts.
(3) Apply SLA theories to reflect critically on personal and observed language learning experiences.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials provided by the instructor. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to review the class materials and submit an assignment. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule [Part 1: Foundations ofSLA Research]
Week 1. Introduction: Does this course change your view on second language learning?
Week 2. L1 acquisition: Does first language hinder second language learning?
Week 3. Input Hypothesis and Output Hypothesis (1): Which is more important, input or output?
Week 4. Input Hypothesis and Output Hypothesis (2): Which is more important, input or output?

[Part 2: Learner and Context]
Week 5. Cognitive and non-cognitive individual differences: Is talent more important than effort?
Week 6. Age effects: Is it better to start second language learning early?
Week 7. Age effects (2): What are goals of second language learning?
Week 8. Bilingualism: What are goals of second language learning?
Week 9. Study abroad: What are the benefits of studying abroad?

[Part 3: Instructed SLA and Language Teaching]
Week 10. History of language teaching methods: Is there a best method in second language teaching?
Week 11. Task-based language teaching (TBLT) & Presentation-Practice-Production (PPP): Is there a best method in second language teaching?
Week 12. English-medium instruction: Why and how do you study in SISL?

Week 13. Final Exam (in class)

Week 14. Conclusions: Does this course change your view on second language learning?

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Materials will be provided by the instructor.
References:	Ortega, Lourdes. (2009). Understanding second language acquisition. London: Hodder. Lightbown, Pasty M. & Nina Spada (2022). How languages are learned (5th ed.). Oxford University Press. Gass, S., Bejney, J. & Plonsky, L. (2020). Second Language Acquisition: An Introductory Course. (5th ed.). Routledge Brown, S. & Larson-Hall, J. (2012). Second Language Acquisition Myths: Applying Second Language Research to Classroom Teaching. University of Michigan Press. Japanese references (Introductory) 鈴木祐一 (2024)『あたらしい第二言語習得論—英語指導の思い込みを変える』研究社. 鈴木渉 (編) (2017)『実践例で学ぶ第二言語習得研究に基づく英語指導』大修館書店. 白井恭弘(2008)『外国語学習の科学』岩波新書.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	50	Final exam
Class contribution:	50	Weekly Reaction Comments and Aissignments (Students must submit at least 8 weekly reaction comments to earn a passing grade. Please note that meeting this minimum requirement alone does not guarantee a passing grade—it is a necessary but not sufficient condition for passing.)
Note/URL:	【受講を検討している皆さんへ】 外国語学習のメカニズムを科学的に明らかにする「SLA(第二言語習得)研究」の入門科目です。皆さんのこれまでの外国語教育・習得の経験を、SLA研究の視点から振り返り、外国語がどう学ばれるかを考えます。さらに、外国語教授法や日本の英語教育についても扱いますので、英語教員免許を取得する予定の方や、英語教育に強い関心を持つ学生を歓迎します。 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C032100|01|210C032100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	English Phonetics and Phonology 01
Instructor	KONDO, Mariko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Sound system of English

Course Outline: This course will study English phonetics and phonology, dealing with segmental and prosodic aspects of the language. Lectures will focus on the typical characteristics of the sound systems of English in relation to phonetic and phonological theories. The course will focus mainly on theory, but practical pronunciation training will also be included, whenever appropriate, in order to help understanding of the theories. The course is aimed at students who are interested in teaching English as a foreign language. Students will be encouraged to participate during the classes.

Objectives: By the end of this course, students will be able to identify speech sounds in English, to understand and describe these sounds using International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) and to explain features and characteristics of English pronunciation for both learning and teaching.

before/after course of study: Every week, read specified sections of reference books before coming to the class, and after the class, read reference book chapters and class handouts, and complete homework exercises. Expected work for preparation and revision is approximately 3 hours.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Introduction, Articulation and World Englishes

Overall structure of the course will be explained. Learn about World Englishes: its definition, importance in English language teaching and learning as well as academic research of English language study. Articulatory phonetics: Learn how sounds of the languages are described using articulatory phonetics.

Sound system of English: Consonants

Based on the articulatory phonetic description, identify English consonants using articulatory description of the sounds. In addition, we compare some phonemes which are difficult for Japanese speakers and also speakers of other languages.

Sound system of English: Vowels

Based on the articulatory phonetic description, identify English vowels using articulatory description of vowels. Compare vowel systems of different accents of English. How many vowels are there in different accents? Compare English vowel systems with the vowel system of your own language.

Phonemes and Allophones: concept

Learn about the concept of phonemes and allophones, and how to establish phonemes in a language. Learn theoretical methods to establish phonemes: e.g. minimal pairs, parallel distribution, complementary distribution, free variation, phonetic naturalness, and neutralization of phonemes.

Phonemes and Allophones of English sounds

Based on the phonemic theory of Week 4, establish English phonemes. Analyze second language pronunciation mistakes based on phonemic and allophonic differences and phonotactics.

Allophonic variation of English consonants

Consider consonantal allophones of English, e.g. aspiration, glottal stops, glottalization, pre-fortis clipping, obstruent devoicing, clear and dark /l/, nasal release and lateral release. Consider how these variations affect language learning.

The syllable

Consider importance of syllables in English phonology and how to syllabify English words. How syllables are used to explain phonological rules: e.g. /t,d/-tapping in English, aspiration of voiceless plosives, syllabic consonants and allophonic variations, such as nasal- and lateral-release of English plosives.

Review of Weeks 1-7 and Mid-semester test (tentative)

Mid-semester test: revision of the contents covered in the lectures from weeks 1 to 7.

Stress and speech rhythm

To learn isochronous characteristics of English speech rhythm; foot based speech rhythm.
How this affects other phonetic features such as vowel weakening and how non-weak vowels affect speech communication in English.

Weak forms

Consider strong and Weak syllables, and weak forms in English in terms of English weak vowel and its phonetic manifestation, and how they are different from strong vowels. How this strong-weak differences are used in English speech communication.

Assimilation, Linking & Elision

Assimilation, Linking & Elision: suprasegmental features of English. Learn progressive and regressive assimilation and linking phenomena of English. How sound changes by these phonological rules. Also examine elision of consonants and vowels and work out their conditions and rules. Discuss recent sound changes including alveolar consonant epenthesis between /n/ and /s/.

Stress rules: lexical stress, suffix effect and compound stress rules

Learn the patterns of English lexical stress and stress patterns of compound words and phrases, and how suffixes affect stress patterns of a word.

Intonation; Syntactic structure and intonation

To learn the functions of intonation in speech communication. How intonation is manifested in English. Based on the function of intonation,, consider how syntactic structure is indicated by intonation patterns. Consider meaning of phrases depending on their intonation patterns.

Final written examination

The final written exam covering weeks 1-13.

Language: English

Textbooks: (Main reference book)
Roach, Peter. 2009. English Phonetics and Phonology: A Practical Course/Student's Edition (4th ed.), Cambridge University Press.

Handouts will also be provided if necessary.

References:
- Celce-Murcia, Marianne, Brinton, Donna M. and Goodwin, Janet M. (2010) Teaching pronunciation: A Reference for Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (2nd ed.), Cambridge University Press.
- Carley, Paul, Mees, Inger M., and Collins, Beverley S (2008), Practical Phonetics and Phonology: A Resource Book for Students (5th Ed.), Routledge.
- Cruttenden, Alan (2014) 'Gimsons Pronunciation of English (8th ed.)', Routledge.
- Rogerson-Revell, Pamela, (2011) English Phonology and Pronunciation Teaching, Continuum.
- Yavas, Mehmet (2020) Applied English Phonology (4th ed.), Wiley-Blackwell and many more.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Tentative:
Mid-term test 30%
Final written exam 70%
There will be homework in most weeks.
Details will be announced in the first lecture of the course.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C032200|51|210C032200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Japanese Phonetics and Phonology 51
Instructor	KONDO, Mariko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Sound system of Japanese

Course Outline: This course will study Japanese phonetics and phonology, focusing on segmental and prosodic aspects of the language. You will learn about the typical characteristics of Japanese sound systems in relation to phonetic and phonological theories. While the course will focus mainly on theory, but practical pronunciation training will also be included wherever appropriate to help you understand the concepts and theories. While Japanese language ability is not essential for this course, some knowledge of the language will help you to understand the theoretical points and examples. Therefore, I encourage students to learn to read Hiragana and Katakana.

Objectives: Students will be able to understand the sound system of the Japanese language, analyse Japanese pronunciation and explain learner pronunciation difficulties. They will also be able to teach correct pronunciation effectively.

before/after course of study: Every week, read specified sections of reference books before coming to the class, and after the class complete exercises relating to reference book information and class handouts. The preparation and review are expected take approximately 3 hours.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Introduction and Articulation

Explain the overall structure of the course.
Difficulties and problems of Japanese pronunciation as a learner and a teacher.
Articulatory phonetics: Learn how sounds of the languages are described using articulatory phonetics.

Sound system of Japanese: Consonants

Based on the articulatory phonetic description, identify Japanese consonants and vowels using articulatory description of the sounds. In addition, we compare some phonemes which are difficult for Japanese speakers.

Sound system of Japanese (2): Vowels

Based on the articulatory phonetic description, identify Japanese vowels using articulatory description of vowels. Compare Japanese vowel system with English vowel system. How many vowels are there in Japanese. Compare Japanese vowel system with that your own language.

Phonemes and Allophones: concept

Learn about the concept of phonemes and allophones, and how to establish phonemes in a language. Theoretical methods to establish phonemes: minimal pairs, parallel distribution, complementary distribution.

Phonemes and Allophones: problems

Free variation, phonetic naturalness, neutralization of phonemes. Analyze L2 mistakes by phonemic and allophonic differences and phonotactics. Consider phonemic status of some Japanese phonemes.

The syllables and morae (1)

Learn about the syllable and mora and their functions in Japanese. Learn how to analyse Japanese sound sequences into syllables and morae. Consider possible syllable structures of Japanese. Why the mora is important in Japanese in terms of phonological processes and rules. How the mora is the importance of the mora in Japanese phonology. Discuss language examples which prove the importance of the mora in Japanese.

The syllables and morae (2)

Importance of the mora in Japanese phonology: prosodic unit, rhythmic unit, perceptual unit, accent change occurs at a mora boundary, accent position, speech errors, word games. Importance the syllable in Japanese phonology in relation to tokushu-haku: accent baring unit.

Speech rhythm; Mid-term test (tentative)

Understand mora-based Japanese speech rhythm: how mora-timing rhythm is controlled.

Mid-term test on weeks 1-7 (tentative)

Accent of Japanese: nouns

Learn about standard Japanese accent rules: What is lexical accent? How to decide accent locations.

Accent of Japanese: Compound words and loanwords

Default accent pattern and accent of compound words. How to work out accent patterns of compound words. Accent and syllabification.

Vowel devoicing

Learn about vowel devoicing and its processes and rules. Consider constraints which block the processes.

Rendaku: Sequential voicing

Learn about Rendaku, sequential voicing, its processes and rules and why it became a phonological rule in Japanese. Consider phonological constraints which block the processes.

Contraction and loanword phonology

Lean about the processes of contraction in Japanese. How to create a contracted form from longer words or phrases, and consider constraints of contraction processes. Also, learnabout the processes and rules of how Japanese adapt foreign words into Japanese, both segmentally and accent placement. Consider constraints on adapting foreign sounds into Japanese.

Review of the course, Written Exam

Reviewof the course, Written Exam covering the contents of weeks 1-13.

Language: English

Textbooks: Main Reference book (Not the textbook)
Vance, Timothy (2008) 'The Sounds of Japanese', Cambridge University Press.

Handouts and recommended reading lists will be provided.

References:
- Labrune, Laurence (2012) 'The Phonology of Japanese', Oxford University Press.
- Tsujimura, Natsuko (2013) 'An Introduction to Japanese Linguistics (3rd ed.)', Wiley-Blackwell.
- 窪薗晴夫(1998)『音声学・音韻論』、くろしお出版
- 斎藤純男(2006)「日本語音声学入門(改訂版)」三省堂

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Tentatively,
Mid-term test 30%
Final written exam 70%
There will be homework exercises in most weeks.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C032400|51|210C032400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Interpreting Industry of Japan Ⅰ 51
Instructor	SATO, Azusa
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.3@02:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Exploring Interpreting as a Profession

Course Outline: ※Full face to face
This course will cover the field of interpreting comprehensively to understand the Japanese interpreting industry. The class is designed so that the students will be exposed to the history and current state of the market. The course will also give opportunity to students to understand major theories of interpreting, how they are applied in training, and finally how to enter and survive on the interpreting market.
The class content will be informed by the discussion that takes place in the class, so it will be very important for each student to contribute to the discussion. In this way, each person's concerns and interests will be addressed in the content of the following classes.

※This class will be taught by a faculty member who possesses professional experience and will be taught based on the working experience.

Objectives: The aim of the course is to provide students with an understanding of the interpreting industry in Japan so that they can analyze developments and events in the field. The course will also offer deep cultural and societal insight into the socioeconomic fabric within which the industry developed so that the students may themselves identify some of the key turning points of Japan's advancement into the international community and analyze how language played a significant role in Japan's globalization.

before/after course of study: Students should take notes during class to remember the in-class discussions and prepare for the coming classes.

As well as noting the resource materials handed out, students should study carefully the background material suggested, and be ready to present their own ideas in class discussion. Evidence of having followed the development of the class from lesson to lesson and contributed to it will be considered in making student assessments. Expected preparation time for each class: minimum 60 minutes

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule 1:Vol. 1 Class OverviewIntroduction to the World of Interpreting Industry2:Vol. 2 Interpreting Experience and Language LearningDiscussion on Interpreting Experience and Language Learning3:Vol. 3 Background and Context of Interpreting in JapanExplanation of the History of the Interpreting Industry4:Vol. 4 History of Modern Interpreting in JapanDiscussion/Short Presentations5:Vol. 5 History of Interpreting in the WorldStudent Presentations6:Vol. 6 History of Modern Interpreting in the WorldDiscussion/Short Presentations
7:Vol. 7 Interpreting Workshop 1Shadowing8:Vol. 8 Interpreting Workshop 2Repeating9:Vol. 9 Interpreting Workshop 3Paraphrasing10:Vol. 10 Interpreting Workshop 4Preparation for Interpreting SpeechesGlossary Preparation11:Vol. 11 Interpreting Workshop 5Preparation for Interpreting SpeechesConducting Briefings with Interpreters12:Vol. 12 Interpreting Workshop 6Feedback on Interpreting Performances13:Vol. 13 Interpreting Research 1Introduction of Research Topics14:Vol. 14 Interpreting Research 2Discussion/Presentation of Research Topics15:Vol. 15 Midterm Presentation 1Midterm Presentation16:Vol. 16 Midterm Presentation 2Midterm Presentation17:Vol. 17 Midterm Presentation 3Midterm Presentation18:Vol. 18 Interpreter Training 1Explanation of Institutions offering Training Programs19:Vol. 19 Interpreter Training 2Discussion/Short Presentations on Institutions Offering Training Programs20:Vol. 20 Interpreter Training 3Explanation of the Content of Interpreter Training Programs21:Vol. 21 Interpreter Training 4Discussion/Short Presentations on the Content of Interpreter Training Programs

22:Vol. 22 Interpreting TechniquesExplanation of Interpreting Techniques such as Note-Taking23:Vol. 23 Interpreting TechniquesDiscussion/Short Presentations on Interpreting Techniques such as Note-Taking24:Vol. 24 Entering the Interpreting MarketExplanation on How to Enter the Interpreting Market25:Vol. 25 Entering the Interpreting MarketDiscussion/Short Presentations on How to Enter the Interpreting Market26:Vol. 26 Final Presentation 1Student Presentations27:Vol. 27Final Presentation 2Student Presentations
28:Vol. 28 Final Presentation 3Student Presentations

Language:	English
References:	Interpreting for International Conferences, Danica Seleskovitch, Pan and Booth. ISBN 0-9605686-3-8 Basic Concepts and Models for Interpreter and Translator Training, Daniel Gile, John Benjamins Publishing Company. ISBN 90-272-1622-3
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	20	Quizzes to check understanding of the classroom discussions
Papers:	0	(Final report may be assigned to those who have not had sufficient presentation opportunities)
Class contribution:	30	Active participation in discussions, short presentations and homework assignments (response/feedback papers)
Others:	50	Midterm Presentation (20%) Final Presentation (30%)
Note/URL:	The order of the topics introduced may change depending on student interest and the size of the class.The final presentation may become a final essay, depending on the number of students taking the class. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C041100|51|210C041100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Selected Topics in Sociolinguistics
Instructor	IINO, Masakazu
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Tues.3@02:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Language Policy and Language Planning

Course Outline: Mode of Delivery: Face-to-Face

The main goal of this course is to provide the participants with an opportunity to examine contemporary sociolinguistic issues. This course focuses mainly on macro sociolinguistic studies to present various issues in language policy and language planning from around the world. Topics covered in this course include language and ethnicity/migration, language and class, language and identity, language and conflicts, language and politics, multilingualism and education, language change and standardization, language maintenance, and literacy issues. The discipline of language policy and planning covers more than language itself; it has political, economic, social and cultural dimensions. We will examine the development of standard languages in the construction of national communities and identities, bilingualism and multilingualism, language attitudes in nationalism and globalization, language rights and endangered languages.

Objectives: To critically review the concepts of language policy and planning.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to read the assigned reading materials in advance to prepare for each session. It will take at least 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Session 1, 2 Introduction to Language Policy and Language Planning

Session 3, 4 Frameworks and Models

Session 5, 6 Critical Theory in Language Policy

Session 7, 8 Postmodernism in Language Policy, Linguistic Imperialism

Session 9, 10 Economic Considerations in Language Policy

Session 11, 12 Political Theory and Language Policy

Session 13, 14 Language Policy and Linguistic Culture

Session 15, 16 Historical Investigation

Session 17, 18 Ethnographic Methods

Session 19, 20 Methodological Perspectives

Session 21, 22 National Identity, Minority Rights, Linguistic Human Rights

Session 23, 24 Mid-term exam / Research Proposal

Session 25, 26 Research presentations group 1

Session 27, 28 Research presentations group 2

The schedule is subject to change.

Language: English

Textbooks: Ricento, Thomas (ed.) (2006) An Introduction to Language Policy. Blackwell Publishing. (available from the WINE system, Waseda University library).
Tollefson, James and Perez-Milans, Miguel. (eds.). (2018). The Oxford Handbook of Language Policy and Planning. Oxford University Press. (available from the WINE system, Waseda University library).

References:

Blommaert, Jan. (2010). The Sociolinguistics of Globalization. Cambridge University Press.
Canagarajah, Suresh. (2017). The Routledge Handbook of Migration and Language. Routledge.
Coulmas, Florian. (2005). Sociolinguistics. Cambridge University Press.
Gottlieb, Nanette. (2012). Language Policy in Japan – The Challenge of Change. Cambridge University Press.
Kaplan, Robert B. and Baldauf Jr., Richard B. (1997). Language Planning from Practice to Theory. Multilingual Matters.
Miyazaki, Satoshi and Iino, Masakazu.(eds.) (2022). Language Policy and Planning in Asia. SAGE Benchmarks in Language and Linguistics. (chapters will be available online).
Murata, Kumiko. (ed.).(2019). English-Medium Instruction from an English as a Lingua Franca Perspective: Exploring the higher education context. Routledge.

Additional reading materials will be announced in class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	20	A mid-term exam
Papers:	60	A final paper based on your research topic.
Class contribution:	20	Active participation, group presentations and oral presentations on your research project.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C042100|01|210C042100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Selected Topics in Applied Linguistics 01
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L.
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.1@02:Fri.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Applications of lexicology (the study of words)

Course Outline: IIn this advanced course, students will gain a theoretical understanding of some aspects of lexicology, including lexical semantics (the study of word meaning), word frequency, and word collocation patterns. We will then see how this applies to the creation of materials for language teaching and language study, including dictionaries, thesauruses, and study materials. We will also briefly consider issues related to translation.

This class meets two times per week. In most class sessions, there will be short lectures combined with discussion in small groups and practice using on-line tools such as vocabulary profilers, dictionaries, corpora, and language-teaching web sites. Between classes, students will be asked to complete short reading assignments or to do further practice with the on-line tools to prepare for class discussion. Finally, students will do a final project which involves one of the following: a critical review of some of the on-line tools introduced in class, the use of these tools to investigate a some aspect of lexical meaning, or the use of the on-line tools to create teaching materials.

In order to access these tools, it is recommended that students bring a lap top computer (preferred) or tablet (also possible) to class.

During the semester, students will write several short assignments in which they reflect on their use of the on-line tools. There will also be some assignments in which students will find or create their own materials and share them with their classmates.

The class will mainly focus on materials related to the teaching and study of English, but there will be opportunities to investigate materials related to Japanese and other languages of interest to the students.

Objectives: The students will learn about linguistic theories and research results related to words and vocabulary, and then see how these theories are applied in actual materials use for reference and language teaching and study.

Students will also learn about many online resources useful for language teaching and study, and develop their critical thinking ability in evaluating these resources.

before/after course of study: Most weeks, there will be a short reading assignment to be done before class.

After class, students will be asked to practice with the online tools, and then to write short reflection assignment based on the practice or to collect some linguistic data using the tools. These assignments will be used as a basis of small group discussions.

Note that the class schedule is more “reading heavy” in the first half of the semester; later weeks have fewer reading assignments and more assignments in which students will be doing research with online tools and researching on topics of interest.

Students should expect to spend at least three hours per week in reading, practicing with the on-line tools, and preparing for class discussions.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule The schedule below shows the list of topics to be covered. Note that the schedule may be adjusted slightly depending on the interests and needs of the students in the class.

Weeks 1 and 2: What is a word? How many words do we know? What do we know about them?

Activities: Exploring word types, word frequency phenomena, and vocabulary size tests

Main readings:
1. Chapter 2 “Lexical Semantics” in Introduction to semantics: an essential guide to the composition of meaning (Zimmermann and Sternefeld 2013)
2. Chapter 1 “Explanations and Definitions” in Measuring Second Language Acquisition – Approaches to Learning, Testing and Researching L2 Vocabulary (Milton 2009)

3. Chapter 5 “Reading a whole book to learn vocabulary” (Nation) in Approaches to Learning, Testing and Researching L2 Vocabulary (Webb 2020)

Supplementary reading: Information about Word Lists on at the EAP Foundation website: https://www.eapfoundation.com/vocab/wordlists/.

Weeks 3 to 5: Basics of lexical semantics – aspects of word meaning and how we can represent them

Activities: Exploring representations of semantic webs and collocational patterns, using corpora, Word Net, and other on-line tools

Main reading: Section II “Word Meanings” (Chapters 5, 6, and 7) in Analyzing meaning: An introduction to semantics and pragmatics. (Kroger 2022).

Additional reference: Fellbaum, Christiane. 1998. Wordnet: an Electronic Lexical Database. Cambridge, MA: MIT Press.

Weeks 6 and 7: Words in dictionaries

Activities: Exploring and evaluating on-line dictionaries; practice in writing dictionary entries

Main reading assignment: Chapter 7, “Users and Uses” and Chapter 8 “Meaning in Dictionaries “ in Lexicography, an introduction (Jackson 2002)

Additional reference: Durkin, Philip (ed.) 2016. The Oxford Handbook of Lexicography. Oxford, Oxford University Press.

Weeks 8 and 9: Words in translation

Activities: Evaluating tools for translation and how they might be used for teaching

Main reading assignments:
1. Chapter 2, “Equivalence at the Word Level” and Chapter 3 “Equivalence at Above the Word Level” in In Other Words: A Coursebook in Translation (Baker 2018)
2. Chapter 7, “Features of Translation” in Introducing Corpora in Translation Studies (Olohan 2004)

Weeks 10 to 12: Putting it all together: using the resources to teach vocabulary

Main reading assignments:
1. Chapter 4, “ ‘I sort of feel like, um, I want to, agree with that for the most part . . .’ : Reporting Intuitions and Ideas in Spoken Academic Discourse” in Corpus-based Approaches to English Language Teaching (Campoy-Cubillo, et al. 2010)
2. Various chapters from Teaching vocabulary (Coxhead, Averil, Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages. 2013.)

Week 13: Work on the research project

Week 14: Sharing results of the research projects with classmates [The format of this will depend on the number of students in the class.]

Language : English

Textbooks : There is no textbook for the class. Instead, we will be reading selections from sources, including the ones in the reference section below.

References : Baker, Mona. 2018. In Other Words: A Coursebook in Translation. Routledge.[Available at the Waseda Central Library].

Campoy-Cubillo, Mari Carmen, Begona Belles-Fortuno, and Maria Lluisa Gea-Valor, ed. 2010. Corpus-based Approaches to English Language Teaching. London and New York: Continuum International Publishing Group. [Available on-line through Waseda the Waseda library]

Coxhead, Averil, Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages. 2013. Teaching vocabulary. TESOL Press. [Available on-line through the Waseda library]

Denning, Keith, Brett Kessler and William R. Leben. 2013/2007. English Vocabulary Elements, 2nd edition. Oxford University Press. [Available on-line through the Waseda library]

Durkin, Philip (ed.) 2016. The Oxford Handbook of Lexicography. Oxford, Oxford University Press. [Available on-line through the Waseda library]

Jackson, Howard. 2002. Lexicography: An Introduction. London and New York: Routledge. [Available on-line through the Waseda library]

Kroeger, Paul. 2022. Analyzing meaning: An introduction to semantics and pragmatics. 3rd. edn. (Textbooks in Language Sciences 5). Berlin: Language Science Press. . This title can be downloaded at for free through a Creative Commons license fromhttp://langsci-press.org/catalog/book/231]

Milton, James. (2009) Measuring second language vocabulary acquisition, 1st edition. Multiligual Matters. [Available on-line through the Waseda library]

Murphy, M. Lynne. 2003. Semantic Relations and the Lexicon. Cambridge University Press. [Available through the Waseda Central Library]

Nation, I.S.P. and Hunston, Susan. 2013. Learning Vocabulary in Another Language. Cambridge University Press. [Available through the Waseda Central Library]

Nation, Paul. 2020. "Reading a whole book to learn vocabulary", Chapter 5 in Approaches to Learning, Testing and Researching L2 Vocabulary, edited by Stuart Webb, John Benjamins PublishingCompany, 2020. Available on-line through the Waseda library]

Olohan, Maeve. 2004. Introducing Corpora in Translation Studies. London and New York: Routledge. [Available on-line through the Waseda library]

Plag, Ingo, et al. 2015. Introduction to English Linguistics, De Gruyter, Inc., [Available on-line through the Waseda library]

Zimmermann, Thomas Ede and Sternefeld, Wolfgang. 2013. Introduction to semantics: an essential guide to the composition of meaning. De Gruyter Mouton. [Available on-line through the Waseda library]

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	30	This is for short written homework assignments.
Class contribution:	45	Students are expected to prepare for class discussions by doing the reading and preparing materials based on the on-line activities.
Others:	25	Final project.

Note/URL: The grade for this class has a large component for in-class performance. Active participation in group discussions is an important part of the learning process in this class, so this class may not be suitable for students who prefer a lecture-style class.
Also, please note that this class meets in first period. When deciding to register for this class, you should consider whether you will be able to regularly come to campus by 8:50 a.m.

Finally, since we will often be working with on-line tools and materials, it is recommended that students bring a lap top computer (preferred) or tablet (also possible) to class. Some of the materials will not be easily accessible by phone.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C042200|51|210C042200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Fundamentals of Generative Syntax
Instructor	NAMAI, Kenichi
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Wed.4@02:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Genuine linguistics: scientific study of language structure

Course Outline: [Course Delivery Method] : Face-to-Face
This course focuses on matters that are truly linguistic. After separating linguistic problems from those that should be studied in other fields like sociology, anthropology, psychology, culture, pedagogy, history, religion, etc., the course introduces students to genuinely scientific study of human language. By the time students successfully complete the course, they will have developed an attitude of a scientist, rather than that of a prescriptive grammarian.

More specifically, using Radford's textbook (Radford 2009), the course provides a concise and clear introduction to current work in syntactic theory, drawing on the key concepts of Chomsky's Minimalist Program. By looking at data mainly from English, it will also introduce students to quite a few linguistic mysteries found not only in present-day English but also in languages like Japanese, Chinese, Korean, Belfast English, Elizabethan English, etc. Analytical skills gained in this course will be a solid foundation for conducting research in the following linguistics-related fields: child language, language acquisition, computational linguistics, machine translation, sign language, pidgin and creole, comparative linguistics, historical linguistics, language and thought, speech therapy, textbook writing, etc.

In more practical terms, this course critically reviews and revises school English grammar (i.e., prescriptive grammar), and in so doing, it will equip students with skills necessary to tackle real linguistic issues, including those related to English language education (which has been a big problem in countries like Japan).

Objectives: Basic understanding of human language structure

before/after course of study: Weekly reading: 60 minutes
Weekly assignment: 30 – 60 minutes

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule Tentative schedule
[Week 1-1] Overview (Grammar)
[Week 1-2] Traditional Grammar, Universal Grammar, The Language Faculty [Week 2-1] Principles of Universal Grammar, Parameters, Parameter Setting
[Week 2-2] Review
[Week 3-1] Overview (Structure)
[Week 3-2] Phrases, Clauses, Specifiers
[Week 4-1] Intermediate and Maximal Projections
[Week 4-2] Syntactic Relations
[Week 5-1] Testing Structure
[Week 5-2] Bare Phrase Structure
[Week 6-1] Overview (Null Constituents)
[Week 6-2] Null Subjects, Null Auxiliaries, Null T in Indicative Clauses, Null T in Subjunctive Clauses, Null T in Infinitive Clauses
[Week 7-1] Null C in Finite Clauses, Null C in Infinitive Clauses, Null Complementizers and Case Marking, Defective Clauses
[Week 7-2] Null Determiners and Quantifiers
[Week 8-1] Overview (Head Movement)
[Week 8-2] T-to-C Movement, Movement as Copying and Deletion, V-to-T Movement, Head Movement
[Week 9-1] Auxiliary Raising, Do-Support,
[Week 9-2] Another Look at Negation
[Week 10-1] Head Movement in Nominals
[Week 10-2] Overview (Wh-Movement)
[Week 11-1] Wh-Questions, Wh-Movement as Copying and Deletion
[Week 11-2] Driving Wh-Movement and Auxiliary Inversion, Pied-Piping of Material in the Domain of a Wh-Word
[Week 12-1] Pied-Piping of a superordinate preposition, Long-Distance Wh-Movement
[Week 12-2] Multiple Wh-Questions, Wh-Subject Questions, Exclamative and Relative Clauses
[Week 13-1] Overview (A-Movement)
[Week 13-2] Subjects in Belfast English, Idioms, Argument Structure and Theta-Roles, Unaccusative Predicates
[Week 14-1] Passive Predicates, Raising
[Week 14-2] Long-Distance Passivization

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Radford, Andrew. 2009. An introduction to English sentence structure. Cambridge University Press. (PDF version available at WINE)
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Others:	100 In-class weekly assignments (Open-book, but no Internet)
Note/URL:	If you need to contact the instructor, make sure to email him directly at his email address, which will be provided in the first class. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C042300|51|210C042300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Selected Topics in Language Education and Second Language Acquisition (SLA)
Instructor	SUZUKI, Yuichi
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Wed.3@02:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Teaching English in Japanese Educational Settings

Course Outline: This advanced course bridges theoretical understanding of Second Language Acquisition (SLA) with practical applications in English language teaching, specifically focused on the Japanese educational context. Students will explore the relationship between SLA research and effective pedagogical practices across second language skills (e.g., grammar, vocabulary, pronunciation, reading, listening, writing, and speaking).

This course is particularly valuable for students pursuing careers in English language education across Japanese educational sectors (elementary, junior high, senior high schools, universities, and private education). Students will gain practical experience in applying SLA theories to real classroom contexts, with special attention to the unique challenges and opportunities in Japanese educational settings.

While the primary language of instruction is English, this course is provided in a bilingual format, incorporating both English and Japanese. Some readings will be in Japanese, so students need to be comfortable reading academic Japanese to get the most out of the course.

* Prior to taking this advanced course, students are strongly recommended to take Applied Linguistics (intermediate course) and/or the intermediate seminar, taught by the lecturer (Suzuki), to build a basic foundation in SLA.

Objectives: By the end of this course, you will be able to:
- Critically analyze and apply key principles and theories of second language acquisition to teaching contexts
- Design and develop effective, research-based English language teaching materials
- Plan and deliver effective English lessons for diverse learner groups in Japanese educational settings
- Evaluate and adapt teaching approaches based on SLA principles

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials provided by the instructor. Preparation is expected to take 180-240 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to review the class materials and submit an assignment. The review is expected to take 180-240 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: This course carries 4 credits; therefore, each weekly theme consists of two sessions (totaling 28 sessions over 14 weeks). The course is designed as a practitioner-researcher workshop, combining theoretical lectures with practical workshops and collaborative discussions.

Weekly Group Project Work
A defining feature of this course is the weekly group project work. Students will collaborate in every session to apply theoretical SLA principles to practical teaching scenarios. Consequently, active in-class participation is critical, and students are expected to contribute significantly to their peer learning community.

Key Topics
We have following core Module to delve into key topics in language teaching and SLA.

Module 1: Foundations and Skill-Based Instruction (e.g., listening, vocabulary, grammar teaching)
Module 2: Methodological Frameworks (e.g., Presentation-Practice-Production [PPP] and Task-based Langauge Teaching [TBLT])
Module 3: Critical Analysis and Evaluation (e.g., textbook analyses, GenAI for langauge teaching)

Language: English

Textbooks: Materials will be provided by the instructor.

References:

Brown, S. & Larson-Hall, J. (2012). Second Language Acquisition Myths: Applying Second Language Research to Classroom Teaching. University of Michigan Press.
Larsen-Freeman, D., & Anderson, M. (2013). Techniques and principles in language teaching (3rd ed.). Oxford: Oxford university press.
Lightbown, Pasty M. & Nina Spada (2022). How languages are learned (5th ed.). Oxford University Press.
Loewen, S., & Sato, M. (2024). A practical guide to second language teaching and learning. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.
Tomlinson, B. (2016). SLA research and materials development for language learning: Routledge.
Tomlinson, B. (2023). Developing materials for language teaching (3rd ed.): Bloomsbury Publishing.
Richards, J. C., & Rodgers, T. S. (2014). Approaches and methods in language teaching (3rd ed.). Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

Japanese references
白井恭弘 (2023).『英語教師のための第二言語習得論入門 改訂版』大修館書店.
鈴木祐一 (2024)『あたらしい第二言語習得論—英語指導の思い込みを変える』研究社.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:

0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Papers:	30	Final report
Class contribution:	20	Class Contribution *To be eligible for a passing grade, students must attend a minimum of 11 classes. Please note that meeting this requirement is a necessary but not sufficient condition for passing the course.
Others:	40	Weekly assignment (e.g., reading synopsis, group project)

Note/URL:

【受講を検討している皆さんへ】 最新のSLA（第二言語習得）研究の論文を読み、グループでの議論やプロジェクトへの取り組みを通じて、エビデンスに基づいたより良い英語教育の実践について探究します。将来、英語教員免許を取得する予定の方や、英語教育に強い関心を持つ学生を歓迎します。オープン科目であるため、他学部で英語教員免許を取得予定の学生も受講できます。

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C045400|51|210C045400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Context and Language: Pragmatics
Instructor	MASUKO, Mayumi
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Tues.3@02:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Put crudely, pragmatics is the study of meaning of linguistic expressions in context (linguistic and otherwise). Speakers of any language need to grasp different kinds of meaning other than the so-called "literal" one (i.e. propositional meaning) in order to express what they wish to convey. This is necessary also in order to clearly understand what other people have said or written. Most of the time, people perform this task without much effort, but explicating how it is done is no simple task. This course explores how meaning interacts with structure.

Issues to be discussed include meanings of the predicate (including thematic roles), functions of nominal expressions (including deixis), politeness, and viewpoint. The special focus will be on expressive meanings. Some of these issues are universally found whilst others are salient only in certain languages.

If the majority of students have not taken a pragmatics course, the first few classes will be spent discussing basic concepts in syntax and morphology so that they can later explore multifaceted aspects of "meaning" and also to apply them for analyses of actual language use.

Objectives: Students should have understood basic concepts in theoretical linguistics when the course starts as this is an ADVANCED-level course. The minimum basics will be reviewed in the first four weeks but the students are expected to self-study if their knowledge is insufficient.

Students should be able to apply this knowledge in order to analyze natural language data and have a better understanding of utterance meaning by the end of the semester. In particular, they should be -- capable of understanding and distinguishing different types of meanings
-- capable of providing convincing explanations as to how utterances can convey such meanings
-- capable of using the basic concepts to explain more complex data

before/after course of study: Read the handouts carefully, and if necessary, consult books and articles on the relevant topic.

Reread the handouts and see if you could explain the key concepts.

Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 90-120 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule *The following is tentative and subject to change depending on (a) students' knowledge of the subject and (b) their particular interests.
[Week 1] introduction
[Week 2] basic concepts 1: structure
[Week 3] basic concepts 2: word meaning and beyond
[Week 4] basic concepts 3: the basics of formal semantics
[Week 5] non-propositional meanings 1: implicature
quiz 1: covering topics from the first 4 weeks
[Week 6] non-propositional meanings 2: presupposition
[Week 7] comparison
quiz 2: implicatures and presuppositions
[Week 8] non-propositional meanings 3: speech act theories
[Week 9] politeness theories 1
[Week 10] politeness theories 2
[Week 11] syntax-pragmatics interface 1: honorifics and related expressions quiz 3: speech act theories & politeness theories and related issues
[Week 12] syntax-pragmatics interface 2: referential expressions and related issues 1
[Week 13] syntax-pragmatics interface 3: referential expressions and related issues 2
[Week 14] syntax-pragmatics interface 4: referential expressions and related issues 3 quiz 4: referential expressions and related issues

Language: English

Textbooks:	none
	Students are encouraged, but not required, to read the references below.
References:	Chierchia, G. and S. McConnell-Ginet (1990) Meaning and Grammar: An Introduction to Semantics. Cambridge, MA: The MIT Press. Grice, H. P. (1986) Studies in the Way of Words. Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press. Huang, Y. (2015) Pragmatics. Oxford: Oxford University Press. Kadmon, N. (2000) Formal Pragmatics. Oxford: Blackwell. Levinson, S. C. (1983) Pragmatics. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press. Lyons, J. (1995) Linguistics Semantics. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press. Zipf, G. K. (1948) Human Behavior and the Principle of Least Effort. Cambridge, MA: Addison-Wesley.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	80	no mid-term or final exams as such but there will be four in-class quizzes, which will be similar to but more difficult than the exercise questions provided for many of the topics
Class contribution:	20	Attendance alone is not sufficient to earn score in this section; students need to answer the questions, ask questions and participate in other class activities
Note/URL:	Students are strongly advised to have taken an INTRODUCTORY COURSE in THEORETICAL LINGUISTICS (e.g. CO201) and at least one INTERMEDIATE course. As this ADVANCED-LEVEL course is concerned with analyzing different types of 'meaning', students are expected to have a VERY GOOD COMMAND OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE: i.e. NO DIFFICULTY IN UNDERSTANDING THE MEANING(S) OF SENTENCES IN ENGLISH and WRITING COMPREHENSIBLE SENTENCES in English. It is UNLIKELY that students will pass this course otherwise. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C045700|01|210C045700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Acoustics and Auditory Phonetics
Instructor	KONDO, Mariko
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.2@02:Mon.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: The Physics and Perception of Speech Sounds

Course Outline: This course will introduce theories of acoustic and auditory phonetics, and demonstrate basic techniques for computational analysis of speech sounds. The course will cover the anatomy and physiology of the speech and auditory organs, physics of speech, speech production and perception, and basic theories of speech recognition and synthesis. The classes will consist of both lectures and also practical sessions where the students will conduct speech analysis. No previous knowledge of computation or programming is necessary, but students need to be able to use basic software such as Word, Excel, etc.

Objectives: Students will learn about the system of speech production and perception, and also how to plan and carry out experiments and analyse speech data for phonetic and phonological study.

before/after course of study: For the lecture classes, read specified sections of reference books before coming to the class, and after the class, review class handouts. For the practical classes, students will do practical exercises based on the lecture contents, using specified software. Preparation is expected to take 90 minutes. The review and practical exercises are expected to take 90 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Introduction and review of phonetic science

Discuss differences between phonetics and phonology. Also discuss 3 areas of phonetics: i.e. articulatory phonetics, acoustic phonetics and auditory phonetics.

Sound waves

The nature of sound and physics of sound waves. How to analyse and interpret sound waves in relation to speech sound, and work out the cycle, period, amplitude and frequency. How to look at and analyse complex waves and fundamental frequency of complex sounds. Introducing spectrum and different types of sound waves.

Resonators and filters (1)

Learn about natural frequency, resonators and filters in the context of speech production. A resonator has a central frequency and a bandwidth: how resonator shapes up sound which is created at the vocal folds. Explain about source-filter theory in relation to speech production.

Resonators and filters (2) & Phonetic symbols on the computer

Human vocal tract: works as a resonator. Compare with animal vocal tracts: e.g. chimpanzee, parrots & mynah birds. Introduce how to use IPA symbols on the computer – installing a phonetic keyboard on your PC.

Spectrograms

Learn about spectrograms: wide-band and narrow-band spectrograms. How do they work and how are they used to analyse speech?

Introduction to Praat & Practical exercises

Learn how to use Praat: record own voice, observe speech waveform, measure duration of a cycle and work out fundamental frequency. Compare wide-band and narrow-band spectrograms.

Acoustic characteristics of vowels

Study acoustic characteristics of vowels in relation to formant frequencies. How acoustic characteristics of vowels are presented on spectrograms. Observe formants of the same vowels produced at difference pitches: which features appear the same and which features are presented differently?

Practical exercise on spectrograms

Practice reading wideband and narrowband spectrograms. Observe acoustic features of vowels on spectrograms. Measure pitch range of your own voice and its maximum and minimum f0.

Acoustic characteristics of semi-vowels

Study about acoustic characteristics of semi-vowels based on phonetic and phonological definition of semi-vowels. Acoustic characteristics of diphthongs and triphthongs. Compare them with vowel sequences.

Recording; Mini-test 1 (tentative)

How to make good recordings: conditions and environment for good recording. Reverberation time, different media, analogue vs. digital, CD/DVD/MD/MP3/DAT, sampling rates.Also learn about how to choose subjects, linguistic background, test words and phrases.

Mini-test1 on Acoustics and acoustics of vowels (tentative)

Acoustic characteristics of consonants – nasals & liquids

Learn acoustic characteristics of sonorants. How are they different from vowel and pure consonants? What acoustic features make the discrimination of /l/ and /r/ difficult for Japanese speakers? Find typical features of nasals.

Practical exercise of vowel formant measurement

Learn how to measure formant frequencies of the five Japanese vowels. How to import ″.wav″ files to Praat and how to work with matching ″TextGrid″ files.

Acoustic characteristics of consonants: plosives

Consider articulatory features of plosives and learn how they are related to their acoustic characteristics. Learn about Voice Onset Time, burst frequencies, formant transitions to and from vowels.

Practical exercise on different recording techniques

Revision of recording equipment, e.g. microphones and recording environment, logarithmic scales, and sampling rates.

Acoustic characteristics of consonants – fricatives & affricates

Learn how articulatory features of fricatives are acoustically manifested. Define affricates and examine acoustic differences of affricates and plosive followed by fricatives.

Practical exercise: Measuring voice onset time

Measure VOT of plosive consonants of three different languages, and learn how to create ″TextGrid″ files.

Auditory system

Learn about anatomy of auditory organs and how sound is transmitted to different auditory organs (air-, bone- and fluid conduction of sound) and eventually perceived and processed in the brain. In particular, learn about the functions of the cochlear and the basilar membrane and their importance in the perception of sounds.

Practical exercise on Japanese vowels; Mini-test 2 (tentative)

Measure formant frequencies of Japanese vowels from different speakers, and work out typical Japanese vowel qualities.Mini-test 2 on acoustics of consonants (tentative)

Mini-test2 on acoustics of consonants (tentative)

Pitch and intensity

Learn the difference between pitch, a psychological property, and frequency, a physical property, as well as the relationship between 'perception and hearing' and 'frequency and intensity'. How are these physical properties related to the auditory system? Find out about the linear and nonlinear measuring scales for pitch and intensity: micropascal (μPa), decibel (dB), phons and sones.

Practical exercise on front rounded vowels

Measure F1, F2 and F3 of French front rounded vowels and observe how they are different from unrounded vowels.

Acoustic cues for perception (1)

Learn how human beings identify place, manner and phonation of speech sounds. To investigate and identify acoustic cues of speech sounds.

Practical exercise on resynthesis of pitch, intensity and duration

Learn how to resynthesize sound to modify intensity. Resyntheses sounds by manipulating pitch, duration and intensity.

Acoustic cues for perception (2)

Learn how to investigate and identify acoustic cues of speech sounds.

Practical exercise on segmentation and duration; Practical exercise on perception experiments

Pre-fortis clipping. Learn annotation and work with Textgrid files using IPA symbols in annotation.Also learn about how to choose subjects, linguistic background, test words and phrases.

Categorical perception & McGurk Effect

Categorical perception & McGurk Effect: Learn how humans select auditory information to recognize and categorize speech sounds. Learn how to conduct perceptual experiments: identification and discrimination tests. How to analyse perception results and conduct statistical analysis.

Practical exercise on categorical perception

Conduct experiment for categorical perception: identification and discrimination.

Multimodal speech perception, Speech recognition and speech synthesis

Learn how we use visual information to perceive speech sounds, and how visual information influence speech perception. Study McGurk effect: how visual information interacts with audio information: combination of visual and audio information and perception of sounds.

Final written examination

The final examination covering weeks 1-13.

Language: English

Textbooks: Handouts and recommended reading lists will be provided.

References:
- Clark, John, Yallop, Colin and Fletcher, Janet (2006), An Introduction to Phonetics and Phonology (3rd ed.), Wiley-Blackwell.
- Johnson, Keith (2025) 'Acoustic and Auditory Phonetics (4th ed.)', Wiley-Blackwell.
- Ladefoged, Peter & Johnson, Keith (2014) 'A Course in Phonetics (7th ed.)', Wadsworth Pub Co.
- Ladefoged, Peter (1996) 'Elements of Acoustic Phonetics (2nd ed.)', The University of Chicago Press.
- Ladefoged, Peter (2001) 'Vowels and Consonants: An Introduction to the Sounds of Languages', Wiley-Blackwell.
- Raphael, Lawrence J., Borden, Gloria J. and Harris, Katherine S. (2011) 'Speech Science Primer: Physiology, acoustics, and perception of speech (6th ed.)', Lippincott Williams & Wilkins.
- Reetz, H. and Jongman, Allard (2020) 'Phonetics: Transcription, Production, Acoustics, and Perception (2nd ed.)', Wiley-Blackwell.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	80	Mini tests 30% (15% x 2) Final exam 50%
Papers:	0	No report but weekly practical exercises.
Class contribution:	0	Regular attendance and participation in classes is essential.
Others:	20	Weekly practical exercises on speech production and perception.

Note/URL: This course assumes that students have already studied some phonetics. If you have not completed any of the phonetics and phonology courses (e.g. CO321, CO322 or CO458), or equivalent courses offered by other faculties or universities, or if you have only completed C201 (Introduction to English Linguistics), you must consult the instructor before enrolling.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C045800|51|210C045800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Phonetics and Phonology
Instructor	KONDO, Mariko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Phonetic and Phonological Theories

Course Outline: This course will examine the key principles of phonetic and phonological theory. It will begin with a review of classical taxonomic phonology, before moving on to modern phonological theories. Students will also practise producing the speech sounds of languages spoken around the world based on the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA). Although examples will mainly be presented from English and Japanese to help students understand the theories, examples from various other languages will also be used to further explain the theoretical concepts. Students are expected to have a basic knowledge of phonetics and phonology.

Objectives: On this course, students will learn about current phonetic and phonological theories to help them understand relevant academic papers. They will also learn how to analyse real-world language data and interpret the results using these theories.

before/after course of study: Every week, read specified sections of reference books before coming to the class, and after the class you will be asked to do homework exercises which will be provided in the class, or read the referential materials. Preparation and review are expected to take 3 hours.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Introduction and Review of articulatory phonetics

Discuss differences between phonetics and phonology. Revise IPA and articulatory organs.

Phonation

How the focal folds differ in different phonations; voiced, voiceless, breathy voice, whisper, creaky voice, falsetto. How are different phonations used to differentiate words in some languages.

Phonemes and Allophones: How to analyse speech sounds

Learn about the concept of phonemes and allophones, and how to establish phonemes in a language. Theoretical methods to establish phonemes: minimal pairs, parallel distribution, complementary distribution.

Phonemes and Allophones: issues determining phonemes

Lean more about phonemes and allophones: how to establish phonemes, when there are more than one potential candidate for a phoneme among allophones: free variation, phonetic naturalness, marking convention, symmetrical system, natural class and pattern congruity. How prosody and phonation are used to establish phonemes as well as segmental differences.

Phonological units (1): Syllables and morae

Learn about phonological units: syllables and morae: phonological definition of syllable and mora, and their internal structures: Onset, Rhyme, Nucleus, Coda. Syllabification rules: MOP, phonotactics, syllable weight and morphological structure.

Phonological unites (2): Phonological words and above

What types of phonological units are recognized above the syllable? What is the importance of these units and how do they function in phonology? Consider their importance in phonological rules in various languages.

Phonological rules and phonological units; Mid-semester test (tentative)

Relationship between phonology and syntax. How syntactic operation is blocked by the constraints of phonological units, heavy-NP shift rule in English. Reanalyse Japanese mora structure in relation to onsets of the syllable.

Mora structure revised

Revised mora and syllable structures to consider the function of the onset consonants of a syllable and the weight of the syllable. Based on that, reconsider mora structure of Japanese words and how the onset consonant is linked directly to the syllable, not the mora.

Features (1); Mid-semester test (tentative)

Understand phonological features and their functions in phonology. How to analyse speech sounds using features and the advantages for phonological analyses.

Mid-semester test on the contents of weeks 1-8 (tentative)

Features (2)

Learn how to analyse phonological processes and rules using phonological features, looking at examples from different languages.

Prosody: Speech rhythm, stress, accent, and intonation

Learnabout prosody, how speech rhythm and timing are manifested in languages and how to analyse these prosodic features. Learn about intonation, and how intonation is realized phonetically andits linguistic functions in communication. Difference between phonologicalfeatures of intonation and their phonetic realization will also be studied.

Phonological processes and rules

Learn phonological theories and how they are used to analyse various phonological processes and rules in various languages.

Non-linear phonology

Understand non-linear phonology and how the idea of non-linear theory has been developed.

Final Exam and Feedback

Final written examination on the contents of weeks 1-13. Overall revision of the course.

Language: English

Textbooks: (Main reference book)
Davenport, Mike & Hannahs, S.J., (2025) Introducing Phonetics and Phonology (5h ed.), Routledge

References:
- Clark, John, Yallop, Colin and Flecher, Janet (2006) 'An Introduction to Phonetics and Phonology (3rd ed.)', Wiley-Blackwell.
- Gussenhoven, Carlos and Jacobs, Haike (2025) Understanding Phonology (Underslanding language) (5th ed.), Routledge.
- Ladefoged, Peter & Johnson, Keith (2014) 'A Course in Phonetics (7th ed.)', Cengage Learning.
- Zsiga, Elizabeth C. (2024) The Sounds of Language: An Introduction to Phonetics and Phonology (Linguistics in the World) (2nd ed.), Wiley-Blackwell.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

Tentative:
Mid-semester test 30%
Final written exam 70%
There will be homework in most weeks.

Note/URL: This is not a beginner-level course. Students should have completed introductory and intermediate-level courses in phonetics and phonology. Examples include CO201 Introduction to Language Studies, CO321 English Phonetics and Phonology, CO322 Japanese Phonetics and Phonology, and equivalent courses offered by other faculties or universities.
Therefore, I do not recommend that first- or second-year students enroll on this course.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C046000|51|210C046000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Historical Linguistics 51
Instructor	MORIYAMA, Hiizu
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: An Advanced Study of Language Change

Course Outline: The aim of this course is to provide third- and final-year students with the theoretical and practical knowledge of diachronic studies of language or historical linguistics, which will enable them to understand how some historical changes in language can be described and explained. It will also help them conduct their higher research for their graduation theses and, for some, prospective postgraduate studies. The course may therefore be suitable for those wishing to go on to a graduate school to read for an MA/MPil in Linguistics, Language and Communication, English Language and Medieval Literature, English Language Teaching, and any other areas of studies which are closely related to linguistic, social, cultural, psychological, and pragmatic aspects of human communication.

Objectives: Through attending this course, together with their careful studies of the required reading, students will be able to acquire the basic knowledge of historical variation of English and to articulate their own opinions on some of the key issues of linguistics, whether they are raised by traditional, descriptive, or generative linguists. Those wishing to go on to graduate studies in linguistics, language and communication will obtain the ability to conduct their prospective higher research.

before/after course of study: Each class has its objective. In order to achieve it, the relevant chapter(s) of the assigned textbook and other required readings on Moodle should be studied and prepared thoroughly before attending the class. It will normally take 60-90 minutes on each occasion, depending on a student's background knowledge of linguistics. As to preparation for exams, students should read the required reading carefully, together with their notes taken during the lecture. For these purposes, the instructor will provide them with an exercise sheet as a form of a dummy paper, focusing on some of the most important parts of the lecture which should be revised thoroughly before they sit the examinations. Generally two 90-minute revision sessions will suffice.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction: Synchrony and diachrony

A brief introduction to the descriptive study of language and its methodology; the use of historical corpora and other electronic data sources (e.g. British National Corpus, The Helsinki Corpus of English Texts, Historical Thesaurus of English)

Vol. 2 Historical studies of language

The lecture will present a brief historical sketch of the founders of philology (developing to modern historical linguistics) and their contributions to the studies of historical aspects of language: Ferdinand de Saussure, Rasmus Rask, Franz Bobb, Jacob Grimm, Franz Boaz, Sir William Jones (a British lawyer), Nikolai Sergeyevich Trubetzkoy, Otto Jespersen.

Vol. 3 Sound change 1: Types of sound changes

The lecture will be a survey of three different "schools" of linguistics, namely, the Neogrammarians, the Structuralists, the Generativists, and their ways of investigating various aspects of linguistic phenomena.

Vol. 4 Sound change 2: Mechanism of sound changes

We will look closely at critiques of some of the traditional analyses of the First Sound Shift (Grimm's Law) and the English Great Vowel Shift; the limitations of phonological contrast, "functional load" and "near-mergers").

Vol. 5 A historical and structural survey of the English lexicon

English today has an exceptionally large and varied vocabulary. The Oxford English Dictionary has 275,000 headwords, among which only 9.600 words (3.5%) are of Old English origin (700-1150 CE). We will try to see what else we count as English.

Vol. 6 Why and How Words Change Meaning

The lecture will present a survey of categories of meaning change with interesting examples in Engish and other European languages: widening and narrowing, amelioration and pejolation, metaphor and metonymy, grammaticalization

Vol. 7 Motivations for change: language acquisiton and social factors

Our childhood experience of mother tongue acquisition illustrates how peer influence outweighed parent influence or pedagogical instruction. What and how we speak now simply reflect whom we were playing with and in what ways we communicated with our playmates in the past. We will investigate to what extent such social factors will change the ways in which we communicate in various daily conversation.

Vol. 8 Assignment 1

Exam 1 and feedback

Vol. 9 Language contact as a source of change 1: Scandinavian influence on northern English in the early

We will investigate the linguistic situation in English and Danish (or "Danelaw") Mercia after 954 CE and grammatcal and lexical influences of Old Norse speakers on English speakers or vice versa (e.g. the use of the third person plural pronoun they, and its oblique cases them and their; the interdental fricative of the Old English present tense endings third person singular –eþ and plural –aþ has been replaced by –s).

Vol.10 Language contact as a source of change 2: Bilingualism and the community

The lecture will present a comprehensive study of the linguistic competence of adult Norse learners of English and their children (proably Norse-English bi-lingual speakers) and the process of grammaticalization (e.g. the changing of the demonstrative pronoun "that" (þæt) to the definite article "the" (þe, a function word)).

Vol.11 A historical survey of English 1: Politeness and the history of English

The lecture will present a brief historical sketch of politeness in the English language, from its earliest stage (Old English) to Present-day English, focusing upon such particular linguistic features as terms of address and imperatives.

Vol.12 A historical survey of English 2: Politeness in English medieval literary texts

We will discuss the use of various forms of politeness appearing in medieval English literature, including "cheeful imperative", as T. A. Shippy calls it, which, in Old English poetry, can "exprss a state of mind delicately through speech", e.g. "Onfoh þissum fulle … þu on sælum wes … to Geatum spræc mildum wordum … Beo wið Geatas glæd" (transl. "Take this cup … be happy … speak to the Geats with kind words … be gracious to the Geats" from Old English Beowulf).

Vol.13 Standardizaton: Language is "consciously" changed.

The lecture will present a survey of the idea of standard English in Britain, focusing upon the two prominent scholars in the interwar period, Daniel Jones (1880–1967) and H. C. Wyld (1870–1945) and the particular social dialect called Received Pronunciation ("widely understood pronunciation" Jones, 1946).

Vol.14 Assignment 2

Exam 2 and feedback

Language: English

Textbooks: Robert McColl Millar, Trask's Historical Linguistics, 4th edition, London: Routledge, 2023.

ISBN: 978-0367645571 (Available at Seikyo Bookshop 早稲田大学生協ブックセンター取り扱い)

References:

Anttila, R., Historical and Comparative Linguistics, Amsterdam: John Benjamins, 1989.
Bowern, C. and B. Evans (eds.), The Routledge Handbook of Historical Linguistics, London: Routledge, 2015.
Jucker, A. H., "Changes in Politeness Cultures", in The Oxford Handbook of the History of English, eds. T. Nevalainen and E. C. Traugott, Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2012, at pp. 422–433.
Jucker, A. H. and I. Taavitsainen, English Historical Pragmatics, Edinburgh: Edinburgh University Press, 2013.
Kay, C., S. Horobin, and J. Smith (eds.), New Perspectives on English Historical Linguistics. Vol.1 Syntax and Morphology, Amsterdam: John Benjamins, 2002.
Kay, C. and K. Allan, English Historical Semantics, Edinburgh: Edinburgh University Press, 2015.
Labov, W., Principles of Linguistic Change. Vol.1 Internal Factors, Vol.2 Social Factors, Vol.3 Cognitive and Cultural Factors, Chichester, West Sussex: Wiley-Blackwell, 2001–2010.
Los, B., A Historical Syntax of English, Edinburgh: Edinburgh University Press, 2015.
McMahon, A. M. S., Understanding Language Change, Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1994.
Nevalainen, T. and E. C. Traugott (eds.), The Oxford Handbook of the History of English, Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2012.
Ringe, D. and J. F. Eska, Historical Linguistics: Toward a Twenty-First Century Reintegration, Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2013.
Tayler, J. R., Linguistic Categorization, third edition, Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2003.
Townend, M., Language and History in Viking Age England: Linguistic Relations between Speakers of Old Norse and Old English, Turnhout, Belgium: Brepols, 2002.
Traugott, E. C. and R. B. Dasher, Regularity in Semantic Change, Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2005.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	100	This course is examined by two examinations in class. Full details will be announced later.
Papers:	0	n/a
Class contribution:	0	n/a

Others: 0 n/a

Note/URL: Those students who wish to register for this course are expected to have attended at least one or two of the introductory and/or intermediate courses of linguistics or related subjects offered at SILS or anywhere else to acquire the basic knowledge of theoretical and descriptive linguistics, such as Introduction to Applications of Linguistics and Introduction to English Linguistics. Otherwise, the following book would be recommended for self-study before coming to the class: Yule, G., The Study of Language, seventh edition (or any earlier editions), Cambridge University Press, 2020.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C046200|51|210C046200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Language in National Socialism / Sprache im Nationalsozialismus (in German) 51
Instructor	STEINHAUER, Hagen Fritjof
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Important note: This advanced class will be held in German with English as an auxiliary language. Students are expected to participate in the discussion and read in German.

This course will give an overview of the role of language during National Socialism in Germany (1933 – 1945). We will analyze the propagandistic use of language during the Nazi Party's rise to power, its use of language as a tool to submit the public and its function and perversion during the war and the justification of the holocaust. The class will also deal with the after-life of fascism in the German lexicon and the discourses on education and memory politics after 1945. Due to the current rise of fascist ideology, we will also look into new theories of fascisms and discuss ways to counter fascist ideology.

Objectives: The class aims at giving students an overview of the historic period of National Socialism and its after-life as well as its current renaissance in far-right ideology and conservative politics. The specific focus is on language use but topics like education and memory politics will also be thematized.

before/after course of study: As a part of class preparation, you will be asked to read scientific papers and historical sources in German, which will be posted on Waseda Moodle in advance. This preparation is expected to take 90 to 120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Introduction: Language in/of/under National Socialism

Course overview, requirements and discussion of the perspectives of linguistic analyses of Fascism

"Contaminated Words": is there a Fascist Heritage in Today's Language?

Discussion of the concept "contaminated words"(belastete Wörter) and traces of NS Ideology in the German lexicon

Aus dem Wörterbuch des Unmensch"; Dolf Sternberger's criticism of NS language

Discussion of the language criticism by Dolf Sternberger and others after 1945

The Language and Ideology of the NSDAP: Anti-Semitism and "völkische" Ideology

The affective dimension of the NSDAP propaganda language before 1933 and their anti-semitic ideology

"Gleichschaltung: Political Submission of the Media System

The instrumentalization and submission of the media system and the functioning of totalitarian propaganda

Victor Klemperer's LTI: Nazi Propaganda and Everyday Life under a Fascist Regime

Getting to know Klemperer's biography and his diary as well as his analysis of the language of the NS-regime

Language under National Socialism: Testimonies by the Victims of the Terror Regime and Survivors of the Excerpts from Primo Levi's "If this is a man"and sources from secret texts from Concentration Camps and Ghettos

Preparation of the Site Visit

Active engagement with topics addressed in the Women's active Museum on War and Peace and preparation of questions and discussion

Site Visit: Womens Active Museum on War and Peace

Visit of Women's Active Museum on War and Peace

Language of the Resistance: "Edelweißpiraten"and the Students' Resistance Group around the Scholl Sibl

Learn about different resistant youth groups and their language use using sources and documentary films

"Working through the past"and "Education after Auschwitz": Critical Theory after the War

Discussion of Adorno's essays on Memory politics and anti-fascist education

Eichmann in Jerusalem": Hannah Arendt's analysis of the Banality of Evil
Arendt's famous report and analysis of the Eichmann Trial in Jerusalem
New Fascism? Current trends and approaches in the Analysis and Theory of Fascism
Discussion of the interplay of artificial intelligence, techno-capitalism, data-power and theories of Fascism
Wrap-up and Reflection: How can we oppose old and new Fascist Ideologies?
Summary of the contents of the class and discussion of ideas to counter fascist ideologies

Language:	German
Textbooks:	Required reading material will be posted on Waseda moodle in advance.
References:	Klemperer, Viktor (2020): LTI: Notizbuch eines Philologen. Leipzig: Reclam. Levi, Primo (2010): Ist das ein Mensch? Ein autobiografischer Bericht. München: dtv. Sternberger, Dolf; Storz, Gerhard; Süskind, W.E. (1967): Aus dem Wörterbuch des Unmenschen. Frankfurt am Main: Ullstein.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Class contribution:	50	Active contribution in class
Others:	50	One oral presentation in class or two written homework assignments during the semester

Note/URL:
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|02|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 02
Instructor	MORIYAMA, Hiizu
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: English Historical Linguistics

Course Outline: This seminar is for those students who wish to study the grammatical and lexical aspects of the English language from its earliest stage. Since acquiring a good reading knowledge of historical documents is essential to this area of study, we shall start with learning the basics of Old English, including its spelling, pronunciation, syntax, paradigms, and lexicon. For this purpose we shall use an introductory textbook that contains not only a useful reference grammar of Old English but also a good selection of Old English verse and prose with detailed textual annotations. Together with this weekly reading knowledge class (i.e. translation exercises from Old English to Modern English), each student will be asked to conduct a research for their graduation work that will be supervised regularly throughout the semester. Towards the end of the semester, a research in progress report (1,200 words approx.) and an oral presentation (for 20 minutes in class) will be assigned to each student.

Objectives: The student will acquire a good reading knowledge of medieval English texts and how to analyse them philologically. By reading linguistic writings widely they can develop their own interests in linguistic research in preparation for writing their graduation thesis.

before/after course of study: The student should read an assigned portion of the textbooks for class discussions. Study materials that are used in classes should be revised thoroughly as soon as possible.
60-90 minutes preparation
30-60 minutes review

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Class 1] Presentation: students should report what they achieved during the spring break; submission of homework. and/or research paper; planning of academic activities during the Spring Semester, including prepatarations for grad school exams.
[Class 2] Reading and analysis of academic writings (Applied Linguistics)
[Class 3] Reading and analysis of academic writings (Applied Linguistics)
[Class 4] Reading and analysis of academic writings (Historical Linguistics)
[Class 5] Reading and analysis of academic writings (Historical Linguistics)
[Class 6] Reading and analysis of academic writings (Germanic Philology)
[Class 7] Reading and analysis of academic writings (Germanic Philology)
[Class 8] Reading and analysis of academic writings (Germanic Philology)
[Class 9] Midterm exam or report (option)
[Class10] Presentation: research in progress report 1
[Class11] Presentation: research in progress report 2
[Class12] Presentation: research in progress report 3
[Class13] Summary and conclusion; planning for summer research activities
[Class14] Final exam and feedback

Language: English

Textbooks: (For students of English Language and Medieval Literature) You need to buy the following two coursebooks:
1. Old English Grammar and Text
Smith, Jeremy J., Old English: A Linguistic Introduction, Cambridge: CUP, 2009.
2. Old English Literature
Godden, Malcolm and Michael Lapidge (eds.), The Cambridge Companion to Old English Literature, Cambridge: CUP, 1991.
(For students of English Language Teaching) Reading materials will be announced later in class.

Course pack of introductory reading materials will be distributed.

References: Crystal, David, The Cambridge Encyclopedia of the English Language, second edition, Cambridge: CUP, 2003.
Hogg, Richard M. (ed.), The Cambridge History of the English Language, Volume I , The Beginnings to 1066, Cambridge: CUP, 1992.
Hogg, Richard and David Denison (eds.), A History of the English Language, Cambridge: CUP, 2006.
Kamenade, Ans van and Bettelou Los (eds.), The Handbook of History of English, Oxford: Blackwell, 2006.
Magglestone, Lynda (ed.), The Oxford History of English, Oxford: OUP, 2006.

Momma, Haruko and Michael Matto (eds.) A Companion to the History of the English Language, Oxford: Blackwell, 2008.
Pulsiano, Phillip and Elaine Treharne (eds.), A Companion to Anglo-Saxon Literature, Oxford: Blackwell, 2001.
Strang, Barbara M. H., A History of English, London: Routledge, 1970.
(Further guidance will be given in seminars.)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	25	A research-in-progress report (maximum of 1,200 words in English) will be required. This report should be an extended version of each student's oral presentation on their chosen topic for graduation thesis. Deadline for this work is normally the last session of every semester.
Class contribution:	50	Active participation in class discussions. Regular pre-class preparation (i.e. a careful reading and analysis of assigned medieval English texts) is essential. Each student in turn will be asked to translate the texts into good English.
Others:	25	An oral presentation on a proposed research topic (about 20 minutes) with clear and comprehensible PowerPoint slides and handouts/prints prepared by the student.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|05|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 05
Instructor	NAMAI, Kenichi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Preparation for genuine linguistic research

Course Outline: Face-to-Face
This three-semester-long seminar provides an approachable introduction to scientific research of human language. The history of language science is rather short, and there are still quite a few mysteries about human language, which any normal individual uses every day. In this seminar, students will be trained to be beginning linguists who can actually conduct decent research in this young but very systematic and exciting field.

In the first semester, students study linguistics as cognitive science, using Patterns in the Mind (Jackendoff 1994) as textbook. Questions that are asked in class include: "Do babies imitate their parents when they try to acquire language?" "Can we think without language?" "What happens to babies if they are raised by wild animals?" "What happens to one's language if the right and left hemispheres of one's brain are severed?" "What do language, vision, and music have in common?" "Can babies develop their own language?" "What is the language DNA?" "What happens when two people that don't have a common language have to work together?"

In the second semester, students will read academic papers and critically review them. Then, they will engage in comparative studies of English and Japanese (or some other language, depending on students' interest). By the end of the semester, students will write and submit a term paper, which they can choose to develop further as graduation thesis in the third semester. Alternatively, students may also choose a different topic; in that case, they are expected to find another topic by the end of the summer break.

As for thesis topic, following the spirit of liberal arts, this seminar allows students to select virtually any topic of linguistic science; students may choose a topic from general linguistics, morphology, syntax, linguistics as cognitive science, English education, textbook writing, bilingualism, historical linguistics, comparative linguistics, language acquisition, etc. (as long as it is something that can be studied scientifically).

In the third semester, each student will work on his/her topic for graduation thesis individually. Students are expected to meet with the instructor frequently so that they can submit decent theses in time for graduation.

By actively participating in this seminar, students will be able to conduct quality linguistic research by thoroughly utilizing theoretical tools. If you wish to graduate with a sense of accomplishment, this seminar is for you.

Objectives: Acquisition of ability to distinguish genuinely linguistic matters from ones that are not.
Development of linguistic research skills

before/after course of study: Weekly reading: 60 minutes
Presentation preparation: 120 minutes

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Each class will consist of discussion and presentation.

Language: English

Textbooks: Provided by the instructor.

References: Jackendoff, Ray. 1995. Patterns in the Mind. Basic Books. 978-0465054626
Isac, Daniela, and Charles Reiss. 2013. I-Language. Oxford University Press 978-0199660179

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	50	Two short papers
Class contribution:	25	Class discussion

Others: 25 Presentation

Note/URL: If you need to contact the instructor, make sure to email him directly at his email address, which will be provided in the first class.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|06|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 06
Instructor	IINO, Masakazu
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Language and Society

Course Outline: Mode of Delivery: Face-to-Face

This advanced seminar will examine various language issues related to the process of globalization such as the role language plays in globalization processes and the effects on language that globalization brings about. Topics include language and economic development, language and nationalism and democracy, language and the media, language and technology, language and education, language and the demographic/social changes caused by migration, language and ethnic identity, standardization and diversity, and language and inequality. This seminar is targeted not only for those who are interested in the sociolinguistic discipline per se (e.g., language planning and policy) but also for those who are seeking a deeper understanding of cross-disciplinary fields such as economics, political science, sociology, and education. Students from diverse backgrounds are encouraged to actively participate in class activities and discussions and to engage in academic research towards completing a senior thesis.

Objectives: To conduct an original research project and complete a senior thesis.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to prepare an oral presentation on the research project as well as to read the assigned materials in advance. It will take at least 90-180 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction
[Week 2] Research methods
[Week 3] Research proposal
[Week 4] Data collection, fieldwork
[Week 5] Reading and discussion 1
[Week 6] Reading and discussion 2
[Week 7] Reading and discussion 3
[Week 8] Reading and discussion 4
[Week 9] Reading and discussion 5
[Week 10] Reading and discussion 6
[Week 11] Presentation 1
[Week 12] Presentation 2
[Week 13] Presentation 3
[Week 14] Summary

Language: English

Textbooks: Reading assignments will be announced in class.

References: TBA in class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	80	A research proposal or the final senior thesis will be evaluated. Oral presentations on the project.
Class contribution:	20	Active participation, presentations

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|07|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 07
Instructor	KONDO, Mariko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Language studies and research methods

Course Outline: This course focuses on teaching students how to plan and conduct linguistic research and analyse data. Many students conduct research without a concrete plan and do not know what to do with the data they obtain. Therefore, during the first half of the semester, we will learn statistical methods for:
(1) planning and conducting graduation research;
(2) analysing obtained data; and
(3) understanding the results. In the second half of the semester, you will present your research plan, after which we will discuss how you can best organise and conduct your research, and analyse your data.

Objectives: Students will learn the linguistic knowledge and statistical analysis methods necessary for conducting research in the fields of language acquisition and theoretical linguistics, so that they will be able to conduct research for graduation projects.

before/after course of study: Every week, read specified sections of reference books before coming to the class, and after the class, read reference book chapters and class handouts, and complete homework exercises. Expected work for preparation and revision is approximately 3 hours.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction
[Week 2] Overview of language research
[Week 3] Experimental design
[Week 4] Statistical analysis
[Week 5] How to select a statistical test
[Week 6] Introducing non-parametric tests
[Week 7] Non-parametric tests (1): two and three+ conditions
[Week 8] Non-parametric tests (2): correlations
[Week 9] Non-parametric tests (3): Chi-square test
[Week10] Parametric tests (1): t-test
[Week11] Parametric tests (2): one-way ANOVA
[Week12] Parametric tests (2) : two-way ANOVA
[Week13] Research project presentation and discussion (1)
[Week14] Research project presentation and discussion (2) and overall review

Language: English

Textbooks: Tentatively,
Green, Judith and D' Oliveira, Manuela (2007), "Learning to use statistical tests in psychology (3rd ed.), The Open University Press.
It may change depending on the level and research plans of the students.
Handouts will be provided.

References:
- Johnson, Keith (2008) "Quantitative Methods in Linguistics", Blackwell.
- Dornyei, Zoltan (2007) "Research Methods in Applied Linguistics: Quantitative, Qualitative, and Mixed Methodologies (Oxford Applied Linguistics)", OUP.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-
Presentations: 25%
Course work: 25%
Work in progress report: 50%

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.

Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|08|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 08
Instructor	MASUKO, Mayumi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Seminar on Meaning and Structure

Course Outline: This course is designed to prepare and assist students in conducting research and writing a thesis on issues related to linguistic meaning: how it is influenced by structure, and, in turn, how linguistic structures are (under-)determined by meanings.

Basic principles of academic research will be reviewed. After the introductory weeks, students will be required to give oral presentations on topics which they have chosen. Then students will proceed to develop the outline and be ready to start writing a draft of their thesis.

Seminars will be conducted in English and Japanese, and how they are conducted will be discussed at the beginning of the semester.

Objectives: Students should find a suitable topic for their theses and start reading relevant literature.
They should be able to find the issues that they could discuss and find solutions for.
They need to be able to find relevant previous research on the same topic (e.g. journal articles and books) and see if they could provide better explanations to the same problem.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to prepare for each session by completing the set tasks.
They should read the relevant literature that the instructor provides and/or find new ones by themselves.
They should be able to offer their own explanations and solutions to the problem they are interested in.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction
[Week 2] Academic research: review
[Week 3] Developing a research plan 1
[Week 4] Developing a research plan 2
[Week 5] Presentations & feedback 1
[Week 6] Presentations & feedback 2
[Week 7] Developing and refining an outline 1
[Week 8] Developing and refining an outline 2
[Week 9] Individual meetings [tba]
[Week 10] Individual meetings [tba]
[Week 11] Writing a draft 1: organization
[Week 12] Writing a draft 2: word choice
[Week 13] Writing a draft 3: citation and the use of examples
[Week 14] Work-in-progress reports

* This is tentative and subject to change depending on how many students will participate, how much they know about the relevant issue(s), what precisely they are interested in, how well they can write an academic essay, etc.

Language: English

Textbooks: Not required but a style manual will be useful if students are not used to writing proper academic essays.

References: A list of references will be provided at the beginning of the semester.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	75	This covers all the written work to be submitted.
Class contribution:	25	This includes attendance and class participation, either physically or online, including any presentations or discussions conducted during the seminar.

Note/URL:　国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|09|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 09
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L.
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Seminar on Applied Linguistics

Course Outline: In this seminar, students will explore ways in which linguistic theory and knowledge can be applied to actual situations; the main focus will be on second language learning and teaching, but we will also discuss other applications. such as in translation, lexicography, and advertising.

The seminar is conducted in English, but it is open to students interested in applications to ANY language. That is, it is not only for students who want to teach English, but also those who would like to teach Japanese, Korean or another language as a foreign language. The theories and methods to be discussed in class are applicable to a wide range of teaching situations.

It is expected that students in this seminar will already have taken some classes in linguistics or applied linguistics. This seminar is not appropriate for students with no previous background in linguistics or applied linguistics.
In addition to work in class, students are strongly encouraged to do some volunteer work or paid work related to their interest, for example, as a volunteer assistant in language classes at Waseda or as a private tutor.
Below are some of the graduation thesis topics of students who have taken this seminar:

Topics related to the teaching of second or foreign languages:
* The portrayal of English in Japanese junior high school textbooks (Is English portrayed as a lingua franca? Or as a language used only by native speakers?)
* Policies related to English education in elementary schools in Japan and other Asian countries
* University students' English vocabulary learning strategies
* Using loans word in the teaching of English or Japanese
* Student motivation and Japanese language study at Waseda
* The usefulness of linguistic knowledge of phonetics in study of a foreign language
* Computer-mediated communication and English education
* Japanese language education for linguistic minority (e.g. Brazilian-Japanese) children in Japan
* Japanese language education for foreign workers (e.g., nurses from Indonesia) or for refugees (from Myanmar)
* Kanji-learning strategies of students of Japanese from non-kanji language backgrounds

Topics from other areas of linguistics and applied linguistics:
* Attitudes toward the use of Taiwanese dialect in the media in Taiwan
* Attitudes toward the use of Shanghai dialect in Shanghai
* Metaphors and thought in Japanese and English
* Attempts to revive the Ainu language
* Translation of Japanese poetry into English
* Translation of English children's literature into Japanese
* Translation of Korean literature into English
* Linguistic issues in the portrayal of characters in animated movies

Objectives: The objective of this class is to deepen knowledge of linguistics and applied linguistics, in order to prepare for writing the graduation thesis.

before/after course of study: Students will be expected to spend one to two hours before each class session, by doing assigned reading or writing assignments, or by preparing for presentations.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule The weekly syllabus depends on the semester (Fall or Spring), and the specific assignments depend on the students' interests and when they plan to graduate. Below is a tentative schedule for Spring 2026. This may be adjusted depending on the number of students who join the seminar. Note that new students and continuing students will sometimes have different reading or writing assignments.

Week 1: Introduction to the seminar; getting to know student's interests and previous knowledge.
Weeks 2 to 11: New students will be assigned reading chapters from the textbook (Wray and Bloomer 2013).
All students will be assigned journal articles or book chapters which we will read and discuss together in class.

For the first several weeks, these will be chosen by the teacher. Later on, these will be chosen by the students in the class.
Students will sometimes be required to write summaries related to the reading assignments.

Weeks 12 to 14: During this period, students will be doing presentations on topics related to their graduation thesis.

Language: English

Textbooks: Students will be required to buy the following textbook to be used in the first two semesters of the Advanced Seminar: Wray, Alison and Aileen Bloomer. 2013. Projects in Linguistics and Language Studies. Third Edition. London and New York: Routledge. This book probably will NOT be available at the Waseda Co-op, but you can buy it online.

References: Brown, James Dean, and Theodore S. Rodgers. 2003. Doing Second Language Research. Oxford University Press. [Available at the SILS Library.]

Fasold, Ralph W., and Jeff Connor-Linton. 2006. An Introduction to Language and Linguistics. Cambridge University Press. [Available at the Waseda Central Library]

Hall, Christopher J. and Patrick H. Smith. 2011. Mapping Applied Linguistics: A Guide for Students and Practitioners. London and New York: Routledge. [Available at the SILS Library.]

Mihalĭcek, Vedrana and Christin Wilson (eds.). 2011. Language files : materials for an introduction to language and linguistics, 11th ed., Columbus, Ohio State University Press. [Available at the SILS Library.]

Larson-Hall, Jenifer. A guide to doing statistics in second language research using SPSS / Jenifer Larson-Hall. New York ;, Routledge, 2010. [Available at the Waseda Central Library]

Lightbown, Patsy M. And Nina Spada. 2014..How Languages are Learned, 4th edition. Oxford: Oxford University Press. [Available at the SILs Library.]

Simpsons, James (ed). 2011. The Routledge Handbook of Applied Linguistics. Taylor & Francis Group. [Available online through the Waseda Library]

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Papers:	40	Writing assignments will be related to class readings, student presentations, and reading done for the graduation thesis.
Class contribution:	60	Active participation is required for this seminar. Class activities include class discussion and student presentations.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|12|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 12
Instructor	DETEY, Sylvain Matthieu Julien
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: A French Zemi about International Communication (in French)

Course Outline: This seminar is designed for students with an advanced level in French and interested in deepening their understanding of International Communication in a French perspective.

The seminar revolves around the reading of the book "Savons-nous vraiment parler? Du contrat linguistique comme contrat social" (see Textbook).

The seminar will be conducted in French (the textbook is written in French), but in-class discussions may also be conducted in English when necessary.

Students may choose to write their graduation thesis in French or in English with a long abstract in French. Former seminar students have written theses about French/Japanese comparative themes such as: Perception of foreigners; University degrees and job-hunting; Religious education and laïcité in primary education; Students, baito and petit boulot; Parisian and Tokyoite stereotypes; Velib and Community cycle; Colour symbolism for web design; Luxury brands; The notion of work and the case of marketing; Convenience stores and supérettes; Descendants of immigrants; Baby-sitting systems; Lipsticks; MacCafé; Tourism and Omotenashi; Fashion and oshare; Perception of happiness; Air France vs JAL commercials; The perception of strikes; Parental leaves; etc.

On a more linguistic level, past themes include: Usage of the adjective "zen" in French; The future of French education in Japan; Linguistic policies in France and Singapore; Study-abroad and linguistic identities; Differences between French and Quebec French, etc.

Former seminar students have pursued their academic studies in MA programmes in prestigious institutions (Sciences Po Paris, Geneva Graduate Institute; ENS Ulm Paris, Aix-Marseille University, HEC Paris, TUFS, Waseda) as well as in PhD programmes (France, Germany) and found work in a variety of companies and institutions in Japan and abroad (some of them requiring French abilities, e.g. Minisitry of Foreign Affairs).

Objectives: Objectives for students:
1) deepen their understanding of the French language and culture.
2) acquire general skills in terms of academic project planning (general methodology in Human and Social Sciences – in French SHS).
3) develop a sense of internationalization-oriented maturity, academic autonomy, and task-based cooperation around the topic of International (and National) Communication from a French perspective

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to carry out assigned reading before each session. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned under the form of reviews for each class and may include documents reading as well as extra research, especially to make progress with the graduation thesis. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Given the nature of the class (Advanced Seminar), the content of each Seminar will vary according to students' progress and needs.

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Detey, S. (2023). Savons-nous vraiment parler? Du contrat linguistique comme contrat social. Paris: Armand Colin.

References: Bouissou, J.-M. (2019). Les leçons du Japon. Paris: Fayard.
Azra, Jean-Luc (2011). Les Japonais sont-ils différents ? Paris: Connaissances & Savoirs.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: 50%: Progress in the graduation thesis.

50%: In-class active participation.

Note/URL: Students are expected to be active, autonomous, involved in the seminar activities, attend all classes, read documents and practice writing in French as required. They must notify the teacher by e-mail in advance in case of any absence.

This seminar is NOT a French language course.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|13|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 13
Instructor	SATO, Azusa
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Acquiring professional level interpreting skills

Course Outline: This course will immerse students with the critical elements of interpreting skills which are listening comprehension, information processing, analysis, retention, note-taking, appropriate word choices and rendering skills. Students will build on these skills and practice consecutive interpreting in areas of international relations, political science, environmental studies and economics.
Students will be called upon randomly during each class to respond to relevant questions or to perform in front of their peers to receive peer evaluation from their classmates. Accuracy, precision and fidelity of rendering will be assessed by the instructor.

This course is not a language teaching course and assumes fluent speaking ability in both English and Japanese. It also assumes prior studies or courses in the practice of interpreting. (This class is not an introductory course in interpreting.)※This class will be taught by a faculty member who possesses working experience and will be taught based on the working experience.

Objectives: Students will acquire consecutive interpreting skills between English and Japanese with special attention given to clarity in meaning and accuracy in word choice.

before/after course of study: Students must come to class prepared by researching the speaker, topic, and context of the speech. They must search through the relevant information sources to aid their understanding of the topic. They must also prepare for each class by taking notes of their research and making glossary lists of new vocabulary. The expected time for preparation is 60 minutes per class and another 60 minutes for review of the materials presented in class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
1:Vol. 1 Class Overview Introduction to Advanced Interpreting
2:Vol. 2 Developing Listening Comprehension SkillsListening and repeating
3:Vol. 3 Developing Listening Comprehension SkillsListening and repeating
4:Vol. 4 Developing Listening Comprehension SkillsListening, repeating and interpreting
5:Vol. 5 Developing Listening Comprehension and Information Processing SkillsParaphrasing
6:Vol. 6 Developing Listening Comprehension and Information Processing SkillsParaphrasing
7:Vol. 7 Midterm TestRepeating and paraphrasing
8:Vol. 8 Developing Information Processing and Analyzing Skills Summarizing
9:Vol. 9 Developing Information Processing and Analyzing SkillsSummarizing
10:Vol.10 Developing Information Processing and Analyzing SkillsSummarizing and interpreting 11:Vol.11 Developing Retention Skills Note-taking 12:Vol.12 Developing Retention Skills Note-taking 13:Vol.13 Developing Retention SkillsNote-taking and interpreting 14:Vol.14 Final Test / Live PerformanceStudent speeches
15:Vol.15 Wrap-upQ&A and review

Language: English

Textbooks: The instructor will provide audio texts for in-class use.

References: Introducing Interpreting Studies, Franz Pochhacker, Routledge (ISBN 978-0-415-26887-5)
Conference Interpreting Explained, Roderick Jones, St. Jerome Publishing (ISBN 978-1-900-65057-1)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 70 The in-class interpreting performance and the level of growth the students exhibit from the start of the class until its completion will be assessed through weekly individual tests (exercises).

Class contribution:	30	The level of interpreting performance in terms of clarity, accuracy, and coverage will be assessed during classroom presentations and homework submissions.

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|14|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 14
Instructor	NAKAMURA, Chie
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Inthis advanced seminar, students will learn to carry out psycholinguisticexperiments using various experimental techniques. The course will covermethods such as reading time, reaction time, eye-tracking, and neuroimaging.Additionally, students will learn to conduct statistical analyses and reporttheir results in a scientific format. This seminar is designed to be intensiveand demanding. It requires a high level of commitment and focus; therefore,only students who are genuinely dedicated to learning and conductingpsycholinguistic experiments should enroll. While prior completion ofIntroduction to Psycholinguistics is preferred, it is not a prerequisite.

Objectives: By the end of this seminar, students will be able to:
1. Design and conduct psycholinguistic experiments using various experimental techniques.
2. Analyze experimental data using appropriate statistical methods.
3. Report experimental findings in a scientific format, both in oral presentation and in writing.
4. Critically evaluate psycholinguistic research literature.

before/after course of study: Due to the nature of running experiments with human participants, course participation will most likely occur outside the regular course hours, especially after the first few sessions. Students must demonstrate independence and take full responsibility for their projects, which requires them to work not only during class hours but also before and after class as needed. Failure to do so will result in not achieving a passing grade in this class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction & Overview of Experimental Techniques

Introduction to the course and an overview of variousexperimental techniques used in psycholinguistics.

Vol. 2 Reaction Time Experiments

Introduction to reaction time experiments includingreading time, and their application in psycholinguistics.

Vol. 3 Eye-Tracking Techniques

Overview of eye-tracking technology and its use in psycholinguisticresearch.

Vol. 4 Neuroimaging Methods

Introduction to neuroimaging techniques such as fMRIand EEG.

Vol. 5 Data Collection and Management, Start of Individual Project

Best practices for data collection and management inpsycholinguistic experiments. Students will also begin their individualprojects.

Vol. 6 Experiment Design

Principles and methodologies of designingpsycholinguistic experiments. Topics include formulating hypotheses, selectingappropriate experimental methods, and creating experimental protocols.

Vol. 7 Conducting Experiment 1

Students will begin conducting their psycholinguisticexperiments independently, with supervision as needed based on their chosenmethods.

Vol. 8 Conducting Experiment 2

Continuation of independent data collection

Vol. 9 Conducting Experiment 3

Completion of data collection

Vol.10 Statistical analysis 1

Data cleaning, descriptive statistics, and basicinferential statistics using R software.

Vol.11 Statistical analysis 2

Continuation of statistics using R, interpretingresults, and preparing data for reporting in a scientific format.

Vol.12 Reporting Results 1 (Oral presnetation)

Students will practice delivering scientific oralpresentations of their experimental findings

Vol.13 Reporting Results 2 (Scientific writing)

Students will learn how to structure a scientificreport, present their data clearly, and discuss their findings in a writtenformat.

Vol.14 Final Presentation or report

Students will report their project either in an oralpresentation or a written report format.

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Supplementary materials supplied by the instructor
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	30	In-class quizzes, written assignments, and in-class presentations
Class contribution:	30	Active participation in class activities including peer feedback sessions and Q&A sessions. Missing more than three classes will result in a failing grade. Please come to class on time. If you are more than 15 minutes late, you will be mark ed absent.
Others:	40	Individual project, including final presentation or report

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|15|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 15
Instructor	SUZUKI, Yuichi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Second Language Acquisition and Language Teaching

Course Outline: The goal of this advanced seminar is to conduct empiricalresearch in Second Language Acquisition (SLA) and Language Teaching (LT).Students will delve into key issues surrounding SLA and LT research.

Students will explore fundamental research questions in SLA,including but not limited to: (a) How can we enhance instruction and learning?(e.g., vocabulary/grammar/pronunciation/pragmatics), (b) Is there a best agefor second language learning?, (c)What individual difference factors (e.g.,motivation, aptitude, non-cognitive abilities) predict high-level proficiencyof multiple languages?, etc.

This course is particularly valuable for students pursuingcareers in English language education in Japanese educational settings.However, the course welcomes students interested in foreign language learningand education beyond English, including those focused on bilingualism andmultilingualism.

While English is the primary language of instruction, thiscourse follows a bilingual format, incorporating both English and Japanese.Some readings will be in Japanese, so students must be comfortable readingacademic Japanese to get the most out of the course (see "Note / URL" sectionfor more details).

IMPORTANT:
- This intensive, research-oriented seminar demands rigorouscommitment. Due to its advanced nature and hands-on research requirements,enrollment is limited to students who demonstrate genuine interest in SLA andLT and are prepared to engage in research activities.
- This seminar is NOT appropriate for students withoutprevious background in second language acquisition and applied linguistics. Studentsare recommended to take preparatory courses with the lecturer (Suzuki): AppliedLinguistics (intermediate course), the intermediate seminar, and/or SelectedTopics in Language Education and Second Language Acquisition (advancedlecture).

Objectives: This seminar aims to help students develop the ability to plan and implement a research project in SLA and language education. By the end of this course, students are expected to develop the ability to:
a) formulate relevant research questions that address SLA and language teaching issues,
b) develop an appropriate and feasible research design,
c) implement the research plan, and
d) write up a graduation thesis.

before/after course of study: As an advanced seminar, students must work independently both in and outside of class (90-120 minutes each for preparation and review). Taking full responsibility for projects is mandatory, and failure to maintain this level of independent work will result in a failing grade.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule Over three semesters,students will progress through the following stages:
1st Semester (Fall 2025):
- Select a potential topicfor graduation thesis
- Write a ResearchSynthesis/Literature Review paper (10-20 pages)
- Identify research issuesthat need to be addressed

2nd Semester (Spring2026):
- Develop a full researchproposal (Participant selection, Materials, Analysis plan)
- Develop researchinstruments
- Conduct a pilot study

3rd Semester (Fall 2026):
- Conduct main study
- Complete data analysis
- Write up thesis

Detailed Schedule forFall 2025:
Students are required to:
a) Read journal articlesand propose a research plan for assigned topics weekly
b) Work independently toprepare their literature review for the final presentation

Week 1: Introduction & How to ConductLiterature Review
Week 2: Readings on Topic 1
Week 3: Presentation of Research Design Proposal onTopic 1
Week 4: Presentation of Revised Research Design onTopic 1
Week 5: Reporting Individual Project Progress:Reading Log for Literature Review
Week 6: Readings on Topic 2
Week 7: Presentation of Research Design Proposal onTopic 2
Week 8: Presentation of Revised Research Design onTopic 2
Week 9: Reporting Individual Project Progress:Reading Log for Literature Review
Week 10: Readings on Topic 3
Week 11: Presentation of Research Design Proposal onTopic 3
Week 12: Presentation of Revised Research Design onTopic 3
Week 13: Student Presentation
Week 14: Student Presentation

Language: English

Textbooks: Materials will be provided by the instructor.

References: [Introductory textbook to SLA]
Brown, S. & Larson-Hall, J. (2012). Second Language Acquisition Myths: Applying Second Language Research to Classroom Teaching. University of Michigan Press.
Lightbown, Pasty M. & Nina Spada (2022). How languages are learned (5th ed.). Oxford University Press.
Loewen, S., & Sato, M. (2024). A practical guide to second language teaching and learning. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

村野井仁 (2006).『第二言語習得研究から見た効果的な英語学習法・指導法』大修館書店.
和泉伸一 (2009)『フォーカス・オン・フォームを取り入れた新しい英語教育』大修館書店.
鈴木渉 (編) (2017)『実践例で学ぶ第二言語習得研究に基づく英語指導』大修館書店.
白井恭弘 (2023).『英語教師のための第二言語習得論入門 改訂版』大修館書店.
鈴木祐一 (2024)『あたらしい第二言語習得論—英語指導の思い込みを変える』研究社.

[Research methods in SLA]
Brown, J. D. (1988). Understanding research in second language learning: A teacher's guide to statistics and research design: Cambridge University Press.
Mackey, A., & Gass, S. M. (2011). Research methods in second language acquisition: A practical guide: John Wiley & Sons.
門田修平 (2010)『SLA研究入門 - 第二言語の処理・習得研究のすすめ方』くろしお出版.
白畑知彦・若林茂則・村野井 仁 (2010).『詳説 第二言語習得研究—理論から研究法まで』研究社.
竹内理・水本篤 (編) (2023).『外国語教育研究ハンドブック【増補版】— 研究手法のより良い理解のために』松柏社.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Class contribution:	50	In-class active participation, assignment, homework, reflection sheets, writing assignments, etc.
Others:	50	Individual project, including annotated reading logs, final presentation and report

Note/URL: Students who are not comfortable inreading academic Japanese text, please consult the instructor. In the email tothe instructor, please explain what you would like to study in this seminar(some topics may not require reading Japanese text) and the reason why youwould like to apply for this seminar.

For information about theinstructor's research:
https://yuichisuzuki.net/

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|52|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 52
Instructor	MORIYAMA, Hiizu
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: English Historical Linguistics and English Language Teaching

Course Outline: This seminar is mainly for those students who wish to study the grammatical and lexical aspects of the English language from its earliest stage. For those students who wish to study some of the historical features of English it is essential to acquire a good reading knowledge of historical documents. For this purpose we shall start with learning the basics of Old English, including its spelling, pronunciation, syntax, paradigms, and lexicon. For this purpose we shall use an introductory textbook that contains not only a useful reference grammar of Old English but also a good selection of Old English verse and prose with detailed textual annotations. Together with this weekly 'reading knowledge' class (i.e. translation exercises from Old English to Modern English), each student will be asked to conduct a research for their graduation work that will be supervised regularly throughout the semester. Towards the end of the semester, a 'research in progress' report (1,200 words approx.) and an oral presentation (for 15 minutes in class) will be assigned to each student.

Objectives: The student will acquire a good reading knowledge of medieval English texts and how to analyse them philologically. By reading linguistic writings widely they can develop their own interests in linguistic research in preparation for writing their graduation thesis.

before/after course of study: Students need to prepare their weekly presentation.
60-90 minutes preparation
30-60 minutes review

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: On the first day I will give a guidance to all members of the seminar. Final-year students who are planning to submit their graduation theses towards the end of the semester should report what they achieved during the vacation. They should also submit a written work to show their progress in prepatarion for their theses. For each of the students a regular supervision of his/her graduation thesis will be provided. Third-year students should attend weekly seminars on research method.

Language: English

Textbooks: Course pack of introductory reading materials will be distributed.

Following books will be recommended for students wishing to write a graduation thesis in the area of English Language and Medieval Literature:
Mitchell, B. and F. C. Robinson (eds.), A Guide to Old English, eighth edition, Oxford: Wiley-Blackwell, 2012.
North, R. and J. Allard (eds.), Beowulf & Other Stories: A New Introduction to Old English, Old Icelandic and Anglo-Norman Literatures, second edition, Harlow: Pearson Education, 2012.
For students of English Language Teaching, reading materials will be announced later in class.

References: Hogg, Richard M. (ed.), The Cambridge History of the English Language, Volume 1, The Beginnings to 1066, Cambridge: CUP, 1992.
Hogg, Richard and David Denison (eds.), A History of the English Language, Cambridge: CUP, 2006.
Kamenade, Ans van and Bettelou Los (eds.), The Handbook of History of English, Oxford: Blackwell, 2006.
Magglestone, Lynda (ed.), The Oxford History of English, Oxford: OUP, 2006.
(Further guidance will be given in seminars.)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	25	A research-in-progress report (maximum of 1,200 words in English) will be required. This report should be an extended version of each student's oral presentation on their chosen topic for graduation thesis. Deadline for this work is normally the last session of every semester.
Class contribution:	50	Active participation in class discussions. Regular pre-class preparation (i.e. a careful reading and analysis of assigned medieval English texts) is essential. Each student in turn will be asked to translate the texts into good English.

Others: 25 An oral presentation on a proposed research topic (about 20 minutes) with clear and comprehensible PowerPoint slides and handouts/prints prepared by the student.

Note/URL: Those students who have not taken any linguistics (or related) courses before are urged to study the Cambridge Encyclopedia cited above (in particular chapters 3–6 and 13–17) for background knowledge, before applying for this seminar. Although not essential, some prior knowledge of Modern German and/or Latin (classical or medieval) is desirable. Please make sure that before attending the weekly 'reading knowledge' class, a lot of preparation will be required, namely close reading of assigned Old English texts using both the reference grammar and glossary in the textbook. In order to understand the medieval English language in the European context (rather than in the Insular British context), please read Gregory of Tours, A History of the Franks (Penguin Classics) and Saxo Grammaticus, The History of the Danes (D. S. Brewer), together with Bede's History of the English Church and Nation (Penguin Classics or Oxford World's Classics).

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|55|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 55
Instructor	NAMAI, Kenichi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Preparation for genuine linguistic research

Course Outline: [Course Delivery Method] : Face-to-Face
This three-semester-long seminar provides an approachable introduction to scientific research of human language. The history of language science is rather short, and there are still quite a few mysteries about human language, which any normal individual uses every day. In this seminar, students will be trained to be beginning linguists who can actually conduct decent research in this young but very systematic and exciting field.

In the first semester, students study linguistics as cognitive science, using Patterns in the Mind (Jackendoff 1994) as textbook. Questions that are asked in class include: "Do babies imitate their parents when they try to acquire language?" "Can we think without language?" "What happens to babies if they are raised by wild animals?" "What happens to one's language if the right and left hemispheres of one's brain are severed?" "What do language, vision, and music have in common?" "Can babies develop their own language?" "What is the language DNA?" "What happens when two people that don't have a common language have to work together?"

In the second semester, students will read academic papers and critically review them. Then, they will engage in comparative studies of English and Japanese (or some other language, depending on students' interest). By the end of the semester, students will write and submit a term paper, which they can choose to develop further as graduation thesis in the third semester. Alternatively, students may also choose a different topic; in that case, they are expected to find another topic by the end of the summer break.

As for thesis topic, following the spirit of liberal arts, this seminar allows students to select virtually any topic of linguistic science; students may choose a topic from general linguistics, morphology, syntax, linguistics as cognitive science, English education, textbook writing, bilingualism, historical linguistics, comparative linguistics, language acquisition, etc. (as long as it is something that can be studied scientifically).

In the third semester, each student will work on his/her topic for graduation thesis individually. Students are expected to meet with the instructor frequently so that they can submit decent theses in time for graduation.

By actively participating in this seminar, students will be able to conduct quality linguistic research by thoroughly utilizing theoretical tools. If you wish to graduate with a sense of accomplishment, this seminar is for you.

Objectives: Acquisition of ability to distinguish genuinely linguistic matters from ones that are not.
Development of linguistic research skills

before/after course of study: Weekly reading: 60 minutes
Presentation preparation: 120 minutes

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Each class will consist of discussion and presentation.

Language: English

Textbooks: Jackendoff, Ray. 1995. Patterns in the Mind. Basic Books. 978-0465054619

References: Isac, Daniela, and Charles Reiss. 2013. I-Language. Oxford University Press. 978-0199660179

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	25	Two oral exams
Papers:	25	Term paper
Class contribution:	25	Class discussion

Others: 25 Presentation

Note/URL: If you need to contact the instructor, make sure to email him directly at his email address, which will be provided in the first class.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|56|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 56
Instructor	IINO, Masakazu
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Language and Society

Course Outline: Mode of Delivery: Face-to-Face
This advanced seminar will examine various language issues related to the process of globalization such as the role language plays in globalization processes and the effects on language that globalization brings about. Topics include language and economic development, language and nationalism and democracy, language and the media, language and technology, language and education, language and the demographic/social changes caused by migration, language and ethnic identity, standardization and diversity, and language and inequality. This seminar is targeted not only for those who are interested in the sociolinguistic discipline per se (e.g., language planning and policy) but also for those who are seeking a deeper understanding of cross-disciplinary fields such as economics, political science, sociology, and education. Students from diverse backgrounds are encouraged to actively participate in class activities and discussions and to engage in academic research towards completing a senior thesis.

Objectives: To conduct an original research project and complete a senior thesis.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to conduct an original research, to make presentations and to write a thesis. It will take 90-180 minutes for each session.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction
[Week 2] Research methods
[Week 3] Research proposal
[Week 4] Data collection, field work
[Week 5] Reading and discussion 1
[Week 6] Reading and discussion 2
[Week 7] Reading and discussion 3
[Week 8] Reading and discussion 4
[Week 9] Reading and discussion 5
[Week10] Reading and discussion 6
[Week11] Presentation 1
[Week12] Presentation 2
[Week13] Presentation 3
[Week14] Presentation 4

Language: English

Textbooks: Reading assignments will be announced in class.

References: TBA in class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	80	A research proposal or the final senior thesis will be evaluated. Oral presentations on the research project.
Class contribution:	20	Active participation.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|57|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 57
Instructor	KONDO, Mariko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Language Acquisition

Course Outline: The main focus of this course is learning the fundamental theories of language acquisition. Understanding these theories is essential for grasping the discipline, and they will also be necessary for students to identify topics for their graduation projects in the fourth year. The course consists of lectures and practical sessions. Students are expected to participate actively in seminars by analysing data, solving problems, and discussing ideas. Although the focus is on second language acquisition, the course will also cover some issues related to first and third language acquisition. This seminar is intended for students who are considering conducting research on any aspect of language acquisition for their graduation project, regardless of the language.

Objectives: Students will learn the important theories and basic knowledge necessary for researching language acquisition in first, second and third languages, enabling them to conduct research for their graduation projects.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to do homework exercises, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1]Introduction
[Week 2] How do different languages connect in our minds?
[Week 3] First language acquisition
[Week 4] Age matters for language learning
[Week 5] Word acquisition
[Week 6] Acquisition of grammar
[Week 7] Acquisition of writing
[Week 8] Attitude and motivation in language learning
[Week 9] Second language acquisition research and language teaching
[Week10] Project plan (1)
[Week11] What is bilingual?
[Week12] Language input
[Week13] Are there effective methods for teaching?
[Week14] Review and Project plan (2)

Language: English

Textbooks: Tentatively:
Lightbown, Patsy M. and Spada, Nina (2013) 'How Languages are Learned (Oxford Handbooks of Language Teachers)'.
But it may change depending on the level and interests of the students.
Handouts and recommended reading lists will be provided.

References: - Brown, Steven & Larso-Hall, Jenifer (2012) "Second Language Acquisition Myths: Applying Second Language Research to Classroom Teaching"
- Van Patten, Bill & Williams, Jessica (2014) "Theories in Second Language Acquisition: An Introduction", Routledge.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Presentation of chapters 50%
Research plan of your graduation research 50%

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|58|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 58
Instructor	MASUKO, Mayumi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Seminar on Meaning and Structure

Course Outline: This course is designed to prepare and assist students in conducting research and writing academic papers on issues related to linguistic meaning: how it is influenced by structure, and, in turn, how linguistic structures are (under-)determined by meanings.

Basic principles of academic research will be reviewed. After the introductory weeks, students will be required to give oral presentations on the topic which they have chosen. They will then proceed to develop the outline and start writing a draft of their thesis. It is hoped that the draft will be finished by the end of the semester.

Seminars will be conducted in English and Japanese, and how they are conducted will be discussed at the beginning of the semester.

Objectives: Students should find a suitable topic for their theses and start preparing a draft of their thesis.
They should be able to find the issues that they could discuss and find solutions for.
They need to be able to find relevant previous research on the same topic (e.g. journal articles and books) and see if they could provide better explanations to the same problem.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to prepare for each session by completing the set tasks.
They should read the relevant literature that the instructor provides and/or find new ones by themselves.
They should be able to offer their own explanations and solutions to the problem they are interested in.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] Introduction
[Week 2] Academic research: review
[Week 3] Developing a research plan 1
[Week 4] Developing a research plan 2
[Week 5] Presentations & feedback 1
[Week 6] Presentations & feedback 2
[Week 7] Developing and refining an outline 1
[Week 8] Developing and refining an outline 2
[Week 9] Individual meetings [tba]
[Week 10] Individual meetings [tba]
[Week 11] Writing a draft 1: organization
[Week 12] Writing a draft 2: word choice
[Week 13] Writing a draft 3: citation and the use of examples
[Week 14] Work-in-progress reports* This is tentative and subject to change depending on how many students will participate, how much they know about the relevant issue(s), what precisely they are interested in, how well they can write an academic essay, etc.

Language: English

Textbooks: Not required but a style manual will be useful if students are not used to writing proper academic essays.

References: A list of references will be provided at the beginning of the semester.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	80	This covers all the written work, and may include any presentations or talks students may give in seminars, either in class or online.
Class contribution:	20	Attendance alone is not sufficient; students have to participate in discussion, etc.

Note/URL: Students are expected to have basic knowledge in theoretical linguistics (semantics and pragmatics in particular) and analytic skills.

Students must be capable of coming up with at least one topic which can be developed into an academic essay. They should also be able to produce a detailed outline on which their thesis will be based.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|59|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 59
Instructor	MUEHLEISEN, Victoria L.
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Seminar on Applied Linguistics

Course Outline: In this seminar, students will explore ways in which linguistic theory and knowledge can be applied to actual situations; the main focus will be on second language learning and teaching, but we will also discuss other applications. such as in translation, lexicography, and advertising.

The seminar is conducted in English, but it is open to students interested in applications to ANY language. That is, it is not only for students who want to teach English, but also those who would like to teach Japanese, Korean or another language as a foreign language. The theories and methods to be discussed in class are applicable to a wide range of teaching situations.

It is expected that students in this seminar will already have taken some classes in linguistics or applied linguistics. This seminar is not appropriate for students with no previous background in linguistics or applied linguistics.
In addition to work in class, students are strongly encouraged to do some volunteer work or paid work related to their interest, for example, as a volunteer assistant in language classes at Waseda or as a private tutor.

Below are some of the graduation thesis topics of students who have taken this seminar in past years.

Topics related to the teaching of second or foreign languages:
* The portrayal of English in Japanese junior high school textbooks (Is English portrayed as a lingua franca? Or as a language used only by native speakers?)
* Policies related to English education in elementary schools in Japan and other Asian countries
* University students' English vocabulary learning strategies
* Using loans word in the teaching of English or Japanese
* Student motivation and Japanese language study at Waseda
* The usefulness of linguistic knowledge of phonetics in study of a foreign language
* Computer-mediated communication and English education
* Japanese language education for linguistic minority (e.g. Brazilian-Japanese) children in Japan
* Japanese language education for foreign workers (e.g., nurses from Indonesia) or for refugees (from Myanmar)
* Kanji-learning strategies of students of Japanese from non-kanji language backgrounds

Topics from other areas of linguistics and applied linguistics:
* Attitudes toward the use of Taiwanese dialect in the media in Taiwan
* Attitudes toward the use of Shanghai dialect in Shanghai
* Metaphors and thought in Japanese and English
* Attempts to revive the Ainu language
* Translation of Japanese poetry into English
* Translation of English children's literature into Japanese
* Translation of Korean literature into English
* Linguistic issues in the portrayal of characters in animated movies

Objectives: The objective of this seminar is to deepen knowledge of linguistics and applied linguistics, in order to prepare for writing the graduation thesis.

before/after course of study: Students will be expected to spend one to two hours each week to prepare for each class session, by doing assigned reading or writing assignments, or by preparing for presentations.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

The weekly syllabus depends on the semester (Fall or Spring), and the specific assignments depend on the students' interests and when they plan to graduate. Below is a tentative schedule for Fall 2026. This may be adjusted depending on the number of students who join the seminar. Note that new students and continuing students will sometimes have different reading or writing assignments.

Week 1: Introduction to the seminar; getting to know student's interests and previous knowledge.

Weeks 2 to 11: New students will be assigned reading chapters from the textbook (Wray and Bloomer 2013). All students will be assigned journal articles which we will read and discuss together in class. For the first several weeks, these will be chosen by the teacher. Later on, these will be chosen by the students in the class. In addition, students will sometimes be required to write summaries related to the reading assignments.

Weeks 12 to 14: During this period, students will be doing presentations on topics related to their graduation thesis.

Language: English

Textbooks: Students will be required to buy the following textbook to be used in the first two semesters of the Advanced Seminar: Wray, Alison and Aileen Bloomer. 2013. Projects in Linguistics and Language Studies. Third Edition. London and New York: Routledge.
This book probably will NOT be available at the Waseda Co-op, but you can buy it online.

References: This is a partial list of reference books which will be useful for this seminar. Additional works may be recommended in the course of the semester.

Brown, James Dean, and Theodore S. Rodgers. 2003. Doing Second Language Research. Oxford University Press. [Available at the SILS Library.]

Fasold, Ralph W., and Jeff Connor-Linton. 2006. An Introduction to Language and Linguistics. Cambridge University Press. [Available at the Waseda Central Library]

Hall, Christopher J. and Patrick H. Smith. 2011. Mapping Applied Linguistics: A Guide for Students and Practitioners. London and New York: Routledge. [Available at the SILS Library.]

Mihalĭcek, Vedrana and Christin Wilson (eds.). 2011. Language files : materials for an introduction to language and linguistics, 11th ed., Columbus, Ohio State University Press. [Available at the SILS Library.]

Larson-Hall, Jenifer. A guide to doing statistics in second language research using SPSS / Jenifer Larson-Hall. New York: Routledge, 2010. [Available at the Waseda Central Library]

Lightbown, Patsy M. And Nina Spada. 2014..How Languages are Learned, 4th edition. Oxford: Oxford University Press. [Available at the SILs Library.]

Simpsons, James (ed). 2011. The Routledge Handbook of Applied Linguistics. Taylor & Francis Group. [Available online through the Waseda Library]

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	40	Writing assignments will be related to class readings, student presentations, and reading done for the graduation thesis.
Class contribution:	60	Active participation is required for this seminar. Class activities include class discussion and student presentations.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|62|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 62
Instructor	DETEY, Sylvain Matthieu Julien
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: A French Zemi about International Communication (in French)

Course Outline: This seminar is designed for students with an advanced level in French and interested in deepening their understanding of International Communication in a French perspective.

The seminar revolves around the reading of the book "Savons-nous vraiment parler? Du contrat linguistique comme contrat social" (see Textbook).

The seminar will be conducted in French (the textbook is written in French), but in-class discussions may also be conducted in English when necessary.

Students may choose to write their graduation thesis in French or in English with a long abstract in French. Former seminar students have written theses about French/Japanese comparative themes such as: Perception of foreigners; University degrees and job-hunting; Religious education and laïcité in primary education; Students, baito and petit boulot; Parisian and Tokyoite stereotypes; Velib and Community cycle; Colour symbolism for web design; Luxury brands; The notion of work and the case of marketing; Convenience stores and supérettes; Descendants of immigrants; Baby-sitting systems; Lipsticks; MacCafé; Tourism and Omotenashi; Fashion and oshare; Perception of happiness; Air France vs JAL commercials; The perception of strikes; Parental leaves; etc.

On a more linguistic level, past themes include: Usage of the adjective "zen" in French; The future of French education in Japan; Linguistic policies in France and Singapore; Study-abroad and linguistic identities; Differences between French and Quebec French, etc.

Former seminar students have pursued their academic studies in MA programmes in prestigious institutions (Sciences Po Paris, Geneva Graduate Institute; ENS Ulm Paris, Aix-Marseille University, HEC Paris, TUFS, Waseda) as well as in PhD programmes (France, Germany) and found work in a variety of companies and institutions in Japan and abroad (some of them requiring French abilities, e.g. Minisitry of Foreign Affairs).

Objectives: Objectives for students:
1) deepen their understanding of the French language and culture.
2) acquire general skills in terms of academic project planning (general methodology in Human and Social Sciences – in French SHS).
3) develop a sense of internationalization-oriented maturity, academic autonomy, and task-based cooperation around the topic of International (and National) Communication from a French perspective

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to carry out assigned reading before each session. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned under the form of reviews for each class and may include documents reading as well as extra research, especially to make progress with the graduation thesis. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Given the nature of the class (Advanced Seminar), the content of each Seminar will vary according to students' progress and needs.

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Detey, S. (2023). Savons-nous vraiment parler? Du contrat linguistique comme contrat social. Paris: Armand Colin.

References: Bouissou, J.-M. (2019). Les leçons du Japon. Paris: Fayard.
Azra, Jean-Luc (2011). Les Japonais sont-ils différents ? Paris: Connaissances & Savoirs.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: 50%: Progress in the graduation thesis.

50%: In-class active participation.

Note/URL: Students are expected to be active, autonomous, involved in the seminar activities, attend all classes, read documents and practice writing in French as required. They must notify the teacher by e-mail in advance in case of any absence.

This seminar is NOT a French language course.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|63|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 63
Instructor	SATO, Azusa
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Advanced Interpreting

Course Outline: This course will immerse students with the critical elements of interpreting skills which are listening comprehension, information processing, analysis, retention, note-taking, appropriate word choices and rendering skills. We will build on those skills and practice consecutive interpreting in areas of international relations, political science, environmental studies and economics.
Students will be called upon randomly during each class to respond to relevant questions or to perform in front of their peers to receive peer evaluation from their classmates. Accuracy, precision and fidelity of rendering will be assessed by the instructor.

This course is not a language teaching course and assumes fluent speaking ability in both English and Japanese.

Objectives: Students will acquire consecutive interpreting skills between English and Japanese with special attention given to clarity in meaning and accuracy in word choices.

before/after course of study: Every week the students will be assigned to do one or more of the following tasks:
Prepare for an interpreting assignment by looking up relevant subjects
Analyze their own interpreting performance by reviewing their notes
Read papers on interpreting research to aid with their thesis writing
Prepare for a discussion/presentation on how to conduct interpreting research
(Students will not be provided with a script or an audio tape of the interpreting speeches to prepare for class.)

Expected time of preparation required for each class: minimum 60 minutes per class

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Class Overview
Introduction to Advanced Interpreting
Vol. 2 Developing Listening Comprehension Skills
Listening and repeating oral texts in the source language
Vol. 3 Developing Listening Comprehension Skills
Listening and repeating oral texts in the source language
Vol. 4 Developing Listening Comprehension Skills
Listening, repeating oral texts in the source language and interpreting into the target language
Vol. 5 Developing Listening Comprehension and Information Processing Skills
Paraphrasing oral texts in the source language
Vol. 6 Developing Listening Comprehension and Information Processing Skills
Paraphrasing oral texts in the source language
Vol. 7 Midterm Test
Repeating and paraphrasing oral texts in the target language
Vol. 8 Developing Information Processing and Analyzing Skills
Summarizing oral texts in the source language
Vol. 9 Developing Information Processing and Analyzing Skills
Summarizing oral texts in the target language
Vol.10 Developing Information Processing and Analyzing Skills
Summarizing and interpreting

Vol.11 Developing Retention Skills
Note-taking
Vol.12 Developing Retention Skills
Note-taking
Vol.13 Developing Retention Skills
Note-taking and interpreting
Vol.14 Final Test / Live Performance
Student speeches

Language:	Japanese/Englis h
Textbooks:	Instructor will provide the audio text for in-class use.
References:	Introducing Interpreting Skills, Franz Pochhacker, Routledge Conference Interpreting Explained, Roderick Jones, St. Jerome Publishing
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	60	Tests on the quality of interpreting in terms of accuracy, coverage and word choice
Class contribution:	40	Active participation in classroom discussions, regular submission of homework and self-generated preparation materials

Note/URL: Fluency in both English and Japanese is required.
Regular attendance is required and essential.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|64|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 64
Instructor	NAKAMURA, Chie
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Inthis advanced seminar, students will learn to carry out psycholinguisticexperiments using various experimental techniques. The course will covermethods such as reading time, reaction time, eye-tracking, and neuroimaging.Additionally, students will learn to conduct statistical analyses and reporttheir results in a scientific format. This seminar is designed to be intensiveand demanding. It requires a high level of commitment and focus; therefore,only students who are genuinely dedicated to learning and conductingpsycholinguistic experiments should enroll. While prior completion ofIntroduction to Psycholinguistics is preferred, it is not a prerequisite.

Objectives: By the end of this seminar, students will be able to:
1. Design and conduct psycholinguistic experiments using various experimental techniques.
2. Analyze experimental data using appropriate statistical methods.
3. Report experimental findings in a scientific format, both in oral presentation and in writing.
4. Critically evaluate psycholinguistic research literature.

before/after course of study: Due to the nature of running experiments with human participants, course participation will most likely occur outside the regular course hours, especially after the first few sessions. Students must demonstrate independence and take full responsibility for their projects, which requires them to work not only during class hours but also before and after class as needed. Failure to do so will result in not achieving a passing grade in this class.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each at least.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course Introduction & Overview of Experimental Techniques

Introduction to the course and an overview of variousexperimental techniques used in psycholinguistics.

Vol. 2 Reaction Time Experiments

Introduction to reaction time experiments includingreading time, and their application in psycholinguistics.

Vol. 3 Eye-Tracking Techniques

Overview of eye-tracking technology and its use in psycholinguisticresearch.

Vol. 4 Neuroimaging Methods

Introduction to neuroimaging techniques such as fMRIand EEG.

Vol. 5 Data Collection and Management, Start of Individual Project

Best practices for data collection and management inpsycholinguistic experiments. Students will also begin their individualprojects.

Vol. 6 Experiment Design

Principles and methodologies of designingpsycholinguistic experiments. Topics include formulating hypotheses, selectingappropriate experimental methods, and creating experimental protocols.

Vol. 7 Conducting Experiment 1

Students will begin conducting their psycholinguisticexperiments independently, with supervision as needed based on their chosenmethods.

Vol. 8 Conducting Experiment 2

Continuation of independent data collection

Vol. 9 Conducting Experiment 3

Completion of data collection

Vol.10 Statistical analysis 1

Data cleaning, descriptive statistics, and basicinferential statistics using R software.

Vol.11 Statistical analysis 2

Continuation of statistics using R, interpretingresults, and preparing data for reporting in a scientific format.

Vol.12 Reporting Results 1 (Oral presnetation)

Students will practice delivering scientific oralpresentations of their experimental findings

Vol.13 Reporting Results 2 (Scientific writing)

Students will learn how to structure a scientificreport, present their data clearly, and discuss their findings in a writtenformat.

Vol.14 Final Presentation or report

Students will report their project either in an oralpresentation or a written report format.

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Supplementary materials supplied by the instructor
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	30	In-class quizzes, written assignments, and in-class presentations
Class contribution:	30	Active participation in class activities including peer feedback sessions and Q&A sessions. Missing more than three classes will result in a failing grade. Please come to class on time. If you are more than 15 minutes late, you will be mark ed absent.
Others:	40	Individual project, including final presentation or report

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210C050100|65|210C050100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Communication 65
Instructor	SUZUKI, Yuichi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Second Language Acquisition and Language Teaching

Course Outline: The goal of this advanced seminar is to conduct empiricalresearch in Second Language Acquisition (SLA) and Language Teaching (LT).Students will delve into key issues surrounding SLA and LT research.

Students will explore fundamental research questions in SLA,including but not limited to: (a) How can we enhance instruction and learning?(e.g., vocabulary/grammar/pronunciation/pragmatics), (b) Is there a best agefor second language learning?, (c)What individual difference factors (e.g.,motivation, aptitude, non-cognitive abilities) predict high-level proficiencyof multiple languages?, etc.

This course is particularly valuable for students pursuingcareers in English language education in Japanese educational settings.However, the course welcomes students interested in foreign language learningand education beyond English, including those focused on bilingualism andmultilingualism.

While English is the primary language of instruction, thiscourse follows a bilingual format, incorporating both English and Japanese.Some readings will be in Japanese, so students must be comfortable readingacademic Japanese to get the most out of the course (see "Note / URL" sectionfor more details).

IMPORTANT:
- This intensive, research-oriented seminar demands rigorouscommitment. Due to its advanced nature and hands-on research requirements,enrollment is limited to students who demonstrate genuine interest in SLA andLT and are prepared to engage in research activities.
- This seminar is NOT appropriate for students withoutprevious background in second language acquisition and applied linguistics. Studentsare recommended to take preparatory courses with the lecturer (Suzuki): AppliedLinguistics (intermediate course), the intermediate seminar, and/or SelectedTopics in Language Education and Second Language Acquisition (advancedlecture).

Objectives: This seminar aims to help students develop the ability to plan and implement a research project in SLA and language education. By the end of this course, students are expected to develop the ability to:
a) formulate relevant research questions that address SLA and language teaching issues,
b) develop an appropriate and feasible research design,
c) implement the research plan, and
d) write up a graduation thesis.

before/after course of study: As an advanced seminar, students must work independently both in and outside of class (90-120 minutes each for preparation and review). Taking full responsibility for projects is mandatory, and failure to maintain this level of independent work will result in a failing grade.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule Over three semesters,students will progress through the following stages:
1st Semester (Fall 2025):
- Select a potential topicfor graduation thesis
- Write a ResearchSynthesis/Literature Review paper (10-20 pages)
- Identify research issuesthat need to be addressed

2nd Semester (Spring2026):
- Develop a full researchproposal (Participant selection, Materials, Analysis plan)
- Develop researchinstruments
- Conduct a pilot study

3rd Semester (Fall 2026):
- Conduct main study
- Complete data analysis
- Write up thesis

Detailed Schedule forFall 2025:
Students are required to:
a) Read journal articlesand propose a research plan for assigned topics weekly
b) Work independently toprepare their literature review for the final presentation

Week 1: Introduction & How to ConductLiterature Review
Week 2: Readings on Topic 1
Week 3: Presentation of Research Design Proposal onTopic 1
Week 4: Presentation of Revised Research Design onTopic 1
Week 5: Reporting Individual Project Progress:Reading Log for Literature Review
Week 6: Readings on Topic 2
Week 7: Presentation of Research Design Proposal onTopic 2
Week 8: Presentation of Revised Research Design onTopic 2
Week 9: Reporting Individual Project Progress:Reading Log for Literature Review
Week 10: Readings on Topic 3
Week 11: Presentation of Research Design Proposal onTopic 3
Week 12: Presentation of Revised Research Design onTopic 3
Week 13: Student Presentation
Week 14: Student Presentation

Language: English

Textbooks: Materials will be provided by the instructor.

References: [Introductory textbook to SLA]
Brown, S. & Larson-Hall, J. (2012). Second Language Acquisition Myths: Applying Second Language Research to Classroom Teaching. University of Michigan Press.
Lightbown, Pasty M. & Nina Spada (2022). How languages are learned (5th ed.). Oxford University Press.
Loewen, S., & Sato, M. (2024). A practical guide to second language teaching and learning. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

村野井仁 (2006).『第二言語習得研究から見た効果的な英語学習法・指導法』大修館書店.
和泉伸一 (2009)『フォーカス・オン・フォームを取り入れた新しい英語教育』大修館書店.
鈴木渉 (編) (2017)『実践例で学ぶ第二言語習得研究に基づく英語指導』大修館書店.
白井恭弘 (2023).『英語教師のための第二言語習得論入門 改訂版』大修館書店.
鈴木祐一 (2024)『あたらしい第二言語習得論—英語指導の思い込みを変える』研究社.

[Research methods in SLA]
Brown, J. D. (1988). Understanding research in second language learning: A teacher's guide to statistics and research design: Cambridge University Press.
Mackey, A., & Gass, S. M. (2011). Research methods in second language acquisition: A practical guide: John Wiley & Sons.
門田修平 (2010)『SLA研究入門 - 第二言語の処理・習得研究のすすめ方』くろしお出版.
白畑知彦・若林茂則・村野井 仁 (2010).『詳説 第二言語習得研究—理論から研究法まで』研究社.
竹内理・水本篤 (編) (2023).『外国語教育研究ハンドブック【増補版】— 研究手法のより良い理解のために』松柏社.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Class contribution:	50	In-class active participation, assignment, homework, reflection sheets, writing assignments, etc.
Others:	50	Individual project, including annotated reading logs, final presentation and report

Note/URL: Students who are not comfortable inreading academic Japanese text, please consult the instructor. In the email tothe instructor, please explain what you would like to study in this seminar(some topics may not require reading Japanese text) and the reason why youwould like to apply for this seminar.

For information about theinstructor's research:
https://yuichisuzuki.net/

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU20100|01|210CU20100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Social Anthropology 01
Instructor	BERNARD, Rosemarie
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	;ampus] Hybrid (over 50% of classes on-cai
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course introduces anthropological approaches to the study of society and culture, and will cover the following: brief history of concepts, anthropological fieldwork method, the study of race and ethnicity, family and kinship, economics, politics, power, gender politics, medicine and health, art and expressive culture, education, as well as applied anthropology.

Objectives: The objective of this course is for students to acquire fundamental knowledge about the concepts and methods of Social Anthropology, and to apply them to the study of social and cultural phenomena. This course is useful to acquire an informed and analytically sophisticated approach to diversity and multiculturalism. This course will serve as useful preparation for students planning to study abroad and to work in international contexts.
Students will be required to attend class, complete assigned readings, and watch all modules. All class materials, lectures, readings and films, must be read or watched in order to answer the midterm and final exams.
Format for the classes this term will include (1) normally face-to-face classes in the classroom, (2) one or two on-demand lectures with interactive and/or assignments on linguistic and performative subject matter studied, and (3) possibly a guest lecture [details TBA].
Please note that we will have one film showing of a film outside of regular class time in April. The film is available on You Tube with subtitles in a foreign language, and can be watched as an alternative to attending the planned evening film showing sessions (approximately between April 18 and 24, 2026).
Every week, students must consult the class Moodle page to ascertain readings and related source materials and planned activities.
The midterm exam will take place in late May, and the final exam will take place in two parts, with an in-class test in mid- July, and a take-home online essay exam in mid-July.
We use an open-source textbook to facilitate free and open access.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction: What is Social Anthropology? Basics of Method and Theory
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapter 1

Vol. 2 History of Anthropology: Colonialism, Postcolonialism and new directions in Social Anthropology
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapter 2

Vol. 3 Fieldwork Methods
Read and Discuss Textbook: Chapter 3, and view film "Babakiueria"

Vol. 4 Race and Ethinicity: On the significance of social and cultural categories
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapter 4

Vol. 5 Economic Anthropology
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapter 5

Vol. 6 Kinship Systems and the Family
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapter 6

Vol. 7 Midterm Exam and Discussion of Midterm Exam
Midterm Exam (take-home)

Vol. 8 Social and Political Organization
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapter 7

Vol. 9 Politics, Law and Power
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapter 7

Vol.10 Art, Ritual, Performance and Expression
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapter 8
Vol.11 Medical Anthropology
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapter 9
Vol.12 Applied Anthropology; Human Rights
Read and Discuss Textbook Chapters 10 and 11
Vol.13 Final Exam review and Part One of Final Exam (in-class)
Part One of Final Exam
Vol.14 Course Review and Final Exam
Part Two of Final Exam (online, no class meeting)

Language: English

Textbooks: Brown, Nina, Thomas McIlwraith, and Laura Tubelle de Gonzalez, "Perspectives: An Open Introduction to Cultural Anthropology Second Edition". Arlington, VA: American Anthropological Association, 2020.
online: open source textbook available for free to all https://perspectives.pressbooks.com

References: Karl G. Heider, Seeing Anthropology Through Film, 4th Edition, 1994.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 75 Midterm (25%) and Final (50%).

Others: 25 Active Class Participation (25%)

Note/URL: This course will take place as a combination of MOSTLY IN-PERSON CLASS SESSIONS (without concurrent Zoom access or recordings), a few ON-DEMAND LECTURES AND CLASS MATERIALS, and possibly one or two ZOOM sessions.The MIDTERM EXAM will take place as a home assignment in the last week of May; the FINAL EXAM will take place as a home assignment in the last week of classes in July.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU20300|01|210CU20300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Communication Studies 01
Instructor	NISHIMURA, Keiko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Thiscourse is designed to familiarize you with some of the basic terms and conceptsin the field of communication studies, to enhance your understanding of therole of communication in your everyday life, and to give you opportunities toimprove your skills in interacting with others. Over the course of thesemester, we will examine key themes in the discipline involving the social,political, economic, cultural, and technological contexts of many forms ofcommunication, from interpersonal to public communication. As a result of taking this class, you shouldhave a more sophisticated understanding of what is involved in many forms ofcommunication.

Objectives: ·Develop an understanding of communication as a dynamic process that occurs in a variety of contexts to inform our understanding of self and other, and the world we live in ·Think critically about identity, difference, language, culture, and power as constructed through communication
·Reflect on our communicative behaviors and practices, as well as those of others in everyday practice
·Analyze, apply, and extend conceptual material in class discussion, research, and writing
·Increase our competence as communicators

before/after course of study: Before the scheduled class period, read the assigned reading thoroughly. Take notes of unfamiliar concepts, terms, or sections, formulate questions, and bring them to class. Preparation is expected to take 90–120 minutes. After the class, review the lecture, reading, and discussion to prepare for the quiz. The review is expected to take 90–120 minutes. For your individual Opinion Expression and comments, preparation is expected to take 60–90 minutes.
Towards your Group Opinion Paper, you are expected to coordinate and collaborate with others, including brainstorming, writing and revising. Preparation for this assignment is expected to take 60–90 minutes on a weekly basis.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule 1. Introduction
a. Read Syllabus.
2. Two Views of Communication
a. Read Carey (2009) “Cultural Approach to Communication”(pp.11–28)
3. Symbolic Interaction.
a. Read Griffin (2022) “Symbolic Interactionism” (18 pgs) (Optional:Goffman (1959) “Performances”)
b. Brainstorm and decide the topics for OpinionExpression and the Group Opinion Paper.
c. Grouping Announcement
4. Small Group Communication: Group Workshop 1
a. Submit GroupWorkshop Progress Report due (end of theweek).5. Academic Communication 1: Entering the Conversation
a. Read Mills (2024) “Introduction” (pp.18–27)and Birkenstein & Graff (2010) “Entering theConversation” (pp.1–15)b. Quiz 1(Syllabus, Carey, Griffin, Gergen, Mills “Intro” B&G “Entering”)6. Academic Communication 2: Figuring Out What They Said
a. Read Mills (2024) “Reading to Figure Out the Argument”(pp.28–50)7. Small Group Communication:Group Workshop 2a. Submit GroupWorkshop Progress Report due (end of the week) 8. Academic Communication 3: Presenting Others’ Ideas
a. Read Birkenstein & Graff (2010) “Part 1: TheySay” (pp.19–51)
9. Communication, Power, and Difference.
a. Read Shimono & Nobis (2002), “‘White’and ‘Japanese’ Privilege (?): An Interview with Makiko Deguchi” (pp.41–45),
b. Read Jones (2020) “Racism in Japan.” (7pgs)
c. Quiz 2 (Mills“Reading,” B&G “They Say,” Simono & Nobis, Jones) 10. Small Group Communication:Group Workshop 3a. Submit GroupWorkshop Progress Report due (end of the week)
11. Disabilityand Accessibility as Communication Issues
a. Read “Introduction” (pp.1–18) from Aimi Hamraie, Building Access: Universal Design and thePolitics of Disability (2017).
12. Academic Communication4: Constructing Your Argument
a. Read Birkenstein & Graff (2010) “Part 2: I Say (4–5)” (pp.55–77)13. AcademicCommunication 5: Anticipate Other Positions
a. Read Birkenstein& Graff (2010) “Part 2: I Say (6–7)” (pp.78–101)b. Quiz 3(Hamraie, B&G “I Say (4–5, 6–7)”)
c. Group Opinion Paper due (end of the week)14. (7/16) Group Opinion Paper Reflection &Final Discussion.

a. Group OpinionPaper Reflection due (end of the class day)
b. Opinion Expressionfinal due (end of the week)
@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:204;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536858881 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Yu Mincho";panose-1:2 2 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0;mso-font-alt:游明朝;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-2147482905 717749503 18 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@Yu Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-2147482905 717749503 18 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0in;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Calibri",sans-serif;mso-ascii-font-family:Calibri;mso-ascii-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-hansi-font-family:Calibri;mso-hansi-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-bidi-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-bidi-theme-font:minor-bidi;mso-fareast-language:JA;}p.MsoListParagraph, li.MsoListParagraph, div.MsoListParagraph{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:10.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-fareast-language:EN-US;}p.MsoListParagraphCxSpFirst, li.MsoListParagraphCxSpFirst, div.MsoListParagraphCxSpFirst{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-type:export-only;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:10.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-fareast-language:EN-US;}p.MsoListParagraphCxSpMiddle, li.MsoListParagraphCxSpMiddle, div.MsoListParagraphCxSpMiddle{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-type:export-only;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:10.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-fareast-language:EN-US;}p.MsoListParagraphCxSpLast, li.MsoListParagraphCxSpLast, div.MsoListParagraphCxSpLast{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-type:export-only;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:10.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-fareast-language:EN-US;}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-family:"Calibri",sans-serif;mso-ascii-font-family:Calibri;mso-ascii-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-hansi-font-family:Calibri;mso-hansi-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-bidi-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-bidi-theme-font:minor-bidi;mso-font-kerning:0pt;mso-ligatures:none;mso-fareast-language:JA;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}ol{margin-bottom:0in;}ul{margin-bottom:0in;}

Language: English

Textbooks: There is no required textbook for this course. Assigned readings will become available as PDF documents and by other means to be specified by the instructor.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free- 1.READ THIS SYLLABUS. Read/watch all the assigned materials (mandatory)
2.Active Participation15
3.Quizzes30
4.Opinion Expression (individual) 10
5.Opinion Expression Comments 5
6.Group Workshop Progress Report15
7.Group Opinion Paper15
8.Group Opinion Paper Reflection10

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU20700|51|210CU20700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Cultural Studies 51
Instructor	FAIRBANKS, Kaori
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: American Culture through Movies, Magazines, and Commercial Products

Course Outline: This course is intended to help students better understand American culture through movies,animation, magazines, and other popular commercial products from the perspectives of gender, race, and ethnicity. The 1918 influenza pandemic of World War I and the Japanese American experience in World War II will also be covered briefly in this course. Students will be expected to grasp the idea of "Americanism" by paying special attention to the historical background of each topic covered. Students will also learn how to think critically and academically about the visual arts and will better understood how changes in American culture have influenced the development and evolution of some of the most well-known products in America.

Objectives: (1) To understand American culture from the perspectives of gender, race, and ethnicity.
(2) To critically think about art works and popular commercial products in academic context.

before/after course of study: Students will be required to prepare for classes by doing basic research online or by reading materials related to the assigned topics and themes. Students are also encouraged to apply ideas and viewpoints developed in this class for their own particular research and/or interests outside of this class.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

1 Introduction

2 Hollywood movies vs. Literary works
- Theme:Adaptation

3 King Kong (1933): movie

4 King Kong (1933, 2005)
- Theme: Race and racial representation

5 Walt Disney and Disney animations
- Theme: What is necessary for becoming an American icon? (1)

6 Disney Princesses: Animated and Live-Action Version
- Theme: Diversity and Inclusion

7 Barbie
- Theme: "Barbie" is still a role model for American girls?

8 Coca Cola vs. Pepsi
- Theme: What is necessary for becoming an American icon? (2)

9 Any Day Now (2012): movie

10 Any Day Now (2012)
- Theme: Sexual minority and family

11 The 1918 Influenza Pandemic vs. World War I
- Why "the 1918 influenza pandemic" was forgotten?

12 Japanese American
- Theme: The history of Japanese/Asian American

13 Japanese American
- Theme: Stereotypes about Japanese/Asian American

14 Term Examination. (Comments and feedback will be given on Course N@vi to maximize educational effects.)

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Materials to be handed out in class or on Moodle.
References:	To be notified in class.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	60	Term examination
Papers:	40	Active participation in class, minute paper

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU21800|01|210CU21800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Russian Studies: History, Culture and Contemporary Transformations 0
Instructor	SHADRINA, Elena
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Introduction to Russian Studies: History, Culture & Contemporary Transformations

Course Outline: This course provides a concise introduction to Russian Studies, serving both students who wish to broaden their area studies perspective and those intending to specialise in the field. It is designed to cultivate interest in Russian history and culture, enhance understanding of Russia's contemporary political, social, and economic context, and assist students in defining the focus of their future academic and professional pursuits within area studies.

Objectives:

Course Objectives
This course aims to:
・Introduce students to key historical and cultural references in Russian Studies.
・Emphasise themes of enduring relevance for understanding Russia's past and present.
・Provide analytical tools for interpreting Russia's political, social, and economic transformations.
・Situate Russian Studies within the broader field of Area Studies, encouraging comparative and cross-cultural perspectives.
・Develop students' capacity to critically engage with diverse sources and scholarly debates.

Expected Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:
Knowledge and Understanding
・Demonstrate greater knowledge of Russia's historical development and major turning points.
・Display enhanced familiarity with Russian cultural heritage, traditions, and their role in shaping identity.
・Analyse Russia's transitional trajectory and contemporary socio-economic dynamics with sharpened critical awareness.
Skills
・Apply comparative analysis by relating Russian experiences to those of other societies in Eurasia and beyond.
・Interpret and evaluate primary and secondary sources, including historical documents, cultural texts, and scholarly literature.
・Communicate informed arguments in written and oral formats, using appropriate academic conventions.
Competence
・Integrate Russian Studies into a broader Area Studies framework, recognising interconnections across regions and disciplines.
・Demonstrate cross-cultural awareness and sensitivity in analysing Russia's place in global contexts.
・Exhibit readiness to pursue advanced study or research in Russian Studies or related fields.

before/after course of study: There are no formal prerequisites for enrolment in this course. Students are, however, expected to demonstrate a genuine interest in Russia's history and culture, together with a strong motivation to engage with the study of Russia's contemporary political, social, and economic transformations.

Course Requirements and Assignments
During the course, students are expected to:
1. Exit Tickets: submit brief two-sentence notes summarising designated lectures.
2. Essays: prepare written assignments on themes drawn from two major areas: History and Politics & Society.
3. Group Presentation: deliver a presentation on a cultural theme selected from the proposed list.
4. Group Project: collaboratively prepare and present a group project during the final week of the course.

Assessment Guidelines
Details regarding essay and presentation themes, templates, and grading criteria will be explained during the introductory session and made available on Moodle.

Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week 1
Introduction.Russia before the Russians

Week 2
Part 1.Russia's History
1.1.Kievan Rus (882-1240)

1.2.Appanage Russia
Exit Ticket

Week 3
1.3.Muscovite Russia (1263-1610)
Exit Ticket

Week 4
1.4.Imperial Russia (1682-1917)
Exit Ticket

Weeks 5-6
1.5.Soviet Russia (1917-1991)
Exit Ticket

Week 6
1.6.Russian Federation
Exit Ticket
Essay# 1 “History” on one of the themes posted on Moodle

Part 2.Russian Culture
Weeks 8-9
2.1.Cultural Identity
2.2.Literature and the Arts
Group Presentation “Culture” on one of the themesposted on Moodle

Week 10
Part 3.Russian Politics and Social and Societal Transformations
3.1.Russia’s Politics and Political Economy
Exit Ticket

Week 11
3.2.Russian Society
Exit Ticket

Week 12
3.3.Russia’s Foreign Policy and International Relations
Exit Ticket
Essay # 2 “RussianPolitics and Social and Societal Transformations” on one of the themes posted on Moodle

Weeks 13-14
Group Presentation “Continuities and Ruptures:How Russia’s Past Shapes Its Present” on one of themes posted on Moodle

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Riasanovsky, Nicholas V. and Mark D. Steinberg (2018). A History of Russia. Cambridge University Press.
References:	After each session, the corresponding lecture notes will be uploaded to Moodle. In addition, a diverse range of supplementary study sources and resources will be recommended throughout the course. These will include scholarly readings, online materials, and selected video content, all intended to support independent study and to enrich students’ understanding of the themes addressed in class.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	40	two analytical essays (2*20)
Papers:	40	two group presentations (2*20)
Class contribution:	16	engagement in the course: reviewing Lecture Notes & submitting Exit Tickets (8*2)
Others:	4	constructive collaboration on improving the course content, including participation in the "Motivations and Expectations" survey and provision of post-course feedback

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU22600|51|210CU22600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Digital Humanities 51
Instructor	OHMAN, Emily
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: F2F

Digital humanities is a field that aims to produce new information by looking at humanities research through a computational lens, by preserving human culture through digital media and digitization, and studying how the digital affects humanity. Digital humanities is an interdisciplinary field at the intersection of humanities, arts, and social sciences on the one hand, and computing on the other. It allows scholars of more traditional fields to explore pertinent data from a new perspective and is especially useful where qualitative approaches, such as close reading, are not possible due to the amount of data.
In this course, the students will be introduced to the main concepts of digital humanities and gain an understanding of why and how digital humanities is practiced. The students will learn about current topics in digital humanities research and learn about simple tools, resources, and methods for digital humanities. Students will also learn critical thinking and method literacy in relation to computational methodologies. This course is a great stepping stone into more advanced courses on related topics. The final project topic depends on student interests and background and can be either a theoretical overview or a report of a digital humanities-related programming task.

Objectives: After successful completion of this course, the students will:
・Understand what digital humanities is and what kind of research is done within digital humanities;
・Know what kinds of tools and resources exist, for what, when, and how they are used;
・Know how to access online data sources such as corpora, historical databases, and data sets;
・Be able to interpret digital humanities research and evaluate suitability of methods for different tasks before/after course of study: Most assignments will be completed in class.

Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction: Defining digital humanities.

We discuss what digital humanities is and try to define the field from digitized humanities to computational humanities. We look at the history of digital humanities and introduce some current digital humanities research topics.

Vol. 2 Corpus Linguistics and Text Analysis I

We learn about online data resources and how to explore what is in them using some basic corpus linguistics tools such as AntConc.

Vol. 3 Corpus Linguistics and Text Analysis II

We look more in-depth at text analytics using AntConc, TagAnt, and part-of-speech tags.

Vol. 4 Corpus Linguistics and Text Analysis III

We explore Voyant Tools for simple corpus visualizations.

Vol. 5 Visualization

The what, how, why and why not of visualization.
Important considerations for visualizations and some tools to create them. We explore simple free online tools such as RAW and Palladio. Common pitfalls in visualization.

Vol. 6 Digital Research Ethics & Social Media Analysis

The basics of digital research ethics and social media analysis

Vol. 7 Introduction to natural language processing

What are some simple things we can do with NLTK and SpaCy even if we do not know how to program?

Vol. 8 NLP II

Other simple text analytics tools for DH using Python

Vol. 9 Intro to RegEx

Regular Expressions!

Vol. 10 Practical project session

Are you all set for your final project? This week we will do some hands-on work on your final projects

Vol.11 LaTeX

We introduce LaTeX for word processing.

Vol.12 Project presentations

Students present their projects. Depending on the number of students the type of presentation can change (individual/group, short/long).

Vol.13 Project presentations

Students present their projects

Vol. 14 Project presentations

Students present their projects

Language: English

Textbooks: No coursebook. Articles and handouts will be available on Moodle.

References:
Berry, D.M., 2011. The computational turn: Thinking about the digital humanities. Culture machine, 12.
Chen, M., Floridi, L. and Borgo, R., 2014. What is visualization really for?. In The Philosophy of Information Quality (pp. 75-93). Springer, Cham.
Koch, C., 1991. On the benefits of interrelating computer science and the humanities: The case of metaphor. Computers and the Humanities, 25(5), pp.289-295.
Piotrowski, M., 2020. Ain't No Way Around It: Why We Need to Be Clear About What We Mean by "Digital Humanities". (available on Moodle and via Google Scholar)
Wilke, C.O., 2019. Fundamentals of data visualization: a primer on making informative and compelling figures. O'Reilly Media.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	80	Final project paper
Class contribution:	10	Project presentations and participation in class discussions
Others:	10	Assignments

Note/URL: F2F

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU22700|51|210CU22700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Game Based Language Learning: From Theory to Practice (for students of German) 51
Instructor	SCHARLOTH, Joachim
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

In this course, we will look at the importance of games for learning foreign languages on different levels:
- We will discuss theoretical aspects of games and play and their use in education.
- We will test instructional games and evaluate their effects on language skills.
- We will design a game together that is intended to improve the skills of learners of German.

In the first part of the course, students are familiarized with central concepts of game theory and game design and learn about the significance of games in education. In the second part, we want to jointly develop an educational game on a linguistic phenomenon of the German language, which in its procedural rhetoric depicts relevant aspects of the subject matter. The students will work in groups on mechanics, rules, character design, sound effects, music and level design and thus contribute to the development of the game.

In the course of the semester, students will also be encouraged to review their own gaming biography, reflect on their methods of foreign language learning and critically question processes of the gamification of education in general.

In-depth computer knowledge or coding skills are not a prerequisite for participation. However, students should be willing to familiarize themselves with software and tools. Because the game we want to develop in the course of the semester will be designed to represent an aspect of the German language, some knowledge of German and/or participation in the German language program at SILS are prerequisites for admission to the seminar. Students of German I are also welcome.

The course will be conducted in English. p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, the students will have...

- gained knowledge of the function of games in society and for learning.
- acquired conceptual skills of game design and critical design analysis.
- explored fundamental concepts of game designs (rules, mechanics, emergence).
- gained the experience of creating a playable game using an established design process.
- reflected critically on the ideologies of game designers (as covert conceptions of the learning process and of learners) as well as the ideology behind the gamification of education.
- improved their German skills by closely studying those aspects of German that the collaboratively developed game is based on

before/after course of study:

Students will read short theoretical texts and will join a group and contribute to one dimension of the design process of a game.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回 Introduction: Let's Play

To familiarize ourselves with the subject matter, we play various games for learners of German in the first lesson.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第2回　Game, Play

The aim of this lesson is to clarify the terms "game"and "play" using the example of different types ofgames. In addition, we will read a text by Huizinga to reflect onthe significance of games for cultures and societies.
Huizinga, Johan (1955). HomoLudens: A study of the play-element in culture. Boston: BeaconPress.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第3回　Gamification, Game Enhanced Learning, Game Based Learning, Game Based Language Learning

In this lesson we look at the use of games in education. We will learn about different ways of using games in the learning process and discuss the advantages and disadvantages of gamified and game based learning.

Kim,Sangkyun, John Burton, Barbara Lockee, and Kibong Song (2018):Gamification in Learning and Education: Enjoy Learning Like Gaming.1st ed. Advances in Game-Based Learning. Cham: Springer InternationalPublishing.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第4回　In the Loop: Games as Finite State Machines

This class will familiarize students with a formal model for gamedesign analysis that will inform their own design process.
Sicart, Miguel (2015): Loops andMetagames: Understanding Game Design Structures. In: José PabloZagal / Esther MacCallum-Stewart / Julian Togelius (eds.):Proceedings of the 10th International Conference on theFoundations of Digital Games, FDG 2015, Pacific Grove, CA, USA,June 22-25, 2015: Society for the Advancement of the Science ofDigital Games. p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第5回　Rules & Mechanics

The concept of "rule" is a crucial aspect of video gamedesign and video game analysis. In this lesson, we will discussthe connection between the rules of the game and game mechanics(possible interactions of the player with the game state).
Sicart, Miguel (2016): Mechanics.In: Henry Lowood / Rayford Guins, R. (eds.): Debugging GameHistory: A Critical Lexicon. MIT Press, pp. 297-304.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第6回　Emergence and Progression

In this class we examine the concept of "emergence" by distinguishing it from the concept of "progression". And we discuss how to facilitate emergence in games by defining rules.

Juul, Jesper (2002): The Open and the Closed: Games of Emergence and Games of Progression. In: Proceedings of the Computer Games and Digital Cultures Conference, June 6-8, 2002, Tampere, Finland, 2002, pp.323-329.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第7回　Procedural Rhetoric in Game Based Language Learning

In this lesson we will conceptualize games as media with a specific rhetoric. And we will discuss how this aspect of games can be applied to design effective language learning games.

Bogost, Ian (2007): The Rhetoric of Video Games. In: The Ecology of Games: Connecting Youth, Games, and Learning : The John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation Series on Digital Media and Learning, pp. 117-139.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第8回 Workshop 1: Theme, Genre

In this lesson, we will choose an aspect of the German language that can be experienced and learned in the procedural rhetoric of the game we intend to develop. We will also decide on a genre on the basis of traditional genre classifications.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第9回 Workshop 2: Elements, Rules, Mechanics

In this lesson, we will define important aspects of the game design for our language learning game. We will pay particular attention to how the rules and mechanics represent the learning object, i.e. a specific aspect of the German language.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第10回 Prototyping: Rules, Mechanics

The purpose of this lesson is to get our basic idea of a language learning game in playable form. We will create and test simple prototypes to see, whether the rules and mechanics create a playful experience and foster a deeper understanding of the linguistic aspects.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第11回 Prototyping: Elements, Characters, Sound Effects & Music

In this session we will test the effects of other design elements.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第12回 Adaptivity and Level Design

In game-based learning, it is important that the difficulty of the game is adjusted to the abilities of the players. In this lesson, we will discuss ways in which we can adjust the difficulty of our game and implement progression.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第13回 Testing

In this lesson, we want to test how our game is perceived by learners and whether it is considered to be educationally useful.p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

第14回 The Playful Learner? – A Critical Account

In this lesson, we will discuss what consequences gamification in education has for our understandingof the learner and for our notion of play.

Toda,Armando M., Pedro H. D. Valle, Seiji Isotani (2018): The Dark Side of Gamification: An Overview of Negative Effects of Gamification in Education. In: Higher Education for All. From Challenges to Novel Technology-Enhanced Solutions, edited by Alexandra Ioana Cristea, Ig Ibert Bittencourt, and Fernanda Lima, 832, pp. 143-56. (= Communications in Computer and Information Science. Cham: Springer International Publishing, 2018.)p { direction: ltr; color: #000000; text-align: justify; orphans: 0; widows: 0; background: transparent }p.western { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: en-US }p.cjk { font-family: "MS 明朝", "MS Mincho", serif; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ja-JP }p.ctl { font-family: "MS ゴシック", "MS Gothic", monospace; font-size: 10pt; so-language: ar-SA }a:visited { color: #954f72; text-decoration: underline }a:link { color: #0000ff; text-decoration: underline }

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Instead of a single textbook, individual papers and chapters on specific topics will be provided (see course schedule).

References: For aspects of the design process, we will use additional literature from the following publications:
Cooper, Jonathan (2021): Game Anim: Video Game Animation Explained. 2nd edition. Boca Raton, FL: CRC Press.
Peterson, Mark, Kasumi Yamazaki, and Michael Thomas, eds. (2021): Digital Games and Language Learning: Theory, Development and Implementation. Bloomsbury Academic.
Schell, Jesse (2020): The Art of Game Design: A Book of Lenses. 3rd edition. Boca Raton, London, New York:

CRC Press, Taylor & Francis Group.
Sykes, Julie M., Jonathon Reinhardt (2013): Language at Play: Digital Games in Second and Foreign Language Teaching and Learning. Theory and Practice in Second Language Classroom Instruction. Boston: Pearson Education.
Wolf, Mark J. P., Bernard Perron, eds. (2003): The Video Game Theory Reader. New York ; London: Routledge.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free-

Students are asked to participate actively in discussions in class and do assignments. (20%)

Students will be required to summarize a theoretical text in the form of an oral presentation and provide a two-page summary of the content. (40%)

Students are asked to participate in a working group and develop a design concept for one dimension of the game. (40%)

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU22800|01|210CU22800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Introduction to Contemporary History of the Two Koreas 01
Instructor	LEE, Bong Kyu
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed to explore contemporary Korean history at the introductory level. After its liberation from Japan in 1945, Korea sought to build a new modern state, but suffered from division and the Korean War. North and South Korea were at odds with each other even as they sought reunification, and South Korea sought economic growth and modernization but struggled with democratization. To understand South Korea today, it is instructive to look at the historical development of a post-colonial underdeveloped country. Audio-visual and multimedia educational materials will be used to enhance the understanding of Korean history.

Objectives: The course is designed to help students understand the process and major events of Korea's contemporary history in chronological order. In doing so, it develops their ability to understand contemporary Korean history from a humanistic perspective and promotes sensitivity to the history and culture of other countries as well as multicultural communication skill.

before/after course of study: Preliminary knowledge of Korean history and society is not necessary for this course. However, students are expected to approach each class topic with an open mind and enthusiasm for foreign history, and a proactive attitude toward communication and debate is desirable.
Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 60-90 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回
Introduction
第2回
Imperialism, Colonial Joseon and Pacific War : Historical Background of Korea before 1945
第3回
From Liberation to Division : Various Ideas and Figures for New Government Establishment, and making of Divided Korea Regime (1)
第4回
From Liberation to Division : Various Ideas and Figures for New Government Establishment, and making of Divided Korea Regime (2)
第5回
Internal Struggle (Jeju 4.3 Movement) against Division of Korea, Global Cold War
第6回
Korean War, the Treaty of Peace with Japan, and changing Regional Order of East Asia (1)

Review Paper #1
第7回
Korean War, the Treaty of Peace with Japan, and changing Regional Order of East Asia (2)
第8回
Rehabilitation and Reconstruction after Korean War, and the April 1960 Movement
第9回
'Development Dictatorship' and the Road to Modernization : The Park Chung Hee Era (1)
第10回
'Development Dictatorship' and the Road to Modernization : The Park Chung Hee Era (2)
第11回
Democratic Movement in 1960-70 Korea: Students, Intellectuals and MINJUNG

第12回

Industrialization, Urbanization and its Crisis : Society, Culture & Education in 1960-70 Korea
Review Paper #2

第13回

5.18 Movement, Democratization and June 1987 Movement, and Seoul Olympics

第14回

Conclusion
Final Essay

Language: English

Textbooks: Lecture PPT will be distributed to the students in the class.
Michael E. Robinson, Korea's Twentieth-Century Odyssey: A Short History, Univ. of Hawaii Press, 2007
Trilateral China-Japan-Korea History Textbook Editorial Committee ed., A New Modern History of East Asia, V&R unipress, 2018

References: Hwang, Kyung Moon, A History of Korea, Palgrave Macmillan, 2017.
Park, Tae Gyun, An Ally and Empire: Two Myths of South Korea-United States Relations, 1945-1980, Seongnam: The Academy of Korean Studies Press, 2012.
Brazinsky, Gregg, Nation Building in South Korea: Koreans, Americans, and the Making of a Democracy, Chapel Hill: The University of North Carolina Press, 2007.
Baik, Young-Seo, Introduction to Korean History from a Global Perspective ; Lee, Se Young, The Formation of the Global Cold War System and the Two Koreas, Global Korean History Courses, Institute for Global Korean Studies, Yonsei University, 2023 (https://igks.kr/en/)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers: 45 Final Essay (45%):
Students will evaluate one or more articles from their own perspective on the topic. 1.5-line spacing, 12-point font, 1,800-2,300 words (in English) in length (A bibliography is essential and not included in the word count).

Others: 55 Individual Presentation or Review Paper (40%):
Those who present in class submit only 1 review paper and a final paper, but those who do not present in class submit 2 review papers and a final paper.
participant who presents during one of the class sessions is required to provide supplemental slides and/or visual materials, e.g., Prezi, Power Point, etc. Primary evaluation criteria are organization, content, delivery, and punctuality.
For those who do not present in the class session, a review paper on the assigned article or video clip is required. 1.5-line spacing, 12-point font, 1,000-1,300 words (in English) in length (A bibliography is essential and not included in the word count). Primary evaluation criteria are summary, critical commentary, and punctuality.

Participation (15%):
Questions, comments, attendance, and other contributions to class discussion will be graded.

Note/URL: The final syllabus and articles for Review Paper will be announced at the first session of the course.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU22900|01|210CU22900[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Cultural Diversity in Japan and Beyond 01
Instructor	NISHIMURA, Keiko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Issues of Nation, Diaspora, Race, and Ethnicity

Course Outline: We live in a society where questions of difference and diversity play an increasingly central role in debates over cultural values, public policy, and the shape of our daily lives. This course is an introduction to studying the diversity of contemporary human culture, both within and outside of Japan and issues concerning globalization and interconnectedness. This course introduces various theories of difference, with particular attention paid to race, ethnicity, and nationality. It will provide students with an understanding of the cultural diversity of our changing society by examining and discussing the values and characteristics of different communities and the dynamics of power. We will explore issues of equality, prejudice, and discrimination by engaging with theories of difference that set up categories of difference and how these are discussed inside and outside of Japan, as well as the work of people who attempt to disrupt these categories. Please remember that you will be reading material from multiple viewpoints, engaging in difficult conversations with people you may or may not know, and, hopefully, "trying on" many different ways of seeing the world.

Objectives: ·Explain such concepts as race/ethnicity, nationalism, minority, and diversity ·Think cross-culturally, critically, and collaboratively about the cultures and practices of "Japan" in specific and changing sociocultural contexts.
·Analyze, apply, and extend conceptual material both informally and formally through discussion and writing.
·Think critically about the relationship between cultural differences, personal experiences, and power dynamics.
·Understand and analyze a complex set of privileges we live with and how differently we are situated in society accordingly
·Converse civilly with people whose backgrounds, social positions, and beliefs are different from yours.
·Envision different ways to realize equality and equity

before/after course of study: Before the scheduled class period, read the assigned reading thoroughly. Take notes of unfamiliar concepts, terms, or sections, formulate questions, and bring them to class. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. After the class, review the lecture, reading, and discussion to prepare for the quiz and complete the worksheet. The review is expected to take 120-150 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
1. Introduction. Read Syllabus after class.
2. Approaches to Cultural Diversity. Read Miner "Body Rituals Among the Narcirema" pp.503-507
3. Critiquing Japan's Homogeneity 1. Read Morris-Suzuki "Japan" from Re-Inventing Japan (1998) pp.9-34
4. Critiquing Japan's Homogeneity 2. Read Lie (2008) Zainichi (Koreans in Japan), Chapter 1, pp.1-31
5. Experiences of Asian Diaspora 1. In-class Screening: The Cats of Mirikitani (2006, 74min) & discussion
6. Experiences of Asian Diaspora 2. Read Kim "Defining Asian American Realities through Literature" from Ono ed. A Companion to Asian American Studies (2005). pp.196-213.
7. Midterm Review & Exam.
8. Experiences of Asian Diaspora 3. Screening (at home) George Takei's Allegiance (130m) (Nishimura at conference)
9. Experiences of Asian Diaspora 4: Excerpts from Joy Kogawa's "Gently To Nagasaki"
10. Issues of Race and Ethnicity 1. Read Bruce "W. E. B. Du Bois and the Idea of Double Consciousness" American Literature, Vol. 64, No. 2 (1992), pp. 299-309
11. Issues of Race and Ethnicity 2. Read Zhu "Asian Americans must…" Guardian (2 pgs), " 'You're Asian, Right? …' " Politico Magazine (7 pgs)
12. Critiquing Whiteness 1. Read Dyer "The Matter of Whiteness" from Rothenberg ed. White Privilege: Essential Readings on the Other Side of Racism (2005) pp.9-14
13. Critiquing Whiteness 2. Ashikari, M. (2005). Cultivating Japanese Whiteness. Journal of Material Culture, 10(1), 73-91.
14. Final Review & Exam.

Language: English

Textbooks: There is no required textbook for this course. Assigned readings will become available as PDF documents and by other means to be specified by the instructor.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	1.READ THIS SYLLABUS. Read/watch all the assigned materials (mandatory) 2.Active Participation15 3.Quizzes20 4.Film Responses20 5.Midterm Exam10 6.Final Exam15 7.Reflection Paper20
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU23000|01|210CU23000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- German Language in Context 01
Instructor	STEINHAUER, Hagen Fritjof
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Culture, Mind and Body and Community	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: An Introduction to the Linguistics of German

Course Outline: Thecourse gives an overview of key topics in the linguistics of German such asPhonetics and Phonology, Morphology, Semantics and Pragmatics. Apart from thatit also touches on the sociolinguistic and historical contexts of the Germanlanguage such as its pluricentricity, its contact with other languages incolonial contexts and its historic ancestors. The course is designed as anintroduction to the social contexts and linguistics of German and is supposedto complement the language acquisition during the first semester in the APMGerman Program.

Objectives: The objective of this course is to give students an overview of central topics of the linguistics of German while providing social and historical context of this language in use.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, students will be asked to read selected chapters of introductory works on German Linguistics. The chapters will be posted on Waseda moodle in advance. Homework exercise will be assigned as review for each session and should be turned in before the next class. Review and preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes in total.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Course Overview and Introduction of the Topic

Give an overview ofthe schedule and requirements of the course. Overview of basic concepts:Language and Linguistics (langue vs. parole; arbitrariness; variety andstandard language; synchrony and diachrony)

German and its Ancesteors

Historical stages ofGerman, sound shifts and language change

German as a Pluricentric Language

National and RegionalVarieties, dialects and minority languages

German as a (Contact) Language in Colonial Contexts

German Language Islands outside of Europe andtheir historic contextThe history of Küchendeutsch, Unserdeutsch undKolonialdeutsch

Phonetics and Phonology I

The sound inventory of GermanIntroduction to the International PhoneticAlphabet

Phonetics and Phonology II

Phone, Phoneme,Allophone and minimal pair test

Morphology I: What is a Word?

Morph, morpheme, allomorphMorpheme types and lexemes

Morphology II: Word Formation

Compounding,derivation, conversion

Syntax I: What is a Sentence?

Main and subordinateclauses, phrases, word classes and constituents

Syntax II: Structure and Word Order

Phrase types and syntactic functionsWord order, sentence fields, sentence types

Semantics I: What is Meaning?

Introduction tosemantics and meaning

Semantics II: Language, Mind and Reality

Deepening ofknowledge of semantic and its connection to the mind and construction of(social) reality

Pragmatics: Speech acts, Presuppositions and Deixis

Introduction tospeech act theory, presupoositions and deixis

Wrap-up and Conclusion of the Semester

Wrap-up of the topicsof the semester

Language: English

Textbooks: Busch, Albert; Stenschke, Oliver (2008): Germanistische Linguistik. Eine Einführung. Tübingen: Narr.
Pittner, Karin (2025): Einführung in die germanistische Linguistik. Bielefeld: WBV.
Busse, Dietrich; Ketsba-Khundadze, Lali (2022): Grundzüge der germanistischen Sprachwissenschaft. Paderborn: Brill.
Fagan, Sarah (2010): German. A Linguistic Introduction. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Papers:	60	Three short written homework assignment during the semester
Class contribution:	40	Active participation in discussions and group work

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU30100|01|210CU30100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Comparative Cultural Studies 01
Instructor	ASO, Takashi
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Thur.2@02:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Orientalism, Occidentalism, and the Representation of Japan

Course Outline: This course explores the ways in which Japanese Occidentalism and Western Orientalism (Japonism) are interrelated in their representations of Japan.
In historical and cultural encounters between Japan and the West, Western countries have often conceived stereotyped images of Japan regardless of its social and historical realities. Cultural stereotypes such as the "salaryman" and images of high-tech industries—let alone more traditional icons such as "geisha," "Mount Fuji," and "kabuki"—are among the most familiar examples. These are culturally biased and distorted representations that do not necessarily correspond to the lived realities of Japan and its people.
However, it is not only Western countries that have produced distorted images of Japan. More interestingly, Japan itself has actively constructed its own self-image in response to equally distorted images of Europeans and Americans. Through Japanese perceptions of the Western "Other," Western nations have often been idealized as "white" and therefore imagined as "beautiful," "intelligent," and "strong." At the same time, Japan has frequently portrayed itself as a nation continually oppressed or "bashed" by Western powers, struggling to recover from this condition (cf. the Meiji Restoration and the economic recovery following the Second World War).
By reading a wide range of texts and media representing Western Orientalism and Japanese Occidentalism, this course aims to analyze these constructed images of Japan and to explore the possibility of proposing alternative representations.

Objectives: 1): To analyze East-West relations in terms of power, gender, and race; 2) To investigate the ways in which the East and the West have negotiated with each other culturally and politically.

before/after course of study: Before the class: work on assigned reading and other materials.
After the class: reflect upon what you have learned in the class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Introduction: Orientalism and Occidentalism1. An Overview
2. Orientalism and Occidentalism: Madame Butterfly and the "Ugly Japan"
3. From Gojira to Godzilla: Orientalism, Occidentalism, and Transcultural Negotiations
4. Theories of Orientalism and Occidentalism: Said and Buruma/Margalit
The Madame Butterfly Syndrome: Where the Occident Meets the Orient5-6. After the Defeat: Kazuo Ishiguro and the Lost Images of Traditional Japan
7. The Japanese through Orientalist Eyes: James Bond Goes to the East
8-10. Gender, Race, and Sexual Transgression: Deconstructing Madame Butterfly
Masculinizing Japanese Culture11-12. Newly Romancing Japan: William Gibson and Postmodern Orientalism
13-14. Japan from a Feminist Perspective: Angela Carter's "Souvenir of Japan"
Japan That Desires15-16. Japan and Its Cultural Hegemony: How We Learned to Stop Worrying and Love Disneyland
17-19. Modern Butterflies: Interracial Intimacies?
20-22. Still on the Margin: Japanese Women and a Culture of Globalization
Japan and Postmodern Culture23-24. Re-Orienting Japanese Culture
25-26. In the Wake of Gojira: Thomas Pynchon's Trans-Pacific Romance
(P) Thomas Pynchon, Vineland (1990), pp. 142-168 (part of Chapter 9)
(M) Quentin Tarantino, Kill Bill Vol. 1 & 2 (2003/2005) — Not available at CL 4F
27. Toward Post-Orientalism: Discussions
28. Final Session

Language: English

Textbooks: A packet of reading materials will be provided at the beginning of the semester.
The following list is tentative:

Brannen, Mary Yoko. "'Bwana Mickey': Constructing Cultural Consumption."
Carter, Angela. "A Souvenir of Japan" and "Oriental Romances—Japan."
Creighton, Millie. "Imaging the Other in Japanese Advertising Campaigns."
Gibson, William. Neuromancer.
Greenfeld, Taro. The Speed Tribes.

Hwang, David Henry. M. Butterfly.
Ishiguro, Kazuo. “A Family Supper.”
Mura, David. Turning Japanese.
Whiting, Robert. Tokyo Underworld.

Movies
You Only Live Twice (1962), M. Butterfly (1993), Heaven’s Burning (1998), and others.

References: Buruma, Ian, and Avishai Margalit. Occidentalism: The West in the Eyes of Its Enemies.
Dower, John. Embracing Defeat.
Morris-Suzuki, Tessa. Re-Inventing Japan.
Said, Edward. Orientalism.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free- The details will be announced in the class. (It depends on the class size.)
Attendance: 10%; Class Participation 10%; Midterm Review Exams 40%; Final Exams 40%.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU30200|01|210CU30200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Gender Studies 01
Instructor	DVORAK, Greg
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Wed.4@02:Wed.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Contemporary Intersections of Gender, Sexuality, Identity, and Culture

Course Outline: This intermediate course is an introduction to the idea of "intersectionality" in gender studies— in which we take as our starting point the idea that gender itself is largely a cultural construction and a phenomenon that intersects with other cultural constructs that societies have about race, age, nationality, body, sexuality, desire, ability, privilege, power, science and many other discourses. Indeed, gender is embedded so deeply in nearly everything we do and think that it is quite difficult to become conscious of the ways in which we literally gender our world and create hierarchies that empower some people and marginalize others. The way we think about gender literally creates insiders and outcasts in our social systems and also can cut us off from seeing the larger fluidities and connections between people, societies, and ways of being in the world. This course thus aims to equip each student with an awareness of how studying gender is essential to understanding society and making meaningful change in the world, and to offer tools and language that can help each student analyze and critique gender and power in everyday life. "Gender Studies" itself is a very broad field—the approach we take is built on feminism, masculinities studies, and queer studies, and thus our focus is especially on equality and being inclusive.
Throughout the course, we will examine themes of bias, equality, hegemony, marginalization and minorities, social justice and human rights. We will also look especially at how gender studies is useful in thinking about Japanese history and histories of the larger Pacific and Asia region. In so doing, we will examine how understanding gender helps us to think critically about power and the institutionalization of inequality. At the same time, we will engage in our study and discussion in a spirit of self-reflexivity, creativity, and open-mindedness, attempting to go beyond binaries and overly fixed categories.

A core part of this course will be making a distinction between labels and lived experience, to truly examine what gender is and why we gender the world, each other, and ourselves as we do, as well as what implications this has for each of us. The methodological considerations of gender studies and feminist inquiry, as well as some contextual discussions of how those methodologies emerged, will be complemented with examples of how gender intersects with a wide range of topics historically in Japan, other parts of Asia, Oceania, and the United States. Through lectures and discussions of historical examples drawn mainly from a Pacific and Asian context, students will be encouraged to observe the intersectionality between race, ethnicity, region, sexual orientation, class, age, health, and many other backgrounds, such as colonization and globalization. Through occasional films, Zoom discussions, and extra-credit field activities in Tokyo, discussions, surveys, and reflective projects, students will also be given an opportunity to apply the concepts learned in class to their own lived experiences to enrich their learning.

*NOTE-- during the pandemic, this course was redesigned supplementarily with comprehensive online modules. Owing to the new 100 minute class period time, this course schedule will thus combine two back-to-back periods on campus, but at other times, there will be plenty of on-demand content to make it easier for your to learn, review, and to compensate for situations when we cannot meet in person. 200 minutes weekly equates to 3.5 hours of study time, which is better spread out if you have some regularly scheduled class time combined with some online learning you can do at your own pace. A clear schedule will be provided at the beginning of the semester.

Objectives: Upon completion of this semester, you will be expected to have a working knowledge of the basics of gender studies methodologies, concepts, and historical contexts. You will also cultivate an appreciation for the rich diversity of genders, sexualities, identities, and cultural practices in Japan, the Pacific, the United States, and many other parts of the world. You will also be challenged to reflect on the ways in which you personally "do" gender to construct your own identities and participate in society, and thus to consider problems of your own engagement with power, privilege, and inequality. Ideally, students should be able to reflexively use gender studies as a tool to critique power in society in their future studies and careers.

before/after course of study: Students are required to complete all assigned readings (most of which will be provided by downloadable PDF and also through an assigned book) as stated in the detailed week-by-week schedule (posted in the first weeks of class) before class each session. Additionally, students will be assigned short, informal reflection essays and other reflective assignments to do several times throughout the semester.

Note also that although these classes are back-to-back sessions of 4th-5th period every week in the schedule, as noted above, we will balance out classroom contact time with on-demand lectures and films. Keep in mind that students are nonetheless required to attend BOTH sessions each week on campus, or virtually when advised, with special quizzes and assignments given to check for engagement (attendance and participation) in these sessions. You should be aware that although this is an intermediate course, it demands double the work than a one-period 2 credit class. When online, you'll also be required to stream and watch full-length but engaging video lectures and to participate in occasional live Zoom sessions as well.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule

As noted above, this is a four-credit course which normally meets once a week for a full back-to-back two periods of class time, meaning that this is double the contact time of a normal course (for instance it counts as 30 sessions rather than 15 in a 15 week schedule). When meeting in the classroom, your engagement score is based on you being present and engaged for the whole time, and the same is true online, even if the content is on demand and done at your own pace-- since you will be quizzed on the material. If we meet online LIVE (which we may do rarely), this will always be from a pre-announced link and only during the pre-scheduled class period times.

Weekly Themes in Each Unit:
Histories and Landscapes: Where we are. Who we are.
Ideas and Ideologies: Two Genders? Blurring and Queering
Bodies: What is "Real"?
Performances: How We "Do" Gender
Intersections: Race, Sexual Orientation, Immigration, Age, etc.
Inequalities: Men and Masculinities; Women and Femininities
Change and Cultural Clashes: Historical Movements, Colonization, Globalization
Sexualities: Love, Desire, and Identity
Families: Gendering the Home, Being Visible in Society
Work: Discrimination, Privilege, Salarymen and Secretaries
Politics: The State, Feminist Activism, Queer Activism, #metoo
Representation: Art, Film, and PoetryWhat is Queer?"LGBTQ+" Histories
Queering Japan
Queering Oceania
Genderqueer
Transnational, Translation, TransgenderThe Future of Gender

Language: English

Textbooks:

The majority of your course reading materials will be provided via online download as PDFs that should take roughly 2-4 hours to read. However, please note that the following book, whether you obtain it in printed format or as an e-book, is REQUIRED for this class, and you must obtain a copy for yourself.

REQUIRED BOOK: 'The ABC's of LGBT+' by Ashley Mardell, published by Mango Media, 2016

Please purchase or obtain your own copy of the above book, which is available in at least English and in Japanese. You may purchase the book in any language. It may be helpful if you are more comfortable in Japanese to also be able to see how concepts are described in Japanese for comparison.

(In Japanese, the book title is:「13歳から知っておきたいLGBT+: The ABC's of LGBT+」but the content is basically the same.)

OPTIONAL BOOKS (not required for purchase):

1. 'Assigned: Life with Gender' by Lisa Wade (W.W. Norton)
2. 'Queer: A Graphic History,' by Barker and Scheele. (Icon Books)
3. Second edition of 'Gender: Ideas. Interactions, Institutions,' edited by Lisa Wade and Myra Marx Ferree (W.W. Norton). [we will use the first edition of this book in the course, but the second edition has new sections that you may find enlightening]
4. 'Seeing Gender,' by Iris Gottlieb (Chronicle Books)-- this is an excellent visual, fun book about gender studies that can help you review and get deeper into the topic. There is also a Japanese version titled "イラストで学ぶジェンダーのはなし みんなと自分を理解するためのガイドブック"

In addition to readings, we will view films and video programs streamed briefly online, many of which are hard to obtain. You will be responsible for logging in properly or come to class to view these in time.

Separate from this, a number of optional readings, films, and other resources will be recommended for students. Some of these materials will be in Japanese and in other languages, accounting for the diversity of the SILS student body.

References:

This course is an open-campus class, cross-listed in Waseda-wide gender studies programs as well as the Politics and Economics department's Conflict Resolution program. It is part of a suite of courses at SILS in the area of gender and cultural studies in Asia and Oceania, which connects to the courses I teach about colonialism, globalization, and gender in the Pacific Islands. It is thus related to those courses, and inspired also by the work of postcolonial and Pacific Islands Studies feminist scholars. I strongly encourage students who have taken my other courses to take this course, or to consider taking other courses taught by me if you take this course, such as:

1. Pacific Perspectives on Empire, War, and Globalization (intermediate 4-credit course scheduled for Fall 2023)
2. The Pacific in the 21st Century World (intermediate 4-credit course scheduled for Fall 2025)
3. Intermediate Seminar (2-credits, scheduled for Spring 2023): Culture in the Middle of Now | Here:

Environment, Gender, Identity and Resistance in the Pacific and Asia
4. Advanced Seminar Program in Culture: One Long Conversation (3-semester course/thesis requires application and special approval/invitation)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:

1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-

You will be evaluated as follows: 20% engagement; 30% (10% each) for three reflective short essays; 20% for your midterm; 30% for your final exam, with opportunities for extra credit announced during the semester.

Engagement (attendance/participation) consists of your "attending" all classes (by watching the on-demand lectures and answering quizzes to prove your attendance), and actively participating in activities and discussions. Additional to this, you will be expected to write three reflective essays throughout the semester based on specific assignments. You will also be given a midterm quiz online and a final test in class.

Note/URL:

This is a very popular course which typically has high enrollment. We usually put a limit of roughly 150 people on the enrollment in order to create a manageable (and safe) learning environment, so please be sure to register early and assertively. Please contact the instructor should you have a strong desire to enroll but were unable to do so.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU31000|01|210CU31000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Culture in Context 4th
Instructor	FIELD, Malcolm
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This interactive lecture-based course seeks to identify what it is people mean when they invoke the term 'culture'. Throughout the course we critique the term 'culture' in different contexts to examine whether it is a defensible position to justify the activities of different actors. To achieve this, we examine our own position, critique it, then develop a defensible stance that defines and understands culture/s. We consider how culture is transmitted, how it evolves, the different values it promotes, whether culture has boundaries, and critique the concepts of gender and nationality in culture. Particular focus is placed upon (1) Identity, through which we consider how culture/s use tools to create and maintain individual and group identity; (2) Cultural Legitimacy, where the ideas of cultural relativism, consumerism (Pop v Mass) are addressed; (3) Language, through which we examine how cultures utilize the media and discourse to reinforce values; (4) Taboo, wherein we will critique real world contemporary examples that may challenge our values, ethics and morality; (5) we reflect on the way our brains process and make sense of the information in the worlds we create, and (6) technologies, through application to contemporary and future societies.

Objectives: By the end of this course students should be able to recognize how the term culture is applied to sustain desired values that may or may not be mythical. As this course blends practical components with theory to demonstrate cultures in context, students should be able to critique personal values and understand how they and the tribes with which they associate process information and identify with the world. Students should be able to demonstrate both theoretical and applied knowledge by the end of the course, which will be evidenced in the final assessment.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Topics to be discussed in this class include
1. Introduction and Course Outline
2. Identity: Who am I? Is it important?
3. Introduction to cultural theory: (which may include identity, representation, high culture, mass culture, pop culture, constitutive theory, critical theory, feminism)
4. Theory continued
5. Cultural legitimacy (relativism, consumerism and globalization)
6. Cultural legitimacy continued
7. Language in Culture
8. Language in Culture (etymology)*
9. Taboo
10. Taboo continued*
11. Viewing the World: Practical Application
12. Cultural imperialism and theories of 'your' culture#
13. Technology and culture (contemporary trends)
14. Conclusions and Evaluation

The order and detailed schedule may change as interest and need arises. Notes will be given in each class for your reference. Weekly access to a computer is a must in this course. No topic will need prior preparation unless stated in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Textbook will be required from Modular Press. It will be online ePub. Information will be given in the first class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: The grading will be based on the results of the following items.
2 papers (one peer-based with presentation in class 40%; one final academic paper 40%)
2 in-class tasks that require peer group work and discussion (20%)

Note/URL: This course is planned to be conducted in-person. However, due to academic commitments, several classes will be held online.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU31000|51|210CU31000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Culture in Context
Instructor	FIELD, Malcolm
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: ※in-person ONLY
This interactive lecture-based course seeks to identify what it is people mean when they invoke the term 'culture'. Throughout, we will critique the term "culture" in different contexts to examine whether it is a defensible position to justify the activities of different actors. To achieve this, we will need to examine our own position, critique it, then develop a defensible stance that defines and understands culture (and cultures). To do this we will consider how culture is transmitted, how it evolves, the different values it promotes, whether culture has boundaries, and critique the concepts of gender and nationality in culture. Particular focus will be placed upon five topics. (1) Identity, through which we consider how culture/s use tools to create and maintain individual and group identity. (2) Cultural Legitimacy, where the ideas of cultural relativism, consumerism (Pop v Mass) are addressed. (3) Language, through which we consider semiotic values and examine how cultures utilize the media to reinforce values. This will then lead us to (4) Taboo, wherein we will critique real world contemporary examples to consider our values, ethics and morality. And (5) we will reflect on the way our brains process and make sense of the information in the worlds we create.

Objectives: By the end of this course you should be able to recognize how the term culture is applied to sustain "values". As this course blends practical components to demonstrate culture in context, you should be able to critique your own values and understand how you process information and identify with the world around you. You will be expected to demonstrate both theoretical and applied knowledge by the end of the course.

before/after course of study: Be prepared to read the textbook before and after classes. Also be prepared to work with another person, and have conversations with other people. Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Topics to be discussed in this class include
1. Introduction and Course Outline
2. Identity: Who am I? Is it important?
3. Culture and cross-cultural discovery: if it is so easy then…?
4. Introduction to cultural theory: (which may include identity, representation, high culture, mass culture, pop culture, constitutive theory, critical theory, feminism)
5. Theory continued
6. Cultural legitimacy (relativism, consumerism and globalization)
7. Cultural legitimacy and the media
8. Language in Culture
9. History in Culture
10. Taboo
11. Taboo continued*
12. Technology and culture (contemporary trends)
13. Technology and culture (contemporary trends)
14. Conclusions and Evaluation and Special
The order and detailed schedule may change as interest and need arises. Notes will be given in each class for your reference. Weekly access to a computer is a must in this course.

Language: English

Textbooks: Culture Cognition aka Culture in Context available and Modular Press

References: Additional readings will be given in class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: The grading will be based on the results of the following items.
Context Task: 40% (video narrative)
Workshop: 20% (applied proficiency to in-class material - 2x10% in class time)
Final Position Paper#: 40% (academic paper)

Note/URL: Paper-based assessment will need to be submitted as explained in class or by a specific prior arrangement has been made with me. Remember, this is a university course and you should seek to "support" your opinions with evidence, unless otherwise stated in class. Please note that the Tasks can only be received as explained in-class and cannot be copied. It is therefore essential you have access to a computer, as much of the information will be delivered via that medium. Constraints on the use of ChatGPT will be outlined in class and on assessment items.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU31100|01|210CU31100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Culture and Law 01
Instructor	RHEE, Maji Christine
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Welcome to Culture and Law course! This is a unique culture cluster course which focuses on advancing students' framework for investigating fundamental questions in culture, language, and law. Class discussion will focus on how cultural values are reflected in language, reasoning, and in legal communication. This course includes students' participation in reading core texts selected for enhancing analytical and logical reasoning from the critical perspective. The course attempts to unveil multi-layered cultural assumptions by identifying cultural particulars and socio-political issues via hypothetical examples and court cases. Readings includes critical cultural theories covering themes related to rights, equality, justice, diversity, and ethical responsibilities. A part of this course integrates Waseda EdX Culture and Law recorded sessions. Please log on to the site and enroll. There is NO fee involved. You do NOT have to pay.There are three sections that you can get access to the link anytime. https://www.edx.org/course/culture-and-law-the-east-asian-perspective.

Objectives: This course is divided into three sections. First, two sections are devoted to learning various cultural theories in relation to private and public law. The remaining sessions focus on the issue analysis. This course is also writing intensive. Upon the completion of the course, students will gain confidence in academic writing in English, issue spotting, and acquiring communication skills for carrying out a coherent argument. The purpose of the course is to help students build strategic thinking skills for conflict resolution. This course is a part of the Campus Asia Program. In order to receive a Campus Asia Program completion certificate, please refer to https://www.waseda.jp/campus-asia. All related course materials will be accessed through each lecture module set in Moodle.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

第1回 Comparing Cultures and Legal Reasoning

We will be exploring ways to compare cultures and learn about different types of reasoning.

第2回 Moral Reasoning and Legal Reasoning

The class will focus on how legal reasoning is different from moral reasoning.

第3回 Critical Legal Theory

Critial legal theory will be discussed along with landmark cases including racial profiling and wrongful convictions.

第4回 Culture and Law as Systems

Systems theory will be discussed in comparison with critical legal theories.

第5回 Semiotics and Law

Semiotics is a study of symbols. The class will explore trademark and copyrights issues in relation to semiotics.

第6回 Confucianism and Law

We will discuss how Confucian notions were reflected in family law and property from the East Asian historial perspective.

第7回 Legal Orientalism

Legal Orientalism is a fairly new notion, and the class will discuss related issues and court cases.

第8回 Cyber Defamation

Cyber defamaion has become prevalent. The class will analyze the issue from different theoretical perspectives.

第9回 Economic Analysis in Law

When a person is injured due to another's wrongful act, how can damages be calculated? Themes related to corporate governance and anti-monopoly law in Japan will be discussed.

第10回 Gender and Law

Legal issues will be analyzed from the gender perspective.

第11回 Cyber Defamation

Works of art and copyrights protection and other related issues will be discussed.

第12回 Aritifical Intelligence and Legal Reasoning

The class will focus on whether robots can act as judges or whether they can engage in doing legal reasoning.

第13回 Student Presentations and Review

All theories covered in class will be reviewed. Students who would like to contribute to their case analysis will make presentations.

第14回 Final Examination

The final examination for this course adopts an open-book format.

Language: Japanese/Englis h

Textbooks: All reading materials can be accessed via Moodle and the library search engines. Optional Reference [Dictionary of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure ENG-JPN-KOR] is available at Seibundo Bookstore 成文堂 at the corner of Cafe 125.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	50	The final examination will be conducted in an open-book format.
Papers:	25	There will be three writing assignments.
Class contribution:	25	Active participation in class discussions is encouraged.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU31100|51|210CU31100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Culture and Law 51
Instructor	RHEE, Maji Christine
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

This is a unique culture cluster course which focuses on advancing students' framework for investigating fundamental questions in culture, language, and law. Class discussion will focus on how cultural values are reflected in language, reasoning, and in legal communication. This course includes students' participation in reading core texts selected for enhancing analytical and logical reasoning from the critical perspective. Readings includes critical cultural theories covering themes related to rights, coercion, equality, justice, diversity, and ethical responsibilities.

The course is divided into three sections. First two sections are devoted to learning various cultural theories in relation to private and public law. The remaining weeks focus on the issue analysis. Students will select issues and will engage in interactive discussions. This course is also writing intensive. Upon the completion of the course, students will gain confidence in academic writing in English, issue spotting, and will acquire communication skills for carrying out a coherent argument.

Objectives: The purpose of the course is to help students build strategic thinking skills for conflict resolution. The course attempts to unveil multi-layered cultural assumptions by identifying cultural particulars and socio-political issues via hypothetical examples and court cases.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Week 1 Cultural Theories of Rights and Legal Reasoning
Week 2 Culture, Language, Law
Week 3 Research Resources – Westlaw Lexis Use of Search Engines
Week 4 Culture and Anti-formalism – Law as Justice
Week 5 Basic Assumptions in Pragmatism – Critical Legal Theory
Week 6 Confucianism and Law
Week 7 Wrongdoings and Crimes
Week 8 Cyber Defamation
Week 10 Systems Theory and Law
Week 11 Gender and Law
Week 12 Issue I – AI, Post-human World Cyborgs and Design Babies
Week 13 Issue II – Environmental Law and Litigation in Japan
Week 14 Final Examination

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: Textbook Culture and Law is available at 成文堂 near the Waseda Front Gate at the corner of Cafe 125. Optional: A Japanese-English-Korean Dictionary of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure (2024) is available for students who want to familiarize themselves with terminology.

References: Weekly reading and assignments will be available via Web Portal.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-
In-class writing 20%
Class Attendance 20%
Writing Project 20%
Final Exam 40%

Note/URL:　国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU33000|01|210CU33000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Anthropology of Religion 01
Instructor	BERNARD, Rosemarie
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Fri.3@02:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	;ampus] Hybrid (over 50% of classes on-ca
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Anthropology of Religion

Course Outline: This course introduces the subjects of religion, ritual, and their secular critiques from an anthropological perspective. History of theory and concepts will be studied along a range of ethnographic topics (magic, science, religion and witchcraft; religion and politics, etc). Japan-related subjects will figure occasionally as discussion topics and in possible fieldtrips to sites of religious significance in the Tokyo area. A background introductory course in sociocultural anthropology is welcome but not required.

Objectives: (1) To learn the method and theory of Social Anthropology, (2) to acquire a humanist social scientific perspective on the subjects of religion and ritual, (3) to learn to write short essays in an anthropological style.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

第1回:
授業計画タイトル01-02
Vol. 1 What is the Anthropology of Religion?
授業計画内容01-02:
19th century sources

第2回:
授業計画タイトル03-04
Vol. 2 Religion and Modernization: Durkheim and Weber
授業計画内容03-04
Religion as Culture, Religion as History: Geertz and Asad

第3回:
授業計画タイトル05-06
Vol. 3.Religious Symbolism
授業計画内容05-06
Religious Symbolism in Japan

第4回:
授業計画タイトル07-08
Vol. 4 Structure and Interpretation
授業計画内容07-08
Transgression and Purification

第5回:
授業計画タイトル09-10
Vol. 5 Religious Action
授業計画内容09-10
Personal Symbols and Religious Experience

第6回:
授業計画タイトル11-12
Vol. 6 Religion, Ritual and Subjectivity
授業計画内容11-12
Shugendo

第7回:
授業計画タイトル13-14Vol. 7 Midterm Examination and Giving Feedback on the Midterm Exam
授業計画内容13-14

第8回 :
授業計画タイトル15-16

Vol. 8 Ritual and Power: Performance
授業計画内容15-16
Ritual and Power: Performance and History at Ise Jingû

第9回:
授業計画タイトル17-18
Vol. 9 Shinto and Yasukuni Shrine in the Postwar Period
授業計画内容17-18
Film: Yasukuni

第10回:
授業計画タイトル19-20
Vol.10 Religion, Power and Modernity
授業計画内容19-20
Power, Witchcraft Accusation and Women's Rights

第11回:
授業計画タイトル21-22
Vol.11 Religion, State and Public Sphere
授業計画内容21-22
Religion, Public Sphere,and Ethics

第12回:
授業計画タイトル23-24
Vol.12 Religion, Bodily Discipline and Healing/Pilgrimage
授業計画内容23-24
Film: Between Two Worlds: A Japanese Pilgrimage

第13回:
授業計画タイトル25-26
Vol.13 Course Review and In-Class film showing and essay writing (as first part of Final Exam)
授業計画内容25-26

第14回:
授業計画タイトル27-28
Vol.14 Final Examination (online)
授業計画内容27-28
Take-home Final Examination and discussion of Examination

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Michael Lambek, A Reader in the Anthropology of Religion (2008), 2nd edition. New York: Blackwell Publishing. ISBN 9781405136150 As this textbook tends to run out of stock early at the COOP bookstore, please make ceartain to get a copy early on into the course. Sometimes the book is declared OUT-OF-PRINT. The book may also be available online. If you plan on taking this course, and wish to obtain the textbook with certainty, please order it well in advance, either from the publisher or from Amazon.com. If you are quite certain that you wish to take this course for credit, please order your version of the textbook well in advance. Since the book is very voluminous, you might be interested in the e-book version.
References:	Talal Asad, Genealogies of Religion; Saba Mahmood, Politics of Piety; Ken George, Picturing Islam; Paula Arai, Bringing Zen Home; Akiko Takenaka, Yasukuni Shrine: History, Memory and Japan's Unending Postwar; Takashi Fujitani, Splendid Monarchy; Karen Smyers, The Fox and the Jewel. Mark R. Mullins, Yasukuni Fundamentalism
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	75	25% Midterm Exam (May 26). Essay and short question answers; format as a take-home exam with online submission. 50% Final Exam (late July). Essays, multiple choice, and short answer questions; format as (a) in-class film showing with in-class essay on July 15); and (b) a take-home exam with online submission the following week.
Class contribution:	25	25% Active contribution to class discussion and debates, including group presentations of research projects (details TBA).
Note/URL:	This class meets for 2 KOMA per week according to the following formats: (1) generally class sessions will take place in the classroom in person but we may have to have one or two Zoom classes.

(2) During the week before the start of Golden week, we will film showings. Please see the Moodle schedule for details.
(3) one session will be pre-recorded as On-Demand Lectures accompanied by Video assignments to be watched and used as material for the midterm exam exercise.
(4) independent and self-funded individual or group studies of religious or ritual activity in the Tokyo region, leading to presentations by students to the whole of the class, will take place in the classroom in early July.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU33300|01|210CU33300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Python Programming for Digital Humanities 01
Instructor	OHMAN, Emily
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Thur.2@02:othersOn demand	Class Modality Categories	:ampus] Hybrid (over 50% of classes on-cai
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: On Demand + F2FOn this course students will learn Python programming from a digital humanities perspective. We will start with the very basics using interactive notebooks that require no installation. First we will cover the basics of programming such as data types, loops, and variables. Later we explore and solve language-based and digital humanities problems using our new programming skills and natural language processing (NLP) tools. We will use Python 3 on this course.
There are two weekly sessions, the first is on-demand, the second is live-streamed. Students are expected to "attend" both. The first class of the week (x.1) is typically on-demand and the second (x.2) is F2F (attendance required).

Objectives: After successful completion of this course, students will be able to ・Read, write, and execute simple code
・Troubleshoot their code
・Understand preprocessing steps of data
・Choose the correct tool for the problem at hand
・Use programming to solve language data issues

before/after course of study: This course has no prerequisites
Each week you are expected to complete small programming assignments on your own time (15-60 minutes/week depending on your experience level).

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Week 1.1 Introduction to Python and Programming for digital humanities
Introduction to notebooks, data types, and variables in Python. Reading and executing code.
Week 1.2 Homework answers and tutorial
Introduction to notebooks, data types, and variables in Python. Reading and executing code.
Week 2.1 Strings (text)
Working with strings in Python
Week 2.2 Homework answers and tutorial
Working with strings in Python
Week 3.1 Lists, tuples, and sets
We learn about lists and how they function. We also look at how they differ from tuples and sets.
Week 3.2 Homework answers and tutorial
We learn about lists and how they function. We also look at how they differ from tuples and sets.
Week 4.1 Loops
We focus on for loops and iterating over lists, but also look at while loops
Week 4.2 Homework answers and tutorial
We focus on for loops and iterating over lists, but also look at while loops
Week 5.1 For loops with conditional statements
Python conditionals: if,elif,else with pass, continue, break
Week 5.2 Homework answers and tutorial
Python conditionals: if,elif,else with pass, continue, break
Week 6.1 Dictionaries, exceptions and imports
We introduce dictionaries and touch upon exceptions and importing libraries

Week 6.2 Homework answers and tutorial
We introduce dictionaries and touch upon exceptions and importing libraries
Week 7.1 List comprehension
We learn list comprehension (and some dictionary comprehension too)
Week 7.2 Homework answers and tutorial
We learn list comprehension (and some dictionary comprehension too)
Week 8.1 Functions (and midterm)
We learn how to use functions
Week 8.2 Midterm exam homework
We go through the midterm exam (which includes functions so there's no specific function homework)
Week 9.1 Regular expressions I
The start of regular expressions
Week 9.2 Homework answers and tutorial
The basics of regex
Week 10.1 Regular expressions II
We focus on regex with Python
Week 10.2 Homework answers and tutorial
We focus on regex with Python
Week 11.1 Text files
How to open, use, and manipulate text files with Python.
Week 11.2 Homework answers and tutorial
How to open, use, and manipulate text files with Python.
Week 12.1 Tabular data and csv files in Python
We learn how to open, read, and save csv files. We also do a brief introduction of pandas dataframes.
Week 12.2 Homework answers and tutorial
The basics of csv files with Python
Week 13.1 NLP I
What is natural language processing and how can it be useful to you? We look at NLTK and spaCy basics.
Week 13.2 Homework answers and tutorial
We look at NLTK and spaCy basics.
Week 14.1 NLP II
Solving practical, real-world issues with NLP
Week 14.2 Homework answers and tutorial
Solving practical, real-world issues with NLP

Language:	English
Textbooks:	E. Ohman. 2024. Introduction to Text Analytics: A Guide for Digital Humanities & Social Sciences. Sage Publications.
References:	Bird, S., Klein, E. and Loper, E., 2009. Natural language processing with Python: analyzing text with the natural language toolkit. ″ O'Reilly Media, Inc.″. (available on https://www.nltk.org/book/)
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	80	Final exam (60%) Midterm exam (20%)
Class contribution:	20	Homework assignments evaluated during tutorial sessions (20%)

Note/URL: On-demand + F2F
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU33500|01|210CU33500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	The German-Speaking Countries: Language and Society 01
Instructor	SCHARLOTH, Joachim
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: The German-Speaking Countries: Language and Society (for students of German)

Course Outline: This course examines the interrelations between language and society in the German-speaking countries, focusing on how language patterns and language attitudes both reflect and reshape social structure and cultural institutions. We will investigate this nexus from a variety of perspectives, engaging with literature drawn from cultural sociology, political science, linguistic anthropology, and sociolinguistics. Students will be introduced to key theoretical concepts to the scientific study of language and society and encouraged to assess critically research carried out in the German-speaking countries.

A selection of core features of the contemporary societies and cultures in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland -- lifestyles, identities, political cultures, migration, and xenophobia among others -- will be paired with research into related linguistic phenomena such as language ideologies, politeness, pluricentricity, political framing, and multilingualism.

The course aims not only to provide insights into the interrelation of culture, society and language, but also to improve the language skills of the participants. Although mainly taught in English, as a Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) course, we will get acquainted with basic scientific concepts in German and become familiar with the structures of German as a language of science. The course is therefore ideal for students planning to study abroad in Germany. However, students who are interested in the German-speaking countries and want to improve their language skills are also welcome.

Objectives: On successful completion of this course students should:
- be able to understand core scientific terminology in German in the field of the sociology of language
- be familiar with frequent grammatical structures in German scientific texts
- be familiar with various research methods and their limits
- be able to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of relevant theories conceptualizing the interface of language and society
- be familiar with some major themes in contemporary social, political and cultural aspects of the German speaking countries

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

第1回Introduction

Introduction

第2回Language and Symbolic Power

Bourdieu, Pierre (1991): Language and Symbolic Power, trans. Gino Raymond and Matthew Adamson,Cambridge: Polity Press, pp. 66-89.

第3回From Social Stratification to Lifestyles: Milieus and Sociolects

- Wagner, Tanita da Silva / Bug, Peter (2015): Actual Consumer Lifestyle Segmentations - a European Perspective. Hochschule Reutlingen.- Linke, Knut (2017): Analysis of Socio-SpatialDifferences in Germany for the Definition of Online Milieus. Journal ofInternational Business Research and Marketing, Volume 2, Issue 6, pp. 37-59,doi:10.18775/jibrm.1849-8558.2015.26.3005

第4回German Dialects & Regional Languages

Stevenson, Patrick (1997): The German-speaking World: A Practical Introduction to SociolinguisticIssues. Taylor & Francis Routledge. pp. 61-81

第5回The Development of the Bürgertum (bourgeoisie) and Standard Language Ideology

Milroy, James (2007): The Ideology of the Standard Language. In: Llamas, Carmen / Mullany, Louise /Stockwell, Peter (eds.): The Routledge Companion to Sociolinguistics. London:Routledge. pp. 133-139.

第6回Standard German as a Pluricentric Language and Language Attitudes in Non-dominating Centers (A

Muhr, Rudolf (2004): Language Attitudes and language conceptions in non-dominating varieties ofpluricentric languages. In: Trans, 15, The Unifying Aspects of Cultures.Online: https://www.inst.at/trans/15Nr/06_1/muhr15.htm

第7回Identity and Politeness in Discourse: Germany and Switzerland

Locher, Miriam A. /Luginbühl, Martin (2019): Discussions on Swiss and German Politeness in OnlineSources. In: Ogiermann, Eva / Blitvich, Pilar / Garcés-Conejos (eds): From Speech Acts to Lay Understandingsof Politeness: Multilingual and Multicultural Perspectives. Cambridge: CUP, pp.250-279.

第8回Political Systems and Political Cultures in Switzerland

Bochsler, Daniel / Hänggli, Regula / Häusermann, Silja (2015): Introduction: Consensus Lost? Disenchanted Democracy in Switzerland. In: SwissPolitical Science Review, Volume 21, Issue 4, Special Issue: "Consensus lost?Disenchanted Democracy in Switzerland", pp. 475-490.(https://doi.org/10.1111/spsr.12191)

第9回Linguistic Framing and Controversial Concepts in the History of the Federal Republic of Germany

Felder, Ekkehard (2017): Legal Text and Pragmatics: Semantic Battles or the Power of theDeclarative in Specialized Discourse. In: Pragmatics and Law: Practical andTheoretical Perspectives. Edited by Francesca Poggi and Alessandro Capone.Berlin u.a.: Springer Verlag (Perspectives in Philosophy, Pragmatics &Psychology. Vol 10), pp. 165-192. here: 173-182

第10回Far Right Politics and the Language of the Nazis

Klemperer, Victor (2013): The Language of the Third Reich. LTI – Lingua Tertii Imperii. APhilologist's Notebook. Translated by Martin Brady. London, New York:Bloomsbury Academic. (extract)

第11回Germany as a Post-migrant Society

Foroutan, Naika (2019): The Post-migrant Paradigm. In: Bock, Jan-Jonathan / Macdonald, Sharon(eds.): Refugees Welcome?: Difference and Diversity in a Changing Germany. NewYork, Oxford: Berghahn, pp. 121-142.

第12回Multilingualism in Austria, Germany, and Switzerland

Adler, Astrid / Beyer, Rahel (2018): Languages and language policies in Germany. In: GerhardStickel (ed.): National language institutions and national languages.Contributions to the EFNIL Conference 2017 in Mannheim. Budapest: ResearchInstitute for Linguistics, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, pp. 221-242.

第13回German Multiethnolects

Freywald, Ulrike / Mayr, Katharina / Özçelik, Tiner / Wiese, Heike (2011): Kiezdeutsch as amultiethnolect. In: Kern, Friederike & Selting, Margret (eds.): EthnicStyles of Speaking in European Metropolitan Areas. Amsterdam: John Benjamins,pp. 45-73.

第14回Xenophobia and Linguistic Purism in Germany

Pfalzgraf, Heiko (2009): Linguistic Purism in the History of German. In: Horan, Geraldine /Langer, Nils / Watts, Sheila (eds): Landmarks in the History of the German Language.Frankfurt am Main et. al.: Peter Lang, pp. 137-168.

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Reading material will be provided during the seminar.

References: Stevenson, Patrick / Horner, Kristine / Langer, Nils / Reershemius, Gertrud (2017): The German-Speaking World. A Practical Introduction to Sociolinguistic Issues. London: Routledge.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Final grades will be calculated according to the following categories:
Active participation and presentation: 50%; Final essay: 50%

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU33900|51|210CU33900[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Academic Reading in Korean: Selected Topics in Contemporary Korea 51
Instructor	LEE, Bong Kyu
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed to explore various social and cultural issues in Korea through reading and discussing Korean-language books and articles published in contemporary Korea on a variety of topics and fields, and to improve Korean language skills at the academic level. As in other countries, some articles and books from Korea are translated from other languages, so the course also includes this, and it includes essays, popular and academic texts, and testimonies as well. All course materials are in Korean.

Objectives: This course is designed to provide undergraduate students with a broad overview of various central problems in the humanities in Korea. It aims to acquaint students with the significance and methodology of various disciplines in the humanities. The goal of this course is to provide students with interdisciplinary learning opportunities through collaborative presentations and discussions of assigned books and texts, and to promote multicultural and multilateral learning.

before/after course of study: Preliminary knowledge of Korean history and society is desirable but not essential for this course. Students should be able to approach each class topic with in-depth analysis. In addition, students should have attained advanced or upper-intermediate proficiency in speaking, writing, listening, and reading Korean in order to participate in class and complete the required assignments.
Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 60 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: The final syllabus and articles for Review Paper will be announced at the first session of the course.

Week 1. Introduction
Week 2. Contemporary Korean History by Novel: 정지아, 아버지의 해방일지 (창비 2022)
Week 3. Contemporary Korean History by Novel: 정지아, 아버지의 해방일지 (창비 2022)
Week 4. Metropolitan city, Seoul with History and Literature: 송은영 서울탄생기 (푸른역사 2018)
Week 5. Metropolitan city, Seoul with History and Literature: 송은영 서울탄생기 (푸른역사 2018)
Week 6. Psychological, Intellectual Understanding of 20th Century: 엘리 자레츠키, 권오룡 역, 프로이트와 20세기 (문학과 지성사 2022) (changeable)
Week 7. Psychological, Intellectual Understanding of 20th Century: 엘리 자레츠키, 권오룡 역, 프로이트와 20세기 (문학과 지성사 2022) (changeable)
Week 8. Minority in Korea: 김대현, 세상과 은둔 사이 (오월의 봄 2021)
Week 9. Minority in Korea: 장애와 현대 한국사회 (Articles, TBA)
Week 10. Social Disaster and Korea: 4.16 구술증언록, 그날을 말하다 (한울 2020) (1)
Week 11. Social Disaster and Korea: 4.16 구술증언록, 그날을 말하다 (한울 2020) (2)
Week 12. Historical Context of Korean Modernity: 박정희 모더니즘: 유신에서 선데이서울까지 (천년의 상상, 2015) 또는 수강생 희망도서
Week 13. Historical Context of Korean Modernity: 박정희 모더니즘: 유신에서 선데이서울까지 (천년의 상상, 2015) 또는 수강생 희망도서
Week 14. Conclusion: Toward a better understanding of contemporary Korea

Language: Korean

Textbooks: materials will be provided in the class

References: Kim, A-ram, Newly Writing Korean Contemporary History through Oral History, Global Korean History Courses, Institute for Global Korean Studies, Yonsei University, 2024
(https://igks.yonsei.ac.kr/igks_en/2_K_Ap/lecture02.do)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers: 40 Final Essay (40%): Students will evaluate one or more articles from their own perspective on the topic. 1.5-line spacing, 12-point font, 3,000-3,500 words (in English) or 6,500-7,000 characters (in Korean) in length (A bibliography is essential and not included in the word count).

Class contribution:	40	.Weekly Reading Response Papers (30%): All participants of the class must upload 80-100 words for each of the 1-2 reading questions every week. How to submit the weekly assignments will be announced in the first class. (If you submit the responses without reading the materials, your submission may not be counted.) Participation (10%): Questions, comments, and other contributions to class discussion will be graded.
Others:	20	Individual Presentation (20%): Each participant will present during one of the class sessions and provide supplementary slides and/or visual materials, e.g., Prezi, Power Point, etc. Primary evaluation criteria are organization, content, delivery, and punctuality.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU34000|01|210CU34000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- International Relations in the 20th Century: A Korean Perspective 01
Instructor	LEE, Bong Kyu
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is a Content and Language Integrated Learning course (CLIL) in English and Korean to explore drastic changes and various figures' lives, events and movements from late Joseon, colonial Korea to divided Korea with regional, global, and critical perspectives. Modern and contemporary Korea has been shaped not by temporal and spatial disconnections, but by internal and international relations with its surroundings. Rather than approaching various cases and events in modern/contemporary Korean history solely from an accumulation of knowledge, this lecture is preferred to introduce and discuss various historical perspectives and ideas. This course is based on history textbook written by East Asian scholars with the aim of overcoming historical conflicts in East Asia and promoting integration and peace. Most of the reading material is in English, with a few exceptions.

Objectives: The purpose of this course is both to improve students' language skills to communicate academic ideas in Korean and to analyze the topic of international relations regarding East Asia. The instructor leads the students comprehending the topics, approaches, and contentions with critical perspective. Finally, students can improve their ability to express their creative opinions on each topic of the class in Korean.

before/after course of study: Preliminary knowledge of Korean history and society is not essential to take this course. However, students should have the capability to approach each class topic with in-depth analysis. Intermediate (or lower) level of Korean language ability is required to attend a lecture and participate in a discussion.
Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 60 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Week #1: Introduction

Week #2: Korean-Japanese Treaty of 1876, Changing International Relations in East Asia, and Modern Reform Movement (1)
Chap. 1 "The Impact of the West and the Destabilization of the Traditional Order in East Asia"

Week #3: Modern Reform Movement (2), Russo-Japanese War and Forced Annexation of Korea
Chap. 2 "The First Sino-Japanese War and the Dissolution of the Traditional Order in East Asia" ; Chap. 3 "The Russo-Japanese War and the Struggle for Hegemony in East Asia"

Week #4: Japan's Colonial Policy and Liberation Movement in East Asia
Chap. 4 "The First World War and the Washington System"

Week #5: Liberation Movement (2), War Mobilization and Violence
Chap. 5 "East Asia and Japan's War of Aggression"

Week #6: Everyday Life in Colonial Korea, and'Colonial Modernity'
Shin, Ki-wook and Michael Robinson eds., Colonial Modernity in Korea, Harvard University Asia Center, 1999

Week #7: The Movement for New Government establishment, and the Formation of the Divided Korea Regime
Chap. 6 "The Formation of the Cold War System and its Influence on East Asia"
Park, Tae Gyun, Chap. 1, An Ally and Empire: Two Myths of South Korea-United States Relations, 1945-1980, The Academy of Korean Studies Press, 2012.

Week #8: Global Cold War and Korean War (1)
Chap. 6 "The Formation of the Cold War System and its Influence on East Asia"
M. Robinson, "Liberation, Civil War, and Division," Korea's Twentieth-Century Odyssey: A Short History,Univ. of Hawaii Press, 2007, pp.111-120
Hajimu MASUDA, "The Cold War as Social Mechanism: Toward an Analysis of Cold War Asia, not of the Cold War in Asia," IIAS Newsletter 72 (October 2015).

Week #9: Korean War (2), the Treaty of Peace with Japan
Myung-lim Park, "The Internationalization of the Cold War in Korea: Entangling the Domestic Politics with the Global Cold War in 1946," International Journal of Korean History 2, December 2001.
(TBA regarding the Treaty of Peace with Japan)

Week #10: Changing Regional Order of East Asia and North Korea

Wada Haruki, Chap. 7 (International Relations of North Korea), North Korea (북조선 Kita Chousen), Dolbegae Publishing Co., 2002 (in Korean/Japanese)
Tessa Morris-Suzuki, Exodus to North Korea Revisited:Japan, North Korea, and the ICRC in the "Repatriation" of Ethnic Koreans from Japan, The Asia Pacific Journal (Japan Focus), Vol. 9 (Issue 22, No. 2),2011
Movie Clip "Dear Pyongyang"

Week #11: 'Development Dictatorship' in the 1960s Korea
Kim, Hyung-A, "State Building: The Military Junta's Path to Modernity through Administrative Reforms," Byung-Kook Kim and Ezra F. Vogel eds., The Park Chung Hee era : the transformation of South Korea, Harvard Univ. Press, 2011
Ezra F. Vogel, "Nation Rebuilders: Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, Lee Kuan Yew, Deng Xiaoping, and Park Chung Hee," Byung-Kook Kimand Ezra F. Vogel eds., The Park Chung Hee era : the transformation of South Korea, Harvard Univ. Press, 2011

Week #12: Transformations in the Cold War System and International Institutions in East Asia
Chap. 7 "Transformations in the Cold War System in East Asia"
Lee, Bong-Kyu, Ambiguous Way to Human Rights for Workers: 1960s South Korea and the International Labour Organization (ILO), Critical Review of History 141, The Institute for Korean Historical Studies, 2022 (in Korean)

Week #13: Transnational Civil Movement for Democracy
Gavan McCormack, "The Park Chung Hee Era and the Genesis of Trans-Border Civil Society in East Asia," Hyung-A Kim and Clark W. Sorensen eds., Reassessing the Park Chung Hee Era, 1961-1979: Development, Political Thought, Democracy, and Cultural Influence, Center for Korea Studies, University of Washington, 2011

Week #14: Conclusion
Gregg Brazinsky, Nation Building in South Korea:Koreans, Americans, and the Making of a Democracy, The University of North Carolina Press, 2007. Chapter 8 and Conclusion.

Language:	English/Korean
Textbooks:	Trilateral China-Japan-Korea History Textbook Editorial Committee ed., A New Modern History of East Asia, V&R unipress, 2018
References:	, Institute for Global Korean Studies, Yonsei University, 2023-2025 (https://igks.kr/en/)
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	40	Final Essay (40%): Students will evaluate one or more articles from their own perspective on the topic. 1.5-line spacing, 12-point font, 3,000-3,500 words (in English) or 6,000-6,500 characters (in Korean) in length (A bibliography is essential and not included in the word count).
Class contribution:	40	Weekly Reading Response Papers (30%): All participants of the class must upload 80-100 words for each of the 1-2 reading questions in the specified week. How to submit the weekly assignments will be announced in the first class. (If you submit the responses without reading the materials, your submission may not be counted.) Participation (10%): Questions, comments, attendance, and other contributions to class discussion will be graded.
Others:	20	Individual Presentation (20%): Each participant will present during one of the class sessions and provide supplementary slides and/or visual materials, e.g., Prezi, Power Point, etc. Primary evaluation criteria are organization, content, delivery, and punctuality.

Note/URL: The final syllabus will be announced in the first class session and may change depending on the number of students, etc.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU34100|01|210CU34100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Public and Citizen Participation in French Climate Change Debates 01
Instructor	SALA, Adrienne Yumiko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course, a Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) program, is conducted in French and English. It aims to deepen students' understanding of the French language and provide insights into key aspects of French culture and politics. Emphasizing the interconnection between language and content, the course engages students in discussions about the role of public debate in French political processes. Students will analyze French audiovisual and written materials to examine the institutionalization of public debates, focusing on current social and environmental issues like climate change and policy development. The course includes interactive components such as role-playing games to improve public speaking and writing skills. It is designed for students with an intermediate French proficiency (B1-B2) and will be delivered in both French and English, using French instructional materials. This course is particularly beneficial for those preparing for a study-abroad experience in a French-speaking country.

Objectives: The main objectives of this course are to enable students to:

Enhance understanding and reading proficiency in the French language.

Develop a comprehensive knowledge of contemporary French culture and politics.

Improve public speaking and writing skills, utilizing role-playing games and presentations.

Strengthen French language proficiency through active participation in group discussions.

Acquire insights into the role of public debates in French politics and their contemporary applications.

before/after course of study: Read the materials uploaded on Moodle to prepare class and oral presentations.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

第1回 General Introduction to French Language Learning
Providing an overview of the course resources and objectives.
第2回 Introduction to the role of public debate in French political processes
Introduction to the Public Debate National Commission (Commission Nationale du débat public)
第3回 Introduction to the Grand National Debate (le Grand débat national) (I)
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第4回 Introduction to the Grand National Debate (le Grand débat national) (II)
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第5回 Introduction to the Citizen's Convention on Climate (La Convention citoyenne pour le climat) (I)
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第6回 Exploring the Citizen's Convention on Climate (La Convention citoyenne pour le climat) (II)
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第7回 Analyzing the Citizen's Convention on Climate (La Convention citoyenne pour le climat) (III)
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第8回 Mid-Term Examination
Oral presentations and discussionComments and feedback

第9回 Introduction to the French "Environmental Democracy" and the role of public debate
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第10回 Exploring public debates related to wind farms (I)
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第11回 Analyzing public debates related to wind farms (II)
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第12回 Exploring public debate related to the "Montagne d'Or" project (I)
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第13回 Analyzing public debate related to the "Montagne d'Or" project (II)
Discussions based on reading and audio materials
第14回 Final Examination
Students' final oral presentation and discussionComments and feedback

Language: English/French

Textbooks: Sandrine RUI, ≪ Démocratie participative ≫, in CASILLO I. avec BARBIER R., BLONDIAUX L., CHATEAURAYNAUDF., FOURNIAU J.-M., LEFEBVRE R., NEVEU C. et SALLES D. (dir.), Dictionnaire critique et interdisciplinaire de la participation, Paris, GIS Démocratie et Participation, 2013, ISSN : 2268-5863.

Nils Hertting and Clarissa Kugelberg (eds). Local Participatory Governance and Representative Democracy. Institutional Dilemmas in European Cities. Routlegde, 2018.

Yves Sintomer, Anja Röcke, Carsten Herzberg (eds). Participatory Budgeting in Europe. Democracy and public governance. Routledge, 2016.

References: Simon Lambek, "The Constitutive Power of Public Debate", Canadian Journal of Political Science, 1-18, 2024.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	40	Mid-term and Final Examination: Oral presentations, academic presentation skills, quality and originality of content, understanding of topics and issues discussed in class.
Papers:	30	Final Essay: Based on the oral presentation, evaluated on the structure of the paper, selection of references, analytical approach, critical analysis, incorporation of feedback provided in class, etc.
Class contribution:	30	Active participation in class: Answering questions, participation in group and class discussions, contributing relevant questions and comments). Attendance: Regular presence in class is required.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU34400|01|210CU34400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Materialities of Communication Media 01
Instructor	NISHIMURA, Keiko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: What is material about communication and media? While these two concepts seem to be referring to immaterial symbolic exchange, what enables communication and media are constructed material objects and artifacts. This course focuses on the materiality of communication and media technologies. We situate this materiality within historical contexts and definitions of history themselves bound up within the social diffusion of different media forms. We understand the study of the materiality of communication/media technology as a form of critical practice, without which a robust understanding of the relationships between and among gender and technologies, labor and technologies,mediation and mobility, ways that space is conceived, produced, and maintained would not be possible in communication or media studies.@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:204;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536858881 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Yu Mincho";panose-1:2 2 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0;mso-font-alt:游明朝;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-2147482905 717749503 18 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@Yu Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-2147482905 717749503 18 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0in;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Calibri",sans-serif;mso-ascii-font-family:Calibri;mso-ascii-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-hansi-font-family:Calibri;mso-hansi-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-bidi-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-bidi-theme-font:minor-bidi;mso-fareast-language:JA;}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-family:"Calibri",sans-serif;mso-ascii-font-family:Calibri;mso-ascii-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-hansi-font-family:Calibri;mso-hansi-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-bidi-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-bidi-theme-font:minor-bidi;mso-font-kerning:0pt;mso-ligatures:none;mso-fareast-language:JA;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}

Objectives: -Understand a set of influential theories within media, communication, and cultural studies
-Read texts within these fields and reflect on their arguments
-Reflect on the materialities of algorithmic media such as the Internet from a critical and historicizing perspective
-Perform analytical thinking (within theoretical, abstract categories) as well as synthetic, integrative thinking (relating theories to concrete cases and applying theoretical categories responsibly)
-Reflect on your own media environment and its material construction
-Make concise, convincing arguments in discussions.

before/after course of study: Before the scheduled class period, read the assigned reading thoroughly. Take notes of unfamiliar concepts, terms, or sections, formulate questions, and bring them to class. Preparation is expected to take 90–120 minutes. After the class, review the lecture, reading, and discussion to prepare for the quiz and complete the worksheet. The review is expected to take 120–150 minutes. Preparation for Show & Tell involves your own research and writing, which is expected to take 120–150 minutes. Fieldwork Notes assignment is expected to take 60–90 minutes of preparation and 90–120 minutes of writing up.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule

Part I: Introduction
1. Introduction
2. TheMateriality of Communication and Media. Read Bollmer “Introduction: ThinkingAbout (and in) the Materiality of Media” From Materialist Media Theory (2019) pp.1–19.

Part II: Bodies and Labor
3. Computersand Our Body. Read Nooney “How the Personal Computer Broke the Human Body”article on Vice.com (25 pages). Show & Tell. Quiz 1
4. GhostWork. Read Gray & Suri “Introduction” from Ghost Work (2019) pp.ix–xxxi. Show & Tell.
5. BullshitJobs. Read Graeber “What Is a Bullshit Job?” from Bullshit Jobs: A Theory(2018) pp.1–26.Quiz 2.
6. MidtermReview & Exam.

Part III: Objects
7. FieldworkDay – Fieldwork Notes Assignment. (Nishimura at conference)
8. FieldworkDebrief & Discussion.

9. PlannedObsolescence. Read Boradkar. “Planned Obsolescence: Unsustainable Consumption,”in Designing Things: A CriticalIntroduction to the Culture of Objects (2010) pp.179–210. Show & Tell.
10. Repair.Read Jackson “Rethinking Repair” from Gillespie et al. eds. Media Technologies: Essays on Communication,Materiality, and Society pp.221–239. Show & Tell. Quiz 3

Part IV: Spaces
11. MobileMedia Objects. Read Okabe & Ito “Keitai in public transportation” from Personal, Portable, Pedestrian (2005)pp.205–207. Show & Tell.
12. Location-AwareTechnology. Read deSouza e Silva & Frith “Location-aware technologies: control and privacy inhybrid space” in Communication Matters(2012) (11 pages). Show & Tell. Quiz 413. Technosocialsituations. Read Nishimura “Surechigaisociality: location-aware technology on the Yamanote line” (2018) pp. 240–256.
14. FinalReview & Exam.@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:204;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536858881 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Yu Mincho";panose-1:2 2 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0;mso-font-alt:游明朝;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-2147482905 717749503 18 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@Yu Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-2147482905 717749503 18 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0in;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Calibri",sans-serif;mso-ascii-font-family:Calibri;mso-ascii-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-hansi-font-family:Calibri;mso-hansi-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-bidi-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-bidi-theme-font:minor-bidi;mso-fareast-language:JA;}p.MsoListParagraph, li.MsoListParagraph, div.MsoListParagraph{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-fareast-language:JA;}p.MsoListParagraphCxSpFirst, li.MsoListParagraphCxSpFirst, div.MsoListParagraphCxSpFirst{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-type:export-only;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-fareast-language:JA;}p.MsoListParagraphCxSpMiddle, li.MsoListParagraphCxSpMiddle, div.MsoListParagraphCxSpMiddle{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-type:export-only;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-fareast-language:JA;}p.MsoListParagraphCxSpLast, li.MsoListParagraphCxSpLast, div.MsoListParagraphCxSpLast{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-type:export-only;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-fareast-language:JA;}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-family:"Calibri",sans-serif;mso-ascii-font-family:Calibri;mso-ascii-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-hansi-font-family:Calibri;mso-hansi-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-bidi-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-bidi-theme-font:minor-bidi;mso-font-kerning:0pt;mso-ligatures:none;mso-fareast-language:JA;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}ol{margin-bottom:0in;}ul{margin-bottom:0in;}

Language: English

Textbooks: There is no required textbook for this course. Assigned readings will become available as PDF documents and by other means specified by the instructor.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free-
1.READ THIS SYLLABUS. Read/watch all the assigned materials (mandatory)
2.Active Participation15
3.Quizzes20
4.Show & Tell15
5.Fieldwork Notes15
6.Midterm Exam 15
7.Final Exam20

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU34500|01|210CU34500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Media and Popular Culture 01
Instructor	NISHIMURA, Keiko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Representation and Imagination of Technology in Japan

Course Outline: Thiscourse approaches media and popular culture as a dynamic field of production,consumption, and contestation. After an initial phase of understanding forms ofpopular culture, the semester will focus primarily on case studies from Japan,along with some comparative examples. We will learn to examine historical andcontemporary meaning-making processes in context. Lectures will expose studentsto academic vocabulary and approaches and provide tools to examine popularculture and media. Students will bring personal experiences and observations tobear on class discussions and presentations. There will also be in-classscreenings. By the end of the term, students will be able to think cross-culturally,critically, and collaboratively about not only media and popular culture butalso everyday life and the world in which we live.

Objectives: ·Think cross-culturally, critically, and collaboratively about media and popular culture in specific and changing sociocultural contexts.
·Understand and explain a variety of academic positions that inform the study of popular culture and media.
·Make connections between popular culture and larger patterns of social change.
·Apply the theoretical perspectives we have studied to specific cultural texts (i.e. be able to relate theoretical arguments to specific examples drawn from popular culture).
·Be able to engage in a sophisticated and respectful class discussion of topics relevant to media and popular culture.
·Refine critical thinking skills and oral and written communication in English.

before/after course of study: Before the scheduled class period, read the assigned reading thoroughly. Take notes of unfamiliar concepts, terms, or sections, formulate questions, and bring them to class. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. After the class, review the lecture, reading, and discussion to prepare for the quiz and complete the worksheet. The review is expected to take 120-150 minutes. Preparation for Show & Tell involves your own research and writing, which is expected to take 120-150 minutes. Film Responses after class is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Part I: Introduction: Media &Popular Culture
1. Introduction
2. Representation & the Media. In-classscreening: Hall & Jhally (1997, 55m) “Representation & the Media”

Part II: Pre-WarTechnological Imagination
3. Wartime Technological Imagination. Read Ito “Robots,A-Bombs, and War: Cultural Meanings of Science and Technology in Japan AroundWorld War II.” From Jacobs ed., Filling the Hole in the Nuclear Future (2010)pp. 72-106. Quiz 1
4. Case Study: Metropolis (1927, 2000). Read Makela“From Metropolis to Metoroporisu: The Changing Role of the Robot in Japaneseand Western Cinema.” From MacWilliams ed., Japanese Visual Culture (2008)pp. 91-113.
5. Screening: Metropolis (1927, 118m)
6. Screening cont. Film Discussion. Film Response 1Due (end of the week). Quiz 2
7. Screening: Metoroporisu (2001, 107m) at home(Nishimura at a conference). Film Response 2 Due (end of the week).
8. FilmDiscussion, Midterm Review & Exam.

Part III: Post-WarTechnological Imagination
9. Tezuka Osamu’s Innovation. Read Phillips. “Characters,Themes, and Narrative Patterns in the Manga of Osamu Tezuka.” From MacWilliams ed.,Japanese Visual Culture (2008) pp. 68-90. Show & Tell.
10. Tezuka’s Two Robots. Read Nishimura. “ThePopular Cultural Origin of Communicating Robots in Japan.” In Guzman, McEwen,& Jones eds., The SAGE Handbook of Human-Machine Communication (2023)pp. 424-431. Quiz 3 Show & Tell.
11. Postwar Imagination of Technology, 1950s-1960s.Read Tsuji “Why Study Train Otaku? A Social History of Imagination.” In Itō,Okabe & Tsuji eds., Fandom Unbound: Otaku Culture in a Connected World(2012) pp. 3-29. Show & Tell.
12. Postwar Imagination of Technology, 1970s-1980s.Read Schilling “Doraemon: Making Dreams Come True.” (1993) Japan Quarterly, 40(4). pp.405-417. Show& Tell.
13. National Imagination of Robotics. Read Robertson“Robo Sapiens Japanicus: Humanoid Robots and the Posthuman Family.” (2007) CriticalAsian Studies, 39(3), pp.369-398. Quiz 4. Show & Tell.
14. Final Review & Exam.@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727

0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:204;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536858881 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Yu Mincho";panose-1:2 2 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0;mso-font-alt:游明朝;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-2147482905 717749503 18 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@Yu Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-2147482905 717749503 18 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0in;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Calibri",sans-serif;mso-ascii-font-family:Calibri;mso-ascii-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-hansi-font-family:Calibri;mso-hansi-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-bidi-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-bidi-theme-font:minor-bidi;mso-fareast-language:JA;}p.MsoListParagraph, li.MsoListParagraph, div.MsoListParagraph{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-fareast-language:JA;}p.MsoListParagraphCxSpFirst, li.MsoListParagraphCxSpFirst, div.MsoListParagraphCxSpFirst{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-type:export-only;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-fareast-language:JA;}p.MsoListParagraphCxSpMiddle, li.MsoListParagraphCxSpMiddle, div.MsoListParagraphCxSpMiddle{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-type:export-only;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-fareast-language:JA;}p.MsoListParagraphCxSpLast, li.MsoListParagraphCxSpLast, div.MsoListParagraphCxSpLast{mso-style-priority:34;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-type:export-only;margin-top:0in;margin-right:0in;margin-bottom:0in;margin-left:.5in;mso-add-space:auto;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-fareast-language:JA;}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-family:"Calibri",sans-serif;mso-ascii-font-family:Calibri;mso-ascii-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-fareast-font-family:"Yu Mincho";mso-fareast-theme-font:minor-fareast;mso-hansi-font-family:Calibri;mso-hansi-theme-font:minor-latin;mso-bidi-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-bidi-theme-font:minor-bidi;mso-font-kerning:0pt;mso-ligatures:none;mso-fareast-language:JA;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}ol{margin-bottom:0in;}ul{margin-bottom:0in;}

Language:	English
Textbooks:	There is no required textbook for this course. Assigned readings will become available as PDF documents and by other means to be specified by the instructor.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	1.READ THIS SYLLABUS. Read/watch all the assigned materials (mandatory) 2.Active Participation15 3.Quizzes 20 4.Show & Tell15 5.Film Responses20 6.Midterm Exam15 7.Final Exam15
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU34600|01|210CU34600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Selected Topics in Korean Society 01
Instructor	LEE, Bong Kyu
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Thiscourse is designed to explore the diverse nature of Korean society and improveacademic-level Korean language skills by reading and discussing contemporaryKorean books and articles on assigned topics. Lectures will include oraltestimonies, essays, and academic papers on topics such as the multiculturalnature of Korean society, various conflicts, social and culturaldiscrimination, and inequality. The course will be conducted in English and Korean.

Objectives: This course aims to provide undergraduate students with a broad overview of various key issues in the Korean humanities. It does so by providing students with interdisciplinary learning opportunities through presentations and discussions of assigned books and texts, and by promoting multicultural and multifaceted learning. It also seeks to develop students' academic-level Korean writing skills by requiring them to write a paper in Korean on a specific topic of their choice.

before/after course of study: Preliminary knowledge of Korean history and society is desirable but not essential for this course. Preparation and review will take 90-120 minutes each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Vol.1
Introduction
Vol.2
The diverse and transnational natureof the Korean society
Vol.3
The origins of South Korea'sconservatives 1
Vol.4
The origins of South Korea'sconservatives 2
Vol.5
The origins of South Korea'sconservatives 3
Vol.6
Historical Review of SouthKorea-U.S.-Japan Relations 1
Vol.7
Historical Review of SouthKorea-U.S.-Japan Relations 2
Vol.8
Historical Review of SouthKorea-U.S.-Japan Relations 3
Vol.9
Cultural History of Korean Food 1
Vol.10
Cultural History of Korean Food 2
Vol.11
Students present on the selectedtopics 1
Vol.12
Students present on the selectedtopics 2
Vol.13
Students present on the selectedtopics 3

Vol.14
Conclusion

Language: Korean

Textbooks: Course materials will be provided by the lecturer. In the first class, the detail of the materials written in Korean/ in English, including the text in the reference, will be announced.

References:
김건우, 대한민국의 설계자들, 느티나무책방, 2017
조형근, 우리 안의 친일, 반일을 넘어 탈식민의 성찰로, 역사비평사, 2022
최현숙, 할배의 탄생, 어르신과 꼰대 사이, 가난한 남성성의 시원을 찾아서, 이매진, 2016
주영하, 백년식사, 대한제국 서양식 만찬부터 K-푸드까지, 휴머니스트, 2020

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Papers:	40	Final Essay (40%): Students will evaluate one or more articles from their own perspective on the topic. 1.5-line spacing, 12-point font, 6,500-7,000 characters (in Korean) in length (A bibliography is essential and not included in the word count). Primary evaluation criteria are well-organized writing with critical commentary, and punctuality.
Class contribution:	15	Participation (15%): Questions, comments, attendance, and other contributions to class discussion will be graded.
Others:	45	Individual Presentation (25%): participant who presents during one of the class sessions is required to provide supplemental slides and/or visual materials, e.g., Prezi, Power Point, etc. Primary evaluation criteria are organization, content, delivery, and punctuality. Presentation about 20-30 minutes long. Reading Response Papers (20%): All participants of the class must upload 80-100 words for each of the 1-2 reading questions in the specified week. How to submit the assignments will be announced in the first class. (If you submit the responses without reading the materials, your submission may not be counted.)

Note/URL: The final syllabus will be announced in the first class session and may be changed depending on the number of students, etc.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU34700|01|210CU34700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- German Communicative Genres and Texttypes in Everyday Life and Academic Di
Instructor	STEINHAUER, Hagen Fritjof
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Preparation for Studying Abroad in the German Speaking Countries

Course Outline: This course is designed as a preparation for studying abroad in German-speaking countries. Students will get to know and practice a variety of text types and communicative genres that are crucial for everyday life and studying at a University in Germany, Austria or Switzerland. We will practice communicative situations like taking care of administrative requirements, looking for an apartment, communicating with university staff or coordinating group assignments with fellow students. The course also covers intercultural challenges like different ways of communicating politeness and positive and negative emotions or needs.

Objectives: The objective of this course is to prepare students for their year abroad in a German-speaking country and practice important communicative and social situations.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the handouts for each session that will be posted on Waseda Moodle in advance. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Homework will be assigned as review for each class and should be turned in before the next class. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Introduction: Text types and Communicative Genres in Everyday Life and at the University
Overview ofcommunicative requirements and potential challenges in the German-speakingcountries
Arriving in Germany, Austria or Switzerland: Taking Care of the Living Situation
How to look forapartments or shared flats? How do I write to potential landlords or roommates?
Arriving in Germany, Austria or Switzerland: Taking Care of Administrative Requirements
How do I register forhealth insurance, at the immigration office and the residents' registration?
Interacting with Fellow Students
How do I coordinategroup assignments, lunch dates or party plans?
Asking smart Questions and Arguing for your Opinion in Class
How do I discuss inclass and argue for my opinion?
Discussions and Arguments: Critizing and Arguing in Various Situations
How do I argue withGermans?
Expressing Emotions and Personal Needs: Directness and Politeness
How do I expressEmotions like Germans?
Communicating with University Staff: Mails and Office Hours
How do I writee-mails to University staff and how do I communicate during office hours?
Looking and Applying for Student Jobs
How do I look andapply for student jobs? How do I write cover letters, CVs and letters ofmotivation?
Job Interviews
How do I presentmyself and my competences in a favorable way?
Presentations in Class
How to structure goodtalks and succeed in presenting your work
Reading and Understanding Long Scientific Texts in German?
How do I cope withlong scientific texts? Excerpts, summaries and reading techniques
"Hausarbeiten", Essays and other genres in German Academia I
How to write long termpapers and essays

	“Hausarbeiten”, Essays and other Genres in German Academia II How to write longterm papers and essays
Language:	English/German
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Papers:	50	3 short written tasks & 1 presentation in the course of the semester
Class contribution:	50	Active contribution in class

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU34800|01|210CU34800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Youth Culture and Language in Germany (Jugendkultur und Jugendsprache in De
Instructor	STEINHAUER, Hagen Fritjof
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Thisintermediate level seminar explores the dynamic world of youth culture andyouth language in contemporary Germany. Students will examine how young peoplein Germany express identity, resistance, and belonging through language, media,music, fashion, across different historical contexts, including the studentmovements of the 1960s, punk and hip-hop subcultures, post-reunification youth,and contemporary digital communities. Students will engage with authenticmaterials, including video clips, social media content, and interviews,alongside scholarly texts.

Objectives: To deepen students' understanding of how youth language and culture reflect and shape social change in Germany, while fostering critical and intercultural perspectives on identity and communication.

before/after course of study: As a part of their preparation, students will be asked to read the literature provided on Waseda Moodle in advance and prepare short exercises, watch videos or listen to songs. This homework is expected to take 90-120 minutes per week.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Introduction to Youth Culture and Language

Provide an overview of the topics of theseminar and introduce key notions and concepts such as 'youth' or 'adolescence', 'subculture', 'style' and 'dialect'.

Language, Identity and Youth Culture

Provide a theoretical base to understandYouth Culture and Language within its social environment and the discourses,institutions and practices that bring them about.

Dialect, Variety or Stlye? Key Topics of Youth Language Research

Give students an overview of key topics oflinguistic research on youth language and its different linguisticconceptualizations.

"Kiezdeutsch": A New Urban Dialect in Multicultural Germany

Understand the formation of Kiezdeutsch as a dialectagainst the backdrop of the of urban multicultural social settings and deepenthe knowledge of linguistic research on youth language using a concretelinguistic phenomenon. Contrast with discourses on language 'purity'

Metadiscursive Positions on Youth Language

Scrutinize the role that languageideologies play in the production of styles and dialects, their enregistermentand connection to social personae and behaviors.

"The Youth Word of the Year": Influence on (Social) Media Discourse on the Perception of Youth Languag

Explore the meta discursive influence on theconstruction of Youth Language on a concrete example from German (social) mediadiscourse, also considering the commercialization of youth language.

The Youth Movement of the early 20th Century: "Wandervogel" and "Jugendbünde"

Understand German youth movements and theirhistorical development in the early 20th century against thebackdrop of romanticized reactions to industrialization in big cities.

Youth in/under Fascism: HJ, BDM and Resistant Subcultures

Learn about the coercive and totalitariancharacter of the National socialist German State between 1933 and 1945 usingthe example of the Nazi-Party's Youth organizations (HJ and BDM) andoppositional counter cultures and groups.

Post-War Youth: Youth Rebellion of the 1960s

Get an overview of the postwar generationalconflict, the rise of anti-authoritarian youth culture(s) and politicization ofthe student movement and their protest culture in West-Germany.

Counter-Culture: Punk in Germany

Understand Punk as a form of protest and youth culturein East- and West-Germany.

Rap, Breakdance, Graffiti: German Hip Hop from the 1990s to Today

Give students an insight into how theglobal cultural phenomenon of Hip Hop was adapted in Germany. A special focusis on anti-racist activism in early 1990s Hip Hop subculture.

Youth in Post-Reunification Germany: Violence and Far Right Hegemony in the 1990s and 2000s

Understanding the situation of adolescentsduring the post-reunification era in the former German Democratic Republic (butalso in West-Germany).

Digital Youth Cultures: Social Media, Memes and Influencers

Understand the impact of social mediagenres like memes on contemporary youth culture and communication across avariety of subcultures.

Wrap-up and Conclusion of the Semester

In this concluding session, we will reflecton the past semester and key topics of the course. We will sum up what we havelearned and try to point out differences and commonalities of German youthculture and the cases discussed in class.

Language: English/German

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Papers:	50	Oral presentation in class or three short written homework assignments during the semester
Class contribution:	50	Active contribution in class

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU34900|01|210CU34900[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	K-Culture in Text 01
Instructor	RHEE, Maji Christine
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This is a unique culturecluster course which focuses on themes related to Korea. Although the Korean Wave, Hanryu hasbeen prevalent, academic approaches to analyzing contemporary Korean popculture with the historical provenance have been neglected. This course adoptscultural, social, and political theories to help students and researchersbetter understand the Korean cultural content including K-drama, K-food,K-movies, K-music, andK-fashion. This course beginswith introducing the Nobel Literary Prize winner, Han Kang, and her books inconnection with the classics in Korean literature. This course includes students' participation in reading core texts selected from a critical perspective. Thecourse also attempts to unveil multi-layered cultural assumptions byidentifying Korean cultural particulars and socio-political issues in thecontemporary Korea Face-to-face in-classesand additional on-demand video clips.

Objectives: The objective of this course is to learn and understand the overall culture and history of two Koreas, the Republic of Korea and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (North Korea). Reading the text in this course includes reading media which involves navigating digital sources and visual formats. The course navigates cultural sources of Korea. One of the learning objectives is to enhance students' analytical skills by adopting cultural theories for interpreting multimedia elements in K-content. This course is open to all students at Waseda, and is taught in English and in Japanese.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

From The Nine Clouds Dreams to Human Acts
Introduce Korean classicalliterature to the contemporary literature
The Korean Language in Two Koreas
The Korean language in the dividedKorea
Resilience in the Han Narrative in Yuhi
Ethnic-Koreans as minorities and thenational sorrow
The Confucian Constitution in Yi Korea
Learn fundamental Korean philosophical thoughts, andlegacy of Confucianism and law in Korea
Korean Envoy to Japan
Learn the Japan-Koreanrelationship through work of art
Cultural Codes in K-Drama, K-Movies, K-Music, K-Fashion
Understand and analyze cultural semiotucsin K-Culture
Alterity in the Korean Peninsular as the Other
Learn how Korean national identiy hasshaped in between Japan and China
My Golden Life and the Spoon Theory
Learn the contemporary classsystem reflected in K-drama
Seoul and Pyongyang - Shakespear in the Korean Peninsular Dialecticsin Mt. Peakdu Lineage and the SixParty Talk
Unification in Crash Landing on You
Feasibility of reviving the FreeTrade Zone to the K-Entertainment global stratgies
The Post-modern reading
BTS and the 4thindustry as a new paradigm in Korean Studies

Korea in the domestic and international context

Understand issues related to theconglomerate coroporate structure, populationdecline, wealth inequality, and prospective foreign directinvestment

Student Presentations

Students will choose any themescovered in class for either an online or in-class presentations.

Review

Review readings and submit thefinal term paper

Language:	English
Textbooks:	There are required and optional readings which can be accessed from My Waseda and the search engines.
References:	Each week has a list of optional reading.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	25	Final Term Paper
Papers:	25	Weekly writing assignments
Class contribution:	25	Attendance and participation in discussions (Attendance exempt to students who are participating in job search or internship)
Others:	25	Additional writing assignments on different topics

Note/URL: There are no specified pre-requisites, but students' ability to findcourse readings from Moodle would be appreciated. Students who need further help with Moodle aswell as a part of EdX video clips can make a reservationat Center for Teaching,Learning, and Technology located at Building 7 first floor.

A part of this course isavailable at Waseda EdX Culture and Law recorded sessions. Students canget access to the link anytime. https://www.edx.org/course/culture-and-law-the-east-asian-perspective

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU35000|51|210CU35000[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Memory Culture and Memory Politics in Germany after 1945 51
Instructor	STEINHAUER, Hagen Fritjof
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Important note: Intermediate knowledge of German is required for this class as material and readings will be (partly) in German.

This seminar examines memory culture and memory politics in Germany after 1945, from early postwar narratives of rupture and responsibility to evolving public debates about remembrance. We study theoretical frameworks of collective and cultural memory, philosophical reflections on "Aufarbeitung," and the interplay of state policy, civil society, law, education, and media. Topics include memorial practices, museums and commemorative sites, generational change, contested narratives, and the ethics of remembrance. Attention is given to politicization by contemporary actors, transnational influences, and postcolonial critiques. Students engage in critical reading, source analysis, and project work connecting historical interpretation with present day memory discourses.

Objectives: Students will learn about theories of memory, analyze policies, media discourse, and material form memorial sites. They will engage with political and ethical debates and do analyses, as well as train reflective argumentation skills.

before/after course of study: As a part of class preparation, you will be asked to read short excerpts of scientific papers both in English and in German, which will be posted on Waseda Moodle in advance. This preparation is expected to take 90 to 120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Introduction to Key Concepts: Memory, Remembering, Collective Memory

Overview of the key topics and main concepts of the class

Theory of Memory Studies I : Collective Memory and Cultural Memory

Key concepts of memory studies (Halbwachs)

Theory of Memory Studies II : Cultural Memory and "Erinnerungsräume"(memory spaces)

Key concepts of memory studies (Assmann)

Critical Theory: Working Through the Past

Adorno's critical account of the "Aufarbeitung" discourse (1963)

Germany after World War II: "Zero Hour" and "Schlussstrich"Debates

Overview of the topics and argument in Germany's post-war discourse on the Nazi crimes

"De-Nazification" and the Nuremberg Trials

The role of the Nurmenberg Trials and the following De-Nazification efforts

Re-education of the German population in the Post-War Era

Introduction to the re-education programme launched by the allied forces to make the German population ready for democracy

The Frankfurt Auschwitz-Trials 1963-1965: Legal and Public Effects

History and effect of the Frankfurt Auschwitz Trials

The 1968 Movement and the Generational Conflict: Critique of the Older Generation and New Memory Cult

The societal and cultural influence of the 1968 youth protest on memory politics and facing of the Nazi past

Commemoration Sites in the German Public Space: "Tripping Stones" and Memorials

Overview of the German approach to memorial sites, their educational approach and funding schemes

Civil Society and its Role in Historical Political Education and Reconciliation

The role of NGOs like Aktion Sühnezeichen for a Discourse of Reconciliation with international Victim Groups

Post-colonial Perspectives in Memory Politics and Studies
The Struggle for a Recognition of the German Colonial Past since the 2000s in civil society and academia
Current Political Struggles Around Memory Politics: Far-Right Memory Politics and Revisionism
Far-right attacks and the claim for a “patriotic” Memory politics
Conclusion: Wrap-up and reflection of the Class
A conclusion session for reflection

Language:	English/German
Textbooks:	Required reading material will be posted on Waseda moodle in advance.
References:	Assmann, Aleida: Erinnerungsräume(2018): Formen und Wandlungen des kulturellen Gedächtnisses. München: C.H. Beck. Halbwachs, Maurice (1992): On Collective Meomory. Chicago: University of Chicago Press.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Class contribution:	50	Active contribution in class
Others:	50	One Oral presentation in class or two written homework assignments during the semester

Note/URL:
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU35100|51|210CU35100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Migration and Migration Discourses in Germany after 1945 51
Instructor	STEINHAUER, Hagen Fritjof
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Important note: Knowledge of German is required for this class. Participants should have a Level of A2 or higher (or have finished German 3 or Intensive German 2 at SILS).

In this class student will get an overview of German history of migration since 1945 and the according discourses, policies, conflicts and cultural as well as societal developments. We will discuss the political economy of labor migration (in the FRG as well as the former GDR), the different waves of anti-migration politics, the paradigms of "assimilation","integration", and "post-migration society", and discourses and imaginaries connected to the demography of the German population. The syllabus will consist of excerpts from literary texts, scholarly publications as well as newspaper articles and political speeches.

Objectives: Apart from an overview of German migration history, students will practice their reading comprehension in German across different text genres. The class will therefore not only deepen knowledge about German history and society but also teach important reading strategies.

before/after course of study: As this class is designed to teach reading comprehension and discussion using text-based knowledge, students will be expected to carefully read the required reading as a homework assignment. Students will also be expected to formulate questions based on the text, which will be used in class during the discussion of the topic at hand. Once during the semester, each student will be asked to open the discussion in class with a short oral presentation on the required reading.
The preparation is expected to take approximately 120 minutes for each week's class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Introduction: Migration and Migration Discourses in Germany after 1945

Overview of the topics of the class and the requirements and working mode

Internal Migration during and after World War II: German Expellees (Heimatvertriebene) 1945

Historical overview of the migration movements within Germany following the defeat in World War II (and their historical revisionism)

"Gastarbeiter": Labor migration to Germany in the 1950s and 1960s

History and socio-economic aspects of the so-called guest-workers in West-Germany

"Vertragsarbeiter": Labor migration in the German Democratic Republic (GDR)

The situation of so-called contract workers in the former GDR

From "Guestworkers" to "Foreigners": The economic crisis of the 1970s and its impact on migration disco

Discourses and rising xenophobia towards guestworkers and their families following the declining economic growth in the 1970s

"Wendezeit": Internal migration after the fall of the GDR

Internal migration from East to West Germany after the end of the GDR and its societal and economic challenges

"Asyldebatte"and Anti-Migration riots in the 1990s: The attacks of Lichtenhagen, Mölln and Solingen

Rising violence and hate against asylum seekers in both East- and West Germany in the early 1990s

"Spätaussiedler" in the 1990s: Resettlers and late resettlers in Germany after the fall of the Soviet Union.

The social situation of so-called (late) resettlers from the former Soviet Union and their "integration" in Germany

A German Green Card? Skilled Labor Shortage in the Early 2000s

Controversies around the (economic) need of labor migration and nativist discourses favoring German workers

The 2010 “Sarrazin debate”: Normalization of far-right anti-migration claims

Discussion of the discursive disruption caused by (former) social democrat Thilo Sarrazin who claimed that Germany will fall apart due to immigration

“Pegida”and the AfD: The Rise of Authoritarian Populism and the Role of Anti-Migration Politics

The far-right protest movement Pegida and the concomitant establishment of the AfD as a new political force, both anti-migration movements

2015: Germany between “Refugee Crisis” and “Welcome Culture”

Overview of the polarized situation in Germany during the so-called refugee crisis of 2015 and 2016

Integration and Desintegration: Controversial Discourses around Assimilation and Integration

Integration and disintegration as two sides of a controversial discourse focusing the situation of migrant and post-migrant people in Germany

The Postmigration Society

Understanding the paradigm of postmigration society

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Required reading material will be posted on Waseda moodle in advance.

References: Etzold, Raphaela; Löhning, Martin; Schlemmer, Thomas (2019): Migration und Integration in Deutschland nach 1945. Berlin: DeGruyter Foroutan, Naika (2019): Die postmigrantische Gesellschaft. Ein Versprechen der pluralen Demokratie. Bielefeld: Transcript.
Niehr, Thomas; Böke, Karin (2000): Einwanderungsdiskurse. Vergleichende diskurslinguistische Studien. Wiesbaden: Springer.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Class contribution:	50	Active contribution to the discussions in class
Others:	50	One short oral presentation on the required reading

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU40100|51|210CU40100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Selected Topics in Cultural Studies 51
Instructor	YOSHIMOTO, Mitsuhiro
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Tues.4@02:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Anime

Course Outline: The purpose of this course is to study anime movies and serials by focusing on their stylistic details and thematic motifs on the one hand, and the socio-historical context of their production and consumption on the other. In addition to such central themes and motifs as urban space,war, violence, ruins, environment, magic, curse, the non-human, and the post-human, the students will be also introduced to the history of anime/Japanese animation. We will analyze the formal and stylistic specificity of each anime(narrative structure, world-setting, audio-visual form, etc.) by linking them to a wide range of issues and questions pertaining to aesthetics, subculture, history,and politics. The tentative list of anime movies and serials to be examined include, but not limited to, Ghost in the Shell:Stand Alone Complex, Spirited Away, Howl's Moving Castle, Puella Magi Madoka Magica, Violet Evergarden, The Tale of the Princess Kaguya, Jujutsu Kaisen 0: The Movie, etc. We'll also watch and study short animation films by Tezuka Osamu and others.<machine_data>@font-face{font-family:"MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-alt:"MS Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536859905 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:Times;panose-1:2 11 6 4 2 2 2 2 2 4;mso-font-alt:"Times New Roman";mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:3 0 0 0 1 0;}@font-face{font-family:平成明朝;panose-1:2 11 6 4 2 2 2 2 2 4;mso-font-alt:"MS 明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@平成明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0mm;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-size:10.0pt;mso-ansi-font-size:10.0pt;mso-bidi-font-size:10.0pt;font-family:Times;mso-ascii-font-family:Times;mso-fareast-font-family:"MS 明朝";mso-hansi-font-family:Times;mso-font-kerning:0pt;mso-ligatures:none;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}@font-face{font-family:"MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-alt:"MS Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-469750017 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:Times;panose-1:2 11 6 4 2 2 2 2 2 4;mso-font-alt:"Times New Roman";mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1342185562 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:平成明朝;panose-1:2 11 6 4 2 2 2 2 2 4;mso-font-alt:"MS 明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@平成明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0mm;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";}span.normaltextrun{mso-style-name:normaltextrun;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-parent:"";}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-size:10.0pt;mso-ansi-font-size:10.0pt;mso-bidi-font-size:10.0pt;mso-ascii-font-family:Times;mso-fareast-font-family:"MS 明朝";mso-hansi-font-family:Times;mso-font-kerning:0pt;mso-ligatures:none;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}@font-face{font-family:"MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-alt:"MS Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536859905 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:"MS Pゴシック";panose-1:2 11 6 0 7 2 5 8 2 4;mso-font-alt:"MS PGothic";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:Times;panose-1:0 0 5 0 0 0 0 2 0 0;mso-font-alt:"Times New Roman";mso-</machine_data> font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1342185562 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:平成明朝;panose-1:2 11 6 4 2 2 2 2 2 4;mso-font-alt:"MS 明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@平成明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS Pゴシック";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0mm;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";}span.normaltextrun{mso-style-name:normaltextrun;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-parent:"";}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-size:10.0pt;mso-ansi-font-size:10.0pt;mso-bidi-font-size:10.0pt;font-family:Times;mso-ascii-font-family:Times;mso-fareast-font-family:"MS 明朝";mso-hansi-font-family:Times;mso-font-kerning:0pt;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}

Objectives:

--Students will learn why anime is an important cultural text, and what socio-political, historical, and philosophical issues they often raise for further critical thinking.
--Students are expected to acquire analytical skills to discuss anime as a complex text from thematic and formal perspectives.

before/after course of study:

--Preparation: students finish weekly reading assignments on time.
--Review: students take notes on assigned anime films or TV serials, and prepare comments and questions for class discussions. They will be asked to take a few online quizzes and exams outside of class time.
--Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:

1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule

[Film titles are subject to change]
Week 1: Akira or Evangelion? I [Akira (ŌtomoKatsuhiro, 1988)]
Week 2: Akira or Evangelion? II [Neon Genesis Evangelion (Anno Hideaki, 1995-6)]
Week 3: What Is Ghibli? I [Spirited Away (千と千尋の神隠し, Miyazaki Hayao, 2001)]
Week 4: What Is Ghibli? II [Howl's Moving Castle(ハウルの動く城, Miyazaki Hayao, 2004)]
Week 5: What Is Ghibli? III [The Tale of Princess Kaguya (かぐや姫の物語, Takahata Isao, 2013)]
Week 6: What Is Ghibli? IV [The Boy and the Heron (君たちはどう生きるか, Miyazaki Hayao, 2023)]
Week 7: What Is Anime/Animation? [Short Animation Films]
Week 8: Anime and Media Ecology [Examples of Manga and Special Effects Series]
Week 9: Robots,Cyborgs, Clones I [Ghost in the Shell: Stand Alone Complex (攻殻機動隊STAND ALONE COMPLEX,Kamiyama Kenji, 2002-3)]
Week 10: Robots, Cyborgs, Clones II [The Sky Crawlers (スカイクロラ,Oshii Mamoru, 2008)]
Week 11: Robots, Cyborgs, Clones III [Violet Evergarden (ヴァイオレット・エヴァーガーデン,2018)]
Week 12: Magic, Yokai, Curse I [Puella Magi Madoka Magica (魔法少女まどか☆マギカ,2011)]
Week 13:Magic, Yokai, Curse II [Jujutsu Kaisen 0: The Movie (劇場版 呪術廻戦 0, 2021)]
Week 14: Group Presentations@font-face{font-family:"MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-alt:"MS Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"MS ゴシック";panose-1:2 11 6 9 7 2 5 8 2 4;mso-font-alt:"MS Gothic";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536859905 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:"MS Pゴシック";panose-1:2 11 6 0 7 2 5 8 2 4;mso-font-alt:"MS PGothic";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:Times;panose-1:2 11 6 4 2 2 2 2 2 4;mso-font-alt:"Times New Roman";mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:3 0 0 0 1 0;}@font-face{font-family:平成明朝;panose-1:2 11 6 4 2 2 2 2 2 4;mso-font-alt:"MS 明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@平成明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS Pゴシック";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS ゴシック";panose-1:2 11 6 9 7 2 5 8 2 4;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0mm;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"MS Pゴシック",sans-serif;mso-bidi-font-family:"MS Pゴシック";}span.normaltextrun{mso-style-name:normaltextrun;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-parent:"";}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-size:10.0pt;mso-ansi-font-size:10.0pt;mso-bidi-font-size:10.0pt;font-family:Times;mso-ascii-font-family:Times;mso-fareast-font-family:"MS 明朝";mso-hansi-font-family:Times;mso-font-kerning:0pt;mso-ligatures:none;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}@font-face{font-family:"MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-alt:"MS Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"MS ゴシック";panose-1:2 11 6 9 7 2 5 8 2 4;mso-font-alt:"MS Gothic";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-469750017 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:Times;panose-1:2 11 6 4 2 2 2 2 2 4;mso-font-alt:"Times New Roman";mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1342185562 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:平成明朝;panose-1:2 11 6 4 2 2 2 2 2 4;mso-font-alt:"MS 明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:Cambria;panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1073743103 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@平成明朝";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:auto;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:16777216 1800 268435456 0 131072 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS ゴシック";panose-1:2 11 6 9 7 2 5 8 2 4;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0mm;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";}span.normaltextrun{mso-style-name:normaltextrun;mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-parent:"";}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-size:10.0pt;mso-ansi-font-size:10.0pt;mso-bidi-font-size:10.0pt;mso-ascii-font-family:Times;mso-fareast-font-family:"MS 明朝";mso-hansi-font-family:Times;mso-font-kerning:0pt;mso-ligatures:none;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}

Language:	English
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	48	Mid-Term and Final Exams
Papers:	0	NA
Class contribution:	32	Quizzes and Short Film Responses
Others:	20	Group Presentation

Note/URL:

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU40500|51|210CU40500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Postmodernism: Theories and Culture
Instructor	ASO, Takashi
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Thur.2@02:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: In this course, we will examine the topic of postmodernism.
Postmodernism is a philosophical and cultural movement that emerged in the late twentieth century and exerted a profound influence across a wide range of fields. Some critics argue that its impact extended even to economics and politics; however, this course will focus primarily on art, culture, literature, and philosophy.
Examples discussed in class will include the following materials:

1. The Beatles' Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band and other musical works;
2. John Barth's Lost in the Funhouse and other postmodernist short stories in American literature;
3. Jacques Derrida's philosophical concept of deconstruction;
4. Yoko Ono's experimental artworks;
5. Graphic novels such as Art Spiegelman's Maus and G. B. Tran's Vietnamerica;
6. American films such as The Truman Show and Edward Scissorhands;
7. Dinh Q. Lê's installation art.

Objectives: To understand the idea of postmodernism and see examples of artistic and cultural representations of that idea.

before/after course of study: Before the class: work on assigned reading and other materials.
After the class: reflect upon what you have learned in the class.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
#1-2: Overview
#3-4: What Is Postmodernism?
#5-6: What Characterizes Postmodernism? #1
#7-8: What Characterizes Postmodernism? #2
#9-10: Postmodernist American Writers: Barth, Barthelme, Pynchon
#11-12: Jacques Derrida: Framing & De-framing Artworks
#13-14: Review Session #1: Romanticism, Modernism, and Postmodernism
#15-16: Midterm Review Exams
#17-18: Yoko Ono: Changing the Perspective
#19-20: Postmemories and Graphic Novels
#21-22: Late Postmodernism #1: The Truman Show
#23-24: Late Postmodernism #2: Edward Scissorhands
#25-26: Review Session #2: Dinh Q. Lê: Reinstalling "Vietnam"
#27-28: Finals

Language: English

Textbooks: Required reading and other materials are introduced in the first class with more detailed class schedules.

References:
References:
Barth, John. The Lost in the Funhouse: Fiction for Print, Tape, Live Voice. Doubleday, 1988.
Hassan,Ihab. "From Postmodernism to Postmodernity: The Local/Glocal Context." Philosophy and Literature 215.1 (2001): 1-13.
Hutcheon, Linda. Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Paradox. Methuen, 1980, 1984.
Jameson, Fredric. Postmodernism or, the Cultural Logic of Late Capitalism. Duke UP, 1991.
Kostelanez, Richard. "An ABC of Contemporary Reading." Poetics Today 3.3 (1982): 5-46.
McHale, Brian. Postmodernist Fiction. Routledge, 1987.
Newman, Charles. "The Post-modern Aura: The Act of Fiction in an Age of Inflation." Salmagundi 63/64 (1984): 3-199.
Steiner, Wendy. "Postmodern Fictions 1970-1990." Ed. Sacvan Bercovitch. The Cambridge History of American Literature, vol. 7. Cambridge UP, 1997. 425-538.

	Stonehill, Brian. The Self-Conscious Fiction: Artifice in Fiction from Joyce to Pynchon. U of Pennsylvania P, 1988.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	The details will be announced in the class. (It depends on the class size.) Attendance: 10%; Class Participation 10%; Midterm Review Exams 40%; Final Exams 40%.
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU40600|51|210CU40600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Culture and Technology 51
Instructor	NISHIMURA, Keiko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Human lives have been embedded in art or technē—part of the etymological origin of "technology"—that makes the material world legible and workable for us, through which we create our culture. "Technology" and "culture," however, are deceptively common terms. We participate in culture and are constantly surrounded by technology but seldom pause and reflect on them. What is culture? What is technology? How are the two related? What is our relationship with each or both? How do we live in a culture surrounded by technological objects, artifacts, structures, and institutions? How does technology change culture, and vice versa? The answers to these questions are complicated and open-ended. This course is designed to provide students with theoretical tools to begin asking questions for themselves and seeking better answers. Whether one applies these questions and answers to their job, life, or personal interests, the knowledge gained in this class facilitates the creation of a description of the world that is far more complicated and fascinating. Over the course of the semester, we will examine key themes in technology studies that involve the social, political, economic, and cultural contexts in which technological artifacts, services, and platforms are produced, distributed, networked, and used.

Objectives: - Understand and explain a variety of academic positions that inform the study of technology and culture.
- Make connections between technological artifacts and larger patterns of sociocultural change.
- Apply the theoretical perspectives we have studied to specific objects (i.e., be able to relate theoretical arguments to specific examples).
- Be able to engage in a sophisticated and respectful class discussion of topics relevant to technology and culture.

before/after course of study: Before the scheduled class period, read the assigned reading thoroughly. Take notes of unfamiliar concepts, terms, or sections, formulate questions, and annotate them on Perusall and bring to class. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Preparation for the Critical Reading Notes is expected to take an additional 60-90 minutes each time. After the class, review the lecture, reading, and discussion to prepare for the quiz and exams. The review is expected to take 120-150 minutes. Preparation for Show & Tell involves your own research and writing, which is expected to take 120-150 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Schedule1. 10/6 IntroductionPerusall sign-up. When registering, please follow:First Name: Full Moodle Registered NameLast Name: Student ID (may put nickname or name you go by in parenthesis)Please only use English alphabets (no kanji/Japanese/other languages) for technical reasons2. 10/13 Culture & Technology: Slack & WiseAssigned Reading: "Problem of Technology," "Progress" and "Meaning" from Slack, J. D., & Wise, J. M. (2015). Culture and Technology: A Primer. New York: Peter Lang.3. 10/20 Approaches to Technology 1: Political TechnologyAssigned Reading: Winner, L. (1980). Do Artifacts Have Politics? Daedalus, 109(1), 121-136.Quiz 1 (Slack & Wise, Winner) opensShow & Tell4. 10/27 Approaches to Technology 2: SCOT ApproachAssigned Reading: Pinch, T. J., & Bijker, W. E. (1984). The social construction of facts and artifacts: Or how the sociology of science and sociology of technology might benefit each other. Social Studies of science, 14, 399-441. (Read the SCOT section)Show & Tell5. 11/3 Approaches to Technology 3: User ResearchAssigned Reading: "Introduction: How Users and Non-Users Matter" from Oudshoorn, N., & Pinch, T. (2003). How Users Matter: The Co-Construction of Users and Technology. Cambridge, MA: The MIT Press.Show & Tell6. 11/10 Approaches to Technology 4: Actor Network TheoryAssigned Reading: "Introduction" from Latour, B. (2005). Reassembling the Social: An Introduction to Actor-Network-Theory. Oxford; New York: Oxford University Press.Show & TellQuiz 2 (Pinch & Bijker, Oudshoorn & Pinch, Latour) opens7. 11/17 Applications: AlgorithmsIn-class screening: Coded Bias (2020, 90m, dir. Shalini Kantayya)Film Response due 11/23 23:598. 11/24 Midterm Review & Exam (Closes 11/30 23:59)9. 12/1 Applications: Privacy 1Assigned Reading: Nissenbaum, H. (1998). Protecting privacy in an information age: The problem of privacy in public. Law and Philosophy, 17(5), 559-596. Reprinted in Miller and Taddeo eds. (2017). The Ethics of Information Technologies. Routledge. pp.141-178.Show & TellQuiz 3 (Coded Bias, Nissenbaum) opens10. 12/8 Applications: Privacy 2Guest lecture by Alexis Hancock (Electronic Frontier Foundation)Bring questions from Nissenbaum for discussion.11. 12/15 Applications: AI 1In-class screening: AlphaGo (2017, 90m, dir. Greg Kohs)12. 12/22 Applications: AI 2Film Discussions for both Coded Bias and AlphaGo. Application of Approaches.Film Response due 12/22 23:59Critical Reading Notes check-in.13. 1/19 Applications: AI 3Assigned Reading: Crawford, K. (2021). Earth. In Atlas of AI (pp. 23-51). New Haven and London: Yale University Press.Show & TellQuiz 4 (AlphaGo, Crawford) opens14. 1/26 Final Review & Exam (Closes 2/1 23:59)All late Perusall Annotations due 1/26 23:59.Critical Reading Notes due 2/1 23:59.All quizzes close 2/1 23:59.

Language:	English
Textbooks:	There is no required textbook for this course. Assigned readings will become available as PDF documents and by other means to be specified by the professor.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	- Active Participation & Attendance 10% - Perusall Annotations 10% - Critical Reading Notes 15% - Show & Tell 15% - Quizzes 20% - Film Response 10% - Midterm & Final Exam 20%
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU42100|51|210CU42100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Anthropology&Human Rights 51
Instructor	BERNARD, Rosemarie
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.3@02:Mon.4	Class Modality Categories	;ampus] Hybrid (over 50% of classes on-ca
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: What are Human Rights? What is the history of Human Rights discourse, and what is the place of Anthropology therein? Should Human Rights be universal or should they be listed or applied with reference to particular cultural worldviews? What critiques of the international human rights regime have been put forth by anthropologists thus far? In particular, how can international organizations that promote Human Rights, and state governments that sign on to international human rights legal instruments, benefit from the historical emphasis by the anthropological community on the notion of cultural relativism and respect for diversity? What is the role of NGOs in parallel to Anthropology in these processes? All these questions will be addressed in this course. The first section of the course will include revision of the history of International Human Rights Law. The second part will address the anthropological critique of that body of law and its applications. Reading intensive. Generally this course will be conducted as in-class meetings and lectures, with possibly one ZOOM lecture, and one on-demand sections related to writing of midterm and final exams. We may have a guest speaker, details TBA.

Objectives: To learn about Anthropological method and theory, and about the history of International Human Rights Law. To learn to write critical anthropological essays about historical and legal phenomena. To learn and practice critical engagement with literature and ideas in Anthropology and legal studies.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. All students will be placed into groups for presentations to the whole of the class. Previous years'topics were Genocide, and the Displacement of Populations in International Human Rights and Humanitarian Law. This year's theme will be Freedom of Expression. Each group will be assigned by the instructor to conduct research concerning a particular region, with an historical focus.

Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

What are HR? What is an anthropological perspective on HR?

Lecture on the history of the HR concept; Read and Discuss Mark Goodale, Human Rights: An Anthropological Reader, "Introduction".

What are HR? What is an anthropological perspective on HR?

Lecture on the history of the HR concept; Read and Discuss Mark Goodale, Human Rights: An Anthropological Reader, "Introduction".

UDHR and the 1940s momentum for the UN Declaration; AAA Statement on HR (1947)

Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 1

UDHR and the 1940s momentum for the UN Declaration; AAA Statement on HR (1947)

Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 1

Hannah Arendt and the Critique of the Nation State/ Minority Rights

Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 2-3

Hannah Arendt and the Critique of the Nation State/ Minority Rights

Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 2-3

Culture and International Standards of Human Rights

Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 4; Student presentation of arguments on cultural relativism and IHRL

Culture and International Standards of Human Rights

Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 4; Student presentation of arguments on cultural relativism and IHRL

Human Rights and Development: Amartya Sen's and other approaches

Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapters 5 and 7; read and discuss ICESCR and ICCPR (1966)UN site

Human Rights and Development: Amartya Sen's and other approaches
Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapters 5 and 7; read and discuss ICESCR and ICCPR (1966)UN site
International Human Rights Law and Terrorism: The Guantanamo and Abu Ghraib Issues in the light of Inte
Read and discuss Steve Caton, "Abu Ghraib and the Problem of Evil", view videos of testimony on Abu Ghraib and Guantanamo
International Human Rights Law and Terrorism: The Guantanamo and Abu Ghraib Issues in the light of Int
Read and discuss Steve Caton, "Abu Ghraib and the Problem of Evil", view videos of testimony on Abu Ghraib and Guantanamo
Anthropological (AAA) Statements on Human Rights: 1999, 2007: Do Anthropologists have the Duty to pro
Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapters 6 and 11
Anthropological (AAA) Statements on Human Rights: 1999, 2007: Do Anthropologists have the Duty to pro
Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapters 6 and 11
Course Review, Midterm Exam and Discussion of Midterm Exam
Course Review, Midterm Exam and Discussion of Midterm Exam
Midterm Exam and Discussion of Midterm Exam
Course Review, Midterm Exam and Discussion of Midterm Exam
Anthrology and Genocide
Read and Discuss, Goodale, Chapter 8; read and discuss Convention on Genocide
Anthrology and Genocide
Read and Discuss, Goodale, Chapter 8; read and discuss Convention on Genocide
Ethnography of HR practices
Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 12 and 14
Ethnography of HR practices
Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 12 and 14
Collective and Individual Rights; Women's Rights, Indigenous people's rigths, and the UNDRIP
Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 13; read and discuss UNDRIP
Collective and Individual Rights; Women's Rights, Indigenous people's rigths, and the UNDRIP
Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapter 13; read and discuss UNDRIP
International HRL and Local HRL: Incorporation, Translation, Application
Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapters 15; discuss Anthropological analyses of transnational law
International HRL and Local HRL: Incorporation, Translation, Application
Read and Discuss Goodale, Chapters 15; discuss Anthropological analyses of transnational law
HR and Cultural Practice/ Medical Anthropology's contribution to the study of HR violations
Read and Discuss Goodalge, Chapters 9-10 and 16-17
HR and Cultural Practice/ Medical Anthropology's contribution to the study of HR violations
Read and Discuss Goodalge, Chapters 9-10 and 16-17
UNESCO's role in articulating the tension between universalism and cultural relativism in Human Rights
Read and Discuss: Claude Levi-Strauss"Race and History", Goodale chapter 18
UNESCO's role in articulating the tension between universalism and cultural relativism in Human Rights/C
Read and Discuss: Claude Levi-Strauss"Race and History", Goodale chapter 18

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Mark Goodale, "Human Rights: An Anthropological Reader". Wiley-Blackwell (2009). ISBN: 978-1-4051-8334-5.
References:	Mark Goodale and Sally Merry, "The Practice of Human Rights". Cambridge University Press.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	75	25% Midterm and 50% Final exam
Class contribution:	25	Active participation, active class contribution, including group presentation.

Note/URL: This course will be conducted in-class, with possibly one on-demand lecture or a Zoom lectures. We may have a guest speaker to discuss International Human Rights. Please buy our textbook, Mark Goodale, "Human Rights: An Anthropological Reader".
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。

The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU45300|01|210CU45300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Chinese Diaspora and Globalization 01
Instructor	CHEN, Tien Shi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Chinese migrants are spread all over the world therefore we can encounter Chinatowns everywhere. Chinese migrants are often referred as cosmopolitan or global citizens. On the other hand, it is also true that Chinese migrants are an ethnic group that has often been tossed up by the turbulent situation in international politics and the volatility of national regimes.
This course will study Chinese migrants in the world as different case studies. Also will analyze Chinese migrants from political, economical, legal, and cultural angles to understand their relationship with global issues. Comparative studies with other diasporas are recommended.

Objectives: Understand issues of migration from global perspective as well as local perspective.

before/after course of study: Read related books and articles.
Conduct fieldworks and interviews in Chinese communities.
Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 90-120 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Course guidance and Introduction
Difinition and basic knowleadge
Vol. 2
What is Chinese Diaspora?
Vol. 3
Nationality and Citizenship of Chinese migrants
Vol. 4
Globalization and Identity of Chinese Diaspora
Vol. 5
Chinese Business Networks
Vol. 6
History of Chinatowns
Vol. 7
Chinese community: Comparative pespective
Vol. 8
Chinese Language and Education
Vol. 9
Chinese Migrants and Culture : Chinese migrants in South East Asia
Vol.10
Comparative studies of Chinese Migrants in the world: Europe
Vol.11
Comparative studies of Chinese Migrants in the world: US, Canada
Vol.12
Chinese and other diasporas: Comparative perspective
Vol.13
Multiculturalism and Transnationalism
Vol.14
Final exam

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Course reading will be provided.
References:	CHEN Tienshi Lara, Stateless, (NUS Press, 2024) Lynn Pan, The Encyclopedia of the Chinese Overseas (1999), Harvard University Press Chee-Beng Tan, Routledge Handbook of the Chinese Diaspora (2012), Routledge 陳天璽『華人ディアスポラ』明石書店. 陳天璽『無国籍』新潮文庫、2011.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	30	Paper test
Class contribution:	30	Attendance, participation, group discussion
Others:	40	Group research and presentation
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU45800|51|210CU45800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Social Movements in German Contemporary History (in German) 51
Instructor	SCHARLOTH, Joachim
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: (taught mainly in German)

Course Outline: In this course, we will study the impact of social movements on the politics and culture of Germany. Social movements are defined as networks of organizations or groups of individuals that advocate for, resist, or aim for undoing political and cultural change. By analyzing the conditions under which social movements occurred in the German contemporary history and their repercussions since World War II, we will gain a deeper understanding of how Germany has developed into a liberal democracy.

Objectives: At the end of this course, students will be able to:
・Define what a social movement is.
・Explain, with historical examples, when and why social movements occur, how they organize, what movements do, and who participates.
・Understand, how social change and social movements relate.
・Explain, how social movements like the student movement of the 1960s, the women's movement, the lesbian and gay movement, the environmental movement, the alter-globalization movement, but also the neo-Nazi contributed to political and cultural change in the history of Germany.

before/after course of study: Students can expect to study source materials or shorter scientific texts in German and English to prepare for each class.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回 Introduction
Goal and outline of this course

第2回 Defining Social Movements
Schade 2015

第3回 New Social Movements: Post-materialism in the affluent society, Public Sphere
Teune 2016

第4回 The student movement of the 1960s – 1: Democratization of the universities
Klimke 2008

第5回 The student movement of the 1960s – 2: Popular culture and global protest
Source: 1. Flugblatt der antiautoritären Menschen

第6回 The new women's movement
Source: Flugblatt des SDS Weiberrats
Schulz 2008

第7回 The lesbian and gay movement
Kriesi et al. 1995

第8回 Defining Terrorism, Left Wing Terrorism in Germany
Text: Massenmord als PR-Aktion aus die tageszeitung, 24.07.2011

第9回 The environmental movement – 1: The "Free Republic of Wendland"
Rootes 2008

第10回 The environmental movement – 2: the beginnings of the green party as an 'anti-party party'
Source: Die Freie Republik Wendland

第11回 The neo-Nazi movement after the German unification
Source: NSU Manifesto

第12回 The new right in Germany and Austria and their media strategies

Source: Video Clips

第13回 From national to transnational protest: alter-globalization movement

Schlembach 2013

第14回 Hacktivism: The Chaos Computer Club in Germany

The case of Julian Assange and the freedom of information.

第15回 none

none

Language: English/German

Textbooks: Source Materials will be provided by the instructor.

References:

・Della Porta, Donatella (2016): "Protest in Social Movements." In: Kathrin Fahlenbrach, Martin Klimke, Joachim Scharloth (eds).: Protest Cultures: A Companion. Berghahn: New York, Oxford. pp. 11-26.

・Klimke, Martin (2008): "West Germany." In: Martin Klimke, Joachim Scharloth (eds): 1968 in Europe - A History of Protest and Activism. pp. 97-110.

・Kriesi, Hanspeter / Koopmans, Ruud / Duyvendak, Jan Willem / Giugni, Marco G. (1995): "Gay Subcultures between Movement and Market." In: New Social Movements in Western Europe: A Comparative Analysis. University of Minnesota. pp. 165-80.

・Leiderman, Jay (2013): "Justice for the PayPal WikiLeaks Protesters: Why DDoS is Free Speech." The Guardian, 22 January 2013, (http://www.theguardian.com/commentisfree/2013/jan/22/paypal-wikileaks-protesters-ddos-free-speech)

・Rootes, Christopher (2008) The Environmental Movement. In: Martin Klimke, Joachim Scharloth (eds.): 1968 in Europe. Palgrave MacMillan: New York/London. pp. 295-305.

・Schlembach, Raphael (2013): Against Old Europe: Critical Theory and Alter-Globalization Movements. Farnham: Ashgat. Chapter 7.

・Schulz, Kristina (2008): "The Women's Movement." In: Martin Klimke, Joachim Scharloth (eds.): 1968 in Europe. Palgrave MacMillan: New York/London. pp. 281-293.

・Woods, Roger (2007): Germany's New Right as Culture and Politics. Palgrave Macmillan: Basingstoke and New York. pp. 7-24.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free- Final grades will be calculated according to the followingcategories:

In-Class Performance & Homework: 40%; Project: 60%

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU46800|51|210CU46800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Data and Social Media Analysis 51
Instructor	OHMAN, Emily
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:othersOn demand@02:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	;ampus] Hybrid (over 50% of classes on-cai
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Coding for Digital Humanities

Course Outline: THIS COURSE REQUIRES BASIC PROGRAMMING SKILLS (understanding of what variables are, the basic structure of for loops, Python indexing and slicing of iterables). Half the content will be on-demand videos, and the other half (Thursday classes) will be mostly in-class with the possibility of some "F2F" classes taking place on Zoom.

In this course, students will expand on their programming skills from a digital humanities perspective. This course is a continuation of the Python Programming for Digital Humanities course from the previous semester, but the focus is on the application as much as intermediate programming skills. We will focus on Python pandas for data analysis and data manipulation and use matplotlib for visualization. We will also learn about version control using git. The latter half of the course focuses on social media analysis including network analysis, topic modeling, and sentiment analysis.
It is strongly recommended that students have taken the intermediate course "Python Programming for Digital Humanities" or a similar one before taking this course. A background in R/Java/C/Perl/Ruby and a willingness to learn Python would also cover these prerequisites. THIS COURSE REQUIRES BASIC PROGRAMMING SKILLS
NB! This is not a sociology course on social media. This is an applied programming course.

Objectives: After this course, students will be able to work on their own data analysis projects and have a thorough knowledge of how they can use these skills for social media analysis.
The students will also deepen their knowledge of the Python programming language.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction & Python refresher (on-demand)

A refresher on Python fundamentals. Homework related to code literacy.

Vol. 2 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol. 3 Dataframes in Python with Pandas (on-demand)

What are dataframes and how are they useful? We learn to manipulate and transform data using pandas.

Vol. 4 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol. 5 Manipulating and converting data with pandas (on-demand)

The focus is on converting, transforming, and manipulating data to fit our needs.

Vol. 6 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol. 7 Advanced grouping and sorting of data with pandas (on-demand)

We use groupby and different sorting and filtering tools to get insights from our data

Vol. 8 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol. 9 Visualization (on-demand)

We use matplotlib with pandas to visualize our data.

Vol.10 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol.11 The basics and the ethics of scraping data (on-demand)

We look at some basic scraping techniques and what kind of data is OK to collect and how to collect it legally.

Vol.12 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol.13 Exploratory data analysis in practice (on-demand)

We look at practical data analysis. We also go through model solutions for the take-home midterm exam.

Vol.14 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol.15 Social Media Analysis and NLP (on-demand)

Introduction to social media analysis and NLP (natural language processing) methods. We focus on understanding how and why to tokenize, lemmatize, and remove stopwords with spaCy.

Vol.16 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol.17 Network analysis I (on-demand)

The theoretical basis for network analysis and basic network analysis with networkx.

Vol.18 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol.19 Network analysis II (on-demand)

More advanced network analysis with networkx. How to visualize different groups of social media users.

Vol.20 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol.21 Topic modeling (on-demand)

What is topic modeling and how to do LDA-based topic modeling

Vol.22 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol.23 Introduction to machine learning (on-demand)

NFM-based topic modeling.

Vol.24 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol.25 Sentiment analysis I (on-demand)

Introduction to machine learning

Vol.26 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Vol.27 Sentiment analysis II (on-demand)

Introduction to sentiment analysis

Vol.28 Tutorial class

We will solve programming problems together.

Language: English

Textbooks: E. Ohman. 2024. Introduction to Text Analytics: A Guide for Digital Humanities & Social Sciences. Sage Publications.

References: Bird, S., Klein, E. and Loper, E., 2009. Natural language processing with Python: analyzing text with the natural language toolkit. ″ O'Reilly Media, Inc.″. (available on https://www.nltk.org/book/)

McKinney, W., 2012. Python for data analysis: Data wrangling with Pandas, NumPy, and IPython. ″ O'Reilly Media, Inc.″.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	20	Pandas midterm
Papers:	70	Your own social media analysis project
Class	10	Active participation in class and assignments

contribution：

Note/URL：

Half the content will be on-demand videos, the other half (Thursday classes) will be in person with the occasional Zoom session. It is not possible to take this course online-only.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU46900|01|210CU46900[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Topics in Spanish America (Spanish) 01
Instructor	MATO, Shigeko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Spanish American Cultural Encounters (Course in Spanish)

Course Outline: This course will be taught in a Face-to-Face format.
This course will be taught in Spanish.
There is no prerequisite for this course.
Those who have not taken Topics in Spanish America (English) CAN take this course.
Students can take both courses in any order they like. Students must have at least an advanced-intermediate level of Spanish. Reading materials and class discussions will be in Spanish.

In this course, we will analyze the concepts and phenomena of cultural encounters and border-crossings in Spanish American societies, mainly through some of the fundamental works that were produced in the 20th and 21st centuries. We will examine where and how we can observe the phenomena and processes of cultural encounters and border-crossings in the texts and explore the meaning of each aspect of these phenomena within a specific socio-historical and political context. Throughout this course, we will contemplate the following key questions. How a culture travels and encounters with another? How does it change its shape upon encountering with other cultures? Is it possible to have the concept of a return to "the original" point of departure or the concept of "authenticity"?

Objectives: Students should be able to:
Develop and broaden their knowledge of the concept of cultural encounters and border-crossings within the context of Spanish America:
Develop and improve the ability to critically analyze literary, cultural, and artistic works
Reinforce the ability to articulate ideas and opinions in an oral and written academic from.
Reinforce the ability to listen to and analyze different perspectives and interpretations in a logical and critical way.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you should read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle or distributed in class before you come to class. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. You should be prepared to actively participate in class discussions and engage in other in-class activities. You should turn in assignments on time. You should also spend 90-120 minutes for reviewing class discussions after each class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

What is Spanish America?

This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class. Introduction: What is Spanish America? Latinoamérica" (Song by Calle 13)

The Conquest and Colonization

The Conquest and Colonization
"Los descubridores", "La conquista y la reconquista del Nuevo Mundo" en Espejo enterrado

Transculturation

The Conquest and Colonization (Cont' d) Transculturation
Transculturation and "Balada de los dos abuelos" and other poems

Modernity and Identity

"La muerte del tigre" by Rosario Castellanos
The Coloniality of Power (legacy of colonialism)

The Coloniality of Power

"La tregua" by Rosario Castellanos
The Coloniality of Power (Cont'd)

The Coloniality of Power (cont'd)

"Chac Mool" by Carlos Fuentes
Mexican Modernity and Identity

Mid-term examination

Mid-term examination
Examination of the conquest and colonization of Spanish America and formation of transcultural identity

Border literature

Y no se lo tragó la tierra by Tomás Rivera What is a border literature? Race, ethnicity, class, and gender

Border Identity and Language

Y no se lo tragó la tierra (Cont'd)Border identity and language

Marginal Stories

Y no se lo tragó la tierra (Cont'd)Recovery of marginal stories

Idealization of the Marginal?

Y no se lo tragó la tierra (Cont'd)Idealization of the marginal?

Film: Comparative Exploration

Film Y no se tragó la tierra Comparative exploration
Student presentations

Japanese Immigration to Peru

Japanese immigration to Peru and reverse migrationJapanese Peruvian workers' dekasegi storiesStudent presentations

Final examination

Final examination Examination of the relationships between migration and literature

Language:	Spanish
Textbooks:	Rivera, Tomás. Y no se tragó la tierra. Arte Publico Pr; Bilingual edition (2015/9/30) ISBN-10 : 1558858156
References:	To be announced in class.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	50	Mid-term examination 25% Final examination 25%
Papers:	30	Written term paper 25% Presentation 5%
Class contribution:	20	Participation 5%, Preparation (Written and oral comments) 15%

Note/URL: More complete and detailed syllabus will be distributed during the first week of class. The schedule above is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU46900|51|210CU46900[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Topics in Spanish America (Spanish) 51
Instructor	MATO, Shigeko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Mon.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Spanish American Cultural Encounters (Course in Spanish)

Course Outline: This course will be taught in a Face-to-Face format.
This course will be taught in Spanish.
There is no prerequisite for this course.
Those who have not taken Topics in Spanish America (English) CAN take this course.
Students can take both courses in any order they like. Students must have at least an advanced-intermediate level of Spanish. Reading materials and class discussions will be in Spanish.

In this course, we will analyze the concepts and phenomena of cultural encounters and border-crossings in Spanish American societies, mainly through some of the fundamental works that were produced in the 20th and 21st centuries. We will examine where and how we can observe the phenomena and processes of cultural encounters and border-crossings in the texts and explore the meaning of each aspect of these phenomena within a specific socio-historical and political context. Throughout this course, we will contemplate the following key questions. How a culture travels and encounters with another? How does it change its shape upon encountering with other cultures? Is it possible to have the concept of a return to "the original" point of departure or the concept of "authenticity"?

Objectives: Students should be able to:
Develop and broaden their knowledge of the concept of cultural encounters and border-crossings within the context of Spanish America:
Develop and improve the ability to critically analyze literary, cultural, and artistic works
Reinforce the ability to articulate ideas and opinions in an oral and written academic from.
Reinforce the ability to listen to and analyze different perspectives and interpretations in a logical and critical way.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you should read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle or distributed in class before you come to class. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. You should be prepared to actively participate in class discussions and engage in other in-class activities. You should turn in assignments on time. You should also spend 90-120 minutes for reviewing class discussions after each class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

What is Spanish America?

This schedule is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class. Introduction:
What is Spanish America? Latinoamérica" (Song by Calle 13)

The Conquest and Colonization

The Conquest and Colonization
"Los descubridores", "La conquista y la reconquista del Nuevo Mundo" en Espejo enterrado

Transculturation

The Conquest and Colonization (Cont' d) Transculturation
Transculturation and "Balada de los dos abuelos" and other poems

Modernity and Identity

"La muerte del tigre" by Rosario Castellanos
The Coloniality of Power (legacy of colonialism)

The Coloniality of Power

"La tregua" by Rosario Castellanos
The Coloniality of Power (Cont'd)

The Coloniality of Power (cont'd)

"Chac Mool" by Carlos Fuentes
Mexican Modernity and Identity

Mid-term examination

Mid-term examination
Examination of the conquest and colonization of Spanish America and formation of transcultural identity

Border literature

Y no se lo tragó la tierra by Tomás Rivera What is a border literature? Race, ethnicity, class, and gender

Border Identity and Language

Y no se lo tragó la tierra (Cont'd)Border identity and language

Marginal Stories

Y no se lo tragó la tierra (Cont'd)Recovery of marginal stories

Idealization of the Marginal?

Y no se lo tragó la tierra (Cont'd)Idealization of the marginal?

Film: Comparative Exploration

Film Y no se lo tragó la tierra Comparative exploration
Student presentations

Japanese Immigration to Peru

Japanese immigration to Peru and reverse migrationJapanese Peruvian workers' dekasegi storiesStudent presentations

Final examination

Final examination Examination of the relationships between migration and literature

Language: Spanish

Textbooks: Rivera, Tomás. Y no se tragó la tierra.
Arte Publico Pr; Bilingual edition (2015/9/30)
ISBN-10 : 1558858156

References: To be announced in class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	50	Mid-term examination 25% (In class) Final examination 25% (In class)
Papers:	30	Written term paper 25% Presentation 5%
Class contribution:	20	Participation 5%, Preparation (Written and oral comments [in class]) 15%

Note/URL: More complete and detailed syllabus will be distributed during the first week of class. The schedule above is provisional and subject to changes depending on the rhythm of the class.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU47100|01|210CU47100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Intellectual History of Contemporary Korea 01
Instructor	LEE, Bong Kyu
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is a Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) course in English and Korean to examine how Korean intellectuals and citizens responded to various political, economic, social, and cultural issues after liberation in 1945, and to research and present the thought/practice of selected major figures or groups in Korea and abroad. The intellectual history course deals not only with contemporary Korean history itself, but also with the cultural Cold War, the Korean War, modernization theory, democratic movement ideas etc. in a global context. Most of the readings will be in English, with a few exceptions. Class lectures and communication will be mostly in Korean, with readings in both English and Korean to achieve the goal of the CLIL course.

Objectives: The purpose of this course is both to improve students' language skills to communicate academic ideas in Korean and to analyze the topic of contemporary Korean history from the perspective of intellectual history. The instructor leads the students comprehending the topics, approaches, and contentions with critical perspective. Finally, students can improve their ability to express their critical, creative opinions on each topic of the class in Korean.

before/after course of study: Preliminary knowledge of Korean history and society is desirable but not essential for this course. However, students should have the capability to approach each class topic with in-depth analysis. Intermediate (or lower) level of Korean language ability is required to attend a lecture and participate in a discussion.
Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 60 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回

Introduction

第2回

Intellectual Understanding of the Formation of the Government of South and North Korea (1945-53) : Various Views of the New Government, Constitution, Land ReformBruce Cumings, Chap. 4, Korea's Place in the Sun: A Modern History (Updated Edition), W.W. Norton& Company, 2005.

第3回

Intellectual Understanding of Social, Cultural Transformation: Cold war in East Asia, Anti-communism, Korean War
M. Robinson, "Liberation, Civil War, and Division," Korea's Twentieth-Century Odyssey: A Short History, Univ.of Hawaii Press, 2007

第4回

Preliminary report on selected topic
Student Presentation and Feedback

第5回

[Presentation] The Intellectual beyond borders: Ernest Frankel, from Europe to US, and Korea
Udi Greenberg, Introduction & Chap. 2, The Weimar Century, Princeton Univ. Press, 2014

第6回

[Presentation] Early Period of North Korea
Kim, Suzy, Everyday Life in the North Korean Revolution, 1945-1950, Cornell University Press, 2013. 1-41.

第7回

[Presentation] North and South Korean Occupation and Mobilization Policies
Kim, Dongchoon, "4. The State as God: North and South Korean Occupation and Mobilization Policies During the Korean War," Hyunjoo Kim et al. eds., Toward Democracy: South Korean Culture and Society, 1945-1980, Institute of East Asian Studies, University of California, Berkeley, 2020

第8回

Intellectual understanding of South Korea after Korean War: change of intellectual discourses after Korean War

第9回

[Presentation] Modernization theory and Disciplines of Social Science, and University
Ron Robin, Part 1 & Chap. 7, 8, The Making of the Cold War Enemy, Princeton Univ. Press, 2001

第10回

[Presentation] US Cultural Cold War Policy and Universities in Korea/Japan
Gregg Brazinsky, Introduction & Chap. 2, Nation Building in South Korea, Univ. of North Carolina Press, 2007 Takeshi Matsuda, Introduction & Chap. 7, 8, Soft Power and Its Perils, Stanford University Press, 2007.

第11回

[Presentation] Democratic Movement of Korea
Boduerae Kwon, "The April Revolution and the May Coup: The Topos of Liberty and Bread," Hyunjoo Kim et al. eds., Toward Democracy: South Korean Culture and Society, 1945-1980, Institute of East Asian Studies, University of California, Berkeley, 2020Paul Chang, "The Rise and Fall of the Student Movement," Protest Dialectics: State Repression and South Korea's Democracy Movement: 1970-1979, Stanford University Press, 2015.

第12回

Intellectual understanding of Park Chung-hee era

第13回

[Presentation] Military coup force sand Manchukuo as an Origin
강상중 현무암 기시 노부스케와 박정희 책과함께 2012 (in Korean)John Delury, "The Kishi Effect: A Political Genealogy of Japan-ROK Relations," Asian Perspective 39-3, 2015

第14回

[Presentation] Conclusion, Intellectual Features of South Korean History
Kim, Gunwoo, "The Intellectual Landscape of 1964," Hyunjoo Kim et al. eds., Toward Democracy: South Korean Culture and Society, 1945-1980, Institute of East Asian Studies, University of California, Berkeley, 2020Gregg Brazinsky, Chap. 6, Nation Building in South Korea,Univ. of North Carolina Press, 2007

Language: English/Korean

References: See Course Schedule

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Papers:	40	Final Essay (40%): Students will evaluate one or more articles from their own perspective on the topic. 1.5-line spacing, 12-point font, 3,500-4,000 words (in English) or 6,500-7,000 characters (in Korean) in length (A bibliography is essential and not included in the word count). Primary evaluation criteria are well-organized writing with critical commentary, and punctuality.
Class contribution:	30	Weekly Reading Response Papers (20%): All participants of the class must upload 80-100 words for each of the 1-2 reading questions in the specified week. How to submit the weekly assignments will be announced in the first class. (If you submit the responses without reading the materials, your submission may not be counted.) Participation (10%): Questions, comments, attendance, and other contributions to class discussion will be graded.
Others:	30	Individual Presentation (30%): Each participant will present during one of the class sessions and provide supplementary slides and/or visual materials, e.g., Prezi, Power Point, etc. Primary evaluation criteria are organization, content, delivery, and punctuality.

Note/URL: The final syllabus will be announced at the first session of the course. The schedule may be adjusted slightly depending on the number of students in the class and their interests.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU47200|51|210CU47200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	APM- Recent Research in Korean Studies 51
Instructor	LEE, Bong Kyu
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is a Content and Language IntegratedLearning (CLIL) course in English and Korean to explore recent literature inKorean Studies. The scope of Korean Studies is constantly expanding, and wewill cover topics such as the changing functions and roles of universities andintellectuals in the 20th century, discourses and practices surrounding humanrights, Cold War social sciences, and minorities in Korea. This course willallow you to understand the current features of research in Korean Studies aswell as its relevance and uniqueness to the foreign research literature. Classlectures and communication will be mostly in Korean, with readings in bothEnglish and Korean to achieve the goal of a CLIL course.

Objectives: The purpose of this course is both to improve students' language skills to communicate academic ideas in Korean and to analyze the selected topic of Korean studies. The instructor leads the students comprehending the topics, approaches, and contentions with a critical perspective. Finally, students can improve their ability to express their creative, detailed opinions on each topic of the class in Korean.

before/after course of study: Preliminary knowledge of Korean history and society is not essential to take this course. However, students should have the capability to approach each class topic with in-depth analysis. Intermediate level of Korean language ability is required to attend a lecture and participate in a discussion.
Students are expected to read the assigned materials, participate in classroom discussion, and take in-class mini exams. The preparation and review are expected to take at least 90-120 minutes each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回
Introduction
第2回
Korea Universities in 20th century 1
第3回
Korea Universities in 20th century 2
第4回
Korea Universities in 20th century 3
第5回
Discourse and Practice of Human Right1
第6回
Discourse and Practice of Human Right 2
第7回
Discourse and Practice of Human Right 3
第8回
Cold War Social Science 1
第9回
Cold War Social Science 2
第10回
Cold War Social Science 3
第11回
Minority in 20th Century 1
第12回
Minority in 20th Century 2

第13回
Minority in 20th Century 3
第14回
Conclusion

Language: English/Korean

Textbooks: Materials will be distributed in the class.

References: Jeong Jong-hyun, Chōsenjin in the Imperial University, Humanist, 2019
Kang Myung-sook, The Era of University and the Undergraduates, Seohaemunjip, 2018
, Critical Review of History No. 146, Yoksabipyungsa, 2024; , Critical Review of History No. 143, Yoksabipyungsa, 2023
Lee, Bong-kyu, Discourse of human management and development in the social sciences of 1960s Korea, Doctoral Dissertation of Korean History, Yonsei University, 2023
Kim Dae-hyun, The knowledge and institutions of gender/sexual norms and the formation of antisociality in Korea, 1948-1972, Doctoral Dissertation of Korean History, Yonsei University, 2023

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: 1. Final Essay (50%): Students will evaluate one or more articles from their own perspective on the topic. 1.5-line spacing, 12-point font, 3,000-3,500 words (in English) or 6,500-7,000 characters (in Korean) in length (A bibliography is essential and not included in the word count). Primary evaluation criteria are well-organized writing with critical commentary, and punctuality
2. Individual Presentation (30%): participant who presents during one of the class sessions is required to provide supplemental slides and/or visual materials, e.g., Prezi, Power Point, etc. Primary evaluation criteria are organization, content, delivery, and punctuality. Presentation about 20-30 minutes long.
3. Reading Response Papers (10%): All participants of the class must upload 80-100 words for each of the 1-2 reading questions in the specified week. How to submit the assignments will be announced in the first class. (If you submit the responses without reading the materials, your submission may not be counted.)
4. Participation (10%): Questions, comments, attendance, and other contributions to class discussion will be graded.

Note/URL: The final syllabus will be announced in the firstclass session and may be changed depending on the number of students, etc.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|01|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 01
Instructor	ASO, Takashi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Race and Ethnicity in American Popular Culture

Course Outline: This course is designed to help students to understand the United States in terms of race and ethnic relations. In particular we will focus on pop music and films from the 1960s to the present: the 1960s, because it was the decade when racial and ethnic minorities as well as sexual minorities were getting more and more active socially and politically, and the 1970s and after, because more people started to pay attention what is today known as "DEI," that is, "diversity, equality, and inclusion."
Our purpose in the class is to understand historical settings in which people's awareness of these issues are raised and also to think about where we are heading in the future.

Objectives: To understand the United States in terms of race and ethnic relations.

before/after course of study: Students must read papers related to their thesis before each class and prepare presentations. Consistent exploration and examination of the library and online sources is essential. So, studying before and after each class takes more than 120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Class 1] Introduction
[Class 2] Popular culture in American history #1
[Class 3] Popular culture in American history #2
[Class 4] The 1960s: Counterculture
[Class 5] The 1960s: Psychedelic Culture
[Class 6] The 1960s: The Asian American Movement
[Class 7] The 1970s: Anti-War Movement
[Class 8] The 1970s: After Vietnam
[Class 9] The 1970s: Disco & Hip Hop Culture
[Class 10] The 1980s: Reaganomics and Consumerism
[Class 11] The 1980s: MTV Generation
[Class 12] The 1990s: The Clash of Civilizations
[Class 13] The 1990s: Digitalization and Globalization
[Class 14] Conclusion

Language: English

Textbooks: Details will be notified in the class.

References: To be notified in the class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	30	Term Paper
Class contribution:	70	Attendance and Presentations

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|02|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 02
Instructor	BERNARD, Rosemarie
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	;ampus] Hybrid (over 50% of classes on-cai
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Love, Sex and Marriage Law

Course Outline: This semester will continue our discussion of Anthropology and Sociology of Law. Our focus this semester will be the Legal Anthropology of Sex and Marriage. The interpretation and application (or evasion) of family law, and the imagination of law as it applies to the regulation of sex will be explored in three geographical contexts: Japan, Iran, and southern Spain among Roma (Gypsy) communities. The course will also deal with the role of judges and the courts in the adjudication of cases and the production of jurisprudence.

Objectives: To acquire an anthropological perspective for application to the analysis of law and social and cultural phenomena.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule 1:Vol. 1 Juridical and Anthropological Approaches to the Law of Family and Sex
Read and Discuss: Mark West, Lovesick Japan: Sex, Marriage, Romance, Law, pp. 1–27.2:Vol. 2 Love, Sex, Marriage and Law in JapanRead and Discuss: Mark West, Lovesick Japan: Sex, Marriage, Romance, Law, pp. 28–104.3:Vol. 3 Love, Sex, Marriage and Law in Japan
Read and Discuss: Mark West, Lovesick Japan: Sex, Marriage, Romance, Law, pp. 105–175.4:Vol. 4 Love, Sex, Marriage and Law in Japan
Read and Discuss: Mark West, Lovesick Japan: Sex, Marriage, Romance, Law, pp. 176–220.5:Vol. 5 Midterm ExamMidterm exam (during class time) and discussion of midterm exam6:Vol. 6 Law and Agency: Temporary or ″fixed term″ marriage in Shi'i IranRead and Discuss: Shahla Haeri, Law of Desire: Temporary Marriage in Shi'i Iran, pp. TBA7:Vol. 7 Temporary or ″fixed term″ marriage in Shi'i Iran: Law and AgencyRead and Discuss: Shahla Haeri, Law of Desire: Temporary Marriage in Shi'i Iran, selections, and watch video, In the Bazaar of Sexes (2017), discuss video
8:Vol. 8 Marriage Law, Official Law, Customary Law, Neighborhood Law: Gypsy SpainRead and Discuss: Susan S. Drummond, Mapping Marriage Law in Spanish Gitano Communities, pp. up to p. 26. Watch film: Bajari.9:Vol. 9 Marriage Law, Official Law, Customary Law, Neighborhood Law: Gypsy Spain
Read and Discuss: Susan S. Drummond, Mapping Marriage Law in Spanish Gitano Communities, pp. 27–91.10:Vol.10 Marriage Law, Official Law, Customary Law, Neighborhood Law: Gypsy SpainRead and Discuss: Susan S. Drummond, Mapping Marriage Law in Spanish Gitano Communities, pp. 93–146.11:Vol.11 Marriage Law, Official Law, Customary Law, Neighborhood Law: Gypsy SpainRead and Discuss: Susan S. Drummond, Mapping Marriage Law in Spanish Gitano Communities, pp. 146–171.12:Vol.12 Marriage Law, Official Law, Customary Law, Neighborhood Law: Gypsy SpainRead and Discuss: Susan S. Drummond, Mapping Marriage Law in Spanish Gitano Communities, pp. 173–200.13:Vol.13 Marriage Law, Official Law, Customary Law, Neighborhood Law: Gypsy SpainRead and Discuss: Susan S. Drummond, Mapping Marriage Law in Spanish Gitano Communities, pp.200–236.14:Vol.14 Marriage Law, Official Law, Customary Law, Neighborhood Law: Gypsy SpainRead and Discuss: Susan S. Drummond, Mapping Marriage Law in Spanish Gitano Communities , pp. 237–245.15:Vol.15 Course Review and Final ExamCourse summary, final exam and discussion of final exam.

Language: English

Textbooks: Textbook available for order at the Waseda COOP:
Susan S. Drummond, ″Mapping Marriage Law in Spanish Gitano Communities″. Vancouver: University of British Columbia (UBC) Press, 2006. ISBN: 10:0-7748-0925-6.

References: Mark D. West, Lovesick Japan: Sex, Marriage, Romance, Law. Ithaca: Cornell University Press, 2011.
Shahla Haeri, Law of Desire: Temporary Marriage in Shi'i Iran. Syracuse, NY: Syracuse University Press. Revised edition, 2014.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 80 Midterm Essay 30%, Final Exam 50%, for a total of 80%.

Class contribution:	20	active participation, including presentations to the group

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|05|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 05
Instructor	DVORAK, Greg
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: One Long Conversation: Transoceanian Approaches to Culture, Gender, and Identity

Course Outline: This advanced seminar provides students the chance to build upon their previous studies of cultural studies, gender studies, and postcolonial studies, particularly in the context of Pacific and Asian regional studies. It also engages with creative representation in film and contemporary art. It is especially an opportunity for mainly students who have already studied with this instructor to apply their knowledge to specialized individual studies around themes of interest in cultural studies. Adding to what has been discussed in previous courses and seminars with this instructor, this course allows students to work toward a senior thesis project in terms of the intersections between gender/identity/sexuality/culture/region/militarism/tourism/race, etc. to further their understanding of cultural studies, gender studies, and Pacific Studies, and to develop their own individualized projects that cater to their particular interests. Since this is a seminar for advanced students, much of the content will revolve around sharing lively discussion that is of mutual interest to all students, and working together on your independent graduation projects.
This seminar is offered in a group discussion-based format, focused primarily around individual student research projects, in which students learn from each other at different levels. All students do shared readings and explore different topics together each semester, and each semester the instructor curates a unique cultural studies/history/gender studies/ethnography theme that we all focus upon. In general, juniors (3rd year students) help to lead the readings about the main theme and work toward writing a general reflective essay on that theme at the end of the semester; whereas seniors (4th year students) present and teach the seminar about the research that they are doing on their respective topics, with the goal of writing chapters toward their senior thesis due at the end of the year. Together, we also will pursue group projects and different outreach activities, as well as possible extracurricular activities, based on the proposals of all participants in the seminar.

Each semester, the collective conversation theme is different, and we cycle through these themes as each cohort passes through the seminar. For example, in previous semesters we have considered "Vulnerable Histories;" "Reading with the Senses;" "Mythologies of the Everyday World," and other themes. In 2020-2021, due to the pandemic, we took on more projects related to global turmoil, vulnerability, trauma, and self-reflexivity as we transitioned to a temporary all online format. In future semesters, we will gradually transition back to in-person classes little by little when it is advisable to do so, but on Zoom we make creative use of breakout rooms to divide students into interesting cohorts based around their biggest interests, to maximize learning. At other points in our seminar, we spend time thinking about urban cultures and communities in Tokyo, sensory learning, contemporary art, indigenous communities in Oceania, queer studies and masculinities, and so on. In the 2020-2021 period, we aimed to welcome guest speakers who were successful contemporary artists in Japan to come and talk with us about the theme of "decolonizing Japan," which gave students unique opportunities to think about how to take action in their own lives and with their own talents. We will continue to pursue such activities in coming semesters as well. We may also connect Greg's students in the Graduate School of International Culture and Communication Studies as well as art students in other parts of Japan that Greg mentors, as a way of expanding our awareness and creativity. As always, incoming new students to the seminar will easily be able to access all of our archived previous readings and discussions and encouraged to learn from their sempai by reading their theses.

Students who have already studied with this instructor are strongly encouraged to join this seminar (especially those who have taken all of the instructor's courses, including first year seminars), while those who have not taken previous courses should first consider taking the instructor's intermediate seminar and other lecture courses, since there is prerequisite knowledge that you should know in order to make the most of this seminar. This is meant to be a lively but rigorous seminar, but only with a limited number of participants, so that everyone can participate and contribute fully. Because of this, not everyone who applies for the seminar can be admitted, and in principle, some semesters allow more students than others, based on the number of students currently enrolled. Please keep this in mind if you apply.

Objectives: Throughout this semester, students will expand upon the nuanced understanding of the core themes discussed in previous courses they have taken with this instructor, in terms of how these relate to the Pacific and Asian region and their own interests. They will also cultivate and hone their abilities to do successful and interesting, stimulating, unique research and writing for their senior projects. You will be expected to utilize cultural studies and gender studies-inspired approaches to problems such as conflict, marginalized groups, vulnerable communities, militarism, globalization, and environment, through readings assigned in the first part of the seminar, and later through independent research toward your senior project. This thesis project will be crafted using unique and interesting methodologies which we will also discuss extensively in our seminar, by doing readings in ethnographic and cultural studies techniques, as well as self-reflexive writing, filmmaking, photography, and other creative approaches.

before/after course of study:	Students will be expected to lead seminar sessions and to present on their work actively, as well as to have prepared for each session by doing the assigned readings. However, this seminar is meant to be a relaxed and friendly environment for the exchange of ideas, so students are encouraged to share whatever insights they have and express themselves creatively. Aside from assigned readings, students will write short essays and conduct their own independent research, all of which will contribute toward their senior thesis project, required for graduation.
Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:	1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)
Course Schedule	This is a two-credit seminar course which will meet once a week for one period; however, since advanced students should be working towards their senior theses as early as possible, we will aim to meet additionally (sometimes individually) and develop a rapport to discuss ideas in fruitful and meaningful ways. Based on the number of students and the backgrounds of each student, we will adjust our semester schedule. All students will be required to do all course readings and to make presentations in groups and individually, based on your individual projects. A detailed schedule will be produced in the first weeks of the semester, in consultation with all students.
Language:	English
Textbooks:	Required: O'Leary, Zina. 'The Essential Guide to Doing Your Research Project.' Sage Publications, 2017. Note: This course is primarily discussion-based and focused on students developing their own research techniques and topics; therefore, some of the material we read will be determined by class participants and the topics we choose together. We will read excerpts of the above required textbooks; however, from session to session you will be assigned PDFs provided via links in a blog and via messages sent to all seminar members. Based on the topics we cover, teams of students or individuals may be assigned a particular book to read and report to the class. In principle, when assigned, most readings will be distributed in PDF form (or via link to online resources) over Dropbox and other online solutions, so you ought to be familiar with how to use these systems. More information will be provided in the first weeks of class.
References:	This course is part of a suite of courses at SILS in the area of gender and cultural studies in Asia and Oceania, which connects to the courses this instructor teaches about colonialism and globalization in the Pacific Islands. Please refer to the courses "Pacific Perspectives on Empire, War, and Globalization," "The Pacific in the 21st Century World," and "Contemporary Intersections of Gender, Identity, and Culture," and seminar courses at other levels for examples of the approach we will use. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with gender studies approaches, postcolonial approaches, and Pacific Studies approaches as much as possible before this course, if they have not yet taken courses with this instructor. Edward Said's Orientalism is one foundational work in this regard that may be helpful. Epeli Hau 'ofa's volume We Are the Ocean is a useful compendium of essays relating to Pacific Islands Studies. One book we will draw from in this course will also be New Keywords by Tony Bennett, Lawrence Grossberg, and Meaghan Morris. Previous readings from other semesters are ALL available via shared Dropbox folders once a student is registered in this course.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)
Evaluation Free-	1) THESIS (separately graded for senior students): All students in this seminar are expected to complete a senior research project resulting in the form of either a full written thesis (word count/pages, etc. are to be discussed, although the minimum be basically the same as most seminars), or a "portfolio," which is a combination of a detailed writing component (less than the length of a thesis) and another kind of media— such as a film, a work of art, a performance, etc. If you choose the latter option, especially, you must discuss this with me at least 6 months in advance of your submission to get approval. 2) ENGAGEMENT (30% of your grade): All students must come to the seminar on time, every week on time at 16:30, unless they have informed me in advance and have a compelling reason to be absent or late. See below. 3) ACTIVE DISCUSSION (40% of your grade): All students must be active and ready to speak, having done the readings or assigned tasks, and prepared to share their thoughts. However, it is wise to really DO THE READINGS before you start speaking about them. Sometimes students like to talk a lot just to distract from the fact that they haven't actually prepared. Base your opinions on proper reading and research wherever possible. 4) SMALL TASKS/READINGS (30%): As noted above, you will have something to read and prepare each week, which will be posted to CourseN@vi. Sometimes I may also ask for a reflective assignment to help focus discussions the following week. Additionally, ALL important previous readings from this seminar, from previous semesters (because each semester is different) are archived on the CourseN@vi page for this class. Sometimes I will ask incoming students to review some of those materials to get a better idea of what conversations have been going on before they came. I strongly suggest that new students familiarize yourself with our ongoing conversation.
Note/URL:	We use Dropbox and other online social media technologies to share our writing and readings more effectively. These are announced in class.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|07|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 07
Instructor	SCHARLOTH, Joachim
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Seminar on German Culture and Language

Course Outline: The ドイツゼミ is the intellectual hub for all students interested in research on the language, culture, society and history of the German speaking countries and areas. Depending on the research interests of students, we jointly decide on the agenda for each semester. We drink handground coffee and enjoy tons of sweets while engaging in scientific discussions. Other activities include out-of-classroom teaching, film screenings, cultural activities and a gasshuku in the summer. Being taught mostly in German and English, the seminar is open for students with a knowledge of German and with the interest of improving their linguistic abilities.

Objectives: This course will deepen not only the knowledge of the German language and society, but also the insight into a variety of features of modern Germany.

before/after course of study: Students will be asked to read scientific or news articles in preparation for each class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] introduction
[Week 2] introduction
[Week 3] discussion on selected topics
[Week 4] discussion on selected topics
[Week 5] discussion on selected topics
[Week 6] discussion on selected topics
[Week 7] discussion on selected topics
[Week 8] presentation
[Week 9] presentation
[Week10] presentation
[Week11] presentation
[Week12] presentation
[Week13] presentation
[Week14] discusssion on selected topics

Language: English/German

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Grading will be based on active participation (50%) and presentations (50%).

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|11|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 11
Instructor	DIMMER, Christian
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Advanced Urban Studies Seminar – Analysing Cities and Urban Life (2nd Semester)

Course Outline: ※Face-to-Face delivery
This advanced seminar is intended for students who have a keen interest in cities, architecture, public spaces and urban life in general. Despite representing only about 2% of the geographic space, cities accommodate currently over 55% of the global population, produce 80% of greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions, consume 75% of the world's energy and 80% of its resources. On the other hand urban areas also generate 93% of the world's patented inventions. City governments face a wide range of challenges: they need to produce prosperity and innovations but also well-being and sustainability. Cities are to be green and resilient but also culturally vibrant. On top of this, cities are integration machines that integrate growing populations from different ethnic, religious, cultural, and socio-economic backgrounds. To cope with these pressing issues, change makers are not only needed in ministries and city halls but also in the business world, in non-profits, independent consultancies, or in academia. This seminar, will provide you with a first step to become an urban change maker.
This 3-semester long advanced seminar offers students the opportunity to sharpen their understanding about urbanisation issues, urban governance, place-making, and the social production of space. In this course students develop an own, individualised urban studies or urbanism-related research project from an initial research proposal (1st semester), over an annotated bibliography (2nd semester), and conclude the course after the 3rd semester with a full graduation thesis. The first two semesters are intended to familiarise students with research methods and the 'reading of cities' through small assignments and lectures on research methods. The 3rd semester is fully devoted to the methodological development of the graduation research project.

Possible research subjects may be sustainability transitions, creative neighbourhoods and social innovators, new urban commons, community resilience, participatory place-making, social construction of space, contestations of public space, environmental and economic gentrification among other topics that help us to understand how socio-cultural, historical, economic and political aspects influence the emergence of cities and communities in an era that Neil Brenner and Christian Schmid have identified as ″planetary urbanisation″. In fact, students are encouraged to approach the subject 'city' from any disciplinary angle, be it social, cultural, historical, environmental, economic, or artistic.

Students are expected to begin the work on their graduation theses at an early stage in this seminar. They will present their own work on a regular basis, and participate actively in the discussion of the work presented by other members of the class. Class room sessions will be supplemented with self-directed urban walks, during which students will learn about different urbanisation issues and different socio-spatial settings. The learning culture of the seminar is similar to that found at graduate school level, with all members, including the instructor, being active co-learners. This seminar will enable students to enter urbanism and urban planning related graduate programs and only highly dedicated students should consider applying.

For students who take this Zemi in the first (of three) semesters the focus will be on exploring different urban settings in Tokyo and familiarise themselves with urban studies research methods. Students will present the impressions of their urban walks in the form of creative, visual essays in class. At the end of the first semester a first draft proposal for their graduation research will be completed.

Students for whom this is the third semester of the Zemi will solely concentrate on the pursuit of their graduation research and the writing of their bachelor's thesis.

Objectives: In this seminar students will ...

(1) ... develop an own self-selected research project that culminates in a full-fledged graduation thesis,
(2) ... acquire substantial knowledge about complex, interrelated urban issues through engaged in-class discussions and urban walks,
(3) ... improve their academic writing and discussion skills as well as hone their presentation skills,
(4) ... learn about research methods, and techniques to undertake an own, self-directed urban research project,
(5) ... build an important stepping stone that will enable students to enter urbanism, urban planning, environmental studies related graduate programs at top international universities.

before/after course of study: Preparing for class by doing the assigned readings beforehand, actively participating in class discussions, and conducting research-based presentations are crucial aspects of this seminar.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Unit 01: Introduction: Course overview

Introduction: Course overview and short summary of Status Quo of Graduation Research

Unit 02: Urban studies research methods VI:

The reflexive Researcher: Questioning your own position in Relation to your Field Project

Unit 03: Urban studies research methods VII:

Going to the Field: Field Notes

Unit 04: Urban studies research methods VIII:

A Different Kind of Ethnography Imaginative Practices and Creative Methodologies: Imagining

Unit 05: Urban studies research methods IX:

A Different Kind of Ethnography Imaginative Practices and Creative Methodologies: Writing

Unit 06: Urban studies research methods X:

The Thick Description

Unit 07: Urban studies research methods XI:

A Different Kind of Ethnography Imaginative Practices and Creative Methodologies: Sensing

Unit 08: Student Presentations I

Presentation of Literature review for individual graduation research projects I

Unit 09: Student Presentations II

Presentation of Literature review for individual graduation research projects II

Unit 10: Urban studies research methods XII:

A Different Kind of Ethnography Imaginative Practices and Creative Methodologies: Recording and Editing

Unit 11: Urban studies research methods XIII:

A Different Kind of Ethnography Imaginative Practices and Creative Methodologies: Walking

Unit 12: Urban studies research methods XIV:

Mapping Public Life II

Unit 13: Urban studies research methods XV:

A Different Kind of Ethnography Imaginative Practices and Creative Methodologies: Performing

Unit 14: Student Presentations III

Presentation and Discussion of individual Research Proposals I

Language : Japanese/Englis
h

Textbooks : No textbook is used. Reading materials will be provided through the Waseda Moodle system.

References :

McCANN, E; MAHEIUS, L. 2021. Everywhere from Copenhagen: Method, Storytelling, and Comparison in the Globalization of Public Space Design, in: HURL, C.; VOGELPOHL, A. (Eds.) Professional Service Firms and Politics in a Global Era. Palgrave. pp. 115–134
LANGUILLON-AUSSEL, R. translated by WAINE, O. 2014. The burst bubble and the privatisation of planning in Tokyo, Metropolitics, 5 February 2014. URL: http://www.metropolitiques.eu/The-burst-bubble-and-the.html
SCHULTZ, H. 2016. Identifying particular places through experimental walking. SPOOL.Vol. #03. Issue #01. pp.57–66
YUKSEL, R.. 2021. Place Branding as a Mode of Urban Governance and Verticalisation, Thesis, CUNY. pp. 19–34
CHUNG, S.. 2020. RE MAP 2 0 in Tokyo drawing on local stories to draw out hidden realities. Visual Studies, pp. 2–17
RUSSELL, C. 2002. Tokyo, the Movie. Japan Forum 14(2). 2011–2024
ATTILI, G. 2009. Qualitative Inquiries and Film Languages in the Planning Field: A Manifesto, in: Sandercock, L. and Attili, G. (Eds.) Where Strangers Become Neighbours – Integrating Immigrants in Vancouver, Canada. Springer. pp. 259–270
SAND, J. 2013. Tokyo Vernacular, Chapter: YaNeSen: Writing Local Community, University of California Press, pp. 54–87
SORENSEN, A. 2009. Neighborhood Streets as Meaningful Spaces_ Claiming Rights to Shared Spaces in Tokyo. City & Society, pp. 207–229
DIMMER, C. 2017. Miyashita Park, Tokyo: Contested Visions of Public Space in Contemporary Urban Japan, in: KNIERBEIN, S.; HOU, J. (Eds.). The City Unsilenced. pp.199–213
CARMONA, M., Commission for Architecture and the Built Environment (Great Britain);Great Britain., 2001. The value of urban design : a research project commissioned by CABE and DETR to examine the value added by good urban design. Thomas Telford, Tonbridge. pp. 29–33; 60–72
MANUEL-NAVARRETE, D. and MODVAR, C. 2003. Stakeholders. in: Bevir Mark (Ed.) Encyclopedia of Governance Volumes, SAGE, pp.917–922
MORRIS, B. 2010. Un/Wrapping Shibuya: Place, Media and Punctualistion. Space and Culture. 13(3) 285–303
REGGIANI, M. 2021. Urban regeneration strategies and place development in contemporary Tokyo: the case of Shibuya Station area. Journal of Place Management and Development, Vol. 15 No. 1, pp. 40–54

YOSHIMI, S. 2011. The market of ruins, or the destruction of the cultural city, Japan Forum, 23:2, 287-300
BOEING, G. 2012. Grand Reductions: 10 Diagrams That Changed City Planning. Online: https://www.spur.org/publications/urbanist-article/2012-11-09/grand-reductions-10-diagrams-changed-city-planning (accessed 23. November 2021).
QUERICA, D.; AIELLO, L. M.; SCHIFANELLA, R. 2017. Mapping towards a Good City Life. Journal of Urban Design and Mental Health 2017;3:3. Online: https://www.urbandesignmentalhealth.com/journal-3---mapping.html (accessed 23. November 2021).
SHANKEN, A. M. 2018. The Visual Culture of Planning. Journal of Planning History, Vol. 17(4) 300-319.
SAVELA, M.; YUEN, C. 2013. Mapping The City- Introduction to Visualising Urbanism & Urban Design, The Chines University of Hongkong.
COATES, Jamie. 2018. Ikebukuro in-between: mobility and the formation of the Yamanote's heterotopic borderland, Japan Forum, 30:2, 163-185
KIYOMI, Y. 2011. Ikebukuro Chinatown in Tokyo: The First "New Chinatown" in Japan, Journal of Chinese Overseas, 7(1), 114-129
BABA, M. 2020. Good public spaces give rise to the emergence of new people. 21.12.2020. Online: URL: https://umekita2.jp/en/life-with-green/276/ (accessed December 1, 2021)
GEHL, J.; SVARRE, B. 2013. How to Study Public Life. Island Press, pp..24-35; Observing the Public Realm: William Whyte's "The Social Life of Small Urban Spaces".
ELSHESHTAWY, Y. 2015. Observing the Public Realm: William Whyte's "The Social Life of Small Urban Spaces" Built Environment (1978-), Vol. 41, No. 3, Books That Shaped Our Thinking (2015), pp. 399-411
NAS, P. J. 2015. Urban Anthropology. in: Wright, J. D. (Ed.). International Encyclopedia of the Social & Behavioral Sciences. Reference Work・Second Edition. Elsivier, pp. 774-782
LeBLANC, R. 2016. What High-Rise Living Means for Tokyo Civic Life, The Journal of Japanese Studies, Volume 42, Number 2, Summer 2016, pp. 315-341

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Class contribution:	20	active in-class discussions
Others:	80	48%small weekly assignments such as 4 short visual essays of 500-750 words (4% each) and 4 short presentations (around 5 minutes) of your visual essays 12%Presentation of research proposal 20%research proposal

Note/URL: It is recommended that you don't take another class in the periods directly after this seminar. One important part of the seminar is to walk different neighbourhoods of Tokyo in order to experience firsthand how space is socially constructed in different places. These walks may take longer than the seminar's allocated time slot.

For those of who intend to take this advanced seminar, please write a short motivational essay of no more than 1500 words. Try to be specific about your research interests and any relevant background information in your application. Have you successfully taken my intermediate and advanced courses before, and if yes which and with which outcome? Or have you taken urbanism and architecture-related courses at SILS or during you study abroad? Have you engaged in community outreach activities? Did you do an internship in a place-making related institution or have you volunteered for relevant organisations? You may also send further materials such as a sample paper, a CV, or other items in support of your application. Please email your application package to: Christian.Dimmer@waseda.jp

If the seminar is oversubscribed the quality of the motivational essays will be decisive and/ or the fact that you already successfully concluded (A+ or A) one of my other courses.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|13|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 13
Instructor	RHEE, Maji Christine
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: The objective of this course is to help students understand Korea and Asia as a region by analyzing universal and particular features unique to Korea different from other East Asian nations. This course is designed to help students enhance their research writing skill. This seminar also focuses on conducting individual research projects. A student is to write a graduation thesis based on his or her research theme. The seminar puts an emphasis on writing. Since writing is a difficult and challenging task, the instructor and students will interactively engage in discussion sessions. For your reference, refer to a sample list of prior research themes: The Notion of Oppa in the Korean Wave, Entropy in Risk Management: A Comparative Study Between Nissan and Alibaba, Patriarchy in Korean Conglomerate Firms, Urban Planning Projects in Japan, A Comparative Analysis of Gender in Korean Proverbs, Glocal Concepts in the Disney Resort, Kafka and Existential Literature, Power Structure in Media, Contradictions in the Kawai culture, Semiotic Analysis on Zainichi Kankokujin, Representation of Zainichi Chosenjin, Higher Education in Japan and in Korea, Language of Accounting Frauds, Rhetoric in Kana and Hangul, Oriental Discourse in FTA and in Korea and Japan, Ideology in Medieval Education for Women in Japan and Korea.

Objectives: This course is comprised of two parts: the first half of the course focuses on theories and the latter half concentrates on the application of theories to social, political, and cultural issues. The theory part will explore theories from social sciences and humanistic subjects and the application part will focus on how these theories can be applied to the historical and contemporary issues in Asia.

before/after course of study: There are no pre-requisites.
Students must read papers related to their thesis before each class and prepare presentations. Consistent exploration and examination of the library and online sources is essential. So, studying before and after each class takes more than 120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Week 1 Korea from Retrospect – Review of Literature on Korea
Week 2 Theory building – Deconstruction and Poststructuralism
Week 3 Korea as a Regional Study
Week 4 Feminist Theory and Women Writers in Korea
Week 5 The Canon and Tradition in Korea
Week 6 Ideology and Hegemony – Two Koreas and International Relation
Week 7 Language and Semiology
Week 8 Postmodernism and the Korean Wave
Week 9 Systems Theory and Ironies
Week 10 Digital Korea
Week 11 Corporate Governance
Week 12 Confucianism and Business in Korea and Globalization
Week 13 Ethnicity – Koreans and Korean Communities
Week 14 Praxis of Japan and Korea in the 21st Century
Submit the completed chapters

Language: Japanese/English

Textbooks: Electronic texts edited and authored by the instructor, supplemented by reference materials will be posted. Reference material will include source materials and secondary materials.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	40	Mid-term Research Paper Final Research Paper
Papers:	20	Writing Assignments

Class contribution:	40	Class Attendance

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|14|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 14
Instructor	YOSHIMOTO, Mitsuhiro
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: [授業実施方法:Face-to-Face]
The focus of the seminar is media and visual culture. Students will work on research with an eye toward their senior thesis, which can be focused on a wide range of subjects including movies, photography, television, digital media, anime, comics, visual art, architecture, performing arts, etc. The seminar is organized around students' bi-weekly research presentations, bi-weekly discussions on critical or theoretical texts relevant to their research interests and topics, and individual tutorials and research consultations. We may take a field trip depending on the students' research interest.

Objectives: --Students will further develop their analytical skill by closely reading theoretical texts.
--Students are expected to finalize a research plan and produce a preliminary version of one thesis chapter.

before/after course of study: --Preparation: students finish weekly reading assignments on time.
--Review: students take notes on class discussions and incorporate them into their own research and thesis writing.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Week 1: Introduction
Week 2: Research Presentation
Week 3: Discussion and Tutorial
Week 4: Research Presentation
Week 5: Discussion and Tutorial
Week 6: Research Presentation
Week 7: Discussion and Tutorial
Week 8: Research Presentation
Week 9: Discussion and Tutorial
Week 10: Research Presentation
Week 11: Discussion and Tutorial
Week12: Research Presentation
Week 13: Discussion and Tutorial
Week 14: Research Presentation

Language: Japanese/English

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	30	Term Paper
Class contribution:	20	Class Participation
Others:	50	Research Presentation

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|15|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 15
Instructor	MATO, Shigeko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Talking about the Spanish-Speaking World

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face
This course will be taught in Spanish, and students are expected to participate in class discussions in Spanish and complete all the assignments in Spanish.

In this course, we will examine some of the most important historical, cultural, and socio-political occurrences of the Spanish-speaking world through the critical analyses of the selected cultural, artistic, and literary texts. We will explore current issues and contemporary socio-political, cultural, and artistic forms of expression produced in the Spanish-speaking world, by discussing how historical memories (the past) are related to the contemporary themes and phenomena. The ultimate goal of this course is to acquire the knowledge and skills to critically observe and express how and why important it is to connect the past and the present within the context of the Spanish-speaking world.
We will discuss current social, political, and cultural themes related to the Spanish-speaking world. Each student will bring his or her own topic to class and guide the class for a discussion. Also, we will examine social class issues (divisions) in Latin America through various readings. More detailed focus for this semester will be given in the first class.

Objectives: Students will
1. acquire and deepen the knowledge about the Spanish-speaking world.
2. improve their critical thinking skill through reading cultural texts related to the Hispanophone world.
3. reinforce their ability to logically articulate ideas and opinions through writing and aural exercises.
4. improve their Spanish language skills.

before/after course of study: Participation is an indispensable element in this class. The student will be responsible for completing the reading assignments indicated in the calendar below before coming to class. The student should be prepared to give meaningful observations, comments and questions in class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Introducción al concepto de cruces de fronteras
La actualidad en las Américas

Travesía de Enrique
La historia de Centroamérica La travesía de Enrique
El papel de la periodista Sonia Nazario
Enrique
La travesía de EnriqueLas causas de la migración
Enrique
La travesía de EnriqueEl peligro y la caridad
Enrique
La travesía de EnriqueEl control y la militarización de la frontera entre México y EE.UU
Borderlands (concepto e historia)
El concepto y la historia de la fronteraBorderlands por Gloria Anzaldúa
Borderlands
Mestizaje y mestíza
Borderlands
La herencia de Coatlicue

Borderlands
Identidad y lengua
Borderlands
El acto de escribir
Borderlands
La conciencia de la mestiza
Borderlands
Poemas de la frontera
Borderlands (continuación)
Repasar y resumir lo que hemos observado sobre Borderlands
Presentaciones
Presentaciones por estudiantes

Language: Spanish

Textbooks: Nazario, Sonia. "La travesía de Enrique." Random House Trade paperbacks. 2006. Translation in Spanish
ISBN-13 : 978-0812975802

Anzaldúa, Gloria. "Borderlands-La frontera: La nueva mestíza." Capitán Swing Libros, 2016. Translation in Spanish.
ISBN: 978-84-945043-2-7

Other reading materials will be distributed in class or on Noodle.

References: References will be given in class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	30	Analytical essays (15%x2)
Class contribution:	20	Presentation for a class discussion (10 minutes) (5%) Active participation (5%) Written comments (10%)
Others:	50	Final project (written essay and oral presentation) Written 40% Oral 10%

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|17|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 17
Instructor	CHEN, Tien Shi
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:
This seminar examines major issue of diasporas and migrants in Asia. Theory of multiculturalism, globalization and contemporary dynamics of race and ethnicity will studied. Topics to be covered will include Japanese diaspora, Filipino diaspora, Chinese diaspora, Korean diaspora, Indian diaspora, statelessness etc. Various issued as education, identity, citizenship, passport, language inheritance and cultural transformation of different diaspora and migrants groups in Japan will be discussed as well.

Objectives:
Expect every participant to write individual report related on migrants and diaspora based on fieldwork.

before/after course of study:
Read related books and articles.
Conduct fieldwork and interviews.
Students must read papers related to their thesis before each class and prepare presentations.
Consistent exploration and examination of the library and online sources is essential. So, studying before and after each class takes more than 120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:
1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
week1. Course Gidance and Introduction
week2. What is Diaspora?
week3. Migrants, Diaspora and Nation State
week4-7. Discussion and case study: Asian Diaspora (Japanese Diaspora, Filipino Diaspora, Chinese Diaspora, Indian Diaspora etc)
week8-11. Discussion and case study: Migrants in Japan (educaton, identity, family, job, marriage, citizenship etc)
week12-14. Group Project and Presentation (Fieldwork, using primary resource may required)

Language:
English

Textbooks:
Chen Tienshi Lara Stateles, (NUS Press, 2024)
Robin Cohen, Global Diasporas: An Introduction, (University of Washington Press,1997)
Wong Siu-lun, Chinese and Indian Diasporas: Comparative Perspectives, (Center of Asia Studies, The University of Hong Kong, 2004)
陳天璽『華人ディアスポラ』明石書店、2001.
陳天璽『無国籍』新潮文庫、2011.
陳天璽他『パスポート学』北海道大学出版会、2016.
陳天璽『無国籍と複数国籍』光文社新書、2022.
Other reading material will be handed out during class when necessary.

References:
Charles Taylor, Multiculturalism: Examining the politics of recognition, (Princeton University Press, 1994)
首藤もと子『東南・南アジアのディアスポラ』明石書店、2010.
陳天璽・小林知子編『東アジアのディアスポラ』明石書店、2011.
Other reading material will be handed out during class when necessary.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:
1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-
Class attendance & Participation, Discussion----50%
Project & Presentation---50%

Note/URL:
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|18|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 18
Instructor	OHMAN, Emily
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: NLP and Digital Humanities

Course Outline: This seminar offers a critical look at data science, data analysis, and big data in particular. There is increasing concern over biased algorithms and how these affect fairness. The social impact of such algorithmic approaches is explored critically from an NLP and DH perspective.
Large datasets are becoming the norm in many fields, and people tend to accept that numbers do not lie. However, there are many ways how dehumanizing data can lead to a skewed or biased outcome. In this seminar, we will explore skewed data, bias in machine learning algorithms, and how to present data “ethically”. We discuss concepts such as actuarial fairness and algorithmic fairness. The concept of open science is explored and explained. Basic programming skills are required.In the fall semester we focus on a SemEval task and learn advanced NLP methods via hands-on tasks.

Objectives: After successful completion of this course, students will be able to explain the core ethical issues with big data and machine learning as well as understand how biases hide in data and what the implications for downstream applications are. Students will also understand why open science is important and be able to explain what digital research ethics are.

before/after course of study: Learning diaries.
The weekly homework will consist of either readings or practical coding projects.
Preparation for the class and the review will each take around 90-120 min.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: The seminar has a 3-week cycle of theory - practice - problem solving. There is a rotating main topic related to NLP and DH for each semester such as topic modeling, sentiment analysis, network analysis, computational literary studies etc.

The broader theme for each term is as follows: Term 1: Philosophy of science and general idea for thesis, Term 2: Thesis outline and setting research questions and timeline, Term 3: Writing thesis

Language: English

Textbooks: Öhman, E., 2024. Introduction to text analytics: a guide for digital humanities & social sciences. (also used on all my other courses)

References: Beer, D., 2018. The data gaze: Capitalism, power and perception. Sage.
Perez, C.C., 2019. Invisible women: Exposing data bias in a world designed for men. Random House.
Ito, Joi. 2019. “Supposedly ‘Fair’ Algorithms Can Perpetuate Discrimination: How the use of AI runs the risk of re-creating the insurance industry’s inequities of the previous century.” Wired.com
O’neil, C., 2016. Weapons of math destruction: How big data increases inequality and threatens democracy. Crown.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0：評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	50	Learning diary
Class contribution:	40	Active participation in class discussions and commenting on other students’ final papers or presentations.
Others:	10	Presentation of the term’s outcomes.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|19|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 19
Instructor	NISHIMURA, Keiko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Research Methods in Communication Studies

Course Outline: While the study of communication historically has had a diverse focus, spanning from speech and theater to film, journalism, and public relations, the importance of critical social science approaches is ever-increasing in today's world, where technological objects and platforms exert a profound influence on communities and communication in all cultural contexts. The goal of this advanced seminar is to introduce students to social science research methodology employed in the field of critical communication studies and cultural studies. It is designed to expose students to ethnographic research methods. Students will learn to produce a list of literature for their literature review, develop research questions, produce preliminary field notes on the issues of their interest, and analyze and evaluate qualitative data.

Objectives: ·Familiarize with the methodological approaches in communication and cultural studies, with a particular focus on the methods for online ethnography.
·Develop an orientation to central subjects, methodological tools, and epistemological questions in communication and cultural studies through reading ethnographic works
·Develop an elementary list of literature for one's own research.
·Be able to engage in a sophisticated and respectful class discussion.
·Apply critical thinking and engage in research at each individual's appropriate stage.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to closely read the assigned chapters before the class, annotating the text on the collective annotation platform. Take notes of unfamiliar concepts, terms, or sections, formulate questions, and bring them to class. Students are expected to make and review the annotation platform for the given text at least twice: upon reading the first time, and right before class. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the week the student signed up for discussion leadership, the preparation is expected to take an additional 60-90 minutes. Students are expected to review the course material for their research project. Reviewing the material in preparation for the research project and paper workshop is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Feedback to peers is expected to take 30-60 minutes after class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
1. Introduction
2. Mobile Methods. Read Büscher, Urry, and Witchger "Introduction: Mobile Methods" from Büscher, Urry and Witchger eds. Mobile Methods (2011). pp.1-19. Discussion Leadership (DL).
3. Studying the Internet 1.Read Hine "Question One: How Can Qualitative Internet Researchers Define the Boundaries of Their Projects?" and Kendall & boyd "A Response to Christine Hine" pp.1-32. DL.
4. Studying the Internet 2. Read Buchanan "Internet Research Ethics: Past, Present, and Future" from Ess and Consalvo eds. The Handbook of Internet Studies (2011). pp. 83-108. DL.
5. Research Workshop 1. Workshop Feedback Due (end of the week).
6. Virtual Ethnography 1. Read Boellstroff, Nardi, Pearce and Taylor "Other Data Collection Methods for Virtual Worlds Research" from Boellstroff, Nardi, Pearce and Taylor Ethnography and Virtual Worlds: A Handbook of Method (2012). pp.113-128. DL.
7. Virtual Ethnography 2. Read Mclelland "Virtual Ethnography: Using the Internet to Study Gay Culture in Japan" (2002). Sexualities, 5(4), 387-406. DL.
8. Research Workshop 2 (on Zoom, Nishimura at AAS-in-Asia conference) Workshop Feedback Due (end of the week).
9. Case Study (TBA, according to students' interests) DL.
10. Case Study (TBA, according to students' interests) DL.
11. Case Study (TBA, according to students' interests) DL.
12. Case Study (TBA, according to students' interests) DL.
13. Research Workshop 3. Research Literature List Due (end of the week).
14. Research Presentation. Final Written Work Due (one week after the last day of class).

Language: English

Textbooks: There is no required textbook for this course. Assigned readings will become available as PDF documents and by other means specified by the instructor.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	Active Participation & Attendance20 Collective Annotations30 Discussion Leadership10 Workshop Feedback10 Research Literature List10 Written Work20
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|51|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 51
Instructor	ASO, Takashi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Histories of Asian America

Course Outline: This course is designed to help students understand histories of Asian Americans where struggles and successes are two important keywords to indicate their social progress. Needless to say, the demographics of Asian Americans consists of different ethnic groups, and each of these groups has undergone a different history of immigration or refuge in the past. In the class, we will analyze how each group has established its respective community in the United States, as we read Shelly Sang-Hee Lee's "A New History of Asian America."

Objectives: To understand American culture and society in terms of race and ethnic relations.

before/after course of study: Students must read papers related to their thesis before each class and prepare presentations. Consistent exploration and examination of the library and online sources is essential. So, studying before and after each class takes more than 120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Class 1: Introduction
Class 2: Orientalism before Asian America
Class 3: The Asian Diaspora
Class 4: The Politics and Economics of Work before the 1930s
Class 5: Asian American Communities before WWII
Class 6: Racism and the Anti-Asian Movements
Class 7: Response and Resistance
Class 8: Americanization and the Second Generation through 1930s
Class 9: Asian American and WWII
Class 10: Asian America in the Early Cold War Years
Class 11: Vietnam War and the Transformation of Asian America
Class 12: Politics and Activism in Asian America in the 1960s and 1970s
Class 13: The Remaking of Asian America
Class 14: Conclusion

Language: English

Textbooks: Shelly Sang-Hee Lee. A New History of Asian America. Routledge, 2014.

References:
Sucheng Chan. Asian Americans: An Interpretive History. 1991.
Kevin R. Johnson, ed. Mixed Race America and the Law. 2003.
Ronald Takaki. A Different Mirror: A History of Multicultural America. 1993.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Attendance & Class Participation 30%; In-class Presentation 50%; Thesis Projects 20%.

Note/URL:
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|52|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 52
Instructor	BERNARD, Rosemarie
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	;ampus] Hybrid (over 50% of classes on-cai
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Topics in Social Anthropology: Witchcraft, Sorcery, Magic and Modernity

Course Outline: This semester will continue our discussion of Anthropology and Sociology of Law. Our focus this semester will be the Legal and Social Anthropology of Modern practices of Witchcraft, Sorcery and Magic. Main questions to consider include: How do modern discourses about Modernity, Science and Rationality oppose themselves to Witchcraft, Sorcery and Magic and to other seemingly 'imaginary' or 'irrational' practices? How, conversely, are Witchcraft, Sorcery, and Magic opposed to, or how do they exist in parallel with, Scientific or Rational understandings of the physical and spiritual worlds? How are Witchcraft, Sorcery and Magic used by people to act, sometimes with extreme violence, against other members of their societies, oftentimes women? How have modern legal systems legislated or handled cases of violence by Witchcraft or Sorcery? How have Social Anthropologists apprehended Witchcraft and Magic differently than governing bodies and their legal systems, and how can anthropological and historical perspectives be used to promote understanding of articulations of modern witchcraft and magic practices in post-colonial contexts?

Objectives: This course aims to make students familiar with the main body of literature in the Anthropology and Sociology of law. Short introductory lectures will be complemented by class discussion and group discussion, presentations and activities.
Generally this class will meet in the classroom for our sessions. There may be one guest lecture. Students intending to attend graduate school in the social sciences, or those who intend to attend law school may benefit from taking this seminar.
All students must read all materials and be willing to be discussion leader for specific dates and assigned readings.

before/after course of study: Some background in Anthropology in general, Anthropological theory or Philosophy useful but not absolutely necessary.
This course generally will meet in the classroom.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule 1:Vol. 1 Magic: classic readings Mauss on Magic and Malinowski on Magic Science and Religion (1948)2:Vol. 2 Magic: classic readings/Malinowski and Tambiah on Magic, Science and Religion3:Vol. 3 Magic: classic readings/Tambiah on Magic Science and Religion4:Vol. 4
Witchcraft: : Classic Readings/E.E. Evans-Pritchard, Witchcraft, Oracles and Magic among the Azande. Oxford (1937)5:Vol. 5
Witchcraft: Classic Readings/E.E. Evans-Pritchard, Witchcraft, Oracles and Magic among the Azande. Oxford (1937)6:Vol. 6
Witchcraft: : Classic Readings/E.E. Evans-Pritchard, Witchcraft, Oracles and Magic among the Azande. Oxford (1937)
7:Vol. 7 MIDTERM8:Vol. 8 Modernity and WitchcraftPNG: History of Social Practices and Law on Witchcraft/Sorcery/ Ethnographic film on PNG Witchcraft9:Vol. 9 Modernity, Magic and Witchcraft/ Readings: Meyer and Pels, Magic and Modernity10:Vol.10
Modernity, Magic and Witchcraft/ Readings: Meyer and Pels, Magic and Modernity11:Vol. 11
Modernity, Magic and Witchcraft/ Readings: Meyer and Pels, Magic and Modernity12:

Vol. 12 Modernity, Magic and Witchcraft/ Readings: Whitehead and Wright, Darkness and Secrecy: The Anthropology of Assault Sorcery and Witchcraft in Amazonia13:Vol.13
Modernity, Magic and Witchcraft/ Readings: Whitehead and Wright, Darkness and Secrecy: The Anthropology of Assault Sorcery and Witchcraft in Amazonia14:Vol.14
Modernity, Magic and Witchcraft/ Readings: Whitehead and Wright, Darkness and Secrecy: The Anthropology of Assault Sorcery and Witchcraft in Amazonia/
Conclusion: Tambiah's "Form and Meaning of Magical Acts"15:Vol.15 Course summary, final exam and discussion of final exam.

Language: English

Textbooks: Textbook available for order at the Waseda COOP:
(1) Peter Geschirre, The Modernity of Witchcraft: Politics and the Occult in Post-colonial Africa. ISBN 978-0813917030

	(2) Stanley J. Tambiah, Magic, Science and Religion and the Scope of Rationality. Cambridge University Press, 1970 (1st edition) ISBN-13 : 978-0521376310
References:	(1) Available in full PDF copy online on various sites: EE Evans-Pritchard, Witchcraft, Oracles and Magic Amon the Azande. Oxford, 1937. (read abridged version). (2) Neil L. Whitehead and Robin Wright, eds., Darkness and Secrecy: The Anthropology of Assault Sorcery and Witchcraft in Amazonia. Duke, 2004. ISBN: 978-0822333456. (3) Birgit Meyer and Peter Pels, Magic and Modernity: Interfaces of Revelation and Concealment. Stanford UP, 2003. ISBN 978-0804744645. (4) Marcel Mauss, A General Theory of Magic Routledge (1952 and later). ISBN-13 : 978-0415253963
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	75 Midterm exam essay 25% Final examination 50%
Class contribution:	25 Class presentations, attendance and participation
Note/URL:	THIS CLASS WILL TAKE PLACE as IN-CLASS sessions. We may have a guest speaker and one or two zoom sessions if necessary. 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|55|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 55
Instructor	DVORAK, Greg
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: One Long Conversation: Transoceanian Approaches to Culture, Gender, and Identity

Course Outline: As with in the Spring Semester, this advanced seminar provides students the chance to build upon their previous studies of cultural studies, gender studies, and postcolonial studies, particularly in the context of Pacific and Asian regional studies. However, this seminar also has a significant writing component to it, geared toward students in the final stages of completing their graduation theses, and this is why there is an additional period of class built into the schedule for final semester students only. Aside from this, like the spring semester, this zemi also engages with creative representation in film and contemporary art. It is especially an opportunity for mainly students who have already studied with this instructor to apply their knowledge to specialized individual studies around themes of interest in cultural studies. Adding to what has been discussed in previous courses and seminars with this instructor, this course allows students to work toward a senior thesis project in terms of the intersections between gender/identity/sexuality/culture/region/militarism/tourism/race, etc. to further their understanding of cultural studies, gender studies, and Pacific Studies, and to develop their own individualized projects that cater to their particular interests. Since this is a seminar for advanced students, much of the content will revolve around sharing lively discussion that is of mutual interest to all students, and working together on your independent graduation projects.
This seminar is offered in a group discussion-based format, focused primarily around individual student research projects, in which students learn from each other at different levels. All students do shared readings and explore different topics together each semester, and each semester the instructor curates a unique cultural studies/history/gender studies/ethnography theme that we all focus upon. In general, juniors (3rd year students) help to lead the readings about the main theme and work toward writing a general reflective essay on that theme at the end of the semester; whereas seniors (4th year students) present and teach the seminar about the research that they are doing on their respective topics, with the goal of writing chapters toward their senior thesis due at the end of the year. Together, we also will pursue group projects and different outreach activities, as well as possible extracurricular activities, based on the proposals of all participants in the seminar.

Each semester, the collective conversation theme is different, and we cycle through these themes as each cohort passes through the seminar. For example, in previous semesters we have considered "Vulnerable Histories;" "Reading with the Senses;" "Mythologies of the Everyday World," and other themes. In 2020-2021, due to the pandemic, we took on more projects related to global turmoil, vulnerability, trauma, and self-reflexivity as we transitioned to a temporary all online format. In future semesters, we will gradually transition back to in-person classes little by little when it is advisable to do so, but on Zoom we make creative use of breakout rooms to divide students into interesting cohorts based around their biggest interests, to maximize learning. At other points in our seminar, we spend time thinking about urban cultures and communities in Tokyo, sensory learning, contemporary art, indigenous communities in Oceania, queer studies and masculinities, and so on. In the 2020-2021 period, we aimed to welcome guest speakers who were successful contemporary artists in Japan to come and talk with us about the theme of "decolonizing Japan," which gave students unique opportunities to think about how to take action in their own lives and with their own talents. We will continue to pursue such activities in coming semesters as well. We may also connect Greg's students in the Graduate School of International Culture and Communication Studies as well as art students in other parts of Japan that Greg mentors, as a way of expanding our awareness and creativity. As always, incoming new students to the seminar will easily be able to access all of our archived previous readings and discussions and encouraged to learn from their sempai by reading their theses.

Students who have already studied with this instructor are strongly encouraged to join this seminar (especially those who have taken all of the instructor's courses, including first year seminars), while those who have not taken previous courses should first consider taking the instructor' s intermediate seminar and other lecture courses, since there is prerequisite knowledge that you should know in order to make the most of this seminar. This is meant to be a lively but rigorous seminar, but only with a limited number of participants, so that everyone can participate and contribute fully. Because of this, not everyone who applies for the seminar can be admitted, and in principle, some semesters allow more students than others, based on the number of students currently enrolled. Please keep this in mind if you apply.

Objectives: Throughout this semester, students will expand upon the nuanced understanding of the core themes discussed in previous courses they have taken with this instructor, in terms of how these relate to the Pacific and Asian region and their own interests. They will also cultivate and hone their abilities to do successful and interesting, stimulating, unique research and writing for their senior projects. You will be expected to utilize cultural studies and gender studies-inspired approaches to problems such as conflict, marginalized groups, vulnerable communities, militarism, globalization, and environment, through readings assigned in the first part of the seminar, and later through independent research toward your senior project. This thesis project will be crafted using unique and interesting methodologies which we will also discuss extensively in our seminar, by doing readings in ethnographic and cultural studies techniques, as well as self-reflexive writing, filmmaking, photography, and other creative approaches.

before/after course of study: Students will be expected to lead seminar sessions and to present on their work actively, as well as to have prepared for each session by doing the assigned readings. However, this seminar is meant to be a relaxed and friendly environment for the exchange of ideas, so students are encouraged to share whatever insights they have and express themselves creatively. Aside from assigned readings, students will write short essays and conduct their own independent research, all of which will contribute toward their senior thesis project, required for graduation.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule This is a two-credit seminar course which will meet once a week for one period; however, since advanced students should be working towards their senior theses as early as possible, we will aim to meet additionally (sometimes individually) and develop a rapport to discuss ideas in fruitful and meaningful ways. Based on the number of students and the backgrounds of each student, we will adjust our semester schedule. All students will be required to do all course readings and to make presentations in groups and individually, based on your individual projects. A detailed schedule will be produced in the first weeks of the semester, in consultation with all students.

Language: English

Textbooks: Required:

O'Leary, Zina. 'The Essential Guide to Doing Your Research Project.' Sage Publications, 2017.

Note: This course is primarily discussion-based and focused on students developing their own research techniques and topics; therefore, some of the material we read will be determined by class participants and the topics we choose together. We will read excerpts of the above required textbooks; however, from session to session you will be assigned PDFs provided via links in a blog and via messages sent to all seminar members. Based on the topics we cover, teams of students or individuals may be assigned a particular book to read and report to the class. In principle, when assigned, most readings will be distributed in PDF form (or via link to online resources) over Dropbox and other online solutions, so you ought to be familiar with how to use these systems. More information will be provided in the first weeks of class.

References: This course is part of a suite of courses at SILS in the area of gender and cultural studies in Asia and Oceania, which connects to the courses this instructor teaches about colonialism and globalization in the Pacific Islands. Please refer to the courses "Pacific Perspectives on Empire, War, and Globalization," "The Pacific in the 21st Century World," and "Contemporary Intersections of Gender, Identity, and Culture," and seminar courses at other levels for examples of the approach we will use.

Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with gender studies approaches, postcolonial approaches, and Pacific Studies approaches as much as possible before this course, if they have not yet taken courses with this instructor. Edward Said's Orientalism is one foundational work in this regard that may be helpful. Epeli Hau 'ofa's volume We Are the Ocean is a useful compendium of essays relating to Pacific Islands Studies. One book we will draw from in this course will also be New Keywords by Tony Bennett, Lawrence Grossberg, and Meaghan Morris. Previous readings from other semesters are ALL available via shared Dropbox folders once a student is registered in this course.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free- 1) THESIS (separately graded for senior students): All students in this seminar are expected to complete a senior research project resulting in the form of either a full written thesis (word count/pages, etc. are to be discussed, although the minimum be basically the same as most seminars), or a "portfolio," which is a combination of a detailed writing component (less than the length of a thesis) and another kind of media— such as a film, a work of art, a performance, etc. If you choose the latter option, especially, you must discuss this with me at least 6 months in advance of your submission to get approval.

2) ENGAGEMENT (30% of your grade): All students must come to the seminar on time, every week on time at 16:30, unless they have informed me in advance and have a compelling reason to be absent or late. See below.

3) ACTIVE DISCUSSION (40% of your grade): All students must be active and ready to speak, having done the readings or assigned tasks, and prepared to share their thoughts. However, it is wise to really DO THE READINGS before you start speaking about them. Sometimes students like to talk a lot just to distract from the fact that they haven't actually prepared. Base your opinions on proper reading and research wherever possible.

4) SMALL TASKS/READINGS (30%): As noted above, you will have something to read and prepare each week, which will be posted to CourseN@vi. Sometimes I may also ask for a reflective assignment to help focus discussions the following week. Additionally, ALL important previous readings from this seminar, from previous semesters (because each semester is different) are archived on the CourseN@vi page for this class. Sometimes I will ask incoming students to review some of those materials to get a better idea of what conversations have been going on before they came. I strongly suggest that new students familiarize yourself with our ongoing conversation.

Note/URL: We use Dropbox and other online social media technologies to share our writing and readings more effectively. These are announced in class.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|57|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 57
Instructor	SCHARLOTH, Joachim
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Seminar on German Culture and Language

Course Outline: The ドイツゼミ is the intellectual hub for all students interested in research on the language, culture, society and history of the German speaking countries and areas. Depending on the research interests of students, we jointly decide on the agenda for each semester.

Among the topics covered in past semesters are:
- Germany's handling of the pandemic and Angela Merkel's communication during the crisis in comparison with other world leaders
- language and society in Nazi Germany
- refugees, migration and challenges for the education system
- gentrification in urban spaces
- framing in political communication
- social inequality in Germany and Japan
- deitary habits, vegetarianism and veganism in Germany and Japan
- the German health system and its digital transformation

We drink handground coffee and enjoy tons of sweets while engaging in scientific discussions. Other activities include out-of-classroom teaching, film screenings, cultural activities and a gasshuku in the summer.

The instructor is aware, that the German level of students, who have not (yet) spent their time abroad in Germany, cannot be at a high level. We will therefore adjust the language policy in the ドイツゼミ to your skills and needs.

Objectives: This course will deepen not only the knowledge of the German language and society, but also the insight into a variety of features of modern Germany.

before/after course of study: Students will read news and scientific articles and write short texts in preparation for each class. Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Week 1] introduction
[Week 2] introduction
[Week 3] discussion on selected topics
[Week 4] discussion on selected topics
[Week 5] discussion on selected topics
[Week 6] discussion on selected topics
[Week 7] discussion on selected topics
[Week 8] presentation
[Week 9] presentation
[Week10] presentation
[Week11] presentation
[Week12] presentation
[Week13] presentation
[Week14] discussion of selected topic

Language: English/German

Textbooks: The necessary course materials will be handed out in class or provided on the internet.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Grading will be based on active participation (50%) and presentations (50%).

Note/URL: The students who may attend this course will be selected by means of documents if there are more interested students than 20.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|61|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 61
Instructor	DIMMER, Christian
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Advanced Urban Studies Seminar – Analysing Cities and Urban Life

Course Outline: ※Face-to-Face Delivery
This advanced seminar is intended for students who have a keen interest in cities, architecture, public spaces and urban life in general. Despite representing only about 2% of the geographic space, cities accommodate currently over 55% of the global population, produce 80% of greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions, consume 75% of the world's energy and 80% of its resources. On the other hand urban areas also generate 93% of the world's patented inventions. City governments face a wide range of challenges: they need to produce prosperity and innovations but also well-being and sustainability. Cities are to be green and resilient but also culturally vibrant. On top of this, cities are integration machines that integrate growing populations from different ethnic, religious, cultural, and socio-economic backgrounds. To cope with these pressing issues, change makers are not only needed in ministries and city halls but also in the business world, in non-profits, independent consultancies, or in academia. This seminar, will provide you with a first step to become an urban change maker.

This 3-semester long advanced seminar offers students the opportunity to sharpen their understanding about urbanisation issues, urban governance, place-making, and the social production of space. In this course students develop an own, individualised urban studies or urbanism-related research project from an initial research proposal (1rst semester), over an annotated bibliography (2nd semester), a midterm paper (2nd semester), and conclude the course in the 3rd semester with a full graduation thesis.

Possible research subjects may be sustainability transitions, creative neighbourhoods and social innovators, new urban commons, community resilience, participatory place-making, social construction of space, contestations of public space, environmental and economic gentrification among other topics that help us to understand how socio-cultural, historical, economic and political aspects influence the emergence of cities and communities in an era that Neil Brenner and Christian Schmid have identified as "planetary urbanisation". In fact, students are encouraged to approach the subject 'city' from any disciplinary angle, be it social, cultural, historical, environmental, economic, or artistic.
Students are expected to begin the work on their graduation theses at an early stage in this seminar. They will present their own work on a regular basis, and participate actively in the discussion of the work presented by other members of the class. Class room sessions will be supplemented with different urban walks, during which students will learn about different urbanisation issues and different socio-spatial settings. The learning culture of the seminar is similar to that found at graduate school level, with all members, including the instructor, being active co-learners. This seminar will enable students to enter urbanism and urban planning related graduate programs and only highly dedicated students should consider applying.

For students who take this Zemi in the first (of three) semesters the focus will be on exploring different urban settings in Tokyo and familiarise themselves with urban studies research methods. Students will present the impressions of their urban walks as visual essays in class. At the end of the first semester a first draft proposal for their graduation research will be completed.
Students for whom this is the third semester of the Zemi will solely concentrate on the writing of their graduation thesis.
The first period will be reserved for the first semester Zemi students and the following period will be used for presentations and discussions of the graduation research projects of third semester students.

Objectives: In this seminar students will ...

(1) ... develop an own self-selected research project that culminates in a full-fledged graduation thesis,
(2) ... acquire substantial knowledge about complex, interrelated urban issues through engaged in-class discussions and urban walks,
(3) ... improve their academic writing skills and hone their presentation skills,
(4) ... learn about research methods, and techniques to undertake an own urban research project,
(5) ... build an important stepping stone that will enable students to enter urbanism, urban planning, environmental studies related graduate programs at top international universities.

before/after course of study: Preparing for class by doing the assigned readings beforehand, actively participating in class discussions, and conducting research-based presentations are crucial aspects of this seminar.¥
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Unit 01: Introduction: Self Introduction and Research Interests, Course overview
Introduction: Self Introduction and Research Interests, Course overview
Unit 02: Screening documentary 'The Human Scale' (2012)
Screening documentary 'The Human Scale' (2012)
Unit 03: What is research? What is a thesis? How do I 'read' academic texts?
Going fundamental: What is research? What is a thesis? How to 'read' academic texts below the surface?
Unit 04: Urban Walk I: Nihonbashi – Marunouchi – Ginza
Urban Walk I: Nihonbashi – Marunouchi – Ginza
Unit 05: Urban studies research methods I: Visual Anthropology
Urban studies research methods I: Visual Anthropology
Unit 06: Presentation of Urban Walk I: Nihonbashi – Marunouchi – Ginza
Presentation of Urban Walk I: Nihonbashi – Marunouchi – Ginza
Unit 07: Urban studies research methods II: Stakeholder analysis
Urban studies research methods II: Stakeholder analysis
Unit 08: Presentation of Walk II: Yanaka – Nezu – Sendagi
Presentation of Walk II: Yanaka – Nezu – Sendagi
Unit 09: Urban studies research methods III: The Morphology of the City
Urban studies research methods III: The Morphology of the City
Unit 10: Presentation of Walk III: Shibuya – Harajuku
Presentation of Walk III: Shibuya – Harajuku
Unit 11: Urban studies research methods III: Mapping Public Life
Urban studies research methods III: Mapping Public Life
Unit 12: Presentation of Walk IV: Around Ikebukuro
Presentation of Walk IV: Around Ikebukuro
Unit 13: Urban studies research methods IV: Urban Anthropology
Urban studies research methods IV: Urban Anthropology
Unit 14: Presentation and Discussion of individual Research Proposals
Presentation and Discussion of individual Research Proposals I

Language: Japanese/Englis
h

Textbooks: No textbook is used in the semester. Reading materials will be provided through the Waseda Moodle system.

References:
McCANN, E; MAHEIUS, L. 2021. Everywhere from Copenhagen: Method, Storytelling, and Comparison in the Globalization of Public Space Design, in: HURL, C.; VOGELPOHL, A. (Eds.) Professional Service Firms and Politics in a Global Era. Palgrave. pp. 115–134
LANGUILLON-AUSSEL, R. translated by WAINE, O. 2014. The burst bubble and the privatisation of planning in Tokyo, Metropolitics, 5 February 2014. URL: http://www.metropolitiques.eu/The-burst-bubble-and-the.html
SCHULTZ, H. 2016. Identifying particular places through experimental walking. SPOOL.Vol. #03. Issue #01. pp.57–66
YUKSEL, R.. 2021. Place Branding as a Mode of Urban Governance and Verticalisation, Thesis, CUNY. pp. 19–34
CHUNG, S.. 2020. RE MAP 2 0 in Tokyo drawing on local stories to draw out hidden realities. Visual Studies, pp. 2–17
RUSSELL, C. 2002. Tokyo, the Movie. Japan Forum 14(2). 2011–2024
ATTILI, G. 2009. Qualitative Inquiries and Film Languages in the Planning Field: A Manifesto, in: Sandercock, L. and Attili, G. (Eds.) Where Strangers Become Neighbours – Integrating Immigrants in Vancouver, Canada. Springer. pp. 259–270
SAND, J. 2013. Tokyo Vernacular, Chapter: YaNeSen: Writing Local Community, University of California Press, pp. 54–87
SORENSEN, A. 2009. Neighborhood Streets as Meaningful Spaces_ Claiming Rights to Shared Spaces in Tokyo. City & Society, pp. 207–229
DIMMER, C. 2017. Miyashita Park, Tokyo: Contested Visions of Public Space in Contemporary Urban Japan, in: KNIERBEIN, S.; HOU, J. (Eds.). The City Unsilenced. pp.199–213
CARMONA, M., Commission for Architecture and the Built Environment (Great Britain);Great Britain., 2001. The value of urban design : a research project commissioned by CABE and DETR to examine the value added by good urban design. Thomas Telford, Tonbridge. pp. 29–33; 60–72
MANUEL-NAVARRETE, D. and MODVAR, C. 2003. Stakeholders. in: Bevir Mark (Ed.) Encyclopedia of Governance Volumes, SAGE, pp.917–922
MORRIS, B. 2010. Un/Wrapping Shibuya: Place, Media and Punctualistion. Space and Culture. 13(3) 285–303
REGGIANI, M. 2021. Urban regeneration strategies and place development in contemporary Tokyo: the case of Shibuya Station area. Journal of Place Management and Development, Vol. 15 No. 1, pp. 40–54

YOSHIMI, S. 2011. The market of ruins, or the destruction of the cultural city, Japan Forum, 23:2, 287-300
BOEING, G. 2012. Grand Reductions: 10 Diagrams That Changed City Planning. Online: https://www.spur.org/publications/urbanist-article/2012-11-09/grand-reductions-10-diagrams-changed-city-planning (accessed 23. November 2021).
QUERICA, D.; AIELLO, L. M.; SCHIFANELLA, R. 2017. Mapping towards a Good City Life. Journal of Urban Design and Mental Health 2017;3:3. Online: https://www.urbandesignmentalhealth.com/journal-3---mapping.html (accessed 23. November 2021).
SHANKEN, A. M. 2018. The Visual Culture of Planning. Journal of Planning History, Vol. 17(4) 300-319.
SAVELA, M.; YUEN, C. 2013. Mapping The City- Introduction to Visualising Urbanism & Urban Design, The Chines University of Hongkong.
COATES, Jamie. 2018. Ikebukuro in-between: mobility and the formation of the Yamanote's heterotopic borderland, Japan Forum, 30:2, 163-185
KIYOMI, Y. 2011. Ikebukuro Chinatown in Tokyo: The First "New Chinatown" in Japan, Journal of Chinese Overseas, 7(1), 114-129
BABA, M. 2020. Good public spaces give rise to the emergence of new people. 21.12.2020. Online: URL: https://umekita2.jp/en/life-with-green/276/ (accessed December 1, 2021)
GEHL, J.; SVARRE, B. 2013. How to Study Public Life. Island Press, pp..24-35; Observing the Public Realm: William Whyte's "The Social Life of Small Urban Spaces".
ELSHESHTAWY, Y. 2015. Observing the Public Realm: William Whyte's "The Social Life of Small Urban Spaces" Built Environment (1978-), Vol. 41, No. 3, Books That Shaped Our Thinking (2015), pp. 399-411
NAS, P. J. 2015. Urban Anthropology. in: Wright, J. D. (Ed.). International Encyclopedia of the Social & Behavioral Sciences. Reference Work・Second Edition. Elsivier, pp. 774-782
LeBLANC, R. 2016. What High-Rise Living Means for Tokyo Civic Life, The Journal of Japanese Studies, Volume 42, Number 2, Summer 2016, pp. 315-341

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Class contribution:	20	in-class discussions
Others:	80	40%small weekly assignments such as 4 short visual essays of 500-750 words (4% each) and 4 short presentations (around 10 minutes) of your visual essays. 5% each assignment 15%Presentation of research proposal 25% research proposal

Note/URL: It is recommended that you don't take another class in the periods directly after this seminar. One important part of the seminar is to walk different neighbourhoods of Tokyo in order to experience firsthand how space is socially constructed in different places. These walks may take longer than the seminar's allocated time slot.

For those of who intend to take this advanced seminar, please write a short motivational essay of no more than 1500 words. Try to be specific about your research interests and any relevant background information in your application. Have you successfully taken my intermediate and advanced courses before, and if yes which and with which outcome? Or have you taken urbanism and architecture-related courses at SILS or during you study abroad? Have you engaged in community outreach activities? Did you do an internship in a place-making related institution or have you volunteered for relevant organisations? You may also send further materials such as a sample paper, a CV, or other items in support of your application. Please email your application package to: Christian.Dimmer@waseda.jp

If the seminar is oversubscribed the quality of the motivational essays will be decisive and/ or the fact that you already successfully concluded (A+ or A) one of my other courses.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|63|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 63
Instructor	RHEE, Maji Christine
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline:

The objective of this course is to help students understand Korea and Asia as a region by analyzing universal and particular features unique to Korea different from other East Asian nations. This course is designed to help students enhance their research writing skill. This seminar also focuses on conducting individual research projects. A student is to write a graduation thesis based on his or her research theme. The seminar puts an emphasis on writing. Students in this culture seminar will have opportunities to participate in academic conferences. Since writing is a difficult and challenging task, the instructor and students will interactively engage in discussion sessions. Themes do not necessarily have to be confined to one region. Comparative studies are welcome. For your reference, refer to a sample list of prior research themes: Patriarchy in Korean Conglomerate Firms, Urban Planning Projects in Japan, A Comparative Analysis of Gender in Korean Proverbs, Glocal Concepts in the Disney Resort, Kafka and Existential Literature, Power Structure in Media, Contradictions in the Kawai culture, Semiotic Analysis on Zainichi Kankokujin, Representation of Zainichi Chosenjin, Higher Education in Japan and in Korea, Language of Accounting Frauds, Rhetoric in Kana and Hangul, Oriental Discourse in FTA and in Korea and Japan, Ideology in Medieval Education for Women in Japan and Korea, The Notion of Oppa and the Korean Wave, and Entropy and Business: Nissan and Alibaba.

Objectives: This course is comprised of two parts: the first half of the course focuses on theories and the latter half concentrates on the application of theories to social, political, and cultural issues. The theory part will explore theories from social sciences and humanistic subjects and the application part will focus on how these theories can be applied to the historical and contemporary issues in Asia.

before/after course of study: There are no requirements prior to taking this course.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Week 1 Korea from Retrospect from a Comparative Perspective
Week 2 Theory building - Deconstruction and Poststructuralism
Week 3 Korea as a Regional Study
Week 4 Feminist Theory and Women Writers in Korea
Week 5 The Canon and Tradition in Korea
Week 6 Ideology and Hegemony - Two Koreas and International Relation
Week 7 Languageand Semiology inKorea
Week 8 Postmodernism and Critical Theories
Week 9 Applying Theories to Issues - From Hegemony to the Korean Wave
Week 10 Nationhood and Literature
Week 11 The Notion of Body in Korean Culture: K-Pop and BTS
Week 12 Business in Korea and Globalization
Week 13 Student Presentations
Week 14 Submit completed chapters

Language: Japanese/Englis
h

Textbooks: Electronic texts edited and authored by the instructor, supplemented by reference materials will be posted. Reference material will include source materials and secondary materials.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	60	Mid-term Progress Report Final Progress Report
Papers:	20	Weekly Writing Assignments
Class contribution:	20	Class Attendance

Note/URL:　国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|64|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 64
Instructor	YOSHIMOTO, Mitsuhiro
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Media and Visual Culture

Course Outline: The focus of the seminar is media and visual culture. Students will work on research with an eye toward their graduation thesis, which can be focused on a wide range of subjects including movies, photography, television, digital media, anime, comics, visual art, architecture, performing arts, etc. This semester, the seminar will not be divided into two sections—one for 3rd and another for 4th year students. At the first meeting, we'll discuss how to organize weekly classes so that both 3rd and 4th year students can get the most out of the seminar. @font-face{font-family:"MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-alt:"MS Mincho";mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}@font-face{font-family:"Cambria Math";panose-1:2 4 5 3 5 4 6 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:roman;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1107305727 0 0 415 0;}@font-face{font-family:Calibri;panose-1:2 15 5 2 2 2 4 3 2 4;mso-font-charset:0;mso-generic-font-family:swiss;mso-font-pitch:variable;mso-font-signature:-536859905 -1073732485 9 0 511 0;}@font-face{font-family:"¥@MS 明朝";panose-1:2 2 6 9 4 2 5 8 3 4;mso-font-charset:128;mso-generic-font-family:modern;mso-font-pitch:fixed;mso-font-signature:-536870145 1791491579 134217746 0 131231 0;}p.MsoNormal, li.MsoNormal, div.MsoNormal{mso-style-unhide:no;mso-style-qformat:yes;mso-style-parent:"";margin:0mm;mso-pagination:widow-orphan;font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman",serif;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";}.MsoChpDefault{mso-style-type:export-only;mso-default-props:yes;font-size:12.0pt;mso-ansi-font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Century",serif;mso-bidi-font-family:"Times New Roman";mso-bidi-theme-font:minor-bidi;mso-ligatures:none;}div.WordSection1{page:WordSection1;}

Objectives: --By the end of the semester, 3rd year students are expected to learn how to analyze and discuss media, film, and visual culture critically.
--The goal for 4th year students is to finish a graduation thesis and graduate!

before/after course of study: --Each week, students are required to read the assigned texts closely, take notes, prepare comments and questions in advance.
--Students are also expected to review the content of each class afterwards, and try to use any part of it for their own research.
--Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Each week, we will focus on one particular topic related to media and visual culture. Last year, we used 石田英敬『記号論講義』as our main text book. We may use this book again, or after hearing the enrolled students' research interest, may choose another book.

Language: Japanese/English

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	50	Term paper
Class contribution:	50	Class Presentation and Participation

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|65|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 65
Instructor	MATO, Shigeko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Talking about the Spanish-Speaking World (in Spanish)

Course Outline: 【Course Delivery Method】Face-to-Face

This course will be taught in Spanish, and students are expected to participate in class discussions in Spanish and complete all the assignments in Spanish.

In this course, we will examine some of the most important historical, cultural, and socio-political occurrences of the Spanish-speaking world through the critical analyses of the selected cultural, artistic, and literary texts. We will explore current issues and contemporary socio-political, cultural, and artistic forms of expression produced in the Spanish-speaking world, by discussing how historical memories (the past) are related to the contemporary themes and phenomena. The ultimate goal of this course is to acquire the knowledge and skills to critically observe and express how and why important it is to connect the past and the present within the context of the Spanish-speaking world. More details will be given during the first class.

Objectives: Students will
1. acquire and deepen the knowledge about the Spanish-speaking world.
2. improve their critical thinking skill through reading cultural texts related to the Hispanophone world.
3. reinforce their ability to logically articulate ideas and opinions through writing and aural exercises.
4. improve their Spanish language skills.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle and distributed in class. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. You should be ready to actively participate in class discussions and engage in other in-class activities. You should turn in assignments on time. You should also spend 90-120 minutes for reviewing class discussions after each class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Introducción: la actualidad y la historia de El Salvador
La actualidad en las Américas y El Salvador
Disparo en la catedral
Disparo en la catedral
La vida del autor y su experiencia

Disparo
La Guerra Fría
Disparo
La intervención de Estados Unidos
Disparo
El arte y la política
Disparo y Film Romero
Disparo y Film
Film discusión
Discusión del film
Las madres de los desaparecidos (Argentina)
Los desaparecidos y los movimientos de mujeres

Cuentos de Luisa Valenzuela
"Aquí pasan cosas raras"
Valenzuela
Otros cuentos Censura y opresión
Los desaparecidos nikkei en Argentina
La comunidad nikkei en Argentina y los subversivos
Los desaparecidos en Chile
Movimientos y luchas de mujeres
Los desaparecidos (continuación)
Repasar y resumir lo que hemos discutido este semestre
Presentaciones
Presentaciones de estudiantes

Language:	Spanish
Textbooks:	Bencastro, Mario. Disparo en la catedral (novela) ISBN 1-5-885-194-1
	Otros materiales serán repartidos en clase.
References:	A list of suggested readings will be given in class.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	30	Analytical essays (2) 15% per essay
Class contribution:	20	Participation & Written comments 15% Presentation 5%
Others:	50	Final project (written essay 40% and oral presentation 10%)

Note/URL: The details of this course will be given in the first class.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|67|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 67
Instructor	CHEN, Tien Shi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This seminar examines major issue of diasporas and migrants in Asia. Theory of multiculturalism, globalization and contemporary dynamics of race and ethnicity will studied. Topics to be covered will include Japanese diaspora, Filipino diaspora, Chinese diaspora, Korean diaspora, Indian diaspora, statelessness etc. Various issued as education, identity, citizenship, passport, language inheritance and cultural transformation of different diaspora and migrants groups in Japan will be discussed as well.

Objectives: Expect every participant to write individual report related on migrants and diaspora based on fieldwork.

before/after course of study: Conduct fieldwork and interviews.
Students must read papers related to their thesis before each class and prepare presentations.
Consistent exploration and examination of the library and online sources is essential. So, studying before and after each class takes more than 120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: week1. Course Gidance and Introduction
week2. What is Diaspora?
week3. Migrants, Diaspora and Nation State
week4-7. Discussion and case study: Asian Diaspora (Japanese Diaspora, Filipino Diaspora, Chinese Diaspora, Indian Diaspora etc)
week8-11. Discussion and case study: Migrants in Japan (educaton, identity, family, job, marriage, citizenship etc)
week12-14. Group Project and Presentation (Fieldwork, using primary resource may required)

Language: English

Textbooks: CHEN Tienshi Lara, Stateless, (NUS Press, 2024)
Robin Cohen, Global Diasporas: An Introduction, (University of Washington Press,1997)
Wong Siu-lun, Chinese and Indian Diasporas: Comparative Perspectives, (Center of Asia Studies, The University of Hong Kong, 2004)
陳天璽『華人ディアスポラ』明石書店、2001
陳天璽『無国籍』新潮文庫、2011
陳天璽他『パスポート学』北海道大学出版会、2016
陳天璽『無国籍と複数国籍』光文社新書、2022

Other reading material will be handed out during class when necessary.

References: Charles Taylor, Multiculturalism: Examining the politics of recognition, (Princeton University Press, 1994)
首藤もと子『東南・南アジアのディアスポラ』明石書店、2010.
陳天璽・小林知子編『東アジアのディアスポラ』明石書店、2011.
Other reading material will be handed out during class when necessary.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: Class attendance & Participation, Discussion----50%
Project & Presentation---50%

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|68|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 68
Instructor	OHMAN, Emily
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: NLP and Digital Humanities

Course Outline:

This seminar offers a critical look at data science, data analysis, and big data in particular. There is increasing concern over biased algorithms and how these affect fairness. The social impact of such algorithmic approaches is explored critically from an NLP and DH perspective.
Large datasets are becoming the norm in many fields, and people tend to accept that numbers do not lie. However, there are many ways how dehumanizing data can lead to a skewed or biased outcome. In this seminar, we will explore skewed data, bias in machine learning algorithms, and how to present data "ethically". We discuss concepts such as actuarial fairness and algorithmic fairness. Basic programming skills are required.
In the fall semester we participate in a SemEval task learning hands-on NLP methods.

Objectives: After successful completion of this course, students will be able to explain the core ethical issues with big data and machine learning as well as understand how biases hide in data and what the implications for downstream applications are. Students will also understand why open science is important and be able to explain what digital research ethics are.

before/after course of study: Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Language: English

Textbooks: Öhman, E., 2024. Introduction to text analytics: a guide for digital humanities & social sciences.

References: Beer, D., 2018. The data gaze: Capitalism, power and perception. Sage.
Perez, C.C., 2019. Invisible women: Exposing data bias in a world designed for men. Random House.
Ito, Joi. 2019. "Supposedly 'Fair' Algorithms Can Perpetuate Discrimination: How the use of AI runs the risk of re-creating the insurance industry's inequities of the previous century." Wired.com
O'neil, C., 2016. Weapons of math destruction: How big data increases inequality and threatens democracy. Crown.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210CU50100|69|210CU50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Culture 69
Instructor	NISHIMURA, Keiko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Research Methods in Communication Studies

Course Outline: Whilethe study of communication historically has had a diverse focus, spanning fromspeech and theater to film, journalism, and public relations, the importance ofcritical social science approaches is ever-increasing in today's world, wheretechnological objects and platforms exert a profound influence on communitiesand communication in all cultural contexts. The goal of this advanced seminaris to introduce students to social science research methodology employed in thefield of critical communication studies and cultural studies. It is designed toexpose students to ethnographic research methods. Students will learn not onlyto analyze and evaluate qualitative data but also to develop research questionsand produce preliminary field notes on the issues of their interest.

Objectives: ·Familiarize with the methodological approaches in communication and cultural studies.
·Develop an orientation to central subjects, methodological tools, and epistemological questions in communication and cultural studies through reading ethnographic works
·Develop an elementary experience of fieldwork through participant observation and interpretation of data
·Be able to engage in a sophisticated and respectful class discussion.
·Apply critical thinking and develop a research proposal of one's own interest.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to closely read the assigned chapters before the class, annotating the text on the collective annotation platform. Take notes of unfamiliar concepts, terms, or sections, formulate questions, and bring them to class. Students are expected to make and review the annotation platform for the given text at least twice: upon reading the first time, and right before class. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the week the student signed up for discussion leadership, the preparation is expected to take an additional 60-90 minutes. Students are expected to review the course material for their research project. Reviewing the material in preparation for the research project and paper workshop is expected to take 90-120 minutes. Feedback to peers is expected to take 30-60 minutes after class.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

第1回

Introduction / Orientation, Perusallsign-up

第2回

Methods in Communication/Cultural Studies
·Read Gray, A. (2003). Introduction. In Research Practice forCultural Studies: Ethnographic Methods and Lived Cultures (pp. 1-10). London;Thousand Oaks, CA: SAGE.·Read: Excerpt (pp.1-5) from Pickering, M.(2008). Introduction. In Research Methods for Cultural Studies (pp. 1-14).Edinburgh: Edinburgh University Press.

第3回

Ethnographic Methods (1)·Read chs. 1 and 2 (pp.11-35) from Gray, A.(2003). Research Practice for Cultural Studies: Ethnographic Methods and LivedCultures. London; Thousand Oaks, CA: SAGE.

第4回

Ethnographic Methods (2)·Read chs 3 and 4 (pp.37-77) from Gray, A.(2003). Research Practice for Cultural Studies: Ethnographic Methods and LivedCultures. London; Thousand Oaks, CA: SAGE.

第5回

Reading Ethnography (1)·Read ch1 "TheEye/I" (pp.3-48)from Kondo, D. K. (1990). Crafting Selves: Power, Gender, and Discourses ofIdentity in a Japanese Workplace. Chicago: The University of Chicago Press.

第6回

Reading Ethnography (2)·Read Introduction (pp.1-28) (optionally ch.1,pp.29-57) from Takeyama, A. (2023). Involuntary Consent: The Illusion of Choicein Japan's AdultVideo Industry. Stanford, CA: Stanford University Press.

第7回

Participant Observation (1)･Read Steps 1-3 (pp.39-72) from Spradley, J.P. (1980). Participant Observation. New York: Holt, Rinehart and Winston.

第8回

Studying Urban Spaces (1)･Read Ch.1 (pp.1-22) and Ch.8 “Home”(pp.159-180) from Kitchin, R., &Dodge, M. (2011). Code/Space: Software and Everyday Life. Cambridge: MIT Press.Studying Urban Spaces (1)

第9回

Studying Urban Spaces (2)･Read Okabe, D., & Ito, M. (2005).Keitai in Public Transportation. In M. Itō, D.Okabe, & M. Matsuda (Eds.), Personal, portable, pedestrian: mobile phonesin Japanese life (pp. 205-217). Cambridge, Mass.: MIT Press.

第10回

Studying Material Media･Read Vannini, P. (2012). Ferry tales :mobility, place, and time on Canada’s westcoast. New York, NY: Routledge.

第11回

Participant Observation (2)
･Read Steps 4 & 5 (pp.73-99) from Spradley, J. P. (1980).Participant Observation. New York: Holt, Rinehart and Winston.･Observation assignment due week after

第12回

Project Proposal Workshop

第13回

Guest Speaker (TBD)･Reading TBD

第14回

Project Proposal PresentationProject Proposal due during the exam period.

Language: English

Textbooks: There is no required textbook for this course. Assigned readings will become available as PDF documents and by other means specified by the instructor.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free- Active Participation & Class Contribution20%
Collective Annotations40%
Discussion Leadership10%
Observation Assignment10%
Paper Workshop Feedback10%
Project Proposal10%

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB20200|01|210EB20200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Business 01
Instructor	POKARIER, Christopher J
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Economy and Business	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Business plays a fundamental role in all societies through promoting prosperity and innovation. This course will first examine the basic nature of market systems, firms, and their governance. The foundations of business entrepreneurship and creativity are then explored; followed by an examination of uncertainty, risk and information problems as pervasive features of all economies. Key functional and strategic challenges in business are then studied: finance, marketing and branding, pricing, incentive design, negotiation, and managing people and operations. The course will feature a range of contemporary and historical examples and students will work together on a business proposal. It will also offer some practical early-career advice.

Objectives: The course will equip students with an understanding of key business principles and issues that will be valuable in any career. In addition, it aims to foster broader SILS learning outcomes such as
+ a participatory mindset through active and collegial engagement with class activities.
+ enhanced analytical reasoning, research and presentation skills.
+ further ability to work independently, through proactive study of video-on-demand (VOD) and written class materials – tested through class quizzes – and collaboratively, through the group project.
+ further appreciation for a diversity of perspectives through class discussions and problem-solving in the group project.

before/after course of study: The expected workload in this course is informed by the norms prevailing in the universities that SILS students very often attend during study abroad, and MEXT policy on student workloads. A modest interpretation, mindful of students' desire for a broader campus and student life experience, implies students taking a normal fulltime load of courses should expect to commit 500 hours a semester to classes and private study in total. This translates in a 2 credit course, such as this class, to an average about 3 hours a week of study outside the lecture time. In order to maximise opportunities for active learning, interacting with classmates, much of the formal content for this course is delivered through custom on-demand videos (VOD). In addition there are third-party (VOD+) materials that are an equally important part of the course materials. The video material takes the place of a textbook, which the course does not have. Active engagement with the class material outside class is therefore a key dimension of learning in this course and subject to evaluation.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
1. Introduction
2. Markets
3. Firms
4. Governance
5. Entrepreneurship + Creativity + Adjustment
6. Quiz (20%)+ Information, Uncertainty & Risk
7. Finance
8. Branding
9. Pricing
10. Tactics + Negotiation
11. Managing People
12. Managing Operations
13. Quiz 2 (30%)
14. Review of project insights & course

Language: English

Textbooks: There is no assigned regular text for this course. Instead a range of supplementary digital materials – videos, links to various resources, and some readings, will be made available via Moodle and are fundamental to learning in the course.

References: Additional links to resources will be made available through Moodle (see Note below)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 50 2 tests in Multiple Choice format, taken offline under exam conditions in the usual class time (currently planned for 20% in week 6, 30% in week 13).

Class contribution:	15	Engagement
Others:	35	Group Project
		(confidential peer assessment to appraise individual contribution)

Note/URL: www.pokachan.com

This site is for general information about my teaching, updates about developments with course delivery modes before final enrolment and other links. Once semester starts all announcements and distribution of class content will be via Moodle. However, if contacting me please use email to pokarier@waseda.jp and not Moodle messaging.

This course is designed on the basis of the so-called 'flipped learning' model, where core content – traditionally delivered through one-way in class lectures, is primarily made available through video-on-demand (VOD), and class time is freed up for more interactive sessions. It requires students to engage actively with brief reading material and the VOD. Much of content on Moodle is in multiple short video mode, covering a particular concept or issue. For each week's topic there is a set of presentation slides, in PDF format, and the videos generally follow the order of the slide set. There are also some third party video materials, primarily documentary examples, and some short readings.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB20500|01|210EB20500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Microeconomics 01
Instructor	SHINO, Junnosuke
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Sat.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Economy and Business	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: ・This course is designed to provide studentswith the tools to understand economic phenomena. In particular, it focuses onmicroeconomic principles that explain the decision-making of consumers andfirms, as well as the interactions between them. The course also examines theroles of markets and differences in market structures and analyzes how marketsfunction under specific structures. In addition, students will learn how theseprinciples are applied to economic policy.

※This class will be taught by a teacher withworking experience and will be taught based on the working experience.

Objectives: ・The objective of this introductory course is to develop an understanding of standard—but essential—concepts in microeconomics. By completing this course, students are expected to master the basic concepts of microeconomics and to be able to independently assess how goods and labor markets operate, how economic policies work, and what conditions are necessary for such policies to function more effectively in these markets.

before/after course of study: ・The textbook for this course is Principles of Economics, 10th Edition, by N. Gregory Mankiw. Lectures will start with Chapter 3. Students are required to read Chapters 1 and 2 on their own.
・Students are expected to complete all assigned readings for each class in advance of the corresponding lecture.
・Homework assignments will be given after the completion of each chapter. Each assignment will cover the entire chapter; however, class lectures will focus only on the most important points and give detailed explanations on them. Accordingly, after deepening their understanding through the lectures, students are required to reread the textbook on their own.
・Both the midterm exam and the final exam will be administered in the classroom and will be closed-book examinations. The use of any reference materials or electronic devices is strictly prohibited.
・Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

[Week 1] Introduction
Part I:INTRODUCTION / Course Map/Grading Policy/Summary on Chapter 1 and 2 of the textbook.

[Week 2] Interdependence and the Gains from Trade
Part I:INTRODUCTION / Chapter 3 of the textbook

[Week 3] The Market Forces of Supply and Demand
Part II:HOW MARKETS WORK / Chapter 4 of the textbook

[Week 4] Elasticity and its Application
Part II:HOW MARKETS WORK / Chapter 5 of the textbook.

[Week 5] Consumer, Producers, and the Efficiency of Markets (1)
Part III:MARKETS AND WELFARE / Chapter 7 of the textbook

[Week 6] Consumer, Producers, and the Efficiency of Markets (2)
Part III:MARKETS AND WELFARE / Chapter 7 of the textbook

[Week 7] Midterm Exam
100% closedbook style: any books or electronic devices are strictly prohibited.

[Week 8] Externalities
Part IV:THE ECONOMICS OF THE PUBLIC SECTOR / Chapter 10 of the textbook (subject to skipdepending on the actual pace of the lecture)

[Week 9] The Costs of Production
Part V:FIRM BEHAVIOR AND THE ORGANIZATION OF INDUSTRY / Chapter 14 of the textbook

[Week 10] Firms in Competitive Markets
Part V:FIRM BEHAVIOR AND THE ORGANIZATION OF INDUSTRY / Chapter 15 of the textbook
[Week 11] Monopoly
Part V:FIRM BEHAVIOR AND THE ORGANIZATION OF INDUSTRY / Chapter 16 of the textbook
[Week 12] Monopolistic Competition/ Oligopoly
Part V:FIRM BEHAVIOR AND THE ORGANIZATION OF INDUSTRY / Chapter 17 and 18 of the textbook
[Week 13] The Labor Markets
Part VI:THE ECONOMICS OF THE LABOR MARKET / Chapter 19 of the textbook
[Week 14] Final Exam
100% closedbook style: any books or electronic devices are strictly prohibited.

Language: English

Textbooks: ・Mankiw, N. G. (2024) Principles of Economics, 10th Edition, Cengage Learning.

※The digital version of the textbook “Mind Tap” is required to purchase because all homework will be provided via Mind Tap. Getting paper textbook is just optional (contents are identical). Detailed information will be provided in the class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	60	Midterm Exam (30%) + Final exam (30%)
Papers:	40	Assignments on the online learning system (Mind Tap)

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB20500|51|210EB20500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Microeconomics 51
Instructor	DAIMON, Leo
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:othersOn demand	Class Modality Categories	[Online] Full On-demand
Course Category	Economy and Business	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: The purpose of this course is to study economists' way of viewing, explaining, and predicting the world. In particular, the course focuses on microeconomics principles that demonstrate the decision making of the individuals, including consumer, firm and individual industry.Much emphasis will be put on applications and polices rather than formal economic theory.

Objectives: Students will learn the essential ideas of microeconomics and will be challenged to apply the ideas to the understanding of various aspects of our economy.

before/after course of study: Spend 60 min before class to prepare for the lecture content and 60 min after class for review.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

The market forces of supply and demand.
The market forces of supply and demand.
Elasticity and its application
Elasticity and its application
Supply, demand and government policies.
Supply, demand and government policies.
Consumers, producers, and the efficiency of markets.
Consumers, producers, and the efficiency of markets.
Utility maximization
Utility maximization
Externalities
Externalities
Mid-Term Exam (online)
open book online exam
Public goods and common resources.
Public goods and common resources.
The design of the tax system.
The design of the tax system.
The costs of production.
The costs of production.
Firms in competitive markets.
Firms in competitive markets.
Monopoly/Game Theory
Monopoly/Basic Concept of Game Theory
Wrap Up Sessions
Review Session (on demand)
Final Exam
closed book

Language: English

Textbooks:	Mankiw, Principles of Microeconomics, 10th Edition
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	90	Final Exam will be conducted at home during the lecture time (period)
Papers:	10	Weekly assignments
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB20600|01|210EB20600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Macroeconomics 01
Instructor	BAAK, Saang Joon
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Economy and Business	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Introduction to Macroeconomics

Course Outline: The purpose of this course is to introduce the macroeconomic way of viewing, explaining, and predicting the real economy. Students will learn the essential ideas of macroeconomics and will be challenged to apply the ideas to the understanding of various aspects of our economy. They will study, for example, "how to measure a nation's income," "what determines economic growth," "monetary/fiscal policies," and "exchange rates"

Objectives: The purpose of this course is to introduce the macroeconomic way of viewing, explaining, and predicting the real economy.

before/after course of study: I will upload lecture notes both before and after the class.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1
Introduction
Vol. 2
Nation's income
Vol. 3
Measuring the cost of living
Vol. 4
Economic growth
Vol. 5
Monetary system
Vol. 6
Unemployment
Vol. 7
Inflation
Vol. 8
Exam 1
Vol. 9
Aggregate Demand and Aggregate Supply
Vol.10
Monetary Policy
Vol.11
Fiscal Policy
Vol.12
Open Economy Macroeconomics
Vol.13
Exchange rate
Vol.14
Bitcoin and Cryptocurrency

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Principles of Economics, 10th edition, G. Mankiw, 2024, Cengage Students can choose one of the following two options when they buy the book at the Waseda coop bookstore. The bundle provides both digital and paper books while the Mindtap standalone provides only digital book. However, both of them provides the access to Mindtap services. ＜Bundle: Print＋MindTap＞ ISBN: 9789000029624 Title: BUNDLE: AE PRINCIPLES OF ECONOMICS + INTL IAC MT ISBN: 9780357990445 Title : INTL IAC MT PRINCIPLES ECONOMICS
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	Students can choose one of the two following options. Option 1: Do homework at Mindtap 1)Assignments (9%): Mindtab (6 assignments will be given using the Mindtap throughout the semester.) 2)Quizzes (3%): The lowest two quiz scores will be dropped, and they are not included in the determination of the final grade. 3)Exam (85%): Exam 1 (40%); Exam 2 (45%). If you miss an exam due to a documented illness or a documented family emergency, a makeup exam will be arranged. Aside from the aforementioned reasons for absence, neither makeup nor early exams will be given. Therefore, please mark the exam date on your calendar and plan your travels accordingly. Please refer to the syllabus for the exam date. 4)Attendance (3%) Option 2: If you do not use the Mindtap 1) Assignment (0%) 2) Quzzes (3%) 3) Exam (94%): Exam 1 (44%); Exam 2 (50%) 4) Attendance (3%)
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB20600|51|210EB20600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Macroeconomics 51
Instructor	SHINO, Junnosuke
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Economy and Business	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: ・This course is designed to provide students with the tools to understand economic phenomena. In particular, the course focuses on macroeconomics that deal with basic mechanisms to determine key economic variables such as GDP, unemployment and inflation. It also focuses on the roles of markets and the difference of market structure, and studies how markets work under a certain environment. The students will also learn applications to economic policies.

※This class will be taught by a faculty member who possess working experience and will be taught based on the working experience.

Objectives: ・The objective of this introductory course is to develop an understanding of standard—but essential—concepts in macroeconomics. By completing this course, students are expected to master the basic concepts of macroeconomics and to be able to independently assess how goods, labor and financial markets operate, how monetary and fiscal policies work, and what is needed so that such policies work effectively.

before/after course of study: ・The textbook for this course is Principles of Economics, 10th Edition, by N. Gregory Mankiw. Lectures will start with Part VIII: THE DATA OF MACROECONOMICS (Chapter 24). Students are required to read Part I: INTRODUCTION (Chapters 1 to 3) on their own.

・Students are expected to complete all assigned readings for each class in advance of the corresponding lecture.

・Homework assignments will be given after the completion of each chapter. Each assignment will cover the entire chapter; however, class lectures will focus only on the most important points and give detailed explanations on them. Accordingly, after deepening their understanding through the lectures, students are required to reread the textbook on their own.

・Both the midterm exam and the final exam will be administered in the classroom and will be closed-book examinations. The use of any reference materials or electronic devices is strictly prohibited.

・Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

[Week 1] Introduction
INTRODUCTION/ Course Map/Grading Policy/Summary on Chapter 1 to 3 of the textbook
[Week 2] GDP and National Income
Chapter 24 of the textbook
[Week 3] Measuring the Cost of Living / Inflation
Chapter 25 of the textbook
[Week 4] Production and Economic Growth
Chapter 26 of the textbook
[Week 5] Saving, Investment, and the Financial System
Chapter 27 of the textbook
[Week 6] The Basic Tools of Finance
Chapter 28 of the textbook
[Week 7] Midterm Exam
100% closed book style: anybooks or electronic devices are strictly prohibited.

[Week 8] Unemployment & Labor Market
Chapter 29 of the textbook
[Week 9] The Monetary System
Chapter 30 of the textbook
[Week 10] Money Growth and Inflation
Chapter 31 of the textbook
[Week 11] Open-Economy Macroeconomics: Basic Concepts
Chapter 32 and Chapter 33 of the textbook
[Week 12] Aggregate Demand and Aggregate Supply
Chapter 34 of the textbook
[Week 13] The Influence of Monetary and Fiscal Policy on Aggregate Demand
Chapter 35 of the textbook
[Week 14] Final Exam
100% closed book style: anybooks or electronic devices are strictly prohibited.

Language: English

Textbooks: ・Mankiw, N. G. (2024) Principles of Economics, 10th Edition, Cengage Learning.
※The digital version of the textbook “Mind Tap” is required to purchase because all homework will be provided via Mind Tap. Getting paper textbook is just optional (contents are identical). Detailed information will be provided in the class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	60	Midterm exam 30% + Final exam 30%
Papers:	40	Assignments on the online learning system (Mind Tap)

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB20800|51|210EB20800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Quantitative methods for Economics 51
Instructor	SUZUKI, Ayako
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Economy and Business	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: The objective of this course is to introduce you to quantitative methods used in economic analysis. The course will strongly stress applications and you will develop the skills to set up regression models, to estimate your models using econometric software, and to interpret your estimation results to test your hypotheses. This course targets students who have never studied quantitative methods before.

Objectives: At the end of the course, students should be able to conduct simple empirical analyses of their interests.

before/after course of study: Students are required to work for their own projects, and it may require them to work outside of class hours. Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each at least.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

第1回
Introduction: What is an estimator?
第2回
Simple Regression Analysis
第3回
Simple Regression Analysis
第4回
Hypothesis Testing
第5回
Hypothesis Testing
第6回
Multiple Regression Analysis
第7回
Multiple Regression Analysis
第8回
Transformation of Variables
第9回
Dummy Variables
第10回
Model Specification
第11回
Measurement Errors
第12回
Simultaneous Equations Estimation
第13回
Final Project
第14回
Final Project

Language: English

Textbooks: No Textbook required

References: Introductory Econometrics 5th International edition, Jeffrey M. Wooldridge, Cengage learning
Using R for Introductory Econometrics, Florian Heiss, Independently published
Introduction to Econometrics fifth edition, Christopher Dougherty, Oxford University Press
[IMPORTANT]
1. Please bring your own PC to class. 2. Please install the software called STATA on your PC from "Download Station" of IT service at My Waseda. We will use this software almost every week from Week 6.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Papers:	30	Final project (accuracy and originality will be valued)
Others:	70	Assignments

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB20900|01|210EB20900[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Marketing 01
Instructor	MORIMOTO, Mariko
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Economy and Business	Eligible Year	1st year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: The course examines principles necessary for developing marketing strategy for customers, consumers, and public, with attention to delineating strategic plans and identifying target markets. Multiple elements of the marketing mix (e.g., product development and management, pricing, distribution, and communication) are surveyed.

Objectives: In this course, students will:
1) understand the role of marketing within society and within an economic system
2) learn the vital role of marketing within a firm and the necessary relationships between marketing and the other functional areas of business
3) consider the various decision areas within marketing and the tools and methods used by marketing managers for making decisions
4)learn key marketing principles and terminology
5) appreciate how a marketing perspective is important in your own personal and professional development before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be required to read the assigned chapters in the required textbook and other course-related materials posted on Waseda Moodle. (The required textbook information will be addressed on the first day of the class.)

Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand contents, or read the referential materials.
The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction

What is Marketing? --- Creating and Capturing Customer Values

Marketing Strategy and Environment

What is involved in a marketing campaign?
Considerations for marketing strategy development

Consumer Behavior

Understanding elements that affect consumers' buying decisions for analyzing and satisfying customers' needs

Marketing Research

Analyzing buyers through a discussion of marketing information systems and learning the basic steps in the marketing research process

Customer-Driven Marketing Strategy

Selection and analysis of target markets for marketing strategy development

Products, Services & Branding

Exploring various dimensions of product/service management and branding

Pricing

Examining pricing decisions that influence other parts of marketing mix

Integrated Marketing Communication

Advertising & Public RelationsExploring the communication process and major promotional methods in promotion mix

Personal Selling & Sales Promotion

Learning about powerful and persuasive elements in promotion mix

Social Media Marketing
Understanding the influence of online social networking and digital media on marketing strategies
Competitive Advantages

The Global Marketplace & Social Responsibility
Focusing on social responsibilities and ethics in the age of globalization
Course Wrap-Up

Exam
Details will be addressed in class.

Language: English

Textbooks: To be announced in class and detailed course syllabus provided to enrolled students.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free- Exam (closed-book) : 60%
Online Assignments: 30%
Attendance/Participation (Lecture attendance, in-class discussion and online discussion board): 10%

Note/URL: In principle, lectures and the introductory session are delivered in-person.
The exam will be administrated during the class time (Japan Standard Time).
Occasional Zoom sessions and/online lectures may be held.
The dates will be announced on Moodle.

A detailed course syllabus, along with textbook purchase information, will be available on Moodle for enrolled students.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB30100|51|210EB30100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Microeconomics
Instructor	SUZUKI, Ayako
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.3@02:Sat.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: The objective of this course is to introduce you to foundations of microeconomic theory, including how individual consumers and producers make decisions and how different market mechanisms operate to allocate resources.
The emphasis in the course is problem solving with use of calculus (rather than graphs and tables in introductory courses). Therefore, the students are expected to have some background in multivariable calculus.

Objectives: As described above.

before/after course of study: A decent work at home might be required (depending on students' background) to understand the material in the course and to pass the exams.

Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: Tentative course map

[Class 1] Introduction
[Class 2] Budget
[Class 3] Preferences
[Class 4] Problem set
[Class 5] Utility
[Class 6] Problem set
[Class 7] Choice
[Class 8] Problem set
[Class 9] Demand Market demand
[Class10] Problem set

[Class11] Equilibrium
[Class12] Problem set
[Class13] Technology
[Class14] Problem set
[Class15] Profit maximization
[Class16] Problem set
[Class17] Midterm exam
[Class18] Cost minimization Cost curves
[Class19] Problem set
[Class20] Firm supply Industry supply

[Class21] Problem set
[Class22] Monopoly
[Class23] Problem set
[Class24] Monopoly behavior
[Class25] Problem set
[Class26] Review for Final
[Class27] Final exam
[Class28] Review

Language: English

Textbooks: Intermediate Microeconomics: A Modern Approach (8th (or higher) International student edition), Hal R. Varian, W.W. Norton & Company, Inc. (2009)

References: Goolsbee, A., S. Levitt, and C. Syverson (2019): Microeconomics (3rd Edition), Hazelbrow Lodge, UK: Worth Publishing.
Varian, H.R. (2014): Intermediate Microeconomics: A Modern Approach (Ninth Edition), New York: W. W. Norton & Company.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)
Exams:	60	Midterm exam 30% Final exam 30%
Others:	40	Weekly problem sets

Note/URL:

1. Students are recommended to have taken Principles of Microeconomics or to have a comparable background.
2. Students are expected to have knowledge of algebra and multivariable calculus. More specifically, students should know how to induce (total and partial) derivatives of functions.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB30200|01|210EB30200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Macroeconomics
Instructor	BAAK, Saang Joon
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.4@02:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Macroeconomics

Course Outline: This course will cover classic macroeconomic issues such as inflation, unemployment, interest rates, growth and technological progress. The course will also provide the foundations needed to understand how the macroeconomy operates and various solutions to economic problems.

Objectives: The purpose of this course is to study various concepts in macroeconomics in order to understand economic phenomena and problems such as unemployment, inflation and economic growth.

before/after course of study: I will upload lecture notes before and after the class. Students are advised new lecture notes before joining each class.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1
Introduction
Vol. 2
The Goods Market
Vol. 3
The Goods Market
Vol. 4
Financial Markets
Vol. 5
Financial Markets
Vol. 6
Goods and Financial Markets
Vol. 7
Labor Market
Vol. 8
Labor Market
Vol. 9
Unemployment, and Inflation
Vol.10
Unemployment, and Inflation
Vol.11
Saving, Capital Accumulation, and Output
Vol.12
Saving, Capital Accumulation, and Output
Vol.13
Technological Progress and Growth
Vol.14
Technological Progress and Growth

Vol.15
Exam 1
Vol.16
Financial Markets and Expectations
Vol.17
Financial Markets and Expectations
Vol.18
Expectations, Consumption, and Investment
Vol.19
Expectations, Output, and Policy
Vol.20
Openness in Goods and Financial Markets
Vol.21
Goods Market in an Open Economy
Vol.22
Output, Interest Rate, and Exchange Rate
Vol.23
Exchange Rate Regimes
Vol.24
Exchange Rate Regimes
Vol.25
Fiscal Policy
Vol.26
Fiscal Policy
Vol.27
Monetary Policy
Vol.28
Monetary Policy

Language: English

Textbooks: Macroeconomics,1st Edition, Robert Lester, Cengage

ISBN-13: 9780357901779

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 90 Exam 1 (40%); Exam 2 (50%)

Others: 10 quizzes, attendance

Note/URL: You have to attend this class more than two third of all classes. This is the Wasseda Uni's rule to get credits.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB31500|51|210EB31500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	International Trade Management
Instructor	NOMURA, Seiji
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Sat.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: All classes of this course will be conducted in the classroom on the face-to-face basis.
This course is a two-unit lesson designed primarily for non-business majors to offer basic knowledge both on international business practices, and the theory behind them. The course covers a large area of business practices for both exporters and importers. Current topics relating to international trade and business are also picked up in this course. As a quiz (multiple-choice and true/false questions) will be assigned to the students in each class, the students are required to submit answers of the quiz within three (3) days of each class. The class is a mixture of a lecture and participation by the students.

This course will be performed by the lecturer who possesses working experiences and will be taught based on such lecturer's working experiences.

Objectives: This class aims to attain to help students understand the basic logics why cross-border business exists and also the significance behind the documents or procedures for trade practices. In addition, this course intends to provide students with an opportunity to learn about international business situation from actual business perspective.

before/after course of study: Students are required to prepare for each class by referring to resumes, handouts or instructions which will be provided in advance on Waseda Moodle in each class. Preparation of each class will take 90 -120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Orientation and Guidance

Suggestions on the course description including how the class is conducted and evaluated

Vol. 2 General Discussion: Why do we import and export?/History and Theory on International Trade

Discussions on the purpose of international trade such as Comparative Advantage (including group discussions) for the first half of the class. Lecture on Mercantilism, Comparative Advantage, Heckscher-Ohlin Theorem and Reciprocal Demand Curve, etc. for the second half of the class

Vol. 3 Finding a business partner and executing agreement

Lecture on Four C's Basics of Export Marketing, negotiations about trade terms such as pricing and delivery, and General Agreement on terms and conditions of business

Vol. 4 International Trade Business Practices (1) - Incoterms

Lecture on Trade Terms based on Incoterms 2020 such as FOB and CIF etc.

Vol. 5 International Trade Business Practices (2) - Incoterms

Lecture on Trade Terms based on Incoterms 2020 such as FOB and CIF etc. (continued from the preceding week)

Vol. 6 International Trade Business Practices (3) - Payment/Settlement

Lecture on the function of Letter of Credit (L/C), Payment/Settlement, Business with L/C and Business without L/C

Vol. 7 International Trade Business Practices (4) - Shipment

Lecture on Shipment

Vol. 8 Mid-term Exam. and International Trade Business Practices (5) - B/L and Shipping documents

Mid-term Exam. for the first half of the classLecture on Bill of Lading (B/L) and Shipping Documents for the second half of the class

Vol. 9 B/L and Shipping documents and Marine Insurance

Lecture on B/L and Shipping documents for the first half of the class
Lecture on Marine Insurance for the second half of the class

Vol.10 Marine Insurance and Customs

Lecture on Marine Insurance (continued from the preceding week) for the first half of the class Lecture on Customs Clearance for the second half of the class

Vol.11 Foreign Exchange

Lecture on Foreign Exchange Risk and Foreign Exchange System (Fixed Exchange Rate vs. Floating Exchange Rate)

Vol.12 Service Trade

Lecture on Trade in Services

Vol.13 Overseas Investment and M&A (Mergers and Acquisitions)

Lecture on Overseas Direct Investment, Securities Investment and OEM (Original Equipment Manufacturer), etc. for the first half of the classLecture on Mergers and Acquisitions (as a part of Overseas Direct Investment) for the second half of the class

Vol.14 Final Exam. and Current topics relating to International Trade and Business

Final Exam. for the first half of the class. Lecture on Current topics relating to International Trade and Business for the second half of the class.

Language: English

Textbooks: Primarily handouts are used. A text is used for supplementary purposes. The names of text will be given on a syllabus to be provided on the first day of the course.

References: 『基礎から学ぶ貿易実務 日英対訳』(改訂版)、曽我しのぶ、日本関税協会、2023年、9784888955072 ("Learn International Trade from Basics (in Japanese and English)" (Revised Edition) by Shinobu Soga, Tokyo, Japan Tariff Association, 2023, 9784888955072)

"International Trade – An Essential Guide to The Principles and Practice of Export" by Jonathan Reuvid and Jim Sherlock, London, Kogan Page Limited, 2011, 9780749462376

"Incoterms 2010" by the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), Tokyo, Japan International Chamber of Commerce (ICC Japan), 2010, 9789284200801

"Incoterms 2020" by the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), Tokyo, Japan International Chamber of Commerce (ICC Japan), 2019, 9789284205103

"Advanced International Trade, Second Edition", Robert C. Feenstra, New Jersey, Princeton University Press, 2016, 9780691161648

"A Handbook of International Trade in Services" edited by Aaditya Mattoo, Robert M. Stern and Gianni Zanini, New York, Oxford University Press Inc., 2008, 9780199235216

"The Handbook of International Trade and Finance: The Complete Guide for International Sales, Finance, Shipping and Administration" by Anders Grath, London, Kogan Page Limited, 2016, 9780749475987

"Marine Insurance Law" (2nd Edition) by Ozlem Gurses, New York, Routledge, 2017, 9781138669222

Additional references will be introduced on a syllabus to be provided on the first day of the course.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 90 Mid-term exam and Final exam will be used to evaluate the overall understanding of the class (Mid-term exam will cover classes up to the 7th session, and Final exam will cover all classes in this course).
Mid-term Exam. 30%
Final Exam. 60%

Class contribution: 10 The evaluation will be based on active participation in this course.

Note/URL: The above schedule is subject to change depending on actual situation of the class and COVID-19. Discussions will be taken as much as possible.
Mid-term Exam. and Final Exam. may be replaced with Mid-term Report and Final Report respectively, subject to actual situation of the class and COVID-19, etc.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB32700|51|210EB32700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Financial Management 51
Instructor	TAKEZAWA, Nobuya
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Introduction to Finance

Course Outline: This course is an introduction to finance. The objective is to familiarize students with financial concepts and tools used in an international business setting. The course covers the basic principles of financial management and applies them to the decisions faced by financial managers in global firms. Topics include standard financial decision-making tools, the role of stock and bond markets, and the risk & return tradeoff. Whenever relevant, we will refer to the academic literature in finance for deeper insight on particular topics.
This is an intermediate level course at SILS. While one course in economics, business, or accounting is highly recommended before enrolling in this class – it is not a requirement. However, the instructor will assume students have a sincere interest in learning finance, have enrolled in the SILS required "introductory statistics" course, and have an appreciation for quantitative methods.

Note: Most classes will be in-person, however, a few sessions will be held online zoom (dates determined and announced in class). Students are asked to have an appropriate device (notebook PC, pad) with access to a stable internet connection.

Objectives: After taking this class, the student should be:
1) be familiar with financial securities such as stocks and bonds (Japan context).
2) be able to explain and critique a net present value and internal rate of return analysis for a project (financial decision making).
3) be able to explain the risk-return trade-off as discussed in finance (Sharpe ratio, CAPM).
4) acquire working knowledge (familiar with) of EXCEL for discounting exercises and other finance related functions.
5) develop a solid understanding of the link between topics covered in finance and international business (and other areas/fields in business).
6) acquire the basic skills and knowledge to undertake intermediate and advanced course work in the area of finance (including first year MBA finance)

before/after course of study: Review notes and assigned reading prior to class (and after class). Work on (weekly) assigned problems after class. Reviewing concepts and numerical exercises on a regular basis is important in building block oriented courses such as finance. The instructor reserves the right to make changes to the schedule. All changes will be announced in class and posted on Moodle. Students are asked to check their Waseda email account and Moodle on a regular basis.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Week 1: Overview of the course and Introduction to stocks
Week 2: Introduction to bonds
Week 3: Introduction to Japanese Capital Markets
Week 4: More on Japanese Capital Markets
Week 5: Discounting and present value
Week 6: Perpetuities and the dividend discount model (DDM)
Week 7: Net present value (NPV) and internal rate of return (IRR) rules
Week 8: Understanding risk and return
Week 9: Introduction to the capital asset pricing model (CAPM)
Week 10: Introduction to the weighted average cost of capital (WACC)
Week 11: Foreign Exchange Market
Week 12: Case Exercise
Week 13: Review and Wrap-up
Week 14: In-class Final Test

Language: English

Textbooks: Notes and readings uploaded on the Moodle course site.

References: 1) Richard Brealey, Stewart Myers, Alan Marcus. Fundamentals of Corporate Finance. McGraw Hill.
2) Richard Brealey, Stewart Myers, Franklin Allen, Alex Edmans. Principles of Corporate Finance. McGraw Hill.

	3) Stephen Ross, Randolph Westerfield, Jeffrey Jaffe, and Bradford Jordan. Corporate Finance. McGraw Hill.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）
Evaluation Free-	Assignments [30%] and Final test [70%]. The in-class final test is closed note and closed book.
Note/URL:	Detailed course outline distributed on the first day of class and uploaded on Moodle. Students are expected to check Moodle for updates and other information prior to class. As a general rule (and courtesy to the instructor) students should 1) not record lectures & discussion and 2) not take photos of the slides & board (without the permission of the instructor). 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB32800|51|210EB32800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Introduction to Accounting
Instructor	SHIMAKATA, Ryo
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	[Online] Realtime Streaming
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Introduction to Financial Accounting

Course Outline: ※Online(Live Stream) with On-Demand Recorded Video
Accounting is the process of identifying, recording, and reporting of economic activities. Accounting serves a vital role in our economy. It is a language to present the financial condition of a business, non-business or other entity as well as how an entity performed financially in a given time period. There are many people who rely on accounting information for their decision making, including investors, creditors, regulators as well as executives and managers who run businesses. In this course, you will learn a fundamental framework and concept for financial accounting, which is used by for-profit business enterprises mainly in their external reporting. In any business, financial accounting is imperative; it is simply impossible to understand a business without understanding accounting. The primary objectives of this course are for you to understand (1) the basic concept of financial accounting, (2) how it is processed, and (3) how it is used. There are no pre-requisites for this course, nor should you have accounting background or any specialized knowledge, as long as you understand basic arithmetic.

Objectives: After taking this course, you will:
・Understand the basic concept of financial accounting, how it is used by whom for what purposes, and why it is important.
・Be able to create accounting records for basic business activities over an accounting cycle, including adjusting and closing entries.
・Be able to prepare financial statements based on accounting records created for basic business transactions.
・Be able to read and interpret financial statements and perform basic financial analyses based on them.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to finish reading assignments before each class that will be announced in the class. Each of the reading assignments takes approximately 60 minutes. In addition, an assignment with quizzes and exercises will be given every week through the on-line platform. They will cover not only the topics covered by the reading assignments but also the topics presented and discussed in the class. It takes approximately 60 to 120 minutes to finish each assignment.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Class No.1: Introduction to Accounting (1 of 2)

Accounting is defined. How does accounting work and how is it used? What are the building blocks behind accounting? Why does accounting matter to us?

Class No.2: Introduction to Accounting (2 of 2)

In this class, the basic accounting equation is presented. This class also covers what financial statements are comprised of and some of the key points in reading financial statements.

Class No.3: Recording Process

This class covers how accounts, debits and credits are used to record business transactions. This class also covers how a journal, ledger and posting are used and how a trial balance is prepared.

Class No.4: Adjusting Accounts

This class covers the concept of the accrual basis of accounting and adjusting entries to create accrual and deferral accounts. After completing an adjusted trial balance, you learn how financial statements are prepared.

Class No.5: Closing Accounts

With the closing process, an accounting cycle is completed. The closing process includes journalizing and posting closing entries and preparation of post-closing trial balance.

Class No.6: Accounting for Merchandising Operations

In this class, an accounting cycle for merchandsing operations is presented. It includes how revenues and expenses are recorded, how inventories are maintained and how an income statement is prepared.

Class No.7: Inventories

This class covers the classification of inventories and how cost flow assumptions affect financial statements. This class also covers presentation of inventories and how they affect financial statements.

Class No.8: Internal Control

Sound accounting practice requires an adequate system of internal control being placed in. This class covers the basic elements of internal control and how they are applied.

Class No.9: Accounting for Receivables

This class covers how a company recognizes and clears receivable accounts, including the types of receivables and how interest is accrued, as well as presentation and analysis of receivables.

Class No.10: Tangible and Intangible Assets

This class covers accounting for tangible and intangible assets such as land, buildings, and machinery, including depreciation methods, impairment, and retirement.

Class No.11: Liabilities

In this class, accounting for current and long-term liabilities is discussed, including the types of liabilities and how they are accounted for, as well as how they are presented and analyzed.

Class No.12 Stockholders' Equity

This class focuses on a corporation, or a stock company, to depict how equity works and to understand the components of equity. The class also covers how equity transactions are accounted for and how equity accounts are presented and analyzed.

Class No.13: Statement of Cash Flows

This class covers the usefulness of the statement of cash flows and how cash flows are classified. The class also covers how the statement of cash flows is prepared.

Class No.14: Financial Statement Analysis / Time Value of Money

This class covers how financial statements are used in various analyses, as well as how a company's performance is analyzed using ratio analyses. This class also introduces the concept of the time value of money.

Language: English

Textbooks: Textbooks: Weygandt, Financial Accounting 12e, WileyPLUS

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free-: The weekly assignments will account for 50% of the final grade. A final exam is provided after Class No.14. The final exam will account for 50% of the final grade. There is no mid-term exam.

Note/URL: In this course, the instructor will use a web-based, on-line learning platform provided by Wiley (WileyPLUS) for the textbook, exercises and assignments throughout the semester. Each student must purchase a student access card at the university co-op for the on-line platform to take this course. Students should expect that a reading assignment and an assignment with quizzes and exercises will be given every week. In each class, the instructor will provide comments or feedback on a quiz and exercise to the extent deemed necessary. The access to the on-line platform will be terminated after the semester.

The classes will be conducted on live stream via Zoom in Waseda Moodle, with recordings available to accommodate those unable to attend live classes. Please note, however, you are expected to achieve a minimum number of attendance as required by the school to receive credit. Watching recordings does not compensate your attendances.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB33500|51|210EB33500[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Design and Enterprise 51
Instructor	POKARIER, Christopher J
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Thur.2@02:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Strong design cultures have proven to be a source of resilience and prosperity for nations, cities and enterprises. As recent Ai developments portend disruption of industries, work, and familiar career paths, this course aims to equip students with a solid understanding of design principles and practice. Once primarily associated with the built environment, physical products, and corporate illustration, design principles have come to be widely applied to experiences, systems and processes, places and identities. The course demonstrates how design thinking represents a distinctive way of seeing and thinking, in contrast to those of the familiar humanities and sciences, yet complements and strengthens a liberal arts education. Design is optimistic, aims to make a difference through problem-finding and solving, and is inherently multi-disciplinary. By exploring the evolution of design practice through historical and contemporary examples, and a group project of design inquiry, students will begin to cultivate a design mindset.

Objectives: It is anticipated that students will + demonstrate sound foundational knowledge of the history of design practice, principles and education, and familiarity with major debates over the scope and purposes of design.
+ show active engagement with illuminative historical and contemporary examples of design-centred enterprises.
+ be alert to examples of poor design experienced in daily life, sharing insights with classmates to foster a design mindset that is always alert to the potential for better solutions.
+ engage positively with an introduction to the common 'critique' practice in design education; complementing the key SILS learning objective of a participatory mindset – engaged, incisive and collegial.
+ through active collaboration with class colleagues in a group project, conduct an effective design inquiry; demonstrating research and observational skills, effective refining of the design problem, judgment in evaluating viable solutions, and persuasive presentation of findings and propositions.
+ reflect upon, and articulate understanding of, the distinctiveness of design as a field of knowledge, mindset and practice and its relationship to the liberal arts.

before/after course of study: Active engagement with the full range class materials – textual and video-on-demand (VOD) made available through Moodle, sincere efforts on small assigned learning tasks linked to class activities, and a strong collegial commitment to the group project.

This is an intermediate course, equivalent to slightly more a quarter of a full-time student load (4 credits, and a SILS degree requires 124 credits, or an average of 15.5 per semester). The expected level of engagement mirrors this. A good rule of thumb is that at SILS students undertaking a standard load of courses should be investing about 500 hours a semester in learning, in-class and outside. This equates to to about a 36 hour week under the shortened 14 week system, and involving an average of about 6 hours of learning and group project endeavours a week on average outside class in this and other 4 credit courses.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

INTRODUCTION
1. Design & enterprise
2. Domains of design
3. Design as mindset

DESIGN OVER TIME
4. Anonymous design
5. Artisanship
6. Form & material
7. Iconic designs
8. Design-led enterprises

DESIGN PRACTICE
9. Design education & profession
10. Design rights & rents

DESIGN FOR ALL?

11. Problem discovery & resolution
12. Design thinking

13. Quiz (25%)
14. Project kick-off

EXPERIENCE DESIGN
15. Design toolkits & Ideating
16. Place
17. Interface
18. Identity

19-21. Interim project critiques
22. Design & the liberal arts
23. The limits of design?

24. Quiz II & reflecting writing (25%)
25-28. Final project critiques

Language: English

Textbooks: None

References: There is no textbook. Instead, all materials for the course will be made available through Moodle links. The course evaluation places considerable weight on students' demonstrating sincere engagement with those course materials.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Midterm quiz 25%
Final quiz & in-class reflective writing task 25%
Group Project 40%
Engagement 10% (+/-)*

* 'Engagement' encompasses degree of active participation in class activiites and engagement with the varied course materials available through Moodle. In addition, though hopefully unlikely, brazen disengagement, 'gaming' assessment and attendance records, or disruptive conduct, may be subject to a separate grade reduction, with due explanation.

Note/URL: The course site on Moodle is core. In addition, my general teaching site is at www.pokachan.com. If messaging me please use my university email address (pokarier@waseda.jp) and not the clumsy Moodle message system.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB34100|01|210EB34100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Cost- Benefit Analysis 01
Instructor	DAIMON, Leo
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:othersOn demand	Class Modality Categories	[Online] Full On-demand
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Application to project evaluation in developing countries

Course Outline: In recent years, increasing importance of private sector as a major architect of social and public goals. More private investments and lending are promoting public ivesteement projets, from transportation infrastructure to Moon rocket these days. We would like to partner with private investors to achieve a common well-being for the world. Public-private-partnership (PPP) is becoming a default for most Developing Financial Institutions (DFIs) such as the World Bank, Asian Development Bank (ADB), and Japan Bank for International Cooperation or Japan Bank for International Cooperation (JBIC) or Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA).

This course is intended to provide analytical tools to quantitatively evaluate the impact of policy interventions initiated by these public and private agencies and investors. We will critically review existing projects in order to feedback innovative ideas for improvements. Wherever possible, examples are used to aid the exposition. Certainly, this is not a course on pure microeconomics or welfare economics exclusively.

Microeconomics and welfare concepts that are relevant in impact evaluation will be discussed. Particular attention will be given to practical analysis with emphasis on the use of shadow prices, the use of consumers' surplus and the problems of valuing goods that do not have market prices. Students are encouraged to participate effectively in class discussions.

This course uses STATA Ver 18 (to be installed invidually to your PC or MAC) every week. Students are expected to bring PC or Mac with EXCEL and STATA installed, available free for enrolled students.

Objectives: Ability to evaluate impacts of public projects using panel data before/after course of study: Students are expected to use STATA package, downloadable for free on campus, in order to participate in class. Spend 60 min before class for preparation and 60 min after class for weekly assignment and review.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Getting Started with STATA and Overview of Cost-Benefit Analysis

Let's download STATA ver 18 to your PC or Mac.Step-by-step itrodution and overview of the course.

Basics of Project Evaluation

Project evaluation - examples and cases from Asia and African countriesExcercise 1 - EXCEL

Theory and Practice of Impact Evaluation

Excercises 2 and 3 - EXCEL and STATA Explanation and Preparation for Presentation Contest

Presentation Contest

1 min presentation (contest)no AI generated presention

NPV and IRR

concept and application of net present value (NPV) and internal rate of return (IRR)excercises using EXCEL

Project Evaluation Under Uncertainty (1)

quasi-option price, option value, and option price

Project Evaluation Under Uncertainty (2)

concept and applicatinon of Monte Carlo Simulation using EXCEL

Mid-Term Exam

60 min for mid-term exam (closed book) on concepts, numerical examples and analytical issues of impact evaluation40 min for general feedback session

Searching for data

1) search engines (in various languges)2) example of data and assignment of group (for presentations)

Group Work 1

Assigned students are expected work towards the project. Everyone should be assigned to to do a work.

Group Work 2

Assigned students are expected work towards the project. Everyone should be assigned to to do a work.Group presentation materials are due by week 11.

Presentation 1

Group presentation on the assigned topic with data.

Presentation 2

Group presentation on the assigned topic with data.

Course wrap up and feedback session

In case of need, additional presentations will be made on the final day.

Language: English

Textbooks: Anthony E. Boardman and others (2018), Cost-Benefit Analysis: Concepts and Practice; Cambridge University Press 1108401295 (available from the COOP), required for purchase

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	70	Final Project Paper (Powerpoint presentation)
Class contribution:	30	Weekly Assignments

Note/URL: Students are introduced to basic concepts and foundations of project evaluation.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB34200|01|210EB34200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Behavioral & Experimental Game Theory 01
Instructor	ISHIKAWA, Ryuichiro
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: How are rational & irrational decisions explained?

Course Outline: This course provides an intermediate-level introduction to game theory. Game theory studies rational decision-making in interactive situations, where the outcome for each individual depends not only on their own choices but also on the choices of others. Students will learn what constitutes an interactive situation and how rationality can be understood and evaluated in such contexts.

In particular, the course introduces a novel approach to analyzing experimental data on decision-making in economic and strategic environments. Unlike standard game theory and economic theory, which often assume perfectly rational (or "super-rational") decision-makers, this approach quantifies the degree of rationality exhibited by actual participants.

Various criteria of rationality are introduced and used to analyze experimental decision data. Students will also study behavioral models in game theory that explain observed decision patterns in light of these rationality criteria. Since the criteria are formulated in mathematical terms, students are expected to engage with some mathematical analysis.

In addition, students will participate in in-class experiments involving strategic decision-making in game-theoretic settings.

Objectives: In this course, we deepen our understanding of human reasoning and situational awareness in decision-making by comparing deductively derived equilibria based on rationality hypotheses with deviations from equilibrium observed in in-class experiments.

To carry out such comparisons, it is essential to construct mathematical models that formalize institutions and social environments. Students are therefore expected to develop the ability to derive deductive equilibria within these models. In addition, they must be able to design, plan, and implement experiments, and to anticipate what kinds of hypotheses can be empirically tested through those experiments.

To facilitate this learning process, the course incorporates a relatively large number of exercises, allowing students to enhance their understanding through an iterative engagement with both theory and empirical analysis.

before/after course of study: Game theory offers analytical benchmarks for comparing behavior and outcomes in real-world contexts by employing formal mathematical models. Accordingly, this course places strong emphasis on rigorous training in solving such models.

Students are encouraged to strengthen their understanding through systematic preparation and review, including working through textbook exercises and supplementary problem sets.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1: [Experiment I] What is behavioral and experimental economics?

Intorduction of the course: A new approach to analyze decision making. We conduct the first experiment to understand why society faces a dilemma.

Vol. 2: [Experiment II] How to reach the final inferences

We conduct beauty contest games where we study how people infer other peoples' behavior.

Vol. 3: [Theory I] Nash equilibrium

Definition of Nash equilibrium, and how to caluculate the equiblirium.

Vol. 4: [Behavioral model I] Identifying higher-order rationality
How to idntrify different levels of rationality in normal-form games.
Vol. 5: [Experiment III] Centipede games
We conduct the 2nd experiment to make decision sequentially.
Vol. 6: [Theory II] Extensive-form games
Definition of exntesive-form games and rerationship with normal-form games.
Vol. 7: [Theory III] Backward induction reasoning
Refinement of Nash equilibrum.
Vol. 8: [Behavioral model II] Quantal response equilibrium in extensive-form games
Application of quental response equilibrium in extensive-form games.
Vol. 9: [Experiment IV] Bargaining models
How to construct their consensus in trades
Vol.10: [Theory IV] Mechanism Design
How to construct a mechanism to achieve social goals
Vol.11: [Experiment V] Auctions
We examine the difference among the auction rules
Vol.12: [Theory V] Matching
How to implement two-sided matching without money
Vol.13: [Experiment VI] Bank run games
Why bank runs happen?
Vol.14: Final Exam
We confirm the knowledge we study in the lecture

Language: English

Textbooks: ・Dutta, Prajit K. Strategies and Games. MIT Press, 1999. (The e-book is available in the Waseda library. So, you do NOT need to buy it. You borrow it online from the university library.)

References: ・For theory: M. J. Osborne, Introduction to Game Theory, Oxford Univ. Press, 2009.
・For behavioral models: C. F. Camerer and T-H. Ho, "Behavioral Game theory: Experiments and Modeling," in P. Young & S. Zamir eds., Handbook of Game Theory, Vol. IV, Ch. 10: pp. 517-573.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	70	To answer correctly for each question.
Papers:	20	Proper analysis of experimental data.
Class contribution:	10	Homework performance

Note/URL: Lecture notes will be uploaded on Waseda Moodle.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB34300|51|210EB34300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Principles of Advertising 51
Instructor	MORIMOTO, Mariko
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive introduction to the entire integrated marketing communication process. The course will cover a variety of elements in integrated marketing communication and other marketing components. Students will learn how advertising relates to marketing and the specifics of research, setting objectives, strategy, positioning, creative, media, promotions, public relations, and campaigns. Upon completing the course, students will have a better general understanding of the development of the advertising industry, how it works today, and debates about its roles in society.

Objectives: This course is designed to achieve the following objectives:

・To provide a basic introduction to research, strategy, positioning, marketing, developing effective creative messages, media, consumer promotions and public relations in the advertising process
・To understand the mechanism of the advertising industry
・To understand how advertising is integrated with other promotional tools to create effective marketing communication plans
・To develop critical thinking skills applicable to advertising campaign planning

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Course Introduction
Defining advertising
Advertising Process
Fundamentals of Advertising Decisions
Consumer Behavior (1)
Understanding consumers' perceptions and attitude formation
Consumer Behavior (2)
Learning about consumers' decision-making process and influence of advertising
Market Segmentation & Positioning
Importance of STP marketing
Creativity
What does creativity and effectiveness mean?
Message Strategy & Copywriting
Making an impression and messages to stick
Media Planning
Finding the best mix of venues and timing
Social Media & Digital Advertising
How to better reach the target audience in the digital environment
Social Aspects of Advertising
Learning to appreciate social and ethical issues associated with advertising in the digital age Group Project Consultation
Consultation available

Agency Profile Presentations (1)
TBA
Agency Profile Presentations (2)
TBA
Exam
TBA

Language: English

Textbooks: TBA

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1 : フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free- Exam (closed book): 50 %
Online Assignments: 25 %
Group Project (Agency Profiles): 15 %
Attendance and Participation (including Online Discussion): 10%

Note/URL: In principle, lectures and the introductory session are delivered in-person.
The exam will be administrated during the class time (Japan Standard Time).
Occasional Zoom sessions and/online lectures may be held.
The dates will be announced on Moodle.

The detailed course syllabus will be distributed on Moodle to enrolled students.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB34400|51|210EB34400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Economy of Russia: Historical and Modern Perspectives 51
Instructor	SHADRINA, Elena
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Wed.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Historical Roots and Modern Pathways of Russian Economy

Course Outline: This course offers a comprehensive examination ofthe Russian economy across historical and contemporary contexts. Beginning withthe foundations of Tsarist and Soviet economic development, it traces thetransition to a market economy after 1991, explores centre–region dynamics, andanalyses Russia's economic model prior to 2022. The course concludes with anin-depth study of the impact of sanctions imposed after 2014 and 2022,highlighting structural adaptation, financial isolation, and Russia's geoeconomicreorientation. Students will engage in written and oral assignments, combininghistorical analysis with contemporary policy evaluation.

Objectives: The objectives of the course are:
・To provide students with a structured understanding of Russia's economic development from the Tsarist period to the present.
・To analyse the political economy of Soviet industrialisation, post-Soviet transition reforms, and regional economic specialisation.
・To evaluate Russia's foreign economic relations and the challenges of diversification prior to 2022.
・To critically assess the scope, intent, and consequences of sanctions regimes and Russia's adaptive strategies.
・To develop skills in academic writing, comparative analysis, and oral presentation within the field of international political economy.

By the end of the course, students will be able to:
・Explain the historical trajectory of Russia's economic development, including Soviet and post-Soviet phases.
・Analyse the institutional and policy frameworks shaping Russia's transition to a market economy.
・Evaluate the role of regional economic specialisation and policy in shaping centre–region relations.
・Assess Russia's pre-2022 economic model, including resource dependence and diversification attempts.
・Critically compare the sanctions regimes of 2014 and 2022, identifying their economic and geopolitical implications.
・Apply academic writing conventions in short essays supported by references and bibliographies.
・Present research findings clearly and persuasively in both individual and group formats.
・Reflect on the long-term outlook for Russia's economy under sanctions within a global comparative perspective.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to demonstrate a genuine interest in Russian studies and a commitment to understanding the evolution of Russia's socio-economic model. While no prior background in economics is strictly required, familiarity with basic economic concepts will be advantageous for engaging with the course material.

Upon completion of each of the five thematic blocks of the course (Parts 1–5), you will engage in a designated learning activity.
During the course, you are required to submit Exit Tickets (two-sentence summarising memos) for the specified sessions. Please pay close attention to the deadlines: each Exit Ticket must be submitted no later than Monday, 23:00 (Japan time) in the week following the session. For example, if the class meets on Wednesday, 2 October, the Exit Ticket is due by Monday, 6 October, 23:00.
There are two formats of presenting your work: written and verbal, and two modes of engagement: individual and group.
Each student prepares two individual take-home essays (maximum 1,000 words each) on topics suggested for the course. Despite their brevity, essays must demonstrate the essential elements of academic writing: Introduction, Core Part, and Conclusion. Essays must be properly referenced and accompanied by a Bibliography (not included in the word count). A template and evaluation criteria are posted on Moodle. Academic integrity principles must be strictly observed. Essays must be submitted via Moodle before the announced deadline (normally Monday, 23:00, Japan time). Late submissions will not be accepted.
Each student is expected to deliver two presentations, either individually or in a group (depending on class size), based on topics covered in Part 2 or Part 3 (themes posted on Moodle). Two sessions will be devoted to these mid-term presentations. In addition, two sessions at the end of the course are reserved for group presentations on topics covered in Part 5 (themes posted on Moodle).
In total, each student will have four opportunities to present the results of their work during the course. Further details will be explained at the introductory session and coordinated throughout the semester.
Preview and Review may take around 90–120 min. each at least.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule	Week 1 Introduction. Contemporary Russia: Socio-Economic and Political Context Week 2 Part 1. History of Russia's Economic Development 1.1. Economy of Tsarist Russia 1.2. Soviet Economy. Collectivised Agriculture and Industrialisation Week 3 1.3. Macroeconomic Management after the post-Great Patriotic War 1.4. Economic Reforms of the late 1980s: Perestroika Take home essay # 1 on the Soviet or Russian economy before the USSR's demise (list of themes and template posted on Moodle) Week 4 Part 2. Market Transition after 1991 2.1. Macroeconomic Dynamics in the post-Soviet Period Week 5 2.2. Macroeconomic Reforms in Transition Period: Liberalisation, Privatisation and Capitalism Week 6 Individual or Group (depending on class size) Presentation on Russia's Post-Soviet Economic Development 1992 – 2014 (list of themes and template posted on Moodle) Week7 Part 3. Centre-Region Perspective in Russia's Economic Development 3.1. Economic Specialisation of Russia's Regions Week 8 3.2. Policy for Regional Economic Development Week 9 Individual or Group (depending on class size) Presentation on Regional Economic Development and Policy (list of themes posted on Moodle) Week10 Part 4. Russian Economic Model before 2022 4.1. Natural Resources and Economic Growth 4.2. Attempted Diversification and Modernisation Week 11 4.3. Russia's Foreign Economic Relations (trade, investment, labour migration, economic integration) Take home essay # 2 on Russian Economy before 2022 (list of themes and template posted on Moodle) Week12 Part 5. Russian Economy Under Sanctions 5.1. Scope, Intent and Impact of post-2014 and post-2022 Sanctions 5.2. Structural Adaptation and Import Substitution 5.3. Financial Isolation and Evolution of Monetary and Fiscal Policy 5.4. Geoeconomic Reorientation: Pivot to Asia and the Global South Week 13 & Week 14 Group Presentation on Long-Term Outlook and Geopolitical Implications of post-2014 and post-2022 Sanctions for Russia (list of themes and template posted on Moodle)
Language:	English
Textbooks:	There is no comprehensive textbook for the course. One of the recommended reference books is: The Oxford Handbook of the Russian Economy (2013). Michael Alexeev and Shlomo Weber (eds.). Oxford University Press. Additional resources and sources will be suggested throughout the course.
References:	After each session, the updated lecture notes are made available on Moodle. Throughout the course, additional study materials and resources are recommended. Unless otherwise specified, references are provided on the final slide of the class materials.
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	40	analytical essays, 2 in total, 20 points each
Class contribution:	50	25% mid-term individual/ group presentation 25% final group presentation
Others:	10	constructive collaboration on improving the course content, includes contribution via the "Motivation and Expectations" survey and Exit Ticket activity

Note/URL: https://scholar.google.com/citations?user=f6tX7QgAAAAJ&hl=en

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB34600|51|210EB34600[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Law and Economics 51
Instructor	DAIMON, Leo
Term	fall semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Wed.3@02:Wed.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Economic Analysis of Law

Course Outline: This course uses concepts and tools in microeconomics. The purpose of this course is to clarify phenomena and problems that are inherent in the market economy by an examination of the laws and economic systems that support the internal and contractual structure of the market. In particular, the course will focus on Coase Theorem and its application to nuisance law, sales law, and tort law. This is a lecture course, but students are expected to work on "legal cases" into three groups (plaintiff, defendant, and judge or jury) in each class, and are expected to participate in the deliberations of the cases among the three groups.
Please make sure that you bring your PC to every class.

Objectives: The students will be able to understand the principles of economic analysis of law, focusing on how legal rules and institutions can correct market failures.

before/after course of study: Students are expected to spend minimum 100 minutes for preparation and 200 minutes for review of the course content.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Introduction and Overview

Analytical Overview of Law and Economics – Foundation for the US Legal System

Learning from "My Cousin Vinny"

Understanding the roles of judge, jury, plaintiff and defendant in the USTake note for the next week session (mock trial)

Mock Trial (1) "Case Vinny"

Mock trial about the "Vinny" case

Economic Foundation of Analysis of Law (1)

Ways to Search Legal Cases Library / Internet Sources – Westlaw Databasepp. 1–11.

Coase Theorem and Applications (1)

Microeconomic foundataions for Coase Theorem and Applicationspp. 13–16.

Coase Theorem and Applications (2)

Applications of Coase; Nuisance Lawpp. 17–27.

Mock Trial (2) Koto Panjan Dam Case

Environmental Issues over Construction of Dam in IndonesiaInternational legal disputes

Breach of Contract (1)

Economic rationality of breaching the contract and efficiency for remediespp.29–41.

Breach of Contract (2)

Continued discussions on breach of the contractpp. 29–41.

Tort Law (1)

Efficiency Care of Driving and Liabiltypp. 43–56.

Mock Trial (3) Mitsubishi Motor Co. Case

IRAC Essay Drafting based on Mock Trial

Tort Law (2) and Insurance

Application of tort law and introduciton to insurancepp. 57–62.

Feedback Session (1)

All topics and issues reviewed with questions and answers sessionAll IRAC essays returned for individual feedback

Feedback Session (2)
All topics and issues reviewed with questions and answers session
Mid-Term Review Quiz (60 min) + Feedback Session (40 min)
Chapters 1-6 coveredConcepts, numerical examples, analytical problems
Mock Trial (4) TBA
Topics will be selected
Theory and Application of Contract Law
Effects of remedies under uncertaintypp. 71-78.
Law Enforcement (1)
Law enforcement using finespp.79-90.
Law Enforcement (2)
Law enforcement using imprisonmentpp. 91-101.
Theory and Application of Competition
Microecnomic foundation for theory of competition and its legal applicationspp. 103-106.
Law and Competition (1)
pollution controlpp. 107-112.
Law and Competition (2)
products liabilitypp. 113-122.
Principal Agent Liability
judgment-proof problem and related issuespp. 123-131.
Suit, Settlement and Trial
cost-benefit of litigation processpp.133-145.
All things considered (review session) (1)
Review of all theories and cases
All things considered (review session) (2)
Review of all theories and cases
Final Exam
Final Exam (100 min)Chapters 7-16.
Feedback Session
Feedback from Final Exam and remaining issues pp. 147-175.

Language:	English
Textbooks:	Polinsky, A. Mitchell, An Introduction To Law & Economics 5th Edition, Aspen Publishers, 2018; 1454894075
References:	Shavell, Steven, Foundations of Economic Analysis of Law, Belknap Press, 2004; 0674011554
Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	60	40% for final exam, 20% for mid-term exam (closed book exams)
Papers:	30	case study reports (brief of legal cases) / IRAC paper due a week after the mock trial
Class contribution:	10	participation to class discussion

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB34700|51|210EB34700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Japanese Economy 51
Instructor	SHINO, Junnosuke
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Sat.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: ・Business Cycles and Inflation Dynamics in the Japanese Economy

Course Outline: ・The objective of this course is to develop an understanding of the basic mechanisms underlying business cycles and price developments (inflation) in the Japanese economy. The course places particular emphasis on business cycles following the 2008 Global Financial Crisis (GFC) and on the mechanisms through which unconventional monetary policy affects economic growth and inflation. It also examines structural changes that have influenced Japan's potential growth.

・Throughout the course, empirical methodologies are discussed, including where to obtain Japanese economic statistics (such as GDP, unemployment rates, and the balance of payments) and how to visualize these data effectively.

※This class will be taught by a faculty member who possess working experience and will be taught based on the working experience.

Objectives: ・The primary objective of this course is to develop an understanding of the basic mechanisms of the Japanese economy, with particular emphasis on business cycles and the relationship between real economic activity and inflation.

・In addition, students are expected to learn (1) essential concepts in macroeconomics, financial economics and labor economics; (2) the practical conduct of monetary policy in Japan; and (3) empirical and data science methodologies for analyzing various types of economic data.

before/after course of study: ・Students are expected to have already completed Introduction to Microeconomics and Introduction to Macroeconomics.

・Basic knowledge of statistics, data science, and calculus is a prerequisite.

・Students are required to complete a term paper that includes an empirical analysis. Accordingly, students have to learn relevant empirical methodologies (e.g., OLS, PCA, ANOVA) independently outside of class.

・The final exam will be administered in the classroom and will be a 100% closed-book examination. The use of any reference materials or electronic devices is strictly prohibited.

・Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule (Tentative course map)

<1> Introduction
<2> GDP statistics and mechanism for business cycles
<3> How to monitor and analyze economic data
<4> Household sector [1] private consumption
<5> Household sector [2] labor market
<6> External sector [1] global economy
<7> External balance [2] balance of payment and exports and imports
<8> Corporate sector [1] investment
<9> Corporate sector [2] production and corporate profit
<10> Inflation and Philips curve
<11> Financial market
<12> Financial system
<13> Monetary and fiscal policy
<14> Final exam

Language: English

Textbooks: Slides are distributed before each class through Moodle. Reading assignments will be provided from the following main references

・Bank of Japan “Outlook for Economic Activity and Prices.” https://www.boj.or.jp/en/mopo/outlook/index.htm

・Bank of Japan “Financial System Report.” https://www.boj.or.jp/en/research/brp/fsr/index.htm

・Bank of Japan “Bank of Japan Series.” https://www.boj.or.jp/en/research/wps_rev/index.htm

・International Monetary Fund “World Economic Outlook.” https://www.imf.org/en/publications/weo

・BIS “Quarterly Review.” https://www.bis.org/quarterlyreviews/index.htm

References: Additional reading materials will be referred in class.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	50	Final exam in the classroom
Papers:	50	・Students are required to submit a brief term paper (ideally around 10 pages) on the Japanese economy. ・Any topic is acceptable as long as it is related to the Japanese economy. ・The paper must include an empirical analysis based on actual data.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB34800|01|210EB34800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Monetary & Financial Economics 01
Instructor	ISHIKAWA, Ryuichiro
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Intermediate Subjects	Eligible Year	2nd year and above
Notes	Open Course

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Understanding of Financial contracts & Intermediaries

Course Outline: This course covers the fundamental concepts of finance, including financial transactions, related financial instruments, and risk assessment. It also examines monetary policy aimed at maintaining financial market stability and the role of central banks in implementing such policies.

Finance is a discipline grounded in mathematical modeling. Although this is an intermediate-level course, it is structured around these analytical methods. The level of mathematical rigor is comparable to that of the required Statistics course. Students who are less familiar with mathematical expressions are encouraged to deepen their understanding through careful study of the textbook and consistent practice with problem sets.

Objectives: The objectives of this course are to enable students to develop a solid understanding of:
(i) the roles and functions of financial systems;
(ii) how contemporary theories in finance and banking analyze financial crises; and
(iii) how new financial regimes aimed at preventing such crises can be designed from a theoretical perspective.

In addition, the course will be taught with reference to the Certified Member Analyst (CMA) examinations administered by the Securities Analysts Association of Japan (SAAJ), particularly the subjects "Securities Analysis and Portfolio Management" and "Analysis of Markets and the Economy."

before/after course of study: Students are expected to review each class by reflecting on concrete examples. In the lectures, abstract models are used to capture the fundamental properties of economic phenomena; however, working through specific numerical examples on one's own is essential for deepening understanding.

Students who find the mathematical treatment challenging are encouraged to consult additional textbooks and related materials and make an active effort to develop their understanding independently.

Preview and Review may take around 90-120 mins. Each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Introduction: How to activate economic contracts

Introduction of roles of financial intermediaries.

Credit creation & Control of money

Chapter 4

The time values of money

How to compare the values of money between the present and future periods (Ch.7).

The features of Long-term debt: Bonds

Chapter 12

Bond Price and Yields

Chapter 13

Risk and its measurement & Investment return

How to evaluate and control risks (Chapters 8, 16)

The features of Stock

Chapter 10

Stock valuations, Market Portfolio

Chapters 11, 14

Exercise session

Review of the first half

The features of Long-term debt: Bonds

Chapter 12

Monetary Policy

Chapter 5

Preferred Stock and Investment returns

Chapters 14 & 16

Financial crisis & Asymmetric information Problems

Bank runs, bubbles, and currency attacks. Moral hazard and adverse selection.

Vol.14: Final Exams

Final Exams

Language: English

Textbooks: Herbert B. Mayo, Michael J Lavelle, Basic Finance,13th Edition, Cengage (You have to buy it at University Co-op because the special package is provided).
https://www.cengageasia.com/title/default/detail?isbn=9780357714744
ISBN-13: 9789000032563

Exercises from the assigned textbook will be given as homework throughout the course. All students are therefore required to purchase the textbook.

References: ・Cecchetti & Schoenholz Money, Banking, and Financial Markets, 5th ed., McGraw Hill, 2016.
・内田浩史「金融（新版）」有斐閣, 2024年 (This textbook includes some topics in the modern financial theory).

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	75	Final exams.
Class contribution:	25	Class exercises & Homework

Note/URL: The students who took the credit of Economic of Risk & Liquidity cannot take the credit of this class.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB41100|51|210EB41100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Environmental Economics
Instructor	YAMANE, Hiroshi
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Thur.1	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course will be conducted in full Face-to-Face (F2F).We have two limits to our sustainable economic growth; one is limited capacity of natural environment to receive the waste and the other is limited quantity of non-renewable energy and natural resources.
This course is intended to provide an overview of the status quo and policy solution to those limits. In the first part of the course, we discuss the data and policy examples on environmental problems. In the latter part of the course, we discuss the reason why those environmental problems take place and how to solve those problems in terms of economics.

Objectives: The purposes of this course are:
1) to orient students with some basic features of the Japanese environmental policy and its current status, and
2) to provide students with some basic economic tools to analyze and solve various environmental problems.

before/after course of study: All students must work on mini-report or problem set questions in each class and submit it with your name and Waseda ID number before you leave the class. It will take you thirty minutes or so.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Class 1] Course Orientation and Basic Data on Environment
[Class 2] Global Warming and Sustainable Energy Supply
[Class 3] Water Resource Management--Recycle of Water
[Class 4] Resource and Waste Management--3R's (Reduce, Reuse and Recycle) of Waste [Class 5] Market Mechanism
[Class 6] Market Failure
[Class 7] Tragedy of Commons
[Class 8] Environmental Standards Regulation
[Class 9] Environmental Taxes
[Class 10] Trading Environmental Permits
[Class 11] Uncertainty
[Class 12] Cost-Benefit Analysis and Valuing Concern for Environment
[Class 13] Summary and Evaluation of the Course
[Class 14] Final Examination

Language: English

Textbooks: R. Kerry Turner, David Pearce and Ian Bateman, Environmental Economics: An Elementary Introduction, The Johns Hopkins University Pres, 1993

References: Japanese translation of the textbook: 「環境経済学入門」大沼あゆみ訳(東洋経済新報社)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	40	Final Examination
Papers:	36	Mini-Report or Problem Set Questions in each class
Class contribution:	24	Class Participation (The minimum attendance ratio is 2/3 of the total class hours.)

Note/URL: All students who want to enroll this course should have studied basic Microeconomics and Macroeconomics.
国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB42800|51|210EB42800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Korean Economy (in English) 51
Instructor	KIM, Sei Wan
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.3	Class Modality Categories	[Online] Realtime Streaming
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Korean Economy

Course Outline: ※Online(Live Stream)/ Online(On-Demand recorded video with schedule restriction)
(This course will be taught in English)

The purpose of this course is to understand the current situation, problems and challenges of the Korean economy. As the demography of Korea changes into an aging society, economists are warning that Korea may experience a long recession like Japan's lost decades. Against that background, various aspects of the Korean economy will be studied and discussed by examining the data of the following economic variables: GDP, GDP per capita, income disparity, demography, inflation rate, unemployment rate, interest rates, policy interest rate, money, monetary base, household debts, flow of fund, government budget, government debt, balance of payments, current account balance, trade balance, net foreign asset, corporate earnings.
Every week, recorded lecture video is provided through MOODLE and then we meet at class real time through ZOOM.

Objectives: The purpose of this course is to understand the current situation of the Korean economy with fun!
We do not employ serious economic model and statistical analysis in this lecture.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Class 1]Introduction
[Class 2]Japan's lost decades
[Class 3]Income of Korea
[Class 4]Population dynamics
[Class 5]Unemployment, youth unemployment
[Class 6]monetary variables and monetary policy
[Class 7]monetary variables and monetary policy
[Class 8]monetary variables and monetary policy
[Class 9]fiscal situation and fiscal policy
[Class10]fiscal situation and fiscal policy
[Class11]fiscal situation and fiscal policy
[Class12]International trade and finance
[Class13]International trade and finance
[Class14]Future outlook
[Class15]Exam

Language: English

Textbooks: There is NO official textbook for this class because all lecture materials will be provided through class web site at waseda MOODLE.

References: .The following two books will be used as supplementary text books.

1. About Korean economy and its history
Korea's Place in the Sun: A Modern History by Bruce Cummings
W. W. Norton; Updated edition (September 17, 2005)

2. About basic economic theory
Principles of Macroeconomics by Gregory Mankiw
Thomson South-Western Publishier; 8th edition
(You may take a look at previous editions of this book which is available at university library.)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	70	one exam
Papers:	0	no paper
Class contribution:	30	discussion/presentation
Others:	0	NA

Note/URL: The above class scheduleis subject to change depending on class progress, national holiday, anduniversity off-day schedules.

We have face to face office hour over ZOOM 1 hour before class every week or appointment.
My ZOOM link will be provided before office hours.
All lecture notes, readings, information on the class will be posted on Waseda MOODLE class web site.
So please check out class web site at MOODEL before coming to class.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB43100|01|210EB43100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Fiscal Issues on Social Security 01
Instructor	KOOK, Joongho
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Fiscal Issues on Social Security

Course Outline: Fiscal issuse on social security is a very important topic in modern society. Why do we need the social securities? Will the private sector be able to provide them? This lecture aims to learn the roles of government concerning the topics on social security and its policies. We emphasize the criteria of efficiency and equity. Government plays an import role in performing the function of income redistribution through the social securities. We study the theories and practices of social securities related to income distribution and redistribution. The social security directly relates to the topics on welfare economics. Hence, this course also tries to analyze the social security at the viewpoints of welfare economics. In Japan, the social securities are composed of social insurance and social welfare. You will find out the huge increase at the expenditures of social security in Japan with the aging of society following the drastic increase of issuances of national bonds after the burst of bubbles in early 1990s. .We discuss Japanese current systems of social securities including annuity pensions, health care, and other social welfare programs.
This class will be conducted by face-to-face. I will provide lecture notes and lecture materials through the [Announcement] on the class of [Fiscal Issues on Social Security 01] in advance (maybe early April).

Objectives: The course aims to lead students to understand both theory and practice of social securities. Three import functions of government are resource allocation, income redistribution, and macroeconomic stabilization. Among those functions, the social security is mainly concerned with the function of income redistribution. To implement the income redistribution function the government is required to finance social security expenditures. Students need to get familiar with the proper understanding on the relations between social security system and income redistribution, and to evaluate public policies or expenditure programs.

before/after course of study: Read the materials distributed beforehand. Review what you learned at the class. Feel free to ask questions if you do not know basic concepts in economics and public finance.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction
Overview of the course
Vol. 2 Roles of government
Three Main Functions of Government
Vol. 3 Features of Social Security in Japan
Current Issues in Social Security
Vol. 4 Effciency and Market Performance
Pareto Optimality and Efficient Resource Allocation
Vol. 5 Effciency and Equity
Fundamental Theorems and Social Welfare Function
Vol. 6 Social Security
Justification of Social Security
Vol. 7 Public Pensions
Pension System in Japan and Economic Effects of Public Pensions
Vol. 8 Income Redistribution
Rationale for Income Redistribution and Some Policies
Vol. 9 Principles for Redistribution
Normative Principles for Redistribution and Positive Accounts of Redistribution
Vol.10 Redistributive Impact of the Budget
Incidence and Valuation of Expenditures

Vol.11 Expenditure Programs for the Poor
Maintenance and Work Incentives
Vol.12 Fiscal Measures and the Less Well Off
Cash Transfers and In-kind Transfers
Vol.13 Presentation
Review and Presentation of Term Paper
Vol.14 Final Exam
Comments and the Exam to Enhance Educational Effects

Language: English

Textbooks: Cullis, John and Philip Jones, Public Finance and Public Choice, 3rd edition (2009) , Oxford Press
(Ch.1 Market Performance and Ch.9 Income (Re)distribution)
Rosen, Harvey S. and Ted Gayer (2014), Public Finance 10th ed. McGraw-Hill.
(PartⅢPublic Expenditure: Ch.11 Social Security, Ch.12 Income Redistribution, Ch.13 Expenditure Programs for the Poor)

References: Gruber, J., Public Finance and Public Policy, 6th edition, 2019.
Musgrave and Musgrave, Public Finance in Theory and Practice, McGraw-Hill, 5th Edition, 1989.
Hindriks, Jean and Gareth D. Myles Intermediate Public Economics, MIT Press, 2006.
Atkinson, Anthony. B. and Joseph E. Stiglitz, Lectures on Public Economics, Princeton Univ. Press, 2015.
Handbook of Public Economics, vol. 5, edited by A.J. Auerbach, R. Chetty, M. Feldstein, and E. Saez, North Holland), 2013.
Handbook of Public Economics, vol. IV, edited by A.J. Auerbach and M. Feldstein, Elsevier Science Publishers B. V. (North Holland), 2002.
Anderson, John E. Public Finance, Houghton Mifflin, 2003.
Ministry of Finance (each year), Current Japanese Fiscal Conditions and Issues to be Considered.
Handouts of Fiscal Data
Other Handouts related to Economic and Fiscal Issues etc.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	60	Final Exam
Papers:	30	Presentation and Term Paper
Class contribution:	10	Active Participation
Others:	0	However, some bonus points can be added at the presentation, if any.

Note/URL: Students want to know the practices of the social socurites in Japan. I will deal with them at the class in more detail.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB43200|51|210EB43200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Fiscal Policy: on Taxation and Well-being 51
Instructor	KOOK, Joongho
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: Our class aims to understand the theory and practice of taxation and well-being. We highly emphasize the criteria of efficiency and equity. Considering these two criteria, the course consists of three parts after explaining the features of tax systems in Japan.
Part one presents the construction of a theoretical framework for taxation and income distribution, which is closely related to equity criterion. We analyze tax incidence on commodities and production factors, and discuss commodity taxation without competition.
Part two deals with the topics on taxation and efficiency. Main issues in Part two include tax incidence, excess burden with indifference curves and demand curves. These issues can be revisited as welfare costs of taxation at partial and general equilibrium analysis.
Part three constructs a basic economic model for analyzing efficient and equitable taxation. Two important topics in Part three are optimal commodity taxation and optimal income taxation. We study some rules on commodity tax design such as the Ramsey rule and the Corlett-Hague rule covering optimal commodity taxation. Optimal income taxation can be classified as optimal linear and nonlinear income tax. We also mention a critique of normative optimal taxation and empirical evidence of positive optimal taxation. Thisclass will be conducted by face-to-face. I will provide lecture notes andlecture materials through the [Announcement] on the class of [Fiscal Issueson Social Security 01] inadvance (maybe late September or early October).

Objectives: This course focuses on making students understand theory and practice related to the criteria of efficiency and equity. We recommend that students grasp the main features of Japanese tax systems in in practical side, and that they study how taxes distort the market, how government intervenes market failures and it designs commodity and income taxes.

before/after course of study: Study lecture notes and read the materials distributed beforehand. Review what you learned at the class. Feel free to ask questions if you do not know basic concepts in economics and public finance.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1 Introduction
Outline of the course and the Roles of Government
Vol. 2 Features of Tax Systems in Japan
Current Issues in Taxation and Tax Reform
Vol. 3 Taxation and Income Distribution (1)
Tax Incidence on Commodities and Factors
Vol. 4 Taxation and Income Distribution (2)
Commodity Taxation without Competition
Vol. 5 Taxation and Efficiency (1)
Excess Burden with Indifference Curves
Vol. 6 Taxation and Efficiency (2)
Excess Burden with Demand Curves and Its Measurements
Vol. 7 Welfare Costs (1)
Welfare Costs of Taxation: Partial and General Equilbrium Analysis
Vol. 8 Welfare Costs (2)
Welfare Costs of Income Taxes and Tax Incidence
Vol. 9 Efficient and Equitable Taxation (1)
Optimal Commodity Taxation and User Fees

Vol.10 Some Rules on Commodity Tax Design
The Ramsey Rule and The Corlett-Hague Rule
Vol.11 Efficient and Equitable Taxation (2)
Optimal Income Taxation and Tax Policy
Vol.12 Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations
The Types and Roles of Intergovernmental Grants
Vol.13 Presentation
Review and Presentation of Term Paper
Vol.14 Overview and Final Exam
Comments and the Exam to Enhance Educational Effects

Language: English

Textbooks: Cullis, John and Philip Jones, Public Finance and Public Choice, 3rd edition, Oxford Press, 2009.
(Ch.7 Tax Theory: the Basic Concepts and Ch.15 Optimal Taxation)
Rosen, Harvey S. and Ted Gayer, Public Finance 10th ed. McGraw-Hill, 2014.
(PartⅣ Framework for Tax Analysis: Ch.14 Taxation and Income Distribution, Ch.15 Taxation and Efficiency, Ch.16 Efficient and Equitable Taxation)

References: Musgrave and Musgrave, Public Finance in Theory and Practice, McGraw-Hill, 5th Edition, 1989.
Ishi, Hiromitsu(2001) The Japanese Tax System, 3rd Edition, Oxford University Press
Hindriks, Jean and Gareth D. Myles Intermediate Public Economics, MIT Press, 2006.
Atkinson, Anthony. B. and Joseph E. Stiglitz, Lectures on Public Economics, Princeton Univ. Press, 2015.
Handbook of Public Economics, vol. 5, edited by A.J. Auerbach, R. Chetty, M. Feldstein, and E. Saez, North Holland), 2013.
Handbook of Public Economics, vol. IV, edited by A.J. Auerbach and M. Feldstein, Elsevier Science Publishers B. V. (North Holland), 2002.
Anderson, John E. Public Finance, Houghton Mifflin, 2003.
Ministry of Finance (each year), Current Japanese Fiscal Conditions and Issues to be Considered.
Handouts of Fiscal Data
Other Handouts related to Economic and Fiscal Issues etc.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams:	60	Final Exam
Papers:	30	Presentation and Term Paper
Class contribution:	10	Active Participation
Others:	0	However, some bonus can be add at presentation. if any.

Note/URL: Students want to know the practices of the tax system in Japan. I will deal with them at the class in more detail.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB43400|01|210EB43400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Enterprise and Governance 01
Instructor	POKARIER, Christopher J
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Thur.2@02:Thur.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Varieties of capitalism and emergent issues

Course Outline: The course will examine the rich variety of capitalisms, and of other economic systems, across time and place. We will explore the historical development of the business firm, its particular economic advantages and social impacts, and the technological, political, creative, financial and societal forces that are transforming the landscape of contemporary enterprise. The course will examine how governance of the private institution of the firm is patterned by the structures of public governance within which it situated, how they have evolved mutually over time, and how there has been systematic variance in market systems, governance and enterprise outcomes across countries. It will offer a multidisciplinary and historical feel for the development of enterprise & market systems and will complement prior studies in business, politics, history and related fields. It also explores large contemporary issues – such as aging societies, inequality, digitisation, locational clustering – through the prism of the varied 'adaptive efficiency' of firms and societies, so is of general career relevance too.

Objectives: Intended learning outcomes:

+ familiarity with key concepts in contemporary corporate governance.

+ an understanding of the historical and contemporary relationships between the worlds of business, politics, and their societal contexts

+ familiarity with relevant examples from a number of countries and regions.

+ engagemnent with theories of the origins of national and regional particularity in business and economic systems.

+ some awareness of the relative effectiveness of particular business systems.

+ understanding of common criticisms and defences of private and state enterprise and regulation.

+ engagement with contemporary discussions about key issues facing market economies, including aging populations, Ai & automation, spatial clustering of economic activities, agility, creativity and innovation systems.

+ some analytical capacity to navigate the complexity of particular industry and firm case studies, from corporate and public governance perspectives.

before/after course of study: Active engagement with the text and a wide range of other materials – some reading and much video material – provided through the Moodle learning platform.

This is an advanced course, equivalent to slightly more a quarter of a full-time student load (4 credits, and a SILS degree requires 124 credits, or an average of 15.5 per semester). The expected level of engagement mirrors this. A good rule of thumb is that at SILS students undertaking a standard load of courses should be investing about 500 hours a semester in learning, in-class and outside. This equates to to about a 36 hour week under the shortened 14 week system, and involving an average of about 6 hours of learning and group project endeavours a week on average outside class in this and other 4 credit courses.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
1. introduction
2. varied economic outcomes
3. modern market systems
4. limits to markets (class activity)
5. exit, voice & loyalty (class activity)
6. early enterprise
7. the firm in law
8. the firm in culture
9. the firm and finance
10. the firm and liability
11. the firm and agency
12. corporate control events

13. rise of the American corporation
14. British enterprise
15. Continental European varieties of capitalism
16. interrogating examples: who profits, who pays? (class activity)
17. settler and rentier capitalisms
18. Japanese capitalisms
19. Nordic capitalisms
20. 'Disruption': enterprise, technology & governance
21– 23. Disruption presentations & discussion
24. old and new ecologies of enterprise
25. the firm beyond national boundaries enterprising places
26. convergence?: politics & varieties of capitalism
27. Contending capitalisms?: USA, BRICs, Europe + beyond
28. final quiz and reflective essay

Language: English

Textbooks: John Micklethwait & Adrian Wooldridge (2005 / 2003) The Company: A short history of a revolutionary idea, New York The Modern Library, Random House.

References: Additional readings and viewings, some required and others optional, will be made available through links from Moodle.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット（教員による切替可）

Evaluation Free-: midterm quiz: 30% (multiple choice questions, offline & in-class)
Group presentation project on 'disruption': 25%
Final quiz & reflective short essay: 30% (15% each, in-class exam)
Engagement: 15%

Note/URL: All class material will be made available via the Moodle platform.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB43800|01|210EB43800[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Industrial Organization 01
Instructor	SUZUKI, Ayako
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Mon.3@02:Sat.2	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Industrial Organization

Course Outline: This course applies economic theory to the study of firms in markets. The study focuses on firm behavior in imperfectly competitive markets, which appear to be far more common than the perfectly competitive markets that were the focus of basic microeconomics courses. It draws on game theory, transaction cost analysis, information theory, and the economic analysis of the law to provide detailed consideration of firm behavior and the goals and effects of government intervention.

Objectives: 1. To understand the theory of industrial organization
2. To learn how the basic theories can be extended
3. To learn how the theories have been used in anti-trust cases before/after course of study: This course offers advanced contents. Decent amount of self-study outside the classroom will be necessary to pass the exams.

Furthermore, preparation work for (group) presentations and the final report will be required.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule: The Course Map (Very tentative)::
[Class 1] Introduction
[Class 2] Costs
[Class 3] Problem set 1
[Class 4] Perfect competition and monopoly
[Class 5] Problem set 2
[Class 6] Oligopoly
[Class 7] Problem set 3
[Class 8] Cartels and collusion
[Class 9] Problem set 4
[Class 10] Product differentiation
[Class 11] Problem set 5
[Class 12] Review for midterm
[Class 13] Midterm exam
[Class 14] Entry
[Class 15] Problem set 6
[Class 16] Price discrimination
[Class 17] Problem set 7
[Class 18] Vertical restraint
[Class 19] Problem set 8
[Class 20] Information
[Class 21] Problem set 9
[Class 22] Review for final
[Class 23] Final exam
[Class 24] Case presentation
[Class 25] Case presentation
[Class 26] Case presentation
[Class 27] Case presentation
[Class 28] Case presentation

Language: English

Textbooks: Modern Industrial Organization, Carlton and Perlo, Harper/Collins.

References: Industrial Organization: A Strategic Approach, J. Church and R. Ware, Mc-Graw Hill.
Industrial Organization: Contemporary Theory and Practice, Pepall, Richards, and Norman, Southwestern.
Economics of Strategy, Besanko, Dranove, and Shanley, John Wiley.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag:	0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）
Exams:	50	Midterm 25% Final 25%
Others:	50	Problems sets submission 20% Case presentation 20% Final report 10%
Note/URL:	国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。 履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。 The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below. Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements. https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB44300|01|210EB44300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Economic Development 01
Instructor	DAIMON, Leo
Term	spring semester	Credits	4
Day/Period	01:Sat.3@02:Sat.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: This course provides an analytical overview of key dimensions of development--growth, poverty, vulnerability, inequality, basic needs, sustainability, and quality of life--and how they structure contemporary development debates. We will apply core micro and macro development theories to diagnose why development succeeds or fails in specific country or sectoral contexts. In particular, we will use quantitative tools for measuring poverty, vulnerability, inequality and basic needs outcomes, and interpret these indicators for policy analysis.

Objectives: No prior exposure to economics is assumed, but students without prior exposure to introductory level economics shall be prepared to work harder towards the completion of the course. Students should be able to formulate evidence-based policy recommendations for governments, donors, and NGOs that align with the analytical tools and case-study evidence presented in the textbook and handouts.

before/after course of study: Students are required to purchase a textbook and read assigned pages before and after each session. Spend 60 min for preparation and 120 min for review including assignments.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule Week 1 – Introduction & perspectives
Development definitions, seven dimensions (growth, poverty, vulnerability, inequality, basic needs, sustainability, quality of life), evolution of development thought and diagnostics.Week 2 – Growth & structural change
Growth theories in a development context and structural transformation across sectors, with empirical growth exercises.Week 3 – Poverty measurement
Poverty indices, poverty profiles, and decomposition, with quantitative poverty exercises using spreadsheet / Stata-style work aligned with the book's supplements.Week 4 – Vulnerability & risk
Vulnerability concepts, shocks, informal insurance, and household risk-coping, with a small applied data exercise.Week 5 – Inequality & inclusive growth
Inequality measurement and links between growth, inequality, and poverty, plus policy debate on redistribution.Week 6 – Basic needs: health & education
Human capital, health and education as basic needs; health as domestic and international public good.Week 7 – Social protection & cash transfers
Design and evaluation of cash transfers and other social protection tools, drawing on case studies and impact evaluations.Week 8 – Impact evaluation tools
RCTs and quasi-experimental methods; students design an evaluation plan for a development program, reflecting the book's emphasis on diagnostics, design, and impact evaluation.Week 9 – Agriculture & rural development
Role of agriculture, smallholders, land, and technology adoption in development.Week 10 – Labor, migration, urbanization
Informal labor markets, rural-urban migration, and urbanization challenges.Week 11 – Finance & microfinance
Credit constraints, financial inclusion, and microfinance, with case-study discussion.Week 12 – Environment & sustainability
Sustainability, environmental externalities, and carbon trading as a development and climate instrument.Week 13 – Institutions & SDGs
Institutions, governance, and conflict; integration of Sustainable Development Goals and current debates on rising inequality.Week 14 – Final exam & course synthesis
In-class final examination covering theory, empirical tools, and applications across the seven dimensions.Very brief post-exam wrap-up: link results back to diagnostics-design-evaluation framework and discuss implications for development practice.

Language: English

Textbooks: de Janvry and Sadoulet, Development Economics (available from the COOP bookstore), required to purchase

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	70	Closed book exam for all chapters covered in class (one page "cheat sheet" allowed)
Papers:	20	In class exercises and assignments (to be submitted through Moodle)

Class contribution:	10	Participation and contribution to class

Note/URL: Updated from the previous year to reflect students needs for analytical skills.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB44400|51|210EB44400[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Topics: Financial Economics 51
Instructor	TAKEZAWA, Nobuya
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.5	Class Modality Categories	;ampus] Hybrid (over 50% of classes on-cai
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Introduction to the Economics of Sports

Course Outline: This is an introduction to the economics of (professional) sports. The course will review key concepts in microeconomics with applications specific to the sports industry. The course covers a wide range of topics including demand (and supply) in sport, discriminatory pricing, implications of profit maximization as well as topics unique to the sports industry such as competitive balance and athlete valuation. We will refer to finance and accounting concepts as it relates to the economics of sport.
Keep in mind this is an advanced level course at SILS. As such the course will focus on reading and understanding academic empirical research papers. Thus, knowledge of statistics at the level of the SILS required "introductory statistics" course is assumed. Strongly recommend students enroll in an introductory (principles) microeconomics course prior to this class. Background in intermediate microeconomics, business, and mathematics/statistics is also highly recommended (for a better learning experience). You do not need to be an avid sports fan to enroll in this course.
Note: A few sessions will be held online zoom (date determined in class). Students are asked to have an appropriate device (notebook PC, pad) with access to a stable internet connection in appropriate learning environment.

Objectives: After taking this course students should:
1) develop a solid understanding of core (micro) economic concepts.
2) be able to apply economic thinking in a business and/or sports industry context.
3) acquire working knowledge (familiarity with) of EXCEL for statistical analysis.
4) acquire the basic skills and knowledge to read empirical academic papers in sports economics and undertake more advanced course work in the area of applied (micro) economics and sports economics/sports finance.

before/after course of study: Review notes and assigned reading prior to class (and after class). Work on assigned problems after class. Reviewing concepts and numerical exercises on a regular basis is important in building block oriented courses such as economics. The instructor reserves the right to make changes to the schedule. All changes will be announced in class and posted on Moodle. Students are asked to check their Waseda email account and Moodle on a regular basis.
Preview and Review may take around 90-120 min. each.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
Week 1) Course Overview and Review of Key Concepts from Principles of Microeconomics Week 2) Review of Regressions (Statistics) Week 3) Business Model for Professional Team Sports Week 4) Demand, Revenue, and Cost Functions Week 5) Profit Maximization and Sports Teams Week 6) Moneyball: An Introduction
Week 7) Profit Maximization and Athlete Valuation Week 8) Price Discrimination and Ticket Sales Week 9) Issues in Competitive Balance (and Uncertainty of Outcome)
Week 10) Topics Related to OTT (online service) Week 11) Topics Related to Happiness, Economics, Sport Week 12) Topics (Select topics of interest to the class from a list provided by instructor)
Week 13) Wrap-up and Review
Week 14) In-class Final Test

Language: English

Textbooks: Notes and readings posted on Moodle Course Site

References:
1) Hal Varian. Intermediate Microeconomics. W. W. Norton
2) Michael Leeds, Peter von Allmen, Victor Matheson. The Economics of Sports.Routledge
3) Rodney Fort. Sports Economics. Prentice Hall.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Evaluation Free- Assignments (30%), Final Test (70%).

Note/URL: Detailed course outline distributed on the first day of class and uploaded on Moodle. Students are expected to check Moodle for updates and other information prior to class. As a general rule (and courtesy to the instructor) students should 1) not record lectures & discussion and 2) not take photos of the slides & board (without the permission of the instructor).

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB44700|01|210EB44700[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Modern Korean Economic Development 01
Instructor	KIM, Sei Wan
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: North and South Korea's Economic Development History and Their Current Problems

Course Outline: ※Online(Live Stream)/ Online(On-Demand recorded video with schedule restriction)

(This course will be taught in English)

This course is fun!We study a unique modern Korean economic developments and current situation.
Without much using economic theory, we study North and South Korean economies' past and now.
We also study possible economic integration between Japan, South Korea, and China in the future.
Every week, recorded lecture video is provided through MOODLE and then we meet at class real time through ZOOM.

Objectives: This course is fun because we investigate various economic issues of South and North Korean economies without serious economic theory!
Examples of economic issues are economic development differences between North and South Korean economies, history of both economies after WWII, trade between North and South Korean economy, each country's export and import, each economy's labor market, and each economy's current situation. For better understanding of Korean economic issues, sometimes we need to employ economic concepts like GDP, inflation, unemployment, interest rate, and etc. When we meet new economic concepts like above, I will review back grounds of these concepts at introductory level. So you don't have to be scared of economics yet! Also during the semester, I hope you become more familiar with Korean economic issues along with global economic issues in various media sources, newspapers, news magazines, news programming, etc.

The course requirements will consist of midterm exam and final exam (detailed exam dates will be announced later).

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1：フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule

Vol. 1
Current Issues in Korean Economy
History of South Korean Economic Growth I

Vol. 2
Current Issues in Korean Economy
History of South Korean Economic Growth II

Vol. 3
Current Issues in Korean Economy
History of North Korean Economic Growth I

Vol. 4
Current Issues in Korean Economy
History of North Korean Economic Growth II

Vol. 5
Current Issues in Korean Economy
Current Status and Issues of South Korean Economy I

Vol. 6
Current Issues in Korean Economy
Current Status and Issues of South Korean Economy II

Vol. 7
Current Issues in Korean Economy
Current Status and Issues of North Korean Economy I

Vol. 8
Current Issues in Korean Economy
Current Status and Issues of North Korean Economy II

Vol. 9
Current Issues in Korean Economy
South Korea's Industry Structure I

Vol.10
Current Issues in Korean Economy
South Korea's Industry Structure II

Vol.11
Current Issues in Korean Economy
Korean Wave

Vol.12
Current Issues in Korean Economy
South Korea's Industry Structure I

Vol.13
Current Issues in Korean Economy
South Korea's Industry Structure II

Vol.14
Current Issues in Korean Economy
Economic Impact of Unification of North and South Korea I
Economic Impact of Unification of North and South Korea II ″

The above class schedule is subject to change depending on class progress.

Language: English

Textbooks: There is NO official textbook for this class because all lecture materials will be provided through class web site at waseda MOODLE.

References: The following two books will be used as supplementary text books.

1. About Korean economy and its history
Korea's Place in the Sun: A Modern History by Bruce Cummings
W. W. Norton; Updated edition (September 17, 2005)

2. About basic economic theory
Principles of Macroeconomics by Gregory Mankiw
Thomson South-Western Publishier; 8th edition
(You may take a look at previous editions of this book which is available at university library.)

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams:	80	Midterm and Final Exams
Papers:	0	No paper
Class contribution:	20	Questions and class participation
Others:	0	No others

Note/URL: We have face to face office hour over ZOOM 1 hour before class every week or appointment.
My ZOOM link will be provided before office hours.
All lecture notes, readings, information on the class will be posted on Waseda MOODLE class web site.
So please check out class web site at MOODEL before coming to class.

国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB45200|51|210EB45200[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Mechanism Design in Practice 51
Instructor	ISHIKAWA, Ryuichiro
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.3	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: How to motivate people to be honest

Course Outline: In this lecture, students explore "Mechanism Design" which is an active research field in economic theory. Mechanism design is an emerging economic theory focused on designing institutions to effectively influence people's behavior.It serves as the foundation for social implementation by addressing social issues through design of social rules (Note that it is different from "Design thinking").
This lecture focuses on the challenges and innovations in social implementation based on this theory. Moreover, by applying mechanism design theory, students will gain insights into generating collective Intelligence through the aggregation of people's decentralized evaluations.
Such social implementation is facilitated by a rigorously examined theoretical methodology. Hence, students should recognize that some math (like calculus) in this course is required while the necessary math is explained during the lectures. Consequently, it is crucial to attentively follow these rigorous discussions.

Objectives: The goal of this lecture is to help students identify people's incentive behavior toward institutions and rules, enabling them to modify or conceive of appropriate institutions and develop such viewpoints.
After this lecture, students will realize that many institutions in our society ignore people's incentive structures. To address such problems,
1. Cultivate the ability to think about how they should be modified.
2. Develop a viewpoint to reduce inconsistency among peoples' incentives.
A classic example is the King Solomon dilemma. The problem is that King Solomon (who is believed to be the king of Israel around the 10th century B.C.) discerns the correct mother from two women who claim to be the mother of one baby. The anecdote claims that he found the real mother by threatening to cut the baby in half and give it to both, but this is incorrect from a mechanism design perspective. How on earth should this be resolved? After the class, students are expected to resolve this kind of problem.

before/after course of study: Since the lectures are self-contained, students are encouraged to focus on reviewing. However, it is recommended that students have an introductory knowledge of game theory.
Students should spend 1-2 hours per week working on reviewing and the homework assignments given in the lectures, as they are important for understanding this course. Mathematical proofs will also be shown in the lectures, so reproduce them at home.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 0 : 講義回毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule:

Vol. 1: What is "Mechanis Design" ?

King Solomon dilemma: Basic Ideas of Mechanism Design & howto elicit peoples' preferences.

Vol. 2: Mechanism to implement in society: I

School Chocie: Deferred acceptance (Gale-Shapley) algorithm

Vol. 3: Mechanism to implement in society: II

Gift/Parking Exchange: Top Trading Cycle (TTC) algorithm

Vol. 4: Basic Auction Theory

Equivalence among acution mechanism

Vol. 5: Game Theory for Mechanism Design

Incomplete information game & Dominant strategy implementation

Vol. 6: Genaral Auction Mechanism

Vickrey-Clarke-Groves mechanism

Vol. 7: Toward Mechanism Design for Collective Intelligence

Bayesian Truth Serum to obtain serious answers in questionnaire

Vol. 8 : Some Math for Scoring Rules in Mechanism Design for Collective Intelligence

Logarithm Functions, Quadratic Scoring Rules, & their Properties

Vol. 9: Bayesian Nash Equilibrium
Calculation of Bayesian Nash Equilibrium
Vol.10: Peer Predicition Mechanism
Review mechanism for evaluation of no grand truth
Vol.11: Bayesian Prediction Market
Aggregation of people's forecasts by token
Vol.12: Honest via Choice Matching Mechanism
General & Implementable Mechanism to elicit serious answersin questionnaire
Vol.13: Some advanced topics
Communication, Consensus & DAOs
Vol.14: Final Exam and Discussion
Discuccion of how to design rules in our society

Language: English

Textbooks: Instructor's lecture notes

References: Mechanism design Theory for Undergrad.: G. Haeringer, Market Design: Auctions and Matching, MIT Press, 2018.
Social Implementations of Mechanism Design:
·A. Roth, Who Gets What—And Why: The New Economics of Matchmaking and Market Design, Mariner Books, 2016.
·P. Milgrom, Discovering Prices: Auction Design in Markets with Complex Constraints, Columbia Univ. Press, 2017.
Design of Collective Intelligence: B. Faltings & G. Radanovic, Game Theory for Data Science: Eliciting Truthful Information, Springer, 2017.

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット（教員による切替可）

Exams: 80 Performance in the final exam.

Others: 20 Performance in mini tests in the class.

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB45300|51|210EB45300[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Econometrics 51
Instructor	BAAK, Saang Joon
Term	fall semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.4	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Subjects	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Course Outline: The purpose of the course is to learn econometrics techniques so that students can answer various economic and financial questions by analyzing data.

Objectives: The purpose of the course is to learn econometrics techniques so that students can answer various economic and financial questions by analyzing data.

before/after course of study: 1. Python will be used as the primary tool for analysis. All necessary Python code will be provided by the instructor; that said, the course is best suited to students with a basic understanding of Python.
2. A working knowledge of statistics is required. This course is not recommended for students who struggled with introductory statistics.
3. Students who have taken Intermediate Statistics or Quantitative Methods for Economics will find this course easier to follow..

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
1. The Nature of Econometrics and Economic Data.
2. The Simple Regression Model.
3. Multiple Regression Analysis: Estimation.
4. Multiple Regression Analysis: Inference.
5. Multiple Regression Analysis: OLS Asymptotics.
6. Multiple Regression Analysis: Further Issues.
7. Midterm Exam.
8~9. Pooling Cross Sections Across Time: Simple Panel Data Methods.
10~11. Advanced Panel Data Method
12~13. Instrumental variables Estimation
14. Final Exam

Language: English

Textbooks: Introductory Econometrics: A Modern Approach, Jeffrey M. Wooldridge, 8th Edition, 2025, Cengage

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Exams: 90 Midterm 40%
Fianl 50%

Class contribution: 10 Class participation

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB50100|01|210EB50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Economy and Business 01
Instructor	BAAK, Saang Joon
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Tues.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: The Japanese and East Asian Economies

Course Outline: The purpose of this seminar is to study the economies in East Asia including the Japanese economy. Specifically, students will study the current situation of these economies, their competition and cooperation, corporations in this area. For this purpose, students will read various papers and reports and will have a group presentation. Students are expected to have at least one presentation in the class.

Objectives: The purpose of this seminar is to study the economies in East Asia including the Japanese economy.

before/after course of study: As part of your preparation, you will be asked to read the materials posted on Waseda Moodle. Preparation is expected to take 90-120 minutes. For the review, you will be asked to submit an assignment, watch the on-demand content, or read the referential materials. The review is expected to take 90-120 minutes.

Course Schedule Free-Text Entry: 1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)

Course Schedule
[Class 1]Presentation of Outline by those graduating in Sep 2013
[Class 2]Chapter 1, Instructor
[Class 3]Student Presentation
[Class 4]Student Presentation
[Class 5]Student Presentation
[Class 6]Student Presentation
[Class 7]Student Presentation
[Class 8]Student Presentation
[Class 9]Student Presentation
[Class10]Student Presentation
[Class11]Student Presentation
[Class12]Student Presentation
[Class13]Student Presentation
[Class14]Thesis Presentation

Language: English

Grading Free-text Entry Flag: 0 : 評価方法毎フォーマット(教員による切替可)

Papers:	30	paper
Class contribution:	70	presentation and discussions

Note/URL: 国際教養学部では以下リンクの通り、学修成果を定めています。
履修登録やご自身の成果確認の際、ご参考ください。
The School of International Liberal Studies defines its Learning Outcomes in the link below.
Please refer to this when registering for courses and checking your achievements.

https://waseda.box.com/s/48aggk8r66mbfbf02xd1jln1ov6vyrfb

AY2026 SILS Course Information

[SYLLABUS_ID]2026|21|210EB50100|02|210EB50100[/SYLLABUS_ID]

Course Title	Seminar on Economy and Business 02
Instructor	DAIMON, Leo
Term	spring semester	Credits	2
Day/Period	01:Fri.5	Class Modality Categories	[On-campus]
Course Category	Advanced Seminar	Eligible Year	3rd year and above
Notes

※The course content described in the course outline and Web Syllabus may be adjusted after the course begins, depending on the number of enrolled students and their level of understanding.

Subtitle: Re-examining the "meaning of wealth" – Economic Development Advanced Seminar (Daimon Seminar)

Course Outline: This advanced seminar reads and discusses the theory and policy of economic development. The key concepts to be reviewed include poverty and inequality, growth, human security and institutions. Our approach is interdisciplinary, and students learn to evaluate development policies both quantitatively and qualitatively. Students will conduct a primary data survey (in compliance with university policies regarding the field trips) to complete a graduation thesis, using statistics / econometrics software (STATA) and strong inter-cultural communication skills are required (the second foreign language other than English is a plus). Students learn to set up and prove working hypothesis and draw feasible policy recommendations for real issues. In the past, students participated field trips to the Philippines, India, Indonesia, East Timor, China and Cambodia. Students are expected to take or have taken Economic Development offered by the same instructor in Fall semester. The advanced seminar at SILS consists of the three-semester series, as follows:

<1st Semester> Introduction to Quantitative Methods for Economic Development and Academic Paper Writing Methods
1) Introduction to Quantitative Method for Economic Development (consistent with Economic Development Course)
2) Getting Started with STATA/EVIEWS/Python for Academic Paper in Economic Development
3) How to Structure Academic Paper in Economic Development with
(a) Research Question
(b) Literature Survey
(c) Hypothesis and Model
(d) Quantitative Analysis (Data, Descriptive Statistics, Regression, Interpretation with Hypothesis Testing)
(e) Policy Implications
4) Project Paper (presentation and paper writing) based on the common dataset from developing countries (or developed countries, if relevant) / 15 pages

<2nd Semester> Development of Ideas for Graduation Thesis
1) Small Group (Max 4-5 students) Bi-Weekly Meeting for Thesis
(a) How to find an original / relevance Research Question
(b) What is the current academic achievement in the existing study and its limitations
(c) What is the best estimation model?
(e) What is the best secondary data and what survey should be conducted for primary data collection?
(f) Descriptive Statistics, Regression, Hypothesis Testing
(g) Policy Implications
2) Individual Meeting (for additional feedback)
3) First Draft of Graduation Thesis (presentation and paper writing) /20 pages

Collection of Primary Data and Informal Seminar Meetings

<3rd Semester> Finalizing Graduation Thesis
1) Collection and Analysis of Primary Data
2) Second Draft of Graduation Thesis (presentation, small or large group)
3) Final Draft of Graduation Thesis (presentation in a large group and paper writing) / formatted as required by SILS regulations
(due before the winter break)
4) Oral Defense of Graduation Thesis (in January) / edited, proof-read, and finalized

See the following website for further information about Daimon Seminar

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8_YDx1W_Pb0&t=146s (introduction by a current student) (in Japanese) https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=h43TNTBarcQ&t=4s (self-introduction of the instructor) (in English/Japanese) https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ThQQN_0skjE&t=303s (output for the first semester) (in English)

Student size is kept rather small, with maximum number of registered students of about 15 for each year, in order to maximize good academic interactions within a seminar.

Objectives:	Qualitative and quantitative assessment of economic development theory and policies before/after course of study:	Spend 60 min before class and 60 min after class to review reading assignments. Small group and/or individual meetings as well as informal seminars beyond regular time framework are held (upon request by students(s) or instructor).
Course Schedule Free-Text Entry:	1 : フリーフォーマット(教員による切替可)
