This publication grant has been established to assist directly with some of the costs associated with the publication of books that are academically excellent but have limited commercial viability and that are written by young researchers (Special Institute Members and Research Collaborators) affiliated with the Waseda Institute of Political Economy. Translated works, textbooks, and other printed works similar to the two aforementioned categories of works are not eligible to receive this grant.

Qualifications for Applying for the Publication Grant:

Applicants must be affiliated with the Waseda Institute of Political Economy and have acquired a doctoral degree (in general, a degree in the fields of political science, economics, international political economy, or journalism) from a Waseda University graduate school no longer than five years prior (at the time of the submission of the application for the publication grant) or expect to acquire such a degree. (*) In addition, if the work is a collaboration, all authors must fulfill the above requirements.

*Applicants who expect but have yet to acquire their doctoral degrees must additionally submit letters of recommendation (no prescribed format) from their supervising faculty members.

Academic Books Eligible for the Publication Grant:

To be eligible for this grant, the book must be written by an applicant or applicants who fulfill(s) the qualifications listed above and must meet the following conditions:

- (1) The research findings (the manuscript) must be complete, and the content must be academically excellent.
- (2) The book must be intended for commercial sale.
- (3) The book must not have been commissioned by the publishing company.
- (4) The applicant(s) must be the copyright holder(s).

Publication Costs Covered by the Grant:

①The publication costs eligible to be covered by the grant consist of typesetting fees, printing fees, paper costs, book-binding fees, and fees for copyediting English-language works. Funds spent on other costs, including advertising fees, communications costs, sales commissions, meeting expenses, and costs for donated copies of the work are not covered.

Grant Amount:

- (1) The amount of the grant shall not exceed 500 thousand yen per successful application.

Solicitation of Applications:

- (1) The application process will be conducted annually with a deadline at the end of January.

→ Additional Application : January 19, (Friday) , 2024 [Strict Deadline]

- (2) The grant will be awarded to a small number of applicants per application period.

(The grant recipients will be determined after consideration of the application documents received.)

Application Process:

The following documents shall be required to apply for the grant:

- (1) Application Form for the Young Researchers' Publication Grant
- (2) The manuscript of the work intended to be published
- (3) An estimate of the costs of publication

* Applicants may be asked to submit documents explaining the selection of the publisher.

Determination of Grant Approval:

Grant approval will be determined based on screening by a screening committee (in general, consisting of three members appointed by the Institute Director) organized by the Steering Committee of the Waseda Institute of Political Economy. Successful applicants will be notified of the amount of assistance to be received via the Office of the Institute.

Timing of Publication and the Duty to Submit the Published Work:

- (1) A work for which the grant is awarded shall be published during the fiscal year indicated in the title of this document.
- (2) The published work must include a note to the effect that the grant was received.
- (3) When the publication of the work has been completed, a receipt and three copies of the work shall be submitted to the Waseda Institute of Political Economy
