

Change of the application document regarding English-based Undergraduate Program AO Admission for September 2023 enrollment onwards

Faculty of Science and Engineering informs you that we will change the part of the application documents as following three points to fulfill the Standardized Test requirement from the admission for September 2023 enrollment onwards.

For more details, please refer to Application Guide for 2023 September enrollment scheduled to be released around September 2022.

I . Abolition of Acceptance of SAT Subject Tests

With the elimination of the SAT Subject Tests in June 2021, we will abolish accepting the SAT Subject from the admission for September 2023 enrollment onwards.

II . Start of Acceptance of AP (Advanced Placement)

We will start accepting the AP as the standardized testing as following from the admission for September 2023 enrollment onwards.

III . Stop requiring the ACT Writing test

Although we required "Writing" test when the applicants submit ACT on the AO Admission for September 2022 enrollment, the applicants don't need to submit "Writing" test from the AO Admission for September 2023 enrollment onwards. Even if applicants submit Writing test, we will not use its score when making admissions decisions.

【Comparative table】

Case when applicants who are following the American education system or whose education system is not listed in List of Application Documents by Education System apply for the AO admission.
