

Average standardized test scores of passing the document screening in the last three years (2023–2025).

| ACT(Composite) | SAT(※)         | IB Diploma Program(including predicted grades) |
|----------------|----------------|----------------------------------------------------|
|                | SAT Redesigned |                                                    |
| 32.2    | 1473.2  | 38.3/42                                     |

This chart shows the average score of successful applicants of the document screening. The Faculty of Science and Engineering does not make public the average score of applicants who pass the final examination.

※ When Applicants for September 2023 enrollment onwards submit SAT results, they need to submit AP results in addition to SAT results.

For more information about the standardized test, please check the application guideline.

We encourage students to keep in mind that this statistic only reflects part of our holistic review process, and your performance on the test alone will not determine your admission decision.
The Faculty of Science and Engineering has neither a minimum standardized test score nor a maximum above which admission is guaranteed.
We also care deeply about factors like cultural and linguistic diversity, your interests, goals, and achievements.