Acquisition of Status of Residence “Student”

International students who are admitted to Waseda University are able to apply for a status of residence “Student”. Those with the status of residence “Student” are eligible to apply for tuition reduction/exemptions and scholarships for international students. Those with a status of residence other than “Student” are eligible to enter Waseda University but please be aware that you cannot use various services and systems intended for international students as stated above.

Please take note that students are not eligible to enroll in the university with a “Temporary Visitor” visa status. Carefully read (1)-(6) below and take the necessary measures to extend your period of stay, change your status of residence, request for application for COE by proxy, etc. In order to go through procedures concerning status of residence, you will need a “certificate of admission” issued by Waseda University. The WEEE Admissions office will issue the “certificate of admission” after you have completed payment of the admission, tuition, and other fees.

(1) If you do not have a status of residence in Japan

In order to apply for a status of residence, you will first need to obtain a certificate of eligibility (COE) from the Immigration Bureau of the Ministry of Justice of Japan, located in Japan. Limited to students with foreign citizenship and living outside of Japan who have completed enrollment procedures, Waseda University will apply for a COE to the Immigration Bureau on the student’s behalf. After the COE is issued, Waseda University will send it to the student by mail along with the certificate of admission (COA). Upon receiving the COE, you will need to take the COE, COA, and your passport to the Japanese embassy or consulate in your country of citizenship/residence to apply for a “Student” visa. The COE expires in 3 months of issuance, so be sure to acquire your visa within 3 months and enter Japan. Since it takes two to three months for the whole process of receiving documents for proxy application, application by proxy to the Immigration Bureau, assessment, and issuance of COE, please be careful not to start late with little time before enrollment.

[note]

- Waseda University will only carry out the application by proxy after you have completed payment of the admission, tuition, and other fees. If you wish to have Waseda University apply for COE for you, please complete your payment as soon as possible, and ask the WEEE Admissions Office (e-mail : weee-ent@list.waseda.jp) about the documents.

(2) If you have a status of residence “Student”

If you currently have a status of residence “Student”, please process the “application for extension of period of stay” as necessary. You are able to apply for an extension of period of stay up to three months before your status of residence expires. For details on procedures of applying for extension of period of stay, please refer to the following website.

<http://www.cie-waseda.jp/visastatus/en/prospective/studentstatus.html>

(3) If you have a status of residence “Temporary Visitor”

If you currently have a status of residence “Temporary Visitor,” as a general rule, you will need to temporarily leave Japan and apply for status of residence “Student.” For details on how to apply for a status of resident “Student,” please refer to “(4) If you do not have a status of residence.”

(4) If your status of residence is other than “Student” or “Temporary Visitor”

If you currently have a status of residence such as “Long Term Resident,” “Dependent,” etc., there is no need for you to undertake any procedures. However, if you wish to change your status of residence to “Student,” you will need to apply for a change of status of residence. For details on procedures of applying for a change of status of residence, please refer to the following website.

<http://www.cie-waseda.jp/visastatus/en/prospective/currentresidence.html>

[note] In order to apply for an extension or change of your status of residence, you need a completed application form with an official stamp of Waseda University. Prior to making the application to the Immigration Bureau, please visit the Center for International Education (located on the 4th floor, building No.22, Waseda Campus) with the application form and a certificate of admission, and other necessary documents.

(5) Acquisition/Change (applying on your own) of status of residence
[Visa waiver and Temporary Visitor visa holders]

If you enter Japan as a visa waiver or on a Temporary Visitor visa (within 90 days of stay in Japan, and no activities involving the receipt of money such as sightseeing, making business contact, visiting relatives, etc.), in principle, you will not be allowed to change your visa status while in Japan. However, if it is difficult for you to return to your home country before the start of the new semester due to the entrance exam held at the end of the academic year (end of February/March), you can go to the Immigration Bureau yourself, apply for a COE, get authorization, and go through procedures of changing your status of residence upon issuance of COE. However, please take note that this procedure is an exception, and you may not be allowed to acquire a status of residence. In such a case, you will need to temporarily leave Japan, submit your COE to the Japanese embassy/ consulate in your country of citizenship/residence, receive a “Student” visa, and return to Japan. The Immigration Bureau is solely responsible for decisions regarding status of residence. Waseda University cannot be held responsible for the duration of assessment and outcome.

[Other important points]

- The WEEE Admissions Office acts on your behalf to apply for a “Student” status of residence only. If you wish to apply for other types of status of residence, you need to make an application by yourself at the Immigration Bureau.
- The Immigration Bureau may require you to submit additional documents if needed.
- If you decide not to enter Waseda University, please write a statement that explains your reason (free format) and immediately send it to the WEEE Admissions Office along with your COE. Also, if you are accepted by another university in Japan, please make sure that you do not apply for a COE at more than one university. If there are multiple applications, the COE cannot be issued.
- If you have multiple citizenships that includes a Japanese citizenship, you are not eligible to apply for COE.
- The Immigration Bureau is solely responsible for decisions regarding status of residence. If issuance is delayed or application is not approved, Waseda University cannot be held responsible for the cancellation fee of your air ticket and other inconveniences. Please be careful when you book your flight.
- For application procedures concerning “Student” status of residence, contact Center for International Education, Waseda University (e-mail : cie-zairyu@list.waseda.jp) or the WEEE Admissions Office (e-mail : weee-ent@list.waseda.jp).

Environment and Power Systems

Jin Kusaka

The experiment study on combustion and performance of modern and next generation engine systems, formation and reduction of hazardous emissions, and automobile power systems, such as fuel battery vehicles, are conducted along with the theoretical study of quantitative calculations based on transport theory and chemical reaction speed theory.

Environmental and Exergy Engineering Research

Takao Nakagaki

Technological development aimed at reducing greenhouse gas emissions is urgently needed to achieve a sustainable-energy society. It is extremely important to establish energy systems with a low environmental impact considering features of electric, thermal, and chemical energy from the exergetic viewpoint. Our research guidance will focus on the following themes:

- Energy storage technologies for effective utilization of renewable energy
- CO₂ capture and sequestration (CCS) technologies with unused industrial byproducts
- Thermochemical and electrochemical exergy recuperation technologies applied to iron and steel making process / industrial furnaces
- Analysis of transport phenomena / development of fabrication process for fuel cells and Li-ion batteries

The research guidance provided in this area aims to develop individuals who possess a higher perspective view of energy systems and are capable of identifying problems and solutions based on a solid scientific foundation.

Assessment of Environmental Systems

Makoto Nohtomi

For the construction and maintaining a sustainable society, the introduction and propagation of new environmentally friendly technologies and social system are essential and necessary, the reasons of these necessity are derived by the excess consumption of natural resources and burden on ecosystem by human beings.

However it is difficult to foresee the effect and influence of control policies such as new technology introductions and new environmental policies, so the development of assessment (evaluation) methodology from the aspects of environment, economy and society is important for the sustainability of earth system.

The research guidance provided in this area seeks to help students learn analytical methods for the assessment(evaluation) of various environmentally conscious systems through exercises in applying the method in the actual systems they desire, and to lead the students to a level where they can develop the methods further and resolve actual problems. At the same time, OJT research activities are conducted to allow students to try out hands-on (experimental) approaches for resolving environmental and energy-related problems that extend outside the textbook.

Environment and Electric Energy

Yushi Kamiya

In recent years, even in the automotive field, it has been extremely important to overcome environmental and energy problems, and so related companies and researchers have been expected to further improve the performance of internal combustion engines, and at the same time conduct R&D into alternative driving systems. With this background, we conduct research into electric-driven vehicles (electric vehicles, plug-in hybrids, and fuel cell vehicles, etc.) that are friendlier to the environment. Electric-driven vehicles are superior to traditional vehicles in terms of reducing greenhouse gases, energy shift effect, reducing the burden on the environment, and improving the passenger environment. However, there are major technical problems, principally with the battery and charging, and so it has been difficult to carry out extensive spread of them. Here, we design, produce, and evaluate the electric-driven vehicles, as well as to improve the performance of its components (batteries, motors, charging systems etc.), and while solving each individual problem, tackling the common battery and charger problems.

Energy and Sustainable System for EnvironmentHiroshi Onoda

Research towards social implementation has been conducted which is focused on technology and system development for Low-carbon and Sustainable society. While the basic stance is the system engineering approach that is based on “Life Cycle Thinking”, incorporates a viewpoint of the academic area integrated consideration in terms of social acceptance. It is also characterized by developing project-based research by various industry-academic-government collaboration. The research fields are Smart Community, Next Generation Mobility System, Biomass Utilization Technology /System, Renewable Energy Utilization Technology / System, Energy Management System, Design for Environment, LCA (Life Cycle Assessment), Resource Recycling and Waste Management Technology /System, Business Ecosystem and so on.

Environmental Symbiosis & Local Society SystemTakashi Nozu

It has become difficult to treat environmental problems as a single issue in recent years. We need to understand and think about solutions for that from all aspects of the environment, economy, and society. Local communities have been attracting attention as a place to practice new circulating and green economy because they have both problems and potential of that.

This research aims to the realization of a sustainable local community system in harmony with the environment through the utilization of local resources. Our research guidance focuses on the interrelationships of various fields, such as the environment, energy, regional, food, and agriculture, from the viewpoint of social science and policy perspectives.

The following are examples of research themes:

Regional Revitalization by Utilizing Unused Resources such as Renewable Energy and Biomass, Environmental Symbiosis Policy, Agricultural Policy, Food Policy, Regional Policy, Construction of Innovation Systems in the Food Industry and Agriculture, Genetic resources.
