(2) Screening Schedule

1) Graduate schools that accept applications through the IAO

■ Announcement of 1st screening (Document Screening Results)

The results of document review will be sent to the present address or email address. specified on the application form in late December 2024. *

*Some graduate school or program will announce the admission result in January 2025. Please refer to [Appendix] for details.

■ 2nd Screening (Interview Examination)

An interview examination will be conducted through the Internet telecommunication system. The details of the interview will be informed when the result of the first screening is announced or on the designated schedule set by the graduate school or program. Please refer to [Appendix] for details.

- The interview will be conducted using a web-based video conference system ("Zoom"). It is not necessary to come to the University on the day of the interview.
- Details such as the meeting time and interview start time will be sent only to those who have passed the first round of the screening, at the e-mail address entered in the application form.
- Please make sure that the environment described below is available for you to sit for the interview. Any expenses incurred to prepare necessary equipment and environment is the responsibility of the applicant.

- The University may record the interview for screening purposes.
- Recording by anyone other than the University is strictly prohibited.

■ Precautions (e.g., equipment and environment required of applicants)

a) Internet connection

Please ensure a stable internet connection. A wired LAN system with cables is recommended to ensure a stable connection.

b) Audio and video equipment

Please prepare a web camera, microphone, earphones, speakers, etc. You may use the equipment built into your personal computer or other equipment. We recommend the use of a computer, but smartphones and tablets are also acceptable. Please participate in the Zoom test meeting (<http://zoom.us/test>) in advance to confirm the audio and video functioning/quality.

c) Location and interview time

Please secure a room with the above-mentioned equipment where you can maintain a quiet environment with no third parties around you. The start time of the interview will be designated by the University. Please note that we cannot accommodate individual requests. Please check the information from the graduate school for the interview time.

d) Troubleshooting and precautions on the day

If it is deemed difficult to conduct the interview owing to unforeseen circumstances such as Internet disconnection, the University will contact you by phone or e-mail at the contact address indicated on the application form. Please follow our instructions under these circumstances. If the applicant does not respond to our contact or does not follow our instructions, they may be deemed to have abandoned the examination. If the applicant leaves their seat during the interview, they may be deemed to have abandoned the examination. In these cases, the application fee will not be refunded.

Failure to observe the following precautions may be considered cheating:

The only items that can be placed around you are the examination slip, writing apparatus, notepad, plain handkerchief, and tissue paper out of a box or a bag.

e) Cautions regarding Zoom

- Please make sure that the Zoom video and audio are always “on” and that your entire face is always visible on screen.
- Please do not use any communication devices other than those used for the interview. Do not search for information or use any applications or tools other than Zoom on the device being used for the interview.
- Do not use the virtual background function of Zoom.
- To ensure that there are no third parties around you, you may be asked to move the camera to view the entire room before, during, and after the interview. In such cases, please follow the instructions.
- Please remove your mask during the interview.
- Please refer to the following website for instructions on how to operate Zoom.
