Ground Rules: Fundamental Principles of “Study Abroad at Your Own Risk.”

Studying abroad involves immersing yourself in a new, unfamiliar cultural environment, where you are expected to think and act independently. From the moment you are selected as a candidate, you must be aware that you are responsible for proactively gathering information and making thorough preparations to handle any unforeseen circumstances.

While the Center for International Education (CIE) is committed to supporting students studying abroad, our role is primarily to facilitate communication between students and partner universities. Please note that our support is limited.

Before applying to our study abroad program, you must carefully read the following fundamental principles (referred to as the “Ground Rules”) and accept full responsibility for your decisions, procedures, and information gathering.

1. Define your study abroad purpose and complete your procedures independently.

- Without initiative, you cannot expect to achieve much from your study abroad experience. Without a well-defined objective, you will not be able to take proactive steps. To make the most of your study abroad experience, it is essential to start out by organizing and clarifying your objectives.
- We provide general guidance on required procedures and assist you if unexpected issues arise. However, the primary responsibility for handling these procedures rests with you.
- It is crucial to complete all required steps carefully and promptly, and strictly observe deadlines. Failure to meet deadlines may result in cancellation of your participation, regardless of your wishes.

2. Handle issues independently before or during study abroad

- You are responsible for resolving any issues that arise with partner universities and are expected to deal with them by consulting with the local contact person. Please note that we cannot intervene in personal matters, including interpersonal conflicts and accommodation-related issues, that may occur while studying abroad.
- As part of the support system provided by the CIE, the Waseda University Support Desk, operated by an insurance company, is available for consultation. Make use of this service in case of emergencies, such as illness or injury.

3. Try to resolve any issues yourself first. Then seek support from us.

- We encourage you to take the lead and pave the way in your study abroad experience. Under the Ground Rules, you are required to act on your own responsibility. Even so, feel free to contact us if you encounter any difficulties. Our support may be limited in some situations; however, we will do our best to provide you with assistance.

END

Notes when applying

- (1) Refer to the CIE website to help define the theme and purpose of your study abroad before applying and prepare yourself to maximize your independence in learning during your study abroad.
<https://www.waseda.jp/inst/cie/from-waseda/plan>
- (2) Read this Guide and the Program List (refer to the below URL) thoroughly, and apply after you have understood their contents.
<https://www.waseda.jp/inst/cie/from-waseda/abroad/programlist/list>
- (3) After you submit your application, the CIE may contact you regarding the submitted documents and online registration information. Since there are many cases that require an urgent response, please be sure to check your Waseda Mail daily. Additionally, check your spam folder. The CIE assumes no responsibility for any disadvantages you may incur due to missed emails.
- (4) As a rule, you may not withdraw your application for personal reasons or withdraw a part of the programs you applied for after the application deadline. So choose programs carefully (each time there are a certain number of students who are allotted their 9th or 10th choice. To ensure you will be able to study abroad, we recommend that you select as many programs of your choice as possible.) In the unlikely event that you must withdraw your application, contact the CIE at the latest by 5pm on Friday, May 22.
- (5) Once you have been nominated as a study abroad candidate, in general, you are not allowed to withdraw for personal reasons or change to another program just for convenience. Withdrawal without cause will result in loss of eligibility to apply for future middle- or long-term study abroad programs run by the CIE (including cases where you are denied acceptance by the local authorities due to your misinterpretation of application requirements, etc.).

* In case of withdrawal from the program due to sudden illness or other unavoidable cases, expenses such as cancellation fees, penalty fees, additional fees, etc. may still be imposed.
- (6) Even after you have been nominated as a candidate, Waseda University or the partner universities may decide to cancel the study abroad or change its format immediately before departure or after arrival due to the following reasons. In this case, you will be responsible for all expenses incurred up to that point, with no refund from the CIE.
 - Poor academic performance
 - Not meeting the deadlines for the application or failing to perform the needed procedures for the application
 - Poor attendance at designated events, such as orientations
 - Factors apart from the above leading the CIE to determine that you are inappropriate for study abroad
 - The pandemic or the deteriorating international situation
- (7) Regarding procedures for CIE study abroad programs, please be aware of the Ground Rules. You are responsible for completing all required procedures proactively and without delay. If any necessary procedures instructed by the CIE are delayed, the CIE may issue a Yellow Card (Caution) or Red Card (Warning). These are not just warnings. In some cases, receiving a Yellow Card or Red Card may result in the cancellation of your participation. Apply for CIE study abroad programs only if you are committed to following the Ground Rules.

【Yellow Card/Red Card System】

Types	When to issue	Meaning
Yellow Card	In a specific procedure (referred to as "Procedure A"), the failure to meet the deadline occurs two or more times and a reminder is received.	Caution
Red Card	Despite having been issued a Yellow Card, the failure to complete Procedure A still continues.	Warning Unless the procedure is completed immediately, a penalty will be imposed.

* One Yellow or Red Card is issued for each delayed submission or response. Even if you received one for Procedure A, you may still receive another for a different delay, e.g., Procedure B.

[Example of a Yellow Card notice]

[Caution] Yellow Card: Immediate Action Required for Study Abroad Procedures

Dear XX,

We regret to inform you that, due to your repeated failure to respond to our reminders, the CIE is considering canceling your participation in the study abroad program. In accordance with the Ground Rules, we are issuing you a Yellow Card, which serves as a formal caution. If you fail to complete another necessary procedure, it may result in your removal from the program

Notes:

* As previously stated, excuses such as "I found it in my spam mailbox" or "I was busy" will not be accepted. Promptly complete the prescribed procedures.

* The CIE will not respond to any replies to this Yellow Card notice.

[Example of a Red Card notice]

[Warning] Red Card: Urgent Request for Study Abroad Procedures

Dear XX,

Due to your continued failure to perform the required duties following the Yellow Card previously issued, we are now issuing a Red Card, which serves as a formal warning, in accordance with the Ground Rules. Complete the required procedures immediately to avoid a penalty.

Notes:

* As previously stated, excuses such as "I found it in my spam mailbox" or "I was busy" are not accepted. Immediately complete the prescribed procedures.

* The CIE will not respond to any replies to this Red Card notice. If we do not confirm that you have completed the procedures immediately, we will contact you about a penalty.

(8) You may not apply for a CIE study abroad program concurrently with any other program . If any program offered by other than the CIE allow you to apply for both programs, the CIE does not permit you to do so. Such applications will be rejected.

(9) Some programs have a minimum number of participants specified by the partner universities. Please note that even if a program is cancelled due to an insufficient number of applicants, it will not be possible to change to another program.

- The extension of programs is not permitted. You must return to Waseda University after the study abroad program and complete the required procedures at your undergraduate or graduate school.
- You cannot take courses at Waseda University during their study abroad period.
 - * Depending on when you return to Japan, you can take some courses at Waseda University, including the summer or winter quarter courses, even during the study abroad period. To learn how to register and which courses are available, contact the undergraduate or graduate school you are studying at, or that offers the courses.
- Even if you choose to return to Japan before completion of the course for personal reasons, you will not receive refunds for program fees (including program development and operation fees), double degree registration fees, Waseda University's tuition, or any other expenses associated with the program.

2 Application/Screening Schedule

Refer to the separate document "Study Abroad Spring Recruitment \(Deadline: May 2026\): Screening Schedule and Notes on Interview Exam and Language Score Certificate" for details.

For details of available programs, check the Program List after all information is finalized on Wednesday, April 22. The Program List is final, having been discussed with partner universities, and will serve as the basis for recruitment and internal selection processes.

3 Application Eligibility

All the conditions stated below must be met. If any single eligibility requirement is unmet, you will not be nominated as a candidate. Some undergraduate or graduate schools may have separate criteria in addition to those listed below for eligibility.

■ Eligibility for all programs

(1) Students must be enrolled as full-time, degree-seeking students at Waseda University at the time of application and throughout their study abroad period, and demonstrate outstanding both academic and character qualities.

- * Applications are accepted even during a leave of absence, provided that students return to classes for the semester in which their study abroad period begins. All necessary steps, including interview examinations, attending orientations, and applying to partner institutions, etc., must be completed without fail while on leave of absence.
- * Refer to the School Study Guideline and website of your undergraduate or graduate school for the application eligibility criteria set by each school.
- * Students of the School of Human Sciences Online Degree Program are not eligible to apply due to its curriculum.
- * If you plan to graduate without returning to Waseda University after your study abroad, make sure to confirm with your undergraduate or graduate school office whether you are eligible to apply before submitting your application.

(2) Students must understand the contents of the written agreement and have obtained consent from their parents or other guardians.

* Consent must be obtained before making an application.

(3) Students must meet all the requirements of the programs to which they are applying.

School-Year Requirement

- You must satisfy the school-year requirements of your preferred programs. See Q7 in the Program List for details on the requirements for each program.
- If you have not advanced to the next grade because some requirements by graduate or undergraduate school were unsatisfied, you must meet those requirements based on the grade you currently belong to (i.e., the grade you are staying without advancement).
- For details about your enrollment status, including your current grade, ask your school.

Language Proficiency Requirement

- The language proficiency requirements of the preferred programs must be met at the time of application for internal screening. Each requirement stated on the Program List is a minimum for the application. Therefore, if you fail to meet the requirements (including specific section score requirements) by even 0.5 points, you will be excluded from internal screening.
- If you wish to participate in a program provided in your native language, you must also submit an official score certificate that meets the program's requirements.

English programs in general

- An official score certificate that meets the requirements of the preferred programs must be submitted at the time of application for internal screening.
* Even if you submit a certificate listed in the Program List Q12-C, as long as it is not acceptable for internal screening, you will not be considered for internal screening. For details on unacceptable certificates for internal screening, refer to "2) Notes regarding the official score certificates" (pages 15 to 16) of this Guide.
- Submission of a certificate is not required for the programs that the Program List Q12-C states as "*If you are applying only for this program, you do not need to submit a certificate or scorecard that proves your English proficiency." for it.

Non-English EX-R	<Programs with definite scores as requirements> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The application will be accepted even if a score certificate has not been submitted at the time of application for internal screening. In this case, the Non-English interview exam scheduled for Saturday, May 16, is mandatory. If at the time of application a score certificate has been submitted with a score below the required grade or score (), the “Non-English interview exam scheduled on May 16 is also required. <Programs without required scores or language proficiency requirements> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Non-English interview examination, scheduled for Saturday, May 16, is mandatory. Please be advised that, in this case, even those who achieve relatively high scores may still be required to take the interview exam. () Required grade/score: Please note that some programs, as stated in Q13-1 under Details (Program Overview), indicate that a score certificate is not required; however, the language grades or scores mentioned in Q13-2 will serve as the criteria for internal screening. <After internal screening / On applying for the host university> You may be asked to submit an official language score certificate that meets the host university's criteria by a set deadline after passing internal screening. In some cases, a letter of recommendation may be accepted if the host university allows it.
Non-English EX-L and CS-L	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The application will be accepted even if a score certificate has not been submitted at the time of application for internal screening. No interview exam is required. However, if required by the host university, a score certificate that meets the required score, or a letter of recommendation if accepted, must be submitted to the university by the designated date.

Important

The language proficiency requirement stated on the Program List is the minimum needed to apply. If your intended department has specific proficiency requirements, you must further fulfill those before applying to the host university. Please note that since the language proficiency requirement for science-related departments is sometimes set relatively low in some countries (e.g., the U.K.), as a result, there have been cases where students majoring in humanities, liberal arts, or social sciences, even though already decided as the candidate, have only been able to choose the science department.

- * Some universities have separate language proficiency requirements for graduate students.
- * Be sure to check the language proficiency requirements from the URL listed in Q12-C under Details (Program Overview) in the Program List or from your preferred university website.

GPA Requirement

- If the preferred program has a specific GPA criterion, it must be met. These are the minimum requirements for applications determined through consultation between partner universities and Waseda University. If you do not meet the requirements of the program you wish to pursue, you will not be considered for internal screening. The GPA requirements must be met not only at the time of application for internal screening, but also at the time of application to the host university after a candidate is selected. Please note that in the unlikely event that you do not fulfill the GPA requirement for your intended program at the time of application to the host university, your participation will be canceled.
- Refer to page 11 of the "STUDY ABROAD GUIDEBOOK" for the formula to calculate GPA for internal screening.
 - * This calculation formula was established and is used only by the CIE, and it is not the same as the one used by the undergraduate or graduate schools. Calculate your grades on your own by checking the "Grade Report" on MyWaseda.
- First-year students of undergraduate or graduate courses who have not yet received grades at Waseda University are not eligible to apply for programs with GPA requirements.
 - * However, graduate students with an undergraduate degree from Waseda University can apply for programs with a GPA requirement exceptionally, since GPA can be calculated based on the undergraduate grades.

Nationality Requirement

- Check carefully as some partner universities may not accept applications from certain nationalities.
- Some universities do not accept students with dual nationality or permanent residency. If this applies to you, check with your guardians.

 In addition to the aforementioned requirements, SILS students must also meet the following requirement.

■ Eligibility for SILS Students

In principle, SILS students are required to have completed at least three semesters at Waseda University by the time of departure.

- In the following case, a student may apply for programs that start from the third semester.
 - (1) The student applied to any one-year EX program and passed internal screening in the spring recruitment during their first semester (only those who enrolled in April).
 - (2) The student applied to any one-year program and passed internal screening in the second semester, which is intended to depart six months later, i.e., in the third semester.
 - * Program availability for (1) or (2) above depends on the recruitment period, spring or fall. See the Program List for details.

<Notes>

- SILS students cannot graduate at the end of the semester immediately after completing their study abroad program, whether it is under the university-wide agreements, departmental agreements, or any other program.
- For SILS SP1 students, participating in one-semester programs twice does not satisfy the graduation requirement to study abroad for one year. They must join a program that lasts a full year, except for SP1 students who enrolled in 2019 or 2020, who are exempt from this requirement.
- One-semester exchange programs do not meet the graduation requirements for the SILS SP1 students.

4 Application Process

The application is considered complete upon finishing both the “online application registration” and the “submission of necessary documents” within the designated periods. No registration or submission will be accepted after the designated period for whatever reason. The CIE does not intend to disclose the competitive ratio for any individual program or type of programs.

2) Notes regarding the official score certificates

① For all programs

- (1) Only official score certificates dated on or after June 5, 2024 will be accepted for internal screening.
- (2) An original of the official score certificate or a photocopy must be submitted. A printout of the web page is unacceptable. The CIE does not provide guidance on how to obtain the certificate.
- (3) Scores for the language tests not listed on the Program List are not accepted.
- (4) Ensure the certificate includes 'score', 'test date', 'test taker's name', and 'test name (IELTS, etc.)' on a single document. If the certificate is printed on more than one page, staple those pages together so that we can identify whose they are. If your name does not appear on the test results page, you must also submit a test confirmation email or any official document (the exam admission ticket) with your name.
- (5) Certificates are not usually returned; therefore, we recommend you submit copies.
- (6) Only if you cannot get the original score certificate due to reasons beyond your control, such as a delayed original or unissued PDF, you may provide a printed or copied screenshot of your test results from web. This screenshot must clearly show the 'score (including sub score)', 'test date', 'test taker's full name', and 'test name.' If you submit a screenshot, you must still provide the original certificate after being selected as a candidate.
- (7) Some programs set a base score not only for the total score but for each section (i.e., speaking, reading, etc.).
- (8) After the internal screening, you may be asked to retake the test when applying to the host university or obtaining a visa, or if your certificate expires before applying for a visa. If the retake result is lower than the score required by the host university or for a visa, you may not be accepted by the host university.
- (9) You will need to submit the original official score certificate or another official document issued by the institution if the partner university you apply to requires it.
- (10) Even if you entered the scores online, they will be considered invalid until you submit a certificate to prove them. The score cannot be substituted after the application deadline.
- (11) If you are submitting your score several times for the same type of test, be careful how you enter them in the online application.
- (12) The CIE cannot advise students on which test dates are suitable for internal screening. Check the organizer's website for information on how to apply and how long it takes to receive your results. Plan accordingly.

② English proficiency certificates

- (1) The TOEFL iBT® score scale has been changed from 1-120 to 1-6 as of January 21, 2026. If you plan to apply for the Spring 2026 Recruitment (Deadline: May 2026), see "Effects on Spring 2026 Recruitment with a Change of the TOEFL iBT® Scale" on the CIE website in advance.

- (3) If both TOEFL iBT® and IELTS are listed on the Program List for the program to which you are applying, you may apply as long as you meet the requirements for one of those tests. If you are applying to more than one program, you will need to meet each requirement and may be required to submit both TOEFL iBT® and IELTS scores.
- (4) Programs with a "(B)" next to the TOEFL iBT® score requirement on the Program List accept the 'My Best scores'. It is possible to apply for both programs that accept 'MyBest scores' and the ones that do not, at the same time, but keep in mind that you must meet all the requirements of each program.

- (7) If TOEFL iB® or IELTS scores are being re-scored, they are provisional and cannot be used for internal screening. Submit final scores.
- (8) Only the Academic Module is accepted for IELTS. Please note that score certificates obtained through the IELTS One Skill Retake system will not be accepted for internal screening.
- (9) The score, which does not meet the requirement (including section scores) by even 0.5 points will not be considered for internal screening. Do not apply for programs for which you do not meet the requirements.

5 Internal Screening Process

The CIE will make the selection based on the online registration information and submitted documents. If you pass the internal screening, you will be selected as a candidate for one of the programs you have chosen. Please note that you may not be selected for any of the programs of your choice as a result of competition with other students.

- Study or research plan (to be entered in the online registration)
- Study abroad aptitude test at your undergraduate or graduate school (selection process varies by each school)
- Writing exam, Essay (depends on program)

Please note that the CIE does not provide guidance on how to write a Study or Research Plan.

Chapter 11 【For all】 Study/Research Plan

- Answer the following questions, in your own words, after careful consideration. Minor grammar errors will not be considered for scoring, so write this on your own.
- Choice of language (Japanese or English) will not affect screening results in any way.
- Fill in either question 11-1/11-2 (Japanese) or 11-3/11-4 (English). Please type "N/A" in the answer column for the question that you do not fill in.
- Do not use a half-width bullet symbol (·) as it may be counted as four letters.

Question 11-2.

Provide your reasons for applying to each of all the university programs you have selected. Your statement should be approximately 400 to 800 Japanese characters or 200 to 400 words in English.

* If you have common reasons for applying to several programs, you may describe them once; repeating the same reasons for each program is not necessary.

* If you select programs to learn several fields or languages, describe the reason for the application explicitly so as to make it clear the reason for each program in 400 to 800 Japanese characters (or 200 to 400 words in English).

(4) Interview Exam

Here are the programs that may be subject to an interview exam. Use the flowchart below to determine for yourself whether you are actually required to take an interview. English programs other than DD, that are not included in the chart below, as well as non-English EX-L and CS-L programs, do not require an interview exam.

Check My Waseda or Waseda Mail prior to the interview for the CIE's decision on whether you are required to have an interview (to be sent on May 13). If you do not receive an email, you are not subject to an interview. The assigned interview date and time cannot be changed for any personal reasons. Therefore, make sure to keep your entire interview date open.

- * You will be asked to speak in the language of the participating program during the interview.
- * Even if you apply for multiple programs with the same interview requirements, you will only be interviewed once (e.g., if you apply for multiple EX-R (Spanish) programs, you will only be interviewed once for Spanish). However, if you are applying to a combination of programs with different interview requirements, you will need to attend more than one interview (e.g., an English interview for English DD and a Spanish interview for EX-R (Spanish)).
- * Some applicants may be subject to an interview or other screening by their undergraduate or graduate school in the name of "Study Abroad Aptitude Test." Only applicants who are subject to this screening will be contacted separately by their school office with details on the date and time of the screening. Please respond in a timely manner.
- * A certification for your attendance to the interview is issuable upon request. If you need it, see "Interview Examination Candidate Guide," which is to be sent to subject applicants to an interview on Wednesday, May 13.

(5) Screening Process of Each Program

(a) Double Degree Program (DD)

« English DD »

- A written exam is required on Thursday, April 23 (no reservation needed).
- The result of the written exam will be notified on Wednesday, April 29 via MyWaseda or Waseda Mail.
- Only those who have passed the written exam are eligible to apply for this program.
- Successful applicants who passed the written exam are required to take an interview exam on Saturday, May 16.

(b) Non-English EX-R Programs

- Refer to pages 8 for details on the interview exam.

Applicants will be contacted individually by your undergraduate/graduate school, so please respond accordingly

(6) Internal Screening Result

The result will be posted in the Announcements on MyWaseda at or after 1pm on Thursday, June 4 2026. Log in to MyWaseda (<https://my.waseda.jp/login/login>) as shown below. The result will be posted in “Important notifications from Your Department.”

[Notes]

- The results of the internal screening will be shown only for three months after notification.
- Once the notification has been read, it will not be displayed in the “Announcements” column. If you wish to check the notification again, proceed to “Go to List...” on the right-hand side of the column, and click “Search (Click here to search announcements already read)” with a tick on “International Exchanges.”

6 Procedures for Candidates

If you are selected as a candidate for the study abroad program, you will need to follow certain procedures before, during, and after your study abroad. The main procedures are as follows. Details will be notified by the CIE. Follow the instructions and proceed accordingly.

(1) Application to the Host University

- Students who have been selected as candidates after passing the internal screening will then need to complete the application process to their host universities.
- Students are not yet accepted by their host universities at the time they are selected as candidates in the internal screening. Please note that the final decision on whether the student can study abroad will be made by the application review and selection process of the host university.

(2) Study Abroad Scholarship

Waseda University Scholarships and JASSO Scholarship

All University scholarships and JASSO scholarships announced by the CIE are grants (no repayment required). However, do not consider the scholarship as a part of your potential funding sources for studying abroad when you apply, as not all applicants receive it. Please visit the CIE website for more details: <https://www.waseda.jp/inst/cie/from-waseda/aid/scholarship>

- Waseda scholarships and the JASSO scholarship are available to those who have been selected as a candidate for a study abroad program in the internal screening (it is the only application opening for scholarship). Although you cannot apply for a specific scholarship or set priorities, you can apply for all applicable scholarships with a single application.
- The application period and application guidelines for scholarships will be sent to eligible applicants after notification of the internal screening results. The application period will differ for students departing Fall 2026 and Spring 2027. Please check your Waseda Mail for detailed information on the application period and application procedures after the internal screening results are notified.
[FYR] Prospected application deadline for Fall 2026 departure: late-May, for Spring 2027 departure: late-November.
- When you receive the results of the application and/or the actual payment, the timing varies depending on the scholarship; please be aware that you may be notified or paid just before or even after your departure. There is also a possibility that your scholarship will be paid after you return from your study abroad.
- Documents necessary for application (TBD): scholarship application form, documents showing your household income, such as a certificate of taxation or proof of tax exemptions
Refer to the scholarship application guide to for the details of the documents you need to submit. Please pay attention to the information regarding the scholarship from the CIE.

External Scholarships

- Some programs require application submission through the CIE, while others allow students to apply directly to the respective organizations. The amount of the scholarship disbursement and whether it can be combined with other scholarships, etc., depends on the nature of the scholarship. For details, please check the CIE website: <https://www.waseda.jp/inst/cie/from-waseda/aid/out-scholarship>
- Since application schedules vary from organization to organization, we strongly recommend gathering extensive information in advance as you prepare your application.

(3) Obtaining a Visa and Purchasing an Airline Ticket

- Visas and residence permits are part of the required forms for entering or residing in the destination country, based on the purpose of travel, and are stipulated according to each country's immigration laws.
- The conditions, (application) procedures, and documents (forms, etc.), as well as fees required for obtaining a visa, will differ depending on your destination country and are subject to frequent change without prior notice.

Also, required documents vary depending on the nationality or the place of application. Please verify the information on your own.

- In some cases, a bank balance certificate, proof of translation, and a copy of the bank passbook may be required. Also, some countries require students to transfer living expenses (sometimes the whole amount) to the designated bank account in advance. You must prepare these documents promptly during the application procedures. Make sure to check the latest information (necessary documents, application fees, application time slots) with the embassy and the designated websites of your host country.
- Depending on the country or visa, there are limits on the types of airline tickets you can obtain to pass immigration. Ensure to verify such restrictions on your own.
- Please note that obtaining a visa and purchasing an airline ticket are under the applicant's sole responsibility. The CIE cannot help with these procedures. Therefore, please conduct thorough research in advance to ensure you have ample time to complete all necessary steps and manage your schedule accordingly.

(4) Accommodation Arrangements

- The type of accommodation and necessary procedures vary by program. Please check the Program List carefully in the Details (Program Overview) section. If a PDF is available in the Details (Program Overview), it contains more detailed information. Furthermore, there may be cases where your accommodation is assigned.
- Please note that in some cases, you may need to make your own accommodation arrangements, as this is not always guaranteed.
- After you are accepted to the host university, you will receive detailed instructions on how to proceed with the specific procedures from the host university. Please respond to it promptly.

(5) Credits during and after the Study Abroad

- There may be cases where students are allowed to enroll in their desired faculty, cannot register for the courses they wish to take, and are automatically registered for a certain number of courses other than those they intend to take depending on the program.
- Students must follow a prescribed procedure to transfer their credits from their host university to Waseda University. Decisions regarding credit accreditation will be made by the undergraduate or graduate school to which each student belongs. Contact your school office for inquiries about the procedures. Please note that in some cases, students may not be able to graduate from Waseda within the standard period of study (four years for undergraduate). You must consult with your school office in advance to avoid any misunderstandings.

(1) Check Overseas Travel Safety Information when Selecting a Program

- As stated in p.17 of the "STUDY ABROAD GUIDEBOOK", it is the student's responsibility to confirm regional safety information when selecting where to study. Remember to exercise caution when traveling and living abroad in the current international climate.
- MOFA provides up-to-date region-wide/country-specific safety information including travel advice and warnings, spot safety information, databases of past information, security risk trends and countermeasures for frequent incidents on its travel safety website: <https://www.anzen.mofa.go.jp/>
- "Travel warnings" are issued in some regions. If you are considering selecting one of those regions as your study abroad destination, please carefully consider whether your study and research can be conducted there and whether it falls within the limit of your ability to assume full responsibility before making an application.

(2) Overseas Travel Insurance (mandatory)

- Students participating in the CIE study abroad programs are required to take out overseas travel insurance designated by Waseda University (Tokio Marine & Nichido Fire Insurance). You may not go abroad to study without enrolling in this insurance program.
- In addition to the Waseda-designated insurance, students must also obtain health or medical insurance in their host country if required by their host university or the host country itself. No waivers are allowed for either insurance requirement, regardless of the amount.
- It is also stated in the Study Abroad Agreement that such insurance is mandatory. Please sign the agreement after fully understanding the contents.
- Mental disorders, dental diseases, and chronic illnesses (pre-existing conditions) are not covered by this insurance. Coverage for other conditions is subject to the insurance policy terms and conditions.
- The coverage package is standardized. Please be advised that any addition or reduction of compensation is not permitted.
- The insurance premium for the relevant policy varies based on the number of claims and the amount of compensation paid out in the previous year.
* Since the premium is reviewed annually, the amount for the next year is not yet determined but is expected to be approximately 280,000 yen per year.
- Please be aware that you will need to promptly pay the insurance premium to the designated insurance agency account after starting the study abroad procedures.

(3) Submitting Overseas Contact Information (mandatory)

All students are required to provide their overseas contact information (cell phone number) used for daily communication in case of an emergency during their study abroad period. Please follow the CIE's instructions and report your contact information to Waseda University as soon as possible after you arrive at your destination.

Center for International Education, Waseda University Study Abroad Agreement

To the Dean of the Center for International Education

I, as an applicant to and participant in the short-term study abroad program at Waseda University (hereafter referred to as "the University"), hereby agree to adhere to the following terms and conditions. I acknowledge that if I violate these terms and conditions, I may lose my right to participate in the program and/or to receive support from the University, and I will not be able to lodge any complaint or protest against the University.

1. Attitudes toward Study Abroad

- 1) I am in good health, both physically and mentally, to study abroad.
- 2) I fully understand the purpose of the study abroad program and will devote myself to my studies in order to achieve the goals of the program at the host university.
- 3) I agree to complete all the courses required by the program in which I am participating.
- 4) I understand that I may be subject to immediate expulsion from the program if my academic performance falls below the standards of the host university.
- 5) Understanding that I am a representative of the University and must act responsibly, I agree to comply with the laws of my host country and the regulations of my host institution and the University during my study abroad period. I will also adhere to the instructions of the faculty members and advisors at my host institution, and strictly refrain from engaging in any acts contrary to the public order and morality of the host country.
- 6) I acknowledge that I will not hold the University and its related parties liable for damages or any other responsibility for damages and/or response measures caused by disasters, riots, terrorism, accidents, diseases, crimes, etc. in the host country during my study abroad period.
- 7) I will take responsibility for my actions. If, during my study abroad period, I cause damage/loss to my host university or a third party due to willful intent, negligence, a violation of the law, or a breach of public order and morals, I acknowledge that the University shall not be held responsible for such damages/losses. If the University is found liable for damages/losses caused to the host institution or a third party by my actions, I agree to compensate the University for any damages incurred.

2. Procedures

- 1) I will confirm the entry restrictions designated by my destination country/region and fulfill the entry requirements (i.e., presentation of proof of vaccination and/or negative test results, and epidemic prevention measures including self-isolation, etc.).
- 2) I will submit all the necessary documents related to my study abroad program by the deadlines.
- 3) I agree to take full responsibility to check and proceed with all the necessary procedures required for the program, including preparation of necessary documents, obtainment of a passport and visa, completion of procedures, such as arrangements for credit transfer, required by my school at the University, course registration, payment of study abroad fees, enrollment of insurance, arranging accommodation at the study abroad destination, etc.
- 4) I understand that even if I am nominated as a candidate for the study abroad program, it does not guarantee my participation in the program. The concerned university has the right to reject my application, and the rejection rests on the conditions and circumstances of the concerned university.
- 5) I understand that I am not allowed to withdraw from the study abroad program once the University nominates me as a candidate for the study abroad program unless the University recognizes my reason as valid and gives me approval to withdraw from the study abroad program.
- 6) I understand that an extension or shortening of the program is not allowed in principle.
- 7) I will go through the needed procedures at my school office to return to and resume my education at the University after the completion of the study abroad program.
- 8) I have secured permission and agreement from my financial supporter such as my guardian before making an application to prepare sufficient financial resources for the estimated expenses for all programs to which I intend to apply at the time of online application registration.
- 9) A guardian must be an individual who is capable of cooperating with the University, guiding, and supporting the student so that the student can carry out learning/research activities smoothly.
- 10) I will pay the prescribed fees (tuition to the University, program fees, etc.) for the study abroad program by the prescribed date. I understand that any delay in payment of these fees may cause difficulty in accreditation after finishing the study abroad program and course registrations.

for the following term.

- 11) I understand that the screening process for visas for the destination country is entirely under the jurisdiction of the host country's government agencies, and neither the University nor the host university can guarantee the issuance of visas. Also, I understand that the University cannot provide specific advice on visa issuance, including required documents, how to fill out forms, or whether forms are complete, as these matters are determined by the government agencies of the destination country. If I have any uncertainties, I will confirm with the corresponding institutions and consult with them myself. In addition, I will ensure that I travel only after meeting the entry requirements of the destination country.

3. Suspension/Change of the Program

- 1) Based on the conditions of public safety and infectious diseases in the host country (region), and information issued by the Japanese Government (mainly the Ministry of Foreign Affairs) including Travel Advice and Warning on Infectious Diseases, the university or host institution may, at its own discretion, decide to cancel study abroad programs, recommend return to Japan, or modify the format of study programs (e.g., Change from in-person classes abroad to online classes while staying in Japan) as deemed necessary. Therefore, I acknowledge these possibilities in advance and commit to promptly following any instructions given in such cases.
- 2) I also agree that cancellation fees, penalty fees, other additional costs, preparation cost and miscellaneous expenses incurred as a result of the above shall be borne by the participant.
- 3) I acknowledge that depending on the timing of the advice to return home, it might not allow the participant to return to the University and could involve the risk of affecting the participant's plans until graduation.
- 4) I understand that any expenses incurred up to that point, such as cancellation fees, penalty fees, additional fees, food expenses, and accommodation fees, among others, shall be borne by the participant themselves even if the participant is compelled to withdraw from the program due to sudden illness or other unavoidable circumstances.
- 5) Even after arriving at the study abroad destination, the program may be canceled or its format may be changed due to the following reasons, at the discretion of the University or the partner universities. In such cases, I understand all expenses incurred up to that point will be the participant's responsibility, and no refund will be provided by the CIE.
 - Poor academic performance
 - Failure to meet document submission deadlines or complete required procedures
 - Lack of attendance at designated events, such as orientations
 - Any other situation deemed inappropriate for continuing study abroad by the CIE or the host university

4. Risk Management

- 1) If I am accepted into the study abroad program, I agree to purchase the University-designated overseas travel insurance, which provides coverage from my departure date to my return date. If I am an international student participating in a study abroad program in my home country, I understand that this requirement applies to me as well.
- 2) I agree to purchase both the insurance designated by the University and the one designated by my host university if the latter requires me to purchase a separate insurance in addition to the one designated by the University.
- 3) Concerning the insurance designated by the University, the start date of coverage will be the day I depart from Japan, provided however, if my flight departs late at night, coverage will start on the day I leave home. If I am of foreign nationality and decide to briefly stop at my home country before going to the country of my host university, the start date of coverage will still be the day I leave Japan. ☐The coverage package will be standardized. Any addition or reduction of compensation shall not be permitted.
- 4) If there is any accommodation designated by my host university or the University, I will stay at that accommodation during my study abroad period.
- 5) I understand that if any accommodation is not designated, I will gather information in advance and be responsible to secure a place to stay on my own.
- 6) As a general rule, arranging communication devices at the destination is the individual's responsibility. For emergency preparedness, promptly report my local contact information (including the mobile phone number to be used regularly after arrival) via the university-designated form before departure or upon arrival.

5. Provision of Personal Information

- 1) I agree to allow the CIE to share my personal information with my host university in order to administer the study abroad program.
- 2) I agree to allow the University to receive my academic and/or other personal information regarding daily life from my host university for the purpose of administering the study abroad program and ensuring my safety.

- 3) I agree that the CIE or my school office may share the necessary information with my guardian, without obtaining my consent, on the grounds of risk management or other purposes.
- 4) I understand that the University may use the personal information contained in the submitted documents in order to contact me and to invite me to events and various briefing sessions held by the University as someone who has experienced studying abroad.
- 5) I agree that if applying for a study abroad program that uses group airline tickets, the University may provide a copy of my passport and personal information (name, date of birth, gender, passport number, expiration date, etc.) to the travel agency and airline company responsible for arranging tentative roundtrip flight reservations.
- 6) For the purpose of administering the study abroad program and responding to any emergencies, I agree that the personal details of myself and my guardian, as well as risk management information, including any accidents during the study abroad period, which I have provided to the University, the insurance company designated by the University, the crisis management agency, travel agencies, and the host university through various procedures necessary for my participation in the study abroad program, may be shared and used by the University, the designated insurance company, the crisis management agency, travel agencies, airline companies, and the relevant ministries and embassies.

Precautions for CS-L (1S) Application

1. Preconditions

These programs allow only a short period from decision on the program (scheduled for June 4, 2026) to departure (scheduled between July and August 2026). Therefore, you need to complete necessary procedures in a very short period before departure. Consequently, only students who are able to carry out the procedures within a short time can apply for these programs.

2. Points to keep in mind

→ Only those who understand the following precautions and risks are allowed to apply.

- 1) Preparation starts before the decision on the program (scheduled for June 4).
 - Students need to start preparing documents for immigration procedures and securing accommodations at their prospective host countries. (Details will be provided in advance only to applicants for these programs.)
 - Regardless of the progress of the procedure, students may not be selected as candidates for their preferred programs as a result of the internal screening.
 - Expenses incurred during the procedures need to be borne by the students even if they are selected to participate in another program as a result of the internal screening.
 - Even when a student has been confirmed to participate in the program, his/her participation will be void if he/she fails to prepare documents designated by the CIE by the deadline.

- 2) The travel may get canceled before or immediately after the recruitment closure.
 - Programs may be canceled before the decision of the participating program, due to security or infectious disease conditions.
 - Programs may be canceled after you have been selected as a candidate for the program for such reasons as worsened security or infectious disease conditions. If a student has been selected as a candidate for the canceled program, he/she is not able to shift to another program.
 - All the expenses incurred during the procedures need to be borne by the students even if their preferred programs get canceled.
 - Some universities or host countries may require specific vaccinations. It is essential that you check the requirements for your destination and complete all necessary preparations before traveling. If you are unable to travel to your destination due to lack of preparation, you will be responsible for paying the preparation costs.
 - An assignment requiring a certain level of English proficiency may be given before participation in the program.

Notes on Homestay

1. Applicable Students

Those who are planning to apply for a program with the possibility of accommodation being a “homestay”, please follow the notes below.

2. Notes

- 1) Detailed information about the host family will be confirmed immediately before departure. It is subject to change after the assignment due to various circumstances such as urgent business, illness, and so on. Once decided, your host family cannot be changed for “personal reasons.”
- 2) You cannot request changes due to reasons, such as “I don’t like the family structure;”, “The location is far away;”, “The internet connection is poor.” The environment of the host family is not always the same as others, and the lifestyle and family structure of the host family, race, meals, presence or absence of pets, facilities, and commuting distance to host institution depend on the family with who you stay. Do not compare your host family to the host families of other participants.
- 3) After staying with your host family, in case you experience inconvenience in your daily life and find it difficult to stay with them, first, please discuss the problem with your host family members. In most cases, such problems can be resolved through discussion; however, should the problem remain unresolved, please feel free to consult with the international office or accommodation office of your host university. Even if your English is not well-developed, please do not hesitate to contact the staff at your local office. Even a small feeling of discomfort, if left unresolved, can cause a bigger problem later on.
- 4) Be sure to lock the doors and keep your valuables safe no matter where you stay.
- 5) Please keep in mind that Japan is a fairly safe country and take appropriate precautions.
- 6) In general, please understand that the living environment, including safety and hygiene is not what you are used to in Japan.
- 7) You may be placed at the same homestay as other Japanese, university students who participate in the same program, or students from other countries.
- 8) Respect the house rules during your stay and act as a member of the host family rather than as a guest. It is wise of you not to expect too much from your host family, for example, treating you like a guest, taking you somewhere on the weekend or asking for special treatment.
- 9) If either you or your members of your host family contract COVID-19, you may need to arrange a separate accommodation for self-isolation. In that case, please be aware that it may incur extra costs of booking another accommodation.
- 10) Lack of the required number of vaccine doses may prevent you from securing accommodation without a prior consent of your host family.

Precautions for Non-Japanese Students Applying

1. Summary

You must return your residence card to the immigration inspector at the airport when leaving Japan for study-abroad. Therefore, do not apply for the “Special Re-entry permit” system, even when the immigration inspector may tell you to do so (We have been strictly instructed by the Immigration Bureau to make sure our students follow this rule).

2. Backgrounds

- The "Student" visa is valid only while you are studying in Japan (your study abroad period would be regarded as a term you cannot engage in activities as an “Student” in Japan). Therefore, when you leave Japan for study-abroad, you MUST return your residence card regardless of the remaining validity period of your residence card.
- Recently the operation of the Immigration Bureau has become stricter regarding this rule. There have been several cases where students who returned to their own countries without returning their residence cards after studying abroad were questioned by the Immigration Bureau as to why they did not return them.
- On the other hand, it seems that this rule has not yet been implemented throughout all the immigration inspectors at the airport; There are still cases when the immigration inspector at the airport recommends you the “Special Re-entry permit”. However, if you carelessly follow their words in this case, you may be at a disadvantage later when it comes to your residency-related procedures, so please carefully follow the basic rule.
- As an exception, when a CHINESE student is going study-abroad to a University in TAIWAN, circumstances would be slightly different, so please contact the CIE office in advance.
