Research Misconduct Prevention Awareness Month:

Eradicating of Research Misconduct

November–December 2026

<Campaign details>

- Encouraging participation in compliance education(Seminar on Academic Research Ethics)
- Awareness-raising activities for faculty, staff, and students to prevent research misconduct, utilizing materials on research misconduct prevention such as the Academic Research Ethics Guide
- Exchange opinions regarding monitoring results on how research funds are used
- Holding an informational session to raise awareness of the roles and responsibilities of the Administrative Officers for Research Ethics Promotion

Waseda University promotes initiatives to allow faculty, staff, and students to independently consider what constitutes good research and put their ideas into practice, in addition to working to prevent the misuse of research funds.

We have renewed our commitment to make university-wide efforts to fulfill the responsibilities that society entrusts with us and continue to implement academic research activities to earn the trust and respect of society.
