

Waseda University Financial Endeavors

Anticipating its 125th anniversary in 2007, Waseda University is carrying out structural reform encompassing both the hard and soft aspects, to produce individuals who can meet the various demands of society and to promote the advancement of education and research in the 21st century.

To start with the basics of financial reform, we are working to reduce interest-bearing liabilities and control the income/expenses balance, advance financial operation according to mid- or long-term business planning in order to secure financial resources for education and research, decrease the debts payable and fixed charge and perform cost control of general expenses for the purpose of promoting a thorough reform in the university's financial structure.

At the same time, Waseda University will emphasize "the creation of a student-centered university" through improving student services such as substantializing its scholarship system.
